

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. BY AN EXPERIENCED CLERGYMAN.

EARNEST, ORIGINAL, PRACTICAL.

Specimens free on approval to Clergymen only, with particulars.

SERMON FOR AN ASSIZE, RIFLE CORPS, S.P.G., AND INFIRMARY.

Strict confidence. Anonymous communications respectfully declined.

The first of the above series commenced in October, 1872, and has met with the highest commendation from the Subscribers, many of them occupying high positions in the Church. A mixed series from one of the Old Testament Lessons and the Epistles will commence in October. The unsolicited testimony of three Subscribers is appended:—

I.

From the Incumbent of a large town parish, a former Fellow and Lecturer upon Divinity at Cambridge.

"I am truly grateful for the assistance I derive from your admirable Sermons. They are much better than I am able to prepare for my people; and being without a Curate, in the meantime I regard them as quite a god-send."

II.

From a Vicar in Cambs., a well-known popular author.

"I have preached your Sermons to large congregations here, and like them much. They clearly explain and illustrate their texts and end with a good and earnest application. With three or four sermons a week and a large parish, I find them a very pleasant and necessary relief to my pen and my mind."

III.

From the Curate of a large agricultural parish.

"I like your Sermons very much. There is a naturalness pervading all which is rare to find. They are religious Sermons, such as I have long been striving to obtain."

Address M. A. Cantab, 6, High-Street, Huddersfield. [58]

Third Edition, in extra cloth, crown 8vo., 5s.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS AND OTHERS.

WITH this present number is commenced Vol. XXXVI. of the ECCLESIASTICAL GAZETTE.

The Postal regulations do not allow the privileges of a newspaper to any publication issued less frequently than once a week, and it is impossible, therefore, to forward the TITLE-PAGE and INDEX of the last Vol. with the present number, enlarged, as it is, to twenty-eight pages.

The TITLE-PAGE and INDEX of Vol. XXXV. will be forwarded, without any additional charge, to our Subscribers and Public Bodies. To all others it will be supplied, upon application, at a charge of 2d., post free, to cover the additional expense of paper, postage, &c.

Subscriptions now due, as also any new Subscriptions with which we may be favoured, may be forwarded by a Post-office Order, payable to the Publisher, Mr. GEORGE COX, 20, King William-street, Strand, W.C.

TO OUR READERS.

THE Editor of the ECCLESIASTICAL GAZETTE hopes that readers will kindly help by subscriptions (6s. per annum, or One Guinea for four years, payable in advance to the Publisher) to support the very large circulation of the paper, which is sent gratuitously to the Resident Clergyman of every parish in England and Wales.

Portfolios with strings, to hold two years' numbers, may be obtained (by order) of any Bookseller, price 2s. 6d.

To Advertisers.

ADVERTISEMENTS must be forwarded not later than the Friday preceding the day of publication.

To secure insertion in the next Number, Advertisements should be sent on or before Friday, August 8.

We cannot notice anonymous communications. The names and addresses of correspondents must be given, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

THE Publisher begs to caution Subscribers and others against sending coin or stamps through the Post. By the Postal regulations, all letters containing coin, posted without registration, are charged on delivery with a fee of 8d., in addition to the ordinary postage.

CLERGY CHARITIES.

A NEW Edition of this work, corrected in accordance with the information so obligingly furnished by the Archdeacons, Treasurers, Secretaries, &c., is now ready.

CLERGY LIST, 1873.

The CLERGY LIST for 1873, giving the population of parishes and districts, in accordance with the population returns of the Census of 1871, with Appendix, is in preparation, and will be ready in a few days, containing (1) Lists of names of Clergymen ordained, appointed, or licenced, (2) Names of Clergymen deceased from January to June.

ECCLESIASTICAL NOTICES.

The Archbishop of Canterbury will hold his next General Ordination on Sunday, the 21st day of September.

The Archbishop of York purposes holding a General Ordination on Friday, the 25th of July next (St. James's Day).

The Bishop of London's next Ordination will be held on Sunday, December 21st. Candidates, when accepted by the Bishop, are to send their papers, with their addresses, one month before the day of Ordination, to his Lordship's Secretary, John B. Lee, Esq., 2, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, S.W. The Bishop requires all Candidates for Deacons' Orders to communicate in the first instance with his Lordship, and he will arrange for a personal interview.

The Bishop of St. David's intends to hold a General Ordination on Sunday, the 21st day of September next.

The Bishop of Llandaff intends to hold his next General Ordination in the Cathedral Church of Llandaff on Sunday, the 20th day of September next.

The Bishop of Ripon intends to hold an Ordination on Sunday, the 21st September next.

The Bishop of Norwich purposes to hold an Ordination on the Sunday after each Ember Week. Candidates for Deacons' or for Priests' Orders are requested to inform the Bishop as soon as possible, and not less than three months before the time, of their intention to offer themselves for Ordination. Full instructions will then be forwarded.

The Bishop of Worcester holds an Ordination at each of the four Ember Seasons in every year. He wishes to have three months' notice from all Candidates for Deacons' Orders. Papers to be forwarded to the Bishop's Secretary, Alfred Hooper, Esq., Worcester, one month before the Ordination.

The Bishop of Ely purposes holding his next Ordination on September 21st. His Lordship requires from all Candidates for Deacons' Orders three months' notice of their intention to offer themselves for Ordination, and also a personal interview. Candidates from the University of Cambridge must have passed the Voluntary Theological Examination, and those from Oxford must produce a Certificate of having attended the Divinity Lectures. Candidates for Priests' Orders are expected to give two months' notice of their intention to the Bishop, and the necessary papers from all the Candidates must be sent at least one month before the day of Ordination, to his Lordship's Secretary, John B. Lee, Esq., 2, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, S.W.

The Bishop of Chester purposes holding his next Ordination on Sunday, September 21st. Candidates for Ordination on that day should at once place themselves in communication with the Bishop, or his Examining Chaplain, the Rev. Canon Espin, Wallasey Rectory, Cheshire, to whom application may be made for particulars respecting the Examination. The necessary papers of accepted Candidates must be sent in complete not later than Tuesday, the 19th August next (and particular attention is requested to the fact that after that date no papers can under any circumstances be received), to the Bishop's Secretaries, Messrs. C. J. R. Parry and Gamon, Abbey-square, Chester, from whom the requisite information respecting them and other legal points may be obtained. Graduates of Oxford must have attended the Public Lectures of the Regius Professor of Divinity, and at least one other course of Divinity Lectures; those of Cambridge must have passed the Special Theological Examination for the B.A. degree; those of Dublin and Durham must produce the Divinity Testimonium of their University. Students of Theological Colleges must have completed the full course of two years, and produce the Certificate of their college.

The Bishop of Rochester purposes to hold an Ordination at each of the four Ember Seasons. Persons desirous of being admitted as Candidates may obtain a paper of instructions upon writing to the Bishop's Secretaries, Messrs. Day and Hassard, 28, Great George-street, Westminster, S.W.

The Bishop of Lichfield will hold his next Ordination on Sunday, September 21st.

The Bishop of Hereford holds an Ordination (if necessary) at each of the four Ember Seasons in every year. Persons desirous of becoming Candidates are requested to communicate with the Bishop three months before each Ordination, and will receive full instructions as to the necessary papers on application to Mr. H. C. Beddoe, the Bishop's Secretary, The Close, Hereford.

The Bishop of Peterborough purposes holding his next Ordination on Sunday, the 21st December. Every Candidate for Deacons' or Priests' Orders in the diocese should write to the Bishop (at least three months previous to the Ordination) for permission to present himself for examination, stating his age, academic degree, and his then present residence. In the case of a Candidate for Deacons' Orders this application must be accompanied by a reference to three Clergymen to whom the Bishop may apply for information respecting him. The Bishop will appoint a personal interview, which is absolutely necessary. Candidates when accepted by his Lordship may obtain full instructions as to the necessary papers on application to the Diocesan Secretary, H. P. Gates, Esq., Peterborough, to whom they should be sent at least one month previous to Ordination.

The Bishop of Lincoln purposes holding Ordinations at Michaelmas and Christmas. Graduates of Oxford must have attended the Theological Lectures. Graduates of Cambridge must have passed the Voluntary Theological Examination. Graduates of Dublin must produce the Divinity Testimonium. The Bishop requires a personal interview with himself, or with one of his Examining Chaplains, Rev. Prebendary Benson, D.D., Wellington College, Wokingham, or to the Rev. Prebendary Wordsworth, Brasenose College, Oxford. For information with regard to the Examination, application is to be made to the Bishop's Secretary, Wm. Moss, Esq., Old Palace, Lincoln.

The Bishop of Salisbury purposes to hold an Ordination on Sunday, September 21st.

The Bishop of Oxford intends to hold an Ordination in the Parish Church of Cuddesdon on Sunday, the 21st of September, and in Christ Church Cathedral, Oxford, on Sunday, the 21st of December. A paper of instructions to Candidates may be obtained by letter to the Bishop's Secretary, John M. Davenport, Esq., Oxford, to whom the requisite documents must be transmitted one month before the day of Ordination. Candidates for Deacons' Orders are required to communicate with the Bishop six months before the Ordination at which they desire to present themselves, and to obtain his consent. •

SOCIETY FOR PROMOTING CHRISTIAN KNOWLEDGE.

67, Lincoln's Inn Fields.

Tuesday, June 10, 1873.

Rev. Dr. HESSEY in the Chair.

After Prayers, the Minutes of the last Meeting were read.

Money Grants recommended by the Standing Committee.

Springvale.—The Standing Committee informed the Meeting, that in April, 1872, and again in June of the same year, they had before them applications from Dr. Callaway for a grant towards building a church at Springvale; that at the time named they had not been able to recommend a grant, because Dr. Callaway failed to convince them that there was any reasonable prospect of the work being accomplished, as he required 800*l.*, and could only see his way to collecting about 200*l.*

The Standing Committee were happy to be able to add that the Rev. Canon Venables, Precentor of Lincoln Cathedral, had now informed them that, in great part through the exertions of Mrs. Venables, 883*l.* had been collected. It appeared, however, that Dr. Callaway's estimate of the expense had been too small, and that not less than 1000*l.* would suffice, as the building must be of stone.

The Mission is a very interesting one; it was established by Dr. Callaway in 1858, and has been signally blessed by God in the conversion of native Kaffirs; according to the last S.P.G. Report, the Church members amount to 283, and the communicants to ninety-four,—while during the past year twenty persons have been confirmed, and thirty-nine baptized. Two native converts have been admitted to the diaconate, and are working most hopefully. In 1862 a school-chapel was opened, which continues to be used for the double purpose of education and the celebration of divine service. This building has become quite inadequate to the reception of the large congregations gathering every Sunday, and the crowded state of it keeps many away, and on Sunday mornings at least one-third of the congregation has to stay outside, where they cannot join in the services or benefit by the teaching.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 100*l.* in this case; the Society's grant to be paid so soon as the receipt of it will lead to the immediate completion of the church, and to its being free from all liability for debt; and so soon as the property shall have been secured for the church in a manner satisfactory to the Standing Committee.

Diocese of Auckland.—The Bishop forwarded, on one of the Society's forms, signed by E. Hamlin, Hon. Secretary to the Building Committee, an application for a grant for a new church in the district parish of Wainku, in his diocese. It is proposed to build a church to accommodate 150 persons. The Church of England population is about 200; a site has been set apart for the Church, and is vested in five Trustees.

The total cost is estimated at about 250*l.*; of this, 165*l.* have been provided, 112*l.* in Wainku itself. The material is to be "the best heart of Kauri." The people are industrious, but not men of means, they are chiefly farmers and farm servants. Fully half of the population belong to the Church of England, the remainder to the Wesleyans and Presbyterians.

The Bishop adds, "the district is one of the poorest in the diocese, being off the high road, and without steam communication by water with Auckland."

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 25*l.* in this case: the Society's grant to be paid when the Bishop shall have certified that the receipt of it will lead to the immediate completion of the building, and to its being free from all liability for debt.

Works of St. Chrysostom.—The Standing Committee informed the Meeting that they had received from the Rev. W. Denton, Vicar of St. Bartholomew, Little Moorfields, an application for a grant of money to assist in the production at Athens of a cheap edition of the works of the early Greek Fathers.

It appeared that the Synod of the Greek Church have taken steps to provide for the issue of such an edition of the works of St. Chrysostom, by Messrs. George Caryophyllis, printer, and Spyridion Croidas; also that the scheme had the approval of the Archbishops of Canterbury, York, and Dublin, and of nineteen of the English Bishops. The action of the Greek Synod will, if successful, lead to an issue of six 8vo volumes a year, at a charge of about 18*s.* or 20*s.* One such volume in two parts has already been issued, and a copy of it was submitted. Friends in England have promised, through Mr. Denton, nearly 200*l.* a year in aid of this scheme, and the Standing Committee recommended "a grant to the extent of 100*l.*, in sums of 25*l.* each, in aid of the publication of the works of St. Chrysostom. Such sums of 25*l.* to be paid on the production of each instalment of six volumes of the work, to the publisher of it, through Mr. Boodle, the Treasurer of the Eastern Church Association, provided the execution of the instalment is satisfactory to the Foreign Translation Committee of the Society."

It is understood that the work will be published without doctrinal preface or comment.

It was agreed to make the grant on the terms recommended by the Standing Committee.

Diocese of Bombay.—Sindhi Translation of Morning and Evening Prayer.—The Standing Committee informed the Meeting (in reference to a request made by the Bombay District Committee of the Society, which was reported to the Meeting on the 6th of May, to the effect that the Society should be at the cost of printing an edition of the Morning and Evening Prayer in Sindhi) that the Rev. George Shirt, who had made the translation, was now in England, and ready to see the work through the press, as recommended by the Bombay Committee, and that the estimated cost of producing 300 copies, which was the number Mr. Shirt wished to have, was about 15*l.*

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant the necessary funds for doing this work.

Book Grants recommended by the Standing Committee.

The Special and Ordinary Book Grants were then made on the recommendation of the Standing Committee.

Carlisle Diocesan Education Society.—The Standing Committee stated that the Rev. Canon Hodgson, who in March last obtained a grant of Books to the value of 40*l.*, to meet an equal expenditure on the part of the Carlisle Diocesan Education Society for prizes for Pupil Teachers and school children, begged the Society to increase the grant by 10*l.*, on the ground that last year the Society gave books to the value of 30*l.*, and that this year the Diocesan Society had forty per cent. more schools under examination, and in addition Pupil Teachers.

The Standing Committee recommended a further grant of books to the value of 10*l.*, as requested, and informed the Meeting that, if the grant were made, they proposed to let Canon Hodgson know that after this year grants would not be made for prizes to school children, but only to Pupil Teachers and Candidates for pupil teacherships.

Bangor Diocesan Board of Education.—The Rev. John Pryce, Hon. Secretary of this Board, applied for a grant of S.P.C.K. Books, not exceeding 15*l.* in value, as prizes in religious knowledge for Pupil Teachers after a central examination, to meet an equal expenditure in prize books for a similar purpose on the part of the Diocesan Board.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to make the grant as asked for.

Money Grants, of which notice had been given by the Standing Committee at the last Meeting.

Endowment of the Church in Nassau.—In accordance with notice given by the Standing Committee at the last meeting, and for reasons set forth at length in the last Monthly Report, the following resolution was moved, viz. "That a grant of 5000*l.* to meet 5500*l.* to be raised elsewhere be made for the permanent endowment of the Church in Nassau, and the maintenance of its future Bishops and Clergy," on the following conditions:—"That the whole sum of 10,500*l.* should be permanently invested in a manner satisfactory to the Standing Committee; that the Society's grant be payable in sums of 500*l.* each, when it shall be satisfactorily shown to the Standing Committee that 500*l.* for every such 500*l.* has been raised elsewhere, and permanently and securely invested; except in the case of one sum of 500*l.*, which shall be devoted specially to the endowment of the Bishopric, and shall not be paid till the sum of 1000*l.* has been raised to meet it, and specially and securely invested for the permanent endowment of the see; that all money raised for permanent endowment since the passing of the Act of Disestablishment (whether raised for the endowment of the see, the endowment of particular parishes, or the General Endowment Fund for the maintenance of the clergy), shall be reckoned as going towards the above-mentioned sum of 5500*l.*, required before the whole of the Society's grant is paid; but that the whole of the Society's grant, with the exception of the 500*l.* devoted to the special endowment of the Bishopric, shall go to the General Endowment Fund for the maintenance of the clergy, and be administered at the discretion of the Bishop and Synod; it being understood that parishes which have raised sums for their own endowment shall have no special claim to a share in the Society's grant, by reason of what they have raised."

This grant was unanimously made on the conditions named.

Dioceses of Moosonee and Athabasca.—In accordance with notice given at the last meeting, and for reasons set forth in the April Monthly Report, in a statement supplied by the Bishop of Rupert's Land, Dr. Hessey, on behalf of the Standing Committee, proposed, "That two grants of 500*l.* each, as asked for by the Bishop of Rupert's Land, should be made, to meet 4500*l.* each, for the permanent endowment of the sees of Moosonee and Athabasca, and that these grants should be payable in instalments of 50*l.* each, to meet 450*l.*; and that the whole should be invested, together with the interest from time to time arising therefrom, in a manner satisfactory to the Finance Committee of the Society, till a capital sum of at least 5000*l.* shall have been raised for the permanent endowment of each see."

These grants were unanimously made on the terms recommended by the Standing Committee.

Reports and Notices from the Standing Committee.

Report of the Auditors.—In accordance with Rule XLIV., the Auditors' Report upon the accounts for the year ending 31st March, 1873, was laid before the meeting.

It appeared that during the past year there had been received—

Subscriptions ... ..	14,598	14	6
Benefactions ... ..	5,829	17	2
Reversion at death of
Miss M. Carey ... ..	832	18	10
Legacies ... ..	7,338	11	0

Money grants had been voted to the amount of 18,955*l.*

Grants of books had been made to the value of 931*l.* 4*s.* 7*d.*

The allowance to members on Bibles and Prayer-books (less 129*l.* 8*s.* 6*d.*, the amount of subscriptions to the Bible and Prayer-book Fund) had been 8459*l.* 6*s.* 2*d.*

Dr. Hessey proposed a vote of thanks to the Auditors, which was unanimously carried.

Religious Education of Pupil Teachers, &c.—In reference to the following resolution on this subject, which was passed at the Monthly General Meeting in April, viz.:—

"That the Standing Committee be requested to reconsider the Book and Money Grants made for the encouragement of the religious education of Pupil Teachers, with a view especially to confining grants to their obtaining a class in a Training College at the end of their career,"—the Standing Committee reported that they had agreed to make the following recommendations:—

1st. That the Society should offer prizes in money to the value of 5*l.* each, to all those candidates for admission to Training Colleges who shall be placed in the first class by the Archbishop's Examiner in religious knowledge, and who shall be admitted to some Church Training College.

2ndly. That the Society should place S.P.C.K. Books, to the value of 50*l.*, at the disposal of the Archbishop's Examiner, for prizes to students in Training Colleges, who shall get a first class in the Archbishop's Examiner's list, and who shall produce a satisfactory testimonial from the principal of their college as regards their religious and moral conduct.

3rdly. That S.P.C.K. Books be granted to Diocesan Boards of Education, to meet an equal outlay in books (which need not necessarily be those published by the Society) on the part of the Diocesan Boards assisted. The whole of the books to be given as prizes for religious knowledge to Pupil Teachers after central or simultaneous examinations.

4thly. That the practice of giving prizes similar to the above to children, who are neither Pupil Teachers nor candidates, be discontinued after the current year; but that the candidates for Pupil Teacherships be allowed to compete.

5thly. That it be suggested to Diocesan Boards to require that all Pupil Teachers, to whom they give prizes, should produce certificates of good, religious, and moral conduct from the clergyman of the several parishes.

It was proposed, on the part of the Standing Committee, that these recommendations should be adopted, and that the expenditure necessary for carrying them into effect should be allowed.

This proposal was adopted by the Meeting, it being understood that a return should be made to the Standing Committee of the manner in which each grant is expended.

Queen's Printers and Imperfect Prayer Book.—In reference to the following resolution which was carried at the last General Meeting, viz.:—

"That the General Meeting concur with the Standing Committee in regarding the imperfect Prayer Book now issued by the Queen's Printers as less objectionable than their former imperfect Prayer Books, but are of opinion that it is far from satisfactory, and hereby request the Standing Committee to continue their expostulations with the Queen's Printers on the subject,"—the Standing Committee reported that they had sent a copy of this resolution to the Queen's Printers, and had expressed to them a hope that they would discontinue the sale of the imperfect book, and confine their sale of books which can in any way be taken for Prayer Books to that of the complete book as usually understood; that, in reply, the Queen's Printers, in a letter dated the 5th inst., expressed their regret that, notwithstanding the alterations they had made with the view of meeting the wishes of the Society, the Society still entertains a view different from their own on the subject to which their resolution refers.

Religious Inspection in the Diocese of St. Asaph.—The Standing Committee informed the meeting that they had received an urgent appeal from the Bishop of St. Asaph, as President, and from the Rev. R. D. Thomas, as Secretary of the St. Asaph Diocesan Board of Education, for a grant for a second year towards the stipend of an Inspector of Church Schools in religious knowledge, towards which, in March, 1872, a grant of 100*l.* had been made for one year.

The Standing Committee added that, regarding the diocese of St. Asaph as exceptionally necessitous, they had thought it right that 70*l.* should be given by the Society for the purpose named, and that they had been able to grant this sum out of the 3000*l.* placed at their disposal for diocesan inspection in April, 1871.

Notices of Motions for the next Meeting, Questions, &c.

Examination in Religious Knowledge of Students in Training Colleges, &c.—The Standing Committee informed the meeting that on the 12th of May they had received the following application from the Archbishops of Canterbury and York:—

"We, the undersigned, the Archbishops of Canterbury and York, hereby apply to the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge for a renewal for the current year of the grant of 300*l.*, to enable us to provide for a viva voce examination in religious knowledge of the Students in Church Training Colleges, and also for a grant of 100*l.*, to enable us to provide for the examination in religious knowledge of those 'Acting Teachers' who shall sit for certificates. At the same time we assure the Committee of the Society that we have reason to believe that the managers of Training Colleges will generally permit the viva voce examination of the students.

"A. C. CANTUAR.

"W. EBOR."

In accordance with this request, the Standing Committee gave notice that at the next Monthly Meeting, on the 1st of July, they would move that—

"The sum of 400*l.* be put at the disposal of the Archbishops of Canterbury and York, in order to enable them to secure the examination in religious knowledge of candidates for admission to Church Training Colleges, and of those Acting Teachers who sit for certificates, and also to enable the Archbishops to provide for the viva voce examination of the Students in the several Training Colleges."

Diocese of Nelson, New Zealand.—The Standing Committee informed the meeting that the Bishop, who is in this country, had applied for a grant of 500*l.*, to meet an equal sum for the permanent endowment of a "Tutorship in Theology for the Diocese of Nelson." The Bishop proposes that the endowment should be placed, as a separate trust, in the hands of the Trustees of the Clergy Replenishment Fund, a fund which was established by Bishop Hobhouse, the first Bishop of Nelson, who set apart, of his own private liberality, a sum of 3000*l.*, producing about 240*l.* a year, for the replenishment of the clergy by providing for their education or otherwise.

The Bishop of Nelson has already formed the nucleus of a Theological College, from which, since 1868, five students have been ordained. There is a prospect of a continued supply of students for Holy Orders in the colony, and of a continued demand for clergy throughout New Zealand, while the supply of clergy from England is falling off.

The Bishop has hitherto, with the assistance in periodical examinations of some of the diocesan clergy, himself instructed the theological students; but the increasing calls made upon the Bishop's time through the increasing population of the diocese, render it impossible that the Bishop should in future devote as much time to this work as he has in time past.

The Bishop proposes to retain for himself, so long as health and other engagements permit, the honorary but responsible position of Warden, or Principal of the Theological College, but to have the regular assistance in the educational work of the proposed "Tutor in Theology."

It would be necessary that the income should be not less than 300*l.* a year with a residence; a considerable portion of this should be provided by endowment, though a really efficient man would receive something from fees and by the discharge of some limited parochial duties.

There are townships springing up on the western side of the diocese of Nelson, which in the course of two or three years will be able to maintain their own clergymen; and it is most important that clergy should be supplied who are themselves well acquainted with the habits and feelings of colonists, while at the same time they are fitted, by careful training, to be their teachers.

Bishop Hobhouse (late Bishop of Nelson) forwarded, through the Bishop, the following letter of approval of the Bishop's plan:—

The Bishop of Nelson has just shown me his application for a grant towards establishing a Theological Tutor's Fund for his diocese.

I am anxious to say in support of his application that the convictions which induced me in 1868 to set aside 3000*l.* for a Clergy Replenishment Fund in the diocese, are just the same that prompt his application; and they are strengthened in my mind by the current events in the Colonial Church.

Each diocese has to find its own means for replenishing the ranks of the clergy; and each Bishop must devise, direct, and animate the machinery. He cannot safely rely on any supply from without.

I am thankful to find that there is now a supply of candidates for the ministry springing up within the colony.

The want is the teaching-power, just what the Society is asked to aid in providing.

I shall be truly glad to find that the Society is able to add to its many benefactions to the Colonial Church by this additional one.

The Standing Committee gave notice that, at the Monthly General Meeting on the 1st of July, they should propose a grant of 500*l.*, to meet 500*l.*, for the permanent endowment of a Tutorship in Theology for the diocese of Nelson.

Queen's Printers and Imperfect Prayer Books.—The Rev. Thomas Darling gave notice that at the next Meeting he should move:—

"That the Opinion of Counsel be taken as to whether, having regard to the Letters Patent, conferring on the Queen's Printers certain privileges in regard to the Printing and Publishing of the Book of Common Prayer, &c., the said Printers are at liberty to issue only a portion of that book, as in a book recently prepared by them, from which are omitted Forms of Prayer to be used at Sea, Ordination Services, Form of Prayer for the 20th of June, and Articles of Religion, having on the cover of the said book the description 'Common Prayer.'"

Formation of S.P.C.K. Depôts in the Mohammedan East.—The Rev. F. S. May gave notice that at the next Meeting he should move:—

"That the Standing Committee be requested to consider the desirableness of establishing Depôts for the Society's Publications at the chief centres of population in the Mohammedan East, particularly at Teheran in Persia; and of appointing agents, English or Native, at suitable salaries, for the conducting of the business of such Depôts; with a view to the promotion of Christian knowledge in those dark parts of the world."

Toleration of Christians in Persia.—The Rev. F. S. May having asked a question on this subject, the following motion was, by permission of the Chairman, moved by Mr. F. H. Dickinson, seconded by Mr. May, and carried, viz.:—

"That the Standing Committee be requested to take what steps, if any, seem to them to be desirable, to memorialize the Shah of Persia on the occasion of his expected visit to England, with a view to obtain the toleration of Christians in his dominions."

Letters of Thanks, &c., &c.

See of Ballarat.—The following letter had been received from the Chief Justice, Sir William F. Stawell, in reference to the grant of 2000*l.*, to meet 18,000*l.*, made by the Society in December, 1872, for the endowment of this proposed new see:—

Melbourne, 25th March, 1873.

My dear Sir,—I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 9th of December, informing me of the generous response which the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge has made to the application of the Committee that is charged with promoting the endowment of the See of Ballarat. That Committee desires me to express to the Society the thanks of each of its members for this most encouraging help. I have, as you requested, made known your letter to the Bishop of Melbourne. As there is a sum of over 2000*l.* paid, and about thrice that amount promised, and as we hope to supplement private subscriptions from the remnant of our State Aid Fund, we have every reason to hope that we shall soon be in a position to claim the Society's grant according to the conditions stated in your letter.

You will have seen the account of the proceedings of the General Synod of our Church in Sydney, and I am happy to say that the decisions of that Synod have been received by the Assembly of this diocese; so that there is a sufficient guarantee that your further condition will be satisfied, that "the See of Ballarat shall be in full communion with the Church of England."

It is felt by all Churchmen here, I think I may safely say so, that the division of the present diocese will be of as much service to the remaining diocese of Melbourne as to the new one of Ballarat, and so the whole Church in Victoria will be strengthened, and thereby we trust, through God's mercy, pure religion and sober piety be maintained among us. I venture to conclude my letter in words which, I trust, are not inappropriate. If St. Paul might use them in contemplating the liberality of the Gentile believers to the poor saints in Jerusalem, we, when we think of the blessings which may come down to us and to our children, through God's grace upon our efforts to root the Church of England in our adopted country, may, in thanking you for your help, use the Apostle's words and say, "Thanks be unto God for His unspeakable gift."

I remain, my dear Sir,

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM F. STAWELL.

Copy of Resolution carried at a meeting of Additional Bishopric Committee, held at the Bishop's Registry, on Friday, 31st March, Sir W. F. Stawell in the chair:—

"That the special thanks of the Committee, and through them of the Church in Victoria, be given to the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, for their munificent grant towards the endowment of the diocese of Ballarat.

"FRED. W. USHER,

"Hon. Sec. Additional Bishopric Committee."

Port-au-Prince, Haiti.—The following letter of thanks had been received from the Very Rev. Dean Holly:—

Port-au-Prince, Haiti, 23rd April, 1873.

To the Rev. Secretary of the S.P.C.K., 72, Great Queen-street, London.

Rev. and dear Brother,—I received through Messrs. Betham and Son, shipping masters, 9, Lower Thames-street, London, per steamer "Jamaican," a case containing books, invoiced at 23*l.* 8*s.*, granted by your Society for the Church in Haiti.

I am charged by the Standing Committee of this Missionary jurisdiction of the Anglican Communion, to express to you, and through you to your Venerable Society, the heartfelt thanks of the infant Church in Haiti for this important succour from our great Mother Church in this hour of our necessity.

I am, Rev. and dear Brother,

Yours very truly in Christ,

J. THEODORE HOLLY.

British Columbia.—The Rev. D. Holmes, in a letter dated St. John's Parsonage, Yale, British Columbia, 17th February, 1873, said,—

I beg to return my sincere thanks to the Society for the generous grant of valuable books to the Sunday School Library, which were duly received. An assortment of such interesting and instructive reading matter has never before entered Yale, and I assure you that the books are fully appreciated, and highly prized by the young people of the Sunday School, and they have given quite a stimulus to that department of our work, and cannot fail to do good to those who read them. I lent one ("The Wanderer," to a young man who was suffering on a bed of sickness. He expressed himself much pleased with its contents, and said that it exactly pictured out his past life. He was a repenting prodigal, and that was the reason why I selected it. He has since died. I shall be sorry when all the books have been read, or rather that I have not more to take their places.

Yours, Rev. and dear Sir,

Very faithfully,

D. HOLMES.

Calcutta.—The following are extracts from a letter of thanks for a grant of books lately made in the diocese of Calcutta:—

I beg to return you my best thanks for the liberal present of books you have sent me, received this week. Many of them will be very serviceable to me in my private studies, and some of them specially useful in dealing with the class of men with whom I am specially brought into contact. All the treatises published in connexion with the Christian Evidence Committee are especially suitable, and supply a real want felt in Calcutta. The objections which these books discuss are identical with those which are urged in our own lecture rooms by our own students. Educated native society is a restless sea of religious speculation, exhibiting much superficial activity, but, I am sorry to admit, possessing very little moral and religious earnestness. It is not the difficulties of a supernatural religion, or the objections of shallow Positivism, which are our great obstacles, though almost every day in some guise or other these come before us, but the want of any deep sense of sin, and the importance of religious truth, quæ truth. We must go on, exposing in all kindness the unsatisfactoriness of these objections, whether they hear or forbear, and many of the books you have so generously sent will be very helpful in this work.

Grants of Books, &c., recommended by the Standing Committee.

Grants were then made to the amount of 188*l.* 5*s.* 4*d.*

For Schools, Lending Libraries, and Distribution, to the value of 98*l.*

For Churches, Chapels, and Licensed Rooms, to the amount of 31*l.* 8*s.* 3*d.*

Trust Funds.

Books to the value of 21*l.* 3*s.* have been granted for the use of troops at Aldershot (South Camp), Portsmouth, Minster, Ramsgate, and Pembroke Dock, since the last Meeting.

Donations were announced to the amount of 163*l.* 3*s.* 6*d.*

Thirty-seven Subscribing Members, and one Corresponding Member, were elected.

Twenty-eight Ladies have been admitted Annual Subscribers.

The next Monthly General Meeting will be held on Tuesday, 7th October, 1873, at two p.m.

Tuesday, July 1, 1873.

Rev. Dr. HESSEY in the Chair.

After Prayers, the Minutes of the last Meeting were read.

Secretary's detailed Explanation of Yearly Account.

The Secretary stated that, in accordance with Rule L., it was his duty at this Meeting to give a detailed explanation of the yearly accounts, and to invite observations thereon.

He then submitted the following statement, based on the Audit account for the year ending 31st March, 1873, which was presented to the General Meeting in June, and printed in the Report for that month.

First, respecting the Trusts Account:—

The total receipts for Trusts during the year	£	s.	d.
were	1452	0	8
The total payments were	1927	9	10

The excess of payments over receipts, amounting to 475*l.* 9*s.* 2*d.*, was supplied from the balance due to the Trust Accounts by the General Fund on the 31st of March, 1872, which amounted to 2157*l.* 15*s.* 7*d.* The balance due to the Trust Funds, which was in the hands of the General Fund on 31st March, 1873, was, therefore, reduced to 1682*l.* 6*s.* 5*d.*

It is satisfactory to be able to state that almost all the Trust Funds are now in course of being administered.

The Fund of "Clericus," for the supply of religious Books other than the Bible to her Majesty's Land Forces, has been drawn upon to the extent of 906*l.* 16*s.* 11*d.* in the course of the year, and the balance has been reduced to 388*l.* 10*s.* 8*d.*

Canning's Trust has been applied in aiding the passage of Missionaries to Foreign Parts. 410*l.* have been thus used; 658*l.* 4*s.* 6*d.* remain in hand.

Crawford's Irish Trust has not yet been disposed of; but negotiations have been entered into, in accordance with the new scheme sanctioned by the Charity Commissioners, for the maintenance of an Irish-speaking Clergyman in a parish in Ireland in which there is a large Irish-speaking population.

Secondly, respecting the Bookselling Account:—

RECEIPTS.	£	s.	d.
For Books sold in the ordinary way of business	75,473	15	1
For Books granted by General Meeting and paid for out of the General Funds, for Books supplied to Trusts, and for allowance to members on Books supplied below cost, &c.	19,527	3	4
Interest on Deposit Account and Consols	413	15	1
	94,414	13	6

DISBURSEMENTS.	£	s.	d.
For purchase of Bibles and Prayer Books, including Binding	36,845	14	7
For producing miscellaneous Publications	41,654	6	4
For Bills outstanding on 31st March, 1872, &c.	8,954	15	1
For Salaries and Wages at the three London Depôts	5,473	5	13
For Rents, Rates, Taxes, Insurances, &c., for the three London Depôts	1,279	10	2
For Advertising, Packing, Shipping, &c.	4,965	5	2
For Interest paid to General Fund on 70,000 l. capital invested in miscellaneous Book Stock	2,450	0	0
	101,622	17	3

Receipts as stated above	94,414	13	6
	27,208	3	9

These figures show that the disbursements exceeded the receipts by 7208*l.* 3*s.* 9*d.*; but when taken in connexion with the variations in the value of the Stock of Books (which has increased by 9034*l.* 11*s.* 3*d.*) and debts due to the Society for Books sold now, as compared with the value of the Stock of Books, &c., on the 31st of March, 1872, and also in connexion with the variations in the balances on the various Bankers' accounts, &c., there is shown to be a favourable balance on the Bookselling Business of 6914*l.* 11*s.* 5*d.*

This result is highly satisfactory.

The Book Stock has increased considerably, but not unduly. At the Stock-taking in 1872 the Bible and Prayer Book Stock was distressingly low, owing to the difficulty in meeting the demand for Prayer Books, &c., with the New Table of Lessons; now this stock is in a good condition.

The miscellaneous Stock is also larger than it was last year; but the increase is to be accounted for by the activity of the Literary Committees in the production of new works.

The cash received for books sold in the ordinary way of business exceeds the sum so received last year by 7807*l.* 9*s.* 1*d.*; while the books granted and supplied by the Trustees exceed those so issued last year by 4243*l.* 7*s.* 10*d.*

Thus there has been a total increase of business amounting to 12,050*l.* 16*s.* 11*d.*; while the charges for doing the business, irrespective of payments for shipping, packing, &c., have scarcely increased at all.

It has been determined, upon the advice of the Auditors, to pay over 3000*l.* out of the favourable Balance on the Bookselling business to the General Fund for the charitable purposes of the Society.

Thirdly, respecting the General Account:—

	RECEIPTS.	£	s.	d.
Subscriptions	...	14,598	14	6
Benefactions	...	5,829	17	2
Legacies (Cash)	...	8,171	9	10
Dividends	...	4,699	11	9
Interest on Capital invested in Book Stock and Rent of Premises paid by Bookselling Business	...	3,010	0	0
Miscellaneous	...	1,153	13	2
		37,463	6	5

DISBURSEMENTS.

For payments to Bookselling Account for Books granted or supplied to Members below Cost, irrespective of Trusts	...	17,187	13	11
Chaplains to visit Emigrants	...	75	0	0
For Grants of Money for Building Churches and Schools in the Colonies, for Educational purposes in India, and in England, &c., &c.	...	17,109	14	8
For Indian and other Special Funds	...	63	1	9
Salaries	...	1,386	13	4
Printing, Postage, Rates, Advertising, Repairs, &c.	...	1,494	15	5
Excess of payments over receipts on account of Trusts	...	475	9	2

Comparing the total of Cash Payments with the total of Cash Receipts it appears that the payments have exceeded receipts by 1018*l.* 1*s.* 10*d.*

The Abstract of Profit and Loss printed at the end of the Audit Account, which has regard not only to Cash payments and receipts, but also to outstanding liabilities for Money Grants, &c., shows that (after taking into consideration the 6914*l.* 11*s.* 5*d.* favourable balance on the Bookselling account) the property of the Society, taken as a whole, has increased only by 226*l.* 8*s.* 9*d.*, so that the General Fund must have been diminished during the year by 488*l.* 2*s.* 8*d.*

The year has been one of great activity as regards Money Grants voted. These have amounted to 18,955*l.*, while the Book Grants and allowances to Members, both of which charges are borne by the General Fund, have amounted to 18,573*l.* 10*s.* 9*d.*

The Subscriptions received during the year have been slightly (viz. 135*l.* 3*s.* 10*d.*) less than in the previous year. This is to be regretted, as very strenuous efforts have been made to gain new Members. The multiplication of new Societies, and their necessary activity in the work of getting support, probably acts prejudicially to some extent against the funds of older institutions.

The great interest which was shown in the cause of Missions in December, 1872, though it was largely stimulated by the action of this Society, and at a large cost, did not result in any very sensible addition to its funds; as the money offerings went very naturally, for the most part, to the directly Missionary Societies. Still, not a few parochial offertories and collections were sent, in recognition of the part which the S.P.C.K. took in promoting the observance of the 20th of December; indeed, "benefactions," under which head such offerings are reckoned, are somewhat (629*l.* 14*s.* 2*d.*) in excess of what they were in the previous year.

Legacies, which cannot be depended upon as yielding a constant income, are again fully up to the average, though less by 396*l.* 3*s.* 6*d.* than they were in the previous year.

The outstanding liabilities for Money Grants, on 31st of March, 1873, were 36,316*l.* 11*s.* 10*d.* There is money in hand to meet these, and they will be paid so soon as the conditions on which they were made shall have been fulfilled.

The sum which, on the 31st March, 1873, was left available for new Money Grants, has already been considerably reduced. 2000*l.* have been voted for the Endowment of three new Bishoprics, which are to be formed out of the present vast Diocese of Rupert's Land; 5000*l.* have been voted for the Endowment of the Disestablished and Disendowed Church of Nassau. Altogether, the money at the disposal of the Society is reduced to a very low ebb, and those who take an interest in the Society's work will do well to replenish her coffers.

Money Grants recommended by the Standing Committee.

Diocese of Nova Scotia.—The Bishop, writing from his Diocese on the 21st of May, forwarded and strongly recommended an application from the Rev. A. Jordan for a new church, which he is erecting at La Hove Ferry, in his Mission. Mr. Jordan wrote:—

I have in this part of my Mission where I reside a congregation of at least three hundred persons, attached members of the Church of England, but using only school-houses as their places of worship, where we suffer every kind of inconvenience for want of suitable accommodation.

Here are two churches within the Mission District, distant six and ten miles respectively from the site of the proposed new church.

The population consists principally of fishermen and small farmers of limited means, who have as yet to struggle for their livelihood, they have subscribed 600 dollars towards the erection of a church 60 feet long by 26, with a chancel 26 feet by 18. The estimated cost is 2500 dollars. The ground on which the church is to be erected is secured by deed.

The church will be open for service every Sunday, and will accommodate two settlements, at which services are now held on alternate Sundays; all the sittings are to be free and unappropriated. The people are, Mr. Jordan says,—

Quite unable to accomplish the work of building this church without external aid.

It was agreed, upon the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to make a grant of 50*l.* for the completion of this church. The Society's grant to be paid so soon as the Bishop shall have certified that the receipt of it will lead to the immediate completion of the church, and to its being free from all liability for debt.

Diocese of Adelaide.—The Bishop wrote from his Diocese on the 23rd of April, 1873, as follows:—

I wish to apply for a grant of 25*l.* to each of the following churches now completed, made over to the Incorporated Synod, and ready for use for Divine Service. Each is of stone and has cost upwards of 500*l.* They are to supply rural populations, and to form outlying posts within settled District Incumbencies. There are no gentry, but agricultural families, who have contributed to and beyond their means in many cases. 1st, St. Paul's, Rhyme; 2nd, St. Augustine's, Virginia; 3rd, St. John's, Coromandel Valley. Such assistance will be gratefully received, as the efforts locally made have been most commendable.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to make three grants of 25*l.*, for the completion of these three churches on the usual conditions.

Diocese of Tasmania.—The Bishop, writing from Hobart Town on the 18th April, 1873, applied for a grant towards a proposed new church to be erected at Port Cygnet, on the river Huon. There are many hundreds of inhabitants employed as splitters of timber, and the population is likely to increase in consequence of the demand made by a new railway.

The people have, of their own accord, held a meeting, and resolved to apply to the Bishop for encouragement to build a church in connexion with the Church of England; they have also subscribed 70*l.* towards effecting their object. A site has been secured, and it is proposed to build a church of a good ecclesiastical design, at a cost of certainly not less than 400*l.*

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 25*l.* for the completion of this church on the usual conditions.

Diocese of Ontario.—The Bishop forwarded an application from the Rev. J. Godden, Incumbent, and Mr. James Reeves, Churchwarden, for a grant towards a new church in the Mission District of Wilberforce, in the Parish of Eganville, with a church population of upwards of 800. The proposed building, which is to be a frame church, will accommodate 140 persons, the site will be vested in the Bishop. The estimated cost is 1500 dollars, of which 750 dollars have been raised in the Mission District. The settlement is a new one, and the inhabitants, who are for the most part from England and Ireland, are not well off; they are now just getting their land into a fair state of cultivation, and are not in a position to support the ministrations of the church without assistance.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 20*l.* for the completion of this church on the usual conditions.

Diocese of Antigua.—The Bishop, dating from Antigua on the 10th May, 1873, made an application for aid towards raising a capital sum sufficient to yield 100*l.* a year for the permanent endowment of the Church in Dominica.

Dominica is, the Bishop stated, one of the four colonies in my Diocese, in which up to this time the Church has been disendowed by act of the Legislature. Here alone the mass of the population is Roman Catholic, and the members of the Church do not amount to more than 1000, if so many. It is difficult among so small a number to raise regularly the stipend of a Rector, and to pay all the other expenses of the church; and one gentleman in the place having offered 500*l.*, it was resolved that an attempt be made to raise an invested capital sufficient to furnish a permanent interest of at least 100*l.* per annum, without which it would hereafter be difficult, if not impracticable, to keep up the ministrations of the church among this most interesting and earnest little flock.

Two other contributions of 100*l.* each followed this generous donation, and now the entire fund has reached 950*l.*, invested in "shares in the Colonial Bank." It is hoped that at the close of this year it will be 1000*l.*

We are the more anxious to reach the sum we have proposed to ourselves, because the S.P.G., looking to the peculiar circumstances of the island, has granted 50*l.* per annum for the first three years only in which this church is thrown upon voluntary support. At the end of 1874 this subsidy will cease, and the little congregation will then be entirely self-dependent. I sincerely hope that the Society will, as in the case of Jamaica, vote a sum proportionate to that which has been subscribed. I should mention that, unlike Jamaica and British Guiana, we have no Diocesan Fund of this nature.

My churches are in separate islands, varying very much in their peculiar circumstances, and it has been judged best to keep the Church Fund in each apart.

There is not only a strong objection on the part of our Church people to any other arrangement, but I find that the interest and co-operation of the laity in each island is thus best sustained. I may mention that this Endowment Fund is vested in three Trustees, of whom the Bishop is one.

It was agreed, upon the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 100*l.*, to be paid when a sufficient sum, together with the Society's grant, shall have been raised to secure 100*l.* a year, and when the whole capital shall have been securely invested.

Ponce, Porto-Rico.—The Bishop of Antigua forwarded a copy of an appeal which he had addressed to the Churchmen in his diocese, and in the West India Islands generally, asking for contributions towards the erection of a church in the Spanish Island of Porto-Rico.

The following is the appeal, dated February 12, 1873:—

Proposed English Church in Ponce, Porto-Rico.

It is hoped that the circumstances under which the small Protestant Community in Ponce appeal for assistance to enable them to complete their church need but be briefly mentioned to move the hearts of their fellow-Christians in these islands and elsewhere. In the large Spanish Island of Porto-Rico, containing 650,000 inhabitants, there are settled families, brought up in the Reformed Faith and loyally clinging to it, the children of whom have in many instances grown up without the blessings of a public worship in which they could conscientiously join, and without the ministrations of God's Holy Word and Sacraments. Until lately the door has, from the earliest settlement of the colony, been rigidly closed against the introduction of any other form of Christian worship than that of the National Church.

The largest group of families attached to the Protestant faith is settled in Ponce; and no sooner had the proclamation of Religious Liberty followed the late revolution in Spain than, although attached to different communions, they agreed to unite in building a church, for which they now obtained the cordial consent of the Government, and in inviting the Bishop of Antigua to procure for them a pastor, and to take the oversight of the flock. To this step they were mainly led by the advice of the Rev. W. O. Allan, the large-hearted pastor of the Dutch Reformed Church in St. Thomas, who early in 1871, at their invitation, assembled in the house of one of the leading gentry of the city the first congregation of Protestants that ever united for public worship in Porto-Rico. He was accordingly followed sometime after by the Rev. J. C. Du Bois, and then by the Rev. Charles J. Branch, the rectors of the two flourishing English churches in the neighbouring island of St. Croix, who arranged, in turn with the Bishop of Antigua, to visit the island in alternate months. Under their occasional ministry a most interesting congregation has been formed. In his visit last month the Bishop laid, in the presence of a large congregation, not only of the Protestants of the place, but of Roman Catholics interested in the work, the first stone of the wall foundation on which the iron church will rest; and the building only awaits the means of completion to enable the Committee to invite a Clergyman to come among them as their pastor.

Those who have felt an interest in this undertaking, will learn with regret that it has received a check from unexpected difficulties, which may prove fatal to it unless assistance can be procured from without. The Protestants of Ponce and its neighbourhood, numbering about 250 of all classes, zealously subscribed early in last year a sum sufficient to import from some well-known iron-works near Liverpool a church of chaste ecclesiastical style, to accommodate a congregation of 350, of which the first cost, with packing and shipping expenses, was 1300*l.* Of this amount the sum of 700*l.* was remitted to the contractors together with the order, and the remaining 600*l.* afterwards in a bill of exchange on a highly respectable house in London and Ponce, the failure of which unhappily was announced before the maturity of the bill. The amount thus lost, at least for a time, has been paid to the contractors by a loan, for which the two largest original subscribers have made themselves responsible, and which must be repaid in the middle of this year. It is hoped that, at any rate, half the amount of the protested bill may eventually be recovered from the dividends of the bankrupt firm. Meantime the church has been landed in Ponce at a heavy charge for freight of 312*l.* 10*s.*, and for duty of 50*l.*, to meet which it has been found necessary to borrow the means at a high rate of interest.

The subsequent failure of a still larger house in Ponce towards the close of 1872 has thrown the whole commerce of the place into temporary difficulty, and has involved most of the Protestant families in some distress. It has become impossible for the small congregation, who had previously taxed themselves to the utmost of their ability, to raise the amount now necessary to complete the erection of the building clear of debt. For this the sum of 750*l.* at least will be required; whilst in the future the stipend of the minister, already contributed for the first half-year, has to be provided.

The possibility that such an enterprise should break down cannot for one moment be contemplated; but it is for those who love the truths of our Reformed Faith, and can sympathize with their brethren under privation, to avert such a calamity. From such as these contributions are now earnestly asked. If every Church congregation in our West Indian Dioceses would, with the approval of their respective Bishops, contribute one single offering, however small each in itself may be, the aggregate amount would go far to meet the emergency, and a blessed work would be set on foot in that vast island, the future results of which can be calculated only by Him with whom it rests to "give the increase." Any contributions or collections may be sent direct to D. Basanta, Esq., British Vice-Consul, Ponce, Porto Rico; or they may be forwarded through the Bishop of Antigua, the Rev. J. C. Du Bois, Frederiksted, St. Croix, or the Rev. C. J. Branch, Christiansted, St. Croix.

W. W. ANTIGUA.

February 12th, 1873.

This appeal was not so well responded to as the Bishop had hoped, owing in great part to the struggle which many of the congregations in the West Indies have to maintain their own Churches and Clergy; still the Bishop expects that about 100*l.* will result from it. 600*l.* or 700*l.* are still needed.

A grant from the Society would, the Bishop said, be an immense encouragement and relief to the anxious hearts of those now charged with bringing the work to completion, and would help them to accomplish the object they so much desire, namely, to clear the church from debt, before the arrival of the clergyman who is to be its first pastor.

It was agreed, upon the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 100*l.*, to be paid when the Bishop of Antigua shall have certified that the receipt of that sum will set the Church quite free from debt; and further, that the Church and site are legally secured for the purposes of the Church of England.

Book Grants recommended by the Standing Committee.

The Special and Ordinary Book Grants were then made on the recommendation of the Standing Committee.

Church of England Scripture Readers' Association.—The Standing Committee stated that they had received a letter of thanks from Mr. Roddam Tate, Honorary Secretary of this Association, for a previous grant of Tracts, and also an application for a further supply.

It was agreed, upon the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant Tracts, including those of the Christian Evidence Series, to the value of 50*l.*

London City Mission.—Similarly, on the application of the Rev. John Garwood, Clerical Secretary of the London City Mission, Tracts to the value of 50*l.* were granted for distribution by the agents of that Association.

York Diocesan Religious Inspection.—A grant of Books, to the value of 4*l.* 10*s.*, was made to meet an equal outlay in Books on the part of the York Diocesan Association, on the application of the Rev. G. Wyndham Kennion, Diocesan Inspector; the whole of the Books to be given to Pupil Teachers as prizes for Religious Knowledge after a central examination.

Oxford Diocesan Board of Education.—The Rev. Edward Barber, Inspector in Religious Knowledge in the Diocese of Oxford, applied for a grant of S.P.C.K. Books to the value of 20*l.*, to meet an equal expenditure in Prize Books on the part of the Oxford Diocesan Prize Association; the whole of the Books to be given as rewards to Pupil Teachers, after central or simultaneous examination in Religious Knowledge.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant Books to the value of 20*l.* as applied for.

Books for Moscow.—The Standing Committee informed the Meeting that the Bishop of Moray and Ross, who had recently been in Moscow, urged the importance of providing a supply of S.P.C.K. Books for sale in Moscow.

The English Church at Moscow is, the Bishop wrote, the Anglican Centre for all the interior of Russia. English people, governesses, and mechanics especially, are sattered all about the interior, and gladly avail themselves of such opportunities as may enable them to attend the services of the Church in Moscow. By these people the want of religious Books is keenly felt.

It was agreed, upon the recommendation of the Standing Committee, that Books to the value of not more than 25*l.*, be placed at the disposal of the Rev. R. G. Penny, English Chaplain at Moscow, on condition of his undertaking to make arrangements for the sale of them, and to re-invest the proceeds of sales in the purchase of new stock.

Grants of Books, &c., recommended by the Standing Committee.

Grants were then made to the amount of 151*l.* 15*s.* 10*d.*

For Schools, Lending Libraries, and Distribution, to the amount of 44*l.* 18*s.*

For Churches or Licensed Rooms, to the amount of 22*l.* 2*s.* 10*d.*

Grants of Books have been made from the various Trust Funds of the Society since the last Meeting.

Numerous letters of acknowledgment and thanks were laid before the Meeting.

Money Grants, of which Notice had been given by the Standing Committee at the last Meeting.

Examination in Religious Knowledge of Students in Training Colleges, &c.—In accordance with notice given at the last Meeting, and at the request of the Archbishops of Canterbury and York, the Standing Committee proposed that—

"The sum of 400*l.* be put at the disposal of the Archbishops of Canterbury and York, in order to enable them to secure the examination in religious knowledge of candidates for admission to Church Training Colleges, and of those Acting Teachers who sit for certificates, and also to enable the Archbishops to provide for the viva voce examination of the Students in the several Training Colleges."

Mr. Jeffreys moved, and Mr. Darling seconded as an amendment, that instead of the words "Archbishops to provide for the viva voce examination of the Students in," the following words should be substituted, "Archbishop's Inspector to pay a personal visit to."

The amendment was lost. The original motion was then put and carried.

Theological Tutorship in Diocese of Nelson.—In accordance with notice given at the last Meeting, and for reasons set forth at length in the last Monthly Report, the Standing Committee proposed a grant of 500*l.*, to meet 500*l.* to be raised elsewhere, for the permanent endowment of a Tutorship in Theology for the Diocese of Nelson.

The grant was made.

Reports and Notices from the Standing Committee.

Toleration of Christians in Persia.—In reference to the resolution on this subject which was passed at the last Monthly General Meeting, the Standing Committee reported that they had held a Special Meeting on Monday, June 16th, when the following resolution was carried, viz.:—

"That the Archbishop of Canterbury be requested, as President of the Society, to communicate with Lord Granville with a view of inducing him to take what steps should appear to him desirable to impress upon the Shah of Persia the importance of extending to all within his dominions, who profess or embrace the Christian faith, that full toleration and protection which is afforded to Mohammedans throughout the British dominions."

The Standing Committee added that a copy of this resolution had been sent on the day on which it was passed to the Archbishop, who, in a letter dated Lambeth Palace, 18th of June, stated that he had forwarded the resolution to Lord Granville and expressed his hope that his Lordship might be able to act on the suggestion.

The following is a copy of Lord Granville's reply to the Archbishop:—

Foreign Office, June 25th, 1873.

My Lord.—In acknowledging the receipt of Your Grace's letter of the 18th instant, enclosing a resolution from the Standing Committee of the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, and expressing a hope that during the Shah's visit to this country, I might be able to take some effectual steps for promoting the cause of religious toleration in Persia.

I take this opportunity of assuring your Grace that the subject is one which I have not lost sight of.

I have the honour to be, my Lord,

Your Grace's most obedient humble servant,
Archbishop of Canterbury.

The Standing Committee further reported, that in consequence of an intimation made to the Secretary by the Persian Minister on Saturday last, to the effect that his Majesty the Shah of Persia would receive an address from the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge on Monday, the 30th June, at 1.30 at Buckingham Palace, and that a deputation not exceeding four persons might attend,—after consultation with the Archbishop of Canterbury, as President of the Society, an address had been presented at his Grace's particular request by the Archbishop of York, who together with Lord Overstone, one of the Vice-Presidents of the Society, and W. H. Smith, Esq., M.P., and Rev. W. G. Humphry, Treasurers, formed the deputation.

The following is a copy of the address:—

To His Majesty the Shah of Persia. From the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge.

May it please your Majesty,—

We the President, Vice-President, and other members of the S.P.C.K., appear before your Majesty on behalf of an Association which has existed in this country nearly two hundred years, for spreading the knowledge of the Christian Religion at home and in all parts of the world.

The English people have long learnt to honour highly the principle of religious liberty; and experience has convinced them of the benefits which arise to a nation from the recognition of that principle. Firmly holding it ourselves, we cannot but desire to see it everywhere established; and we are therefore thankful to have this opportunity of approaching your Majesty, in the name of our Society, for the purpose of entreating you to grant entire liberty and security to the members of all Christian communities, and to all who may be disposed to join the Christian faith within your Majesty's dominions.

We pray Almighty God, the Giver of all good, that your Majesty's visit to our beloved Sovereign, which has been hailed with pleasure by our people, may result in blessings to your Majesty and to your own nation.

The Secretary stated that it had been intimated that a written answer would be sent.

Salisbury Diocesan Training School.—The Standing Committee reported that, at the request of the Committee of this Training School, they had agreed to make a supplementary payment of 135*l.* out of the 5000*l.* put at their disposal in July last, to the Treasurer thereof, on condition of nine additional female pupils being admitted into training there for two years in January next: that this was done in consideration of permanent additional accommodation having been provided for twenty students, though, for reasons of discipline, &c., only eleven were received in January of the present year, for which eleven additional students the Society had paid only 165*l.* instead of the whole sum of 300*l.* as originally intended; that thus for the whole payment of 300*l.*, the training of twenty additional students for two years would be secured.

Canning's Trust and Passage Money of Missionaries.—The Standing Committee reported that they had, subject to certain inquiries being satisfactorily answered, at the request of Rev. Francis Pott, Commissary of Bishop Macrorie, made a grant of 30*l.* from Canning's Trust, for the passage of a Missionary to Maritzburg, who was about to sail on the 25th instant.

Diocese of Antigua.—The Standing Committee reported that they had received the following statement, in print, from the Bishop of Antigua, in reference to the Endowment of his See:—

There is no provision whatever for the maintenance of a Bishop in Antigua, whenever the See shall become vacant. The Diocese embraces seven of the British West Indian Colonies, with some forty churches and twenty-six clergymen, besides five foreign islands (Swedish, Dutch, Danish, and Spanish), with six churches and four clergymen.

The present Bishop, now advancing in years, derives his stipend from the Consolidated Fund, under the Acts of Parliament of 1824 and 1842, which were repealed in July, 1868, as regards future incumbents; and H. M. Government has announced its determination to permit no future legislation in the Leeward Islands which does not equally recognize all the existing bodies of Christians labouring there.

In several of these Islands the Disestablishment and Disendowment of the Anglican Church have been already enacted, and in all they are threatened. The Church will find sufficient difficulty in maintaining, by voluntary contributions, her parochial ministrations on their present footing: the additional support of a Bishop, without extraneous help, would be impossible, and there is the dreary prospect of her being left without a chief Pastor.

If the sum of 10,000*l.* can be raised and invested for the future endowment of this See, such a calamity will be averted; and a recent Declaration of the Council of the Colonial Bishops Fund encourages the hope of material assistance from that source. Under these circumstances, the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel has consented to receive and hold in trust for this object contributions, which are now earnestly solicited. They will be thankfully received at the Society's House, 20, Duke-street, Westminster, S.W.

The Standing Committee, in hope that action on the part of this Society may elicit help from other quarters, so as to secure the Society's grant, which, if made, will lapse if not claimed within five years, gave notice that at the next Monthly General Meeting, to be held on Tuesday, 7th of October, they would propose a grant of 1000*l.*, to meet 9000*l.* to be raised elsewhere, for the permanent Endowment of the See.

Diocese of Trinidad.—The Standing Committee submitted the following statement of facts respecting the partially disendowed Diocese of Trinidad. The facts were supplied partly by the Right Reverend R. Rawle, Bishop of the Church of England in Trinidad, and partly by the Rev. S. S. B. Richards, Rector of the Cathedral parish, and Senior Rural Dean in Trinidad, who is now in England, having been deputed by the Diocesan Board and by the Bishop to make known in England, and specially among the proprietors of estates in Trinidad, who are resident in this country, the condition of the Church and See of Trinidad.

Statement made by Mr. Richards:—

1st. As to the total number of parishes, with the amount of income before or at the time of the passing of the Disestablishment Act.

By an Ordinance passed in A.D. 1844, generally known as the Ecclesiastical Ordinance, the Island of Trinidad was divided into sixteen parishes, with special and exclusive reference to the Church of England. Some of these were constituted into Rectories, and some into Island Curacies, with an endowment to each; the remainder were regarded as Missionary fields to be endowed afterwards, if it should seem to the Governor in Council to be desirable and necessary.

Before the death of Archbishop Cummins, in October, 1869, and the repeal of the Ecclesiastical Ordinance in 1870, the following sums were paid from the Colonial Treasury:—

In addition to the above Allowances, payments were made from the Consolidated Fund to some of the Clergy, which, exclusive of the proportion of the Bishop's Stipend, amounted to	£	s.	d.

The income of the Church in Trinidad, at the time of the Archdeacon's death in 1869, derived from: the Imperial and Colonial Funds, was

The incomes derived from the Consolidated Fund, and those paid from the Colonial Treasury to Chaplains of Gaols, and Hospitals, and Asylums, to Clerks and Sextons, and all allowances for house-rent and repairs of parsonages will cease altogether on the death or retirement from office of each recipient. The stipend of the Clergy will as each vacancy occurs be reduced to one-third, the other two-thirds being paid to the Roman Catholic or some other religious body, until the sum total given to the Church of England be reduced to 3000*l.*

2ndly. "As to the efforts being made by the Clergy and Laity."

In February, A.D. 1870, the Ecclesiastical Ordinance was repealed, and in the March following the Bishop of Barbados died. As his successor had not been named, the Clergy of Trinidad met in conference in June of the same year, and after mature consideration decided on bringing before their congregations the question of separating Trinidad from the Diocese of Barbados, and creating it an independent see. To gain time a deputation of the Clergy waited on the Governor with a petition to this effect, signed by the Clergy alone: soon after a petition of the same character, signed by the Laity, was forwarded to the Secretary of State in the Colonies.

At the meeting of the Legislative Council, when the Archdeacon's stipend of 500*l.* per annum was withdrawn, a promise was given by the Governor, with the general consent of the members present, that the same amount would be paid, when the occasion arose, as the contribution of Trinidad to the salary of the future Bishop. This was not entered on the Minutes, but was considered to be binding by the Governor, the Hon. A. Gordon, as he declared after the death of Bishop Parry to Bishop H. Parry in writing, and to myself in conversation that the fulfilment of the promise might be relied on.

The Secretary for the Colonies, when applied to, refused to ratify the promise, and gave no answer to the petitions which had been presented until the March following, A.D. 1871.

In a dispatch received at that time by the Governor of Trinidad the policy of disestablishment and disendowment was more fully stated, and the petitioners were informed that her Majesty would be advised to make no appointment to Colonial Sees, the arrangements as to the division of and nomination to present or future Bishoprics being left to the members of the Church themselves.

On the receipt of a copy of this dispatch Bishop H. Parry, addressed a circular to each of the Clergy, requesting them to invite their congregations to elect representatives in the proportion of two to each congregation, who might, together with the Clergy, form a Council for the consideration of all questions arising out of the altered policy of the Home Government with reference to our Church.

The Council thus constituted met in May, 1871, and decided—

1. That a Sustentation Fund be formed for the support of the Church, and that the subscribers to this Fund elect, on a day appointed by the Clergy, from amongst themselves, representatives, being communicants, to form, with the Bishop and the Clergy of the Diocese, a Church Council as a Representative Governing Body.

2. That Trinidad be separated from the Diocese of Barbados, and be made an independent See.

3. That an Episcopal Endowment Fund be formed, and that until it be able to bear the burden, the Bishop's stipend shall be the first charge on the Sustentation Fund.

Later in the same year the Rev. R. Rawle, M.A., Vicar of Tamworth, was unanimously elected by the members of the Church Council as the Bishop of the Anglican Church in Trinidad. On his acceptance of the office, a memorial, praying for the separation of the island from the Diocese of Barbados and its constitution into an independent See, was forwarded by Bishop H. Parry to the Archbishop of Canterbury. The Queen's Warrant for the separation was obtained, permission was given to the Archbishop to consecrate the Bishop Elect; on June 29th the consecration took place at Lichfield Cathedral, and on August 6th, A.D. 1872, the Bishop was installed in the Cathedral of the Holy Trinity, Port of Spain.

After this, Canons for the rule and government of the Diocese were adopted. These are regarded as provisional, it being thought inexpedient to enter into details until the meeting of the Provincial Synod of the West Indian Bishops. Of these Canons I forward copies.

Besides this general effort of the Church, local parochial efforts are also being made. Thus, in the parish of the Holy Trinity, a Curates' Aid Society was formed in A.D. 1869, to make provision for the future Curates when the allowances from the Consolidated Fund are withdrawn. The results have been the erection of a parsonage for one of the Curates, and the raising of an income of about 400*l.* per annum. In another parish the Curate's stipend is supplemented by his congregation, chiefly, I believe, through the Offertory Collections.

In nearly every Church throughout the Island Offertory Collections are made on Sundays at both the morning and evening services, and the result has been in most cases satisfactory.

3rdly. "As to whether any system of commutation is possible."

It is not likely that the system of commutation will be approved by the Government, concurrent endowment being in favour with the majority in the Island.

4thly. "As to the exact present condition of the Diocese, as to the number of Clergy, their incomes and tenure of benefices."

There are now in Trinidad fifteen Clergymen.

The Bishop.

Six Rectors.

Four Island Curates.

Four Assistant Curates.

The Bishop's income is at present derived from the General Sustentation Fund.

The six Rectors and four Island Curates are paid, as before, out of the Colonial Treasury, subject to the same conditions as formerly, the discipline clauses of the Ecclesiastical Ordinance not having been repealed.

Two of the Assistant Curates are supported partly by the allowance from the Treasury, partly by grants from the Consolidated Fund, and the salaries of their chaplaincies. Another is supported partly by the allowance from the Colonial Treasury, partly by voluntary contribution. The fourth derives his income from the Curates' Aid Association.

5thly. "As to the Endowment of the See."

An Episcopal Endowment Fund has been formed, and 1000*l.* has been invested at interest. This Fund is formed in the Island partly by subscriptions, donations, and quarterly Offertory Collections in the several Churches and Chapels within the Colony.

There is in Trinidad a large Roman Catholic population, with a resident Archbishop and a large staff of Clergy, of Christian Brothers, and nuns. The aggregate of the amount to be taken from us has already been paid to them, so that their annual income paid from the Colonial Treasury has been increased by about a third more than they formerly received. There are also many other denominations.

There are also a large number of heathen immigrants, who amount to rather more than a fourth of the whole population.

The following is an extract from the Canons of the Church of England in Trinidad:—

We, the Bishops and other Clergy and Lay Representatives, being the said Church Council, do set forth the following Canons, agreed upon by us, first making this

DECLARATION OF PRINCIPLES.

1. We receive the Authorized translation of the Holy Bible, with liberty to adopt such amended translation as may hereafter be approved by the Church of England.

2. We receive the Book of Common Prayer, and Administration of the Sacraments, and other Rites and Ceremonies, and the Form and Manner of making, Ordaining, and Consecrating of Bishops, Priests, and Deacons, according to the use of the Church of England, together with the Thirty-Nine Articles of Religion: reserving the right of making such alterations in the arrangement of our Services, not affecting doctrine, as local circumstances shall appear to us to require.

3. We also record our earnest desire to preserve our union with the Church of England, and to act in concert with the other West Indian Dioceses.

The Standing Committee gave notice that, at the next Monthly General Meeting, to be held on Tuesday, the 7th of October, they would propose a grant of 2000*l.*, to meet 10,000*l.* to be raised elsewhere; the whole of the 12,000*l.* to be permanently and securely invested for the endowment of the Church and See of Trinidad. That the Society's grant should be payable in two equal instalments of 1000*l.* each, of which one sum of 1000*l.* should be paid when 10,000*l.* had been raised elsewhere for the endowment of the See; and 1000*l.* when 10,000*l.* should have been raised elsewhere for the permanent maintenance of the Clergy independently of the Bishop.

Motions of which notice was given at the last Meeting.

Queen's Printers and Imperfect Prayer Books.

—The Rev. Thomas Darling stated that, in consequence of a suggestion which had been made to him by the Standing Committee, he did not propose now to go on with the motion on this subject of which he had given notice, but that he did intend to renew the notice of motion in October, so that the matter might be considered in November.

Formation of S.P.C.K. Depôts in the Mohammedan East.—Mr. May, who had given notice of the following motion, was unavoidably absent:—
"That the Standing Committee be requested to consider the desirableness of establishing Depôts for the Society's Publications at the chief centres of population in the Mohammedan

East, particularly at Teheran in Persia; and of appointing agents, English or Native, with suitable salaries, for the conducting of the business of such Depôts, with a view to the promotion of Christian knowledge in those dark parts of the world."

Mr. Darling asked and obtained permission to move the resolution in the following altered form:—

"That the Standing Committee be requested to consider the desirableness of adopting such means as may be expedient for selling and circulating the Society's Publications at the chief centres of population in the Mohammedan East, particularly at Teheran in Persia."

Mr. Buckley seconded the motion, which was carried.

Announcement of Donations, Legacies, Letters of Thanks, &c.

Donations were announced to the amount of 66*l.* 8*s.* 1*d.*

The following Legacies were announced:—

Samuel Sanders Teulon, Esq., of 9, Craig's Court, Charing Cross ... £10 0 0

Rev. Edward Curtis, of Hugate, East Riding, York, one-half of personal estate (subject to certain contingencies).

Fifty-four Members were elected.

Five Ladies have been admitted Annual Subscribers.

SOCIETY FOR THE PROPAGATION OF THE GOSPEL IN FOREIGN PARTS.

The Monthly Meeting was held at 20, Duke-street, on Friday, June 20; Bishop Piers Cloughton in the chair.

1. Read minutes of the meetings held on May 16 and 26.

2. The Treasurers presented a Statement of the Society's Income to the end of May.

3. Resolved, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee:—

"(i.) That the Society take occasion to express its desire to enter into more friendly and systematic communication with members of the Church in foreign parts on the occasion of their visiting England.

"(ii.) That a Visitor's Book be opened at 20, Duke-street, Westminster, to which clergymen and laymen of the Church coming from abroad should be invited to send their names and addresses and the period for which they stay.

"(iii.) That communication be opened with the American and Colonial Bishops, and the corresponding Committees of the Society abroad, requesting them to make known the desire of the Society to Churchmen on the occasion of their visiting England, with a view to their names being recorded in the proposed book.

"(iv.) That the book be open to the inspection of members of the Society and other persons interested in the welfare of the Church in foreign parts, in the hope of promoting the intercommunion of members of the Church at home and abroad, by mutual conference and friendly and hospitable meetings.

"(v.) That members of the Society resident in or near London, and wishing to cultivate acquaintance with members of the Church abroad, be invited to communicate to the Secretary the times and occasion when it would suit them to receive visitors."

4. On the recommendation of the Standing Committee the following grants were made for the year 1874:—

5. Resolved:—

"(i.) That the Authorities in the Dioceses of Montreal, Ontario, and Huron be informed that the grants to those Dioceses will probably be considerably reduced at the next appropriation.

"(ii.) That the Church people in the Diocese of Bloemfontein be urged to make some regular efforts towards the endowment of that See, in accordance with the conditions on which the Society undertook in 1869 to grant a stipend to the Bishop.

"(ii.) That an addition be made to Regulation 49, to the effect that no local Committee charged with the administration of the Society's Funds may include any persons (except in some cases the Secretary) deriving benefit from the Society's Funds."

6. Resolved, that the following Appropriated Funds be placed at the disposal of the Bishop and Committee of the Diocese to which they are appropriated:—Delhi, 10*l.* 3*s.*; Capetown, 35*l.* 17*s.* 10*d.*; Borneo, 20*l.* 15*s.*; Melanesia, 267*l.* 19*s.* 3*d.*; Natal, 29*l.* 7*s.* 5*d.*; Zululand, 58*l.* 13*s.* 2*d.*; Newfoundland, 11*l.* 5*s.*; Labrador, 10*l.* 10*s.*

7. Resolved, that as it appears that there is still a sum of 852*l.* remaining of the Colonial Church Endowment Fund, and that applications have been made from the Dioceses of Quebec and Rupertsland for grants from that Fund, a grant should be offered at once to the Diocese of Quebec of 500*l.* from that Fund, to meet 2,500*l.* from local sources, and on the understanding that there will be (on the payment of the 500*l.*) a reduction of 100*l.* per annum in the Society's expenditure in that Diocese. Also that the Diocese of Rupertsland be invited to apply under the usual conditions for an additional grant of such amount as to exhaust this Fund.

8. Resolved that the Rev. R. W. Griffith, of Llangadwaladr, be appointed Organizing Secretary for the Archdeaconry of Bangor; and the Rev. H. J. Wale, of Folkestone, for the Archdeaconry of Hunts.

9. The Secretary stated that the Rev. Assheton Pownall, Vicar of Kilworth, and E. H. B. Hambly, Esq., of Barrow-on-Suir, had been chosen by the Peterborough Diocesan as Representative Members on the Standing Committee and approved by the Bishop.

Resolved that the elections be confirmed.

10. On the recommendation of the Board of Examiners, Messrs. Allen, Allmond, Colbeck, Talbot, and Vallespinosa, five students of St. Augustine's College, were approved for Missionary work; and it was resolved that Mr. Colbeck be allowed to remain as an Oriental Exhibitioner at St. Augustine's College.

11. The Rev. Dr. Deane moved and ultimately withdrew the resolution of which he had given notice—it being understood that the Secretary would undertake to endeavour that reports of the Society's proceedings at the Monthly Meeting should appear in the leading papers.

12. The Rev. T. Darling moved:—"That the Standing Committee be requested, in concert with the President, to take steps for the Society having an interview with the Shah of Persia on the occasion of his Majesty's visit to this country, for the purpose of obtaining full and legal toleration for evangelistic efforts in his Majesty's dominions."

This was withdrawn by permission of the meeting, and F. H. Dickinson, Esq., moved:—"That a special Committee be appointed, in concert with the President, to take steps to represent to the Shah the desire of Christians in this country to obtain full and legal toleration for the profession of the Christian Faith in his Majesty's dominions; and that in the event of C.M.S. or S.P.C.K. desiring to make a representation on the subject, the Standing Committee be authorized to co-operate with them; and that such Committee consist of Sir B. Frere, Rev. B. Balcher, Dr. Currey, F. H. Dickinson, Esq., Rev. F. S. May, Rev. T. Darling, and General Underwood, with power to add to their number."

13. The Rev. S. Arnott gave notice of his intention to move at the next Meeting:—"That it be a condition annexed to all permanent grants made by the Society, that a collection be made every year in aid of its Funds, in each parish, place, or settled congregation where the ministrations of religion are in whole or in part supported by the Society."

14. Grants at the rate of 10*l.* per annum, from Jan. 1, 1873, were made to four Students of the Mission House, Warmister.

15. The Rev. T. Darling gave notice of his intention to move at the next Meeting:—"That the Standing Committee be requested to enter into communication with Mr. Murray, with the view of obtaining from him permission to circulate, at a reduced price, Sir B. Frere's tractate entitled 'Indian Missions.'"

16. The Rev. W. Blunt gave notice of his intention to call the attention of the Society at its next Monthly Meeting to certain mistakes which are alleged to have been made by the officers of the Society with regard to the election of certain members, with a view to making good the election, if that election be found to be invalid.

All the members proposed in April were elected.

Nine members will be proposed for election at the Meeting in October.

CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

SELECTIONS FROM

THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE COMMITTEE.

General Committee, May 12th.—The Rev. J. Murray Mitchell, LL.D., who had laboured for thirty years as a Missionary in India in connexion with the Free Church of Scotland, was introduced to the Committee, and gave much interesting information as to the progress of Mission work. In Western India, where the first part of his Missionary career had been spent, and where it was not uncommon formerly for evangelists to be pelted and driven by an excited mob out of the places they entered, the Gospel message now received respectful attention. Dr. Mitchell bore favourable testimony to the work the Church Missionary Society is carrying on among the Monges from Aurungabad as a centre. Under North India he referred to the alteration of the curriculum in the University of Calcutta, which makes Butler's Analogy, Part I.; Butler's Sermons on Human Nature, Dissertation on Virtue, and the History of the Jews down to the destruction of Jerusalem, optional subjects in the examinations for honours; and expressed, not only his own, but the opinion of the more thoughtful of the natives of India, that it would be a great calamity if Missionaries withdrew from higher education. Dr. Mitchell did not agree in thinking that under the present system it was necessary that Missionary institutions should be secularized, though it was necessary that the instruction given in Scriptural and secular subjects should be thorough.

The Rev. W. S. Price, having been obliged by ill-health to return from Sharanpur, in Western India, was introduced to the Committee, and conversation was held with him regarding the work in which he had been engaged. As an instance of the change of feeling among the people, he mentioned how he and other Missionaries had been stoned some years ago in the streets of Trimuck, a sacred place of pilgrimage at the source of the Godavery, sixteen miles from Nasik; and how, in his recent visit, the Gospel message had been well received; and how, at a book-stall he had established in the most crowded part of the fair, a large number of religious publications had been sold, and among others a tract he had written himself, explaining the inefficacy of these pilgrimages, and pointing to the true and only fountain for sin and for all uncleanness.

Committee of Correspondence, May 20th.—Bishop Suter being present, was introduced to the Committee, and gave interesting information on the present state of religion in New Zealand, and urged the importance of the Society's seeking out in that country Maori-speaking young men who would be suitable for their work.

Mr. A. H. Wright, of Allahabad, and Mr. W. Briggs, of Multan, were introduced to the Committee, and gave some account of Missionary work at their respective stations. Mr. Wright reported a large increase in the attendance at the Society's English School at Allahabad, and referred to its importance as regards the Native Christian community. Mr. Briggs described the work at Multan in the school and public preaching, and mentioned several interesting baptisms from the school.

Committee of Correspondence, May 27th.—The Secretaries reviewed the Mission fields of West and East Africa, North and West India, South India and Ceylon, with a view to the location of the students about to be ordained; and after full consideration the Committee designated Mr. H. Horsley to Tinnevely, Mr. G. F. Unwin to Ceylon, Mr. W. F. Dale to Nasik, Mr. W. B. Chancellor to North-India, and Mr. G. T. M. Grime to Jubbulpore, to be associated with the Rev. E. Champion.

Committee of Correspondence, June 3rd.—The Secretaries having pointed out the position of the open ports in Japan, of which Nagasaki was occupied by Mr. Burnside, and Kobi or Osaka about to be by Mr. Warren, recommended that Mr. Piper should proceed to Yeddo as the Secretary of the Society in Japan, and that the question be submitted to Bishop Russell whether Hakodadi, being described as a suitable sanatorium and affording the opportunity for access to the Ainos, an interesting aboriginal people, should not be occupied by Mr. Dening. The Committee resolved that the Rev. J. Piper be transferred to the Japan Mission, and be located at Yeddo as Secretary to the Mission, and that the question of Mr. Dening's location at Hakodadi be left to the judgment of Bishop Russell; and, further, that efforts be made to strengthen the Mission staff at Kobi, Yeddo, and Nagasaki, as soon as suitable men can be found.

The Committee, having considered the proposal of the Bishop of Auckland and the Society's Missionaries for training native candidates for the ministry at St. Stephen's School, Auckland, agreed to bear the expense of the preliminary training of a limited number of preparandi pupils, first under the experienced Missionary, and then at St. Stephen's School, where they would have the advantages offered by the kindness of Sir W. Martin, Archdeacon Maunsell, and others, only asking that before admission there, with a view to future employment, each candidate should appear before the Missionary Conference, and also be recommended by them for ordination. The Committee also agreed to continue the stipend of the master at St. Stephen's School as long as may be necessary.

THE INCORPORATED SOCIETY FOR PROMOTING THE ENLARGEMENT, BUILDING, AND REPAIRING OF CHURCHES AND CHAPELS.

THIS Society held its usual monthly meeting (the last but one for the session) on Monday, June 16th, at 7, Whitehall, S.W., the Lord Bishop of Winchester in the chair. There were also present the Hon. and Very Rev. the Dean of York, the Earl of Powis, the Revs. Arthur Cazenove, John Evans, G. Miller, and C. F. Norman, Messrs. John Boodle, Richard Foster, J. F. France, A. J. C. Lawrie, E. Pepys, E. Thornton, and Rev. G. Ainslie, M.A., Secretary.

Grants of money were made in aid of the following objects, viz.:—

Building new churches at South Easton, All Saints', near Middlesborough, and Walsall St. George.

Rebuilding the churches at Broughton-in-Furness, Lancashire; Bourton-on-the-Water, Gloucester; and Eltham (parish church), Kent.

Enlarging or otherwise increasing the accommodation in the churches at Ashmore, near Shaftesbury; Barton St. David, Somerset; Capelle-Ferne, near Folkestone; Healing, near Ulceby; Llandyssul, Cardigan; Michel Troy, near Monmouth; Panteg, near Pontypool; Plumstead, Norfolk, and Reddingfield, near Eye, Suffolk.

Under urgent circumstances the grants formerly made towards building St. Mark's Church, Walworth, Surrey; and towards enlarging and restoring the Priory Church at Dunstable, Beds; and towards reseating the churches at Botus Fleming, near Hatt, Cornwall; and Eynsford, near Dartford, Kent, were each increased.

Grants were also made from the School-church and Mission-house Fund towards building, &c., school or mission-churches at Acol, near Margate; Fishponds, near Bristol; Goose-green in the parish of Pemberton, Lancashire; Wardlow, in the parish of Tideswell, Derbyshire; and Woodcock's Well, in the parish of Odd Rode, Cheshire.

It is a matter for serious regret that, whilst the Society has voted in grants 4610*l.* during the past three months, the receipts from all sources have been but 465*l.* The Committee, therefore, earnestly hope that additional funds will be speedily and generously supplied.

LAW.

HOUSE OF LORDS.

MONDAY, JUNE 16.

(Present the LORD CHANCELLOR, Lord CHELMSFORD, and Lord COLONSAY.)

THE REV. JOHN ALLEN (PAUPER) v. THE BISHOP OF GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL AND OTHERS (IN ERROR).

THIS was an appeal from a judgment in the Court of Exchequer Chamber affirming the decision of the Court of Common Pleas.

Mr. Philbrick appeared for the plaintiff in error; Mr. Lopes, Q.C., and Mr. Ledgard for the defendants in error.

The action was one of quare impedit, and came before the court in the form of a special case, which set forth the following facts:—

The Church of the Holy Trinity, Hotwells, in the city of Bristol, in the diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, was built in 1839 under the provisions of an Act passed in the fifth of George IV. In 1866 Mr. John Fowler, believing that he was the only surviving person who had subscribed 50*l.* towards the erection of the church, and not being aware that Mr. Hillhouse, the surviving trustee, was then alive, called a meeting of such persons as had subscribed 50*l.* towards the church, and he being the only person attending such meeting, had appointed himself life-trustee in due form. In April, 1867, Mr. Hillhouse died, leaving Mr. Fowler the only surviving subscriber. In August, 1867, the incumbency of the church having become vacant, Mr. Fowler nominated and presented the plaintiff in error to the Bishop of Gloucester for his licence, which, however, the Bishop refused to grant. Mr. Fowler, having then learnt for the first time the fact that Mr. Hillhouse was alive at the time he had called the meeting, called another meeting, and again appointed himself life-trustee; but now the Right Rev. David Anderson, the Vicar of Clifton, had nominated and presented to the Bishop the Rev. Charles Wallace, whom the Bishop duly licensed. Mr. Fowler again nominated and presented the Rev. John Allen to the Bishop, but the latter again refused to accept him. The question for the opinion of the Court of Common Pleas was whether Mr. Fowler was entitled to present. The Court of Common Pleas decided that Mr. Fowler had no such right, and their judgment was affirmed by the Court of Exchequer Chamber.

Mr. Philbrick having argued the case on behalf of the Rev. John Allen,

Their Lordships, without calling upon the respondents to argue the case, dismissed the appeal with costs.

THE REV. LUMSDEN SHIRREFF DUDMAN v. VIGAR (IN ERROR).

This also was an appeal from a judgment of the Court of Exchequer Chamber affirming a decision of the Court of Common Pleas.

The sum in dispute was 3*l.* 16*s.* 3*d.*, which the Court below held that the appellant had wrongly distrained for as arrears of a corn-rent, which he alleged to be due to him as for a broken modus.

Their Lordships, without calling upon the respondent to argue the case, dismissed the appeal with costs.

LAMBETH PALACE.

MONDAY, JUNE 16.

LEE v. REV. C. J. RIDSDALE AND OTHERS.

(Before the ARCHBISHOP and DR. TRISTRAM, Commissary-General and Judge of the Consistorial Court of Canterbury.)

Judgment was given in this case, which related to certain ornaments called "Stations of the Cross," exhibited in St. Peter's Church, Folkestone, of which Mr. Ridsdale is the incumbent, and the other defendants the churchwardens.

Dr. A. J. Stephens, Q.C., and Mr. Walter Phillimore appeared for the churchwardens; Mr. Moore (Moore and Currey) attended as proctor for Mr. Lee, the promoter, the secretary to the Archbishop of Canterbury.

In 1870 a faculty or license was granted to remove the old altar of St. Peter's Church, Folkestone, and to erect a new one, and for other purposes. In July, 1872, his Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury issued a monition to the incumbent and churchwardens to remove the second altar and certain representations in the life of our Lord, called "Stations of the Cross," placed in the church. The removal of the pictures was opposed, and in March last a fresh monition was issued by the Archbishop, which, it was alleged by Mr. Brooks, on behalf of the defendants, was illegal; and an application was made on the 26th ult., in a Court held at Lambeth Palace, by the Commissary-General, when Dr. Stephens and Mr. Walter Phillimore applied, on the part of the churchwardens, that they should be dismissed from the suit, on the ground that the monition did not disclose that the promoter, Mr. Lee, had any interest in the proceedings, as it was maintained was necessary in a civil suit; and further, that his official capacity was not set forth on the proceedings. The point was argued, and the learned Judge took time to consider the propositions.

Dr. Tristram, in giving judgment, narrated the facts and the several proceedings, and referred to the application of Mr. Brooks, the proctor for the defendants, that the churchwardens might be dismissed from the suit on the ground that the monition was invalid, as it did not set forth that Mr. Lee, the promoter, had an interest in the proceedings. The Commissary-General cited various ecclesiastical authorities as to the two propositions which had been submitted to him. The first was that it was essential to the validity of a citation in a civil suit that it should appear that the party at whose instance it was issued had an interest in bringing the suit; secondly, that the present monition was, in fact, a civil suit, or so analogous to one that the same rule as to interest would apply. After alluding to the recent work by the Dean of Arches on Ecclesiastical Law, the Commissary-General said the defendants had, in his opinion, not made out their case to be dismissed from the suit, and he must, therefore, reject the application.

On the application of Mr. Brooks, leave was given to appeal to the Court of Arches on the part of the defendants.

PARLIAMENTARY INTELLIGENCE.

HOUSE OF LORDS.

THURSDAY, JUNE 12.

COLONIAL CHURCH BILL.

The following Select Committee on this Bill was nominated by their Lordships:—

The Archbishop of CANTERBURY, the Archbishop of YORK, the Marquis of SALISBURY, the Duke of ABERCORN, the Duke of BUCCLEUCH, the Earl of BELMORE, the Earl of CHICHESTER, Earl GREY, the Earl of HARROWBY, the Earl of KIMBERLEY, Viscount CANTERBURY, Viscount EVERSLY, the Bishop of WINCHESTER, the Bishop of LICHFIELD, Viscount MIDLETON, Lord CAIRNS, Lord HATHERLEY, Lord LISGAR, and Lord BLACKFORD.

MONDAY, JUNE 16.

THE SITES FOR PLACES OF RELIGIOUS WORSHIP BILL.

This Bill, which had for its object the giving to the Church of England and to all sects facilities to obtain sites for religious worship, passed through Committee.

Lord CAIRNS proposed numerous amendments, and they were accepted by Lord ROMILLY, who had charge of the Bill.

THE ESTABLISHMENT OF SCHOOL BOARDS.

Earl DELAWARE asked if it was the intention of her Majesty's Government to take any further steps relative to the establishment of School Boards, and especially with reference to making them compulsory. Much anxiety was felt upon the subject in consequence of a statement in the country of a noble Earl who represented the Government in that House. The statement was to the effect that School Boards would be constituted in every parish in England.

The Earl of MORLEY said the paragraph which he saw printed in the newspapers was attributed to him, and it had caused him as much astonishment as it had done the noble Lord. He merely gave expression to an individual opinion, to the effect that at some future time School Boards would be constituted in all places in England. He did not speak on behalf of the Government, for he had not the slightest notion of their intentions.

Viscount HALIFAX said that whatever uncertainty might have been experienced, it had now been put an end to by the statement made in the other House by the Vice-President of the Council.

There was no intention on the part of the Government to enforce School Boards.

TUESDAY, JUNE 17.

ADMISSION TO BENEFITS AND CHURCHWARDENSHIPS BILL.

On the motion of the Archbishop of York, who explained that its object was to abolish the expensive formalities attending inductions, this Bill was read a second time.

CHURCH OF SCOTLAND PATRONAGE.

The Earl of AIRLIE moved the following resolution:—"That whereas the presentation of ministers to churches in Scotland by patrons under the existing law and practice has been the cause of much division among the people and in the Church of Scotland, it is expedient that her Majesty's Government should take the whole subject into consideration with the view of legislating as to the appointment and settlement of ministers in the Church of Scotland." He did not propose to put forward a scheme of his own on the subject, for he thought that any measure dealing with the matter should be brought forth by the responsible Government; and he believed that the Church of Scotland would be strengthened if the people were allowed a considerable voice in the appointment of their religious ministers.

The Earl of ROSEBERRY supported the motion, as also did the Marquis of HUNTLY, the Earl of STAIR, and Lord NAPIER of ETTRICK.

The Earl of DALHOUSIE advised the Government to leave things as they are. There would be danger, in legislating on the subject of patronage, of raising a cry for disestablishment.

The Duke of RICHMOND said that though theoretically he thought popular election was not the best mode of appointing a minister for a parish, yet, looking at the question practically as regards Scotland, he was afraid he must come to a different conclusion. The General Assembly of the Church of Scotland had pronounced a decided opinion that patronage should no longer be upheld, and in many instances patronage had ceased to exist.

The Duke of ARGYLL had felt it his duty to declare that, since the General Assembly had come to the conclusion that patronage ought to be abolished, he individually would give up his patronage as soon as a satisfactory settlement of the question could be arrived at. With regard to the action of the Government, he did not think it was their duty to undertake any measure on the subject until they could see their way pretty clearly to a proper solution. He trusted the House would not now be asked to pronounce an opinion on an abstract resolution.

THURSDAY, JUNE 19.

AGRICULTURAL CHILDREN BILL.

In Committee on this Bill it was agreed, on the motion of Lord HENNIKER, to substitute the age of 12 for 13 as the limit at which children working in the fields should be compelled to attend school.

SITES FOR PLACES OF RELIGIOUS WORSHIP.

On the motion that this Bill do now pass,

The Marquis of SALISBURY moved several amendments, the principal of which was to extend the operation of the Bill to Ireland.

Lord HATHERLEY, on behalf of Lord ROMILLY, assented to all the amendments except the one which proposed to extend the Bill to Ireland. That was an entirely new proposition, and to bring it forward now on the last stage of the measure was not judicious. He believed that this amendment would endanger the passage of the Bill.

The Marquis of SALISBURY did not wish to press this amendment in opposition to the noble and learned Lord, although he did not see that there would be any objection to or difficulty in applying the Bill to Ireland.

The amendment relating to Ireland was withdrawn, and the other amendments agreed to nem. con.

The Bill then passed.

THURSDAY, JUNE 26.

PUBLIC WORSHIP FACILITIES BILL.

The Earl of CARNARVON moved the second reading of this Bill, and explained that it provided that the Bishop should have power, on the application of twenty-five inhabitants, to license any building for divine worship, and also to license private chapels.

The Earl of SHAFTESBURY moved the rejection of the Bill, on the ground that it was mischievous in principle, and might be dangerous in practice. It would, the noble Earl contended, impair the integrity and independence of the parochial system, and bring discredit upon the Church by leading to squabbles among the different parties in the Church. He was prepared to support a wide measure of Church reform, with a view to place its government under better supervision and control.

The Archbishop of CANTERBURY said his noble friend appeared to think that this Bill emanated from the bench of bishops, but it did not originate there. It had been before the clergy and the laity for a long time, and, so far as his experience went, there had been no manifestation out of doors, nor any petitions to either House against it. The Bill having passed through the other House, the question was whether it should be supported by their Lordships. No doubt the measure was capable of a great deal of amendment, as the noble earl opposite had shown, but there was some good in it, and therefore he was ready to vote for the second reading. This was not a party theological question; it was a perfectly impartial Bill, and referred to no one party in the Church. As to the parochial system, it should be remembered that parishes could be subdivided again and again, though incumbents should be opposed to such a course. He saw no objection to the laity having a voice in the appointment of their minister. What had been said during the debate reminded him of what had been stated over and over again in connexion with the two seceding religious bodies of Scotland. That was, that any effort at an extension of the Established Church in Scotland would lead to its destruction.

The Bishop of LLANDAFF could say, from a long practical experience, that it was absolutely necessary greater facilities should be given for bringing the Church of England practically before the public. Under the existing system it was impossible for the members of the Church to do what they might do. Believing that this Bill would not injure episcopal power, and would give greater facilities for Church progress, he hoped that their Lordships would give it a second reading.

Lord DYNEVOR, as a minister of the Church of forty-five years' standing, believed that the effect of the passing of such a measure would be to create strife in every parish, and that it would prove an impediment to religion more than anything else.

Their Lordships divided—

For the second reading .. .. .	52
Against .. .. .	68

Majority against .. .. .	16
--------------------------	----

The Bill was consequently rejected.

CANONRIES BILL.

This Bill passed through Committee.

ADMISSION TO BENEFICES AND CHURCH-WARDENSHIP, &amp;c. BILL.

This Bill passed through Committee, with some amendments introduced by the Archbishop of YORK. A proposition that the salaries of Archdeacons, which would be injuriously affected by the abolition of fees under the Bill, should be, in every case in which it was found necessary, made up to 200l. a year out of the common fund of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners, gave rise to a good deal of comment; but the matter was not pressed to a vote.

TUESDAY, JULY 1.

TITHE COMMUTATION ACTS AMENDMENT BILL.

Earl FORTESCUE moved the second reading of this Bill, which, he stated, had been approved by a Select Committee of the House of Commons. It had been occasioned by the attempt in seven cases to increase the tithe rent-charge for land newly cultivated as market-gardens, an attempt which had been viewed with much odium and apprehension, while it had been attended with very slight advantage to the tithe-owners compared with the costs of the litigation it had involved.

The Duke of RICHMOND suggested the postponement of the Committee until the report and evidence of the Commons' Committee had been communicated to this House, in order that their Lordships might judge whether the Bill was a proper one.

The Lord CHANCELLOR thought the Bill, if requisite in the case of market-gardens, should be extended to hop-gardens, which stood in the same position as regarded re-assessment of tithe.

The Archbishop of CANTERBURY remarked that there was no difficulty in knowing what was a hop-garden; whereas there was much difficulty, as regarded farms in the vicinity of the metropolis and large towns where vegetables, &c., were grown, in determining whether they were fields or market-gardens.

Earl FORTESCUE confirmed the statement of the most rev. Prelate, and agreed to postpone the Committee as suggested.

The Bill was then read a second time.

CANONRIES BILL.

This Bill was read a third time and passed.

ADMISSION TO BENEFICES AND CHURCH-WARDENSHIP, &amp;c. BILL.

This Bill was read a third time and passed.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

THURSDAY, JUNE 12.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION.

Mr. W. E. FORSTER brought in his Bill for the amendment of the Education Act, and gave two reasons for seeking to legislate again so soon after the passing of the original Act, the necessity of finally settling the mode of electing School Boards, and the proved expediency of making certain administrative changes. No alteration in the general principles of the original Act was contemplated, and in proof that it had so far worked successfully he asserted that within a short time there would be a school within the reach of every child in the country, and that by August next a million and a half of children would be at school. The principal provisions of the Bill are the repeal of Denison's Act and the 25th clause of the Education Act, or rather the substitution for them of other enactments. In the place of the first it provides that where Poor Law relief is given to any parent or child, free elementary education in reading, writing, or arithmetic shall be considered part of the relief; and in place of the 25th Clause, there is to be a provision that if any parent, not being a pauper, satisfies the guardians that he cannot comply with the compulsory laws by reason of his poverty, the guardians shall make him such an allowance as will enable him to pay the school fees, without restriction on his choice of a school, this allowance not to exceed a farthing for each attendance. Election by ballot is made universal for all School Boards, and there are some other provisions of an administrative character.

Mr. DIXON and Mr. H. RICHARD having expressed their bitter disappointment, and Mr. GOLDNEY having congratulated Mr. Forster on being guided by results and not by theories,

The Bill was read a first time.

MONDAY, JUNE 16.

THE DISESTABLISHMENT OF THE CHURCH IN THE MAURITIUS.

In reply to a question by Major ARBUTHNOT with respect to the resistance in the Legislative Council to the Mauritius to the proposed disestablishment and disendowment scheme propounded by the Colonial Office,

Mr. KNATCHBULL-HUGHES said that directions had been given to defer any proceeding on the subject till the views of the colony had been carefully considered.

TUESDAY, JUNE 17.

CHURCH OF SCOTLAND PATRONAGE.

There was a debate this evening on Scotch Ecclesiastical Patronage similar to that which occurred in the House of Lords a few hours before.

Sir ROBERT ANSTRUTHER maintained that the genius of Presbyterianism had always been that the people should elect their own ministers. The presentation of ministers to churches in Scotland by patrons under the existing law and practice had been the cause of much division among the people and in the Church; and he moved that it is expedient that the Government should take the whole subject into its consideration, with a view to legislation.

Mr. McLAREN opposed the resolution as vague and unmeaning, and suggesting no plan for attaining the object.

Mr. C. DALRYMPLE supported the motion; and

Mr. CRAWFORD, thinking the time not ripe for entertaining the subject, moved the previous question.

Sir GEORGE BALFOUR, Mr. ORR EWING, and Mr. MACPHE spoke in favour of the abolition of patronage.

Mr. GLADSTONE regarded this as a preliminary discussion, which, at the present moment, could not be brought to any practical conclusion. It was inexpedient for the House to bind itself beforehand by an abstract resolution. He suggested that Sir R. Anstruther should withdraw his motion, and that there should be a parliamentary inquiry next year into the subject.

Mr. GORDON and Sir E. COLEBROOKE made some observations, and the motion and the amendment were both withdrawn.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 18.

CLERICAL JUSTICES' DISQUALIFICATION.

Leave was given to Mr. H. PALMER to bring in a bill to disqualify clerks in Holy Orders from acting as justices of the peace while having the cure of souls, and to amend the qualification required for justices of the peace.

FRIDAY, JUNE 20.

TITHE COMMUTATION ACTS AMENDMENT BILL.

On the motion that this Bill be read a third time, Mr. J. G. TALBOT said he would not move the amendment of which he had given notice, as he hoped the other House would deal with this Bill (which proposed to rob the Church of a part of its property) as it deserved.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 2.

MONASTIC AND CONVENTUAL INSTITUTIONS BILL.

Mr. NEWGATE moved the second reading of this Bill, which was supported by Mr. WHALLEY, Mr. GREENE and Mr. HOLT, and was opposed by Mr. FRASE, Mr. H. MATTHEWS, Mr. DOWNING, Mr. MUNSTER, Mr. J. MARTIN, and Mr. SERJEANT SHERLOCK.

On a division the Bill was rejected by 131 to 96—Majority 35.

PAYMENT OF PROCURATIONS.

To the Editor of the "Ecclesiastical Gazette."

SIR,—I have no desire to continue a correspondence on "the disagreeable subject of Visitation Fees to Bishops and Archdeacons," commenced by the Rev. W. L. Barnes and supplemented by "An Archdeacon."

My letter which you were good enough to insert in your number for May, p. 158, had reference to "Procurations" payable to Archdeacons.

The right of an Archdeacon to his Procurations in the years when he did not visit was discussed by Burn, who said, "Procurations are rated in the Valuations of King Henry VIII. as part of the revenues of every Archdeacon, who therefore pays a certain annual tenth for them, and the law could never intend the payment of the tenth every year if there had been any year in which the Archdeacon was not to receive the nine parts." Dr. Gibson also said that the case was too clear for argument.

I think I shall be rendering a service to "An Archdeacon," as well as to the Clergy at large, by printing and circulating the Judgment of the late Chancellor Evans, in the suit instituted in the Consistory Court of Norwich by the late Archdeacon of Norfolk against Mr. Barnes for the Recovery of "Procurations." It will then be seen that Mr. Barnes was beyond all doubt well advised in not appealing.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,
HENRY HANSELL,
Registrar,
Norfolk Archdeaconry.

CORPUS CHRISTI COLLEGE.

Mr. Charles Plummer has been elected to the vacant Fellowship of this college. Mr. Plummer was placed in the first class by the Classical Moderators in Trinity Term, 1871, and in the same place by the Examiners in the Final Classical School this Term.

WORCESTER COLLEGE.

Mr. Robb, Exhibitor of this college, has been elected to a Scholarship in the same society on the foundation of St. I. Cooke, open for this turn.

KEBLE COLLEGE.

The following elections have been announced at this college:—To a Classical Scholarship.—Mr. W. Douglas, from Marlborough school. Proxime accessit.—Mr. O. H. Sanctuary, Exhibitor of Keble college. To a Mathematical Scholarship.—Mr. A. S. Lister, from Wolverhampton school. The scholarships are of the annual value of 60*l.*, and are tenable for four years. To the Isaac Williams' Exhibition (Classical).—Value 40*l.* per annum for four years, to be increased annually if the holder prove deserving.—Mr. W. P. Herringham, from Winchester School. Proxime accessit.—Mr. J. E. Keble, Lancing School. To the Exhibition, value 25*l.* per annum, open to candidates whom the electors shall have ascertained to be in need of support at the University.—Mr. G. H. Perry, formerly of Marlborough School. There were forty candidates.

The following notice has been sent to the Vice Chancellor:—"We, the undersigned, the electors to the Hebrew Scholarships, beg to announce to you that we have elected the Rev. George W. Collins, B.A., Keble College, Kennicott Scholar; and that we have made no election on the Pusey and Ellerton Foundation.—Signed, E. B. Pusey, T. Chenery, and J. W. Nutt." There were seven candidates for these scholarships. Mr. Collins gained the Pusey and Ellerton Scholarship last year.

The Chancellor's Prize for an English Essay has been awarded to Mr. Andrew Goldie Wood, B.A., Scholar of Pembroke college.

The Newdigate Prize for an English Poem has been awarded to Mr. Cecil Moore, commoner of Exeter college.

The Stanhope Prize for an English Essay has been awarded to William George Waters, Fellow Commoner of Worcester college. The Examiners think the following worthy of honourable mention:—Francis Grenville Chomondeley, of Christ Church; Arthur John Evans, of Brasenose college; and Philip Lyttleton Gell, of Balliol college. This subject for 1874 will be "The Portuguese in the East."

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE.

The examination for the Stowell Civil Law Fellowship will commence on Thursday, October 16. The subjects of the examination will be the Roman and English Law, historically and scientifically treated, together with an essay and general questions. Candidates must have passed all the examinations required by the University of Oxford for the degree of B.A., and must not have completed the twenty-eighth term from that of their matriculation inclusive. Neither marriage nor property is a disqualification for being elected to or continuing to hold this bye-Fellowship. It is tenable for seven years, and of the annual value of about 120*l.* The successful candidate will be required to take the degree of B.C.L. as soon as the statutes of the University allow, and will also be required to enter at one of the Inns of Court within twelve calendar months, and to be called to the bar within four years from his election.

TRINITY COLLEGE.

At the Fellowship examination in 1874, a Fellowship will be obtainable by adequate proficiency in Natural Science. The examination, which will take place in the end of September or beginning of October, will be chiefly in Chemistry, Physics, and Biology, and in the subjects of any papers that may have been sent in. Candidates are invited to send in to the examiners (care of Mr. Trotter), on or before the 15th of May, 1874, any papers which they may have published containing original observations or discussions of scientific questions, or any similar matter in manuscript. The papers may be on any branch of Natural Science which is not strictly medical. They must be accompanied by a statement as to what portions of the matter are claimed as original, and of the sources from which the rest is derived, so far as they are not explicitly stated in the paper itself. Candidates will be liable to be examined in the subjects of their papers, and in matters connected with them, or in the branches of science to which they refer. This fellowship will be open to all Bachelors of Arts, Bachelors of Law, and Bachelors of Medicine of the University, whose standing after their first degree does not exceed three years. Candidates who are not members of the college must send their names to the Master of the college on or before the 15th of September, accompanied by certificates of good character. Further information will be supplied on application to the Rev. Couthe Trotter, tutor of the college.

THE CAIUS GREEK TESTAMENT PRIZE FOR BACHELORS.

The Examination for this Prize will commence in the Arts' School on Saturday, the 11th of October, at nine o'clock a.m. The Examiners are Mr. R. Burn, of Trinity college, and Mr. Josling, of Christ's college.

Candidates must send in their names to the Examiners (under cover to Mr. Burn) on or before Wednesday, the 1st of October.

The Prize is open for competition to all students, who, having been admitted by inauguration to the degree of Bachelor in Arts or Law, are not of sufficient standing to be created Masters of Arts or Law; and to Students in Medicine of not more than seven years' standing from matriculation, who shall have passed all the examinations for the degree of Bachelor in Medicine.

THEOLOGICAL EXAMINATION.

The next Theological Examination will begin on Tuesday, October 7, 1873, at nine a.m.

The names of candidates must be sent to the Praelectors of their several colleges not later than Thursday, September 18. Letters should be addressed to "The Praelector of — College," with "Theological Examination" written on the envelope, and should specify the Divinity Lectures which have been attended, with the year and the term.

CONGREGATIONS.

The Vice-Chancellor has given notice that there will be Congregations on the following days of the Michaelmas Term:—

Wednesday, October 1, at ten (not for degrees).

Thursday, November 13, at two.
Thursday, November 20, at two.
Thursday, December 4, at two.
Saturday, December 13, at twelve.

LIGHTFOOT SCHOLARSHIPS.

The selected subjects chosen for the examination to be held in the Easter Term, 1874, are—

"The Lives of Constantine the Great, Edward I., and Joseph II."

Candidates are expected to study these lives in the original authorities, and to pay particular attention to the legislation of the several reigns.

[THE ORDINATIONS are unavoidably postponed till our next Number.]

MISCELLANEOUS INTELLIGENCE.

Reply of the Archbishops of Canterbury and York to the Memorial with 60,200 signatures, against Romish Teaching in the Church of England, presented to them at Lambeth Palace on the 5th of May, 1873, by the Church Association.

Lambeth Palace, 16th June, 1873.

DEAR SIR,—We have carefully considered the Memorial which you presented to us at Lambeth early in last month, and to which upwards of 60,000 signatures were appended. When we had the honour of receiving you and the deputation over which you presided, we promised to take an opportunity of forwarding to you, in writing, a more careful answer than could conveniently be given in a conversational form at our interview. We have been prevented by our many and pressing public duties, and by absence from London, from meeting together to fulfil this promise till now.

There can be no doubt that the danger you apprehend of a considerable minority both of Clergy and Laity amongst us desiring to subvert the principles of the Reformation is real; and it is not unnatural that you should appeal to us for counsel and support. Since we had the honour of receiving your deputation, our attention has been directed to a Petition presented by upwards of 400 clergymen to the Convocation of the Province of Canterbury in favour of what they designate as Sacramental Confession. We believe that through the system of the Confessional great evil has been wrought in the Church of Rome, and that our Reformers acted wisely in allowing it no place in our Reformed Church, and we take this opportunity of expressing our entire disapproval of any such innovation, and our firm determination to do all in our power to discourage it. We feel justified in appealing to all reasonable men to consider whether the very existence of our national institutions for the maintenance of religion is not imperilled by the evils of which you complain.

In your Memorial, you ask us: first, whether we are ready "to exercise all the authority vested in us for the entire suppression of ceremonies and practices adjudged to be illegal; and, in the event of that authority proving insufficient, to afford all other needful facilities for the due enforcement of the law." We answer that we can have no doubt that it is our bounden duty to use our best endeavours to see that the law is obeyed, and to afford all needful facilities for its enforcement, when we are duly called upon so to do.

Secondly, you appeal to us "to take especial care" to guard against such "architectural arrangements and ornaments in our churches as may facilitate the introduction of superstitious practices and erroneous doctrines." We answer that in the administration of our dioceses we have ever been watchful on this point.

Thirdly, you ask us, in the admission of Candidates for Holy Orders, and, in other ways, to be careful lest persons be entrusted with the ministerial office who teach doctrine subversive of those "truths to which our Protestant Church, as keeper and witness of Holy Writ, has ever borne its faithful testimony." We answer that we consider ourselves bound to this duty by our consecration vows.

While, however, we return these answers, we desire that there shall be no misapprehension as to our meaning, and we wish to state to you that we do not consider it to be the duty of the Bishops to undertake judicial proceedings upon every complaint of a violation of the rubrics, or upon every charge of unsound doctrine that may be laid before them; obviously it cannot be desirable that the Church should be harassed by the Bishops being dragged into an unlimited number of judicial investigations founded upon charges and counter-charges made by contending theological parties against their opponents, on the ground of alleged excess or defect in conforming to the ritual and preaching the doctrine of the Church. Episcopal government exists amongst us, charged with the grave responsibility of seeing that the undoubted law of the Church is observed, and, at the same time, of saving the Church, by the exercise of a wise discretion, from being plunged into endless unseemly contests. It will be generally admitted by Churchmen that a prosecution respecting doctrine or ritual is in itself an evil, even where it is necessary; and the Bishops are bound in each case to consider the whole of the circumstances, before they resort to their Courts to procure obedience to the law.

With regard to the particular matters of ceremonial and doctrine to which you direct our attention, we wish we saw a readiness everywhere manifested on the part of the Laity to use all the legitimate authority which is vested in them through the election of Churchwardens, and all their personal influence to check the growth of Romanizing tendencies. The Laity in many parishes possess a power more effectual than any dread of prosecution of preventing improper changes in ritual and extravagance in doctrine; and we must add that they occasionally show a great reluctance to use their power. Sometimes the Churchwardens and the Laity generally, who frequent such churches as you allude to, connive at or openly support the illegal practices of which you complain;—sometimes, when disapproving of these practices, the parishioners still wish to throw all responsibility of opposition on others, appearing to think that they have done enough when they have manifested their discontent and shrinking from all further action. You will, we think, agree with us that the desire of the Bishops to maintain the purity of the Church must be greatly impeded where they cannot reckon upon the hearty and effectual co-operation of those laymen whose interests are most intimately involved in the cases brought before them. The Bishops, we feel sure, will never be found wanting in the desire to act with the attached Laity of our Church in maintaining the real principles of the Reformation.

Finally, we cannot conclude without expressing to you our conviction that, however much may be effected by the legitimate exercise of authority, still, in a Protestant Church like ours, it is far more by kindly personal influence in our several families and neighbourhoods, by sound arguments, and appeals to the loyalty of those who are in danger of falling into error, rather than by judicial acts of authoritative interference, that the tendencies of which you justly complain can be met.

We live in an age when all opinions and beliefs are keenly criticized, and when there is less inclination than there ever was before to respect authority in matters of opinion. In every state, in every religious community, almost in every family, the effects of this unsettled condition may be traced. The evils of this kind which meet us on every side, are by no means restricted to such as your Petition has brought prominently before us. It is an open question whether the tendencies to superstition or to infidelity, or those old tendencies of unregenerate human nature to a dull and heartless indifference, which, more than either superstition or unbelief, leave the heart open to the assaults of immorality, are most to be deprecated. But we rejoice to trace many hopeful signs in the Church of which we are ministers, and to note an increase of religious life in the whole nation. We are not surprised that amongst ourselves, as in the other religious bodies, zeal should in many instances be indiscreet, and the doctrines and customs of pure Christianity be liable to be forgotten amidst the din of controversy; but we think we have good reason to be hopeful for the future from the remembrance of the history of the past, and knowing how public opinion in churches, as in states, ebbs and flows, and how God directs all for the accomplishment of His holy purposes, we assure you that, in the midst of many difficulties, we look forward hopefully both for our own Church and all other Christian communions, knowing that God, if we faithfully serve Him, is ready to defend His truth against superstition, against infidelity, and against worldliness.

We remain, dear Sir, your faithful servants,
(Signed) A. C. CANTUARI.
W. EBOR.

Corporation of the Sons of the Clergy.—The Governors of this Corporation held meetings at their house, 2, Bloomsbury-place, W.C., in May and June. The attendances included the Archbishop of Canterbury, President; Lord Chelmsford, Vice-President; Rev. Dr. Vivian, Mr. Pownall, and Sir Thomas Tilsen, the Treasurers; the Earl of Powis, the Bishops of Winchester, Ripon, and Ely; Archdeacon Jennings, Revs. Dr. Curry, George Ainslie, Daniel Moore; Mr. Kenyon, Q.C., Mr. Alderman Finnis, and Messrs. Cazenove, Lewis Loyd, W. Bayne Ranken, and Edmund Pepys.

In May the Governors partly filled up the vacancies which had occurred on the pension list during the past year, electing thirty-three widows and aged single daughters of deceased clergymen to pensions of 20l. At the same time the sum of 740l. was distributed among ninety unsuccessful candidates, according to the merits and necessities of the several cases.

In June the main object of the meeting was to distribute the usual midsummer benefactions to clergymen with small means resident in England or Wales, and in urgent need from the expenses of large families or severe illness, or other unavoidable cause. After careful consideration of numerous applications, 125 clergymen were selected for grants, and the total sum of 1969l. was awarded to them.

The sum of 885l. was granted at these meetings for educating and placing out in life fifty-one clergy children. The applications from the dioceses of Sodor and Man were 2; Ely 4; Canterbury and Hereford 7 each; Chichester, Manchester, Peterborough, and St. Asaph, 8 each; Carlisle 9; Bangor and Durham 10 each; Chester and Gloucester and Bristol 11 each; Lichfield 12; Ripon and Rochester 14 each; Exeter, Salisbury, Winchester, Worcester, and York, 15 each; Lincoln, London, and Oxford, 16 each; Llandaff 17; and St. David's 24.

Consecration of the Bishop of Barbados.—The consecration of the Rev. Dr. Mitchinson, head master of the King's School, as Bishop of Barbados, took place on St. John Baptist's Day, at Canterbury Cathedral. The Archbishop of Canterbury, the Bishop of London, the Bishop of Lichfield, the Bishop Suffragan of Dover, and the ex-Bishop of the Mauritius (Dr. Ryan) took part in the ceremony. The Bishop-elect was presented for consecration by the Bishop of London and the Bishop Suffragan of Dover. The sermon was preached by the Rev. A. S. Farrar, D.D., Professor of Divinity, and subwarden of the University of Durham. The offertory was devoted to the service of the church at Barbados.

PROVINCIAL.

Peterborough Diocesan Conference.—Church Patronage.—At the recent Meeting of the Peterborough Diocesan Conference a discussion took place on the subject of Church patronage, and a resolution was adopted to the effect that a reform in Church patronage was desirable in the following particulars:—First, that the law should concede to the parishioners the right of appeal to a diocesan tribunal against certain appointments and benefices which are at present possible; secondly, that the law of simony should be revised; and, thirdly, that sales by auction of advowsons and nominations to benefices should be forbidden.

ECCLESIASTICAL NOTICES.

The Archbishop of Canterbury will hold his next General Ordination on Sunday, the 21st day of September.

The Bishop of London's next Ordination will be held on Sunday, December 21st. Candidates, when accepted by the Bishop, are to send their papers, with their addresses, one month before the day of Ordination, to his Lordship's Secretary, John B. Lee, Esq., 2, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, S.W. The Bishop requires all Candidates for Deacons' Orders to communicate in the first instance with his Lordship, and he will arrange for a personal interview.

The Bishop of Durham purposes holding his next Ordination on Sunday, December 21st. His Lordship requires from all Candidates for Holy Orders sufficient notice of their intention to present themselves for Ordination. Candidates from the University of Cambridge must produce a Certificate of having passed the Voluntary Theological Examination or the Theological School; those from Oxford, the Certificate of having attended the Divinity Lectures; those from Dublin, the Divinity Testimonium; and those from Durham, not being Graduates, the Licence in Theology. All the necessary papers must be sent, six weeks before the day of Ordination, to his Lordship's Secretary, John B. Lee, Esq., 2, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, S.W.

The Bishop of St. David's intends to hold a General Ordination on Sunday, the 21st day of September next.

The Bishop of Llandaff intends to hold his next General Ordination in the Cathedral Church of Llandaff on Sunday, the 21st day of September next.

The Bishop of Ripon intends to hold an Ordination on Sunday, the 21st September next.

The Bishop of Norwich purposes to hold an Ordination on the Sunday after each Ember Week. Candidates for Deacons' or for Priests' Orders are requested to inform the Bishop as soon as possible, and not less than three months before the time, of their intention to offer themselves for Ordination. Full instructions will then be forwarded.

The Bishop of Worcester holds an Ordination at each of the four Ember Seasons in every year. He wishes to have three months' notice from all Candidates for Deacons' Orders. Papers to be forwarded to the Bishop's Secretary, Alfred Hooper, Esq., Worcester, one month before the Ordination.

The Bishop of Ely purposes holding his next Ordination on September 21st.

The Bishop of Chester purposes holding his next Ordination on Sunday, September 21st.

The Bishop of Rochester purposes to hold an Ordination at each of the four Ember Seasons. Persons desirous of being admitted as Candidates may obtain a paper of instructions upon writing to the Bishop's Secretaries, Messrs. Day and Hassard, 28, Great George-street, Westminster, S.W.

The Bishop of Lichfield will hold his next Ordination on Sunday, September 21st.

The Bishop of Hereford holds an Ordination (if necessary) at each of the four Ember Seasons in every year. Persons desirous of becoming Candidates are requested to communicate with the Bishop three months before each Ordination, and will receive full instructions as to the necessary papers on application to Mr. H. C. Beddoe, the Bishop's Secretary, The Close, Hereford.

The Bishop of Peterborough purposes holding his next Ordination on Sunday, the 21st December. Every Candidate for Deacons' or Priests' Orders in the diocese should write to the Bishop (at least three months previous to the Ordination) for permission to present himself for examination, stating his age, academic degree, and his then present residence. In the case of a Candidate for Deacons' Orders this application must be accompanied by a reference to three Clergymen to whom the Bishop may apply for information respecting him. The Bishop will appoint a personal interview, which is absolutely necessary. Candidates when accepted by his Lordship may obtain full instructions as to the necessary papers on application to the Diocesan Secretary, H. P. Gates, Esq., Peterborough, to whom they should be sent at least one month previous to Ordination.

The Bishop of Lincoln purposes holding Ordinations at Michaelmas and Christmas. Graduates of Oxford must have attended the Theological Lectures. Graduates of Cambridge must have passed the Voluntary Theological Examination. Graduates of Dublin must produce the Divinity Testimonium. The Bishop requires a personal interview with himself, or with one of his Examining Chaplains, Rev. Prebendary Benson, D.D., Wellington College, Wokingham, or to the Rev. Prebendary Wordsworth, Brasenose College, Oxford. For information with regard to the Examination, application is to be made to the Bishop's Secretary, Wm. Moss, Esq., Old Palace, Lincoln.

The Bishop of Salisbury purposes to hold an Ordination on Sunday, September 21st.

The Bishop of Exeter purposes holding his next Ordination on Sunday, the 21st day of September. Candidates must send in their papers, at least one month before the Ordination, to his Lordship's Secretary, Arthur Burch, Esq., Exeter.

The Bishop of Bath and Wells purposes to hold an Ordination on Sunday, the 21st day of December next. His Lordship requires from all Candidates for Priests' or Deacons' Orders at least three months' notice of their intention to offer themselves for Ordination, and also a personal interview with himself or one of his Examining Chaplains. It is not necessary that Candidates should be provided with a Title at the time of giving notice. Graduates of Oxford must produce a Certificate of having attended the Public Lectures of the Regius Professor of Divinity; those of Cambridge, the Certificate of having passed the Voluntary Theological Examination; and those of Trinity College, Dublin, the Divinity Testimonium. Full instructions can be obtained from his Lordship's Secretary, Henry Bernard, Esq., Wells, Somerset, to whom all papers must be forwarded at least one month before the day of Ordination.

The Bishop of Oxford intends to hold an Ordination in the Parish Church of Cuddesdon on Sunday, the 21st of September, and in Christ Church Cathedral, Oxford, on Sunday, the 21st of December. A paper of instructions to Candidates may be obtained by letter to the Bishop's Secretary, John M. Davenport, Esq., Oxford, to whom the requisite documents must be transmitted one month before the day of Ordination. Candidates for Deacons' Orders are required to communicate with the Bishop six months before the Ordination at which they desire to present themselves, and to obtain his consent.

The Bishop of St. Asaph will hold a General Ordination in his Cathedral in September next (Ember Sunday). Candidates to send in their papers to the Bishop's Secretary, Diocesan Registry, St. Asaph.

3. The Secretary stated that in accordance with the resolution passed at the last Meeting, the Special Committee then appointed had drawn up an address to H.M. the Shah of Persia, which was presented by a Deputation, praying that full and legal toleration might be accorded to the profession of Christianity in Persia, and that such address had been acknowledged by the Persian Minister.

On the motion of the Rev. T. Darling, it was resolved:—"That the Committee on Persian Affairs be requested to continue their services for observation and inquiry as to the condition of religionists in Persia, and to report to the Board."

4. The Rev. W. D. MacLagan was elected a member of the Standing Committee.

5. The Rev. B. M. Stewart, M.A., of Worcester College, Oxford, was appointed to the office of Principal of Bishop's College, Calcutta; and it was further resolved:—"That the Secretary be instructed to lay before the Society, at least twice a year, a statement of the number of natives under instruction within the grounds of Bishop's College, with a view to their becoming Pastors, Catechists, Readers, and Schoolmasters in the Missions."

6. Resolved, that (subject to the approval of the Society's solicitors) the Seal of the Society be affixed to a deed of gift of a site at Pegli, near Genoa, on which it was proposed to build a church, and to a deed for the administration of certain moneys given by Miss Mackenzie for the benefit of the Zululand Mission.

7. The Secretary read letters from Rev. Dr. Callaway, April 3 and May, detailing the many openings for fresh work which present themselves in Africa, and announcing his return to England for consecration by the Bishops of Scotland as Missionary Bishop in Independent Kaffraria. Also from the Bishop of Melbourne, April 17, describing the work of the Rev. W. Hall, and the need of a clergyman for a mining population at Kingower.

8. The Secretary stated that the Rev. S. Arnott had requested that he might be allowed to defer the motion of which he had given notice to the meeting in October.

The Rev. T. Darling moved, and it was resolved:—"That the Standing Committee be requested to enter into communication with Mr. Murray, with the view of obtaining from him permission to circulate, at a reduced price, Sir B. Frere's tractate entitled 'Indian Missions.'"

10. The Rev. W. Blunt called attention, pursuant to notice, to certain mistakes alleged to have been made with regard to the election of certain members.

11. Permission was given to the Standing Committee to transact business of importance during the recess.

12. All the members proposed in May were elected.

13. Twelve members will be proposed for election at the Meeting in November.

CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

SELECTIONS FROM

THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE COMMITTEE.

General Committee, June 9th.—Mr. Jani Ali, a convert from Mohammedanism, and brought to the knowledge of the truth in the school of the late Rev. R. Noble, was introduced to the Committee. He had been employed of late years in the Government Department of Public Works at Aurangabad, in Western India, and he gave some account of the work carried on there by the Church Missionary Society's agent, the Rev. Ruttonji Nowroji, and also of his own connexion with the Society at Masulipatam after his baptism, when he was employed for a short time in the late Mr. Noble's school.

Committee of Correspondence, June 17th.—A letter having been read from the Rev. J. F. Schön, dated June 11, stating that the Epistles of St. Paul from Thessalonians to Philemon, translated into Mendi by the Rev. H. Johnson, were ready for the press, the British and Foreign Bible Society were requested to print an edition of 1000 copies, under the superintendence of the Rev. J. F. Schön.

Committee of Correspondence, June 24th.—The Secretaries reported that urgent representations had been received from friends of the Society that, as the Shah of Persia had received deputations from the Anti-Slavery and other Societies, the opportunity afforded by the Shah's presence in this country should be availed of by the Society for the purpose of presenting a memorial to his Majesty on the subject of religious liberty in the Persian empire. The Secretaries were accordingly directed to prepare such a memorial to the Shah of Persia, to be signed by the President and Secretaries on behalf of the Society, and to obtain the signatures of the representatives of such other religious societies as might wish to join in the memorial, and of such influential friends of the Society and of religious liberty as might wish to concur in the movement.

Sir Bartle Frere, being present, was introduced to the Committee, and the Honorary Clerical Secretary having, in the name of the Committee, thanked him for the valuable information furnished by him respecting the stations of Mombas and Kisulidini, and congratulated him on the result of his Mission to Zanzibar, conversation was then had with Sir B. Frere respecting the prospect there now was of carrying out the wishes and hopes of the Committee with regard to extended Mission work in connexion with the hoped-for suppression of the Slave Trade. Sir B. Frere considered that in the existing Missionary establishment on the coast there was a sufficient germ for the establishment of centres for teaching and Christianizing the liberated slaves, and that this could be better done by voluntary agency, such as that of religious societies, than by the Government; that he thought that the Government would be ready to allow any Missionary body competent for that purpose to select at Zanzibar any number of the liberated slaves, who would then be transported to the settlement occupied by the Mission; and the Government would provide for the maintenance of those unable to earn a living and also, in the case of adults, supply means for starting them in some occupation at the settlement. That with regard to the question of protection, Sir B. Frere considered that the fact of their having been liberated by British authority would be sufficient to ensure this, and that sufficient land could be obtained around Mombas from the Sultan of Zanzibar for the formation of such a settlement. Sir Bartle Frere considered that such a station would form the basis for future extension, both among the tribes to the south and west of Mombas and Kisulidini, and also of ultimate extension in the direction of the discoveries of Dr. Livingstone. Sir B. Frere advised that there should be transferred to the Mission at Mombas a sufficient number of the liberated Africans from Nasik, in Bombay, who might assist the Missionaries in charge in the conduct of the settlement. A discussion having ensued, and the Secretaries having referred to the appointment of the Rev. W. B. Chancellor to North India, the Committee decided that Mr. Chancellor should be transferred to the East Africa Mission, and also Mr. H. Bockstätt, formerly Industrial Agent at Sierra Leone, and now at Jerusalem. The Secretaries were also directed to inquire as to the possibility of transferring from Nasik to Mombas a number of the liberated Africans of both sexes; and also to communicate with her Majesty's Government as to the Society's intention with regard to the East Africa Mission.

Bishop Crowther, being about to return to the Niger Mission, attended the Committee, and conversation was held with him respecting the prospects of the work on the Niger. The Bishop referred to the special invitation forwarded to him by the late Rev. H. Venn to come to this country for the purpose of arranging with the Committee for the transfer of the Brass and Bonny Missions, the expenses of which had hitherto been defrayed out of the African Native Bishopric Fund, and stated that that fund was now replenished, and explained that the object of that fund was to enable him to break fresh ground in and about the Niger, and stated that he was anxious to occupy two new stations at Oppobo, on the Brass River and New Calabar, at the cost of the West African Native Bishopric Fund, as was done in the case of the Brass and Bonny Missions, if the Society would relieve him of the annual cost of those Missions, amounting to 227<sup>l</sup> 10s., and also make him a grant towards the expenses of erecting the Mission buildings at those stations which would be transferred to the Society. The Bishop also expressed his opinion as to the desirableness of endeavouring to open up stations to the eastward of Lagos, and expressed his readiness to undertake a visit of inquiry in that direction. The Secretaries explained that, in a recent interview with Mr. W. C. Jones, of Warrington, that gentleman had agreed to transfer to the Society the sum of 100,000 dollars in American Government Bonds as a fund for the employment of additional Native Agency in Africa, Palestine, Mauritius, and India, and had particularly wished that the first the Society should make of the fund might be by undertaking the Brass and Bonny Missions to enable Bishop Crowther to take up the new stations of Oppobo and New Calabar. The Committee resolved to encourage Bishop Crowther in opening up fresh stations by means of the Bishopric Fund, and thankfully availed themselves of the liberal gift of Mr. Jones to enable him to do so by taking off his hands the salaries of the Native Agents of Brass and Bonny, and also make him a grant of 250*l.* in respect of the cost of the erection of Mission premises at those stations.

Committee of Correspondence, July 8th.—The Rev. C. Tanner was introduced to the Committee on his return from India, where he had gone back in 1870 at the request of the Committee, in order to take charge of the "Noble High School" at Masulipatam, during the temporary absence on leave of the Rev. J. Sharp. Mr. Tanner admitted that the course of secular instruction laid down in the University standard called for increased spirituality on the part of the Teachers, and although he could not speak of any conversions having taken place during the three years he had managed the school, he was satisfied that the work carried on there furthered the great object for which Missions were established.

THE INCORPORATED SOCIETY FOR PROMOTING THE ENLARGEMENT, BUILDING, AND REPAIRING OF CHURCHES AND CHAPELS.

This Society held its last meeting for the present session (to be resumed in November) on Monday, July 21st, at the Society's house, 7, Whitehall, the Bishop of Chichester in the chair. There were also present, Archdeacon Harrison; the Revs. Arthur Cazenove, Hon. A. Legge, and S. W. Lloyd; Messrs. C. T. Arnold, John Boodle, J. F. France, A. J. O. Lawrie, Arthur Powell, W. E. M. Tomlinson, and Rev. George Ainslie, M.A., Secretary.

The following resolution was passed at the commencement of the meeting:—"That the Incorporated Society, gratefully remembering the long and valuable services which the Bishop of Winchester rendered to the Society, wishes to express its deep regret at the irreparable loss which, in common with the Church at large, it has sustained in his sudden and lamented death."

Grants of money, amounting to 2140*l.*, were made in aid of the following objects, viz.:—

Building new churches at Ashley-green, in the parish of Chesham, Bucks; Burton, in the parish of Christ Church, Hants; Dudley, St. Luke's; East Stonehouse, near Plymouth; Ford St. Mark, near Devonport; and Sandall-Magna St. Catherine, near Wakefield.

Rebuilding the churches at Swinefleet, near Goole; Temple Sowerby, near Penrith; and Topsham, Devon.

Enlarging or otherwise increasing the accommodation in the churches at Ash Priors, near Taunton; Balcott, near Banbury; Bere Regis, near Blandford; Brackley, Northants; Brecon, St. John's; Eastwood, near Rochford; Haslingfield, near Cambridge; Hollingbourne, near Maidstone; Southwark St. Michael, Surrey; Maker, near Devonport; Somersal Herbert, Derby; St. Winnow, near Lostwithiel; Warfield, near Bracknell, Berks; Windrush, near Burford; and Kelvedon Hatch, near Brentwood. The grant formerly made towards enlarging the church at Hatfield Peverell, near Chelmsford, was increased.

Grants were also made from the School church and Mission-house Fund towards building school churches at Featherstone, near Halthwaite, Durham, and Flint Common, near Flint. The Society likewise accepted the trust of a sum of money as a repair fund for the church of St. John's, Bognor.

During the session just concluded it is worthy of remark that the sum voted by the Society in aid of the various works brought before them has been 13,483*l.*, whilst the amount of receipts in the same time has been 12,093*l.*, leaving a deficiency of 1390*l.*, and it is therefore earnestly urged on the attention of the Church at large that unless during the recess greater benefactions are forwarded to the Society, there must be an inevitable reduction in the scale of grants.

ARCHES COURT.

(Before the Right Hon. Sir R. PHILLIMORE, Dean of Arches.)

BURCH V. THE REV. JOHN REID.

THIS was a case instituted at the instance of the Bishop of Exeter against the Vicar of St. James, Tregony, Cornwall, for alleged immorality.

Dr. Tristram appeared for the promoter, the Secretary of the Bishop; Mr. Arthur Charles for the defendant, and Dr. Deane, Q.C., for the Proctors of the Court.

The question now raised was whether a solicitor could appear for the defendant, or whether it was incumbent that the appearance should be by a proctor practising in the Court.

After an able argument by the several counsel,

The Dean of Arches gave his decision. It was, he said, a criminal suit against a clerk in Holy Orders, and this Court had accepted letters of request from the Bishop of Exeter. The usual citation had been issued, and the defendant was required to appear "personally or by his proctor duly constituted." The application, on its first impression, was that the Court could make a rule allowing him to appear, not by a proctor, but by a solicitor. It had been strongly urged upon the Court that, by the alteration in the Ecclesiastical law, the discretion vested should be exercised. Now the first question was whether the Court had any discretion to exercise, and that could only be determined with reference to the several Acts of Parliament. His Lordship referred to the statutes on the subject, and declared he could not see his way to make a rule, as he had no discretion to exercise on the 33rd and 34th of the Queen, in which solicitors were expressly excluded from the three courts. He offered no opinion whether solicitors should be allowed to practise, as that subject was for the Legislature to determine. He might observe that there was no necessity for the alteration proposed, as there were forty proctors practising in the Arches Court. In his judgment he had not the power to make the rule asked for, and he must refuse the application to permit the defendant to appear by a solicitor.

On the application of Mr. Charles, the Court gave the defendant one day to appear by a proctor, and expressed a hope that there would be no delay in the matter.

CONSISTORY COURT.

MONDAY, AUGUST 4.

Dr. Tristram, the Chancellor of the diocese of London, held his first Court to-day at St. Paul's Cathedral, when a novel application was made before him.

ST. BARNABAS, PIMLICO.

A petition by the vicar (the Rev. G. C. White) and the churchwardens of St. Barnabas, Pimlico, having been presented for a faculty, or licence, to erect a "baldachino" in the church, the Chancellor issued his citation, and appointed the present occasion to hear counsel in support of the application. The petition by Mr. G. H. Brooks, the proctor for the faculty, stated that it had been considered desirable to erect a baldachino for the adornment of the east end of the church. A plan and estimate had been prepared, and on the 5th of April last a vestry meeting was called, when it was unanimously agreed that the proposed adornment should be placed in the church. The estimated cost of the baldachino was about 600*l.*, of which 100*l.* had been provided and the remainder promised, and he therefore prayed that it might be erected. The Chancellor granted a citation, the parishioners had been served with notice, and no opposition was made to the issuing of the licence.

Mr. Walter Phillimore was counsel for the applicants, and addressed the Chancellor on the legality of the proposed erection, to which he understood there was no objection.

The Chancellor said the matter was of importance, as other applications would be made, and the Bishop of London wished the matter to be legally determined. He had therefore appointed the present sitting.

Mr. Phillimore, after stating that the expense would be about 600*l.*, and the parishioners had made no objections, proceeded to trace the origin of the term, as mentioned in the Architectural Dictionary. The word "baldachino" meant a canopy over the altar, or holy table, and he referred to the opinion expressed in a letter by Mr. Street, the architect, of the proposed adornment. It was an Italian expression, used in 1130, and was connected with the Eastern Powers in the Crusades. The word had been used to denote a canopy or covering put over kings or imperial personages, and also over bishops. He was not aware that there was any symbolical meaning in a baldachino, and believed there was not. He cited some Lutheran churches where there were baldachinos, mentioned a charge of the Bishop of Lincoln, and referred also to his tour in Italy. The learned counsel produced the plan of the proposed erection over the holy table. He also mentioned that there was one at St. Barnabas, Oxford, which was put up before the act of consecration. There were coverings over fonts, and it was considered that there should be a baldachino or canopy over the Communion-table at St. Barnabas, Pimlico. Where there was a basilica there should also be a baldachino. Rails were now permitted before the holy table, to which there had been some objection, and after dwelling on various authorities, he submitted that it would add to the dignity of the church that the proposed erection, which was one of a costly description, should be allowed to be erected, to which there was no objection.

Mr. Brooks observed that the Bishop of London had made no objection.

Dr. Tristram said his Lordship wished the matter to be considered, and had referred it to him as his Chancellor, as other applications were about to be made. Dr. Tristram wished to collect all the information he could on the subject before he gave his decision, and he asked the learned counsel to furnish him with the several instances he had quoted that he might refer to them.

Mr. Phillimore undertook to supply the Chancellor with the information he had requested. He submitted, in conclusion, that there was nothing symbolical in the erection or superstitious in its use, or contrary to the law of our Church in such an erection. It would add to the dignity of a church, and he trusted that the Court would feel itself authorized to grant a licence for its erection in the church, the vicar of which and the churchwarden, without any objection made by the parishioners, had applied that such an adornment might be placed over the Communion-table.

The Chancellor observed that the application was a novel one, and, as other applications were likely to be made, he wished to look into the matter. It was a question of some importance, and he would take some time before he delivered his opinion.

Judgment was accordingly deferred.

With reference to an article in the Times of the 6th inst., the Bishop of London has explained that—"An application for a Faculty for altering the structure or 'ornaments' of a church is not made to the Bishop in camera, but to his Court. It is usual, but not necessary, to submit the plan previously to the Bishop for his approval; but his opinion either way does not bind the decision of the Chancellor.

"In the case of the application from the minister and churchwardens of St. Barnabas, Pimlico, I, of course, gave no opinion. The question of the legality of a baldachino as an ornament of a church has never, I understand, been raised; and it is the more important that it should be decided once for all, because a structure of this kind was proposed by Dean Milman to be erected over the Communion-table in St. Paul's Cathedral, in accordance, as it is stated, with the design of Sir Christopher Wren, and has not, I believe, been abandoned by the present Restoration Committee."

PARLIAMENTARY INTELLIGENCE.

HOUSE OF LORDS.

MONDAY, JULY 14.

CONFESSION IN THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND.

LORD ORANMORE called attention to the reply of the Archbishops to the Church Association, and observed that, as our national institutions for the maintenance of religion were imperilled by the conduct of a certain number of the clergy and laity in the Church of England, it became the duty of the Episcopate and the Legislature to take some step in the matter. Adverting to the statement in the Archbishops' reply that a petition signed by upwards of 400 clergymen had been presented to the Convocation of the Province of Canterbury in favour of what they designated as "Sacramental Confession," he declared he was at a loss to conceive by what casuistry so large a number of clergymen of the Church of England could reconcile themselves to concur in a petition of that kind, and at the same time to retain their position and emoluments in the Church of England. He also expressed his regret that the Bishop of Winchester had inhibited in his diocese a clergyman from delivering lectures against Roman Catholicism who had been permitted to deliver similar lectures in the diocese of London by two Bishops of London in succession, and he concluded by moving for the appointment of a committee to consider by what legislation or other means the evils complained of by the Archbishops might be averted.

The Archbishop of CANTERBURY said he was not surprised that this matter had excited great attention and alarm, but the petition to which reference had been made was not so important a document as might at first seem, for he believed that many clergymen had appended their signatures to it in the belief that they were signing a petition against the Burials Bill. He was inclined to attach more importance to another petition presented to Convocation, because it was signed by four of the Professors at the University of Oxford, and he trusted that those who were responsible for the appointment of persons to high positions would inform themselves whether persons so appointed had the proper requisites. He should be glad if it were the opinion of Parliament that the power of the Bishops to remedy these abuses might be increased; but he also remarked that the laity and churchwardens had certain powers which it was their duty to exert.

The Bishop of WINCHESTER said that the statement was incorrect that he had inhibited a certain clergyman from delivering lectures in his diocese. All that he did was privately to inform the clergyman in question that he should refuse permission to him to deliver those lectures in a particular church, the churchwardens having represented that there was a general objection to controversial subjects being introduced there.

The Marquis of SALISBURY thought it was not fair on the part of the Archbishop to impute a dereliction of duty to the Professors referred to.

With regard to Auricular Confession, there was no difference of opinion among the English people. It was contrary to all their notions to allow a third person to intervene between a father and his child, and the husband and his wife, and the people of England might be trusted to take care of that matter for themselves.

LORD HARROWBY said that a great cause of the evils complained of was the sort of mitigating tone in which the Prelates had met them, instead of taking steps to put a stop to them.

The Archbishop of YORK observed that it was not with the Bishops that the fault in this matter lay, for, as it had been stated by the Archbishop of Canterbury, persons high in office held the views complained of.

After a few words from Lord MIDLETON, who expressed a hope that the Bishops would discourage the practice, which had grown up to some extent, of forcing on the young the observance of Confession, Lord ORANMORE's motion was put and negatived.

FRIDAY, JULY 18.

THE DENBIGH BLUE COAT SCHOOL.

The Bishop of BANGOR moved an address praying her Majesty to withhold her consent from the scheme of the Endowed Schools Commissioners for the management of the Free Grammar School and of the Blue Coat School at Denbigh. He said that the object of the original foundation was that the education given should be in conformity with the principles of the Established Church, but by the new scheme the character of the charity would be changed in that and other respects.

LORD LYTTELTON, in opposing the motion, stated the scheme had the approval of the people of Denbigh, and he argued that, considering the number of Dissenters in Wales, and the nature of the original endowment, the proposal in the new scheme that at the ordinary meetings of the school no religious catechism or formulary distinctive of any particular denomination should be taught, was a proper one.

The Marquis of SALISBURY observed that the charge he made against the Endowed Schools Commissioners was not that they broke the letter of the Act of 1869, but that they entirely departed from its spirit. In passing that Act, Parliament had not the intention to despoil the Church for the benefit of the Dissenters, or to despoil the poor for the benefit of the middle classes.

The Marquis of RIPON denied that it was proposed to take anything from the poor for the benefit of the middle classes; for it was provided by the scheme that exhibitions should be given as rewards of merit to boys educated in the Public Elementary Schools in Denbigh, so that effectual means would exist for raising the standard of education among the labouring classes in that locality.

LORD CAIRNS repeated an argument which had also been urged against the scheme by the Bishop of Bangor and the Marquis of Salisbury, that as the income of the educational endowment was less than 100*l.* a year, the school would fall within the operation of the terms of a Bill introduced in the House of Commons by the Government providing that elementary schools with a less endowment than 100*l.* a year should not come under the control of the Endowed Schools Commissioners.

Upon a division the Bishop of BANGOR's motion was carried by 68 to 46.

THE HEATH GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

The Marquis of SALISBURY then moved an address praying her Majesty to refuse her assent to another scheme relative to the Free Grammar School at Heath, in Halifax. The ground of his opposition was that, whereas the school had always been a Church of England school, the scheme of the Commissioners would effect a complete change in its character.

The Marquis of RIPON contested the statement of the Marquis of Salisbury, and observed that the position of the Education Department in reference to this matter was a difficult one, for there appeared to be no inclination on the part of the governing bodies of these schools to communicate with the Education Department, they preferring to make their appeal to the House of Lords.

LORD CAIRNS had no objection to the present scheme, but he thought the Vicar of Halifax should be appointed an ex-officio governor.

The motion was then put and negatived without a division.

MONDAY, JULY 28.

MARRIAGE OF THE DUKE OF EDINBURGH.

EARL GRANVILLE brought down the following message from her Majesty, which was read by the Lord Chancellor:—

"Victoria Regina.—Her Majesty having agreed to a marriage proposed between his Royal Highness Alfred Ernest Albert, Duke of Edinburgh, Earl of Kent, Earl of Ulster, Duke of Saxony, Prince of Saxe Coburg and Gotha, and her Imperial Highness the Grand Duchess Marie Alexandrovna, only daughter of his Majesty the Emperor of all the Russias, has thought fit to communicate it to the House of Lords. The numerous proofs which the Queen has received from the House of Lords of their loyalty to the Throne and their attachment to her person and family, leave her Majesty no doubt of their readiness to concur in enabling her Majesty to make a further provision for his Royal Highness."

EARL GRANVILLE gave notice that to-morrow he would move that their Lordships take her Majesty's message into consideration.

In the House of Commons a similar message was brought down by Mr. BAUCZ, in the absence, through indisposition, of Mr. Gladstone, and was read by the Speaker.

TUESDAY, JULY 29.

On the motion of EARL GRANVILLE, seconded by the Marquis of SALISBURY, an address in answer to the message of her Majesty was agreed to unanimously.

On 4th August, the second reading of this Bill, sent up from the House of Commons, was moved by EARL GRANVILLE and seconded by the Marquis of SALISBURY. Having been read a second time, the Standing Orders were suspended, and the Bill was passed through its remaining stages.

THURSDAY, JULY 31.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION ACT (1870) AMENDMENT BILL.

This Bill passed through Committee, after the adoption of an amendment, proposed by Lord CHELMSFORD, that the Educational Department should have the power to sanction or disallow any provision for school accommodation proposed by school boards.

ENDOWED SCHOOLS ACT (1869) AMENDMENT BILL.

On the motion of the Marquis of RIPON this Bill was read a second time, the Marquis of SALISBURY having previously stated that he could not accept the present Bill as a satisfactory measure, leaving, as it did, the Church of England in many important respects at a disadvantage; and he would in Committee move that the Bill should only be in force for one year.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 1.

This Bill passed through Committee, with the addition of an amendment providing that the power of making a scheme should continue as respects unopposed schemes until the 31st December, 1874, and as respects schemes against which a petition should have been presented to the Committee of the Council of Education until the 15th June, 1874, and no longer.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 5.

Parliament (fifth Session of 20th Parliament of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, 36 & 37 Vict.) was prorogued this afternoon by Commission, the Royal Commissioners being the LORD CHANCELLOR, the Earl of Bessborough, Earl Cowper, Earl Granville, and Viscount Sydney.

With respect to Education, it was said,—“The Acts for the Amendment of the Education Act, 1870, and of the Endowed Schools Act of 1869, will, as I trust, tend to accelerate the attainment of solid national advantages through the extension of education both in the middle and the most numerous classes of the community.”

In conclusion, her Majesty said,—“These, and all mercies of Divine providence, will, I trust, find their suitable acknowledgments, alike in our works and in our hearts.”

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 9.

BURIALS BILL.

Mr. O'MORGAN moved that the Speaker leave the chair, in order that the House might go into Committee on this Bill, which has stood over since March 26. He protested against the dilatory tactics by which the Bill was met, the object of which, he said, was to tide over “this last session of a fatal and unfortunate Parliament.”

Mr. PELL moved that the order be discharged, and Mr. B. HOPE spoke in favour of the motion, justifying the determined opposition offered to the Bill by the aggressive policy of the Disestablishment party and the destruction of the Irish Church. He showed at length that there was no real grievance, and expatiated on the practical inconvenience and on the scandals which the Bill might produce. Mr. Hope was addressing a warning to the moderate Liberals that they would break up the party by allowing the Non-conformists to have their way in this matter, when he was cut short in the middle of a sentence by the arrival of a quarter to six o'clock.

On Wednesday, 23rd July, Mr. O. MORGAN withdrew the Bill, promising to re-introduce it early next session.

TUESDAY, JULY 15.

ECCLESIASTICAL COMMISSIONERS BILL.

Mr. GLADSTONE, in moving the second reading of this Bill, said the law in regard to Deaneries provided that the salary of a Dean should be 1000*l.* a year. To the Deanery of Lichfield, however, there had been attached since 1706 the large and important living of Tattenhill, Staffordshire, which was within the diocese of Lichfield, but at some distance from the Cathedral city, and therefore not coming within the law which permitted a Dean to hold a living if within the Cathedral city. The question, therefore, was whether by the provision of the general law he was disabled from the possession of that living. The Government thought it fair to submit the matter without delay to the decision of the proper tribunal, and the Court had decided that the Dean of Lichfield had taken the living absolutely when he accepted the Deanery. The Bill provided prospectively for the severance of the living, and left it to the Ecclesiastical Commissioners to lay down the conditions under which it should be divided after the severance had been carried out. The avowal of the living would remain in the Crown after the severance.

The Bill was then read a second time.

ECCLESIASTICAL POLICY IN THE WINDWARD ISLANDS AND TRINIDAD.

Mr. CHARLEY, who was interrupted by two unsuccessful attempts at a count out, called attention to the ecclesiastical policy of the present Government in the Windward Islands. His main complaint was that the disestablishment of the Church of England, and proportionate concurrent endowment, had been forced on these islands by the Earl of Kimberley, in direct opposition to the wishes of the Colonial Legislatures. This he enforced by numerous quotations from the official papers, and concluded by moving a resolution expressing the disapprobation of the House of this conduct.

Sir C. B. ADDERLEY, who seconded the motion, treated the question more from a constitutional than an ecclesiastical point of view, contending that the Colonial Office had violated the first principles of responsible government by forcing their own nostrums on unwilling colonists. This, however, he said, was a peculiar characteristic of the Liberal party in their dealings with the colonies. Moved by some occult influence, the Government had insisted on the Church of England being stripped in a manner which the House would not have approved had it been aware of what was going on.

Mr. KNATCHBULL-HUGHES replied that the ecclesiastical policy complained of had not been initiated by the present Government, but by the Government of which Sir C. Adderley was a member. He went through the circumstances of each island affected by the motion, showing that the Colonial Office had in no way interfered with the discretion of the Colonial Legislature, but had merely laid down the principle of religious equality.

Lord J. MANNERS denied that there was any similarity between the policy of the late and of the present Government, the late Government having merely condemned imperial support to denominations, without attempting to overrule local discretion. He commented on the inconsistency of Mr. Gladstone, who had vehemently condemned concurrent endowment in the Irish University debates, while all the time he was forcing it on the West India Islands as an alternative to universal disestablishment. The conduct of the Colonial Office, he contended, was in direct derogation of the principle of colonial self-government.

Mr. MACFIE supported the motion, Mr. NEWDEGATE drew from the discussion the moral that political agitation was the best mode of resisting disestablishment, and Sir E. TORRENS related how his colonial experiences had converted him to the principle of disestablishment. The House divided, and the numbers were:—

For Mr. Charley's motion . . . . .	69
Against it . . . . .	83

----------------------------	----

The motion was therefore negatived.

REVENUES OF THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND.

Mr. T. HUGHES next moved an address to the Crown praying for the appointment of a Royal Commission to inquire into the amount and application of the revenues of the Church of England and into the system of parochial benefices, with a view to the better adjustment of parishes and incomes, and the amendment of the law relating to patronage.

Mr. LEATHAM, who was opposed to the motion on the ground that no remedy short of disestablishment would avail, gave some amusing details of recent and current transactions in the advowson market.

The motion was opposed by Mr. BERESFORD-HOPE, who trusted to the activity of the Church and the progress of public opinion to cure the evils of which Mr. Hughes complained.

Mr. CROSS condemned the sale of next presentations, but thought that Parliament had not sufficient information before it to act upon.

Mr. BRUCE explained the objections of the Government to the motion, dwelling especially on the futility of inquiring into the system of patronage except for the purpose of going much farther than Mr. Hughes proposed. At the same time he promised that, through the Ecclesiastical Commissioners, inquiries should be instituted into the financial part of the question.

Mr. HUGHES accepted this offer, but the House refusing permission to withdraw the motion, it was negatived without a division.

THURSDAY, JULY 17.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION ACT (1870) AMENDMENT BILL.

Mr. W. E. FORSTER moved the second reading of this Bill, and prefaced his motion by a statement of the intentions of the Government with regard to the Bill. Premising that it was the 3rd Clause, and especially the second part, transferring the payment of school fees from the school boards to the guardians, which excited most opposition, he entered into a long retrospect of the motives which in 1870 induced the Government to propose the 25th Clause and the arguments by which it was supported. The most powerful of these were the importance of getting children into school who would otherwise remain uneducated, and the impossibility of enforcing compulsion unless assistance were given to the poor parent. Discussing next the denominational and the economical objections raised to the clause, he showed by the most recent educational statistics how useful the clause had been in getting children to school, and how necessary a complement it was to the compulsory by-law. Without the liberty of choice permitted to the parent by the 25th Clause, compulsion, he maintained, would fail altogether. The Government, therefore, was unable to repeal the 25th Clause without substituting anything in its place; but, with the view of diminishing the force of the objections to it, they had proposed the 3rd Clause of this Bill, by which the aid which would be given would be limited to districts where compulsion was established and to cases where parents could not obey the law without assistance, and by which, also the amount to be paid would be limited. Though he was greatly surprised at it, he admitted that this clause, and especially the transfer from the school boards to the boards of guardians, had been very generally opposed, and notably by boards of guardians. Moreover, he admitted there was much force in their objection that there was danger in bringing parents not now paupers into contact with the relieving officer. School boards had also opposed it; and as it had failed to conciliate the opponents of the 25th Clause, the Government, though still believing that the balance of argument was on their side, had determined to drop out of the 3rd Clause the substitution of the boards of guardians for school boards. But with that part of the clause which provides for the education of pauper children they intended to persevere. In defence of this proposition, he pointed out that the boards of guardians were for the most part in favour of Denison's Act, and they had not urged the objection that it would foster a spirit of pauperism. To those who were interested in the local taxation question he urged that for every sixpence paid out of the rates sixpence would be contributed by the Exchequer, which was a very good bargain for the rates; and that there was ample security in the boards of guardians for the economical expenditure of the funds. Finally, he explained several minor amendments in the clauses, and with regard to Mr. TORRENS' amendment, he pointed out that by defeating the Bill he would bring all the school boards in the country to a standstill.

Mr. TORRENS moved the “previous question” as an amendment to the second reading, justifying his course by the addition to the rates which the Bill would entail. Local taxation, he maintained, had reached its limits, and the increased rates caused by the Education Act were out of all proportion to the contributions from the rates. As to the pecuniary limit dangled before the House, that would no longer serve its turn, for the maximum of 3*d.* in the pound of the original Bill had become a minimum, and the farthings in this Bill in like manner would grow into sixpences. Clause 3, he maintained, was entirely opposed to the basis on which Denison's Act was framed, and he dwelt with much force on the impolicy of familiarizing the people with the relieving officer, and of breaking down the honest pride which made the receipt of poor-law relief intolerable to large classes of the population.

Sir M. LOPES, who seconded the amendment, also argued the question on financial grounds, insisting that education, as a national object, should be paid for out of national funds, and that it was a serious error to mix up education with pauperism. Besides the direct increase of the rates which it would entail, it would also add to them by depriving parents of the labour of their children, and it imposed a condition on the receipt of poor-law relief which was entirely novel.

Mr. TREVELYAN regarded the Bill—after Mr. Forster's speech—as a measure for making education a condition of poor relief; but, as it would effect a great improvement in the educational condition of the country, he cordially supported the second reading.

Mr. NEWBATE made some remarks in favour of throwing the expenses of education on the imperial exchequer, while Mr. MELLY and Mr. REED spoke in warm support of the Bill.

Mr. HARGATE was of opinion that by recognizing the right of the parent to choose his own school the Government had entitled itself to the support of the Opposition on the second reading; and Sir C. ADDELEY also supported the Bill in its altered form, and regretted that education—on which every shilling spent would be remunerative—had been chosen as the ground on which to fight the battle of local taxation.

Mr. SALT criticized the administration of the Committee of the Privy Council, which, he contended, led to unnecessary and ever-growing expenditure. With regard to the Bill, the change made in it made its operation so uncertain that he thought delay would be the best course, and he should therefore vote for the previous question.

Mr. H. RICHARD condemned the Bill as utterly insufficient—wanted by nobody, and equally distasteful to all. He spoke with much bitterness of Mr. Forster's dealings on the education question, and argued at length against the State meddling with religious education.

Sir M. BLACK, after expressing his surprise at the withdrawal of the most valuable portion of the Bill, discussed its details, pointing out various practical objections to the working of the pauper clause, which, he said, entirely changed the conditions of poor-law relief. On the whole, he concluded to vote for the previous question.

Mr. DIXON complained of Mr. Forster's failure to fulfil his promise that compulsory education should be proposed this year, and, addressing the Opposition, he endeavoured to prove to them that universal school boards would not be more expensive, nor more likely to tend to general secular education than the present system.

Mr. HARDY deprecated the introduction into the discussion of topics outside the objects of the Bill, with regard to which he said that though some of the clauses might go farther than he approved, that afforded no ground for stopping its progress. Not being desirous of the repeal of the 25th clause, nor anxious for the establishment of universal compulsion, he saw no reason why he should associate himself with Mr. Dixon in opposing a Bill which contemplated neither of these objects.

Mr. FAWCETT reminded the Government that it had got into its present undignified position by endeavouring to take a middle course, and not having the courage of its opinions. To pay a child's school fees and at the same time to enact that this should not be considered poor-law relief was a total relaxation of the conditions on which poor-law relief had hitherto been dispensed. He was of opinion that the guardians were better judges than the school boards of the circumstances under which these fees should be relaxed, but they ought logically to be considered as poor-law relief. Abstractedly, Mr. Fawcett said, he was in favour of secular education, but taking things as they are, and not as they ought to be, everybody must see that the country never would submit to the enormous pecuniary loss which would be involved in the destruction of the voluntary denominational schools. Though he was in favour of the repeal of the 25th clause on economical grounds alone, he could not understand how people could feel conscientious scruples against rates being applied to denominational education who never raised the slightest objection to taxes being so applied. There were three unanswerable arguments against forcing the child into a board school when there was a voluntary school at hand which the parent preferred—viz. the convenience of the child, the expense of providing additional schools, and the impossibility of enforcing compulsion unless the parent's choice were represented. To those who maintained that the expenses of education should be paid out of the Consolidated Fund Mr. Fawcett pointed out the superior economy of local administration, expressed his firm belief that the Bill would rather tend to discourage out-door relief than otherwise, and concluded by exhorting the League to spend the winter in agitating for universal compulsion rather than in stirring up sectarian squabbles.

Mr. FORSTER replied in some detail, and Mr. CRAWFORD having failed to obtain a hearing, the House then divided, and the "previous question" being negatived by 343 to 72, the Bill was read a second time. It was subsequently committed pro forma, in order that it might be reprinted with the amendments described by Mr. Forster.

FRIDAY, JULY 18.

THE "PILGRIMAGE" TO CANTERBURY.

Mr. WHALLEY questioned the First Lord of the Treasury as to the recent pilgrimage of Roman Catholics to the shrine of Thomas à Beckett.

Mr. GLADSTONE assured his hon. friend that nothing had occurred in the cathedral on the occasion which partook of the nature of a religious ceremonial. It was simply a pleasure trip, of which a lecture on the cathedral formed part.

In reply to a further question from Mr. WHALLEY, who was anxious to know whether the use of the cathedral would be permitted to him for the same purpose, Mr. GLADSTONE had no doubt of it, provided Mr. Whalley gave notice of his intention, and had any information to impart.

FRIDAY, JULY 25.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION ACT (1870) AMENDMENT BILL.

This Bill, after a protest by Mr. SCOURFIELD against the principle it embodied, that in certain cases parents should be obliged to prove that they were not offenders against the law before any evidence had been offered in support of the charge in respect of which they had been summoned, was read a third time and passed.

TUESDAY, JULY 29.

MARRIAGE OF THE DUKE OF EDINBURGH.

Mr. GLADSTONE moved, and Mr. WARD HUNT, seconded a resolution whereupon to found a Bill granting an addition of 10,000*l.* a year to the Duke of Edinburgh on his marriage, and securing 6000*l.* a year to the Grand Duchess Marie Alexandrovna in case of widowhood, with a proviso that, in the event of the Duke of Edinburgh succeeding to any European principality, it should be lawful for her Majesty or her successors, should she or they think fit, to revoke by Royal Warrant the annuity granted by the Bill, and to substitute a provision that, in the event mentioned, the annuity should cease and determine.

THURSDAY, JULY 31.

DUKE OF EDINBURGH'S ANNUITY BILL.

Mr. GLADSTONE moved the second reading of this Bill, which was opposed by Mr. P. A. TAYLOR and Mr. ANDERSON, and supported by Colonel NORTH and Mr. BOUVIERE.

Upon a division the numbers were,—

For the second reading .. .. .	162
Against it .. .. .	18

FRIDAY, AUGUST 1.

THE NATIONAL ANTHEM IN PUBLIC ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS.

Lord C. J. HAMILTON asked the Vice-President of the Council whether any instructions had been issued to the Inspectors of Schools in England and Wales directing them to exclude the National Anthem from the list of songs allowed to be sung in Public Elementary Schools on the ground that it contained an appeal to the Almighty.

Mr. W. E. FORSTER said a similar question was addressed to him some time ago in regard to an Inspector who thought the terms of the Act of Parliament might exclude the National Anthem from the songs permitted to be sung during the time of secular instruction. He stated at the time that he was much surprised at the Inspector having given such an opinion, which he deemed a mistaken one. That statement received public circulation, and the Department thought it unnecessary to do more than communicate it to the particular Inspector who had given the opinion. The noble lord now said another Inspector had pronounced a similar opinion, and if this turned out to be actually the case, he also would be informed by the Department that he had made a mistake. He should be loth to issue a general instruction to the Inspectors, because the matter was so very clear; but, nevertheless, if a general instruction were found to be necessary, it should be issued. Perhaps he might prevent the necessity for any further action if he stated now that it was decidedly the opinion of the Department that the National Anthem was not a song or hymn of such a kind that there could be any objection whatever to its being sung during the secular hour in which the children and the managers ought to be allowed to obey their own loyal instincts. The Committee of Privy Council would not feel it to be their duty to recommend any hymn or song, however excellent; but they could prevent them from being excluded.

CONVOCATION OF THE PROVINCE OF CANTERBURY.

ON the 1st of July both Houses of the Convocation of the Province of Canterbury assembled at Westminster for the despatch of business.

UPPER HOUSE.

The Primate presided over the meeting of the Bishops in the Council Chamber of Queen Anne's Bounty Office, and there were present the Bishops of Winchester, London, Oxford, Lichfield, Hereford, Gloucester and Bristol, and Chichester.

THE EPISCOPATE IN INDIA.

The Bishop of LICHFIELD presented a petition praying that an increase in the Episcopate should be made in India, and suggesting that the Government chaplains in Aden, Lahore, and Kurrahee should be elevated to this position.

ARCHDEACON DENISON.

The PROLOCUTOR and his assessors attended from the Lower House with several schedules of gravamina and an articulus cleri. One gravamen was from Archdeacon Denison, the Vicar of East Brent and Archdeacon of Taunton, and was as follows:—

"Showeth,—That his present curate, the Rev. Henry Phipps Denison, was ordained deacon and licensed to the curacy of East Brent at the Ordination held at Wells, Trinity Sunday, 1871; that, in February, 1872, his licence was revoked by the Bishop; that, in July, 1872, such revocation of licence was annulled by judgment of the Archbishop of the Province; that, in September, 1872, the said Henry Phipps Denison applied to the Bishop to be admitted to examination for Priests' Orders, and was refused to be so admitted; that the application has been since that time four times renewed and four times rejected. The undersigned makes complaint before this House:—1. That no proved mental or bodily incapacity, no proved immorality, no proved heresy being alleged, or capable of being alleged, against the said Henry Phipps Denison, the refusal of the Bishop to admit him to examination for Priests' Orders is contrary to Canon xxxv., which directs and prescribes as follows:—"The Bishop, before he admit any person to Holy Orders, shall diligently examine him in the presence of those ministers that shall assist him at the imposition of hands; and if the said Bishop have any lawful impediment, he shall cause the said ministers carefully to examine every person so to be ordered." 2. That he, the undersigned, is much hindered in doing his work in the parish of East Beant, and in Convocation, by having a curate in Deacons' Orders only. 3. That the refusal of the Bishop to admit, as aforesaid, to examination for Priests' Orders is, under every aspect, inequitable and unjust. That the undersigned is not calling in question the absolute right of the Bishop to reject a candidate after examination had, but the right of the Bishop to refuse to admit to examination. The undersigned respectfully requests his Grace the President, and their Lordships the Bishops of the Upper House, to take this matter into their consideration; it appearing to the undersigned that a grave injustice and wrong has been, and is being done therein."

THE OFFICES OF THE CHURCH.

The PROLOCUTOR also presented a gravamen, signed by fifteen Archdeacons, to delay the Bill now before Parliament for facilitating admission to certain offices in the Church of England. The objection to the Bill in the present shape was that it contained clauses likely to weaken the influence of episcopal and archidiaconal institutions as courts of inquiry.

On the motion of the Bishop of WINCHESTER, it was agreed that his Grace should communicate with his Grace of York on the subject.

Other subjects having been referred to, the sitting, which was a short one, concluded, and their Lordships adjourned until Thursday.

LOWER HOUSE.

The Bishops-Suffragan, Deans, Archdeacons, and Proctors for clergy composing the Lower House assembled in the Jerusalem Chamber, the Ven. Archdeacon Bickersteth presiding.

After the presentation of the matters presented to the Upper House, various other subjects came on for discussion.

THE REFORM OF CONVOCATION.

Mr. JONES presented a gravamen commenting on the Vicar-General's report to the Upper House on the matter of the reform of Convocation, disputing the conclusion arrived at by the Vicar-General, "That no change either in the qualification of the electors or the number of the representative members of Convocation can be made without the sanction of the Legislature," and declaring that this was contradictory to the opinions of Lord Westbury and Sir R. Phillimore. The gravamen prayed that the matter might be still further considered. He moved that the gravamen be made an articulus cleri for presentation to the Upper House as the view of the Lower Chamber.

Dr. FRAZER seconded the motion, which was carried.

THE LATE ARCHDEACON SANDFORD.

The PROLOCUTOR made a feeling reference to the loss the House shared with the country by the death of the Ven. Archdeacon Sandford, whose place as chairman of two committees—that on Intemperance and that on the Hymnal—he filled up by the appointment of Canon Hopkins and Canon How.

DEFICIENCIES OF SPIRITUAL MINISTRATION.

Canon GREGORY laid upon the table of the House a preliminary report on this subject from a committee appointed "to consider what deficiencies exist in the amount of spiritual ministration provided by the Church of England for the people of England and Wales, and the means by which those wants may best be supplied." The first step the committee took in order to ascertain what deficiencies exist in the amount of spiritual ministration provided by the Church of England for the people of England and Wales had been to prepare and issue a series of questions to the incumbents of all parishes where it was thought probable that the supply of spiritual fare for the people was incommensurate with their wants. To obtain answers to these questions, to tabulate them, and to draw from them the information desired by Convocation would be a work of considerable time, and it was possible might not be presented to the present House of Convocation. There was another portion of the committee's inquiries to which it was more easy to obtain complete answers. They sought to ascertain what increase had been made to the number of consecrated churches and chapels during the present century. They were quite aware that this was far from representing the whole of the additions which had been made to the material fabrics in which the clergy of the Church carry on their ministrations. There were many unconsecrated chapels, school-churches, and other licensed buildings in which Divine Service was regularly performed, the number of which was not yet ascertained. But even when these were known, the consecrated churches and chapels would have to be considered by themselves, as they represented approximately the amount of subdivision which had been made in large parishes. The figures presented showed that the churches consecrated during this century (from the year 1800) numbered 4129, the great majority of which were built within the last twenty years. Of these, 925 were churches rebuilt, and 3204 were additional churches. Besides this the committee had ascertained what additions had been made to the ranks of the clergy by ordination during the past few years. From 1834 to 1843 the average per annum was 535, from 1844 to 1853 it was 665.6, from 1854 to 1863 it was 600.9, and from 1864 to 1872 it was 595.5. The committee, in commenting upon the facts, said:—

"From this it appears that, while the need for more clergymen is annually increasing, the supply is diminishing. There were seventy more deacons ordained in each of the years between 1844 and 1853 than in each of the years between 1864 and 1872, although between 1844 and 1864 there had been made an addition of more than 1400 churches to be supplied. Considering the importance of the facts which we have just laid before the House, we have thought that it was inexpedient to withhold them until we were able to deal with the whole mass of information contained in the returns which we have obtained. These returns, when time has been given to analyze and concentrate their contents, will afford an amount of information of the highest and most pressing interest."

The House went into the subject of the rubrics on the report of the Commission, and this lasted the rest of the day.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 2.

The Upper House did not sit to-day, and the Lower House only in the afternoon, to continue the debate on the alterations in the Rubrics.

UPPER HOUSE.

THURSDAY AND FRIDAY, JULY 3 AND 4.

The Primate on both occasions presided over the Bishops, who met in the Council Chamber of Queen Anne's Bounty Office.

THE QUEEN AND THE PROLOCUTOR.

The Prolocutor of the Lower House and his assessors attended to lay before his Grace the business which had been despatched.

The ARCHBISHOP said he had a communication to make. He had received a letter from the Home Secretary announcing that the address which the Convocation of Canterbury had made to the Queen, praying that her Majesty would be pleased to grant some mark of the royal favour to the Venerable Archdeacon Bickersteth, who had served Convocation for many years, first as Pro-Prolocutor, and then as Prolocutor, had been laid before her Majesty, who had been graciously pleased to accede to the request.

The representatives of the Lower House then retired.

THE LATE SERVICES IN ST. PAUL'S.

Among the papers of business brought by the Prolocutor was a gravamen by the Dean of Winchester and other members of the Lower House, complaining that the Lower House had been called from the consideration of the "letters of business" on which the members had been summoned to attend Convocation in order that they might take part in the services in St. Paul's on Thursday. The gravamen hoped that in future a Holy Communion service would be so arranged for Convocation as to be "in harmony with, and not a hindrance to, the business" on which the clergy were summoned to Westminster.

The Bishop of WINCHESTER said he had been requested by several members of the Lower House to explain that there was a very strong and general desire that his Grace should arrange to have at the opening of each Synod a Communion service in which both Houses could communicate together, and this without loss of time to the business.

The Bishop of LONDON remarked that this was not the purpose of the gravamen.

The Bishop of WINCHESTER said it was conveyed in the latter part of it.

The ARCHBISHOP said he did not gather that what the Bishop of Winchester had pointed out was the purpose of the gravamen. If that service had been desired it might have been clearly stated.

The Bishop of WINCHESTER asked if his Grace would take the matter he had mentioned into his consideration.

The ARCHBISHOP replied that he certainly would.

THE LAITY AND THE CHURCH.

The Bishop of ELY presented a petition signed by 23 peers, 24 members of Parliament, and in all by 590 persons, 260 of whom were clergymen, all resident in and about London, with respect to the position of Convocation. It stated that in the opinion of the petitioners there was not a full and satisfactory representation of the clergy in the Lower House; that the separate action of the Northern and Southern Provinces was not beneficial to the Church, and advised a union; and also that it was of the utmost possible consequence that Convocation should be enabled to have the opinions of the faithful laity, and that the Church would be strengthened by such an addition to Convocation as would give these opinions. His Lordship said he agreed with the opinion expressed in the petition that changes were called for from time to time, and as Parliament did not now represent the Church, and was getting less and less willing to do the work of the Church, the help of the laity would be beneficial. Among those who had signed the petition were Lord Russell, the Earl of Devon, Lord Cairns, the Marquis of Westminster, and Lord Fortescue. For his own part, his Lordship said, he did not agree with the petition in regard to the proposed union of the two Synods.

In reply to the Bishop of Winchester, his Lordship said he thought the laity who should be connected with Convocation should be in a consultative body.

The Bishop of WINCHESTER said he felt as strongly as any of his right reverend brethren the value of lay help, and he was exceedingly glad that the House had the benefit of the wisdom of the Bishop of Ely upon the question; but for his own part he could not see his way clear to the formation of any such direct connexion. The fact was the Convocation of the Province of Canterbury was his Grace's Synod, and had effect only with the clergy. The Convocation did not legislate at all on civil matters.

and he did not see how there could be any introduction of the civil element into this legislature.

The Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol thought the introduction of the laity into Convocation would be a most serious matter, as it would alter the position Convocation had held for centuries. He also expressed himself as fully appreciating the services of the laity.

The subject then dropped for the present.

NON-COMMUNICANTS AND THE COMMUNION SERVICE.

The ARCHBISHOP said he had a petition on a matter which had been before the House several times, namely, on the subject of the Rubric proposed in the Lower House for discouraging the presence of non-communicants during the administration of Holy Communion. The petition was from "clergy and lay communicants of Oxford," and asked their Lordships not to agree to the Rubric. Now their Lordships were not aware that such a proposal had been made, and as it had not come before this House it was inconvenient to have these petitions; but he would take the opportunity of saying that he did not understand the sudden excitement which had been got up on this subject. It would seem that some fresh view had come over some members of the Church of England on the subject of Holy Communion, for while that Church had adopted one practice, they were aware that it was the custom in some foreign Churches to call persons to "assist," as it was termed, in the mass. He regretted that the petition had been signed by undergraduates, and it was headed by the names of Professors Pusey, King, Bright, and Liddon.

The Bishop of Lichfield presented two other petitions on the same subject, but they were declared informal and withdrawn, because they commenced with the words "the Lower House proposed to enact."

CHURCH OF ENGLAND CONFESSION.

The ARCHBISHOP presented a petition from a rector in the diocese of Exeter, expressing the utmost indignation at the proposal by "priests of the Church of England" to introduce principles contrary to Holy Scripture, and doctrines described by the Church as "idolatry to be abhorred by all faithful Christians."

On July 4 the Bishops sat with closed doors nearly all the time they were in Session. The only business transacted in the presence of the reporters was of a formal character, and the House was prorogued until July 23.

LOWER HOUSE.

The members of the Lower House assembled in the Jerusalem Chamber, Westminster Abbey, the Ven. Archdeacon Bickersteth, the Prolocutor, presiding on both days.

The business was almost entirely of a discursive character on proposed alterations in the Rubrics, and the subject was carried on a stage further, only a portion of the revised Rubrics having passed to the Upper House.

The House was prorogued until July 23.

[The remainder of the Report of the proceedings of the Convocation of the Province of Canterbury is unavoidably postponed till our next Number.]

AURICULAR CONFESSION.

THE following is the reply of the Bishop of London to a Memorial presented to him, through the Rector, by the Vestry of St. George's, Hanover-square, and sealed with their seal:—

Fulham Palace, July 21, 1873.

MY DEAR MR. HOWARTH,—

A week spent in Convocation, and another occupied in Confirmations, have left me no leisure for replying earlier to the Memorial from the Vestry of St. George's, Hanover-square, which you presented to me on June 30, drawing my attention especially to the steady and persistent attempts which are made to restore the practice of "Auricular Confession."

I was unwilling to dismiss you and the deputation with a mere verbal assurance of my disapproval of the practice, not only because such general condemnation is vague and ineffective, but because it is liable to be interpreted in a wider sense than it ought to bear, and to be extended to what may be not only allowable, but beneficial.

1. It may be, for instance, and sometimes is called confession, when parishioners resort occasionally to their pastor in private for his advice, assistance, and prayer in their difficulties, spiritual, moral, and even intellectual; and when, to enable him to give them his aid, they lay before him their doubts, sorrows, temptations, or sins. In this sense most clergymen, at any rate in the large parishes (and probably many Nonconformist ministers), are called upon to "hear confessions" with a frequency proportioned possibly to the faithfulness of their preaching and to the blessing which God has granted to it.

2. As "the way and means" to a worthy reception of the Holy Communion our Church directs her members to "examine their lives and conversations by the rule of God's commandments, and whereinsoever they shall perceive themselves to have offended either by will, word, or deed, then to bewail their own sinfulness and to confess themselves" (not to man) but "to Almighty God," and she further directs them "if they perceive their offences to be not only against God but against their neighbours," to reconcile themselves unto them, being ready to make restitution and satisfaction. This is her rule; the exception is that, "if there be any one who by this means cannot quiet his own conscience herein, but requireth further comfort or counsel," he may "come to a minister of God's Word and open his grief, that by the Ministry of God's Holy Word" (not by the use of any form of absolution which our Church has not only not provided for private confession, but has deliberately removed it from her Prayer Book, in which it was found till 1552)—"he may receive the benefit of absolution, together with ghostly counsel and advice." In these exceptional circumstances, then, confession or opening one's grief to the priest is allowed; but to rest on this provision the expediency, still more the duty, of confession to the priest before the reception of the Holy Communion, is to invert our Church's teaching, to substitute the exception for the rule, and to feed the healthy soul with the medicine for a morbid conscience.

3. In the order for the Visitation of the Sick, the use of which is by the 67th canon left optional to those who are "preachers"—i.e., licensed to preach—the minister is directed to examine the sick person, not as to what sins he has committed, but "whether he repent him truly of his sins and be in charity with all the world." In one case only, "if the sick person feel his conscience troubled with any weighty matter" (of which he alone can be the judge) he is to "be moved to make a special confession of his sins," and in this case only; and even in this case only "if the sick man humbly and heartily desire it" is the priest to absolve him "after the sort" of a form of words provided for this one case and in which a prayer for the forgiveness of the penitent is followed by an indicative formula of absolution, and this is all our Church teaches concerning private confession and absolution; while of the so-called Sacrament of Penance, in the theory of which confession to a priest and absolution are necessary for the remission of deadly sin committed after baptism, she declares that "it is not to be counted for a Sacrament of the Gospel," and implies that "it has grown of the corrupt following of the Apostles."

On the other hand, public confession she requires to be made, and absolution to be pronounced, daily in the morning and evening prayer, as well as in the office for the Holy Communion.

With these facts before us, it seems impossible to doubt what is the mind of the Church of England, or what the duty of her faithful ministers.

1. She gives no sanction or countenance whatever to the requiring or even recommending confession to a priest as the ordinary way and means to a worthy reception of the Holy Communion, but declares that ordinary way and means to be confession to Almighty God. Any minister who should repel a parishioner from the Lord's table on the ground that he had refused or neglected to confess to a priest would undoubtedly act illegally.

2. She does not sanction or in any way recognize any more than does Holy Scripture, and especially that inspired manual of a minister's duties, the pastoral Epistles of St. Paul, the use of habitual or frequent confession to a priest, either with the view of obtaining his "direction" or as conducive to the higher degrees of spiritual life, or as necessary, or even expedient, for the obtaining either remission of sin or a more assured sense of forgiveness, through the absolution pronounced by him in confession. In all her formularies and offices her members are treated and provided for, as those who are personally and directly responsible to God and God alone here, as they must be to God alone at the Judgment day, as those who are to confess their sins to Him, and to obtain their absolution (although His ministers may declare and pronounce it) from Him, as those who have only one Mediator between God and man, the God-Man Christ Jesus; as those who are to train their own consciences and direct their own lives; as those, finally, who are to seek, and may by seeking always find, daily wisdom and strength from Him "from whom all holy desires, all good counsels, and all just works do proceed."

3. She does not direct, encourage, or assume her ministers to question those to whom they minister, not even the sick and dying, as to the details of their sins and temptations. Even he whose "conscience is troubled with any weighty matter" is to be "moved to make a special confession of his sins," not to have the confession extorted from him. Her formularies correspond with the all but unanimous teaching of her as credited divines, that the duty of the minister in doing pastorally with souls is to endeavour to ascertain the number or nature of the sins committed, but the reality of the repentance of him who has committed them. And they were framed under a keen and real sense of the evils of the system of the confessional, which experience had shown to relax watchfulness and control by the apparent facility of pardon, to suggest forms of sin unknown before, and to be perilous to the purity both of the confessor and the confessed. These evils, there is reason to fear, have not been altogether absent from that partial revival of the system to which your memorial alludes.

4. Our Church knows no such term as "sacramental confession," the use of which, according to the notions, is wide-spread and increasing. If by that words is meant, as some are said to mean by that confession as a way and means to the worthy reception of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, she limits it to what we have seen, to the exceptional case of those who cannot by the appointed way and means quiet their own conscience. To extend it to other cases is to abuse her permission and to run counter to her obvious teaching. If by sacramental confession is meant confession to a priest in the Sacrament of Penance for the purpose of receiving his absolution as an appointed means of obtaining forgiveness of pre-baptismal mortal sin, then must both the doctrine and use of it be contrary to the 25th Article, to what every ordained minister of our Church has declared in assent, as well as his belief that the doctrine therein set forth is agreeable to the Word of God.

The Memorialists ask me, finally, to exert all power and vigilance to protect them and their families from the threatening danger of the restoration auricular confession. While admitting to the full duty of using any power committed to me of prevention or discouraging all doctrine and practice contrary to the teaching and mind of our Church, I must point out that a Bishop's power, especially in regard to the matter of confession, is very limited, and that the remedy must be mainly sought elsewhere. A clergyman who should refuse the Holy Communion to a parishioner on the ground that he had not previously confessed, would, no doubt, subject himself to grave penalties; and a charge brought against a clergyman of teaching the doctrine of Sacramental Confession, as part of the Sacrament of Penance, might probably elicit from our Courts a clear statement of our Church's teaching, even though the rules of judicial interpretation in penal cases might prevent the condemnation of the accused for contradicting it. But the practice of habitual confession, altogether alien though it is to the mind and formularies of the Church, could with difficulty, if at all, be made the subject of legal proceedings. What is allowable under circumstances known only to the parties concerned could not easily be proved unlawful under any circumstances; the transaction itself is in its nature occult and difficult of proof, and the laity who habitual confess and whom the law cannot touch are at least culpable as the clergy who hear habitual confession.

It is, however, incumbent on all ministers of the Church, whether bishops or parochial clergy, to oppose the growth of this erroneous doctrine and practice, as so much, perhaps, by preaching controversially against confession, a procedure which rarely convinces any but those already convinced, but by inculcating plainly, frequently, and patiently—backed, as they will be, by the whole weight of Scripture authority—the solemn obligation and privilege of each one's personal responsibility to God; the duty laid upon each of training his own conscience; the precious liberty which belongs to all God's adopted children, even though unworthy to be called His sons, of confessing all their sins to their Heavenly Father, through Christ, without the intervention of a human confessor, and of receiving from Him, for Christ's sake, full and free remission, whether it be or be not declared by the lips of a human minister. To teach otherwise is, in my judgment, to misread Holy Scripture and to misunderstand the mind of the Church of England.

But after all, grave as is the responsibility of the clergy in this matter, the remedy for the evil complained of lies greatly in the hands of the laity. In the present day developments of ritual and matters of Church discipline and practice are governed less by law than by public opinion. The clergy are as often at least urged on by their congregations as their congregations are led by them. There would be few confessors if there were not many ready to confess. It is, indeed, this readiness which has led some to defend the practice of habitual confession on the ground of its applying a real want, forgetting that morbid wants are as real as healthy wants—often more terribly real—and that the argument, carried to its logical issue, would justify us in satisfying the cravings of the opium-eater or the passion of the gambler. Laymen may do much to discourage auricular confession by not sending their children to schools, however good the education, in which it is practised, and by not taking them to churches, however beautiful the service, in which it is taught; by expressing their disapprobation of it gravely, but without the exaggeration and hard words which provoke a reaction; but, above all, by teaching in their families and exemplifying in their lives that sober, cheerful piety which, springing from a heart reconciled to God through Christ, lives in filial relation to our Heavenly Father, and can go at once to Him, through the one only Mediator for pardon for every sin, and for grace to help in every time of need. There is no room for a confessor in a child-like religion like this.

Believe me to be, my dear Mr. Howarth, sincerely yours,
J. LONDON.

MISCELLANEOUS INTELLIGENCE.

DEATH OF THE BISHOP OF WINCHESTER.

THE sad announcement of the death of the Bishop of Winchester, on Saturday, 19th July, was received with expressions of unfeigned regret and sorrow, not only by the great body of the Church of England, but by all classes and denominations throughout the kingdom. The Bishop, accompanied by Lord Granville, left London by the South Western Railway, with the intention of paying a short visit to the Hon. Edward Frederick Leveson Gower, of Holmbury, near Dorking, where Mr. Gladstone had arrived to meet them. At Leatherhead they were met by a groom with horses. The Bishop mounted one which, on account of its quietness, was a special favourite of Lord Granville's. The Bishop and Lord Granville were in conversation when the Bishop's horse stumbled, it is believed, over a stone, and threw its rider on his head. After a slight convulsive movement the Bishop became motionless. The accident happened on a piece of moorland, locally known as "Evershed's rough," opposite a range of farm buildings, the only ones in the neighbourhood. Lord Granville at once dismounted, and, seeing no signs of life, despatched the groom for assistance to Abinger Hall, which was the nearest house. Death appears to have been instantaneous, as the Bishop fell on his head, and, turning completely over, dislocated his neck. The body was conveyed to Abinger Hall, the seat of Mr. Farrer, the Secretary of the Board of Trade, Lord Granville assisting to carry the body. Expresses were sent to Dorking and Shere for medical aid, and Dr. Clark and Mr. Furnival were soon on the spot, but the Bishop was beyond all assistance. From the moment he fell he showed no signs of life. His hat was completely crushed in, but on the body there were no marks whatever, though on the following morning there was a slight extravasation of blood under the left ear. The face was as placid as in life.

As a token of the affection and respect in which Bishop Wilberforce was universally held, in consideration of his former connexion with Westminster Abbey, and in conformity, as the Primate announced in Convocation, with the wish of "the highest authorities of the land," the offer was made to the family that he should be buried, as his father before him had been, in the nave of Westminster Abbey; but the offer was declined, on the ground that the Bishop had always expressed a wish that he should rest in death between his wife and their eldest son, and in a spot which was dear to him above all others.

The funeral accordingly took place on Friday, 25th July, at the parish church of Woolavington, Sussex, of which parish the Bishop, in right of his wife, was the lord of the manor. Although no invitations had been issued by the family, the clergy of the diocese of Winchester, and many of that of Oxford, were present in large numbers. Her Majesty the Queen was represented by her domestic chaplain, the Dean of Windsor; the Prince and Princess of Wales by the Hon. Charles Lindley Wood; and the Archbishop of Canterbury by his chaplain, the Rev. Edmund H. Fisher.

A special train, starting from London at ten o'clock, brought down 250 persons; and there were present the Archbishops of Armagh and Dublin, the Bishops of Oxford and Peterborough, Bishops Beccles and Ryan, the Rev. Dr. Jackson, President of Trinity College, Hartford, Connecticut, representing the Episcopal Church of America, &c., &c. Lord Granville and Mr. Gladstone found themselves at the last moment unable to attend. The following was the inscription upon the coffin:—

"Samuel Wilberforce, Bishop of Winchester, for twenty-eight years a Bishop of the Church of God. Born September 7th, 1805; died July, 19th, 1873. Aged 67 years."

Convocation.—(From the "London Gazette" Tuesday, Aug. 5.)—At the Court at Oades House, Isle of Wight, August 4—Present. Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council—is this day ordered by her Majesty in Council that the Convocations of the Provinces of Canterbury and York be prorogued from the day which the same now stand prorogued to Thursday, the 23rd day of October, 1873; and the Right Hon. the Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain is to cause writs to be prepared and issued in the usual manner for proroguing the Convocations accordingly.

The Colonial Church Bill.—This Bill of Lord Blachford's has been recast by the Select Committee. All the clauses relating to proper given to or in trust for Colonial Bishops are struck out, it being deemed desirable to communicate with the Colonies before legislating upon the subject. The Bill is now confined to the removal of certain disabilities inflicted by statutes of George III. and of Queen Victoria upon clergymen ordained by Colonial Bishops not having episcopal jurisdiction within the meaning of those Acts. Such clergymen will then be under the provisions of 59 George III., c. 60, which declares them unable to officiate in England or Ireland without permission from the Archbishop of the province, and unable to hold ecclesiastical preferment or a curacy in England or Ireland without the consent of the Archbishop of the province and the Bishop of the diocese.

METROPOLIS.

Hospital Sunday, (June 15).—At a meeting of the Council of the Metropolitan Hospital Sunday Fund, held at the Mansion House on Wednesday 23rd July, the Lord Mayor, who presided, said, although the Sub-Committee had not had time to make a detailed report of their proceedings, he had been requested to submit a statement of the course they had taken in order to give effect to the resolutions passed previously to Hospital Sunday. It appeared that the gross sum received was 27,400l.; and that the expenses, advertising, salaries, correspondence, printing, &c., were 725l.—a fraction more than 2½ per cent. on the whole. There had been awarded:—to hospitals, 24,571l.; to dispensaries, 967l.; and to other institutions of a kindred character, 891l., leaving a balance of 258l. to be carried forward towards the expenses of next year's collection. Guy's, St. Thomas's, and St. Bartholomew's Hospitals have had no share in the distribution being provided for by endowments of their own. To the London Hospital had been given 3833l. to St. George's, 2875l.; the Middlesex, 2300l.; University College, St. Mary's, King's College, and Westminster, each 1500l.; and to Charing Cross, 958l. The only special hospital receiving a large amount is the City of London Hospital for Diseases of the Chest; to this nearly 1000l. is given; and the rest of the Fund is divided among 55 smaller hospitals, a few of which, in the West London and the Great Northern, are general, while the great majority are special in their character. In proportion to the number of beds and of patients, the largest awards are those made to St. George's and to the Middlesex Hospitals. The London Hospital contains 570 beds, St. George's 353, and the Middlesex 305.

Bishop of London's Fund.—At the quarterly meeting of the Board on 30th July, the Bishop of London presiding, it was reported that the total amount received since the last meeting of the Board was, for general purposes, 11,414l. 16s. 4d.; for local and special objects, 3399l. 15s. 5d. (of the former sum 10,764l. 5s. 1d. consists of new money). To this must be added balance over at date of last statement, 229,109l., and 1850l. amount of former grants cancelled, making the total available for fresh grants 12,843l. 15s. 10d. Against this there had been the following grants:—Churches and sites for churches, 4650l.; parsonages and sites for churches, 800*l.*; sites for schools and mission-stations, 175*l.*; contingencies (consisting mainly of rent of rooms for missions), 619*l.* A further sum of 3879*l.* 5*s.* 6*d.* had been written off outstanding liabilities for grants to schools, making the total amount appropriated 10,923*l.* 5*s.* 6*d.*, and leaving an available balance of 1920*l.* 4*s.* 11*d.* Grants had also been made to the extent of 1300*l.* out of her Majesty's gift, leaving a balance on the present year's instalment of 886*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* Sermons had been preached on behalf of the Fund in a large number of churches on the 18th of May; the contributions received up to the last meeting of the Finance Committee being 6125*l.* 12*s.* 2*d.*, an increase of 1790*l.* 2*s.* 6*d.* over the amount received at the same date last year; but the number of churches contributing was 285, as against 263.

With reference to the Union of Benefices Amendment Bill, the right rev. chairman stated that it had been found impossible to proceed with it this session, in consequence of the pressure of business in the House of Commons; his Lordship hoped, however, that it would pass next year, and, if so, it would give great facilities for dealing with the City of London churches. Under its provisions a committee would be appointed with large powers, which would be able to draw up a scheme, having the force of law, for dealing with the City churches when circumstances were favourable; the consents of vestries would not be required, nor that of patrons, though the interests of the latter would be protected. He believed the scheme would have to lie on the table of the House for forty days, and to receive the assent of the Queen in Council before coming into operation.

THE CHURCH CONGRESS, 1873.

THE following is the programme of the Church Congress which is to be held at Bath on the 7th, 8th, 9th, and 10th of October next. The Congress will be opened by a special service in the Abbey Church on Tuesday, the 7th of October, when the Bishop of Derry will be the preacher. At two p.m. the President of the year, Lord Arthur Hervey, Bishop of the diocese, will deliver the inaugural address in the Congress Hall, after which the first session opens, the subject of discussion being "The Church's Duty in regard to strikes and labour." The readers and speakers will be the Bishop of Oxford, the Rev. Llewelyn Davies, the Right Hon. Stephen Cave, M.P., Canon Girdlestone, and Mr. T. Brassey, M.P. The topic for the evening meeting will be "Lay Helpers, men and women: the work they at present do and might do for the Church of Christ at home and abroad," and it will be dealt with by the Revs. W. Cadman, H. D. Nihill, J. E. Moorhouse, and Sir J. E. Phillips. On the same evening there will be a meeting in the Assembly Rooms to consider "Christian Almsgiving in its relation to pauperism and to the existing conditions of society," Earl Nelson, Dr. Hannah (Vicar of Brighton), Sir J. Kennaway, and Mr. Alsager Hill, of the Charity Organization Society, being the readers and speakers. Wednesday morning, in the Congress Hall, will be devoted to "Foreign Missions: their sources of support, methods of management, and prospects of success," with Mr. J. E. Gorst, Rev. E. C. Stuart, Mr. Cecil Raikes, and Rev. Dr. F. Hessey, on the platform. In the afternoon the Dean of Exeter, Sir S. Northcote, the Rev. Dr. A. T. Lee (of Dublin), and Mr. T. Hughes, M.P., will deal with "The Union of Church and State: its national importance and its bearing on the community at large;" and in the evening there will be the working men's meeting, which is usually one of the chief features of these Congresses. On the same day, in the Assembly Rooms, the morning session will be devoted to "The supply and preparation of Candidates for Holy Orders," with the Dean of Chester, Canon Ashwell, the Rev. C. M. Church, Canon King, and Dr. Boulton as the readers and speakers; in the afternoon

Canon Ellison, Prebendary Morse, the Revs. Brakine Clarke, and R. M. Grier, will discuss "The Duty of the Church in regard to the temperance movement;" and in the evening Canon Lightfoot, the Revs. J. G. Cazenove, Prebendaries Earle and Plumptre, and Dr. Farrar will take up the question of "The present need and the best means of quickening interest in theological thought." On Thursday the morning meeting in the hall will be occupied with the double subject of "The increase of the Episcopate and Church organization in synods, conferences, and parochial councils," with Canon Ryle, Mr. F. H. Dickinson, Sir George Young, and the Rev. E. N. Dumbleton, as the selected readers and speakers. For the afternoon topic, "Cathedral Chapters; their proper work and influence," the names are—Canon Selwyn, Mr. E. A. Freeman, Mr. Beresford Hope, M.P., Canon Norris, and Mr. Neville Grenville, M.P.; and in the evening Canon Miller, Alderman Bennett, and the Rev. Joseph Bardsley will read and speak upon "The means of bringing the influence of the Church to bear upon the masses of the people." There will only be two meetings on Thursday in the Assembly-rooms. At the morning sitting "The Appropriation of Seats as affecting a National Church" will be the subject, with the Revs. Archer Gurney, R. C. Billing, J. S. Jones, and Messrs. O. Hills and M. Green, as readers and speakers; and in the evening Archdeacon Hamilton, Prebendary Fagan, Mr. J. G. Talbot, M.P., and Prebendary Ainslie will treat of "Church Endowment, with special reference to recent legislation." The closing meetings on Friday will all be held in the Congress Hall. The morning subject will be "The Life of Godliness, intellectual, devotional, practical," entrusted to the Revs. Prebendary Thorold, R. M. Benson, Sir E. Bayley, W. H. Hutchings, and Walsam How; in the afternoon "The Religious Wants and Claims of Children, and the methods of providing for them before and after Confirmation," will be discussed by the Revs. R. W. Randall, Montague Noel, J. F. Kitto, and Mr. Eugene Stock; and in the evening Professor Oakeley, of Edinburgh, will read a paper on "Church Music."

CHURCH PREFERMENT.

4, PAISGRAVE PLACE, STRAND,
LONDON, W.C.

MR. LARA'S MONTHLY SELECTION OF CHURCH PROPERTY FOR DISPOSAL AND WANTED.

1. ADVOWSON of VICARAGE in NORTH-AMPTONSHIRE. IMMEDIATE POSSESSION. Situation pretty and very healthy. The house is good, standing in handsome and productive grounds. The schools are in excellent order and well supported. Postal arrangements unexceptionable. Two Sunday Services. Population about 1000. To a moderately High Churchman the price would be only 2500*l.* The net income is 280*l.*, increasing annually, and exclusive of parsonage. A favourite Market Town and first-class Railway Station within a mile.

2. ADVOWSON of RECTORY on the EAST COAST. POSSESSION ALL BUT IMMEDIATE. The church is one of the handsomest in the kingdom. Schools well supported. Net income nearly 800*l.*, with very good house, standing in extensive grounds, and close to church and Station. Under peculiar circumstances, which will be explained, from a purchaser during the present week five thousand guineas will be accepted.

3. WEST OF ENGLAND. IMMEDIATE POSSESSION. The ADVOWSON of a RECTORY in all respects desirably placed. Net income about 500*l.* a year with a first-rate residence suited in every way for the occupation of a gentleman. Good schools. Church buildings, without exception, in thorough repair. No interference in parochial matters. Moderate population. Price 6500*l.*, but this sum might include, under certain circumstances, other advantages.

4. MIDLAND. IMMEDIATE POSSESSION. ADVOWSON of a VICARAGE. The net income, chiefly derivable from pasture land, is about 350*l.*, and the house, which stands in glebe, is well worth 150*l.* per annum more. The church has been thoroughly restored. There is a good school, and the population is under 600. The parish is very healthy, with good society all round. Railway Station within a mile. Price as may be arranged, or subject to a very aged life, 4500*l.*, four per cent. being allowed till vacancy.

5. ONE HUNDRED MILES FROM TOWN, in a beautiful locality. IMMEDIATE POSSESSION. ADVOWSON of a RECTORY of the net value of between 400*l.* and 500*l.* a year, with handsome parsonage, standing in well-kept grounds. Small population, but good school and appurtenances. Choral Service. Price only 5300*l.*

6. ADVOWSON of RECTORY. DEVONSHIRE. VERY EARLY POSSESSION. The parsonage is a modern one, with good walled garden, pretty shrubbery, and all convent and necessary outbuildings and offices. Church in thorough repair. Net income over 300*l.* Population 800. Price 3000*l.*, and three per cent. interest given till vacancy.

7. NEXT AND IMMEDIATE PRESENTATION to a SUBURBAN VICARAGE can be legally obtained for a Clergyman not less than forty years of age. Price 2700*l.* There is a handsome parsonage, with nice grounds, worth 100*l.* a year.

8. NEXT AND IMMEDIATE PRESENTATION to a VICARAGE worth, including rateable value of residence, about 300*l.* a year. It is a comfortable family one. The church is very pretty, and there is a newly-built school. Population 400. Eight miles from a Western County Town and the Sea. The price is 2000*l.*, and there are contingencies which may considerably enhance the desirability of the investment.

WANTED TO PURCHASE.

9. ADVOWSON or NEXT PRESENTATION, with IMMEDIATE or VERY EARLY POSSESSION. An Agricultural Parish in a Southern County preferred. Income from 200*l.* to 400*l.* a year, with comfortable family residence not very far from a Railway Station.

10. ADVOWSON with POSSESSION. Kent, Surrey, Sussex, or Hants, near a Town and Station. There should be a tolerably good house and the population under 1000. The amount of income is immaterial, and a full price will be given for a really desirable Living.

11. ADVOWSON with POSSESSION. A Northern or North-Western County preferred. Income not less than 800*l.* a year. Good house and society indispensable. A handsome church much desired.

12. NEXT and IMMEDIATE PRESENTATION to a LIVING near a Town, within a radius of fifty miles from Warwick. There must be some society, and a moderate-sized house. Up to 3000*l.* ready.

LONDON: B. W. LARA, CONVEYANCER, 4, PAISGRAVE PLACE, NEXT 4, ESSEX COURT, TEMPLE.

* * Personal attendance from Twelve till Four; Saturdays, till Two. [280]

The Bishop of Norwich purposes to hold an Ordination on the Sunday after each Ember Week. Candidates for Deacons' or for Priests' Orders are requested to inform the Bishop as soon as possible, and not less than three months before the time, of their intention to offer themselves for Ordination. Full instructions will then be forwarded.

The Bishop of Bangor purposes holding his next Ordination on Sunday, the 21st inst. His Lordship requests Candidates to send the necessary papers, together with their addresses, without delay, to "The Secretary, the Diocesan Registry, Bangor," from whom all needful information may be obtained.

Candidates should also put themselves at once in communication with his Lordship's Examining Chaplain, the Rev. William Johnson, Rector of Llanestyn, Pwllheli.

The Bishop of Worcester holds an Ordination at each of the four Ember Seasons in every year. He wishes to have three months' notice from all Candidates for Deacons' Orders. Papers to be forwarded to the Bishop's Secretary, Alfred Hooper, Esq., Worcester, one month before the Ordination.

The Bishop of Ely purposes holding his next Ordination on the 21st inst.

The Bishop of Chester purposes holding his next Ordination on Sunday, the 21st inst.

The Bishop of Rochester purposes to hold an Ordination at each of the four Ember Seasons. Persons desirous of being admitted as Candidates may obtain a paper of instructions upon writing to the Bishop's Secretaries, Messrs. Day and Hassard, 28, Great George-street, Westminster, S.W.

The Bishop of Lichfield proposes to hold an Ordination on Sunday, 21st December next. Applications should be made at once to the Rev. F. Thatcher, The Palace, Lichfield.

The Bishop of Hereford holds an Ordination (if necessary) at each of the four Ember Seasons in every year. Persons desirous of becoming Candidates are requested to communicate with the Bishop three months before each Ordination, and will receive full instructions as to the necessary papers on application to Mr. H. C. Beddoe, the Bishop's Secretary, The Close, Hereford.

The Bishop of Peterborough purposes holding his next Ordination on Sunday, the 21st December. Every Candidate for Deacons' or Priests' Orders in the diocese should write to the Bishop (at least three months previous to the Ordination) for permission to present himself for examination, stating his age, academic degree, and his then present residence. In the case of a Candidate for Deacons' Orders this application must be accompanied by a reference to three Clergymen to whom the Bishop may apply for information respecting him. The Bishop will appoint a personal interview, which is absolutely necessary. Candidates when accepted by his Lordship may obtain full instructions as to the necessary papers on application to the Diocesan Secretary, H. P. Gates, Esq., Peterborough, to whom they should be sent at least one month previous to Ordination.

The Bishop of Lincoln purposes holding Ordinations at Michaelmas and Christmas. Graduates of Oxford must have attended the Theological Lectures. Graduates of Cambridge must have passed the Voluntary Theological Examination. Graduates of Dublin must produce the Divinity Testimonium. The Bishop requires a personal interview with himself, or with one of his Examining Chaplains, Rev. Prebendary Benson, D.D., Wellington College, Wokingham, or to the Rev. Prebendary Wordsworth, Brasenose College, Oxford. For information with regard to the Examination, application is to be made to the Bishop's Secretary, Wm. Moss, Esq., Old Palace, Lincoln.

His Lordship requires from all Candidates for Priests' or Deacons' Orders at least three months' notice of their intention to offer themselves for Ordination, and also a personal interview with himself or one of his Examining Chaplains. It is not necessary that Candidates should be provided with a Title at the time of giving notice. Graduates of Oxford must produce a Certificate of having attended the Public Lectures of the Regius Professor of Divinity; those of Cambridge, the Certificate of having passed the Voluntary Theological Examination; and those of Trinity College, Dublin, the Divinity Testimonium. Full instructions can be obtained from his Lordship's Secretary, Henry Bernard, Esq., Wells, Somerset, to whom all papers must be forwarded at least one month before the day of Ordination.

The Bishop of Oxford intends to hold an Ordination in the Parish Church of Cuddesdon on Sunday, the 21st inst., and in Christ Church Cathedral, Oxford, on Sunday, the 21st of December. A paper of instructions to Candidates may be obtained by letter to the Bishop's Secretary, John M. Davenport, Esq., Oxford, to whom the requisite documents must be transmitted one month before the day of Ordination. Candidates for Deacons' Orders are required to communicate with the Bishop six months before the Ordination at which they desire to present themselves, and to obtain his consent.

The Bishop of St. Asaph will hold a General Ordination in his Cathedral on Sunday, the 21st day of December next. Candidates to send in their papers to the Bishop's Secretary, Diocesan Registry, St. Asaph.

The Bishop of Ely purposes to hold an Ordination for the Diocese of Winchester on Sunday, the 21st December. His Lordship requires from all Candidates for Deacons' Orders three months' notice of their intention to offer themselves for Ordination, and also a personal interview. Candidates from the University of Cambridge must have passed the Voluntary Theological Examination, and those from Oxford must produce a Certificate of having attended the Divinity Lectures. Candidates for Priests' Orders are expected to give two months' notice of their intention to the Bishop, and the necessary papers from all the Candidates must be sent, at least one month before the day of Ordination, to his Lordship's Secretary, John B. Lee, Esq., 2, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, S.W.

CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

TRAVANCORE.

The "Madras Church Missionary Record" for June contains a paper, prepared by the Rev. H. Baker for the Allahabad Conference, upon the Malayalam Missions, which is full of interesting information:—

"The Malabar coast contains a population of Malayalam-speaking people—between the sea and ghats, and extending from Mount Delli on the north to Trevandrum on the south—of about 8,000,000 souls. Of these the demon worshippers may be considered the original inhabitants. Then there are the hill tribes who believe in the spirits of their ancestors, with their Scythic rites, divided into various races. Next come the Hindoo conquerors of the Kerala land, followed by various emigrations of settlers; Syrian Christians and Jews from the Persian Gulf; Arabs from Muscat; Banians and Concane Brahmins with their dependants from Guzerat; Lubbays or Mussulman converts in large numbers from Madura and Tinnevely, with cloth-selling Puttara Brahmins, the money-lenders of the community, but cooks of the Rajas and Ootapuras of Malabar; Portuguese descendants of various or doubtful affinity; and, lastly, a few English, Dutch and Germans too, may be found settled for nearly a century past in these lands.

"Past history we shall not attempt, but only the advances and present state of the churches. Each Mission, while freely acting as part of the great Catholic Church, admitting members of each while living within limits assigned to the others, yet works within stated boundaries, and does not send evangelists or colporteurs to 'preach' in other parishes, work being found abundantly at home. The Church Mission has laboured in country towns and scattered villages, and this has given them some advantage, while the existence of the Jacobite Syrian Church has opened an easier path in one sense; though where that Church has no reforming ministers among its clergy, the stubborn dead formality of an unknown liturgy service, and non-preaching Catanar, have more than counterbalanced the co-operation of a vernacular teaching priest.

"Making a rough calculation from published tables, there are in Malabar and Travancore 283,000 Romo-Syrians and Latin Romanists, 300,000 Syro-Jacobites, 20,300 Protestants, probably about 600,000 professing Christians. The Protestants have largely advanced in numbers, but the material progress has been far greater. During the twenty-nine years that the writer of this Paper has been a worker in these Missions, he has seen men and women rise into positions in which they were fully capable of holding their own. Formerly the European was the head, and far too often supplied the heart of the Mission; now not only have we a Syrian Protestant barrister returned from England, educated at Government expense, and several holding the chief posts in large monied firms, but we have also ordained men and elders, self-governing churches, associations for united prayer, committees for raising money, synod meetings where the power of a public Christian opinion is felt, and freedom of speech allowed. We knew the time when the daily task was set, and converts assembled for prayer because they could not or did not use private prayer. Now when the full sympathy of the flock and all the agents is excited, we see the path of duty sought out for themselves. The old cry of "rice Christians" is no longer heard; there is no one temporal good obtained; no feeding or lodging house; each fights his own battle of life in the station he has fitted himself for. The system of villages for Christians exclusively as such is rarely seen; the converts are mixed with the general population, and not always under the eye of the master. Daily Church services exist only where large boarding-schools are found. The moral and religious habits of the people are not deteriorated by trusting them more.

"Clergy.—Ten years ago the Church Missionary Society paid 75 Rs. per mensem to these; now the pay of a senior clergyman is 35 Rs., while many of the juniors get 20 Rs. only; Scripture readers we have on 8 Rs. a month. Many of these men have voluntarily resigned educational and civil appointments under Government of double and treble the amount.

"Native Church Councils.—In five of the Church Mission districts it was found that a great portion of the Missionary's time was occupied with old congregations; the native clergy came to be mere curates without responsibility.

On this a Church Council was formed, removing all the clergy, excepting those who were deacons, from the Mission. The people who had become Christians within a circle of four to six miles were constituted a pastorate, and placed under the care of a native Minister and two or three Scripture readers. The communicants elect delegates to this Council, one to about every 800 souls. These pastors and delegates formed the Church Council, one Missionary being the chairman and another the treasurer. The cost to the Church Missionary Society for agency in the four districts used to be 12,000 Rs. per annum. The Missionaries kept 2000 Rs. for strictly Mission purposes, and the Society granted 10,000 Rs. to the Church Council. The people paid in old collections to form endowments, and raised fees and subscriptions for current expenses. The result, at the end of 3½ years, is that the Society's grant has been lessened to 7000 Rs.; the clergy have increased from 10 to 14, and the congregations have had over 2000 members added by conversion.

"The Syrians.—Amongst the Syrians, their beautiful Liturgy, purified by the old Maramana Malpan from errors of a later growth, restoring it to that of the old Eastern Church, has been translated into the vernacular, and is much used. The Metrans have opened the old college again, and sixty sub-deacons are faithfully taught in it. There are now some good preachers among their clergy; they used to call going to church 'going to see the Corbana;' now with vernacular prayers and responses, the 'Kyrie eleison: Ameen, Ameen;' of their services, when uttered as it often is with deep feeling by the congregation, causes the heart to thrill with emotion, longing for the time when the Spirit shall be poured out in full measure from on high.

"One of the present Malpans of the college is a worthy delegate of his church for the Malayalam version of the Scriptures now in progress; a clergyman of the English Church, but a Syrian by birth, is another; a converted Brahman, now another clergyman of the English Church, is a third. These two, with myself, are the delegates of the Church Missionary Society.

"The Slaves.—A great movement has lately taken place among those who were lately slaves in Travancore; the result has been their advance as a people, but generally they are more backward than those from other castes, having long been in a state of utter degradation. The Romanists too are doing Mission work among them, but do not admit them to their churches. Professor Tyndall once said he should like 'to see the effect of prayer on half the inmates of an hospital;' he would measure God's answers accordingly. Can he explain the difference between one Hindoo who has been converted, and another who still remains a Sivite or Vishnute? We do not yet know as we shall do, but the answer is—the Church is growing. God's word is 'Yea and Amen;' we neither restrict its meaning or power. But the Lord of Hosts is with us, the God of Jacob is our refuge."

LAW.

CONSISTORY COURT.

MONDAY, AUGUST 11.

(Before DR. TRISTRAM, Chancellor of London.)
ST. BARNABAS, PIMLICO.

THIS case, in which an application was made by the vicar and churchwardens of St. Barnabas, Pimlico, for a faculty or licence to erect a baldacchino (see Ecclesiastical Gazette, 12th August, p. 21), again came before the Court on notice of opposition by some of the parishioners. Mr. Bowron, as a householder in the district, and a representative of some fifty or sixty parishioners, having read a statement of his views upon the subject of the application, the Chancellor explained to Mr. Bowron that as a parishioner he would be entitled to enter an appearance in opposition to the granting of a faculty for a baldacchino. A petition had been presented to him as Chancellor of the diocese, and the parishioners could appear and oppose the application.

Ultimately the Chancellor ordered a copy of the petition for the faculty to be given to Mr. Bowron, and granted a week for an answer to be filed in accordance with the forms the Registrar would supply.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 22.

An application was made this day to amend the act on petition as to the answer to be made to the granting of a faculty.

Mr. Brooks appeared as proctor for the vicar and churchwardens; Mr. Moore for Mr. Bowron and other parishioners.

Mr. Moore said that in the act on petition he had made on the part of Mr. Bowron and other parishioners the second paragraph was that it was not desirable to erect a baldacchino at the east end of the church, because such an unaccustomed adornment would not be a lawful adornment at the east end thereof. He now proposed that the article should be in the following words:—"That it is not desirable to erect a baldacchino in the said church of St. Barnabas, Pimlico, for the adornment of the east end thereof, because, if such an unaccustomed adornment as a baldacchino were lawful, its erection would not be profitable and expedient, as being opposed to the religious convictions and feelings of a large number of the parishioners of the said parish." He apprehended that there could not be any objection to the proposed amendment.

Mr. Brooks objected to the alteration, as the matter could be given in evidence, and was not a matter of pleading.

The Chancellor said the lawfulness of the ornament was raised by the fifth paragraph of the act on petition.

Mr. Moore said he was willing to strike out the fifth article, and embody the question whether the erection of a baldacchino was lawful in the second paragraph. He submitted that the onus of proof that a baldacchino was lawful rested with those who applied for the faculty.

The Chancellor thought the question of the legality of the ornament was sufficiently raised by the pleadings as they now stood.

Mr. Brooks contended that there was no need of any alteration, as the question whether a baldacchino was legal was raised by the pleadings. He was, however, in the hands of the Court.

Mr. Moore said the parties who applied to erect such an ornament were bound to show that it was legal, and no faculty could be granted unless it was a legal ornament. He was willing to abide by any intimation of the Court in the matter.

The Chancellor decided that the fifth article should be struck out and the pleadings amended by the alteration to the second paragraph as proposed by Mr. Moore.

The pleadings were to be amended within three days, and Mr. Brooks to have a fortnight further to bring in his reply, and when the pleadings were concluded a day would be named for the hearing of the cause.

FAGG AND MUMMERY V. LEE.

This was a cause in the Commissary Court of Canterbury as to certain pictures in St. Peter's, Folkestone, representing the stations of the Cross. A suit was commenced in the Commissary Court for the removal of the representations by Mr. Lee, the Secretary of the Archbishop of Canterbury, and the churchwardens (Mr. Fagg and Mr. Mummery) applied to be dismissed from the suit on the ground that Mr. Lee did not show on the face of the motion any interest either of a public or a private character. Dr. Tristram, as Judge of the Commissary Court, held that the proceedings were sufficient, and dismissed the application by the churchwardens, on which Mr. Brooks, as proctor for them, obtained leave to appeal to the Court of Arches.

Mr. Brooks now applied that the proceedings should be brought into the Arches' Court.

Mr. Moore, as proctor on the other side, assented to the course suggested.

The learned Judge intimated that the proceedings should be removed into the Arches' Court.

MONDAY, AUGUST 25.

ST. BARNABAS, PIMLICO.

The amended pleadings in this case were filed this day, and the answer is to be lodged in a fortnight, after which the Chancellor will appoint a sitting to hear the application. It is not expected that the case will be heard before the latter part of October. Mr. Walter Phillimore will appear for the vicar and churchwardens, and Dr. Stephens, Q.C., for the parishioners.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 5.

The answer to the petition against a faculty or licence was entered at the Registry this day. The case now stands thus:—An act on petition was filed by Mr. Moore, as proctor on behalf of Mr. Bowron, and subsequently amended, on which Mr. Brooks, proctor for the Rev. G. C. White, Vicar, and the churchwardens, obtained leave to file an answer, and the document has now been lodged. Mr. Bowron, in his act on petition, set forth the following allegations:—

"1. That the said party is a parishioner and inhabitant of the said parish of St. Barnabas, Pimlico.

"2. That it is not desirable to erect a baldacchino in the said church of St. Barnabas, Pimlico, for the adornment of the east end thereof, because such an unaccustomed erection would not be a lawful or a suitable adornment of the east end of the said church.

"3. That if such an unaccustomed adornment as a baldacchino was lawful, its erection would not be profitable and expedient, as being opposed to the religious convictions and feelings of a large number of the inhabitants of the said parish.

"4. That no vestry meeting was convened on the 15th April, 1873, to consider whether a baldacchino should be erected at the east end of the said church.

"5. That at the vestry meeting mentioned in the citation issued in this business, and held on 15th April, 1873, it was not agreed that a baldacchino should be erected at the east end of the said church."

The answer now filed by Mr. Brooks on the part of Mr. White and the churchwardens for a faculty states in reply the following allegations:—

"1. That the first article in the said act on petition is true.

"2. That he submits to the Court the several allegations contained in the second article thereof.

"3. That it is not true, as stated in the third article thereof, that the erection of a baldacchino would not be profitable or expedient, as being opposed to the religious convictions and feelings of a large number of the parishioners of the said parish, but that, on the contrary, the erection is much desired by a very large number of the parishioners of the said parish who are members of the Church of England.

"4. That the vestry meeting held on 15th of April, 1873, was summoned by a notice to the following effect:—"Notice is hereby given, that a vestry meeting for the parish of St. Barnabas, Pimlico, will be held on Tuesday, the 15th of April next, to elect a churchwarden for the people and to consider plans for erecting a reredos at the east end of the church." The said notice having been exhibited on the outer door of the said church three clear days previous to the said meeting.

"5. That the proceedings at the said vestry meeting are correctly entered in the minute thereof recorded in the vestry book and filed in this business, and that the William Bowron whose signature occurs in the said minute book is William Bowron, party in this cause.

"6. That, save as has been heretofore admitted, the several allegations contained in the said act on petition are untrue."

The document prays that Mr. Bowron may be condemned in the costs occasioned by his opposition, and Mr. Brooks, as proctor for the vicar and churchwardens, prays "that further or otherwise right and justice may be done and administered to his said parties."

Mr. Moore will have time to reply to this answer; and the hearing will then be appointed.

PARLIAMENTARY INTELLIGENCE.

THE following PUBLIC GENERAL ACTS, having reference to ecclesiastical, parochial, or educational matters, were passed in the thirty-sixth and thirty-seventh years of the reign of her Majesty Queen Victoria; being the fifth session of the twentieth Parliament of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

They will be printed in the Ecclesiastical Gazette as space and opportunity may be afforded.

CAP. 21. AN ACT TO ABOLISH TESTS IN TRINITY COLLEGE AND THE UNIVERSITY OF DUBLIN.

CAP. 50. AN ACT TO AFFORD FURTHER FACILITIES FOR THE CONVEYANCE OF LAND FOR SITES FOR PLACES OF RELIGIOUS WORSHIP AND FOR BURIAL PLACES.

CAP. 64. AN ACT FOR AMENDING THE ECCLESIASTICAL COMMISSIONERS ACTS, 1840 AND 1850, AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES.

CAP. 67. AN ACT TO REGULATE THE EMPLOYMENT OF CHILDREN IN AGRICULTURE.

CAP. 86. AN ACT TO AMEND THE ELEMENTARY EDUCATION ACT (1870), AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES CONNECTED THEREWITH.

CAP. 87. AN ACT TO CONTINUE AND AMEND THE ENDOWED SCHOOLS ACT, 1869.

CONVOCAION OF THE PROVINCE OF CANTERBURY.

ON Wednesday, July 23, both Houses of the Convocation of the Southern Province assembled at Westminster for the despatch of business. The Archbishop and the Bishops met, as usual, in the Council Chamber of Queen Anne's Bounty Office; but, as is not usual, except on the first day of a new session, at once adjourned to the ancient Jerusalem Chamber, in Westminster Abbey, where the Lower House had met. His Grace at once took the presidential chair, and prayers were said in Latin.

The Archbishop, amidst the deepest silence, and in a voice which was frequently almost inaudible from emotion, then addressed the members of the two Houses on the subject of the great loss the Church had sustained by the death of the Bishop of Winchester, and suggested that a resolution should be drawn up by the Lower House expressing the sense of the two Houses on the subject.

The House was also addressed by the Bishops of LONDON, OXFORD, and BATH AND WELLS, and by the PROLOCUTOR.

The Archbishop and Bishops then retired to the Bounty Chamber, where

The Bishop of CHICHESTER presented twenty-four petitions against the introduction of a new rubric forbidding the attendance of non-communicants in the Communion Office.

The PRESIDENT objected to the presentation of the petitions as being informal, and after some discussion they were rejected.

The following resolution having been brought up from the Lower House, was, on the motion of the PRESIDENT, seconded by the Bishop of LICHFIELD, who bore personal testimony to the benefits the late Bishop had conferred on the Colonial Church, carried unanimously:—

"That this House desires to join with their Lordships of the Upper House in expressing in such manner as shall seem fit their deep sense of the loss which the whole Church has sustained in the death of the Bishop of Winchester. They desire to record their deep appreciation of the single-minded piety with which he exercised his great talents for the benefit of the Church; of the wisdom that he manifested in his counsels for all that affected her welfare; of the sympathy which he ever exhibited with all efforts for the spread of true religion; of his untiring and self-sacrificing activity, of the zeal and eloquence with which he contended for whatever conduced to the preservation of the faith, and of the large-hearted generosity with which he dealt with opponents. They feel it due to themselves to express their sense of the good which he secured for the Church by promoting the revival of the long dormant powers of Convocation, and that they should ill express the feelings of a large body of their brother Churchmen if they did not acknowledge the almost infinite blessings that he secured to the Colonies by his efforts for the extension of the Church amongst them. They desire to record their earnest prayer that every consolation may be given to his bereaved family, and that others may be raised up to continue his great work with such power and constancy of purpose as he showed throughout his eventful life to the glory of God and the benefit of His Holy Church."

THE REPORT ON CONFESSION.

The PRESIDENT read the report of the committee which had been appointed on the 9th of May last to consider and report on the teaching of the Church of England on the subject of Confession.

The House was prorogued till the 7th of August.

In the Lower House the discussion on the rubrics was continued and concluded, the chief event being a visit of the Prince and Princess of Wales, and the Cessarewitch and Cessarevna, which, singularly, took place during the speech of Canon Seymour, a leading member of the Eastern Church Association. The Royal party remained for some ten minutes while the debate proceeded.

The services considered were those of the Visitation of the Sick, Burial, Consecration, and Ordination. On the last two there were no debates. With regard to the first-named new rubrics allowing the use of other exhortations and prayers than those in the Prayer Book, and of shortening the Communion Office in cases of necessity by only using the Confession, Absolution, Prayer of Consecration, Form of Delivering the Elements, Lord's Prayer and Blessing, were adopted. By 25 to 6 a motion for the reservation was negatived. On the Burial Office there was a considerable debate, in the course of which an amusing passage of arms took place between the Dean of Westminster and Prebendary Joyce as to whether the reign of the Second Charles could be described as an immoral age. By a very narrow majority an amendment by Canon Seymour for adding to the proposed new rubric the words ordering a shorter Service for those "who have by their unchristian conduct occasioned grave scandal to the Church, and no person testifies of their repentance," was rejected, while a motion by Canon Rolles for the same service over a child unbaptized was rejected by 15 to 7.

Canon GREGORY moved, and Lord A. COMPTON seconded, the following resolution:—

"Respectfully to represent to the Upper House, as the result of their mature deliberations on the whole question, that while they are of opinion that certain advantages may be attained by the alteration of the rubrics, they are nevertheless of opinion that there is no actual necessity for such alteration, and that the advantages in question are of too little moment to be set against the disadvantages involved in a disturbance of the existing order."

After speeches by the Dean of WESTMINSTER, the Archdeacon of LONDON, the Archdeacon of GLOUCESTER, and Prebendary JOYCE, the latter of whom concluded an eloquent speech against the motion by saying the effect of carrying it might be described in the words of the poet,—

"Ingens jacet litore truncus, Avulsamque humeris caput et sine nomine corpus,"

the House divided, and rejected the motion by 16 to 6.

The House was then prorogued to August 7.

CENSUS OF 1871.—ECCLESIASTICAL DIVISIONS.

UNDER the above heading we called attention in our May number to the "Digest of the English Census of 1871," published with the sanction of the Registrar-General, and we printed that portion of the chapter on "Ecclesiastical Divisions" which referred to the division of the country into Dioceses. With respect to Archdeaconries, Deaneries, &c., it is further stated,—

"Archdeacons anciently were only members of Chapters without territorial jurisdiction. The assignment of specific limits for Archdeaconries took place soon after the Conquest. The Act of 6 & 7 Wm. IV., cap. 77, gives power to the Ecclesiastical Commissioners to re-arrange the boundaries of the ancient, and to form certain new Archdeaconries.

"Rural deaneries were recognized Ecclesiastical Divisions of a diocese in Saxon times. They seem to have been designed to correspond with hundreds in the political division of the country, as Archdeaconries were possibly intended to correspond with counties. The etymology of the word (Decanus) favours this idea; and it is not improbable that all such deaneries originally embraced districts with ten churches, and no more; their boundaries, once settled, never having been disturbed, although increase of population caused an increase in the number of religious edifices.

"The ancient primary division of the land, for spiritual purposes, was exclusively into Parishes;<sup>1</sup> but, in the course of time, as population increased, and additional churches were erected, certain portions of particular parishes came to be assigned by custom to the newly established places of worship; and these at length, under the name of Chapelries, acquired boundaries as definite and generally recognized as those of the parent parish. This is especially the case in the more northern counties, where, the parishes being of very large extent, while the population has increased with great rapidity, the need for such a further subdivision soon became apparent.

"The population within the ancient parochial divisions of the country is accurately ascertained at each Census; but it is obviously of great importance to know also the actual, or at least the approximate, number of inhabitants in each of the numerous Ecclesiastical districts or new parishes which have been formed out of the ancient parishes in consequence of the growth of population in the last hundred years. It is essential to the efficient discharge of his duties that the clergyman should have the means of informing himself from time to time as to the number of souls within his district; and, as might be expected, one of the first questions asked by any of the great societies, like the Pastoral Aid Society, the Additional Curates' Society, and the Church Building Society, whose object it is to lessen the amount of spiritual destitution, has reference to the amount of population. For almost every new church there is a district, either legally assigned by the Bishop of the diocese or the Ecclesiastical Commissioners, or adopted conventionally for purposes of temporary convenience, and having no legal force effect. Unfortunately, the precise limits of civil districts are only imperfectly known to the public, and in some instances to the incumbents themselves, especially when the latter are new clerical men, who have failed to obtain from their predecessors correct information on the subject. Furthermore, the Church authorities have published no complete list of the ecclesiastical subdivisions of the entire country, and it cannot therefore be a matter of surprise that the numbers returned as the population of the several districts, although in every instance submitted to examination of the incumbents previous to publication, are in some cases approximate rather than strictly accurate. Since 1856 the functions of the Commissioners for building new churches have been merged in those of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners; the latter body and the Bishop being now the sole authorities empowered to assign legal districts to churches, where this not done by special Act of Parliament.

NAVY CHAPLAINS AND NAVAL INSTRUCTORS.

THE attention of the Clergy is called to the following paper, issued by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, respecting the pay and retirement pensions of chaplains in the Royal Navy, and naval instructors. Special advantages are held out to those who are able to undertake the double office of chaplain and naval instructor; and clergymen wishing to take only temporary service in the navy, will, if properly qualified, be appointed "Acting Chaplains for Temporary Service," occupying, while so employed, the same position and enjoying the same privileges as ordinary naval chaplains.

REGULATIONS FOR CHAPLAINS AND NAVAL INSTRUCTORS.

FOR THE INFORMATION OF CANDIDATES.

1. No person will be appointed to a chaplaincy in the Royal Navy who has not been ordained deacon and priest of the Church of England, or who has not been admitted to the same Holy Orders by the lawful authority of one of the churches within the realm of Great Britain or Ireland which are in communion with the Church of England, or whose age exceeds thirty-five years, or who holds any benefice with a cure of souls, or who does not produce testimonials from the bishop of the diocese in which he was last licensed, addressed to the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, or who has not been examined by some competent person appointed for that purpose by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, and has been reported by him to be in every respect a fit and proper person to fill the situation of chaplain with respectability and advantage to her Majesty's service.

2. Chaplains to be retired at the age of sixty, or at any age if they have not served for five years.

3. To have the option of retiring at the age of fifty-five, and to be retired, irrespective of age, at the discretion of their Lordships, if found physically, or from any other cause, unfit to serve.

4. Any chaplain who obtains from their Lordships permission to accept a living, or desires to retire from the service, may, if he has not less than ten years' service, be retired with pay on the following scale, viz.:—

After 10 years' service ...	50 l . per annum.
" 15 "	100 l .
" 20 "	the amount earned by service under Order in Council of 22nd February, 1870, varying from the half-pay to a maximum of 400 l .

5. Chaplains who have less than ten years' service, and accept a living, will be considered as desiring to resign the service, and will accordingly not be entitled to any pecuniary allowance or to half or retired pay.

6. Full pay of chaplains or naval instructors:—

		Year of 365 days.		One day.

8. Clergymen in priests' orders will be allowed to take temporary service in the Navy, without any restriction as to age, and will be appointed "Acting Chaplains for Temporary Service." While so employed they will occupy the same position, enjoy all the same privileges, and be subject to the same regulations, as ordinary naval chaplains. They will receive 219l. a year (or 12s. a day); but they will not be entitled to half pay, or any other advantages, at the termination of their temporary service. Candidates must present themselves at the Admiralty, bringing with them their letters of orders, testimonials, &c., preparatory to their being examined by the Chaplain of Greenwich Hospital as to their fitness for these appointments. Preliminary applications should be made in writing to the Secretary of the Admiralty.

N.B.—All the above officers are entitled to be victualled when on board ship, or to receive the allowance in lieu (1s. 6d. a day) when detached on duty. There is also a widow's pension varying from 50l. to 70l. a year according to length of service; and a compassionate allowance to children varying from 9l. to 14l. per annum for each child, if in needy circumstances.

(At this moment there are a few vacancies for chaplains, and also for gentlemen who are able to undertake the double office of chaplain and naval instructor. There are no vacancies for naval instructors at present.)

TWENTY-SECOND REPORT FROM THE CHURCH ESTATES COMMISSIONERS.

10, Whitehall-place,
1st March, 1873.

SIR,—We, the Church Estates Commissioners, have the honour to make our Annual Report of our proceedings under the Act passed in the fourteenth and fifteenth years of her Majesty, chapter one hundred and four, intituled "An Act to facilitate the Management and Improvement of Episcopal and Capitular Estates in England," and under the Act passed in the seventeenth and eighteenth years of her Majesty, chapter one hundred and sixteen, intituled "An Act to continue and amend an Act to facilitate the Management and Improvement of Episcopal and Capitular Estates in England," and in the Act passed in the twenty-second and twenty-third years of her Majesty, chapter forty-six, intituled "An Act to continue and Amend the Act concerning the Management of Episcopal and Capitular Estates in England," and under the Act passed in the twenty-third and twenty-fourth years of her Majesty, chapter one hundred and twenty-four, intituled "An Act to further amend the Acts relating to the Ecclesiastical Commissioners and the Act Concerning the Management of Episcopal and Capitular Estates in England," and under the Expiring Laws Continuance Acts of 1866, 1867, 1868, 1869, 1870, 1871, and 1872.

We last year reported that the transactions approved by us, between August, 1851, and March, 1872, were 3182 in number, and that the value in fee of the Estates so agreed to be dealt with amounted to about 11,690,000l.

We have during this year approved the terms agreed upon in three cases; two being cases of sales of reversions, and one a case of purchase of a leasehold interest, as set out in the annexed Schedule, and the value in fee of the Estates so agreed to be dealt with is approximately 15,000l. The aggregate number of cases approved by us is therefore 3185, and the value of the property dealt with amounts to about 11,695,000l.

In the schedule are also set forth two cases of enfranchisement of copyholds of inheritance effected under the above-mentioned Acts.

The Commutation of the Estates of the Dean and Chapter of Durham, to which we referred in our last Report, has now been effected.

We beg to repeat that in the year 1850, Parliament passed the Act 13 and 14 Vict. cap. 94, under which we, by the name of Church Estates Commissioners, were appointed to be an Estates Committee to manage all the property of the Ecclesiastical Commission, subject to rules which might be laid down by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners, and to the proviso that the Ecclesiastical Commissioners might add two other members of their own body to be additional members of such Estates Committee. In the succeeding session, Parliament passed the Act 14 and 15 Vict. cap. 104, under which we alone were charged with the superintendence of sales, purchases, and exchanges to be voluntarily agreed upon between Bishops and Chapters and other Cathedral Corporations and their lessees. No remuneration was awarded to the Commissioners under this Act for the performance of these additional duties.

Between that date and the present time several amending and continuation Acts have been passed relating to both series of duties, and it would be convenient and is desirable that such business as may remain to be transacted under the Acts governing the proceedings on which we are now reporting should be discharged by the Estates Committee of the Ecclesiastical Commission, and not by us acting in a separate and distinct capacity.

We have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your obedient Servants,

CHICHESTER.

T. D. ACLAND.

J. R. MOWBRAY.

The Right Honourable the Secretary of State for the Home Department.

QUEEN ANNE'S BOUNTY.

Return to an Order of the House of Lords, dated 18th July, 1873, for Copy of the Annual Report of the Governors of Queen Anne's Bounty, with the Balance Sheet of the Corporation to 31st December, 1872.

REPORT.

In reviewing the transactions of the year 1872, the Governors of Queen Anne's Bounty again have the pleasure to record the receipt of large sums from public and private benefactors towards relieving the wants of poorly-endowed benefices in England and Wales.

These sums they have been enabled to meet with augmentations, provided out of the funds entrusted to them. The names of the sixty-four benefices augmented, together with particulars, are set forth in the annexed schedule. In a great number of cases both the benefaction money and the grant in augmentation are to be expended on residence houses.

The Governors have also received considerable sums for benefices by way of free gifts and endowments, for which they have not been expected to make any corresponding grants.

The Board formerly refrained from working to the full extent the statutory powers reposed in them by Act 2 & 3 Vict. c. 49, but they now deem it desirable and are willing to accept any endowments and emoluments for the repair of churches and chapels, or for the use or benefit of the minister or curate of any church or chapel. The special regulation by which sums may be placed with the Board for the permanent use and benefit of stipendiary curates has been recently exercised.

The new branch of business arising out of the Ecclesiastical Dilapidations Act, 1871, although experience may suggest some modifications, seems likely to prove one of lasting advantage to the Church of England. One improvement already made has been found extremely useful. An Act was passed last year giving power to the Governors to limit the period during which loans granted under the Dilapidations Acts should be repaid, to less than thirty years. The Governors have in the case of almost all applications made for this purpose availed themselves of this power, and, with the exception of cases where the incumbent has only recently been appointed, have limited the repayment to a term of five years. They have thought it unfair to throw the repayment of these loans upon the living for the full period of thirty years, which was prescribed in the Gilbert's Acts; and when, in cases under the last-named Acts, extensive repairs are included in the works for which the loan is sought, the Governors would recommend that bishops and patrons should concur with them in the application of the same principle of a more rapid repayment of the loan.

The transactions of the office partake largely of a banking character. The total cash receipts for the year 1872 were 328,633l. 16s. 7d., and the total payments 307,641l. 9s. 5d.; the difference, 20,992l. 7s. 2d., appears to the credit in the cash balance.

The annual statements and balance sheets, certified by the Governors' professional auditor, are submitted with this Report.

By order of the Board,

(Signed) JOSEPH K. ASTON,
Secretary and Treasurer.

Bounty Office, Westminster,
16th July, 1873.

TITHE COMMISSION.

Copy of the Report of the Tithe Commissioners to her Majesty's Secretary of State for the Home Department, dated 31st January, 1873.

[FOR THE YEAR 1872.]

Copyhold Inclosure and Tithe Consolidated Commission, 31st January, 1873.

SIR,—It is our duty to forward to you the Report of our Proceedings in the Tithe Department of this Consolidated Commission, to the close of the year 1872.

We have received 7070 agreements, and confirmed 6778.

We have made 5648 drafts of compulsory awards, and confirmed 5450.

In 12,228 districts, as will be seen from the above statement, the Tithes have been commuted by confirmed agreements or confirmed awards.

In 414 of these districts the Rent-charges have been disposed of by Redemption or Merger.

We have received 11,788 apportionments, and confirmed 11,784.

We have made 4513 altered apportionments, and confirmed 3927; and of these 169 have been received, and 144 confirmed during the year 1872.

We have received 1268 applications for the Exchange of Glebe Lands, and confirmed 1133 of such exchanges; and of these 36 applications were received, and 21 exchanges confirmed, during the past year.

We have received 1789 applications for the Redemption of Rent-charges, and have completed 1840 of such redemptions, and of these, 157 were received and 130 completed, during the year 1872.

We have received 12 applications to convert variable Corn-rents, payable under local Acts of Parliament, into Rent-charges, to be henceforth payable in like manner as ordinary Tithe Rent-charges, and have completed awards in six of these cases.

At the close of 1872 we had confirmed 15,023 distinct Mergers of Tithes or Rent-charges.

Our attention having been called to the question of creating, under the 42nd section of the Act, an Extraordinary Charge on Lands newly cultivated for Hop-grounds or Market-gardens, we think it may be useful to mention that since 1846 we have received 21 applications for charging an additional amount of Rent-charge per acre, by way of such extraordinary charge, 13 of which have been for Hop-grounds and 8 for Market-gardens, as shown in the annexed Abstract. The award upon the first of these applications was confirmed in 1846, and it will be seen that since that time the number of applications has amounted to less than one on the average for each year. The amount of Extraordinary Charge awarded by us in respect of Hop-grounds has varied from 8s. to 13s. 4d. per acre, and for Market-gardens from 3s. 6d. to 6s. per acre.

We annex an Abstract.

We have, &c.,

(Signed)

G. DARBY.

FIRE INSURANCE IN RELATION TO THE ECCLESIASTICAL DILAPIDATIONS ACT, 1871.

Copy "of the Minute of the Board of Queen Anne's Bounty, and of the Report of the Secretary upon the Operation of the 'Ecclesiastical Dilapidations Act, 1871,' in respect of the Insurance against Fire of the Buildings belonging to Benefices."

MINUTE.

Resolved unanimously,

THAT the Governors having considered this Report, determine to wait for a time, but record their opinion that it strengthens the impression entertained by them that it is desirable in the interest of the Church that a measure on Fire Insurance similar to the Bill submitted to the House of Lords last Session should become law.

REPORT.

To the Governors of Queen Anne's Bounty.

My Lords and Gentlemen,—At the commencement of another Session it seems desirable that I should report to your honourable Board the progress made on the subject of Fire Insurance in relation to the Ecclesiastical Dilapidations Act, 1871.

This Act directs every incumbent to insure the buildings belonging to his benefice against loss or damage by fire to the extent of three-fifths of the value of such buildings. The term "buildings" includes "houses of residence, chancels, walls, fences, and other buildings and things which an incumbent is by law or custom bound to maintain in repair."

There are ambiguities under different sections of the Act. By section 47 it would appear that an outgoing incumbent, or the representatives of a deceased incumbent, cannot be held to be liable to any claim for dilapidations in respect of buildings burnt or damaged by fire, when thus partially insured; yet an incumbent in possession of a benefice, although he also may have complied with the Act as to insurance, is by section 57 bound to pay any sum required, beyond the insurance money, to reinstate and make good the destroyed or damaged buildings; and this latter direction is so emphatic that it would no doubt operate in restriction of an incumbent's power to borrow under the Gilberts Acts.

The Governors were advised that the terms of section 54, requiring every incumbent to insure his house of residence, farm, and other buildings, in an office selected by the incumbent to the satisfaction of the Governors, in at least three-fifths of the value thereof, threw no responsibility upon the Governors as to the extent of the insurance; that that devolved upon the incumbent; and the enactment amounted only to this, that the name of the insurance office should be submitted to and approved of by the Governors.

From a Parliamentary Return (House of Commons Paper, Session 1872, No. 432) herewith submitted, it appears that 8187 incumbents state that the buildings belonging to their benefices have been insured; but 4111 do not make any return upon the subject.

After the passing of the Dilapidations Act, namely, in August and September, 1871, the Governors freely advertised in the public journals the requirements of the Act as to Fire Insurance; and it soon came within your secretary's knowledge that more than one insurance company reprinted the Governors' advertisement, and circulated it, together with a prospectus of their company, by post, to every incumbent in England and Wales; so that all incumbents have had notice of the provisions of the Act.

The 55th section enacts, "Every such insurance shall be effected in the joint names of the incumbent and the Governors." But notwithstanding the advertisements, published at some cost to the Governors, and the circular letter sent by the offices to every incumbent, there is no doubt, I believe, that this enactment is almost disregarded; because it is my duty to state to your honourable Board, that up to this date only 690 incumbents have submitted the names of the offices in which they insure for the approval of the Governors.

This omission to comply with the statute is of importance. It may prevent the due operation of the certificate of protection of further liability for five years from dilapidations. It will certainly tend to reduce to a nullity the 56th section, which prescribes that when buildings are destroyed or damaged, and the insurance office shall elect to pay the sum insured, instead of causing the buildings to be reinstated, "the sum so paid shall be paid to the Governors," and dealt with in the manner prescribed by the Act. Therefore, unless new policies are effected in, or old policies are endorsed with, the joint names of the incumbent and the Governors, the insurances cannot be said to be in pursuance of the Act; and for want of notice the companies, contrary to the Act, must still pay over insurance moneys to the incumbents.

It will be within the knowledge of the Board, that great complaints have been made by many of the clergy in several dioceses, when called upon to produce their insurance receipts; and that, too, whether an inspection fee was or was not demanded by the diocesan officer. No provision is made by the Act to enable the Bishop or Archdeacon to compel the production of the insurance receipt.

The Legislature evidently intended to enforce insurance amongst incumbents. A public duty is entrusted to the Board; it is perhaps one of a troublesome, expensive, and thankless character, yet, as incumbents generally have not complied with the directions of the Act, I respectfully submit the facts of the case to your consideration.

I am, &c.

(Signed) JOSEPH K. ASTON,
Secretary and Treasurer.

Bounty Office,
18 February, 1873.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION ACT (1870) AMENDMENT, &c.

36 & 37 Vict. c. 86.

An Act to amend the Elementary Education Act (1870) and for other purposes connected therewith. [5th August, 1873.]

BE it enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

Preliminary.

1. Short Title.—This Act may be cited as the Elementary Education Act, 1873; and this Act and the Elementary Education Act, 1870 (in this Act referred to as the principal Act), may be cited together as the Elementary Education Acts, 1870 and 1873.

2. Construction of Act.—This Act shall be construed as one with the principal Act, and the expression "this Act" in the principal Act shall be construed to include this Act.

Expenses of Education.

3. Repeal of 18 & 19 Vict. c. 34 (Denison's Act), and substitution of other provisions.—The Act of the session of the eighteenth and nineteenth years of the reign of her present Majesty, chapter thirty-four, intituled "An Act to provide for the education of children in the receipt of outdoor relief," is hereby repealed as from the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four; and in lieu thereof be it enacted as follows:—

Where relief out of the workhouse is given by the guardians or their order by way of weekly or other continuing allowance to the parent of any child between five and thirteen years of age, or to any such child, it shall be a condition for the continuance of such relief that elementary education in reading, writing, and arithmetic shall (unless either there is some reasonable excuse within the meaning of section seventy-four of the principal Act, or the child has reached such standard of education as may from time to time be fixed for the purpose of this Act, so far as regards any district in which byelaws under section seventy-four of the principal Act are in force by any such byelaw, and in any other district by a minute of the Education Department, or the child is employed in pursuance of a certificate under "The Agricultural Children Act, 1873," and is not attending school,) be provided for such child, and the guardians shall give such further relief (if any) as may be necessary for that purpose.

Any such relief to a parent as above mentioned shall not be granted or refused on condition of the child attending any public elementary school other than such as may be selected by the parent.

The guardians shall not have power under this section to give any relief to a parent in order to enable such parent to pay more than the ordinary fee payable at the school which he selects, or more than one farthing for each attendance at such school, as defined by the minutes of the Education Department for the time being in force with respect to the Government grant.

All relief given by guardians under this section shall be paid out of their common fund, and where given by the guardians of any union in the metropolis as defined by the Metropolitan Poor Act, 1867, shall be deemed to be expense repayable from the Metropolitan Common Poor Fund, within the meaning of section sixty-nine of that Act, and shall be repaid to such guardian accordingly.

4. Power of Local Government Board as to relief and guardians.—The Local Government Board shall have the like powers with respect to guardians acting under and relief given in pursuance of this Act, as they have with respect to guardians acting under and relief given in pursuance of the Acts relating to the relief of the poor, and relief given in pursuance of this Act shall be deemed to be relief within the meaning of those Acts.

Elections.

5. Confirmation of orders as to elections, &c.—The orders and regulations of the Education Department mentioned in the first schedule to this Act, and all orders of the Education Department incorporating the said orders or regulations, so far as they so incorporate them, are hereby confirmed, and shall be deemed to have been duly made, and to have been within the powers contained in the principal Act, and shall continue in force until revoked or altered by any order made under the provisions of the principal Act as amended by this Act.

6. Election of School Board.—The principal Act shall be construed as if there were substituted for the rules numbered one and three in the first part of the second schedule to the principal Act the rules in the second schedule to this Act, and the references in the principal Act to the second schedule to that Act, or the first part of that schedule, shall be construed to refer to the said schedule or the first part thereof, with the provisions so substituted; but the said substitution shall not affect anything done before the passing of this Act.

7. Overseers to allow inspection of rate books and otherwise assist returning officers.—If any overseer or other officer has in his possession or under his control any rate book or other document which under the Elementary Education Acts, 1870 and 1873, or any order made thereunder, constitutes the register of persons entitled to vote at an election of a school board, or at the passing of a resolution for an application for a school board, and such overseer or other officer refuses or fails to comply with the directions of any order of the Education Department confirmed by this Act, or made in pursuance of the Elementary Education Acts, 1870 and 1873, with respect to the production, inspection, or copying of such book or document, or the assisting any returning officer at any such election or passing of a resolution, such overseer or officer shall be liable, on summary conviction, to a penalty not exceeding five pounds for every day during which he so refuses or fails.

8. Amendment of 33 & 34 Vict. c. 75, s. 91, as to corrupt practices at elections.—Every person who under the principal Act is disqualified by conviction for corrupt practices at any election from exercising any franchise for any term of years shall be also disqualified during the same term of years from being a member of a school board and from holding any municipal office.

9. Questioning of election and resolution.—The election of any member of a school board, and the passing of a resolution for an application for a school board under the Elementary Education Acts, 1850 and 1873, shall not be questioned except within six months after the declaration of the election of such member or of the passing of such resolution, whether such declaration was made before or after the passing of this Act.

Miscellaneous Amendments of 33 & 34 Vict. c. 75.

10. Amendment of 33 & 34 Vict. c. 75, s. 57, as to loans.—The principal Act and Acts referring thereto shall be construed as if, for section fifty-seven, which is repealed by this Act, there were substituted the following section:—

Where a school board have incurred or require to incur any expense, either—

- (a.) in providing or enlarging a schoolhouse; or
- (b.) in paying off any debt charged on a schoolhouse provided by them, or on any land acquired by them by gift, transfer, purchase, or otherwise for the purposes of this Act; or they may, with the consent of the Education Department, spread the payment over such number of years not exceeding fifty, as may be sanctioned by the Education Department, and may, with the like consent, for that purpose borrow money on security of the school fund and local rate, and may charge that fund and the local rate with the payment of the principal and interest due in respect of the loan. They may, if they so agree with the mortgagees, pay the amount borrowed with the interest by equal annual instalments not exceeding fifty, and if they do not so agree they shall annually set aside one-fiftieth of the sum borrowed as a sinking fund; Provided that no such consent of the Education Department shall be granted unless proof be given to their satisfaction that the additional school accommodation which it is proposed to supply is required in order to provide for the educational wants of the district:

For the purpose of such borrowing the clauses of "The Commissioners Clauses Act, 1847," with respect to the mortgages to be executed by the commissioners, shall be incorporated with this Act; and in the construction of those clauses for the purpose of this Act, this Act shall be deemed to be the special Act, and the school board which is borrowing shall be deemed to be the commissioners:—

The Public Works Loan Commissioners may, on the recommendation of the Education Department, lend any money required under this section on the security of the school fund and local rate without requiring any further or other security, such loan to be repaid within such number of years not exceeding fifty, as may be recommended by the Education Department, and to bear interest at the rate of three and a half per cent. per annum.

The said substitution shall not affect anything done before the passing of this Act, except that anything done before the passing of this Act which would have been legal if the said substitution had been made shall be legal.

11. Amendment of 33 & 34 Vict. c. 75, ss. 12, 40.—The provisions of section twelve of the principal Act shall extend to authorize the Education Department, if they think fit, to form a united school district, and upon such union to cause a school board to be formed for such united school district, in like manner and under the like circumstances as it authorizes them to cause a school board to be formed for any school district, without making the inquiry or publishing the notices required by the principal Act, but after such inquiry, public or other, and such notice as the Education Department think sufficient: Provided that a resolution in favour of union shall be passed in each district separately, and if a school board has been elected in any such district, by the school board.

12. Union of detached parts of parishes for purposes of Act.—Where any part of a parish is detached from the principal part of a parish, the Education Department may, with the consent of the Local Government Board, by order direct that each such part of the said parish shall, and the same shall accordingly, as from the date of the order or any later date specified in the order, be, for the purposes of the principal Act and this Act, a parish by itself, and section fifty-seven of the principal Act shall apply thereto in like manner as if such part of a parish were the part of a parish situate outside a borough.

The provisions of section fifty-six of the principal Act, with respect to raising a sum from any place which is part of a parish, shall, where necessary, apply to a part of a parish, although under this section it is deemed to be a parish by itself.

13. Power of school board to accept gifts for educational purposes.—A school board shall be able and be deemed always to have been able to be constituted trustees for any educational endowment or charity for purposes connected with education, whether such endowment or charity was established before or after the passing of the principal Act, and to have and always to have had power to accept any real or personal property given to them as an educational endowment or upon trust for any purposes connected with education: Provided that—

(1.) Nothing in this section shall enable a school board to be trustees for or accept any educational endowment, charity, or trust, the purposes of which are inconsistent with the principles on which the school board are required by section fourteen of the principal Act to conduct schools provided by them; and,

(2.) Every school connected with such endowment, charity, or trust shall be deemed to be a school provided by the school board, except that nothing in this section shall authorize the school board to expend any money out of the local rate for any purpose other than elementary education; and,

(3.) Nothing in this section shall affect the law of mortmain or the Act of the ninth year of the reign of King George the Second, chapter thirty-six.

14. Amendment of 29 & 30 Vict. c. 118, s. 12, as applied to school boards.—Where a school board exercises the powers of a prison authority under the Industrial Schools Act, 1868, not less than fourteen days, instead of not less than two months, previous notice shall be given of the intention of the school board to take into consideration the making of the contribution mentioned in section twelve of that Act.

15. Amendment of 33 & 34 Vict. c. 75, s. 20.—For the purpose of the purchase of land otherwise than by agreement under section twenty of the principal Act, the Act confirming an order of the Education Department for such purchase, together with the principal Act, shall be deemed to be the special Act.

16. Valuation List in Metropolis.—The principal Act shall be construed as if there were substituted for sub-section ten of section thirty-seven thereof the following words:—

The school board shall apportion the amount required to be raised to meet the deficiency in the school fund among the different parts of the metropolis mentioned in the third column of the first schedule to this Act, in proportion to the rateable value of such parts, as shown by the valuation lists for the time being in force under the Valuation (Metropolis) Act, 1869, or any other Act for making valuation lists, or, where there is no such valuation list, in the same proportion and according to the same basis as and according to which the then last rate made by the Metropolitan Board of Works was assessed.

The said substitution shall not affect anything done before the passing of this Act, except that anything done before the passing of this Act which would have been legal if the said substitution had been made shall be legal.

17. Making up and examination of accounts.—The accounts of a school board shall be made up and balanced to the twenty-fifth day of March and twenty-ninth day of September in every year, or, if so directed by regulation under this Act, annually to one of those days in every year.

The accounts shall be examined by the school board and signed by the chairman within such time, not exceeding two months after the day to which they are made up, as may be fixed by a regulation under this Act.

As soon as practicable after the accounts are so signed they shall be audited.

18. Amendment of 33 & 34 Vict. c. 75, s. 60.—The principal Act shall be construed as if for sub-section nine of section sixty thereof there were substituted the following words:—

Subject to the provisions of this section, the Local Government Board may from time to time make such regulations as may be necessary respecting the form of keeping the accounts, the audit thereof, the mode of publishing the time and place of holding the audit, the time within which the accounts are to be examined by the school board and signed by the chairman, and (with the consent of the Education Department,) the school boards or class of school boards the accounts of which are to be made up only annually, and the day to which they are to be so made up in every year.

The said substitution shall not affect anything done before the passing of this Act, except that anything done before the passing of this Act which would have been legal if the said substitution had been made, shall be legal.

19. Extension of 33 & 34 Vict. c. 75, s. 70, to returns.—Where the Education Department have power under the principal Act to require any local authority to send to them a return, the Education Department, without requiring such local authority to make the return, shall have the same power of appointing a person or persons to make such return as they would have under section seventy of the principal Act if the local authority had been required to make and had failed to make such return.

20. Notices for purposes of Elementary Education Acts.—Notices and other matters required by the Elementary Education Acts, 1870 and 1873, to be published, shall, unless otherwise expressly provided, be published either by advertisement, and by affixing the same on the doors of churches and chapels, and other public places, or in such other manner as the Education Department may either generally or with respect to any particular district, place, or notice, or class of districts, places, or notices, by order determine, as being in their opinion sufficient for giving information to all persons interested; and all overseers, assistant overseers, and officers of guardians shall comply with the directions of the Education Department with respect to such notices, and any expenses incurred by them in carrying into effect this section may be paid as their expenses under the Acts relating to the relief of the poor.

Every person who wilfully tears down, injures, or defaces any notice affixed in pursuance of the Elementary Education Acts, 1870 and 1873, or any order of the Education Department made thereunder, shall be liable on summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding forty shillings.

21. Amendment of 33 & 34 Vict. c. 75, 3rd Sched.—The regulations in the third schedule to this Act shall be substituted for the regulations in the third schedule to the principal Act which are repealed by this Act, but such substitution shall not affect anything done before the passing of this Act.

22. Returns by schools to school boards.—In any school district in which a byelaw under section seventy-four of the principal Act is in force, the school board of such district may from time to time supply forms to any public elementary school for the purpose of obtaining reasonable information with respect to the attendance of children residing in their district who attend such school; and the managers of such school, if they fail to cause such forms to be truly filled up and returned in manner required by the school board, or to cause such information to be given as will enable the school board to ascertain whether a child resident within their district and attending that school attends the same in manner required by the said byelaw, shall cause to be produced to such member or officer of the school board or other person as may be duly authorized in that behalf by the school board at any reasonable time when required by him, the registers and other books and documents containing information with respect to the attendance of children at such school, and shall permit him to inspect and take copies of and extracts from the same.

If any difference arises between a school board and the managers of a public elementary school as to whether the information required by the said forms is or is not reasonable, such difference shall be referred to the Education Department, whose decision shall be final.

Legal Proceedings.

23. Legal proceedings.—All offences and penalties under the principal Act or this Act, or any byelaw under the principal Act, which may be prosecuted or recovered on summary conviction may be prosecuted and recovered in manner provided by the Summary Jurisdiction Acts.

The court of summary jurisdiction, when hearing and determining an information or complaint, shall be constituted either of two or more justices of the peace in petty sessions sitting at a place appointed for holding petty sessions, or of some magistrate or officer sitting alone or with others at some court or other place appointed for the administration of justice, and for the time being empowered by law to do alone any act authorized to be done by more than one justice of the peace.

24. Regulations as to legal proceedings.—With respect to proceedings before a court of summary jurisdiction for offences and penalties under the principal Act, or this Act, or any byelaw under the principal Act, the following provisions shall have effect:—

- (1.) The description of the offence in the words of the Act or byelaw, or as near thereto as may be, shall be sufficient in law:
- (2.) Any exception, exemption, proviso, excuse, or qualification, whether it does or not accompany the description of the offence in the Act or byelaw, may be proved by the defendant, but need not be specified or negatived in the information, and if so specified or negatived, no proof in relation to the matters so specified or negatived shall be required on the part of the informant:
- (3.) In any proceeding for an offence under a byelaw, the court may, instead of inflicting a penalty, make an order directing that the child shall attend school, and that if he fail so to do, the person on whom such order is made shall pay a penalty not exceeding the penalty to which he is liable for failing to comply with the byelaw:
- (4.) Any justice may require by summons any parent or employer of a child, required by a byelaw to attend school, to produce the child before a court of summary jurisdiction, and any person failing, without reasonable excuse to the satisfaction of the court, to comply with such summons shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty shillings:
- (5.) A certificate purporting to be under the hand of the principal teacher of a public elementary school, stating that a child is or is not attending such school, or stating the particulars of the attendance of a child at such school, or stating that a child has been certified by one of her Majesty's Inspectors to have reached a particular standard of education, shall be evidence of the facts stated in such certificate:
- (6.) Where a child is apparently of the age alleged for the purposes of the proceeding, it shall lie on the defendant to prove that the child is not of such age:
- (7.) If a child is attending an elementary school which is not a public elementary school, it shall lie on the defendant to show that the school is efficient, and the court, in considering whether any elementary school is efficient, shall have regard to the age of the child to the standard of education corresponding to such age prescribed by minutes of the Education Department for the time being in force with regard to the Parliamentary grant:

- (8.) Where a school board are, by reason of the default of the managers or prior of an elementary school, unable to ascertain whether a child is resident within the district of the school board and attends such school, the school board shall lie on the defendant to show the child has attended school in conformity with the byelaw:
- (9.) Any person may appear by any member of his family or any other person authorized by him in that behalf.

25. Forgery of certificate, and giving false information.—Every person who forges or counterfeits any certificate which is by this Act made evidence of any matter, or gives or signs such certificate which is to his knowledge in any material particular, or knowing any certificate to be forged, counterfeit, or false, makes use thereof, shall be liable on summary conviction to imprisonment for a period exceeding three months, with or without labour.

Definitions and Repeal.

26. Schedules part of Act.—The schedules to this Act shall be of the same force as if they were enacted in the body of this Act.

27. Interpretation.—In this Act—
"Guardians."—The term "guardians" includes any body of persons performing the functions of guardians within the meaning of the Acts relating to the relief of the poor.
"Union."—The term "union" means a union or incorporation of parishes under any general or local Act, and any single parish having guardians as defined by the Act under any general or local Act:
"Common fund."—The term "common fund" means, in the case of a union which comprises only one parish, the fund applicable to the relief of the poor of such parish.
"Summary Jurisdiction Acts."—The term "Summary Jurisdiction Acts" means the Acts of the session of the eleventh and twelfth years of the reign of her present Majesty, chapter forty-three, intituled "An Act to facilitate the performance of the duties of Justices of the Peace out of sessions within England and Wales with respect to summary convictions and orders," inclusive of any Acts amending the same:
"Court of summary jurisdiction."—The term "court of summary jurisdiction" means any justice or justices of the peace, metropolitan police magistrate, stipendiary or other magistrate or officer, by whatever name called, to whom jurisdiction is given by the Summary Jurisdiction Acts.

28. Repeal and savings.—The principal Act is hereby repealed, to the extent specified in the third column of the fourth schedule to this Act. Provided that—

- (1.) Any order or regulation of the Education Department made under any enactment hereby repealed shall continue in force as if it had been made under this Act:
- (2.) Any school board elected under any enactment hereby repealed shall continue to be deemed to have been elected under this Act:
- (3.) The repeal of any Act or enactment by this Act shall not—
  - (a.) Affect anything duly done or suffered under any such Act or enactment; or
  - (b.) Affect any right, privilege, obligation, or liability acquired, accrued, or incurred under any such Act or enactment, or byelaw; or
  - (c.) Affect any penalty, forfeiture, or punishment incurred in respect of any offence committed against any such Act, enactment, or byelaw; or (d.) Affect any investigation, legal proceeding, or remedy in respect of any such right, privilege, obligation, liability, penalty, forfeiture, or punishment as aforesaid; and any such investigation, legal proceeding, and remedy may be carried on as if this Act had not passed.

SCHEDULES.

FIRST SCHEDULE.

Orders and Regulations of the Education Department relating to Elections of and Applications for School Boards.

- 7th Oct., 1870. Order fixing the boundaries of the divisions of the metropolis, with the number of members to be elected by each division, and appointing the returning officer for the first election of the school board for London and his deputies.
- 27th Oct., 1870. Order regulating the first election of the school board for London.
- 27th Oct., 1870. General regulations for the first election of school boards in boroughs.
- 21st Dec., 1870. General regulations for the first election of school boards in parishes not situate within municipal boroughs, or within the Metropolis.
- 21st Dec., 1870. General regulations as to passing resolutions for application for school boards in parishes not situate within municipal boroughs or within the Metropolis.
- 6th Jan., 1871. Regulations for the first election of a school board for the district of the local board of Oxford.
- 15th March, 1873. General regulations as to the formation of united school districts.

SECOND SCHEDULE.

Rules respecting Election of Members of a School Board.

(1.) The election of a school board shall be held at such time and in such manner and in accordance with such regulations as the Education Department may from time to time by order prescribe; and the Education Department may by order appoint or direct the appointment and make regulations as to the duties, remuneration, and expenses of any officers requisite for the purpose of such election, and do and make regulations respecting all other necessary things preliminary or incidental to such election, and revoke or alter any previous order, whether confirmed by or made in pursuance of this Act.

Provided as follows:—

- (a.) The candidates at every election shall be nominated in writing:
- (b.) Any poll shall, so far as circumstances admit, be conducted in like manner in which the poll at a contested municipal election is directed by the Ballot Act, 1872, to be conducted; and, subject to any exceptions or modifications contained in any order of the Education Department made in pursuance of this Act, the Ballot Act, 1872, shall apply in the case of the election of a school board in like manner as if the provisions thereof were herein enacted with the substitution of "school board election" for "municipal election."
- (c.) In a parish which is not situate in the city of London or in a borough, other than the borough of Oxford, the book containing the last rate made for such parish more than one month previously to any date shall be the register of the ratepayers entitled to vote in such parish at that date; and every ratepayer whose name appears in such rate book shall be entitled to vote unless he is disqualified for voting, and no person shall be entitled to vote whose name does not so appear.

(2.) Elections to fill casual vacancies in the Metropolis and elsewhere shall be held only on the day in the year appointed or prescribed for the election of members, unless the Education Department order an election to be held on some other day, in pursuance of the rule numbered sixteen in the first part of the second schedule to the principal Act.

(3.) An order made in pursuance of this schedule shall, save as otherwise provided by such order, apply to all school boards.

THIRD SCHEDULE.

Proceedings of School Board.

The following regulations shall be construed as part of the conditions mentioned in rule one in the third schedule to the principal Act; that is to say,

- (b.) Not less than one ordinary meeting shall be held in each month, but where the board ordinarily meet more than once in every month, they may, by resolution passed by a majority of not less than two-thirds of the members present and voting on the question, resolve not to have an ordinary meeting in the months of August and September, or one of such months. One meeting shall be held as soon as possible after every triennial election of members:
- (f.) The names of the members present, and in the case of a division the names of those voting upon each question shall be recorded:
- (g.) No business involving the appointment or dismissal of a teacher, any new expense, or any payment (except the ordinary periodical payments), or any business which under this Act requires the consent of the Education Department, shall be transacted unless notice in writing of such business has been sent to every member four days at least before the meeting.

FOURTH SCHEDULE.

Act Repealed.

A description or citation of a portion of an Act is inclusive of the words, section, or other part first or last mentioned, or otherwise referred to as forming the beginning or as forming the end of the portion comprised in the description or citation.

Session and Chapter.	Short Title.	Extent of Repeal.

The sub-section numbered ten in section thirty-seven; section fifty-seven; section fifty-nine; the sub-section numbered nine in section sixty; sections eighty and eighty-nine; section ninety, from "knowingly personate" to "voting in any such election or;" the rules numbered one and three in the first part of the second schedule; so much of the rule numbered six in the third part of the second schedule as relates to fixing a day for a casual election, and the conditions in rule one of the third schedule marked (b.) (f.) and (g.)

ENDOWED SCHOOLS ACT (1869) AMENDMENT.

36 & 37 VICT. c. 87.

An Act to continue and amend the Endowed Schools Act, 1869. [5th August, 1873.]

BE it enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

1. Construction of Act and short title.—This Act shall be construed as one with the Endowed Schools Act, 1869 (in this Act referred to as the principal Act), and the principal Act and this Act may be cited together as the Endowed Schools Acts, 1869 and 1873, and this Act may be cited as the Endowed Schools Act, 1873.

2. Commencement of Act.—This Act shall come into operation on the first day of September one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three, which day is in this Act referred to as the commencement of this Act.

3. Exception of elementary schools from 32 & 33 Vict. c. 56, and application thereto of 33 & 34 Vict. c. 76, s. 75.—Where an endowed school, not being a grammar school as defined by the Act of the session of the third and fourth years of the reign of her present Majesty, chapter seventy-seven, or a department of such a grammar school, is at the commencement of this Act an elementary school within the meaning of the Elementary Education Act, 1870, and the gross average annual income of the aggregate educational endowments of such school during the three years next before such commencement did not exceed one hundred pounds, in such case after the commencement of this Act nothing in the principal Act shall apply to such school or the endowments thereof, and section seventy-five of the Elementary Education Act, 1870, shall apply to such school and the endowments thereof in like manner as if it were a school which, at the commencement of the principal Act, was in receipt of an annual parliamentary grant, and schemes may accordingly be framed, submitted, and approved under the said section with reference to such school and endowments.

Provided, that nothing in this section shall prevent the Commissioners from making, on the application of the governing body of an endowment of which part only is an educational endowment to which this section applies, a scheme dealing, in pursuance of the principal Act, with the part of such endowment applicable or applied to other charitable uses, and in such case the scheme may deal with the endowed school and endowment thereof in like manner as if this section had not been enacted.

The governing body of every school to which this section applies may, if they think fit, charge such fees to the scholars as may from time to time be approved by the Committee of Council on Education, and shall permit the school to be inspected and the scholars therein to be examined by one of her Majesty's Inspectors of Schools at such times and in such manner as the Committee of Council on Education may from time to time direct.

The certificate of the Charity Commissioners for England and Wales that a school is or is not a school to which this section applies shall be conclusive evidence of the fact for the purposes of the principal Act and this section.

4. Extension of Endowed Schools Acts to endowments, &c., vested in her Majesty in right of the Crown or Duchy of Lancaster.—Where any endowment, or any right of holding or any power of government of or management over any endowment, or any power of appointing officers, teachers, exhibitioners, or others, either in any endowed school or with emoluments out of any endowment, is vested in her Majesty in right of her Crown or of the Duchy of Lancaster, the Endowed Schools Acts, 1869 and 1873, shall extend to such endowment, right, or power; and the term "governing body" in those Acts shall be deemed to include her Majesty:

Provided that—

- (1.) Any scheme with respect to such endowment, right, or power shall not be approved by the Committee of Council on Education unless her Majesty assent to such scheme:
  - (2.) All notices and documents required to be served on or sent to a governing body for the purposes of the Endowed Schools Acts, 1869 and 1873, may be served on or sent to the Lord Chancellor or the Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, as the case may require:
  - (3.) With the consent of her Majesty, a scheme may deal with any such right or power without saving or making due compensation therefor:
  - (4.) Any assent or consent of her Majesty required for the purpose of the Endowed Schools Acts, 1869 and 1873, may be signified by her Majesty's Sign Manual, countersigned by the Lord Chancellor or by the Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, as the case may require.
5. Amendment of 32 & 33 Vict. c. 56, s. 11.—It shall be the duty of the Commissioners in every scheme to have the same regard to the educational interests of persons in a particular class in life as they are by section eleven of the principal Act required to have to the educational interests of any particular class of persons.
6. Amendment of 32 & 33 Vict. c. 56, s. 17, as to holders of office being retained on governing body.—Where under the express terms of the original instrument of foundation of any endowed school or educational endowment the holder of any particular office is a member of the governing body of the school or endowment, nothing in section seventeen of the principal Act shall be deemed to prevent the holder for the time being of such office from being retained as a member of the governing body of such school or endowment.
7. Extension of 32 & 33 Vict. c. 56, s. 19, as to schools excepted from the provisions as to religion.—A scheme relating to any educational endowment originally given to charitable uses since the passing of the Act of the first year of the reign of William and Mary, chapter eighteen (commonly called the Toleration Act), if by the express terms of the original instrument of foundation, or of the statutes or regulations made by the founder, or under his authority in his lifetime, or within fifty years after his death (which terms have been observed down to the commencement of the principal Act), it is required that the majority of the members of the governing body or that the majority of the persons electing the governing body of such endowment, or that the principal teacher employed in the school, or that the scholars educated by the endowment, shall be members of a particular church, sect, or denomination, shall be excepted from the provisions of the principal Act mentioned in section nineteen of the principal Act in like manner as a scheme mentioned in that section, and that section shall be construed as if a scheme relating to such an educational endowment as is above in this section mentioned were a scheme relating to an educational endowment mentioned in sub-section two of the said section.
8. Amendment of 32 & 33 Vict. c. 56, s. 25, as a new endowment mixed with old buildings.—Whereas by section twenty-five of the principal Act it is enacted as follows: "Where an endowment or part of an endowment originally given to charitable uses less than fifty years before the commencement of this Act has, by reason of having been spent on school buildings or teachers residences, or playground or gardens attached to such buildings or residences, become so mixed with an old endowment given more than fifty years before the passing of this Act, that in the opinion of the Commissioners (subject to appeal to her Majesty in Council) it cannot conveniently be separated from such old endowment, then the whole endowment shall for the purposes of this Act be deemed to be an endowment originally given to charitable uses more than fifty years before the commencement of this Act," and it is expedient to amend the said section: Be it therefore enacted, that—

Where it appears to the Commissioners (subject to appeal to her Majesty in Council) that the endowment originally given less than fifty years before the commencement of the principal Act is in value not less than the old endowment and was given under the belief that the old endowment was attached to some particular church, sect, or denomination, a scheme relating to such endowment shall provide for the giving of religious instruction to the scholars belonging to such church, sect, or denomination.

9. Scheme as to endowments in which schools under 31 & 32 Vict. c. 118, are interested.—Where two or more schools are jointly interested in an educational endowment, and one of such schools is a school mentioned in section three of "The Public Schools Act, 1868," the Commissioners shall not, without the consent of the special Commissioners for the time being under "The Public Schools Act, 1868," deal by any scheme with the interest of such last-mentioned school in the endowment, but, with the consent of those Commissioners to the dealing with such interest, may, by a scheme under the principal Act, deal with such interest as well as with all other interests in such endowment.

10. Explanation of 32 & 33 Vict. c. 56, s. 28, as to alteration of schemes.—A provision inserted in pursuance of section twenty-eight of the principal Act in any scheme, whether made before or after the passing of this Act, shall not be deemed to give the Charity Commissioners for England and Wales any power to alter any portions of such scheme except by a scheme established in pursuance of the Acts for the time being in force relating to such Charity Commissioners, or any of those Acts, and upon the same application, and after the same procedure and notices, and subject to the same right of appeal as a scheme established under those Acts by the Charity Commissioners in the exercise of their ordinary jurisdiction.

11. Alteration of religious instruction.—Where a scheme under the principal Act gives the governing body of any endowed school power to make regulations respecting the religious instruction given at such school, the scheme shall also provide for any alteration in such regulations not taking effect until the expiration of not less than one year after notice of the making of the alteration is given.

12. Amendment of 32 & 33 Vict. c. 56, ss. 34 to 36, as to time for objections to schemes.—Whereas by section thirty-four of the principal Act it is provided as follows: "During three months after the first publication of the draft of a scheme the Commissioners shall receive any objections or suggestions made to them in writing respecting such scheme, and shall receive any alternative scheme submitted to them by the governing body of any endowment to which the scheme of the Commissioners relates;" and it is expedient to reduce the said period of three months to two months:

Be it therefore enacted, that—

"Two months" shall be substituted for "three months" in the said section, and all references in the principal Act to the said three months shall be construed to refer to the said two months.

13. Amendment of 32 & 33 Vict. c. 56, s. 37, as to approval of Committee of Council on Education to schemes.—The Committee of Council on Education as soon as a scheme is submitted to them shall, before approving the same, cause the scheme to be published and circulated in such manner as they think sufficient for giving information to all persons interested, together with a notice stating that during one month after the first publication of such notice the Committee of Council on Education will receive any objections or suggestions made to them in writing respecting such scheme.

After the expiration of the said month the Committee of Council on Education may, if they think fit, approve the scheme or may remit the scheme, with such declaration as the nature of the case seems to them to require, to the Commissioners; and section forty of the principal Act, as to the proceedings where a scheme is remitted with a declaration, shall in such case apply.

The Committee of Council on Education as soon as they approve a scheme shall forthwith cause the scheme so approved to be published and circulated in such manner as they think sufficient for giving information to all persons interested, together with a notice stating that unless within two months after the publication of the scheme when approved a petition is presented in pursuance of the principal Act to her Majesty in Council against the scheme, or such petition as in this section mentioned is presented to the Committee of Council on Education, such scheme may be approved by her Majesty without being laid before Parliament.

During the said two months a petition praying that the scheme may be laid before Parliament may be presented to the Committee of Council on Education by the governing body of the endowment to which the scheme relates, or by the council of any municipal borough directly affected by the scheme, or by any inhabitant ratepayers (not less than twenty) of any municipal borough or place directly affected by the scheme.

14. Amendment of 32 & 33 Vict. c. 56, s. 39, as to appeal to Queen in Council.—Whereas by section thirty-nine of the principal Act it is provided that her Majesty may by Order in Council refer any petition to her Majesty in Council for the consideration and advice of five members at the least of her Privy Council, of whom two, not including the Lord President, shall be members of the Judicial Committee, and it is expedient to provide that such petition should be heard by persons of legal experience: Be it therefore enacted, that—

Every such petition to her Majesty in Council in pursuance of section thirty-nine of the principal Act shall be referred to the Judicial Committee of her Majesty's Privy Council in like manner as if it were an appeal from a court from which an appeal lies to her Majesty in Council, and the Judicial Committee shall hear and deal with such petitions in like manner as such appeals, and shall have the same power with respect to the costs of parties to the petition and otherwise as they have with respect to any such appeal, and shall make to her Majesty a report or recommendation thereon (the nature of which shall be stated in open court) in like manner as in the case of any such appeal.

Any power by the Supreme Court of Judicature Act, 1873, conferred on her Majesty of directing that appeals which ought to be heard by the Judicial Committee shall be heard by the appellate branch of such Court shall, if her Majesty in Council thinks fit so to direct, apply to petitions presented in pursuance of the said section thirty-nine in like manner as if they were appeals, and if either an Order in Council relating to other appeals or any separate Order in Council direct that such petitions be referred for hearing to and be heard by the appellate branch of the said Court, the same shall be referred to and heard by that branch of the Court accordingly.

15. Laying of schemes before Parliament, and approval of her Majesty in Council.—If, at the expiration of the time for a petition to her Majesty in Council against any scheme, no such petition has been presented, and no petition praying that the scheme be laid before Parliament has been presented in pursuance of this Act to the Committee of Council on Education, it shall be lawful for her Majesty by Order in Council to declare her approbation of such scheme without the same being laid before Parliament.

If any such petition has been presented, the scheme shall be laid before both Houses of Parliament, and shall be so laid forthwith, if Parliament is then sitting, after the expiration of the time for the presentation of a petition to her Majesty in Council, or (if a petition is presented to her Majesty in Council against the scheme) after any later date at which the petition is withdrawn, or her Majesty in Council directs the scheme to be laid before Parliament, and if Parliament be not then sitting, shall be so laid within three weeks after the beginning of the next ensuing session of Parliament; and if such scheme has lain before Parliament for not less than two months during the same session, then unless an address has been presented within such two months by one or other of the Houses of Parliament praying her Majesty to withhold her consent from such scheme or any part thereof, it shall be lawful for her Majesty by Order in Council to declare her approbation of such scheme or any part thereof to which such address does not relate.

16. Annual report.—The Commissioners shall make to the Committee of Council on Education in every year a report of their proceedings under the principal Act and this Act, and such report shall be laid before Parliament. Such report shall describe all schemes not laid before Parliament which have been approved by her Majesty during the year for which such report is made.

17. Continuance of powers of making schemes.—The power of making and approving a scheme under the principal Act as amended by this Act shall continue as respects unopposed schemes until thirty-first December one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, and as respects schemes against which a petition shall have been presented to the Committee of Council on Education, as in this Act provided, until the fifteenth August one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, and no longer.

18. Graduate of any university of the United Kingdom, if otherwise fit, shall be held qualified where the statutes require the head master to be a graduate of Oxford or Cambridge.—Whenever according to the rules, regulations, statutes, trusts, or constitution of any school, being an endowed school within the meaning of "The Endowed Schools Act, 1869," and with regard to which the said Commissioners are thereby empowered to make a new scheme, the head master or any other master is required to be a graduate of some specified university or universities, a graduate of any university of the United Kingdom having the degree which would be a qualification if it had been granted by one of the said specified universities, shall in future, if otherwise qualified, be eligible as such head master or other master.

19. Application of Act to schemes laid before Parliament during present session.—Where a scheme has been laid before Parliament during the present session, but has not at the expiration of such session lain for forty days before Parliament, and no address has been presented by either House of Parliament praying her Majesty to withhold her consent from such scheme or any part thereof, the Committee of Council on Education may, if they think fit, cause to be published and circulated, in such manner as they think sufficient for giving information to all persons interested, a notice stating that unless within two months after the first publication of the notice such petition as is in this section mentioned is presented to the Committee of Council on Education such scheme may be forthwith approved by her Majesty.

During the said two months a petition praying that the scheme may lie before Parliament during two months as directed by this Act may be presented to the Committee of Council on Education by any governing body, council, or ratepayers, who would, if such scheme were approved by such Committee after the commencement of this Act, be authorized by this Act to present a petition praying that such scheme may be laid before Parliament.

If no such petition is presented within the said two months it shall be lawful for her Majesty by Order in Council to declare her approbation of such scheme in like manner as if it had lain for forty days before Parliament in accordance with the principal Act.

Any scheme to which this section applies and which is not approved by her Majesty under this section shall continue to lie before Parliament, and the provisions of this Act shall apply in like manner as if such scheme had been laid before Parliament in pursuance of this Act.

20. Repeal.—The principal Act is hereby repealed as from the commencement of this Act to the extent mentioned in the third column of the schedule of this Act: Provided, that this repeal shall not—

- Affect anything duly done or suffered under any enactment hereby repealed; or
- Affect any right, obligation, or liability acquired or incurred under any such enactment; or
- Affect any legal proceeding or remedy in respect of such right, obligation, or liability.

SCHEDULE.

A description or citation of a portion of an Act is inclusive of the words or other part first or last mentioned or otherwise referred to as forming the beginning or as forming the end of the portion comprised in the description or citation.

Session and Chapter.	Title.	Extent of Repeal.
32 & 33 Vict. c. 56.	The Endowed Schools Act, 1869.	Section thirty-seven down to "all persons interested," section thirty-nine from "her Majesty by Order in Council may refer any such petition," down to "information for obtaining a scheme," and section forty-one, except as regards schemes which have lain for forty days before Parliament before the commencement of this Act.

UNIVERSITY AND CLERICAL INTELLIGENCE.

Oxford.

QUEEN'S COLLEGE.

An examination will be held at this college, on Thursday, October 2, and following days, for the purpose of filling up:—1. Two Scholarships of the yearly value of 90*l.*, tenable for five years; candidates must not have attained the age of twenty years. 2. A Dixon Exhibition, open for this turn, of the yearly value of 80*l.*, tenable for five years. 3. A Wilson Exhibition, open for this turn, of the yearly value of 80*l.*, tenable for five years. The Exhibitions are tenable separately or together, and the Wilson is tenable with one of the Scholarships. One of the Scholarships will be awarded for classics, and one for mathematics, in each competent candidates offer themselves.

ALL SOULS COLLEGE.

An election to two Fellowships in this college will take place on Tuesday, the 4th of November next. Candidates are requested to call on the Warden on Saturday, October 26th, between the hours of three and five p.m., and must bring with them the following papers:—

- Certificate of birth, or other evidence of age.
- Testimonials from their college (a) of good conduct, (b) of having passed all the examinations required by the University for the Degree of Bachelor of Arts, and either of having been placed in the First Class in one at least of the Public Examinations of the University, or of having obtained some Prize or Scholarship within the University unattached to any college or hall, and open to general competition among the members of the University.

The examination will commence on Monday, October 27th, at ten a.m., in the college hall. Candidates will be examined in subjects recognized in the Schools of Jurisprudence and Modern History within the University.

MAGDALEN COLLEGE.

There will be an election at this college in October next to a Classical Fellowship, the holder of which will be required to take Holy Orders; and to a Fellowship in Natural Science, the holder of which will not be required to take Holy Orders.

The examination for the former will be chiefly in subjects recognized in the School of Litteræ Humaniores. In the examination for the latter, which will be held in common with Merton college, preference will be given to proficiency in Biology, the college reserving to themselves the power of taking candidates in any other branch of Natural Science, if it shall seem expedient to do so.

Candidates must have passed all the examinations required by the University of Oxford or the University of Cambridge for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, and must not be in possession of any ecclesiastical benefice, or of any property, Government pension, or office tenable for life or during good behaviour (not being an academic office within the University of Oxford), the clear annual value of which shall exceed 230*l.*

They must also produce testimonials of their fitness to become Fellows of the college as a place of religion, learning, and education, and these must be sent to the President on or before Monday, the 29th instant.

Candidates for the Natural Science Fellowship are required to call on the President on Monday, the 6th of October, and Candidates for the Classical Fellowship on Monday, the 13th of October, between the hours of three and five, or eight and nine, p.m.

The examination in each case will commence on the following day.

There will also be an election at this college in October next to not less than six Demys and one Exhibition. Testimonials of good conduct will be required, and a certificate of birth must be presented to the President on Monday, October 6, between the hours of four and six, or eight or nine p.m. The examination will commence on the following day.

JESUS COLLEGE.

There will be an election to five Scholarships at this college on Tuesday, October 14. The annual value of the Scholarships is 80*l.*, and they are tenable to the close of the twentieth Term from the scholar's matriculation. Candidates must not on the day of election be full twenty-four years old. One of these Scholarships is an Open Scholarship. It will be given according to proficiency in physical science, combined with the classical attainments required by the University. Four Scholarships are to be filled up by "the election of persons being natives of Wales or Monmouthshire, or who shall have been educated for the four years last preceding the election, or last preceding their matriculation, if already members of the University, at one of the Free Grammar schools of Abergavenny, Bangor, Beaumaris, and Botolphsgay, or the Free school of Cowbridge." These Scholarships will be assigned according to proficiency in classics, or according to proficiency in mathematics combined with the classical attainments required by the University, as the merit of the candidates shall be judged to be the greatest. On Friday, October 17, fifteen Exhibitions, each of the annual value of 40*l.*, and tenable as the Scholarships, will be filled up by "the election of deserving persons, being natives of Wales or Monmouthshire, whom the Principal and Fellows shall have ascertained to be in need of support at the University." The examination for the Scholarships will count for the Exhibitions also in the case of those who are candidates for either.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE.

There will be an election at this college on October 18 to one Scholarship, of the value of 100*l.* per annum, tenable for five years. The subject of examination will be modern history.

MERTON COLLEGE.

An election will be held in this college on Thursday, the 30th of October, to two Fellowships. The examination for one of these Fellowships will be in mathematics, for the other in physical science. The election to the physical science Fellowship will be decided with respect to proficiency in physics, but candidates will have the opportunity of exhibiting a knowledge of chemistry as supplementary to physics. The examination in both these subjects will be partly practical, partly by papers, and will be held in common with Magdalen college.

WADHAM COLLEGE.

Two of the Exhibitions founded at this college by Dr. Hody for the encouragement of the study of the Hebrew language are now vacant. They are of the annual value of 80*l.* each, and are tenable for four years upon condition of residence and of a terminal examination by the Regius Professor of Hebrew. The exhibitions are open to all undergraduate members of the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge of less than two years' standing. No one, however, will be elected whose attainments in classics and mathematics are insufficient for the ordinary course of study at Oxford.

LINCOLN COLLEGE.

Four open Scholarships of 80*l.* will be filled up in this college in October next. At the same time will be filled up the Tasham Scholarship, value about 52*l.*, for men born or educated in the county of Bucks. Some Exhibitions of 50*l.* may be awarded at the same time. Candidates are to give in their names before Tuesday, October 7.

The following is a list of the subjects of the University Prizes for 1874:—The Chancellor's—For Latin Verse, "Melita." For a Latin Essay, "De Coloniae apud Romanos Militaribus."

For an English Essay, "The Short Periods during which Art has remained at its zenith in various Countries."
Sir Roger Newdigate's—"The Last of the Red Indians."

The Gaisford Prizes—1. For a Platonic Dialogue, "Esse aliquid Manes." "De spectris et simulacris mortuorum quid revera sentiendum sit." 2. For Greek Comic Iambics, "You follow the Young Prince . . . you are too impatient to bear corpses. Farewell."

Dr. Ellerton's Prize—For a Theological Essay, "The Effect of Christianity in Ameliorating the Condition of Women."

Cambridge.

THE PREVIOUS EXAMINATION.

The following epitome of the new regulations for the Previous Examination, or "Little-Go," has been prepared by the Rev. H. Latham, one of the Syndicate, and Tutor of Trinity hall:—

The Previous Examination is to consist of two parts:—

Part 1.—(1) One of the four Gospels in the original Greek; (2) One of the Latin Classics; (3) One of the Greek Classics; (4) A paper of questions on Latin and Greek Grammar, with reference principally to the set Latin and Greek subjects.

Part 2.—(1) Paley's "Evidences;" (2) "Ruclid," Books I., II., and III., definitions 1–10 of Book V., and prop. 1–10 and A, Book VI.; Arithmetic; (4) Elementary Algebra, up to and including quadratic equations involving two unknown quantities, with the elementary rules of ratio, proportion, and variation.

Instead of the short vidæ vocæ examination in each of the Classical subjects, a more thorough vidæ vocæ examination will be given in the Latin subjects only. The Classical papers may be expected henceforth to contain questions on the explanation of the subject-matter, with such plain questions in grammar (especially accidence), history, and geography as arise out of the subjects.

The Previous Examination will be held early in June and also on the 5th of December. The subjects in the December examination will be the same as those in June.

Candidates may present themselves in one or both parts of the examination at either of these times.

The first examination under this scheme will be held in June, 1874.

The Freshmen of October, 1873, who are candidates for Honours, may present themselves for the Previous Examination at the end of the Lent Term, 1874, if specially recommended by their Tutor.

The Freshmen of October, 1874, may, with the Tutor's permission, present themselves at the end of their first term; but, in order to pass at that time, they must be approved in both parts of the examination, and also in the additional examination of candidates for Honours. The additional subjects will be:—(1) Algebra, viz. arithmetical and geometrical progression and logarithms, together with easy problems in elementary algebra generally; (2) Elementary trigonometry; (3) Elementary mechanics. The Classical subjects for March, 1874 (the last examination under the old system) are:—the Gospel of St. Luke, "Medea" of Euripides, and Cicero's second Philippic. Those for June (the first examination under the new system) are:—The Gospel of St. Matthew, Herodotus, Book VI., and Ovid's "Fasti," Books V. and VI.

Ordinations.

The Ordination of the Bishop of Oxford, on Trinity Sunday last, was held at Ouddesdon, and not in Christ Church Cathedral, as stated in our last number. The list there given is incomplete, and does not give the list of Priests (twelve) then ordained.

MISCELLANEOUS INTELLIGENCE.

(From the "Guardian.")

We understand that the Bishopric of Capetown has been offered to and declined by the Rev. W. Walsham How, Rector of Whittington, Oswestry.

Dr. Tuffnell, formerly Fellow of Wadham College, Oxford, who, in 1859, was consecrated first Bishop of Brisbane, is stated by the Record to be about to resign his See.

At the recent Diocesan Synod of Newcastle, Bishop Tyrell had an address presented to him on the completion of the twenty-fifth year of his Episcopate; and in memory of the occasion a chancel is to be built in completion of the new cathedral church at Newcastle.

A telegram has been received by the South American Missionary Society, intimating that Dr. Stirling, Bishop of the Falklands, was proceeding to the River Plate by the vessel "Patagonia." "The Chupat vessel had been wrecked, and the Society's Mission schooner 'Allen Gardiner' had been placed at the disposal of the manager of the Welsh colony at the Chupat settlement in Patagonia."

The opinion of counsel, requested by the Rev. H. G. Pirie and the Earl of Glasgow, as to the recent election of a Bishop of Argyll and the Isles, has been received. In substance it declares—(1) That the Very Rev. J. G. Cazenove was duly elected Bishop on the 31st of July last; but (2) it recommends the clergy and lay representatives who voted for him to yield respectful obedience to any further mandate, and to appear and renew their votes for him under reserve and protest as to the sufficiency of the first election; with view to an appeal to the College of Bishops against the confirmation of the election of any other presbyter.

Oxford Local Examinations.—The Division Lists of the Oxford Local Examinations for both junior and senior candidates have appeared. The number of candidates in the Senior List is 243, of whom 22 appear in the First Division, 39 in the Second, and 182 in the Third. The number of candidates examined this year was 473, the same as that of last year, while the number of those who passed this year, and have therefore obtained the title of Associate in Arts, is 243, as compared with 267 in 1872. Of the junior candidates, 709 have passed this year out of 1116. In 1872 only 546 passed out of 1082. This shows a satisfactory improvement. 58 names appear in the First Division, 116 in the Second, and 535 in the Third. H. T. Gerrans, from Bristol Grammar School, and A. Knowles, from New Kingswood School, are bracketed at the head of the First Division. An asterisk follows the name of each candidate who satisfied the Examiners in the rudiments of faith and religion. The letters A, B, C, D, E, F, indicate the First Division in the several sections; the letters a, b, c, d, e, f, the Second Division.

Senior Candidates.—First Division (in Order of Merit).—A. M. A. H. Rogers,* A, B, F; W. R. Bradley, A, B, C, D, King Edward's School, Birmingham; W. T. A. Barber,* A, B, C, New Kingswood School, Bath; W. H. Gunston,* A, C, D, F, St. Olave's Grammar School, Southwark; W. J. Salter,* A, B, c, the College School, Taunton; J. S. Barford,* A, B, C, f, Christ's College, Finchley; O. Goodwin, A, b, c, d, King Edward's School, Birmingham; A. R. Gridley,* A, b, C, Wolverhampton Grammar School; E. N. Baker,* A, b, C, e, Christ's College, Finchley; B. P. Scott,* A, C, d, Middle-Class School, City Road; A. E. Cullen, A, b, D, High School, Nottingham; T. F. Tout,* A, D, St. Olave's Grammar School, Southwark; S. T. H. Saunders, A, B, C, King Edward VI.'s School, Berkhamstead; H. G. Fuller,* A, b, C, f, Christ's College, Finchley; F. W. Pattenden,* B, Boston Grammar School; M. I. Preston, A, B, d, High School, Nottingham; R. H. Chope,* A, b, C, New Kingswood School, Bath; J. H. Gaikin,* A, B, c, New Kingswood School, Bath; G. Aplin,* A, c, Devon County School, West Buckland; C. Purchas,* A, B, High School, Nottingham; T. Eland,* A, b, c, Market Harborough Grammar School; A. Hillard,* A, B, c, New Kingswood School, Bath.

Second Division (in Alphabetical Order).—A. F. Allman,* B, St. Alban's School, Jersey; C. A. Anderson,* A, d, Cheltenham Grammar-school; A. Ashley,* A, b, Christ's college, Finchley; H. Bacchus,* B: E. P. Bartrum,* b, f; J. Bradley,* A, b, New Kingswood school, Bath; E. Bredin,* A, c, D, Liverpool college; F. Canner,* A, b, Acton Collegiate school; E. M. Cavenaugh,* A, d, St. Olave's Grammar-school, Southwark; B. W. D. Durkee, A, Amersham hall, Caversham; J. D. Ellison,* b, c, Bickerton House, Southport; R. A. English, A, c, Liverpool Institute; W. J. Foxell, F, North London Collegiate school, Camden Town; F. J. Fraser,* A, B, King Edward VI.'s school, Berkhamstead; F. J. M. Gould,* A, b, the College school, Taunton; W. W. Hayes,* A, b, Western Grammar-school, Brompton; St. J. Hewitt,* A, C, Lord Weymouth's Grammar-school, Warminster; J. Hughes,* A, d, Liverpool Institute; J. H. James,* b, Basset-road-villas, Camborne; T. T. Kennedy, c, St. John's Wood Collegiate school; F. W. Kingston,* A, B, Abington House, Northampton; G. Lennox, A, Middle-class school, City-road; J. B. Mackintosh,* C, D, Liverpool Institute; A. Meeson,* A, c, d, Liverpool Institute; E. H. Merriman, A, f, Downshire House, Reading; W. H. W. Nicholls,* b; W. Ray,* A, B, Christ's college, Finchley; W. P. Root, B, Chigwell Grammar-school; N. C. Schou,* A, b, Old Trafford school, Manchester; A. B. Shaw, b, New Kingswood school, Bath; A. M. M. Stedman,* A, B, King Edward VI.'s school, Berkhamstead; G. L. Stevens, A, c, d, Middle-class school, City-road; F. Summerhayes,* the College school, Taunton; J. Tempest, A, Ware-housemen and Clerks' school, Cheadle; E. H. Wagstaff, b, King Edward VI.'s school, Berkhamstead; W. H. Waters,* A, c, D, e, Middle-class school, City-road; J. H. White, A, Old Trafford school, Manchester; W. H. Whitfield, C, the College school, Ramsgate; H. W. Wombill,* A, Clarendon House, Kennington-road.

The candidate who heads the list in the First Division, obtaining first classes in English, in languages (Latin, Greek, French, and German), and in music, is a daughter of Mr. Rogers, Tooke Professor of Political Economy at King's college. This is the first occasion of the appearance of a female candidate in the first division. Upon reference to what is a new feature in the lists—namely, the order of merit of the first twenty candidates in each language separately—it appears that in Latin F. W. Pattenden is first, Miss Rogers second; in Greek, M. I. Preston first, Miss Rogers second; in French, Miss Rogers and H. C. De Hersant are equal; in German, Miss Bartrum is first, Miss Rogers second. Another female candidate, Miss Bacchus, takes the fourth place in French. An interesting question is raised by the position of Miss Rogers in this list. Certain Exhibitions are offered to successful candidates by Balliol and Worcester. The question is thus raised as to the admission of women to University residence, examinations, and degrees.

METROPOLIS.

Union of City Benefices.—By the Union of Benefices Act, the parish church of St. Antholin and St. John the Baptist in Watling-street will shortly be pulled down, and these parishes are now united with the parishes of St. Mary Aldermay and St. Thomas the Apostle. The present Rector of St. Mary Aldermay, the Rev. L. B. White, who was inducted to the living in 1857, is now by the new scheme the Rector of the united parishes of St. Mary Aldermay and St. Thomas the Apostle, with St. Antholin and St. John the Baptist. A fresh induction being necessary, Mr. White was formally inducted as Rector of the united parishes on Tuesday last, 2nd September, by the Rev. M. Gibbs, in the presence of the churchwardens, &c. of the several parishes. At the conclusion of the ceremony, Mr. Gibbs gave some details of the work done under the Union of Benefices Act. This, he said, was the third induction this year under his superintendence, and he trusted that the apathy which formerly existed in matters connected with the city churches would give way to the necessity for further improvements, and be conducted with as little trouble and as much kindness as had been shown in the union of these parishes.

PAYMENT OF PROCURATIONS.

To the Editor of the "Ecclesiastical Gazette."

SIR,—The strictures of "An Archdeacon" and "Mr. Hansell" on my letter you kindly inserted in your GAZETTE in reply to the Bishop of Lincoln on the subject of Procurations, are so unfair, knowing, as they do, the question I raised, that I must ask the favour of a few words in reply.

I was sued by Archdeacon Bouverie for four years' procurations, 1856-7-8-9, of 7s. 7½d. each. One year the Archdeacon was inhibited by the Bishop, the second was a parochial visitation, the two others were merely Archdeacon's courts. I admitted my liability for the parochial visitation, and paid the Archdeacon at the time of his making it.

This issue I wished to try.—Were procurations a personal payment for parochial visitations, or were they due as demanded to the office and dignity of the Archdeacon? This question was becoming of importance, as Archdeacons were then urging the Archbishops and Bishops to obtain an Act of Parliament to appoint Deacons Inspectors of Churches and Parsonages, whom they should have to pay as well as the Archdeacon. "Mr. Barnes said" (see Norfolk Chronicle, August 4, 1860) "that the question involved in this suit appeared to be to be of larger importance than the payment of procurations for the Rectory of Knapton . . . as it was one which affected the Church at large, and especially the payment of permanent procurations to what would become a sinecure archdeaconry, if a Government Inspector of Churches were appointed." This Act has now passed. The Archdeacon is relieved of the principal object of his parochial visitation, obtaining answers to his questions through the Rural Dean. And I have no glebe-house or buildings, I suppose I shall be compelled by statute to pay fees to the Diocesan Inspector.

Dr. Gibson says, "The laws of the Church by visitation always mean visitation parochial;" and again, "By ancient canon law visitations were to be once a year . . . a personal repairing to every parish church, as appears from the assignment of procurations." Therefore Mr. Hansell's argument from Burns and Dr. Gibson fails. Indeed I challenge Mr. Hansell to produce any direct authority for payment of procurations except as a personal due for a parochial visitation.

That was the issue raised by me. I admitted my liability for the parochial visitation: I disputed the other three. I paid a procuration at the time of the parochial visitation, intending it to be for that year; the Archdeacon's Proctor in Court said it was for the previous year, and, not being able to produce the receipt, I then tendered in Court 7s. 7½d. for that year, in order to try the question I raised on its merits. Mr. Hansell, the Archdeacon's Proctor, objected. He knew and stated that the Chancellor's decree for that year must be against me, for I admitted my liability for one of the four years; and if I appealed to a higher Court against that decree, I knew as well as "An Archdeacon" and "Mr. Hansell" what would be the result. But still the issue in question between us would be undecided. The costs, upon taxation, were reduced from about 80l. to 50l.

I have not appeared to the Archdeacon's citation nor paid a procuration since, though I have tendered the amount at a parochial visitation.

As Mr. Hansell threatens to print and circulate the Chancellor's decree, having a few pamphlets left which I published at that time, I shall be happy to distribute them amongst any clergymen who may feel interested in the question.

Yours truly,
W. L. BARNES.

Pulham Rectory,
Sherborne, Dorset.

CHURCH PREFERMENT.

4, PALSGRAVE PLACE, STRAND,
LONDON, W.C.MR. LARA'S
MONTHLY SELECTION OF CHURCH PROPERTY FOR DISPOSAL AND WANTED.

1. ADVOWSON of VICARAGE in NORTH-AMPTONSHIRE. IMMEDIATE POSSESSION. Situation pretty and very healthy. The house is good, standing in handsome and productive grounds. The schools are in excellent order and well supported. Postal arrangements unexceptionable. Two Sunday Services. Population about 1000. To a moderately High Churchman the price would be only 2500/. The net income is 280/., increasing annually, and exclusive of parsonage. A favourite Market Town and first-class Railway Station within a mile.
2. WEST OF ENGLAND. IMMEDIATE POSSESSION. The ADVOWSON of a RECTORY in all respects desirably placed. Net income about 500/. a year with a first-rate residence suited in every way for the occupation of a gentleman. Good schools. Church buildings, without exception, in thorough repair. No interference in parochial matters. Moderate population. Price 6500/., but this sum might include, under certain circumstances, other advantages.
3. ADVOWSON of VICARAGE in a favourite locality within twenty miles from London. The income, from miscellaneous sources, is nearly, if not quite, 300/. a year; but, not being fixed, it will be sold, with IMMEDIATE POSSESSION, for 1600/. Nice cottage parsonage and fair garden. Church unexceptionable, and all expenses connected with it are paid by the parishioners. Population about 400. There is a Railway Station close at hand.
4. MIDLAND. IMMEDIATE POSSESSION. ADVOWSON of a VICARAGE. The net income, chiefly derivable from pasture land, is about 350/., and the house, which stands in glebe, is well worth 150/. per annum more. The church has been thoroughly restored. There is a good school, and the population is under 600. The parish is very healthy, with good society all round. Railway Station within a mile. ## ECCLESIASTICAL NOTICES.

The Archbishop of York purposes holding a General Ordination on Sunday, the 21st of December next (St. Thomas's Day). Candidates for Deacons' Orders should lose no time in obtaining permission from the Archbishop to offer themselves. Candidates from the University of Cambridge are required to produce a Certificate of having passed the Voluntary Theological Examination; those from Oxford, the Certificate of having attended the Divinity Lectures; those from Dublin, the Divinity Testimonium; and those from Durham, the Licence in Theology. All the necessary papers must be sent, one month before the day of Ordination, to the Archbishop's Secretary, T. S. Noble, Esq., Lendal, York.

The Bishop of London's next Ordination will be held on Sunday, December 21st. Candidates, when accepted by the Bishop, are to send their papers, with their addresses, one month before the day of Ordination, to his Lordship's Secretary, John B. Lee, Esq., 2, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, S.W. The Bishop requires all Candidates for Deacons' Orders to communicate in the first instance with his Lordship, and he will arrange for a personal interview.

The Bishop of Durham purposes holding his next Ordination on Sunday, December 21st. His Lordship requires from all Candidates for Holy Orders sufficient notice of their intention to present themselves for Ordination. Candidates from the University of Cambridge must produce a Certificate of having passed the Voluntary Theological Examination or the Theological School; those from Oxford, the Certificate of having attended the Divinity Lectures; those from Dublin, the Divinity Testimonium; and those from Durham, not being Graduates, the Licence in Theology. All the necessary papers must be sent, six weeks before the day of Ordination, to his Lordship's Secretary, John B. Lee, Esq., 2, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, S.W.

The Bishop-designate of Winchester purposes to hold an Ordination on Sunday, the 21st December. His Lordship requires from all Candidates for Deacons' Orders three months' notice of their intention to offer themselves for Ordination, and also a personal interview. Candidates from the University of Cambridge must have passed the Voluntary Theological Examination, and those from Oxford must produce a Certificate of having attended the Divinity Lectures. Candidates for Priests' Orders are expected to give two months' notice of their intention to the Bishop, and the necessary papers from all the Candidates must be sent, at least one month before the day of Ordination, to his Lordship's Secretary, John B. Lee, Esq., 2, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, S.W.

The Bishop of Norwich purposes to hold an Ordination on the Sunday after each Ember Week. Candidates for Deacons' or for Priests'

Orders are requested to inform the Bishop as soon as possible, and not less than three months before the time, of their intention to offer themselves for Ordination. Full instructions will then be forwarded.

The Bishop of Worcester holds an Ordination at each of the four Ember Seasons in every year. He wishes to have three months' notice from all Candidates for Deacons' Orders. Papers to be forwarded to the Bishop's Secretary, Alfred Hooper, Esq., Worcester, one month before the Ordination.

The Bishop of Hereford holds an Ordination (if necessary) at each of the four Ember Seasons in every year. Persons desirous of becoming Candidates are requested to communicate with the Bishop three months before each Ordination, and will receive full instructions as to the necessary papers on application to Mr. H. C. Beddoe, the Bishop's Secretary, The Close, Hereford.

The Bishop of Peterborough purposes holding his next Ordination on Sunday, the 21st December. Every Candidate for Deacons' or Priests' Orders in the diocese should write to the Bishop (at least three months previous to the Ordination) for permission to present himself for examination, stating his age, academic degree, and his then present residence. In the case of a Candidate for Deacons' Orders this application must be accompanied by a reference to three Clergymen to whom the Bishop may apply for information respecting him. The Bishop will appoint a personal interview, which is absolutely necessary. Candidates when accepted by his Lordship may obtain full instructions as to the necessary papers on application to the Diocesan Secretary, H. P. Gates, Esq., Peterborough, to whom they should be sent at least one month previous to Ordination.

The Bishop of Lincoln purposes holding an Ordination at Christmas. Persons desirous of becoming Candidates are requested to communi-

submitted the following letter from the Bishop of Adelaide, which had reached the Secretary during the vacation:—

"Bishop's Court, Adelaide, May 20, 1873.

MY DEAR SIR,—The discovery of rich gold reefs in the interior, about 150 miles from Palmerston, at Port Darwin, Northern Territory, on the great telegraph line from Adelaide to England, and the consequent rush of diggers to the scene, induces me to apply for help to build a church in Palmerston itself, the port and capital of this new colony. Last year the attorneys of S.P.G. here bought a site and some land in the country as endowment for a clergyman. I had already licensed Dr. Millner, the medical officer at Palmerston, as lay reader, and have lately licensed a bank manager and another man of business to the same office. It would be very desirable to build a school-church as soon as possible, and unfurl the banner of our Church among the reckless population which will quickly gather there. Building there is fifty per cent. dearer even than here. A plain building, which would serve afterwards for a schoolroom, is all that I would attempt at first. There are many proprietors of the land here who might be asked to contribute.

"I should think a sum of 750*l.* would be at least needed. One of my clergy has offered to go there, if he could have an income, in part at least, guaranteed. I have written on this subject to the S.P.G., in hopes they may be able to give their help. By my letters patent the Northern Territory is not included in the diocese of Adelaide, although it is annexed to this colony. As the telegraph has been constructed from hence, and many adventurers have gone from Adelaide, I have licensed the above lay readers, and now wish to send a clergyman and build a church, as the germ of a future diocese. Not merely a liberal, but a large grant, would not be out of place, in order to make a good beginning. I can only commend this object to the Board, for I feel morally sure that the Northern Territory, with its gold and tropical climate, and rich 'Maremma,' with coolie labour, will become a considerable colony shortly.

"I remain, very faithfully yours,
"A. ADELAIDE.

"Rev. H. Swabey,
"Secretary, S.P.C.K."

In consideration of the circumstances set forth in this letter, the Meeting, upon the recommendation of the Standing Committee, made a grant of 100*l.* for the proposed church at Palmerston, the Society's grant to be paid when the Bishop shall have certified that the receipt of it will lead to the immediate opening of the building for Divine service, and to its being free from all liability for debt.

Diocese of Tasmania.—The Bishop, writing from Hobart Town, on the 14th June, 1873, forwarded and recommended an application from the Rev. S. B. Fookes, Incumbent of Richmond, for a grant towards a new church to be erected in the township of Jerusalem, seventeen miles distant from Richmond. It appeared that there has been, till recently, a place of worship open to members of all denominations, but that this has fallen into irretrievable ruin. The Roman Catholic population has raised a handsome place of worship, and the members of the Church of England have determined to build the nave of a church capable of future enlargement by the addition of a chancel porch and vestry, at an estimated cost of about 300*l.* Of this sum 100*l.* have been raised or promised. There are no rich inhabitants. The Bishop says that the station is likely to become more important than it now is from the fact of a railway being now in course of construction through it.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 30*l.* in this case, the grant to be paid when the Bishop shall have certified that the receipt of it will lead to the immediate opening of the building for Divine service and to its being free from all liability for debt.

Diocese of Jamaica.—The Bishop of Kingston, writing from his diocese on the 24th June, 1873, made application, on behalf of the Rev. J. Cork, Rector of the large parish of St. Ann, in the Island of Jamaica, for a grant in aid of the erection of a building to be licensed as a chapel and also to be used as a school, at a place called Bamboo. The place is rapidly becoming populous, and is greatly in need of provision for religious worship and for education. It is about seven miles from St. Ann's and about ten from any other church, and in a wild district, only cultivated and settled here and there.

The total estimated cost is 132*l.*; of this the Jamaica Government, in special consideration of Mr. Cork's success in other similar undertakings, will give 50*l.* The Bishop spoke most highly of Mr. Cork, and asked for a liberal grant on condition (1) that the remainder of what is necessary to complete the building is first provided; and (2) that it is expended in such a manner as the Bishop approves.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 20*l.* on the usual conditions, for which see the two previous cases.

Diocese of British Columbia.—The Bishop, writing from New Westminster, on the 11th of June, 1873, forwarded and strongly recommended an application of the Rev. David Holmes, dated St. John's Parsonage, Yale, British Columbia, 16th June, 1873.

Mr. Holmes said, "We propose to build a well-finished substantial church at Chilliwack, a large and increasing agricultural settlement on the Fraser River, of about thirty miles by ten, and containing a population, including Indians, of 642 persons. At present the services are held in a schoolroom, which is sadly inconvenient and unsuited for church purposes." The building, including the site, is to be conveyed to the Bishop of the diocese. Total cost is to be 330*l.*, of which sum 240*l.* have been raised locally; 30*l.* more are expected, and a liberal grant to make up the deficiency is asked for.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 30*l.* in this case, on the same conditions as in the previous cases.

Diocese of Toronto.—The Bishop, writing from Toronto on the 24th of July, forwarded and recommended an application of the Rev. H. B. Owen, Incumbent of Albion and Mono, in his diocese.

The application is made for the church of St. Mark, in the village of Sandhill, in the parish of Albion and Mono, situate about thirty-two miles north of Toronto, in the province of Ontario.

"The population is over 300, of which about 125 are Church members, embraced in an area of about nine square miles.

"The cost of the church was estimated at 2000 dollars (400*l.*), of which 1600 dollars was subscribed, and 400 dollars given in labour. The church is a pretty Gothic building of brick, with bell-tower, &c., and will hold about 150 persons. The land was given by one of the church members.

"It is hoped that the building will be finished in about a month, and we are very anxious that it should be opened free from debt; but as the cost has exceeded the estimate by about 400 dollars, or 80*l.*, application is made to the Society."

The people have really made great efforts, Mr. Owen says, to build the church, the influence of which will, he is confident, sensibly and beneficially affect the neighbourhood.

It was agreed, upon the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 20*l.* for the completion of this church, the Society's grant to be paid when the receipt of it will lead to the church being ready for service and free from all liability for debt.

Diocese of Brisbane.—The Bishop counter-signed and forwarded one of the Society's forms of application for a grant for a new church in the parish of Wivenhoe, in his diocese.

The application was made by Mr. Henry M. Aldham, Chairman and Secretary of the Wivenhoe Church-building Fund.

The estimated cost of a church with 100 sittings is 200*l.*, towards which 79*l.* 4*s.* have been subscribed: all but 10*l.* of this amount was raised on the spot. About 20*l.* are expected from the Synod of the diocese and other sources.

The population is about 200, consisting of poor settlers, who are engaged in clearing, fencing, and cultivating small farms; they are, for the most part, either members of the Church of England, or Presbyterians, with a few Methodists. The proposed building will be invested in the name of "The Corporation of the Synod of the Diocese of Brisbane."

The settlement of Wivenhoe is rapidly increasing. With the exception of a very small chapel erected by the Methodists, there is no building for religious purposes nearer than eighteen miles. Church Services are regularly held by Mr. Aldham, a layman licensed by the Bishop, on Sundays at a private house, but the accommodation is very small.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to make a grant of 20*l.* for the completion of this church on the usual conditions.

The Diocese of Blomfontein.—The Bishop, writing from his diocese on the 17th July, 1873, reported that, by aid of the grant of 100*l.* made by the Society in October, 1870, he had succeeded in building a good schoolroom for boys, at a cost of about 500*l.* The room is only forty feet by eighteen; but the Bishop states that the cost of building is twice what it is in England. The carriage of material from the coast, as well as the original heavy cost of it, and the price of skilled and mechanical labour, are the causes of this.

The Bishop urges that no real and permanent influence for good can be exercised through education upon the country unless they can take boarders.

The schoolroom is now provided, but no master's house, nor any accommodation for boarding pupils; in consequence, many applications have to be refused.

The Church-people, and others who acknowledge the real benefit of the work which is going on, have held a meeting, and resolved to raise 600*l.*, to build a residence for the master; but this sum will only furnish a small cottage.

From funds at the disposal of the mission, the Bishop is able to guarantee the new master an income of 300*l.* a year for two years, the present school fees amounting to about 200*l.* a year.

Accommodation for boarders such as the Bishop is most anxious to supply would cost at least 400*l.* The Bishop says that he knows not where to look but to the Society. His people have everything to do for themselves—churches, services, schools, and clergy to support. They are not at present very wealthy, and the providing 600*l.* implies great interest and self-sacrifice on behalf of the work. "A Dutch education is provided in the Grey College; but such a system as we have established,"—these are the Bishop's words—"of which all denominations avail themselves—Wesleyans, Calvinists, and Jews—with a conscience clause, is most in demand.

"I would urge that any assistance which the Society can render should be offered at once, if I may so pray, so that the rooms for boarders may be provided, with the residence for the master."

The Standing Committee, having regard to the exceptional circumstances of the case, and to the efforts made by the residents, recommended a grant of 100*l.* for the purpose named in the Bishop's application. The grant was made on the understanding that the residence for the master would be provided by the residents, and also that a sufficient sum, together with the Society's grant, would be raised to provide accommodation for boarders.

Diocese of Christchurch, New Zealand.—The Bishop of Christchurch, writing from his diocese, on the 30th June, 1873, forwarded and recommended two applications for aid towards church building—the first for a new wooden church at Killinchy, in the parochial district of Ellesmere. "The estimated cost is 200*l*. Of this sum 150*l*. are in hand, about 50*l*. having been subscribed on the spot. The building will accommodate about seventy persons, and will be at least eight miles distant from any other church of our communion. The average attendance at services held in the schoolroom near the proposed site is about thirty-five. The site is invested in the Church Property Trustees of the diocese. The inhabitants, who are exerting themselves in a most satisfactory manner, are mostly small freeholders of fifty acres, who farm and live on their lands, and during the busy time of the year go out to day labour."

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 20*l*. in this case, on the usual conditions.

The second application was for aid towards a new church at Sumner, in the parish of Heathcote. "The estimated cost of this building is 350*l*., of which 100*l*. have been promised and another 100*l*. will probably be forthcoming: 60*l*. have been promised on the spot, and nearly the whole of the remaining 40*l*. has been promised by residents in the parish of Heathcote. The building will be of wood, on stone foundations, and will accommodate not less than sixty persons, and will be four miles from the nearest church. The site consists of five acres, is one of the original reserves of the 'Canterbury Association,' and is vested in the Church Property Trustees. There is not a single wealthy person resident at Sumner. The resident population is about 100. There are two hotel keepers, a few dairy farmers, fishermen, &c. All are members of the Church of England. Service is generally held at Sumner on Sundays, alternately by the Rev. G. J. Cholmondeley and a lay reader, in a private house. Sumner serves as a kind of watering-place for Christchurch, and is likely to increase. The opportunity of attending service in church would be regarded as a great boon by the large majority of visitors as well as by the residents."

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 15*l*., on the same conditions as in the other case.

Diocese of Ontario.—The Bishop of Ontario forwarded and recommended an application from the Rev. Hans Caulfeild, Incumbent of Oronfield, in his diocese, for a grant towards a new church.

"The population is about 2000, many of whom are either Roman Catholics, Presbyterians, or Wesleyans. They are by no means wealthy, consisting chiefly of tradesmen and mechanics. The total estimated cost of a church to accommodate 200 people is 2200 dollars = 550*l*., of which 1100 dollars have been already collected and expended on part of the building, which is already completed. There are 350 dollars in hand, and it is hoped that 500 dollars more will be raised.

"The population is rapidly increasing, in consequence of the village having become the terminus of the Canada Central Railway. The services are at present held in a public hall, where the accommodation is very poor."

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 20*l*. in this case, on the usual conditions.

Diocesan Inspection.—The Rev. Rupert H. Morris, Hon. Secretary of the St. David's Diocesan Board of Education, made application for a renewal of the grant for religious inspection in the diocese of St. David's. Mr. Morris urged that the diocese was exceptionally necessitous, and referred to the Monthly Report for March last, which contained an intimation of the Standing Committee's willingness to entertain applications from such dioceses. Mr. Morris wrote, "I greatly fear that without some such aid it will be impossible to continue a central system of inspection. The very small incomes of the majority of the livings in the diocese preclude all expectation of receiving much aid from the clergy, who in other dioceses contribute in the aggregate no inconsiderable sum towards boards of education.

"The better class of tradesmen and farmers, and many of the landowners, are in many parts (especially Cardiganshire and Upper Carmarthenshire) Dissenters. We have tried for one year what we could do when thrown on our own resources, and we have only been able to go on this year owing to the liberality of the Inspector in accepting a diminished salary of 250*l*., in lieu of 350*l*. Though the amount to be raised therefore was not more than was required last year, great difficulty has been felt in two of the four archdeacons, in providing their quota for the first two quarters, the money coming in very slowly; and in a third archdeaconry they are two quarters in arrear, the Treasurer declaring that he has no money.

"The Secretaries of the Archidiaconal Boards have made earnest appeals in their own districts, but there are other calls; many schools have to be partially supported out of the funds of the Education Board, and if grants were not made, the subscriptions or collections from that district would be dropped.

"If no help comes from without I feel persuaded that the members of the Board will despair of being able to continue the present system, whereas a grant from the Society would greatly encourage them to persevere. Good work has been done here during the past two years, and it would be a misfortune not to keep the schoolmasters up to their work, and encourage them to resist the inducements which (I have good reason to know) tend so much to draw them away from religious teaching."

The Standing Committee recommended a grant of 70*l*. for one year, on condition of the Inspector receiving not less than 210*l*., and of his giving his whole time to the work of inspection, and, further, on condition of his examining pupil-teachers, and, if possible, the scholars in infant schools.

The recommendation of the Standing Committee was agreed to, and the grant made on the conditions stated.

Visitation of Emigrants at Plymouth.—The Rev. C. E. Turner, Secretary of the Plymouth District Committee, writing on the 21st July, 1873, applied, by the direction of his Committee, for a renewal of the grant to Rev. F. Barnes, of Trinity Church, Plymouth, for visiting emigrants.

Before making this application, the Plymouth Committee received from Mr. Barnes a detailed account of his work during the past year. This had been submitted to the Standing Committee.

The Standing Committee informed the meeting that when the grant was made last year, in the month of March, there were some doubts as to whether emigration from Plymouth was not likely to be discontinued, and that consequently Mr. Barnes had been told that he must not calculate upon a renewal of his grant which expired in July last.

Under the circumstances stated above, the Standing Committee recommended a renewal of the grant of 25*l*. for one year, to date from last July.

The grant was made.

Book Grants recommended by the Standing Committee.

Grants made during the Vacation.—The Secretary submitted a list of Book Grants made by him during the vacation, to meet emergencies and to prevent a great accumulation of ordinary cases.

The grants had been made in accordance with permission given by the Standing Committee in July, and had been subsequently sanctioned by that Committee.

Diocese of Tasmania.—On the application of the Bishop, and recommendation of the Standing Committee, books to the value of 10*l*. were granted for use in the Furneaux Mission in his diocese. The islands which constitute the field of this Mission are at a considerable distance from Tasmania, and can have the visit of a clergyman only at considerable intervals.

Diocese of Nova Scotia.—On the application of the Bishop, and the recommendation of the Standing Committee, books to the value of 10*l*. were granted to the Rev. John Ambrose, of Digby, in his diocese, for use in a school for certain blacks at a place called Joggin, near Digby. These blacks are the descendants of slaves brought by British cruisers from their masters' plantations in the Southern States in the war of 1776.

Prizes for Religious Knowledge.—Lincoln Diocesan Board.—The Rev. Edward Garfitt, Secretary to this Board, applied for two grants of S.P.C.K. books, of 15*l*. each, to meet an equal expenditure in books on the part of his Board, after central or simultaneous examinations, one half of the books to be given as prizes for religious knowledge to pupil-teachers, the other half to scholars.

These grants were made on the recommendation of the Standing Committee.

Diocese of Antigua.—The Bishop applied for a set of quarto service books, to be inscribed "Trinity Church, Ponce," for use in the church to which the Society had made a grant of 100*l*. in July last, and which was likely to be opened for Divine Service and the administration of the Holy Sacraments on the 1st of January next.

This grant was made on the recommendation of the Standing Committee.

Diocese of Madras.—On the application of the Bishop, recommended by the Standing Committee, books to the value of 10*l*. were granted for use at the Cambridge Nicholson Institution, at Cottayam, in Travancore, the Vernacular Training Institution of the Church Missionary Society for their missionaries in Malabar.

Other Book Grants were voted on the recommendation of the Standing Committee.

Money Grants, of which Notice had been given by the Standing Committee at the last Meeting.

Diocese of Antigua.—In accordance with notice given at the last Meeting, and for reasons set forth at length in the July Monthly Report, the Standing Committee proposed that 1000*l*. should be granted towards the permanent endowment of the See of Antigua, to meet 9000*l*. to be raised elsewhere.

The Standing Committee further proposed, in consequence of a letter they had received from the Bishop since the notice of motion was given, and in consideration of the depressed condition of the disestablished Church in Antigua, that the Society's grant should be payable in two equal instalments of 500*l*. each, to meet a sum of 4500*l*. in each case.

The grant was made on the terms recommended by the Standing Committee.

Diocese of Trinidad.—In accordance with notice given at the last Meeting, and for reasons set forth at length in the last Monthly Report, the Standing Committee proposed a grant of 2000*l*. for the endowment of the disestablished Church, and for the endowment of the See of Trinidad.

For reasons which were stated to the Meeting, the Committee put their resolution in the following form:—

That a grant of 2000*l.*, to meet 14,000*l.* to be raised elsewhere, be made to the diocese of Trinidad; the whole 16,000*l.* to be permanently and securely invested for the endowment of the Church and See of Trinidad:

That the Society's grant be payable in two equal instalments of 1000*l.* each, of which one sum of 1000*l.* should be paid when 9000*l.* have been raised elsewhere for the endowment of the See; and 1000*l.* when 5000*l.* have been raised elsewhere for the permanent maintenance of the clergy, independent of the Bishop."

The grant was made in the manner specified.

Reports and Notices from the Standing Committee.

Creighton's Irish Trust. The Standing Committee reported that they had granted 60*l.* a year from this Trust for one year for the maintenance of an Irish-speaking clergyman, the Rev. W. O'Tool, in the parish of Berehaven. Mr. O'Tool is to be licensed to the curacy of Berehaven, and is to receive 20*l.* a year and a house from the Rev. John Halahan, the rector of the parish, and also 70*l.* a year from the Irish Society, 17, Upper Sackville-street, Dublin. Mr. O'Tool will minister to the Irish-speaking population of the parish, and will also act as an agent of the Irish Society in the adjoining neighbourhood. The grant has been made for one year from the date of Mr. O'Tool's licence, and will be capable of renewal on application made by his rector, and countersigned by the Bishop of the diocese.

Durham Training College for Schoolmistresses.

The Standing Committee informed the Meeting that, in the case of this college, a grant of 360*l.*, or of 15*l.* per head, had originally been made on the condition of 24 additional students being received in January, 1873; that the Committee of the college found it expedient, till their new buildings were complete, to admit only 15 new students in January last; that consequently they had received only 225*l.*, instead of the 360*l.* The Rev. William Hampson Walter, Principal of the college, had since informed the Committee that permanent accommodation had been provided for the full number of 24 additional students, at an outlay of 200*l.*, exclusive of furniture, and requested, on behalf of his Committee, that 135*l.*, the balance of the Society's original grant, might be paid upon the admission for two years of nine more additional students in January, 1874.

The Standing Committee reminded the Meeting that they had granted a very similar request in the case of the Salisbury Training College as reported in July; and they further informed the Meeting that they had, out of the balance of the 500*l.* voted in July, 1872, agreed to place 135*l.* at the disposal of the Durham Training College for Schoolmistresses, as requested.

Additional Students for Holy Orders.—The Standing Committee reported that they had made eleven grants, amounting in all to 685*l.*, out of the sum of 2500*l.* placed at their disposal in April last, to provide for the training of additional native clergy in the colonies, and in India; that these grants would in every case be met by at least equal sums, and would provide for the maintenance of students in Theological Colleges, for periods varying from one to three years.

The following are the particulars in each case.

(a) Diocese of Fredericton.—The Bishop, in a letter dated 27th June, 1873, acknowledged the receipt of the Monthly Report for April, and of the Secretary's letter which accompanied it. He asked for a grant in aid of the education of Mr. Henry H. Neales for the ministry in New Brunswick. Mr. Neales was born at Gage Town, New Brunswick, where his father is missionary. He is twenty-two years of age. His educational course would be spread over three years. If admitted a student, he would form an additional one. His father has a small income and a large family. Two of his sons are in Holy Orders. The average cost of theological students is 50*l.*; the average number four or five, they have reached six.

In this case the Committee had granted 25*l.* a year for three years; the grant to be paid each year only upon receipt of a satisfactory testimonial from the Bishop as regards the student's conduct, and the prospect of his taking Holy Orders at the end of his course.

(b) Diocese of Newfoundland.—The Bishop, writing from St. John's, Newfoundland, on the 2nd of July, 1873, applied for aid towards two Native Students for Holy Orders:—

1. The son of the Rev. W. K. White. Mr. White is a missionary of S.P.G., with a salary of 100*l.*, to which the fishermen on his mission make additions. He has eight children, and no private means. The son has been admitted into the Bishop's little college, but his father has great difficulty in meeting even the small expenses for clothes, books, journeys, &c. A small grant of 10*l.* of 12*l.* per annum for three years is asked for, and would probably bring him to his ordination free of debt.

In this case a grant of 15*l.* each year for three years had been made, the grant to be paid when the Bishop certifies that the young man is out of debt, and in other respects going on satisfactorily.

2. The second case is that of Frederick Smith, the son of a carpenter, born in St. John's. He is a respectable and promising young man, but unable to bear any expense, on which account chiefly the Bishop has hesitated to promise him admission to his college. He is now in a merchant's office. He is about twenty-one years of age, a communicant, and member of the cathedral choir.

The Bishop would be glad to encourage him with the promise of assistance.

In this case 15*l.* a year for three years were granted on similar conditions.

The Diocese of Adelaide.—The Bishop of Adelaide, writing from Bishop's Court, Adelaide, on the 16th June, 1873, expressed the greatest satisfaction at the Society's determination to offer help to Native Theological Students in the colonies. He said, "I have at this time, in connexion with the Collegiate School of St. Peter's, two very eligible theological students, who would ripen into candidates for Holy Orders, provided that means could be found to maintain them at college from nineteen years of age, when they leave school, to twenty-three; I would say twenty-two, because I am assured that, trained up to twenty-two, they would be taken by many of the clergy as lay readers or teachers in schools for the last year preparatory to Deacon's Orders. They would be training most efficiently for becoming Curates on a salary of about 150*l.* per annum.

"Several of our parochial districts contain three or more congregations; and in ministering to those under the Incumbent, such young men would be most usefully employed.

"I would apply, therefore, for two theological students connected with St. Peter's College School, Edward Spicer and William Bussell; the latter the son of a widow. The former is now pursuing his education at the University at Melbourne, towards which he receives an annual grant from this diocese.

"Mr. Bussell, being now nineteen, is about to quit school. His desire is to prepare for Holy Orders, but he cannot afford the expense. I am prepared to say that we should be able to meet, from diocesan funds, a grant of 50*l.* to each of these young men from the S.P.C.K. with a like sum; and so secure for the service of the Church two men of unimpeachable character and conduct, with a fair amount of ability."

In this case the Committee had agreed to grant 30*l.* to each of the two cases for three years, or 180*l.* in all, on the same conditions as in the other cases.

Diocese of Ontario.—The Bishop of Ontario, in a letter dated Ottawa, Canada, 31st July, 1873, asked for as many grants of 20*l.* per annum for three years as the Society could give him for the education of candidates for Holy Orders in some Church Theological College.

The Bishop undertook that the men assisted should be native-born Canadians; that an amount equal to that given by the Society should be raised locally and paid to the students; and that the students should be additional.

The Bishop added, "The Church here can in no way be helped so usefully, whether we regard the present or the future, as by working to maintain the standard of education. To do this, inducements must be held out to young men, or else their friends will not allow them to waste, as they call it, three or four of the best years of their life in a country where money can be made in every walk of life except the ministry. We do not need so much money to support our clergy as money to educate them for the ministry."

In a subsequent letter, dated 2nd September, 1873, the Bishop asked definitely for grants in aid of five additional divinity students, to be trained at Trinity College, Toronto, or at Bishop's College, Lennoxville.

The Bishop said that he should endeavour to provide that their age should be about twenty, but that he could not pledge himself on that point. He added that he had no fear of real danger of their being attracted to secular work after their training is over.

In this case the Committee had granted five sums of 20*l.* each for not more than three years = 300*l.* in all, to be met by an equal sum, the conditions being similar to those laid down in the other cases.

Diocese of Sydney.—The Bishop, writing from Bishopscourt, Sydney, on the 6th August, 1873, applied for a grant towards the maintenance, for one year, of an additional native student at Moore College.

Mr. Richard Edgar Kemp, on behalf of whom the Bishop applies, was born in Sydney in 1849, and educated at the King's School and at St. Paul's College, in the University of Sydney, where he took his B.A. degree in 1871; he is at present assistant master in the King's School, Paramatta, and requires aid to the extent of 50*l.*, to enable him to go to Moore College for one year. The usual course extends over two years; but Mr. Kemp being a B.A. of Sydney University, and having resided at St. Paul's affiliated College, the period for him is fixed at one year. The total expense is 80*l.* Mr. Kemp will be ordained for the Sydney diocese, if he goes through Moore College, but not otherwise. He is an additional student, and cannot afford to pay the cost of residence at Moore College without help.

It was agreed to offer 40*l.* in this case for one year.

The Bishop writes, "I regret very much that persons who have been for some time resident in the colony—say three or five years—or who came out with their parents when very young, are not admissible to the benefit of this fund. Some of the best of my clergy are men born in England, or coming out here very young. There are two or three promising young men who could be admitted to Moore College if the term 'resident in the colony for three years' had been adopted. Cannot this qualification be substituted for the existing one?"

Memorial to the Shah.—The Standing Committee informed the Meeting that, on the 14th of July, the following answer to the Address presented on behalf of the Society to the Shah of Persia, on the 30th day of June, had been received through the Hon. Spencer Ponsonby, C.B.:—

"Buckingham Palace, July 5, 1873.

"I am commanded by his Majesty the Shah to acknowledge the receipt of your Address praying that entire liberty and security may be granted to the members of all Christian communities in Persia, and to inform you in reply that such liberty and security does in fact at present exist, no Christian subject of his Majesty being subjected to persecution or ill-treatment on account of following the faith of his ancestors.

"His Majesty is much gratified by the expression of your good wishes in his behalf.

"MALCOM.

"To the President of the Society
"for Promoting Christian Knowledge,
"67, Lincoln's Inn Fields,
"London."

Dépôts in the East.—In reference to the motion carried at the last Meeting on the subject of the formation of dépôts in the Mohammedan East, the Standing Committee reported that they have been at present unable to take up the matter, as their first Meeting since the vacation had taken place only on Monday, October 6. They, however, promised to give immediate attention to the resolution.

Training Colleges, Vivâ-voce Examination of, &c.—The Standing Committee laid before the Meeting the following extracts from a letter which had been addressed to the Secretary by Canon Norris, the Examiner appointed by the Archbishops of Canterbury and York to conduct a vivâ-voce examination in religious knowledge of the students in training colleges, and also to examine in religious knowledge those acting teachers who sit for certificates, and all the candidates for admission to Church training colleges.

The Society placed, in July last, 400*l.* at the disposal of the Archbishops, to enable them to get this work done.

"The Abbey House, Bristol,
"September 26th, 1873.

"I returned home last night from my tour of inspection of training colleges. I have now visited all the training colleges, except Bishop's Stortford. Bishop's Stortford alone declined.

"In nearly all I heard the students give lessons on religious subjects, and in nearly all I examined both seniors and juniors vivâ voce.

"I shall have a more favourable report to make this year than last.

"As to the pupil-teachers, too, there are signs of improvement clearly due to diocesan inspection.

"In 1871 I inquired how many had received help from their clergy in their religious studies during their apprenticeship, and the result was eight per cent.

"This year I have made the same inquiry, and the result is twenty-nine per cent.

"This marked increase of attention and interest on the part of the clergy to the pupil-teacher is clearly attributable to the admirable work done by the paid Diocesan Inspectors, and also (in lesser measure, of course) to your S.P.C.K. prizes, and the Archbishop's examination at the close of the apprenticeship.

"J. P. NORRIS."

Tamil Book of Common Prayer.—The Secretary, by desire of the Standing Committee, reported that during the vacation he had received the following report from the Rev. Charles Egbert Kennet, Secretary of the Madras District Committee of S.P.C.K., respecting a new edition of 10,000 copies of the Book of Common Prayer in Tamil, towards which, in October, 1871, the Society granted 300*l.*

"Madras, August 5, 1873.

"The Rev. Henry Swabey, Secretary, S.P.C.K.
"Rev. and dear Sir,—I recently forwarded a specimen-copy of the revised edition of the Book of Common Prayer in Tamil, to be submitted to the notice of the parent Society's Board, and since then I despatched copies of the Madras Diocesan Committee's last Report for 1872, which, as usual, is issued about the middle of the following year.

"I beg now to inform you that the edition of the Tamil Prayer Book consists of 10,000 copies, of which 5000 contain the Epistles and Gospels in full, with the Ordination Services and Articles at the end of the book, and the other 5000 have only the references to their places in Scripture, with the commencing and concluding words of each. I mention this particularly as the delegates appointed for the Revision recommended the omission of some of the Occasional Offices for the abridged edition, as it may be called for the sake of distinction, as you may see in their Report of the Revision appended to the Diocesan Committee's General Report for 1872 (pp. 29—33), but the only difference between the two kinds is that which I have specified. Even this, however, makes the fuller Prayer Book to contain forty forms more than the other.

"Owing to the liberal grants made by the parent Society towards this edition, while the whole cost amounts to a little more than 820*l.*, the fuller Prayer Book sells at 12 annas = 1*s.* 6*d.*, which is about cost price, and the abridged kind at half that price, which is below cost, but is such as to place the book within the reach of native Christians in general. The Madras Committee never make gratuitous grants of the Prayer Book in the Vernacular.

"The new edition is selling very fairly, and I expect it will be exhausted very much sooner than the former edition. It is certainly a very great improvement upon it, as I can testify by my own use of it in my native church since Whitsuntide, when the book came out.

"I ought to have told you that the present Tamil Prayer Book has the new Lectionary and the Church's Calendar, containing the red letter and minor holidays without any omission.

"I trust and pray that the work now accomplished by the aid of the parent Society may prove an ever-increasing blessing to the native Church of this portion of India.

"I remain, Rev. and dear Sir,

"Yours faithfully,

"CHARLES EGBERT KENNET.

"Secretary, Madras District Committee, S.P.C.K."

Special and Ordinary Book Grants.

Grants of Books, which had been made by the Secretary during the vacation, by permission of the Standing Committee, to the amount of 325*l.* 2*s.* 3*d.*, were reported to the Board.

For Schools, Lending Libraries, and Distribution, to the amount of 141*l.* 8*s.* 9*d.*

For Churches, Chapels, or Licensed Rooms, to the amount of 55*l.* 3*s.* 10*d.*

Book Grants voted at the present Meeting.

CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

SELECTIONS FROM PROCEEDINGS OF COMMITTEE.

General Committee, September 8th.—The Secretaries having referred to the proposal made last July, that the Society should send a representative to the Conference of Christians about to be held in New York, and having informed the Committee that the Rev. C. D. Marston had accepted an invitation to be present at the Conference, the Committee directed that the Rev. C. D. Marston be requested to act there as a representative of the Society, making use of every opportunity that may occur to give information on their principles and work; and expressed their trust that the blessing of Almighty God may rest upon the proposed great gathering that it may result in the increase of vital godliness in the Church of God and in the spread of the Gospel throughout the whole world.

The Rev. W. Moore, the Native Missionary at Oshielle, Abeokuta, in a letter dated May 27, 1873, gives the following account of his visit to Ibadan:—

"A few days after the retreat of the Dahomians I visited Ibadan to administer the Lord's Supper to the communicants there, a duty which I ought to have performed in the middle of April, but the Dahomian war induced me to delay till the 16th May. I started from here, and arrived at Ibadan on the 17th, and was gladly received by the Christians and the agents there; some of the latter came some eight miles to meet me. They were glad the more to see me on account of the imminent danger from which we have recently been saved through the goodness of God. I spent the Lord's-day with them, and preached twice in the day. In the morning I preached at Kudete to a congregation of about 200 souls, and administered the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper to about 100 souls, all of whom partook of the blessed symbol of the body and blood of the dying and afterwards glorified Saviour with due reverence. In the evening we went to Oremo station, and I there preached under the shade which they have erected as a temporary place to hold Divine service till their church (which has been blown down to the very foundation by a hurricane on the 17th of March) should be rebuilt, to an attentive congregation of about 100 souls from the words of Job xiii. 15, 'Though He slay me, yet will I trust in Him.' I was sorry to see how the church here was so completely broken down, as well as that of Ogunpa station, by the hurricane. The tidings of this disaster had reached the ears of the Christians in Abeokuta before my starting for the journey, and they therefore entrusted a letter and 2*l.* to my care, to be given to the Christians of Ibadan as a small token of the great sympathy they have for them on the occasion of the destruction of two of their churches by a hurricane, a friend having added 1*l.* more, making 3*l.*, which I had the great pleasure of delivering to them, and which they thankfully accepted. Though the sum is small, yet the spirit of real Christian love and true desire of unity among Christian brethren with which it was given is commendable. They themselves have incurred great expenses in consequence of the late Dahomian invasion of the Egbas' territory, which would be a sufficient excuse where there is no love.

"The story of Mele, a chief, who has of late been converted to Christianity at Ibadan, is very interesting. Mele's compound joins hard to that of the Missionary, and he was one among those who had the privilege of having had early acquaintance with the Rev. D. Hinderer and his wife as their neighbour, yet he had no relish for their religion. However, through the influence of one of his wives, a son of his, Laniyono, was early entrusted to Mrs. Hinderer's care. In page 118 of her Memoir there is a record of Mrs. Hinderer about the man, which runs thus:—

 "Dear Laniyono has a very bad father, but his mother is an interesting young woman, and has attended church for some time. Last Saturday her husband took out one of his idols, and ordered all his household to bow before it and worship; but his wife refused, at which he was much enraged, and said he would never allow her to go to church any more. Poor Laniyono had a fearful Saturday, and in the Sunday-school, finding his mother was not there, he could hardly take his turn in the reading lesson for sorrow." It is now about eighteen years after the circumstance above recorded that Mele took it to his heart to persecute the whole Church at Ibadan, went in the month of March last to Are, the principal chief of Ibadan, to inform him of it, in order to obtain his sanction and assistance concerning the same, and made a false charge against them by telling the chief that the Christians had taken away his wife from him, therefore he wished to fight with them; but the chief, though a Mohammedan, having no prejudice against the Christians, told Mele that he never heard such a thing of the Christians before; however, he promised him that he would see Mr. Olubi about it; and when he saw Mr. Olubi he kindly related to him the charge which Mele had brought against them, Mr. Olubi endeavouring to explain how matters stood, but spoke no hard words against the man. The chief, being struck with the gentle manner Mr. Olubi spoke of his accuser, asked why Mele did not embrace the Christian religion. He then bade Mr. Olubi to return home, and said that he would send for Mele and show him his folly for living so long near the Christians and not embracing their religion, and that he would encourage him to do so. He did according to his promise, and Mele followed his advice; so the next time Mr. Olubi and other Christians saw Mele again was in the Sunday-school. At first they feared him, thinking that he came for a quarrel, but their fear was soon removed when they saw him upon his knees in the attitude of prayer, after which he went and sat among those who were learning certain Christian doctrines by heart, and followed their example. Then they were encouraged to speak to him, and he answered them that he had received by the help of God to embrace Christianity. The following day he carried his idols to Mr. Olubi; so the once very bad father of Laniyono, who was a bitter enemy to his wife because she embraced Christianity, is now altogether changed, and become a meek follower of the Lamb of God, who taketh away the sins of the world; and he who once cared for none of the things of God is now seeking very earnestly to know more of the faith which he once was persecuting and seeking means to destroy."

UNIVERSITY AND CLERICAL INTELLIGENCE.

Oxford.

WORCESTER COLLEGE.

It is stated that this college has offered to Miss Rogers the Exhibition gained by her success at the recent Oxford Local Examination. Miss Rogers has declined the Exhibition.

PAYMENT OF PROCURATIONS.

To the Editor of the "Ecclesiastical Gazette."

Norfolk Archdeaconry Office,

Norwich, 27th September, 1873.

SIR,—Mr. Barnes, in his letter which appears in your number for September, has made a grossly incorrect statement, which I must ask the favour of you to allow me to rectify.

Referring to the suit against him for the recovery of Procurations, Mr. Barnes says, "The costs upon taxation were reduced from about £07. to £01."

The full costs before taxation were 40*l.* 15*s.* 5*d.* It would be a waste of time to reply to the rest of Mr. Barnes' letter.

The principal object of the suit was to obtain an authoritative decision of the question.

The decision of Mr. Chancellor Evans disposes of all the questions raised by Mr. Barnes, and carries conviction to every reasonable mind. It has been printed and largely circulated.

Mr. Barnes has left the Archdeaconry of Norfolk and has resided in a distant diocese for several years.

I am, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

HENRY HANSELL,

Registrar, Norfolk Archdeaconry.

[This correspondence cannot be continued.—ED.]

MISCELLANEOUS INTELLIGENCE.

Navy Chaplains and Naval Instructors.—The attention of the Clergy is called to the paper of regulations issued by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, respecting the pay and retiring pensions of chaplains in the Royal Navy, and naval instructors (see p. 48). Special advantages are held out to those who are able to undertake the double office of chaplain and naval instructor; and clergymen wishing to take only temporary service in the navy, will, if properly qualified, be appointed "Acting Chaplains for Temporary Service," occupying, while so employed, the same position and enjoying the same privileges as ordinary naval chaplains.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS ACT (1868) AMENDMENT.

35 & 36 VICT. c. 54.

An Act to amend the Public Schools Act, 1868. [6th August, 1872.]

WHEREAS by the Public Schools Act, 1871, it is provided, firstly, that all powers by the Public Schools Act, 1868, or any Act amending the same, vested in the new governing bodies of the several schools to which the said Public Schools Act applies shall continue vested in such new governing bodies respectively until the twenty-fifth day of August one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, and from and after the said twenty-fifth day of August one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, and not before, shall pass to and vest in the Special Commissioners in the said Act named, subject nevertheless as in the said Act mentioned; secondly, that, subject to the provisions of the said Public Schools Act, 1871, all powers conferred on the Special Commissioners by the Public Schools Act, 1868, or any Act amending the same, shall be in force until the twenty-fifth day of March one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three; and it shall be lawful for her Majesty, if she think fit, by and with the advice of her Privy Council, to continue the same until the twenty-fifth day of August one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three:

And whereas it is expedient to postpone for such further time as is hereinafter mentioned the transfer to the said Special Commissioners, of the powers vested as aforesaid in the said new governing bodies, and to continue for a further time the powers of the said Special Commissioners, and to make certain provisions as to Rugby School:

Be it enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1. Short Title.—This Act may be cited for all purposes as "The Public Schools Act, 1872."

2. Extension of powers of new governing bodies of certain public schools.—All powers by the Public Schools Act, 1868, or any Act amending the same, vested in the new governing bodies of the said schools shall continue vested in such new governing bodies respectively until the twenty-fifth day of August one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three, and it shall be lawful for her Majesty, if she think fit, by and with the advice of her Privy Council, to continue the same until the twenty-fifth day of February one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, and from and after the said twenty-fifth day of August one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three, or if such powers are continued by order of her Majesty in Council until the twenty-fifth day of February one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, from and after such last-mentioned day, and not before, the powers so vested in such new governing bodies as aforesaid shall pass to and vest in the said Special Commissioners, subject nevertheless as in the said Act mentioned.

3. Duration of powers of Commissioners.—Subject to the provisions of this Act, all powers conferred on the Special Commissioners by the Public Schools Act, 1868, or any Act amending the same, shall be in force until the twenty-fifth day of March one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, and it shall be lawful for her Majesty, if she think fit, by and with the advice of her Privy Council, to continue the same until the twenty-fifth day of September one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

4. Amendment of section 21 of the Public Schools Act, 1868.—The additions and alterations mentioned in the twenty-first section of the Public Schools Act, 1868, shall be construed to include and authorize the construction of any new or separate buildings, and any additions to or alterations in any existing buildings, for the purposes of any subordinate or other school established, or to be established, in connexion with any school to which the said Act applies.

5. Scheme for apportionment of property of Rugby School.—The new governing body of Rugby School may, at any time before the twenty-fifth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three, submit to the Special Commissioners, and, if approved of by them, may lay a scheme before her Majesty in Council for carrying into effect any arrangement which may be entered into between such governing body and the trustees of the Rugby Charity founded by Lawrence Sheriff, grocer, of London, in relation to the vesting of a portion of the property of such trustees in such new governing body for the use of Rugby School, and in relation to the payments to be made by the said trustees to the new governing body for the purposes of the said school, and in relation to any other matter or thing concerning the division of the property of the said trustees or the income thereof between the said new governing body and the said trustees for the purposes of the said school, and in relation to the mutual duties and obligations of the said trustees and the said governing body in respect of any property in which they may be mutually interested.

UNIVERSITY TESTS (DUBLIN).

36 VICT. c. 21.

1. Act to abolish Tests in Trinity College and the University of Dublin. [26th May, 1873.]

WHEREAS it is expedient that the benefits of Trinity College and the University of Dublin, and of the schools in the said University as places of religion and learning, should be rendered freely accessible to the nation:

And whereas by means of divers restrictions, tests and disabilities, many of her Majesty's subjects are debarred from the full enjoyment of the same:

And whereas it is expedient that such restrictions, tests, and disabilities should be removed:

Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be cited as the University of Dublin Tests Act, 1873.

2. Interpretation of terms.—In the construction of this Act,—

The word "office" shall not, so long as the University of Dublin shall continue to teach and to grant degrees in the Faculty of Theology, apply to any Professor or Lecturer in Divinity; but, save as aforesaid, the word shall include every professorship, assistant or deputy professorship, public readership, prelectorship, lectureship, assistant lectureship, provostship, fellowship, studentship, tutorship, scholarship, and exhibition, and also any office or emolument not in this section specified, the income of which is payable out of the revenues or income of the said university or college, or any of the schools therein, or which is held and enjoyed by any member of the same.

3. Abolition of tests.—From and after the passing of this Act no person shall be required upon exercising, or to enable him to exercise, any of the rights and privileges which may heretofore have been or may hereafter be exercised by students or graduates in the said university, or upon taking or holding, or to enable him to take or hold, any office in the said university or college as aforesaid, or upon teaching, or to enable him to teach within the said university or college, to subscribe to any article or formula of faith, or to make any declaration or take any oath respecting his religious belief or profession, or to conform to any form of public worship, or to do any act in connexion with any form of public worship, or to belong to any specified church, sect, or denomination; nor shall any person be compelled in the said university or college to attend the public worship of any church, sect, or denomination to which he does not belong; and no person elected to a fellowship or any other office shall be deprived of his office by reason that he is not or does not become ordained in holy orders.

4. Portion of Act as in Schedule repealed.—Upon the passing of this Act, the Act specified in the Schedule to this Act is hereby repealed to the extent in the third column of the said Schedule expressed.

SCHEDULE.

Date of Act.	Title of Act.	Portion repealed.

TO OUR READERS.

THE Editor of the ECCLESIASTICAL GAZETTE hopes that readers will kindly help by subscriptions (6s. per annum, or One Guinea for four years, payable in advance to the Publisher) to support the very large circulation of the paper, which is sent gratuitously to the Resident Clergyman of every parish in England and Wales.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

Subscriptions now due, as also any new Subscriptions with which we may be favoured, may be forwarded by a Post-office Order, payable to the Publisher, Mr. GEORGE COX, 20, King William-street, Strand, W.C.

Portfolios with strings, to hold two years' numbers, may be obtained (by order) of any Bookseller, price 2s. 6d.

To Advertisers.

ADVERTISEMENTS must be forwarded not later than the Friday preceding the day of publication.

To secure insertion in the next Number, Advertisements should be sent on or before Friday, December 5.

We cannot notice anonymous communications. The names and addresses of correspondents must be given, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

THE Publisher begs to caution Subscribers and others against sending coin or stamps through the Post. By the Postal regulations, all letters containing coin, posted without registration, are charged on delivery with a fee of 8d., in addition to the ordinary postage.

CLERGY CHARITIES.

A New Edition of this work, corrected in accordance with the information so obligingly furnished by the Archdeacons, Treasurers, Secretaries, &c., is now ready.

CLERGY LIST, 1874.

THE New Edition of the CLERGY LIST is in course of preparation, and all communications respecting the CLERGY LIST for 1874 should be addressed to "The Editor of the CLERGY LIST," 20, King William-street, Strand, W.C., not later than the 26th instant.

It is respectfully requested that Clergymen will see that their own names, academical degrees, benefices, appointments, &c., are correctly inserted, and that correspondents will confine themselves to notices of those preferments and changes in which they are personally interested, or which have become known to them from undoubted and authentic sources.

ECCLESIASTICAL NOTICES.

The Archbishop of Canterbury will hold his next General Ordination on the Second Sunday in Lent, 1874. All Candidates for Deacons' Orders must give his Grace immediate notice of their intention to present themselves for Ordination, when they will receive instructions respecting the Examination, and all other needful information. All the necessary papers must be sent one month before the day of Ordination to the Archbishop's Secretary, John B. Lee, Esq., 2, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, S.W., from whom the Candidates will receive due notice of the time and place of Examination. As a general rule his Grace expects five months' notice before the day of Ordination.

The Archbishop of York purposes holding a General Ordination on Sunday, the 21st of December next (St. Thomas's Day). Candidates for Deacons' Orders should lose no time in obtaining permission from the Archbishop to offer themselves. Candidates from the University of Cambridge are required to produce a Certificate of having passed the Voluntary Theological Examination; those from Oxford, the Certificate of having attended the Divinity Lectures; those from Dublin, the Divinity Testimonium; and those from Durham, the Licence in Theology. All the necessary papers must be sent, one month before the day of Ordination, to the Archbishop's Secretary, T. S. Noble, Esq., Lendal, York.

The Bishop of London's next Ordination will be held on Sunday, December 21st. Candidates, when accepted by the Bishop, are to send their papers, with their addresses, one month before the day of Ordination, to his Lordship's Secretary, John B. Lee, Esq., 2, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, S.W. The Bishop requires all Candidates for Deacons' Orders to communicate in the first instance with his Lordship, and he will arrange for a personal interview.

The Bishop of Durham purposes holding his next Ordination on Sunday, December 21st. His Lordship requires from all Candidates for Holy Orders sufficient notice of their intention to present themselves for Ordination. Candidates from the University of Cambridge must produce a Certificate of having passed the Voluntary Theological Examination or the Theological School; those from Oxford, the Certificate of having attended the Divinity Lectures; those from Dublin, the Divinity Testimonium; and those from Durham, not being Graduates, the Licence in Theology. All the necessary papers must be sent, six weeks before the day of Ordination, to his Lordship's Secretary, John B. Lee, Esq., 2, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, S.W.

The Bishop of Winchester purposes to hold an Ordination on Sunday, the 21st December. His Lordship requires from all Candidates for Deacons' Orders three months' notice of their intention to offer themselves for Ordination, and also a personal interview. Candidates from the University of Cambridge must have passed the Voluntary Theological Examination, and those from Oxford must produce a Certificate of having attended the Divinity Lectures. Candidates for Priests' Orders are expected to give two months' notice of their intention to the Bishop, and the necessary papers from all the Candidates must be sent, at least one month before the day of Ordination, to his Lordship's Secretary, John B. Lee, Esq., 2, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, S.W.

The Bishop of St. David's intends to hold a General Ordination on the Second Sunday in Lent, 1874. Candidates for Orders are requested to forward to John Thirlwall, Esq., Abergwili, R.S.O., South Wales, their Ordination papers one month before that date.

The Bishop of Ripon intends to hold an Ordination on Sunday, the 21st December next. His Lordship requires from all Candidates for Deacons' Orders three months' notice of their intention to offer themselves for Ordination, and also a personal interview. Candidates from the University of Oxford must produce a Certificate of having attended the Divinity Lectures. Candidates from the University of Cambridge are expected to have passed the Voluntary Theological Examination; those from Dublin University must have the Divinity Testimonium; and those from Durham, not being Graduates, the Licence in Theology. Candidates for Priests' Orders are expected to give at least two months' notice of their intention to the Bishop, and the necessary papers from all the Candidates must be forwarded to the Bishop's Secretary in London, J. B. Lee, Esq., 2, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, S.W., at least one month before the day of Ordination.

The Bishop of Norwich purposes to hold an Ordination on Trinity Sunday, on September 20th, and on December 20th, 1874. Candidates for Deacons' or for Priests' Orders are requested to inform the Bishop as soon as possible, and not less than three months before the time, of their intention to offer themselves for Ordination. Full instructions will then be forwarded.

The Bishop of Worcester holds an Ordination at each of the four Ember Seasons in every year. He wishes to have three months' notice from all Candidates for Deacons' Orders. Papers to be forwarded to the Bishop's Secretary, Alfred Hooper, Esq., Worcester, one month before the Ordination.

The Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol purposes holding an Ordination on Sunday, the 21st of December next. Three months' notice is required of all Candidates. Papers to be forwarded to Charles S. Clarke, Esq., Diocesan Registry, Bristol, one month before the day of Ordination.

The Bishop of Chester purposes holding his next Ordination on the 4th Sunday in Advent, December the 21st. Candidates for Ordination on that day should, at least three months previously, place themselves in communication with the Bishop, or his Examining Chaplain, the Rev. Chancellor Espin, Wallasey Rectory, Cheshire, to whom application may be made for particulars respecting the examination. The necessary papers of accepted Candidates must be sent in complete not later than Tuesday, the 18th inst. (and particular attention is requested to the fact that after that date no papers can under any circumstances be received), to the Bishop's Secretaries, Messrs. C. J. R. Parry and Gamon, Abbey-square, Chester, from whom the requisite information respecting them and other legal points may be obtained. Graduates of Oxford must have attended the Public Lectures of the Regius Professor of Divinity, and at least one other course of Divinity Lectures; those of Cambridge must have passed the Voluntary Theological Examination; those of Dublin and Durham must produce the Divinity Testimonium of their University. Students of Theological Colleges must have completed the full course of two years, and produce the Certificate of their College.

The Bishop of Rochester purposes to hold an Ordination at each of the four Ember Seasons. Persons desirous of being admitted as Candidates may obtain a paper of instructions upon writing to the Bishop's Secretaries, Messrs. Day and Hassard, 28, Great George-street, Westminster, S.W.

The next Ordination of the Bishop of Lichfield will be on Sunday, St. Thomas's Day, 21st December.

The Bishop of Hereford holds an Ordination (if necessary) at each of the four Ember Seasons in every year. Persons desirous of becoming Candidates are requested to communicate with the Bishop three months before each Ordination, and will receive full instructions as to the necessary papers on application to Mr. H. C. Beddoe, the Bishop's Secretary, The Close, Hereford.

The Bishop of Peterborough purposes holding his next Ordination on Sunday, the 21st December. Every Candidate for Deacons' or Priests' Orders in the diocese should write to the Bishop (at least three months previous to the Ordination) for permission to present himself for examination, stating his age, academic degree, and his then present residence. In the case of a Candidate for Deacons' Orders this application must be accompanied by a reference to three Clergymen to whom the Bishop may apply for information respecting him. The Bishop will appoint a personal interview, which is absolutely necessary. Candidates when accepted by his Lordship may obtain full instructions as to the necessary papers on application to the Diocesan Secretary, H. P. Gates, Esq., Peterborough, to whom they should be sent at least one month previous to Ordination.

The Bishop of Salisbury purposes to hold an Ordination on Sunday, the 21st of December. The several Candidates are requested to send their names to the Bishop forthwith, and to forward the usual papers to his Lordship's Secretaries, Messrs. Macdonald and Brodrick, the Close, Salisbury, at least one month before the day of Ordination.

The Bishop of Bath and Wells purposes to hold an Ordination on Sunday, the 21st day of December next. His Lordship requires from all Candidates for Priests' or Deacons' Orders at least three months' notice of their intention to offer themselves for Ordination, and also a personal interview with himself or one of his Examining Chaplains. It is not necessary that Candidates should be provided with a Title at the time of giving notice. Graduates of Oxford must produce a Certificate of having attended the Public Lectures of the Regius Professor of Divinity; those of Cambridge, the Certificate of having passed the Voluntary Theological Examination; and those of Trinity College, Dublin, the Divinity Testimonium. Full instructions can be obtained from his Lordship's Secretary, Henry Bernard, Esq., Wells, Somerset, to whom all papers must be forwarded at least one month before the day of Ordination.

The Bishop of Oxford intends to hold an Ordination in Christ Church Cathedral, Oxford, on Sunday, the 21st of December. A paper of instructions to Candidates may be obtained by letter to the Bishop's Secretary, John M. Davenport, Esq., Oxford, to whom the requisite documents must be transmitted one month before the day of Ordination. Candidates for Deacons' Orders are required to communicate with the Bishop six months before the Ordination at which they desire to present themselves, and to obtain his consent.

The Bishop of St. Asaph will hold a General Ordination in his Cathedral on Sunday, the 21st day of December next. Candidates to send in their papers to the Bishop's Secretary, Diocesan Registry, St. Asaph.

Diocese of Lincoln.—New Regulations for Candidates for Holy Orders.—It being desirable, that the literary and intellectual proficiency and qualifications of the several Candidates should be duly tested; and also that the solemn season immediately before the Ordination should be devoted to special spiritual exercises, the following arrangements are adopted:—

The General Ordinations will be held on Trinity Sunday and in Advent.

An Examination of Candidates will also be held at some time (not less than a month) before the Ordination; but those who have passed the New Theological Examination at Cambridge within nine months will be excused this examination.

On the Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, immediately preceding the Ordination, all those who have been admitted will be received by the Bishop for united Devotion, Meditation, and Communion. At the same time there will be a short Examination as to Pastoral Care (and for those only who have passed the New Theological Examination at Cambridge, a Paper at this time in the Creed and Articles), and each will deliver a Sermon of his own composition.

The attendance of Priests who have been ordained in Lincoln Diocese is invited at the Devotional Exercises of these three days on the first anniversary of their Ordination.

For further information relative to the subjects of Examination, application is to be made to the Bishop's Examining Chaplains, the Rev. Chancellor Benson, D.D., Examiner, ex officio, The Chancery, Lincoln; or the Rev. Canon Meyrick, Erpingham Rectory, Norwich; or to the Rev. Canon Wordsworth, Brasenose College, Oxford.

On every Monday, till further notice, the Bishop of London will be in attendance at London House, St. James's-square, from eleven o'clock till two, to receive the Clergy and others having business with his Lordship.

We are requested to direct the attention of the Clergy to the following:—

REGULATIONS FOR CHAPLAINS AND NAVAL INSTRUCTORS.

FOR THE INFORMATION OF CANDIDATES.

1. No person will be appointed to a chaplaincy in the Royal Navy who has not been ordained deacon and priest of the Church of England, or who has not been admitted to the same Holy Orders by the lawful authority of one of the churches within the realm of Great Britain and Ireland which are in communion with the Church of England, or whose age exceeds thirty-five years, or who holds any benefice with a cure of souls, or who does not produce testimonials from the bishop of the diocese in which he was last licensed, addressed to the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, or who has not been examined by some competent person appointed for that purpose by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, and has been reported by him to be in every respect a fit and proper person to fill the situation of chaplain with respectability and advantage to her Majesty's service.

2. Chaplains to be retired at the age of sixty, or at any age if they have not served for five years.

3. To have the option of retiring at the age of fifty-five, and to be retired, irrespective of age, at the discretion of their Lordships, if found physically, or from any other cause, unfit to serve.

4. Any chaplain who obtains from their Lordships permission to accept a living, or desires to retire from the service, may, if he has not less than ten years' service, be retired with pay on the following scale, viz.:—

After 10 years' service	... 50l. per annum.
" 15 "	... 100l. "
" 20 "	... the amount earned by service under Order in Council of 22nd February, 1870, varying from the half-pay to a maximum of 450l.

5. Chaplains who have less than ten years' service, and accept a living, will be considered as desiring to resign the service, and will accordingly not be entitled to any pecuniary allowance or to half or retired pay.

6. Full pay of chaplains or naval instructors:—

	Year of 365 days.	One day.
	£ s. d.	£ s. d.
Under 5 years' service	... 219 0 0	... 0 12 0
" 8 "	... 237 5 0	... 0 13 0

" 17 "	... 181 12 6	... 0 10 6
" 20 "	... 199 0 0	... 0 12 0
Above 25 "	... 232 0 0	... 0 16 0
Chaplains being naval instructors:—For 10 years' service in the double capacity, an addition of ...
" 10 "	... 33 10 0	... 0 2 0
For 15 "	... 73 0 0	... 0 4 0
" 20 "	... 109 10 0	... 0 6 0

8. Clergymen in priests' orders will be allowed to take temporary service in the Navy, without any restriction as to age, and will be appointed "Acting Chaplains for Temporary Service." While so employed they will occupy the same position, enjoy all the same privileges, and be subject to the same regulations, as ordinary naval chaplains. They will receive 219l. a year (or 12s. a day); but they will not be entitled to half pay, or any other advantages, at the termination of their temporary service. Candidates must present themselves at the Admiralty, bringing with them their letters of orders, testimonials, &c., preparatory to their being examined by the Chaplain of Greenwich Hospital as to their fitness for these appointments. Preliminary applications should be made in writing to the Secretary of the Admiralty.

N.B.—All the above officers are entitled to be victualled when on board ship, or to receive the allowance in lieu (1s. 6d. a day) when detached on duty. There is also a widow's pension varying from 50l. to 70l. a year according to length of service; and a compassionate allowance to children varying from 9l. to 14l. per annum for each child, if in needy circumstances.

(At this moment there are a few vacancies for chaplains, and also for gentlemen who are able to undertake the double office of chaplain and naval instructor; but we are requested to state that there are at present no vacancies for "Acting Chaplains for Temporary Service," or for "Naval Instructors.")

SOCIETY FOR PROMOTING CHRISTIAN KNOWLEDGE.

67, Lincoln's Inn Fields.

Next Monthly General Meeting will be held on Tuesday, 2nd December, 1873, at two p.m.

Tuesday, November 4, 1873.

The Rev. Dr. HESSEY in the Chair.

After Prayers, the Minutes of the last Meeting were read.

Business arising out of the Minutes.

The late Bishop of Winchester.—The Secretary stated that he had, as directed, sent a copy of the resolution passed at the last Monthly General Meeting in reference to the death of the late Bishop of Winchester, to the members of the Bishop's family, and that R. G. Wilberforce, Esq., the eldest son, had written as follows to the Secretary from Lavington House on the 14th of October, 1873:—"In the name of the family of the late Bishop of Winchester, I beg to thank you for the resolution you have forwarded to me. It is very comforting to us to receive such warm expressions of sympathy as the one you have sent me."

The Secretary added that other members of the family had acknowledged the resolution with thanks.

Depts in the East.—In reference to this matter, which was mentioned at the last Monthly Meeting, the Rev. Thomas Darling asked whether any steps had yet been taken by the Standing Committee for circulating the Society's publications in the East.

The Secretary replied that in the month of August he had been in communication, through Major-General Lake, Hon. Secretary of the Church Missionary Society, with the Rev. R. Bruce, now at Ispahan, in reference to the publication by the Society of two works in the Persian language which were being prepared under his superintendence, and that the Standing Committee had agreed to put themselves into direct communication with Mr. Bruce.

Money Grants recommended by the Standing Committee.

Diocese of Ontario.—(1.) The Bishop, on the 2nd of October, 1873, signed and forwarded, with his warm recommendation, an application for a grant towards a new church in the township of Panaget, in the parish of Hawkesbury, of which the Rev. E. P. Crawford is incumbent. It is proposed to build a wooden church 24 feet by 36 feet, on a solid stone foundation. The site is owned by the Bishop. Accommodation is required for sixty people, and it is probable that more will be needed. The church population consists of about twenty families, who are for the most part poor farmers struggling to obtain a livelihood; some few are lumber-men and mill-hands, but only one Churohman can be considered at all well off. The total cost is reckoned at from 1500 dols. to 1800 dols. The sum in hand and realised is 679 dols. Mr. Crawford hopes to be able to raise in all about 900 dols. About 250 dols. have been raised on the spot, and little more is to be expected except what will be given in cash.

The Standing Committee recommended a grant of 250. in this case; the grant to be paid when the Bishop shall have certified that the receipt of it will lead to the immediate opening of the building for divine service, and to its being free from all liability for debt.

The grant was accordingly made.

(2.) The Bishop of Ontario also forwarded and strongly recommended an application from the Rev. F. L. Stephenson, Incumbent of Newboro, New Boyne and Portland, for an additional grant in aid of a church at New Boyne, under the following circumstances:—

It appeared that in December, 1872, the Society made a grant, on the usual conditions, of 250. for a new church at New Boyne, to accommodate 300; the church was to cost about 6000. or 7000., of which 3000. had been collected on the spot.

Mr. Stephenson now explained that his intention at that time was to build only a nave; but that he is now aiming at completing the church at once, with chancel, vestry, porch, and tower, at a further estimated cost of about 6000. (3000 dols.) in each case.

Mr. Stephenson met with more support than he expected, and the complete church is in course of erection, and the mason-work will be finished and the roof on before the frost sets in. The cost thus far has exceeded 3000 dols., and no debt has been incurred. In consideration of the enlargement of the plan Mr. Stephenson asks for an increased grant.

In consideration of the circumstances here stated, the meeting, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, granted 100. more.

The Society's grant of 350. will be paid when the whole work is accomplished and free of debt.

St. Augustine's College, Canterbury.—The Warden applied for a grant in aid of the Endowment Fund of a proposed new Oriental Fellowship at St. Augustine's College, designed especially for the promotion of Missions to India and the East. The Royal Charter of the College, dated 28th of June, 1848, prescribes a Warden, Subwarden, and six Fellows.

It appears that till 1868 there was, for lack of endowment, only one Fellow; that in that year the increased number of Students and other causes making it absolutely necessary to obtain the services of a second Tutor, a special appeal was issued, and an additional Fellowship was founded.

The College, having been now founded twenty-five years, and being now quite full, it is proposed to found an additional Fellowship for the purposes named above.

The Warden states that he has already invested nearly 20000. with a view to this object. Rather more than 10000. in addition, including 5000. from the Warden, have been paid or promised; but a further sum of 10000. is needed before the Fellowship can be said to be founded.

A grant of 2500. was made, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, towards making up the capital sum of 40000.

Ojibway New Testament.—The Secretary stated that the Foreign Translation Committee had sanctioned the expenditure of 250. to enable Dr. O'Meara to go from Port Hope, Toronto, to Manitoba, in the Diocese of Rupert's Land, for the purpose of conferring with the Bishop of Rupert's Land and certain Native Clergymen on the subject of a new edition of the Ojibway New Testament; that this sum had been paid through the Bishop of Rupert's Land:

That Dr. O'Meara, in a letter dated Port Hope, 27th August, 1873, stated that the 250. had just covered his expenses to and from Manitoba,—a distance of 4000 miles of lake, overland, and river travel:

That in addition, Dr. O'Meara forwarded two estimates for printing the new edition of the New Testament in Toronto; that the lower of the two tenders amounted to 1100 dollars for 1000 copies, and 550 dollars for every 1000 copies after the first 1000, i.e. rather more than 2200. for 1000 copies.

The meeting agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to place the sum necessary for the production of 1000 copies, and, if thought well, for stereotyping the book, at the disposal of Dr. O'Meara; the whole sum not to exceed 2500. It was further agreed to put the whole edition, when printed, at the disposal of the Bishop of Rupert's Land, with an intimation that the whole of the proceeds of sales must be returned to the Parent Society as a donation.

Book Grants recommended by the Standing Committee.

The Special and Ordinary Book Grants were then made on the recommendation of the Standing Committee.

Church of England Sunday School Institute.—The Standing Committee recommended a grant of books to the value of 50. to this Institution, the books to form part of a Sunday School Teachers' Specimen Library, which is to be established at 160, Fleet-street, the Depository of the Institute.

This grant was made.

Rochester Diocesan Board of Education.—The Rev. John Menet, Honorary Secretary of this Board, applied for a grant of S.P.C.K. books to the value of 240. 15s. 8d., to meet an equal outlay in books on the part of his Board; the whole of the books to be given as prizes for religious knowledge to pupil-teachers after central examinations.

The grant was made.

Archdeaconry of Surrey.—The Rev. J. W. Gedge, Diocesan Inspector, applied for a grant of books to the value of 150., to meet an equal expenditure in books on the part of the Diocesan Board of Education; the whole of the books to be given as prizes to pupil-teachers after a simultaneous examination in religious knowledge to be held in December next.

The grant was made.

Ripon Diocesan Board of Education.—The Rev. Evelyn G. Hodgson, Diocesan Inspector of schools for Ripon, applied for a grant of S.P.C.K. books to the value of 100., to meet an equal outlay; the whole of the books to be given as prizes for religious knowledge to pupil-teachers after simultaneous examinations at various centres throughout the diocese.

The grant was made.

Diocese of Calcutta.—The Rev. John R. Hill, S.P.G. Missionary at Banda, and Secretary of N.W. India Vernacular Committee, wrote as follows:—

"During my last winter preaching tour through the Cawnpore district and a part of this province of Bundelkhand, I was more struck than I have ever been before with the call there was even in villages from boys and young men who were pupils of the Government English schools for books in our language. I trust the Society's Committee of General Literature and Education and its other co-workers will not forget the claims of the Queen's native subjects in India to be provided with healthy reading suitable for them. Since I have been here the same thing has been forced upon my attention; several Baboos have asked me for different English books of the class published by the Society. Last week, for instance, the second clerk of the Sessions Judge asked me for a book of Family Prayers, such as he had seen among the effects of a European Christian that had come under the executorship of his court.

"Might I ask you to select and send me some books for these English-educated natives? they would in all cases be sold, and I will send the money through the Cawnpore English Committee, of which the Banda sales might be considered a branch. Any standard religious and religious-spirited books will be suitable, and any such books for the young; only not such as abound in English domestic details, which are perfectly unintelligible to native children, and natives in general."

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant books to the value of 50. in this case.

Mr. Hill continued,—

"The troops here are those of a Madras native infantry regiment. The Christians in it are numerous, some thirty-eight heads of families; and there is this peculiarity in the Madras army, that the Sepoys are allowed to have their wives and families with them wherever they are stationed; and further than this, their sons are trained and taught in regimental schools, and, by drill, to serve alongside, or in the place of, their fathers. The native Christians in this regiment, therefore, are a considerable body, and for the most part are very intelligent and fairly well-educated men.

"For them might I further ask for a grant of a Church lending library of the Society's books in this case. It will be a very great boon; for these men, I find, have very little of a sound religious and Church character in the way of books."

On the recommendation of the Standing Committee, another grant of books, to the value of 5*l.*, was made to Mr. Hill for this purpose.

Reports and Notices from the Standing Committee.

Native Students for Holy Orders.—The Standing Committee reported that the Bishop of Adelaide (at whose request two grants of 30*l.* each for three years, or 180*l.* in all, had been made, as reported at the last meeting, towards the support of two native students, Mr. Spicer and Mr. Russell) had since applied for a grant towards the support of a third student, also a native of Australia, Mr. Frederick Whittington, son of an agent, with moderate business; that the total cost cannot be reckoned as less than 100*l.* a year.

The Bishop wrote, "I believe the Venerable Society will do more to make the colonial churches indigenous by aiding the education of young colonists for Holy Orders than by making small grants to churches. The great difficulty without collegiate endowments is how to maintain our theological students from the age of twenty to twenty-three. A hope is now opened up, through the Venerable Society, of our being able to do this, which, I trust, through the blessing of God, will hereafter be realized."

The Standing Committee informed the meeting that they had agreed to give 30*l.* a year for three years in this case out of the 2500*l.* set apart for the purpose in April last.

Auckland, New Zealand.—The Bishop of Auckland, in a letter dated 28th of August, 1873, Bishop's Court, Auckland, New Zealand, stated that he had at the present time five Maori students reading for Holy Orders at St. Stephen's, an institution near the Bishop's residence.

The students receive regular instruction from Sir W. Martin, formerly Chief Justice of New Zealand, and from Archdeacon Maunsell, the translator of the Maori Bible.

The students are supported chiefly by the subscriptions of friends in England, which are supplemented in some cases by the Church Missionary Society.

The great expense incurred at St. Stephen's results mainly from the necessity of supporting the wife and family of each student (they are all married men) at the Institution.

The expense of living has so increased of late that the Bishop cannot involve himself in more liabilities for this work, but he would be very glad to have a sixth student, if the Society would help. The ordinary annual expenses of each family are reckoned at 50*l.*, besides the necessary expenditure for clothes, furniture, and books, and for the salary of an English master.

The Bishop asked the Society for a grant of 50*l.* a year for two years for the maintenance of William Paetaki, twenty-two years of age, who, if admitted, will form a sixth and an additional student.

The Standing Committee reported that they had agreed to comply with the Bishop's request.

Diocese of Bathurst.—The Bishop, writing from his diocese on the 3rd of September, 1873, applied for a grant of 50*l.* a year for two years, in aid of the support of Mr. Alfred Cawley Hirst, at Moore College.

Mr. Hirst would begin his residence either in January or July next, as he may be found prepared after he has been under the care of the Bishop of Bathurst for a few months for preparatory tuition.

Mr. Hirst has up to within a week of the Bishop's writing been in a merchant's office; he has long had a desire to enter the ministry, but has hitherto been unable for financial reasons. He was born in Sydney, is twenty-two years of age. He was confirmed by the Bishop of Sydney, is well recommended by the clergyman of his parish, in whose Sunday Schools he has acted as a teacher for some time; he was educated at the Sydney Grammar School, and possesses some little knowledge of Latin.

In this case the Standing Committee informed the Meeting that they had made the grant as the Bishop asked.

Durham Training College for Schoolmasters.

The Standing Committee informed the Meeting that Archdeacon Bland had applied for payment of the balance of 160*l.* out of 400*l.*, which was set apart for this college in the course of last year, on condition of twenty additional students being admitted in January, 1873, for two years. Only twelve such students were admitted, and only 240*l.* were paid.

The inhabitants of the diocese have, it appears, come forward very liberally, and have provided most of the funds necessary for the erection of permanent buildings for the accommodation of twenty-five, not merely twenty, additional students.

It is hoped that these buildings, though there is still a deficiency of 600*l.*, will be completed by the spring of 1874.

The Standing Committee informed the Meeting that they had agreed to inform Archdeacon Bland that they would pay the sum of 160*l.*, when he reported that eight further additional students over and above the twelve received in January, 1873, had been admitted. The Standing Committee added that they were able to do this out of the balance which remained of the 5000*l.* put at their disposal for this purpose in July, 1873.

People's Magazine.—The following report on this subject was laid before the Meeting:—

"The Standing Committee regret to announce that they have felt it to be their duty to take steps for the discontinuance of the People's Magazine at the close of the present year. The magazine has been carried on at a great and an annually increasing loss to the Society, and has not obtained such a circulation among the working classes, for whom it was specially intended, as would justify so large an expenditure as would be required for its continued publication."

Notice of Motion for next Meeting.

Society for the Reformation of Manners.—The Rev. O. Miller gave notice that at the next Meeting he should move,—

"To request the Standing Committee to call the attention of the Bishops and Archdeacons [of the Church of England] to the extreme importance of recalling into action the Society for the Reformation of Manners, and of restoring the Episcopal and Archidiaconal Visitations to their proper station, as institutions for providing for the prosecution of offenders against the discipline of the Church."

Letters of Thanks, &c., &c.

Diocese of British Guiana.—The following letter, addressed to the Secretary, was read:—

"The Parsonage, Port Mourant,
"Berbice, British Guiana, 6th October, 1873.

REV. SIR,—I beg to offer to your Society my very best thanks for the most acceptable sum of 40*l.* granted in aid of the erection of a mission chapel at Ainess, in this district. I have just drawn the money from the Bishop, being only now in a position to do so.

"His Lordship visited my cure on the 20th,

21st, and 22nd of last month, and on Sunday, the 21st held a confirmation at Ainess. The chapel was crowded to excess, many being unable to obtain admittance. The offerings of the poor black people at this service amounted to between 4*l.* and 5*l.* I may add that when the building was opened for Divine Worship, on the 2nd of January last, the offertory amounted to about 10*l.* It was not convenient to have the chapel consecrated when the Bishop was here, but this is to be done in the course of a few months.

"I have also to thank the Society for the kind present of two sets of books, one for Port Mourant and the other for Ainess chapel. Both have arrived safely, and are now in use.

"I can assure you that such generous help from the mother country are highly appreciated by the native population, and act most efficiently as incentives for the people to do more themselves, to help forward the glad tidings of the Gospel of Christ.

"Again thanking you on behalf of myself and congregations, and earnestly praying that your Society may continue on in its noble course of usefulness,

"I remain, reverend sir,

"Your grateful and obliged servant,

"JOHN BRIDGES, Curate of Port Mourant.

"The Reverend the Secretary,

"Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge."

SOCIETY FOR THE PROPAGATION OF THE GOSPEL IN FOREIGN PARTS.

THE Monthly Meeting was held at the Society's house, 20, Duke-street, Westminster, on Friday, October 17; Bishop Piers Claughton in the chair.

1. Read minutes of last Meeting.

2. The Secretary reported, as the principal business of importance during the recess, the Minute (see Mission Field, p. 286) which was passed by the Standing Committee on July 23, on the decease of the late Bishop of Winchester.

3. The Treasurers presented a statement of the Society's Income to the end of September.

4. Read letter from the Bishop of Madras, dated August 25, on the subject of the consecration of two Missionary Bishops in Southern India.

The Standing Committee recommended the Society to adopt the following Resolution:—

"That the Society welcomes with very great satisfaction the proposal of the Bishop of Madras for the consecration of resident Bishops in Tinnevely, and offers its cordial thanks to the Bishop for his letter.

"The Society rejoices that so able and experienced a Missionary as the Rev. Dr. Caldwell has been named for this important office; and in the event of the proposal being found feasible, and the Archbishop of Canterbury being willing to consecrate, the Society undertakes to make the necessary addition to Dr. Caldwell's stipend."

The Rev. S. Arnott moved and the Rev. C. B. Dalton seconded the following amendment, which was carried:—"That the consideration of the subject be postponed until a letter has been received from the Bishop of Calcutta."

5. The re-election of Rev. James Wood and W. Long, Esq., as Representatives of the Diocese of Bath and Wells, and of the Earl Brownlow and Rev. Precentor Venables as Representatives of the Diocese of Lincoln, was confirmed.

6. The Secretary, on behalf of the Rev. Walter Blunt, gave notice that the proposition of which he had given notice would not be brought forward in November.

7. The Rev. S. Arnott moved:—"That it be a condition annexed to all grants made by this Society, except in the case of native indigent congregations, that a collection in aid of the funds of the Society be made every year in the church or congregation in support of which the grant is made."

On a division the resolution was lost.

8. The Rev. T. Darling gave notice of his intention to move at the next Meeting—"That it be referred to the Standing Committee to consider whether any means can be devised for the better regulation of the Society's Monthly Meetings."

9. The Rev. E. F. Sweet, from the Diocese of Wisconsin, gave some information of the condition of Nashotah College.

10. The Rev. F. S. May gave notice of his intention to call the attention of the Board at the next Meeting to the recent action of the Foreign Office in regard to Consular Chaplaincies.

11. All the members proposed for incorporation were elected members of the Society.

12. Thirty-one members will be proposed for election at the Meeting in December.

CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

SELECTIONS FROM

PROCEEDINGS OF COMMITTEE.

Committee of Correspondence, Oct. 7th.—The Rev. J. B. Wood, having returned invalided from Lagos, was introduced to the Committee, and conversation held with him respecting the prospects of the work at Lagos. Mr. Wood dwelt more particularly on the work he had been specially engaged in at the Training Institution for Native Agents, in which there are at present seventeen pupils, and on the need there was of a suitable building. Mr. Wood having pointed out on a plan the site which had been approved by the Lagos Finance Committee, the Committee resolved that the building should be proceeded with upon the site specified.

The Rev. R. Palmer, who had just returned from Shaou-hyng, China, on sick leave, was introduced to the Committee, and conversation held with him on the state of the Society's work at Shaou-hyng, and on the prospects in Japan, which he had lately visited with a view to the restoration of his health.

The Rev. R. H. Maddox, who had laboured in connexion with the Malayalam Mission in Travancore since 1863, was also introduced to the Committee on his return from India, and gave interesting information as to the openings for the spread of the Gospel among the slaves, from among whom highly intelligent men were now being trained for the office of teachers, and also regarding the reform movement in the Syrian Church. He referred to the use of the reformed Liturgy in the vernacular in many of the Syrian churches, and mentioned that, although there was much in the Ritual to which exception might be taken, there was a general movement in the right direction which augured well for the future. There was, however, a strong party in the Syrian Church who were altogether opposed to reforms of any kind.

The Committee had under their consideration the arrangements at Mengnanapuram, consequent on the return home of the Rev. J. D. Thomas, and after full consideration the Committee agreed in thinking that the time had not yet come for leaving it without European superintendence. They therefore appointed the Rev. A. Dibb to take charge of the district.

The Committee sanctioned grants-in-aid to the Masulipatam and Bezvara Native Church Endowment Fund on the application of the Madras Corresponding Committee, and they also made a grant to the Kandy Collegiate School.

Extract of letter from the Rev. W. W. Kirkby, dated Churchill, Hudson's Bay, July 19, 1873:—

"It afforded me much satisfaction to know that the Committee was gratified by the attempt made last summer to visit the Indians of Trout Lake, and to commence a Mission among them; and I am sure that they will rejoice with me that the infant Church there is growing stronger, and that the converts are beginning to feel both their privileges and responsibilities. The letter I had from the Catechist last February was very encouraging. All the Indians who hunt anywhere near the Fort remained with him in the Fall so long as they possibly could, that they might have the advantage of daily hearing the Gospel, and of receiving whatever instruction he could give them: and those who during the winter were near, came in for service every Sunday, and returned to their tents again on Monday morning. They had also helped John much in building his house. Indeed, all the Christian Indians contributed something to the Mission, which was expended in either work or materials. There are some who cling yet to their heathenism and to their sins, but they form a small minority. The others have all manifested a desire to know Jesus and to become His disciples. Then, besides the daily evening and Sunday services, John tells me that he has had a little school all the winter of a dozen or fourteen children belonging to the Indian and half-caste servants of the Company. But his great sowing time will commence in the spring, as then all the Indians trading at the Fort come in, and the greater part of the families remain tented there all summer, whilst the men go down to Severn in the boats. I trust, therefore, that he is now having a busy season with them, and that God may largely bless his efforts to their souls' good."

The following communication from the Rev. W. C. Bompas, dated Peel's River, April 26, 1873, will be read with interest, as showing how our most northern station is likely to be brought nearer to us through the development of commerce:—

"As I have an opportunity of sending letters home, I think it right to report that Mr. K. McDonald and myself have been preserved, by God's mercy, in safety during the past winter. Mr. McDonald has been occupied most of the winter in keeping schools and taking charge of the Mission at this post, while I have myself been visiting at their camps the Indians on the farther side of the Rocky Mountains. I have been much cheered in my work among them by finding them all eager for instruction, and warm-hearted in their reception of the Missionary. I am not aware that the French bishop and priest who have been passing the winter at our old post, Fort Youcon, have gained any influence among our converts. It seems now to be likely that a new post will be set up by the English Fur Company across the Rocky Mountains, to which it may be desirable to remove the headquarters of our Loucheux Mission. It is also in contemplation to put steamers on the Youcon and Mackenzie Rivers, and so open up a communication between this part of the country and the Western Ocean by means of the Youcon River. This is likely to make our Mission more accessible, and more easily supplied with necessities and less removed from civilization."

LAW.

COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 4.

(Sittings in Banco, before Justices BLACKBURN, QUAIN, and ARCHIBALD.)

LONDON CHARITIES.—EXCHANGE AND PURCHASE OF VOTES.

BOLTON v. MADDEN.

The plaintiff and the defendant were both subscribers to the Orphan Working School, and, as subscribers, were entitled each to two votes at the half-yearly election, or to four votes at the yearly election. In June, 1872, the defendant wished to get a candidate into the school, and asked the plaintiff to give him his votes for the purpose, promising, in exchange, his own votes in behalf of a candidate of the plaintiff's in January, 1873. The plaintiff, in consequence, lent the defendant twenty-eight votes, and early in January, 1873, asked him for the votes which he had promised in return. The plaintiff never gave the defendant the promised votes. The plaintiff, not wishing to lose the election of his candidate, then bought twenty-eight votes by subscribing seven guineas to the charity, and subsequently brought an action in the Lord Mayor's Court to recover this sum from the defendant as the damages for not having the promise to return the twenty-eight votes carried out. The plaintiff was nonsuited, on the ground that the subscription to the charity was an imperfect obligation, which he need not have undertaken.

Mr. Francis Turner now moved for a rule nisi to set aside the nonsuit.

Mr. Justice Blackburn asked if it was the practice at these charity elections for subscribers to say to one another, "If you will vote for my candidate, I will vote for yours," without knowing in the least what sort of a person the candidate may be.

Mr. Turner seemed to think that such was the practice.

Mr. Justice Quain thought there was an implied promise by subscribers to charities that they would do everything for the benefit of the charity, and not sell their votes to the highest bidder, which was what transactions of this sort really came to.

Mr. Turner said that such a rule, if it existed, would have to be construed liberally, and, inasmuch as it would be impossible for a subscriber to sift the character of every candidate for whom he voted, it would be a reasonable thing for one subscriber to vote for a candidate proposed by another.

Mr. Justice Blackburn.—But not if the candidate were wholly undeserving, as may very well have been the case here, from the mode in which the exchange of votes was managed.

After some argument, the rule was granted, Mr. Justice Blackburn intimating that he would go no farther than saying that it was a case for discussion.

COURT OF ARCHES.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 28.

(Before SIR ROBERT J. PHILLIMORE.)

BURCH v. REV. JOHN REID.

This case, sent by the Bishop of Exeter to the Arches, was a suit in which the defendant, the Vicar of Tregony, in Cornwall, was charged with soliciting the chastity of four females who had been in his service. The Bishop of Exeter, under the Church Discipline Act, had issued a commission, and the majority of the commissioners had reported that there was a prima facie case, and the Bishop sent the case by letter of request to Sir R. Phillimore. The promotor was the Bishop's secretary, and articles had been filed setting forth the several allegations of immorality.

Mr. Lopes, Q.C., and Dr. Tristram were for the promotor; Mr. O'Malley, Q.C., and Mr. Charles for the defendant.

Mr. Lopes (on whose application the witnesses had been ordered out of court) proceeded to open the case by giving an outline of the evidence. There had been considerable litigation of the living in the Court of Common Pleas by the late Bishop of Exeter as to simony, and it was decided in favour of Mr. Reid, who was instituted in the year 1868.

The examination and cross-examination of the several witnesses (including the defendant and his wife) occupied the Court till Friday, when Mr. O'Malley commenced his address on behalf of the defendant. He resumed his address on Saturday, imploring the Court to believe that Mr. Reid and his wife had spoken the truth, and that the charges were unfounded.

Mr. Lopes having replied,

Sir R. Phillimore said he would consider his judgment in this distressing and painful case.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 4.

FAGG AND MUMFERY v. LEE.

This was an appeal from the Consistory Court of Canterbury (see Ecclesiastical Gazette, September, 1873, p. 35). The Judge, Dr. Tristram, had overruled an objection taken to the suit, and hence the present appeal.

Dr. A. J. Stephens, Q.C., and Mr. Walter Phillimore were for the appellants; Dr. Deane, Q.C., and Mr. Cowie for the respondent.

The appellants, churchwardens of St. Peter's, Folkestone, as also the Rev. Mr. Ridsdale, the Incumbent, were monished to remove certain embossed pictures, alleged to be "Stations of the Cross," in the church. The Incumbent had submitted, and on the hearing of the matter before Dr. Tristram a preliminary objection was taken that the monition did not show that Mr. Lee had either a public or private interest in the matter, and the learned Commissary had overruled the objection, and the churchwardens appealed to the Dean of Arches.

Dr. Stephens and Mr. Phillimore submitted that the promotor was bound to show that he had an interest. Mr. Lee was known to be the Secretary of the Archbishop of Canterbury, but still it should be set forth on the proceeding of a civil action, as the present was, that he had an interest in the matter.

Dr. Deane urged that it was not necessary to show an interest on the face of a monition at the present stage of the cause.

The Dean of Arches said that out of respect to the Judge of the Court below and the argument of counsel, he should take a short time to consider his judgment.

CONSISTORY COURT.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 23.

(Before DR. TRISTRAM, Chancellor of the Diocese of London.)

THE BALDACCHINO CASE.

ST. BARNABAS, PIMLICO.

This was a petition by the Rev. George Cosby White and the Churchwardens of St. Barnabas, Pimlico (see Ecclesiastical Gazette, Aug., 1873, p. 21), for a faculty or licence to erect a baldacchino or canopy over the Communion-table. The application was resisted by Mr. Wm. Bowron, and others of the parishioners, and by the Church Association, who pleaded, in effect, that a baldacchino, which they described as an unaccustomed and an undesirable erection, would not be a lawful or a suitable adornment of the east end of the church; that if it was lawful, which they denied, it would be neither profitable nor expedient, as being opposed to the religious convictions and feelings of a large number of the inhabitants of the parish; and that no vestry meeting had been called or had decided to sanction such an erection. The petitioners, in reply, submitted for the decision of the court the legal aspect of the question, and stated that the erection was much desired by a very large body of the parishioners, who were members of the Church of England, and that such an erection had been agreed to at a legally convened meeting of the vestry, at which Mr. Bowron, among others, was present. They therefore prayed a judgment in their favour, and applied that the defendants might be condemned in costs.

Mr. Walter Phillimore was counsel for the vicar and churchwardens; and Dr. A. J. Stephens, Q.C., appeared for the defendants.

Mr. Phillimore, before opening the case, observed that since the formal application was made for the faculty by his clients, one of the parishioners had intervened, and had raised certain objections on points of law, and on the question of the propriety of the proposed ornament. With pain, he called attention to an offensive and objectionable affidavit lately filed on the part of the defendants, in which it was sought to raise a prejudice against the vicar and the churchwardens with respect to certain points connected with the services at St. Barnabas; and he urged that the affidavit, being "extra articulate," and totally irrelevant to the issue, the simple question being the legality of such an erection in the Church of England generally and in this church in particular, ought to be at once struck off the files of the court.

Dr. Stephens said he proposed to show that Mr. White, the vicar, had been guilty of a wilful violation of the law of the land, as laid down in the Purchas and Mackenochie cases.

Mr. Phillimore said that if such statements as were contained in the affidavits had appeared in the pleadings they would undoubtedly have been struck out by the court, inasmuch as the legal character of one of the parties was not the point at issue, nor in any way connected with it.

Dr. Stephens said it was not his intention to argue the case as a mere matter of architectural ornament, but as a question of an adjunct to a Roman Catholic altar, and he had a right to raise that issue on the pleadings. The baldacchino was intended to render the so-called altar in St. Barnabas's a Roman Catholic altar in every respect; and he was perfectly entitled to have the affidavit retained on the files of this court.

The Chancellor intimated that he would consider the point, and would give his decision when Dr. Stephens proposed to read the affidavit.

Mr. Phillimore then proceeded to argue the case on the part of the vicar and churchwardens, observing, at the outset, that two questions were involved;—first, whether or not a baldacchino (the nature and history of which he discussed at great length) was such an erection as might lawfully be erected in a consecrated church of the Church of England; and, secondly, if legal, it was advisable and expedient to grant a faculty in this particular instance. Having spoken nearly five hours, Mr. Phillimore concluded his argument by urging the Chancellor, as the representative of the Bishop, to sanction the erection.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 24.

Dr. Stephens, Q.C., on behalf of the defendants, opposed the grant of any faculty in this case, and contended that the real object of the application was to introduce, under the authority of the Chancellor's Court, a structure which was an adjunct to a Roman Catholic altar, in order to give a superstitious reverence to the consecrated elements, and, in fact, to erect a monument of Popish superstition, which was legally condemned and destroyed as such in the reigns of Edward VI. and Elizabeth. In course of his argument, Dr. Stephens proposed to put in an affidavit, alluded to in Thursdays proceedings, describing the Ritualistic practice at St. Barnabas; but it was ruled by the Chancellor to be "extra articulate," and was withdrawn. He contended further, that the baldacchino proposed to be erected in the Church of St. Barnabas being a fixed structure, incompatible with the law of the Church of England, which required that the Communion-table should be a movable structure of wood capable of being brought into the body of the church at Communion time, if so enjoined by Ordinary; and concluded his argument by praying the Court to dismiss the application, and award costs.

Mr. Phillimore having briefly replied, The Chancellor intimated that he would reserve his judgment.

P. A. Blomfield, Malvern college. To Physical Science Post-mastership—Francis Treffry Bell, from Christ's hospital, and W. Carter, from Blackburn science school. Mr. Bell, having been elected at Merton college and also at Magdalen college, has chosen to accept the Exhibition at Magdalen college, the examination for the vacancies in both colleges having been conducted in common and with the same papers. Mr. Maguire was also elected to a Mathematical Scholarship at Queen's college, and will now have to choose which of the two he will accept.

QUEEN'S COLLEGE.

Mr. Alfred John Parkman Shepherd, of Sydney college, Bath, has been elected to a Mathematical Scholarship, and Mr. Woodburn James Bomford, of Magdalen college school, to a Wilson and a Dixon Exhibition (open for this turn). The next election to Scholarships and Exhibitions will be held in the second week after Easter.

Mr. William McClelland Keys Wells, nominated to a Thomas Exhibition, has been examined and elected.

MERTON COLLEGE.

Mr. Archibald Simon Lang Macdonald, of this college, has been elected to a Fellowship in Physical Science, and Mr. John Wesley Russell, B.A., of Balliol college, to a Fellowship in Mathematics, at this college. Mr. Macdonald obtained a first class in natural science in Michaelmas Term, 1871, and Mr. Russell a first class in mathematics in Trinity Term, 1872. Mr. Russell also obtained the Junior Mathematical Scholarship in 1871.

THE DERBY MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP.

This Scholarship, founded by the people of Lancashire in honour of the late Edward, Earl of Derby, K.G., Chancellor of the University, &c., has been conferred by the trustees on Mr. Alfred Goodwin, B.A., Fellow of Balliol college.

EXETER COLLEGE.

An examination will be held at this college on Tuesday, December 9, for the purpose of electing two Stapledon scholars. Candidates must not have completed the twentieth year of their age, and must have been born in the diocese of Exeter, or educated in some school in that diocese for at least three years last past. A further examination will be held in Lent Term, 1874, for the election of three or more open scholars, one of whom will be chosen for proficiency in mathematics, and one for proficiency in natural science.

The next examination for the Denyer and Johnson Theological Scholarships is announced for the end of Hilary Term, 1874.

WADHAM COLLEGE.

There will be an election to three open Scholarships on Saturday, December 6. Candidates must be under twenty years of age. In the election to one of the scholarships much weight will be given to proficiency in mathematics. The value of the scholarships, including rooms rent-free, is 80*l.* a year. Of this amount the sum of 65*l.* is their statutable value, to which the college adds 15*l.*, and the warden and fellows reserve to themselves the power of withdrawing the augmentation from any scholar with whose conduct or industry they may not be satisfied. The scholarships are tenable for five years. They are held on the condition of residence, and of the scholar going through the whole course of study required by the University and college. Two of the Exhibitions founded at this college by Dr. Hody for the encouragement of the study of the Hebrew language are also vacant. They are of the annual value of 50*l.* each, and are tenable for four years upon condition of residence, and of a terminal examination by the Regius Professor of Hebrew. The exhibitions are open to all Undergraduate members of the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge of less than two years' standing.

ALL SOULS' COLLEGE.

An election to two Fellowships in this college took place on Tuesday, November 26th, the successful candidates being Mr. Robert Gray Cornish Mowbray, B.A., Balliol college, who took a first class in Classics in Michaelmas, 1872; and Mr. Henry Offley, Wakeman, Christ Church, who gained a first class in History, in June, 1873. There were eighteen candidates.

Cambridge.

At the Congregation on Thursday, October 16, the following degrees were conferred:—

Doctor in Law.—Bryan Walker, Corpus Christi coll.

Masters of Arts.—William Hanson Jackson, Clare coll.; Arthur Forster Ruttly, Pembroke coll.; Robert Thomas W. Brayne, Henry Christian David Chandler, and George Gordon Wilder, Gonville and Caius coll.; Alfred Child, Emmanuel coll.

Master of Laws.—John Algonern Lawrence, Jesus coll.

Bachelor of Medicine.—Alexander John Alliot, Pembroke coll.

Bachelors of Arts.—Frank John Cannon, Trinity coll.; Thomas Latham, St. John's coll.; Robert Harris Giles, Corpus Christi coll.; James Jones Bryant, and Edward Stacey Norris, Jesus coll.

Bachelor of Laws.—Alfred G. Marten, St. John's coll.

At the Congregation on Thursday, October 30, the following degrees were conferred:—

Masters of Arts.—William Henry Morden Carthew, Cuthbert Collingwood Denny, and Robert Nimmo, Trinity coll.; Ernest Peter Cachemaille, Gonville and Caius coll.; Thomas Luffman, Corpus Christi coll.; Septimus Gillson, Sidney Sussex coll.

THE SEATONIAN PRIZE.

This prize has been adjudged to the Rev. H. C. G. Moule, M.A., Fellow of Trinity coll.

THE LE BAS PRIZE.

The Le Bas Prize for 1873 has been adjudged to J. Langfield Ward, B.A., of Pembroke college. The subject of the essay is "Colonization in its Bearing on the Extinction of the Aboriginal Races." The examiners consider that the author of the essay bearing the motto—

"Effigiem Xanthi Trojamque videtis
Quam vestrum fecere manus; melioribus opto Auspicis,"

is deserving of special commendation.

DOWNING COLLEGE.

Mr. Thos. Joseph Lawrence, B.A., LL.B., Scholar of this college, has been elected to a resident Fellowship. Mr. Lawrence was educated at the Perse school, and obtained the Junior Scholarship for International Law, founded by the late Dr. Whewell in 1868. He graduated as Senior in the Moral Science Tripos of 1871, and was bracketed Senior with Mr. Little, of Trinity college, in the Law and History Tripos of 1872.

THEOLOGICAL EXAMINATION.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE.

The undermentioned members of this college have been elected Fellows:—

Mr. Herbert Cowie, B.A., who was bracketed as third Classic in 1872, and was highly distinguished in the examination for the Chancellor's Classical Medal in that year.

Mr. Alfred Henry Garrod, B.A., was senior in the Natural Sciences Tripos, 1871.

Mr. Thomas Ethelbert Page, B.A., was bracketed second Classic in 1873, and was declared equal as Chancellor's Classical Medallist with Messrs. Butcher and Verrall, of Trinity college. Mr. Page has highly distinguished himself in other University examinations. In 1870 he obtained the Porson Prize; he was the successful competitor for Sir William Browne's Medal for a Latin Ode in 1870, 1871, and 1872. In the last-mentioned year he obtained the Chancellor's Medal for English poetry, and the same year was elected Davies scholar.

LOCAL EXAMINATIONS.

The entry for the Local Examinations held by this University in December next is now closed. The total number of candidates is 3550, being an increase of 15 per cent. on last year's numbers. The new centres are—for boys, Dorchester, Mauritius, and Ramsgate; for girls, Islington, Jersey, Wolverhampton; for boys and girls, Dover, Hastings, and South Shields. These centres contribute 800 candidates. The number of boys entered is 2482, last year 2228; of girls, 1068, last year 847.

In addition to the exhibitions to be awarded by the result of these examinations, which have already been announced, St. John's college gives exhibitions to boys; for girls the Cambridge Committee for conducting Lectures for Women and the National Union for improving the education of women contribute. Jesus college has now offered two Rustat Scholarships for each of the examinations in 1873 and 1874; the value of each scholarship is 40*l.* per annum, and in case of sufficient merit, 50*l.*. The candidates for the last-mentioned exhibitions must be orphan sons of clergymen ordained priests of the Church of England, and must not possess sufficient means to support themselves at the University. The successful candidates will be required to commence residence in the following October. Candidates for any of these exhibitions must give in their names to the Local Secretary at the place of examination. Further information can be obtained of the Rev. G. F. Browne, St. Catharine's college.

MISCELLANEOUS INTELLIGENCE.

Confirmation of the Election of the Bishop of Winchester.—The confirmation of the election of the Right Rev. Dr. E. Harold Browne, Bishop of Ely, to the bishopric of Winchester took place in the parish church, St. Mary-le-Bow, Cheapside, on Thursday, 23rd ult. Mr. Dyke, the registrar of the province, read the certificates of election by the dean and chapter and other documents, after which the vicar-general administered the oaths to the newly-elected prelate, and publicly read and signed the instrument declaring him Bishop of Winchester.

This act formally and officially vacated the see of Ely, to which the Rev. Dr. Woodford was gazetted on Tuesday, 28th Oct.

(From the London Gazette, Tuesday, 28th Oct.)

—The Queen has been pleased to order a congratulatory address to the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church of Ely, empowering them to elect a Bishop to that see, the same being void by the translation of Edward Harold Browne, D.D., late Bishop thereof, to the see of Winchester; and her Majesty has also been pleased to recommend to the said Dean and Chapter James Russell Woodford, D.D., to be by them elected Bishop of the said see of Ely.

METROPOLIS.

Religious Education.—Defence of Voluntary Schools.—A very numerous attended Public Meeting was held at St. James's Hall, on Thursday evening, 6th November, under the presidency of the Bishop of London.

The following resolutions were moved, seconded, and supported by the Right Rev. Chairman, Earl Beauchamp, Rev. Canon Gregory, Rev. Canon Miller, W. T. Charley, Esq., M.P., Rev. Canon Cromwell, and J. G. Talbot, Esq., M.P.:—

1. "That special exertions are required at the present time to maintain Scriptural instruction in board schools, and to counteract the attempt to reduce our primary schools to be places of mere secular training, by which Christianity would be dishonoured, and our national well-being impaired."

2. "That the undue multiplication of schools by the present School Board of London has seriously imperilled the continuance of the existing system of voluntary schools, and has caused the unnecessary expenditure of a great amount of money; and therefore it is most desirable that candidates should be returned for the new board who will take the practical and not the theoretical want of the metropolis as their rule in providing fresh accommodation, and so preserve existing schools from unfair rivalry and the ratepayers, from undue pressure of rates."

3. "That active measures should at once be taken to secure the election of men who, in the spirit of the preceding resolutions, will fairly carry out the Education Act of 1870, and prevent its being worked in furtherance of mere secular teaching, at the cost of the ratepayers."

PROVINCIAL.

Diocese of Ely.—Bissecentenary Festival.—On Friday, 17th of October, the Bishop and the Dean and Chapter of Ely celebrated the two-hundredth Anniversary of the foundation of a monastery at Ely by St. Etheldreda.

After the Nicene Creed, the Bishop addressed the congregation from the altar steps. At the conclusion of the address, the "Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, and the Bishop dismissed the congregation with his blessing.

The festival was continued on the three following days. On Sunday the Archbishop of Canterbury, and the Bishops of Chester, Peterborough and Lincoln were present, the Bishop of the diocese preaching his last sermon as Bishop of Ely, and the Archbishop of Canterbury officiating at the administration of the Holy Communion.

On Monday deputations from the four Archdeacons waited upon the Bishop at his palace, and presented to him addresses on his retirement from the See. At the conclusion of an earnest and affectionate reply, the Bishop said,—"It was much against my own feelings to separate myself from those with whom I have lived for nearly ten years; and I hardly know what at last induced me to assent. I suppose I felt that I had a special call from God to do so, and that I believed I was following His guidance. I may have been mistaken—if I was, I trust I shall be pardoned. I can only say it was not from any want of consideration for those whom I shall leave behind—it was not from any ingratitude for the kindly help which I have received from them since I have been here. Of one thing I am certain—you may have many chief pastors stronger and abler than myself, but you will never have one who more deeply holds you in his heart, or who will pray more earnestly for you."

SOCIETY FOR PROMOTING CHRISTIAN KNOWLEDGE.

67, Lincoln's Inn Fields.

The next Monthly General Meeting will be held on Tuesday, 13th January, 1874, at two p.m.

Tuesday, December 2, 1873.

The Rev. Dr. CUREY in the Chair.

After Prayers, the Minutes of the last Meeting were read.

Money Grants recommended by the Standing Committee.

Diocese of Capetown.—Archdeacon Badnall, acting as Vicar-General during the vacancy of the See, forwarded, on the 4th of October last, a very strongly recommended application from the Rev. Rice Thomas, for aid towards converting a school-chapel capable of holding 250 persons, into a church which shall accommodate 600 persons. The particulars of the case are described by Mr. Thomas, as follows:—

"The district of St. Mark's, Kanalarorp, Capetown, containing a population of some 3000 persons, was formed by the late Bishop of Capetown, and worked by a Catechist of the Church of England in 1861. Previous to this no provision had been made by the English, Dutch-Reformed Church, or, as far as I can discover, by any Christian sect, for the cure of souls in this district.

"The Catechist, Mr. Walters, commenced work by holding school during the week, and services on Sunday, in a small room in William-street. Gradually scholars and congregation increasing, a partition wall was removed, and the accommodation doubled. The still rapid growth of numbers urged the Bishop to suggest the erection of a mission school chapel, which, after much labour and sacrifice on the part of the congregation, and with proportionate aid from the Bishop, was accomplished at an outlay of about 1000*l.* in 1865.

"From that time until 1868 regular morning and evening services were held in the mission chapel, by one or other of the Cathedral staff.

"Eventually the congregation petitioned for their own minister, and in 1868 I left England with the Bishop, and have been in charge of the district since November of that year.

"I now write to your Society to solicit their help in converting my small mission chapel (capable at present of holding only some 250 persons) into a church which shall accommodate some 600. The present accommodation is far too small. Without drawing from other congregations, I can easily collect some 600 or 700 worshippers, all poor people, who would be most thankful for the ministrations of our Church. I may add, that of the 3000 in my district, some 700 are Mohammedans, many of whose children attend my school, and learn our catechism. I find, from estimates already given in, that I can carry out my plans for about 750*l.*; towards this sum I have collected during the last eighteen months nearly 300*l.*, but in doing so I have exhausted the ability of my people."

It was agreed, upon the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to make a grant of 50*l.* in this case, and that the Society's grant should be paid when it should have been duly certified that the receipt of it will at once lead to the completion of the building, and to its being free from all liability for debt and secured as the property of the Church.

Diocese of Quebec.—The Bishop forwarded, on one of the Society's printed papers, duly signed by himself, and dated 20th October, 1873, an application from the Rev. Thomas Ball, Incumbent of the parish of Ireland, for aid towards a school-house now in course of erection in connexion with Trinity Church, Ireland. The school will accommodate fifty pupils, and is being built of wood, on a site vested in the Bishop, Incumbent, and Churchwardens, as Trustees of the school. The total cost will be 400 dollars=80*l.*; 275 dollars, or 55*l.*, have been raised in the parish or diocese. There are about 400 Church-members, including children in the immediate neighbourhood; the district is a rural one; the inhabitants are principally farmers on bush-land, only a small portion of which is cultivated.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 5*l.* for the completion of this school, on the usual conditions.

Tasmania.—The Bishop of this Diocese, writing from Hobart Town, on the 7th October, 1873, forwarded and very strongly recommended an application from the Rev. Charles Brome, of Forth, in his Diocese, for aid towards church building in his extensive district. Three churches have recently been set on foot, none of which are completed, though two of them are opened for Divine Service, but not consecrated.

The Bishop specially asked for a grant towards the church at Penguin, which is to cost only 160*l.* at first, but which is built so as to admit of its being enlarged; he also hopes that the Society may be able to give some help to the two other churches in the district, one at Forth, the other at Leven.

The Bishop says that he is most anxious to use the present time for building churches, before they feel more severely the effect of their "Commutation State Aid Act;" he also speaks most highly of Mr. Brome as "a very active and successful servant of the Church."

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 40*l.* in this case, on condition of not less than 20*l.* being spent upon the Penguin church; the grant to be put at the disposal of the Bishop on the usual conditions.

Chipewyan Manual.—The Secretary submitted the following letter from the Rev. W. W. Kirkby:—

"I beg to return you my grateful thanks for the liberal grant of 20*l.* which you so kindly made towards the iron church for Churchill. It has just been landed here; and I am sure that you will rejoice to know that the poor people of that isolated place will now have a building dedicated to the service of God, instead of having to worship Him in one of the houses, a fur-store, or any place the gentleman in charge could lead to the Missionary whenever he visited the people. Besides the English-speaking servants who are there, both Esquimaux and Indians remain about the place all the summer, so that it was very necessary to have a little church of our own in which these could be daily taught, as well as have divine service in on Sundays. And it is a great joy to me to think that this will now, by the liberality of Christian friends, be accomplished. The Hon. Hudson's Bay Company have kindly brought out the little church free of freight, which is indeed a great boon to us.

"I have now another want for the Indians of the place, which I beg to lay before you, and in which to ask your further help. They are Chipewyans, and speak a language totally different from the people of this Mission. From my predecessor not knowing anything of their language, I found upon my first visit to them that they had no kind of book in their possession; and when they found that I understood something of their tongue, they begged of me to prepare a little book for their use, that by its help they might have some kind of religious service during the long dreary winter they have to remain away from the Fort. I remained with them four months, and prepared a little manual, which was most kindly printed for them at the expense of a dear friend, lately deceased. It is very nice, and the poor people have learnt to read and use it nicely. It will still serve as a book for the young people to learn by.

"During my stay there this summer I prepared the MS. of a more useful book, containing thirty good hymns; the Morning Service (abridged); the Litany (to be used as an Evening Service); the Baptismal, Holy Communion, Marriage, and Burial Services of our Prayer Book; the Apostles' Creed, Lord's Prayer, Decalogue, and a few short chapters on the Saviour's life, &c. The whole will form a most useful book of 150 pp., 18mo. It will be most valuable to use in the little church for united service, and is also adapted for the Indians when alone in their tents. My desire is to have, in the first instance, 250 copies printed and bound according to the specimen cover sent; and most thankful should I be if your venerable Society would undertake the expense of it. The books shall be afterwards sold to as many as can possibly afford to pay for them, and this money, with any that I can send from here, shall be thankfully refunded to you. I have requested Mr. Dickeson to lay this application and the manuscript before you. Mr. Watt has the type, and I will send him full directions about the printing; and the Rev. E. A. Watkins Benhall, Suffolk, will kindly correct the proof as they pass through the press. It should be done before the end of next May, so as to come out in the Company's ship in June.

"And now, sincerely trusting that you may favourably regard this application, and that I shall have the deep joy of receiving the books next year,

"I remain, gentlemen, your obedient servant,
"W. W. KIRKBY."

The Standing Committee informed the meeting that they had ascertained that the cost of an edition of 250 copies bound would be 37l. 10s., and that they recommended a grant for the production of the book, and that the whole of the copies should be sent out to Mr. Kirkby.

This proposal was agreed to.

Book Grants recommended by the Standing Committee.

The Special Ordinary Book Grants were then made, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee.

Christian Evidence Society.—The Rev. P. Barker, Secretary of this Society, applied for a further grant of books and tracts published by the Christian Evidence Committee of S.P.C.K.

Mr. Barker wrote as follows:—

"I beg to say that the former grant (a grant of books, &c., to the value of 27l. 10s., has been very useful, and both the books and tracts have been much appreciated by our workers."

"I have not been able to ascertain any definite results that have followed the perusal of any of the S.P.C.K. tracts or books, except, perhaps, that it may be interesting to you to know that one of our agents tells me that within the last two years he has purchased, or caused to be purchased by his recommendation of the book, about 100 copies of Rawlinson's "Historical Illustrations." On all sides there seems to be the same testimony as to the value of these works."

Mr. Barker sent in a list of the books and tracts for which he now asked, to the value of 27l. 19s. 6d.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant these books and tracts as applied for.

Chester Diocesan Board of Education.—The Rev. John L. Darby, Diocesan Inspector for the Diocese of Chester, applied for a grant of S.P.C.K. publications to the value of 5l. 2s., to meet an equal outlay in books on the part of the Diocesan Board; the whole of the books to be given to pupil-teachers as prizes for religious knowledge after a central examination.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to make this grant as requested.

Reports and Notices from the Standing Committee.

Diocese of Honolulu.—The Standing Committee informed the meeting that the Rev. Walter Scott, Commissary of the Bishop of Honolulu, had applied for a grant in aid of the passage out to Honolulu of the Rev. R. Dunn, Vicar of Ampney Crucis, who has accepted the post of senior priest in that diocese. The Committee further reported that they had granted 50l. out of Canning's Trust Fund for this purpose.

Episcopal Referees.—The Standing Committee reported that his Grace the President of the Society had, in conformity with Rule XXXI., appointed the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Carlisle as one of the Episcopal Referees, in place of the late Right Rev. Samuel Wilberforce, Bishop of Winchester, and that the Bishop had consented to serve.

Vice-President.—The Standing Committee informed the meeting that the Very Rev. B. M. Cowie, Dean of Manchester, had found it necessary, in consequence of his removal from London, to retire from both the Standing Committee and the Committee of General Literature and Education, and, in accordance with Rule III., they gave notice that in February next they would propose the Very Rev. the Dean of Manchester for election as a Vice-President of the Society.

The Standing Committee added that the Dean had been a member of the Standing Committee since 1863, and of the General Literature Committee since 1857 till the present time.

Standing Committee.—In conformity with Rule XXVII., the Standing Committee informed the meeting that the six members of the Committee who would retire by seniority in February next were Mr. Moorhouse, Dr. Currey, Mr. Robert Few, the Dean of Manchester, Mr. William Rivington, and Mr. Hodson; that four only of these were eligible for re-election; that of the six named, the Dean of Manchester and Mr. Few, in consequence of their inability to attend, had requested not to be nominated for re-election; that the election of Mr. Powell, in April last, as one of the Treasurers of the Society, had made him an ex-officio member of the Standing Committee, and so had caused another vacancy: that thus there would be in all seven vacancies.

The Standing Committee also submitted the following names of candidates whom they recommended to fill the seven vacancies:—Dr. Currey, Mr. Hodson, Mr. Moorhouse, Mr. W. Rivington, together with T. A. Barker, Esq., M.D., Major-General Sir R. Wilbraham, and the Rev. W. Cooke, Hon. Canon of Chester.

The Committee added that they proposed Mr. Cooke in the place of Mr. Powell, so that if there were no opposition the first six names would be arranged alphabetically as members elected to serve for four years, and Mr. Cooke's name would be substituted in the list for that of Mr. Powell; that, in case of there being a ballot, the names would be arranged according to the number of votes given for each candidate, the member who should receive fewest votes being so placed as to retire first, and so on.

Tract Committee.—In conformity with Rule XXX., the Standing Committee proposed the following seven members of the Society to form the Tract Committee for the ensuing year:—

Rev. W. H. Burrows.	Rev. Dr. Francis Hes-
Rev. Berdmore Compton.	sey.
Rev. Dr. Currey.	Rev. G. H. Hodson.
Rev. C. W. Edmon-	Rev. A. W. Thorold.
stone.

These gentlemen are the same as those who constitute the Tract Committee at the present time, with the exception of Mr. Thorold, Vicar of St. Pancras, and a former member of the Tract Committee, who takes the place of Mr. Copleston, who retires, being unable any longer to give the necessary amount of time to the work of the Committee.

Committee of General Literature and Education.—Similarly, in conformity with Rule XXXV., the following members of the Society were proposed by the Standing Committee as the Committee of General Literature and Education for the ensuing year:—

T. A. Barker, Esq., M.D.	Rev. A. Johnson.
Thomas Bell, Esq.	Rev. H. Le Bas.
Rev. W. Campbell.	Rev. A. Povah.
Rev. W. Cooke.	Rev. Canon Tintling.
Rev. Brownlow Mait-	Thomas Turner, Esq.
land.	J. E. White, Esq.
Rev. C. J. D'Oyly.

These are the same gentlemen as those who form the Committee at the present time, with the exception of Mr. Brownlow Maitland, who is proposed in the place of the Dean of Manchester, who retires.

Supplemental Religious Catalogue Committee.—In accordance with Rule XXXIX., the Standing Committee proposed that the following five members of the Society should form the Supplemental Religious Catalogue Committee:—

Ven. Archdeacon Bicker-	Rev. W. Walsham
steth.	How.
Ven. Archdeacon Grant.	Rev. N. J. Ridley.
Rev. Lewis Hensley.

The meeting was informed that the names of any other candidates for the several Committees, duly proposed and seconded, may be sent to the Secretaries on or before the Saturday previous to the January General Meeting.

Motion of which notice was given at the last Meeting.

Society for the Reformation of Manners.—The Rev. C. Miller, Vicar of Harlow, in accordance with notice given at the last meeting, moved,— "That the Standing Committee be requested to call the attention of the Bishops and Archdeacons (of the Church of England) to the extreme importance of recalling into action the Society for the Reformation of Manners, and of restoring the Episcopal and Archidiaconal Visitations to their proper station, as institutions for providing for the prosecution of offenders against the discipline of the Church."

Mr. Edye seconded the motion.

The motion was put from the chair and lost.

Letters of Thanks, &c.

Church of England Scripture Readers' Association.—A letter from the Lay Secretary of this Association, to which a grant of books and tracts, published by the Christian Evidence Committee of the Society, to the value of 45l., was made in the course of last year, was read:—

"56, Haymarket, London, Nov. 13th, 1873.

"DEAR SIR,—Referring to the grant of the Christian Evidence Series of Books and Tracts made to this Association in 1872 by the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, I have much pleasure in reporting, for the information of your Committee, that the testimony of the Readers is general as to their great value and usefulness.

"As a rule, the tracts were gladly, and even eagerly received and read; now and then we hear of their having been lent about in the districts, or of their having been sent by the working people to their friends in the country; and even when refused at first by avowed infidels, who refuse all tracts, they were willingly received by them when they heard their titles, or when their import was stated by the Reader. They have moreover often gained for the Reader admittance to the house when other means have failed, and that amongst persons the most depraved and sunk in wickedness, and in localities where drunkenness and infidelity abound. The way has thus been opened to much spiritual conversation, where before it had been difficult to get the people to listen to anything of a spiritual character. The whole of this series of tracts appear to have been made most useful in clearing up, to the satisfaction of many an intelligent working man, what before appeared formidable Scripture difficulties. But there is one which has been specially mentioned as exceptionally useful, and that is No. 5 of the series, entitled 'Is there a God?' One man, a print block-cutter, who had been taught, whilst working in a large factory, to treat God's Word as a fable, and its narrative as idle tales, acknowledged to the Reader that two of these tracts had opened his mind and dispelled his doubts. They were on 'Order, Adaptation, Design,' and 'Is there a God?' especially the latter, which so plainly set forth the truth as it is in Jesus, that from the time he read it till his death, which took place some little time afterwards, the Bible, which he had despised, was his constant companion; and on his dying bed he bore testimony to the power of the truth in bringing peace to his soul, and sent the tracts, which had been so blessed to him, to his 'mates' in the factory to read and study. Another man, who had likewise imbibed infidel principles, said to one of our Readers, after reading the tract, 'Is there a God?' 'Who could doubt the being of a God, after reading such a tract as that?' This man is now lying on a bed of sickness—not improbably the bed of death—and, as the Reader be-lives, is resting all his hopes for eternity on the finished work of Christ. Trusting that this short statement as to the usefulness of the grant may be satisfactory to your Committee,

"I am, dear sir, yours faithfully,

"RODDAM TATE, Lay Secretary.

"The Rev. H. Swabey."

St. Augustine's College, Canterbury.—In acknowledgment of the grant of 250*l.*, made at the last Monthly General Meeting to this college, the Warden wrote to the Secretary as follows:—

"I cannot tell you into what good heart I have been put by your announcement of the handsome and effectual grant of 250*l.* unanimously voted by the Committee of the S.P.C.K. towards an Oriental Fellowship Fund. I shall now without delay boldly press on to raise the sum which yet remains, and will not fail to be ready with my claim, when that is accomplished, on the Society's bounty."

Durham Training College for Schoolmasters.—In reference to the supplemental grant of 160*l.*, announced at the last Meeting as having been made to this College by the Standing Committee, on condition of eight further additional Students over and above the twelve received in January, 1873, being admitted, Archdeacon Bland wrote as follows to the Secretary:—

"I am truly gratified by your welcome letter of the 11th inst., and I am requested by the Select Committee of the Durham Diocesan Training College for Schoolmasters to convey to the Standing Committee of the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge their grateful acknowledgments for having granted their request, and for thus reserving 160*l.*, the unpaid balance out of 400*l.* originally set apart towards the Enlargement of the college.

"We quite understand that this sum will not be paid till we shall have certified to you that eight other additional Students, over and above the twelve received in January, 1873, have been admitted into training for two years at our college for Schoolmasters.

"This is all that we requested and could hope for; and we trust that with this help, and some further contributions in the Diocese, we may be able to carry out our plans satisfactorily."

Diocese of Bathurst.—The Standing Committee informed the meeting that they had received from the Bishop of Bathurst a letter, in which he stated that the grant of 500*l.*, which was placed at his disposal in October, 1869, for "the erection of churches, school-chapels, and school-rooms," had stimulated the good work of erecting churches in twenty-two places. The Bishop promised to send some details when he should have more leisure; he also mentioned that a vote of thanks had been passed to the Society for the grant by the Synod of the Diocese of Bathurst.

Adelaide.—In a letter of thanks for three grants of 25*l.* each recently made to this diocese, the Bishop, writing from Bishops Court, Adelaide, on the 9th October, 1873, said, in reference to the 2500*l.* set apart by the Society for the increase of the number of theological students in the colonies,—

"The great accruing want is the supply of properly trained colonial clergy born in the colonies. Grants toward the endowment of theological readerships connected with the cathedrals or collegiate institutions will be hereafter of the greatest benefit to the colonial churches."

Report of the Society's Visitor of Emigrants leaving Liverpool.—The Rev. James Lawrence wrote as follows:—

"It seldom falls to my lot at this season of the year to have anything new or especially striking to report. Towards the close of the year emigration begins to fall off, and there always seems a reluctance (not an unnatural one) to leave friends and the old country when Christmas is near at hand. Hence there is always a sensible diminution in the number of emigrants to be noticed in December.

"These general characteristics mark very distinctly the report which I now present. My work has gone on steadily during the quarter. Opportunities for usefulness have been utilized whenever they have occurred, a kind word has been spoken, or a kind act performed, yet without anything specially demanding attention. Still I trust that the tracts and portions of Scripture which have been placed in the hands of those who have left this port during the three months just terminated may have had a message of good conveyed by them to many a soul.

"There are, however, one or two features connected with emigration at this particular time which have forced themselves upon my own notice, and are worthy of being recorded.

"The emigration at the present time is mostly confined to foreigners; were it not for them, there would be scarcely any emigration at all. The numbers of French and Italians who are crossing is now far greater than I have ever seen it at any previous time. I was at a loss for a long time to ascertain the reason of this. I noticed these foreigners went in large companies, evidently collected together from neighbouring localities, and having a common destination. I inquired into the matter. I asked who they were? when and why they came? and where they were going? In reply I was told that the majority of them were on their way to the State of California, that great attention was now being paid to the cultivation of the vine and the production of various kinds of wine; that the Californian grape-growers had sent agents to France and Italy to collect together labourers who understood vines and wine making, and bring them over to work on their estates. These bands of men whom I saw were the results of this mission. I have consequently had a large draw upon my stock of French and Italian tracts. These have been well received, and I have endeavoured, wherever an opportunity offered, to say a kind word to them in their own languages.

"Another noteworthy feature affecting emigration at the present time is this (and it has never occurred in my experience before), that almost as large a number of persons are at the present time returning in each steamer from America to Ireland and England as those who are travelling westward. This is owing to the late commercial panic and consequent depression in all branches of trade and manufactures, which has extended so far throughout the United States. I understand that in New York, Albany, Boston, Philadelphia, and many of the large manufacturing towns of Pennsylvania, numerous branches of industry have come quite to a standstill, and that thousands of men have lost their employment in consequence. Very possibly this state of things will prove only temporary, but at present it operates in two ways against emigration; it is bringing back again to this country many who have already emigrated, and it serves for the present as a check upon those who contemplate emigrating.

"I had during the past quarter several communications from clergymen respecting emigrants from their inland parishes. This enabled me to give them information respecting where they could pass the night comfortably and with economy. I find, however, that my directions are not always followed, and that emigrants frequently prefer to choose for themselves. One remarkable instance of this has lately occurred. A clergyman wrote me from Cornwall about a youth who was emigrating, and in whose welfare he was much interested. He told me he was very anxious that the young man should not be exposed to the temptations to sin, so many of which are to be found in a town like Liverpool: he had therefore given him a letter of introduction to me, and had told him to come direct to me from the railway station, that I might advise him where to go for the night. The youth, however, never came near me, and when the vessel on which he was to sail was taking in her passengers, with some difficulty I found him. On asking him why he had not come to me, he said he found in the train a youth, who, like himself, was emigrating, and they agreed to go to the same lodging-house.

"However, there have been cases during the past quarter where I have been enabled to render assistance to emigrants which has been really appreciated. Of this I am sincerely glad, and I only hope that the clergy will continue to communicate with me, promising that I will render every assistance which lies in my power to those in whom they are interested.

"Subjoined is a list of vessels visited, and the number of emigrants that have sailed in them.

"The number of vessels is 43; the number of emigrants is 12,303."

3. The right rev. chairman introduced Bishop Callaway, who made a statement on the condition of his Diocese, and the Missions within its limits.

4. The Secretary reported that an inquiry had been made into the amount of religious instruction given in the Society's Mission Schools in India: that in the Diocese of Madras all the schools were found to be under Christian instruction. And the Standing Committee proposed the following Resolutions, which, after discussion, were carried:—

"1. That it is essential that every school connected with this Society should be conducted by a Christian teacher.

"2. That, in conformity with the foregoing resolution, from and after June 30, 1875, no heathen be employed as teacher in any school of the Society within the Sunderbund District.

"3. That in all schools connected with the Society it be a fundamental principle that Christian instruction be given to the whole of the scholars."

5. The Secretary read letters from the Bishop of Auckland, August 2, on the subject of the Maori Clergy and their endowment; from Rev. W. B. Wright, dated Yedo, October 6, and announcing the arrival of himself and the Rev. A. C. Shaw at Japan; and from Rev. R. Robertson, dated Kwamagwaza, September 24, stating that he had been present at the coronation of King Cetewayo.

6. Read letter from Hugh Birley, Esq., M.P., November 19, in reference to the anticipated famine in India.

7. T. Charrington, Esq., alluded to the loss which the Society had sustained by the death of the Lord Richard Cavendish, a Member of the Standing Committee; and it was resolved unanimously, that an expression of the Society's regret at his sudden removal be entered on the Minutes of the Board.

8. The Rev. T. Darling, with permission of the Board, proposed, and it was resolved, "That it be referred to the Standing Committee to consider whether any and what amendment can be made in the Standing Orders, for the better regulation of the Society's Monthly Meetings."

9. The Rev. F. S. May called attention to the action of the Government in reference to Consular Chaplaincies, and it was resolved—"That the Standing Committee be authorized to take such steps as they shall think right with regard to the recent action of the Government in reference to Consular Chaplaincies."

10. The re-election of the Rev. Canon Gray and Harwood Banner, Esq., as Representatives of the Diocese of Chester, was confirmed.

11. All the persons proposed for incorporation in July were elected Members of the Society.

12. Forty-one Members will be proposed for election at the Meeting in January, 1874.

CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

SELECTIONS FROM

PROCEEDINGS OF COMMITTEE.

General Committee, Oct. 18th.—A letter was read from the Rev. G. B. Durrant, dated High-bury-grove, September 11th, announcing the death that morning of his father, the Rev. I. Durrant, Director of the Missionaries' Children's Home.—The Secretaries having borne testimony to Mr. Durrant's care and affectionate zeal in conducting the administration of the Home, the following resolution was passed:—"That the Secretaries convey to Mrs. Durrant the assurance of their respect for Mr. Durrant's memory, and their appreciation of his devotion to the interests of the Children's Home, and at the same time express their deep regret that the affliction which had visited her should deprive the Home of the motherly affection and untiring energy which had characterized the discharge of duties devolving upon her." A Sub-Committee was appointed to take measures for nominating to the Committee a suitable successor to Mr. Durrant.

Letters were read from the Rev. R. M. Chatfield, Vicar of Woodford, Secretary to the Salisbury and South Wilts Church Missionary Association; from the Rev. J. H. Gray, Association Secretary of the Society, and the Rev. R. Smith of Stafford, Dorchester, from which it appeared that the Board of Missions chosen at the Diocesan Synod held in Salisbury, April, 1873, had resolved that an annual Foreign Missionary Festival should be held in Sarum, commencing with a sermon in the Cathedral, and a public meeting in the afternoon, when both the Propagation and Church Missionary Societies should be represented; and directing inquiry to be made whether the Committee of the Church Missionary Society would appoint a representative to attend the Festival in their behalf. The Committee, while rejoicing in every sign of increased and increasing interest in Foreign Missions, saw no reason to depart from the principles embodied in their Minute of January, 1872, on Diocesan Boards and Church Unions; so that, without wishing in any degree to abridge or interfere with the free and voluntary action of their friends, they felt unable to send Deputations to meetings that are not exclusively in behalf of the Church Missionary Society.

The Rev. D. Wood, who had lately returned from Jaffna, in Ceylon, in weakened health, was introduced to the Committee, and reported the progress of the Society's work in Jaffna. Mr. Wood stated that the Native Pastors in that Mission, four in number, were well qualified for the work, and that the Tamil Christian laity took an active interest in the affairs of the Church and the Mission. Mr. Wood added that there had been lately increased opposition among the heathen, some of whom had formed a Sivito Society similar to the Brahmo Somaj in North India; but that he regarded this as a good sign, showing that public attention was attracted by the preaching of the Gospel.

The Secretaries adverted to the case of Mr. Downes, who had been employed of late as a Lay Agent at Peshawur under the Society's Calcutta Committee, until, on failure of his health, he had returned home. Mr. Downes was then introduced to the Committee, and gave an account of the attempt he had made to reach Kaffiristan, and information regarding the people, who for 1000 years have resisted Mohammedanism, although they are surrounded on every side by Mohammedans.

Committee of Correspondence, Oct. 21st.—Reference was made to the wish expressed by Mr. Downes, at his interview with the Committee, to be brought into full connexion with the Society with a view to his ultimately undertaking a Mission to Kaffiristan. The Rev. E. Auriol and the Secretaries having borne testimony to Mr. Downes' character and previous labour in the Mission field, the Committee cordially accepted him as a Missionary of the Society for employment in North India, with the understanding that if at any subsequent time the General Committee should see their way to undertake a Mission to the people of Kaffiristan, Mr. Downes be recommended for this special service.

The Rev. H. W. Shackell, having recently returned from North India on urgent medical certificate, after sixteen years of unpaid service in the Mission, was introduced to the Committee, and gave interesting information regarding his work. He detailed the formation and working of Native Church Committees in the principal congregations of the North India Mission, and gave it as his opinion that they had been fairly successful, and might form the basis of a federal union into District Councils.

Committee of Correspondence, Oct. 28th.—The Rev. P. R. Fyson, Christ's College, Cambridge, and curate of Drypool, Yorkshire, was accepted for Mission work in Japan.

General Committee (Special), Nov. 3rd.—The Rev. J. Rooker was appointed Director of the Missionaries' Children's Home, in the place of the late Rev. I. Durrant.

The Secretaries presented the draft of a paper on the Day of Prayer, which was ordered to be printed and circulated throughout the Associations.

The Rev. J. Fuchs, being about to leave for North India, was introduced to the Committee, and gave information regarding his Missionary work at Lucknow, and of the remarkable openings which Mrs. Fuchs had found in Mohammedan families for Zenana teaching. Mr. and Mrs. Fuchs were then commended in prayer to the protection and blessing of God, by the Rev. C. F. S. Money.

THE INCORPORATED SOCIETY FOR PROMOTING THE ENLARGEMENT, BUILDING, AND REPAIRING OF CHURCHES AND CHAPELS.

THE Society resumed its usual monthly meetings on Monday, November 11th, at 7, Whitehall, S.W., the Earl of Romney in the chair. There were also present Archdeacons Harrison and Jennings, the Revs. Arthur Cazenove, John Evans, S. W. Lloyd, and C. F. Norman, Messrs. J. Boodle, G. Cowburn, J. F. France, A. J. C. Lawrie, A. Powell, W. Rivington, and the Rev. George Ainslie, M.A., Secretary.

Grants of money were made in aid of the following objects:—viz.:—Building new churches at Hoxton, St. Peter, Middlesex; Manningham, St. Mark's, Yorkshire; Rhosybol, in the parish of Amlwch, Anglesea; and Weybridge, Surrey; enlarging or otherwise increasing the accommodation in the churches at Alderminster, near Stratford-on-Avon; Coates, Holy Trinity, near Whitelesea; East Winch, near Lynn; Evesham, Warwickshire; Faversham, Kent; Godney Hill, near Wisbeach; Marlborough, St. Mary; and Watlington, Oxon.

Under urgent circumstances the grants formerly made for enlarging and restoring the churches at Ash Priore, near Taunton; Clewer, near Windsor; Henstridge, near Blandford; Herne-hill-road, St. Saviour, Surrey; and Kelvedon Hatch, near Brentwood, were each increased.

Grants were also made from the School-church and Mission-house Fund towards building, &c., school or mission churches at Chelsea, St. John's, Middlesex; Fisherton, in the parish of Rolleston, Notts; and Rowley-hill, in the parish of Christ Church, Stafford.

LAW.

COURT OF CHANCERY.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 5.

(Before the LORD CHANCELLOR and Lord Justice MELLISH.)

EX PARTE THE REV. JOHN EDWARDS, THE VICAR OF PRESTBURY, GLOUCESTERSHIRE.

DR. STEPHENS, Q.C., and Mr. Phillimore, on behalf of the Rev. John Edwards, Vicar of Prestbury, moved for a prohibition to prevent the Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol and some commissioners appointed by him, and Mr. Charles Combe, of Prestbury, from further proceeding under a commission issued by the Bishop on the 26th November for the purpose of making inquiry into certain charges of ritualistic practices made against Mr. Edwards by Mr. Combe until Mr. Edwards should have been heard by counsel upon some preliminary objections taken by him as to the status of Mr. Combe as promoter of the inquiry. One of the objections is that Mr. Combe is a Dissenter. The proceedings are taken under the Church Discipline Act. On the 18th November, Mr. Edwards gave the Bishop notice of his objections to Mr. Combe, and on the 28th November the Bishop served Mr. Edwards with a notice that the commission had been issued, and that the first sitting would be held on Monday, December 8. Application was made ex parte to Vice-Chancellor Bacon on Thursday for the prohibition, and was refused by him on the ground that the Bishop was acting within the powers conferred on him by the Act. The application was now renewed before the Court of Appeal.

Their Lordships took the same view as the Vice-Chancellor did. They considered the application a groundless and frivolous one, and refused it.

COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 20.

LONDON CHARITIES.—EXCHANGE AND PURCHASE OF VOTES.

BOLTON v. MADDEN.

Mr. Turner moved to make absolute a rule nisi obtained in this case, calling upon the defendant to show cause why the verdict should not be entered for the plaintiff or for a new trial (see Ecclesiastical Gazette, November, p. 63).

Mr. Templeton appeared to show cause against the rule, and stated that the trial took place before the Common Serjeant in the Lord Mayor's Court. The plaintiff, who was the only witness examined at the trial, was a subscriber to the Orphan Working School, at Haverstock-hill. It appears that each subscriber of one guinea has at the elections two votes, and he is at liberty to buy four additional votes for an extra guinea, available at only one election. In July last the defendant was concerned for a candidate, and the plaintiff lent him twenty-four votes on condition that he should return them at the next election. The defendant did not return them; and the plaintiff, finding his candidate in peril at the next election, bought votes at an expense of seven guineas. His candidate got in, and he added that he did not buy the votes upon any authority from the defendant. Upon this statement of facts the Common Serjeant nonsuited the plaintiff, but gave him leave to move this Court for a rule. He (Mr. Templeton) contended that the facts proved did not constitute a legally binding contract—it was merely a moral obligation. This transaction could not be looked upon and regarded in the light of goods bought and sold in open market. He held that such a contract to give votes in this indiscriminate manner was not binding in law.

Mr. Justice Blackburn said the Court would take time to consider before delivering judgment.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 21.

(Sittings in Banco, before Lord Chief Justice COLERIDGE, and Justices KEATING, BRETT, and DENMAN.)

RIGHT OF CLERGYMEN, TEMPORARILY ABSENT FROM THE CURES, TO BE UPON THE LIST OF VOTERS.

DURANT, APPELLANT, v. CARTER, RESPONDENT.

This was an appeal from the decision of the Revising Barrister for Windsor, and the case stated the following circumstances:—The respondent was rector of Clewer, near Windsor, and he claimed to vote in respect of his occupation of the rectory-house. During a large part of the qualifying year the respondent was absent from his cure from ill-health, and, by licence of his bishop, a curate was appointed during this time, and he was required by the bishop to reside in the glebe house. Three rooms in the house, however, were locked up, and were reserved for the use of the respondent; and the question was whether, under the circumstances, he was resident in the house during the qualifying period so as to entitle him to vote. The revising barrister held that he was so resident, and retained his name upon the list of voters. This was the decision that was appealed against.

Mr. Kingdon, Q.C., appeared for the appellant, and Mr. Gorst for the respondent.

The Lord Chief Justice held that neither under the first nor the last Reform Act was there such an occupancy as would give the respondent a vote. This being so, he had no right to be upon the list of voters.

Decision reversed.

FORD, APPELLANT, v. PYE, RESPONDENT.

This was an appeal from the City of Exeter, and when it was called on the Lord Chief Justice left his seat and remained absent from the Court during the hearing of it. The facts were these:—The respondent was a clergyman having a living near Exeter, and residing within the city. In the summer of 1873 he agreed with Mr. Jordin, a clergyman in Wiltshire, that they should exchange duties and residences for the months of July and August, so that each might have the benefit of a change of air and scene. The agreement was acted upon, and Mr. Pye left all his servants but one in the house to wait upon Mr. Jordin, and he also had two rooms locked up and reserved for himself. The question was whether Mr. Pye had such an occupancy of the house in Exeter for the six months preceding the 31st July last as would qualify him to be upon the list of voters. The barrister, after some hesitation, held that he had, and retained the name upon the list of voters. The question was whether he was right in coming to this decision.

Mr. Kingdon, Q.C., was for the appellant; but there was no appearance on the part of the respondent.

Mr. Justice Keating said that, in his opinion, the hesitation of the barrister was well founded, because in his (Mr. Justice Keating's) opinion there was a break of residence during the two months such as would prevent Mr. Pye from having a vote.

Decision reversed.

COURT OF ERROR IN THE EXCHEQUER CHAMBER, WESTMINSTER.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 27.

(Sittings in Error, from the Court of Queen's Bench, before Lord Chief Justice COLERIDGE, Baron BRAMWELL, Mr. Justice KEATING, Baron CLEASBY, Mr. Justice GROVE, Mr. Justice DENMAN, and Baron POLLOCK.)

THE CHURCHWARDENS OF WIGAN v. THE QUEEN, ON THE PROSECUTION OF THE PUBLIC LOAN COMMISSIONERS.

The main question in this case turned upon a section in one of the Church Building Acts. In 1849 the Commissioners, empowered by an Act passed in the fifth year of George IV., advanced a sum of money to the churchwardens of Wigan. By this Act it was provided that such an advance should be repaid by instalments, with interest on such part as should not be involved in the instalment, within twenty years. Till 1853 the churchwardens levied a rate, and annually paid part of the money due. In 1853 the vestry decided not to levy a rate, and since that time the churchwardens have omitted to pay the Commissioners. In 1867 a rule nisi for a mandamus went. The question in this case was whether the churchwardens could now be compelled to make a rate to pay the Commissioners, twenty years (the time mentioned in the Act for repayment) having elapsed between the borrowing of the money and the granting of the mandamus.

Mr. Manisty, Q.C., Mr. Field, Q.C., Mr. Baratow, and Mr. Fitzadam appeared for the churchwardens; Mr. Cowie argued for the Commissioners.

The Court reserved their judgment.

ROLLS' COURT, CHANCERY LANE.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 14.

(Before the MASTER OF THE ROLLS.)

THE CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY AND THE LONDON MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

HILL v. FRY.

This suit was brought to cancel a deed of gift. The plaintiff, an old gentleman living at Clifton, some years ago made a will by which he bequeathed 12,000*l.*, Taff Vale Railway Stock, to the Church Missionary Society, 12,000*l.* like stock to the British and Foreign Bible Society, and 3000*l.* like stock to the Religious Tract Society. In February, 1872, Mr. Hill was minded to give these sums of stock at once, subject to his own life interest. He communicated his intention to the respective Societies, and to two members of the Society of Friends, named Fry and Pease, who accepted the trust, and agreed to fulfil what they believed to be his intentions. He then transferred the stock into the names of Messrs. Fry and Pease, and three deeds of trust were prepared and executed on or about the 9th of March. On the 13th of March Mr. Hill discovered that by some mistake the name of the London Missionary Society had been put into the first deed of trust, instead of the name of the Church Missionary Society, and being advised that he had no power of himself to rectify the deed, he filed the present bill to have it delivered up to be cancelled.

It appeared that the mistake was owing to Mr. Hill himself, who, when giving his instructions respecting the 12,000*l.* stock intended for missionary objects, spoke of the "London Society," meaning thereby the "Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East," commonly called the "Church Missionary Society," whose head office is in London, as distinguished from the "Bristol Auxiliary," a local branch of the Church missionary Society, to which he was a subscriber; and Mr. Pease, who took the instructions, understood by the "London Society" the Society commonly known as the "London Missionary Society," and caused the deeds to be prepared on that footing.

The Master of the Rolls was satisfied that there had been a mistake on the part of Mr. Hill, and decreed the delivery up of the deed to be cancelled, observing that the London Missionary Society had acted with the utmost propriety in submitting to act as the Court should direct with regard to Mr. Hill's bounty. Mr. Hill must pay the costs of all parties as being solicitor and client, including in such costs all costs, charges, and expenses properly incurred by the London Missionary Society.

COURT OF ARCHES.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 14.

(Before SIR ROBERT J. PHILLIMORE.)

FAGG AND ANOTHER v. LEE.

Judgment was given in this case (see Ecclesiastical Gazette, November, p. 64). The appeal was from a decision of Dr. Tristram, the Judge of the Commissary Court of Canterbury. A monition had been obtained by Mr. Lee, the respondent, Secretary of the Archbishop of Canterbury, as to the removal of the "Stations of the Cross" in the church. The objection was taken that the monition did not disclose that Mr. Lee had a public or private interest in the application; his special position was not set forth, but he was described as of the Broad Sanctuary, Westminster. The learned Judge of the Court below overruled the objection, on which the present appeal arose.

The Dean of Arches reviewed the law as to monition, and held that the proceedings were bad in law, and he was bound to reverse the decision of Dr. Tristram, and to dismiss the churchwardens from the suit and decree the payment of costs to them, as no interest public or private of Mr. Lee was set forth.

Dr. A. J. Stephens, Q.C., and Mr. Walter Phillimore, were for the churchwardens; Dr. Deane, Q.C., and Mr. Cowie for the respondent.

Notice of appeal to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council has been given in the above case, on the part of the Archbishop of Canterbury.

BURCH v. REV JOHN REID.

Judgment was given in this case (see Ecclesiastical Gazette, November, pp. 63, 64). Two articles had been abandoned in the charge, and instead of four alleged offences of soliciting the chastity of his female servants, the Judge had only to consider three charges of that character. His Lordship dwelt on the principal facts of this painful case, and concluded an elaborate judgment by saying:—"I am very sorry that the sentence which the law compels me to pronounce must, in its consequences, affect the innocent family of Mr. Reid as well as himself; but my duty, however painful, is plain. It remains to say what that sentence is. The greater sin which Mr. Reid intended to commit was mercifully prevented, but the offence of soliciting the chastity of his servants is a very grave one. I decree a sentence of suspension for three years ab officio et beneficio, the usual certificate of good conduct during the interval, signed by three beneficed clergymen, to be filed in Court at the expiration of the term, before Mr. Reid is readmitted to his benefice. The usual notification on the church door to be made, and a copy to be transmitted to the Consistorial Court of Exeter, and I must condemn the defendant in costs."

Notice of appeal to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council was given on the part of the defendant.

THE CHURCH CONGRESS OF 1873.

(From the Guardian of the 15th October.)

THE remark has been made in many quarters that the Church Congress, now entering on its fourteenth year of existence, has done its work, and may well be dropped. The Session which concluded last Friday at Bath seems, however, to show no abatement either in the number of members, or in the earnestness with which the debates were carried on, or yet in the interest with which they were listened to. It is, of course, difficult now to provide novelties for these annual meetings,—though even in that particular the Executive Committee at Bath was not wholly unsuccessful,—but the discussion of well-known and well-worn problems of Church work and phenomena of Church life is quite as attentively listened to in 1873, and by much larger audiences, than in 1860, when the first meeting was held, and in the years next following. More than 6000 persons in all were present at the various sittings at Bath last week; a number exceeding that attained at any previous Congress.

This great success is the more remarkable, for many resented the raising of the member's ticket from 5s. to 7s. 6d., a step demanded in the judgment of the Bath Committee by the fact that, no building in the city being large enough for their purposes, a temporary one had to be erected, and by the increased cost all round of all things that had to be provided. Moreover, the adverse weather probably detained some way. Bath was termed by the Romans, who greatly delighted in it, Aqua Solis. Unless our modern climate is greatly degenerated, this appellation would seem to have been bestowed on the mons a non movendo principle; for to the visitors last week the existence of the sun at all was matter of faith, and not of sight. These drawbacks were, perhaps, on the whole, fortunate; for had brilliant weather and low prices attracted all who may have been minded to come, there would have been, for some hundreds of us, neither seats in the Congress Hall nor accommodation in the Assembly-rooms.

"The Church's Duty in Regard to Strikes and Labour" was a new subject. We said something of the treatment of it at Bath in our last number. No doubt some, at any rate, of the papers and speeches will be reproduced in those journals and magazines which circulate amongst the labouring classes; and if no other advantage result, these classes will at least learn, if they did not know it before, that they and their cause have warm and staunch friends and eloquent advocates amongst the clergy.

Another peculiarity of the Congress was the larger infusion of the devotional or pietistic element. This in some former meetings has been either wholly wanting or present in very small proportion. At Bath the whole sitting on Wednesday night, and again on Friday morning, were dedicated to it. And there were no sittings that were better attended, and no papers and speeches of which the vast audiences hung with more marked and anxious attention, than these.

It would seem, too, as if our Bishops were of opinion that the Church Congress, instead of wearing out, is acquiring importance year by year. The Bishops of Peterborough, Manchester, Oxford, and Chichester, were not only exemplary in their regular attendance, but the three former prelates took quite a leading part in the debates, and contributed very decidedly to the interest of the Congress. Several other Bishops were also present—the Bishop-Suffragan of Dover, Bishops Ryan, Anderson, Alford, &c. Their presence did something to compensate for a conspicuous absence—that of the late Bishop of Winchester—the thought and memory of whom were often in men's mouths—oftener in their thoughts throughout the week.

Archdeacon Denison, as usual, was "to the fore" at the Congress, and was, as usual, paradoxical and amusing. But his proceeding on the Tuesday night was neither wise nor seemly to our thinking. It was only by a side-wind that his grievance about his curates could be slewed round so as to range under the topic of "Lay-helpers;" and to affront—for it was nothing less—his Diocesan, whilst presiding as Bishop in his own city over a meeting of Churchmen gathered from all parts of the kingdom, was surely a mistake. It is too strangely unlike the Archdeacon of Taunton, as we have hitherto esteemed him, to attack a man when so placed that he can neither speak for himself nor permit others to speak for him. The episode set some people thinking more about the tenure of the Archidiaconal office than about Archdeacon Denison's need of assistant-curates at East Brent. A Bishop in these days has plenty to do to administer one of our huge and populous dioceses with all the aid that fairly belongs to him. It is as great a grievance as deprivation of a licensed curate that he should have in one of his Archdeacons, whose office it is to be his auxiliary and vicegerent, an opponent to add to his labours and anxieties, instead of a colleague to relieve him in them. Archdeacon Denison ought to have been satisfied with his "indignation meeting" on Thursday night,—at which, having taken the most effectual, we might say forcible, measures to put down all opposition or even dissent, he and his friends declaimed about their wrongs, real or supposed, to their hearts' content. We have no inclination to defend the measures which the Bishop of Bath and Wells deemed it right to adopt in reference to the Vicar of East Brent; but we are very sure that the behaviour of the Archdeacon and some of the Archdeacon's friends at Bath last week generated a good deal of sympathy for the Bishop, which sympathy was increased by the Bishop's forbearing and Christian-like demeanour. The duties of President were well discharged by Lord Arthur Hervey, both on this occasion and throughout.

We referred last week to the 'disappointing service in the Abbey with which the Congress opened. It is a perplexing question to ask why so great an opportunity was thrown away? It is seldom, indeed, that so large a congregation, so well able to join effectively in a good service, is gathered in so fine a building as Bath Abbey. Prebendary Kemble hardly meant to give a helping hand to the Ritualists? Yet he did so; if, at any rate, it be doing so to thrust it upon the notice of a multitude of Churchmen from all the winds of heaven, that it is characteristic of the opposite school, which would hardly object to him as a representative, not to tolerate a hearty congregational service, and not to utilize a glorious ecclesiastical structure. A "full choral service" has, we should have thought, long ceased to be the badge of a party; but if Prebendary Kemble, notwithstanding, could not arrange this, at any rate he might have indulged his visitors by having the Psalms chanted, and dispensing with florid "services" for the Canticles. And the arrangements in the Abbey Church altogether were miserable and slovenly in the highest degree.

Notwithstanding these drawbacks, the week at Bath is one which very many will look back to with thankfulness and with encouragement. Both the great Church parties mustered in great force. The champions of both spoke with as great decision as ever, but there was a distinct abatement of bitterness, and a more ready acknowledgment, as it seemed to us, of the large common ground belonging to both. The audience, too, seemed intent on "business;" more partisan declamation was not encouraged, helpful suggestions and just criticisms were welcomed impartially, whether coming from one side or the other. It would, we think, have been impossible to have discussed such a subject as "the Life of Godliness" in the somewhat exciting atmosphere which our Congress was wont to induce some years ago: impossible at any rate to do so with that calm, thoughtful, and almost reverent spirit—anxiously forbearing on both sides—which characterized the sitting of Friday morning last. The Church Congress may perhaps in past years have done something to bring out and to precipitate into organized shape the theological and ecclesiastical differences amongst Churchmen. It seems to contribute something now towards rubbing off the edges of these divisions, and enabling them, whilst each retaining its leading peculiarities, to impart somewhat of its own to the others, and so to act jointly. Something of this approximation and co-operation can hardly fail to result from the interesting meetings held last week at Bath.

THE AGRICULTURAL CHILDREN ACT.

36 & 37 Vict. c. 67.

An Act to regulate the Employment of Children in Agriculture. [5th August, 1873.]

WHEREAS it is expedient to make regulations with respect to the employment of children in the execution of various kinds of agricultural work, with a view to their better education:

Be it enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1. Short title.—This Act may be cited for all purposes as "The Agricultural Children Act, 1873."

2. Extent of Act.—This Act shall not extend to Scotland or Ireland.

3. Commencement of Act.—This Act shall not come into operation until the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, which date is hereinafter referred to as the commencement of this Act.

4. Interpretation.—The following words and expressions shall in this Act have the meanings hereby assigned to them, unless there is something in the context inconsistent with such meaning; that is to say,—

"Child" shall mean a child under twelve years of age:

"Certificated child" shall mean a child for whom a certificate has been obtained in accordance with the provisions of this Act:

"Parent" shall mean the parent, guardian, or person who is liable to maintain or has the actual custody or control over any child:

"School" shall mean a school which the Lords of the Committee of the Privy Council on Education have recognized as giving efficient elementary education, or if there is no school which has been so recognized within two miles, measured according to the nearest road, of the residence of any child, then with respect to such child any elementary school, and shall also include any school certified by the Local Government Board for pauper children under the Act of the session of the twenty-fifth and twenty-sixth years of the reign of her present Majesty, chapter forty-three, and open Classical Scholarships, worth from 95*l*. to 100*l*. per annum, i.e. 80*l*. per annum in addition to rooms rent-free during the residence. 2. One open Mathematical scholarship of the same value. All these scholarships are tenable for five years from matriculation, unless a scholar shall have accepted any appointment interfering with the full course of his academical studies. Candidates must be under twenty years of age, and, if already members of the University, must not have exceeded their fourth term from matriculation.

At a Congregation held on Thursday, November 27, the following degrees were conferred:—

Masters of Arts.—William Turner T. Dyer, and Hon. and Rev. Walter R. Verney, Christ Church; Edward Wilkinson, and R. S. Ross, of Bladensburg, Exeter coll.; Samuel B. Tristram, Henry Stafford Northcote, and John W. Diggle, Merton coll.; Charles Sankey, and William Guest Garland, Queen's coll.; Oliver Smith, St. John's coll.; W. Groom, Trinity coll.; Allan James Crosby, Worcester coll.; Stuart C. F. Smith, Magdalen hall; William Wright Layng, St. Mary hall.

Bachelors of Arts.—Henry Olney Wakeman, All Souls coll.; William Law, Herbert F. Elkington, and Thomas Stos, Brasenose coll.; J. S. O. Lufford, and Henry Ven Brandram-Smith, Christ Church; R. S. Ross, of Bladensburg, and C. L. Pemberton Robinson, Exeter coll.; William Hatchett Jackson, New coll.; Henrice Eerton B. Harrison, Oriol coll.; Alexander Pandia Balli, Trinity coll.; Herbert Alexander Orr, University coll.; Philip Price Edwards, Wadham coll.; George Wilkinson, Worcester coll.; William Wright Layng, St. Mary hall; John Gregory, and William Gamul Arthur Edwards, Unattached.

Scholars of Civil Law.—Alexander Pandia Balli, Trinity coll.; John Gregory, Unattached.

The Taylorian Scholarship in German has been awarded to Edward A. Sonnenschein, University college; and the Taylorian Exhibition in German to Leonard A. Mondore, Balliol college. The examiners, Wilhelm Heymann, Dr. Ph., and F. Max Müller, Dr. Ph., make honourable mention of Mortiz W. B. de Bunsen, Christ Church, and H. W. Just, Corpus Christi college.

At a Congregation held on Thursday, December 4, the Vice-Chancellor presiding, the following degrees were conferred:—

Bachelor of Divinity.—Henry Almack Spyers, Balliol coll.

CORPUS CHRISTI COLLEGE.

Mr. Henry J. S. Smith, Savilian Professor of Geometry, has been admitted a Professor Fellow of this college. At the same time the Rev. E. Palmer, Corpus Professor of Latin, and Sir Henry Maine, Corpus Professor of Jurisprudence, were placed upon the Governing Body of the college.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE.

There will be an election at this college on Monday, February 23, 1874, to two Scholarships, of the annual value of 80*l*. during residence, and tenable for five years from the date of election. These scholarships are entirely open, but candidates who are members of the University must not have completed the fourth term from that of matriculation inclusive. A certain number of vacancies for commoners, with early admission to the college, will be filled up from among such of the candidates as pass satisfactory examinations.

ST. MARY HALL.

The Trustees of the Scholarships, founded in this University by Thomas Dyke, formerly of Kingston, in the County of Somerset, Doctor of Medicine, are desirous of appointing a Scholar to fill up a vacancy therein. Candidates must be persons born in one of the Counties of Somerset, Devon, and Cornwall; or who, for the three years ending with the 31st day of December, 1873, shall have been resident in those counties, or any or either of them; or who, for the two years ending with such 31st of December, shall have been educated at any school or schools in those counties, or any or either of them; they must, at the time of appointment, neither have attained the age of twenty years, nor have exceeded the fourth term from that of their matriculation inclusive, and must satisfy the trustees that they are in need of assistance to support them at the University.

The emoluments of each Scholar amount to 50*l*. per annum, and accrue from the day of his appointment, the scholarship is tenable for four years, subject as to residence within the hall, to the regulations of the hall in force for the time being, with regard to the Undergraduate members thereof.

Persons desirous of becoming Candidates are required to send to Richard Bere, of Milverton, in the county of Somerset, Solicitor, on or before the twentieth day of December next, the proper evidence of their places of birth, residence, or education, and all such particulars as may satisfy the trustees of their moral character and pecuniary circumstances.

The Candidates will be submitted to an examination at the University with respect to their learning and abilities in Lent Term, 1874; and the Candidate who shall pass the best examination will be appointed to the Scholarship immediately thereafter.

Dated Milverton, 25th Nov., 1873.

CHRIST CHURCH.

There will be holden at Christ Church, on Thursday, December 18, an election to one Clerical Senior Studentship. Candidates must have passed all the examinations required by the University for the degree of B.A., and must also be in Holy Orders, or must declare their intention of taking Holy Orders. The examination will be in subjects recognized in the school of Literæ Humaniores. There will be holden also at Christ Church on Thursday, December 18, an election to a Lee's Readership in Physics. The Lee's Reader must have passed all the examinations required by the University for the degree of B.A. He will be a member of the governing body on the same footing as the other senior students, except that he may marry and hold property beyond the amount of 500*l*. a year without forfeiting his studentship. He will be required to reside during full term, and to give instruction, as the governing body may direct, in the subjects recognized in the physical department in the Natural Science School. He may also be required in his capacity as Lee's Reader, and without any additional remuneration, to give instruction as the governing body may direct, in mechanics, hydro-mechanics, and optics required for the final honour school of mathematics. A certain amount of apparatus is already provided (which may be added to by special grant of the governing body) to be employed either in lecturing or for purposes of original research—to which the Reader will be expected to devote a portion of his time. The stipend of the Lee's Reader is 300*l*. per annum for the first four years after election; 400*l*. for the next three years; and 500*l*. after the seventh year from election. He has also a right to occupy rooms in college rent-free.

The Examiners in their respective Schools have issued the following award of Honours:—

WADHAM COLLEGE.

The following gentlemen have been elected to open scholarships at Wadham college:—Arthur Robert Gridley, from Wolverhampton school (for Mathematics); Alfred Thomas Hare, from Merchant Taylors' school; and Frederick Augustus Dixey, from Highgate school. There were thirty candidates. The scholarships are tenable for five years, and are of the value, including the use of rooms rent free, of 80*l*. a year.

Cambridge.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE.

At this college four minor scholarships, two of the value of 70*l*. per annum, and two of 50*l*. per annum, together with two exhibitions of 50*l*. per annum, tenable on the same terms as the minor scholarships; and one exhibition of 50*l*. per annum, tenable for three years; one of 40*l*. per annum, tenable for four years; one of 40*l*. per annum, tenable for three years; two of 33*l*. 6*l*. 8*l*. per annum, tenable for three years; and one of 30*l*. per annum, tenable for three years; will be open to competition by students who have not commenced residence. The examination will commence on Tuesday, December 16th, at nine a.m., will consist of three mathematical papers and four classical papers, and the latter will contain passages of Greek and Latin prose and verse for translation into English, and also each a passage from an English author for the corresponding prose or verse composition. The subjects included in the mathematical examination will be Euclid, arithmetic, Algebra, plane trigonometry, geometrical and analytical conics, elementary statics and dynamics, and the elementary parts of the differential calculus. In addition to the papers above mentioned, the candidates will be examined viâ voce in classics; and the master and seniors wish it to be understood that a candidate may be elected on the ground of proficiency in either the classical or the mathematical branch of the examination independently of the other. Besides the twelve minor scholarships or exhibitions above mentioned, there will be offered for competition an exhibition of 50*l*. per annum for proficiency in Natural Science, the exhibition to be tenable for three years in case the exhibitor have passed within two years the previous examination as required for candidates for honours, otherwise the exhibition to cease at the end of two years. Candidates for the Natural Science Exhibition will have a special examination (commencing on Friday, December 12th, at nine a.m.) in 1, Chymistry (including practical work in the Laboratory); 2, Physics—viz. electricity, heat, and light; 3, Physiology. They will also have the opportunity of being examined in one or more of the following subjects—4, Geology; 5, Anatomy; 6, Botany—provided that they give notice of the subjects in which they wish to be examined four weeks prior to the examination. No candidate will be examined in more than three of these six subjects, whereof one at least must be chosen from the former group. It is the wish of the master and seniors that excellence in some single department should be specially regarded by the candidates. They may also, if they think fit, offer themselves for examination in any of the classical or mathematical subjects. Candidates must send in their names to one of the tutors fourteen days before the commencement of the examination. The tutors are—the Rev. S. Parkinson, D.D.; the Rev. T. G. Bonney, B.D.; and Mr. J. E. Sandys, M.A. The minor scholarships are open to all persons under twenty years of age, who have not yet commenced residence in the University. The exhibitions are not limited in respect to the age of candidates. A minor scholarship is tenable for two years, or until the scholar is elected to one of the foundation scholarships. It is understood that minor scholars or exhibitors may be candidates for sizars.

At the Congregation on Thursday, November 13, the following degrees were conferred:—

Masters of Arts.—Ceil Eerton Green, Trinity coll.; Clifton Bokenham, Pembroke coll.; George Anderson Critchett, Gonville and Caius coll.; Augustus Lawrence Francis, Jesus coll.; William Trego Webb, Gonville and Caius coll. (in absence).

Masters of Laws.—John Dickinson, Trinity coll.; William Samuel Cooper, Trinity hall.

Bachelor of Medicine.—Edward Charles Stirling, Trinity coll.

At the Congregation on Thursday, November 20, the following degrees were conferred:—

Doctor in Law.—George William Marshall, St. Peter's coll.

Masters of Arts.—Richard Gathorne, Charles Edward Swaine, and Alfred Slater West, Trinity coll.; Robert Giles, St. John's coll. (in absence).

At the Congregation on Thursday, December 4, the following degrees were conferred:—

CARUS GREEK TESTAMENT PRIZE.

In consequence of the abolition of the Theological Examination, the Board of Theological Studies recommend that the examination for the Carus Greek Testament Prizes be in future held on the Thursday after the division of the Michaelmas Term in each year.

THE MAITLAND PRIZE.

The Maitland Prize awarded every three years for the best English Essay on some subject connected with the propagation of the Gospel through Missionary exertions in India and other parts of the heathen world, to be written by a graduate of the University, has been adjudged to Herbert Courthorpe Bowen, B.A., Corpus Christi College. The subject of the Essay is "The Principle of Buddhism and of Christianity compared with special Reference to the History of their Comparative Success."

TRINITY COLLEGE.

In the examination for Foundation Scholarships, to be held at Easter, 1874, one or more Scholarships will be obtainable by proficiency in the Natural Sciences, and one or more by proficiency in the Moral Sciences. The examination in Natural Science will commence on Friday, April 10, and will include the subjects set forth in the regulations for the Natural Sciences Tripos. It will be open to all undergraduates of Cambridge or Oxford, and to persons not members of the Universities, provided that these last are under twenty years of age. The examination in Moral Science will commence on Monday, April 13, and will include the subjects set forth in the regulations for the Moral Sciences Tripos. It will be open to all Undergraduates of the University of Cambridge who have passed the Previous Examination. The remaining Scholarships, for which the examination will commence on Wednesday, April 8, are open to all undergraduate members of the College, and to other undergraduates of Cambridge or Oxford who are in their first year of residence. Candidates for the above Scholarships who are not members of Trinity College, must send their names to the Master, together with a certificate of age and good character, on or before Saturday, March 21, specifying the examination for which they wish to present themselves. The examination for Minor Scholarships in the present year will commence on Tuesday, December 16.

ST. PETER'S, PEMBROKE, TRINITY HALL AND MAGDALENE COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIPS AND EXHIBITIONS.

An examination in common will be held on Tuesday, March 24, 1874, and the three following days, at the undermentioned colleges, for twelve Scholarships and Exhibitions, viz.:

These scholarships and exhibitions are tenable for one year, from the commencement of residence, at the expiration of which time they may be continued, or replaced by Scholarships of greater or less value, which will be awarded according to merit in each separate college. Each candidate, before the 15th of March next, is to send his name and testimonials, with a certificate of his age, to the Tutor of the college at which he desires to compete in the first instance; but it will be understood, unless he specify to the contrary, that, in case of his not being elected at such college, he is a candidate also at the other colleges. Candidates must be under twenty years of age at the commencement of the examination. The subjects of examination will be as follows:—Translation of passages from Latin and Greek authors; Latin and Greek Composition, Euclid, Algebra, Plane Trigonometry, Conic Sections (Geometrical and Analytical), and Problems in the above subjects. Further particulars in the case of the respective colleges may be obtained by application to the Rev. J. Porter, tutor of St. Peter's college; the Rev. C. E. Searle, Tutor of Pembroke college; the Rev. H. Latham, tutor of Trinity hall; and Mr. F. Patrick, tutor of Magdalene college. In awarding the scholarships, preference will in general be given to proficiency in one line of study; but no one will be elected who has not such a knowledge both of Classics and Mathematics as to be likely to pass the Previous Examination in due course.

CHRIST'S COLLEGE.

The annual examination for Scholarships and Exhibitions at this college—1, of students who intend to commence their residence in October, 1874; and 2, of candidates for Scholarships in Natural Science—will take place on Tuesday, March 24, 1874, and the three following days. The Scholarships and Exhibitions belonging to this college are as follows:—I. Scholarships.—Twelve of 70*l.* a year each (on the foundation of the Lady Margaret, the foundress of the college); six of 50*l.* a year each, and eleven of 30*l.* a year each (on the foundation of various benefactors). The Scholarships are perfectly open. II. Exhibitions.—Two of 50*l.* a year each; two of 30*l.* a year each; one of 30*l.* a year; one of not less than 20*l.* a year. Besides these, there are other Exhibitions, perfectly open, amounting in the aggregate to between 50*l.* and 60*l.* a year; which are annually distributed amongst the most deserving students of the college. The value of the scholarships (ranging over different periods) ranges from 30*l.* to 100*l.* per annum. Further particulars may be obtained of the tutors of the college.

SIDNEY SUSSEX COLLEGE.

There will be an examination at this college, on Tuesday, March 24, 1874, and three following days, of students who intend to commence residence in the following October, when (provided fit candidates present themselves) the following Scholarships will be filled up:—

For Natural Science, two of 40*l.* per annum.

One or more Johnson Exhibitions, of 40*l.* per annum.

Subjects:

Classics:—Herodotus, Book VI. Ovid, Fasti, 5 and 6. Passages will also be set from other authors, as also Prose and Verse Composition.

Mathematics:—Arithmetic, Algebra, Euclid, Plane Trigonometry, Conic Sections (Geometrical and Analytical).

Natural Science:—Heat, Electricity, Chemistry, Geology, Zoology and Physiology, and Botany.

THE LE BAS PRIZE.

The subject for the Le Bas Prize for the present year is "The Respective Functions of Science and Literature in Education." Candidates must be graduates of the University of not more than three years' standing from their first degree when the essays are sent in, which date is fixed before the end of the Easter Term, 1874. The essays must each bear some motto, and be accompanied by a sealed paper bearing the same motto, and enclosing the name of the candidate and that of his college. The successful candidate is required to publish the essay at his own expense.

The Archbishop of Canterbury has conferred upon the Rev. George Percy Badger, late Secretary to the Right Hon. Sir Bartle Frere on the Zanzibar Special Mission, the degree of Doctor of Civil Law, in recognition of his meritorious public services, and his valuable contributions to the Civil and Ecclesiastical History of the East.

MISCELLANEOUS INTELLIGENCE.

Alleged Ritualistic Doctrines and Practices in the Diocese of Lichfield.—The Archbishop of Canterbury has addressed the following letter to certain laymen of West Bromwich in answer to a "letter of appeal" from them respecting the Ritualistic doctrines and practices at the Old Parish Church:—

"Lambeth Palace, October 24, 1873.

"GENTLEMEN,—I beg leave to acknowledge the receipt of your MS. letter of the 11th inst., with a copy of a printed letter, signed by yourself and ten other gentlemen, addressed to me, and certain other documents mentioned in your MS. letter.

"The printed letter addressed to myself you call a 'letter of appeal'—I presume you are aware, that, as no legal court seems to have investigated the complaints which you make against certain clergymen of the Diocese of Lichfield named in your printed letter, there can, in the legal sense of the word, be no appeal to me in this case.

"The law defines with accuracy the cases in which there is an appeal from a Bishop to the Archbishop of his province, either personally, or through the Archbishop's Court; and I have no authority in this case to pronounce on any steps, not strictly judicial, which the Bishop of Lichfield has thought it his duty to take, as calculated, according to his discretion, to secure the people committed to his trust from erroneous teaching, or otherwise to promote the welfare of his Diocese.

"You will therefore understand that in this case, strictly speaking, no appeal has been made by you to me, and I claim no authority to pronounce any judgment. You are entitled, however, to request my advice in the difficult circumstances in which you are placed; and I can have no hesitation in giving it.

"I understand you to allege that doctrines contrary to the formularies of the Church of England have been publicly taught by the clergymen whom you name, and also that illegal practices have been introduced by them in public worship. The law of the Church and of the land has provided a remedy for the grievance of which you complain. You have only distinctly to call upon the Bishop of the Diocese to issue a commission for the trial of the clergyman against whom illegal acts are alleged; or, if he prefer to proceed without a commission, to allow the matter to be brought at once before the Courts.

"The Bishop will not improbably answer that, in such a case, it is the duty of those who allege the grievance to undertake the expenses of the suit; but I have no doubt that the 1746 memorialists, mentioned in your letter of appeal, who do not unnaturally feel themselves aggrieved, will not allow this difficulty to stand in the way. The expenses of such prosecutions, though much greater than could be desired, are not on the whole greater than the expenses of all legal proceedings in this country, when witnesses have to be produced and counsel employed, and where the issues are of such importance to the individuals concerned as to make an appeal not improbable.

"The Bishop of Lichfield has evidently thought that the question at issue could be settled by remonstrance, and by using the weight of his authority to point out to both parties where a real fault had been committed. You seem to think that the Bishop has not with sufficient clearness condemned those doctrines, maintained by the clergy you name, which he believes to be contrary to the formularies of our Church—I would remark that one at least of these clergymen seems clearly to understand that the Bishop has pronounced distinctly against him. This I judge from a printed letter you have forwarded to me, in which this gentleman, as I understand his words, protests against the Bishop's decision, and cites the authority of Dr. Pusey and others as having more weight with him than that of his diocesan. If, notwithstanding all the Bishop's exertions to bring this matter to an amicable settlement, you are still of opinion that your grievances respecting inadmissible doctrine and illegal practices remain unredressed, and that the clergymen with whom the Bishop has remonstrated, altogether repudiate his advice, there remains so far as I can see, no course but the very plain one of invoking the authority of the Bishop's Court, and it is satisfactory for you to know, that in almost all the disputes likely to arise in the present day, both as to ritual and doctrine, the decisions of the highest court of appeal have been already clearly pronounced, and may without difficulty be enforced.

"In parts of your letter to me you allege that insuperable difficulties attend the enforcement of ecclesiastical discipline in the Church of England. I would remark that the experience of other Christian bodies shows that, when private remonstrances fail to give satisfaction, wherever justice is to be done, and the rights both of the community and individuals are to be secured against arbitrary proceedings, men must be contented to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion, in each case of alleged grievance, by a patient judicial investigation, which usually can neither be very short nor very inexpensive, but the difficulties arising from the very nature of such cases have, I think, been greatly exaggerated in your letter to me; and I believe in the present instance you will find this to be so, if, failing to obtain redress in any less regular way, you seek it as the law of the Church and of the land directs.

"A. C. CANTUAR."

Convocation.—(From the "London Gazette," November 21, 1873.)—"At the Court at Balmoral, the 20th day of November, 1873.—Present.—The Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.—It is this day ordered, by her Majesty in Council, that the Convocations of the Provinces of Canterbury and York be prorogued, from the day to which the same now stand prorogued, to Friday, the 6th day of February, 1874; and the Right Hon. the Lord High Chancellor of that part of the United Kingdom called Great Britain is to cause writs to be prepared and issued in the usual manner for proroguing the Convocations accordingly."

Tithe Redemption Trust.—At the last quarterly meeting of the Board of this Society, the Right Hon. Lord John Manners, M.P., in the chair, several applications were made for aid in redeeming alienated tithes. For instance:—1. From the parish of Reyneham, in the diocese of Norwich: 484. of tithes alienated. 2. The chapelry of Stroud, diocese of Gloucester, population 8000: all the tithes are alienated, 1200*l.* a year; the incumbent has 300*l.* a year from external sources; three licensed curates. 3. Evely, Derbyshire, income net 90*l.* a year: alienated 50*l.* a year. 4. White Colne, diocese of Rochester: impropricator willing to dispose of tithes for this church at about eighteen years' purchase. 5. North Ottington, diocese of York: impropriators Dean and Chapter of Christ Church, Oxford, &c. Since the work of this Society began, more than 30,000*l.* a year of tithes have been regained to the Church, but there are still nearly 4000 parishes in England and Wales whose tithes are alienated more or less.

The Day of Intercession.—Wednesday, December 3rd, was generally and very reverently kept, both in the metropolis and throughout the country, as a day of intercession on behalf of Church Missions. In most of the cathedrals and parish churches the Holy Communion was administered, and sermons and addresses were given. In several churches there were frequent special services throughout the day. In some places, as at St. Dunstan's, Fleet-street, and in some of the Islington churches, there were special prayer-meetings in addition to the services. One feature in the celebration of the day—as far as the metropolis was concerned—was the introduction of a lecture by a layman at Westminster, where, in the evening, Professor Max Müller, of Oxford, gave an address on Christian Missions to a crowded audience in the nave. At St. Peter's, Thanet, the Primate gave a most interesting address on Missions in India, and spoke of the peculiar difficulties of missionary work in that country. In conclusion, his Grace, while acknowledging that the progress hitherto made had been but slow, yet thanked God that the rate of increase of Protestant converts had greatly enhanced, and confidently looked forward to a yearly increasing spread in the way in which persons are brought from heathenism to the knowledge of pure Christianity.

Windsor Castle, December 3.—The Bishop of Winchester did homage this day on his appointment, Earl Granville, as Secretary of State, and the Lord Chamberlain being present. The Hon. and Rev. E. S. Keppel, Deputy Clerk of the Closet, was in attendance. His Lordship was afterwards invested by her Majesty with the chain and badge of his office as Prelate of the Order of the Garter; after which the Bishop of Winchester made the declaration as Prelate of the Order.

METROPOLIS.

The Wilberforce Memorial.—A public meeting in aid of the fund now in course of formation for perpetuating the memory of the late Bishop of Winchester by the establishment of a home mission under episcopal control and supervision, in the diocese of Winchester, and especially in that part of it which constitutes South London, was held at Willis's Rooms, St. James's, on Tuesday, the 2nd of December, the Bishop of CHICHESTER presiding. The meeting was addressed by the RIGHT REV. CHAIRMAN, MR. GLADSTONE, the BISHOP OF WINCHESTER, MR. GATHORNE HARDY, MR. FRESHFIELD, ARCHDEACON UTTERTON, MR. P. CAZENOVE, SIR J. H. MAXWELL, and the BISHOP ELECT OF ELY. The following resolution was unanimously adopted:—"That this meeting approves of the form of memorial suggested by the committee formed at Lavington at the close of the funeral of Bishop Wilberforce."

London School Board.—Annual Exhibitions from the Public Elementary Schools of the Metropolis to a Higher School.—At the weekly meeting of the Board on Wednesday, the 19th of November, the following letter, addressed to the chairman, Lord Lawrence, by W. H. Smith, Esq., M.P., was read:—

"3, Hyde-park-street, W., Nov. 18, 1873.

"MY LORD,—I have been indulging the hope that before the termination of the present School Board for London means would be found to provide at least one annual exhibition from the public elementary schools of the metropolis to a higher school.

"Two only of these scholarships are founded—one by the Mortimer Scholarship Fund, and the second by the Clothworkers' Company.

"I beg to offer, on the same terms and conditions, a third; and I shall be prepared to place the sum of 120*l.* for the four years' payment to the scholar who may be selected by the examiners in the hands of the school board for the time being, and from time to time.

"I am not willing at present to hand over the capital sum as an endowment, as the fashion of free handling of endowments which prevails at the present day renders it at least doubtful whether the object I seek to promote—viz. the higher education of deserving but poor children—might not at a future day be frustrated by the action of some commission.

"I trust, however, the Board will not object to receive and to administer the fund, as they have undertaken to do that of the Clothworkers' Company; and I venture again to express the strong hope that before the week closes the Board may yet receive provision for a fourth scholarship.

"I am, my Lord,

"Yours very faithfully,

(Signed) "WM. H. SMITH."

Lord Lawrence briefly testified to the generous public spirit and thoughtfulness displayed by Mr. Smith, and moved that the hon. gentleman's letter be entered upon the minutes of the Board, and that the clerk be instructed to transmit to Mr. Smith the thanks of the Board for his kind and considerate offer.

The motion was agreed to with acclamation.

Bishop of London's Fund.—At the last quarterly board meeting of the Bishop of London's Fund, held at the offices of the Society in Pall Mall, the Bishop of London in the chair, the total amount reported as having been received since the last meeting had been 6448*l.* 9*s.* 4*d.* for general purposes, and 596*l.* 10*s.* 7*d.* for special objects. Of the former sum 2554*l.* 13*s.* 8*d.* consisted of new moneys, and deducting therefrom 776*l.* 8*s.* 1*d.*, the proportion appropriated to schools and school churches, there remained the sum of 1788*l.* 5*s.* 7*d.*, forming with the balance on the 31st of July, viz. 2420*l.* 10*s.* 4*d.*, a total amounting to 4208*l.* 15*s.* 11*d.* available for grants to churches, parsonages, and contingencies. The applications for assistance in these objects have been very few, and the following have been the only grants made by the Committee:—An additional grant for the Church of St. Saviour, now in course of erection in All Saints, Poplar, 500*l.* And two grants towards the rent of mission premises, one of a room in All Saints, Mile End, New Town, 13*l.*, and another of the site for an iron church in the new mission district of St. Matthew, in the parish of Chelsea, 20l. There remains, therefore, a balance available for grants for the classes of objects named above of 3675l. 15s. 11d., the further balance of 886l. 13s. 4d. is still available out of the instalment of her Majesty's gift for the current year. The balance still chargeable against that portion of the receipts of the year which is declared applicable for schools and school churches is 2367l. 17s. 9d. An additional sum of 815l. 4s. 5d. has been received since the Committee's last report on account of "collections," raising the amount to 6940l. 16s. 7d., of a sum which is in excess of the whole amount received from this source in 1872 by 900l. 16s. 4d. The total amount received during the existence of this fund up to the 22nd inst. is 458,565l. 5s. 7d., of which has been expended 428,783l. 8s. 11d., leaving a balance of 29,781l. 16s. 8d.; while the total amount promised, whether paid or payable, is 476,171l. 15s.

Vicarial Cemetery Fees.—A legal opinion has been obtained in a curious dispute which has arisen between the Vicar of Reigate and Mr. A. J. Waterlow. Mr. Waterlow's son died at his residence in 1871, and was buried at Reigate Cemetery. Mr. Waterlow employed the undertaker to place a memorial-slab over his son's remains. The Vicar, however, refused to allow the slab to be placed, unless vicarial and sexton's fees, amounting to 25l. 4s., were paid. Mr. Waterlow contended that the fees, if legally due, should be paid by the Burial Board. Ultimately the case was referred to the Archdeacon of Surrey, but no agreement was arrived at. On the facts submitted to them, the Attorney-General (Mr. H. James) and Mr. J. McIntyre gave it as their opinion that the right of the vicar to demand fees depends upon custom, but that he has no right to demand the fees from Mr. Waterlow, who is liable to pay such charges only as the Burial Board can legally impose.

St. Vedast, Foster Lane.—The circumstance that a metal cross had been placed over the Communion-table by the rector of this church, the Rev. T. Pelham Dale, was brought under the notice of the Bishop of London by Mr. Churchwarden Serjeant, Mr. W. Morley, and Mr. J. Horwood, who stated that it was most offensive to the Protestant feeling of the majority of the parishioners, and they asked his Lordship's sanction for its removal. The Bishop promptly replied as follows:—

"GENTLEMEN, I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 17th. Although I am not prepared to say that a metal cross placed on a shelf above the Communion-table is illegal, yet as no such ornament is required by the Canons, or recognized by old-established custom, and as the cross in question was placed there, as I understand, by the rector without any authority, it is competent to the churchwardens, in the exercise of their office, should they think fit, to remove it.

"I am, gentlemen,
"Your obedient servant,
"J. LONDON."

Acting upon this letter, which is dated the 21st instant, the churchwardens removed the cross before the service on Sunday last.

Union of City Benefices.—At a meeting of the Court of Common Council, on Thursday, the 20th of November, Mr. Deputy Blomfield Burnell and Deputy Lowman Taylor were appointed lay members of the commission about to be issued by the Bishop of London to inquire into and to report upon the expediency of a proposed union of the benefices of the Rectory of St. Benet, Paul's-wharf, with St. Peter, Paul's-wharf, and the Rectory of St. Andrew-by-the-Wardrobe with St. Anne, Blackfriars. One effect of the proposed union will be the removal of another church. The present church of St. Benet, Paul's-wharf, was rebuilt in 1683 from designs by Sir Christopher Wren, and has few distinguishing features. The first church—built more than 600 years ago—perished in the great fire of London. The original church of St. Andrew-by-the-Wardrobe, Blackfriars, the benefice of which it is now proposed to unite with that of St. Anne's, Blackfriars, likewise perished in the Fire of 1666, as did that of St. Anne's, which was not afterwards reconstructed. The existing church of St. Andrew-by-the-Wardrobe was restored under the direction of Sir Christopher Wren in 1692, at a cost of upwards of 7060l.

ECCLESIASTICAL NOTICES.

The Archbishop of Canterbury will hold his next General Ordination on the Second Sunday in Lent.

The Bishop of St. David's intends to hold a General Ordination on the Second Sunday in Lent.

The Bishop of Llandaff intends to hold his next General Ordination on Sunday, the 1st day of March next.

The Bishop of Norwich purposes to hold an Ordination on Trinity Sunday, on September 20th, and on December 20th. Candidates for Deacons' or for Priests' Orders are requested to inform the Bishop as soon as possible, and not less than three months before the time, of their intention to offer themselves for Ordination. Full instructions will then be forwarded.

The Bishop of Worcester holds an Ordination at each of the four Ember Seasons in every year. He wishes to have three months' notice from all Candidates for Deacons' Orders. Papers to be forwarded to the Bishop's Secretary, Alfred Hooper, Esq., Worcester, one month before the Ordination.

The Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol purposes holding a General Ordination on Sunday, the 1st of March next. Candidates for Holy Orders should lose no time in obtaining the Bishop's permission to present themselves. A list of the requisite papers can be obtained from B. Bonnor, Esq., Bishop's Secretary, Cloisters, to whom they should be sent one month before the day of Ordination.

The Bishop of Rochester purposes to hold an Ordination at each of the four Ember Seasons. Persons desirous of being admitted as Candidates may obtain a paper of instructions upon writing to the Bishop's Secretaries, Messrs. Day and Hassard, 28, Great George-street, Westminster, S.W.

Candidates for the Lent Ordination of the Bishop of Lichfield should apply at once to the Rev. F. Thatchner, The Palace, Lichfield.

The Bishop of Hereford purposes holding his next General Ordination on Trinity Sunday. Persons desirous of becoming Candidates are requested to communicate with him three months before that day, and may receive full instructions as to the necessary papers on application to H. C. Beddoe, Esq. (the Bishop's Secretary) Cathedral Close, Hereford.

The Bishop of Salisbury purposes to hold an Ordination on Trinity Sunday next, May 31st. Particulars will be given next month.

The Bishop of Carlisle will hold his next General Ordination on Sunday, March 1st, in the Cathedral. The Bishop will in future hold himself at liberty to require from Candidates for Holy Orders a Certificate of having passed the new University Preliminary Examination. Candidates bearing the Certificate will not be examined in the class of subjects comprehended in the University Examination.

The Bishop of Manchester will hold an Ordination on Sunday, the 1st day of March. Candidates for Holy Orders who have not already communicated their intention to the Bishop of offering themselves are desired to do so forthwith, and to transmit the requisite papers (stating Candidate's age) to the Bishop's Secretary, John Burder, Esq., Diocesan Registry, 7, St. James's Square, Manchester, on or before the 2nd day of February next; and the Bishop particularly wishes the Candidates to take notice that no papers can be received after that day. The Bishop also wishes that Candidates will make arrangements so that they may avail themselves of his Lordship's Ordinations, as the Bishop is averse to granting any letters dismissory.

SOCIETY FOR PROMOTING CHRISTIAN KNOWLEDGE.

67, Lincoln's Inn Fields.

JANUARY, 1874.

THE first Tuesday in the month being "THE EPIPHANY," the next General Meeting of the Society will be holden at the Society's House, at two p.m., on Tuesday, 13th inst. (this day).

THE LONDON MISSION, 1874.

The Secretary, by direction of the Standing Committee, has addressed the following letter to every Incumbent within the Mission District:—

"67, Lincoln's Inn Fields, London, W.C.,
 "January, 1874.

"DEAR SIR,—With this letter you will receive specimens of Tracts, &c., prepared by this Society for use in connexion with the proposed Mission for London to be held in February. A list of these works is enclosed, and also of some other similar publications which we can supply, but which are not published by the Society.

"I am desired by the Committee of the Society to ask you, in case you wish for any of these publications, to order them as soon as possible, and to be careful to state exactly which of the tracts, leaflets, or books you require, and how many of each. A remittance for the same should be enclosed, including cost of sending them.

"If your parish is exceptionally necessitous, the Committee will favourably entertain an application for a grant of any of the first fifteen of the Society's own publications, entitled "Home Mission Tracts;" but I am desired to beg you not to apply for a free grant unless you cannot possibly supply your wants in some other way.

"The expense of supplying these publications, if it be allowed to fall upon the Society, will be very heavy indeed; whereas, in all probability, there are not a few individuals who would readily help the Clergy to obtain such of them as they require. This is not said in a grudging spirit, since the Committee earnestly desire to help forward the work of the Mission, but simply because the expense of supplying tracts gratuitously for all London would be overwhelming.

"The 'Mission Publications' which are sold but not published by the Society cannot be supplied gratuitously.

"Please send your application as soon as possible, to prevent disappointment, and order the publications by the numbers as stated in the list.

"I am, dear sir, yours faithfully,

"HENRY SWAREY, Secretary.

P.S.—Please put on the envelope of your letter—

"MISSION TRACTS."

3. The Rev. Dr. Caldwell, of Edeyengoody, in the diocese of Madras, was introduced to the Board, and made a statement of the condition and prospects of Missionary work in Southern India.

4. A proposal concerning Codrington Grammar School, Barbados, having been made by the Standing Committee, an amendment, proposed by the Rev. J. W. Festing, to refer the question back to the Standing Committee, was carried by 16 to 8.

5. Resolved that the Rev. F. B. de Chair, of Morley, be appointed Organizing Secretary for the Archdeacons of Norwich and Norfolk.

6. The Secretary stated that the members of the Standing Committee who retire under Bye-Law VI. were T. Charrington, Esq., Rev. G. P. Pownall, Rev. G. H. Wilkinson, Hon. H. Walpole, Rev. C. W. Furze, and C. Dale, Esq.; and that the Standing Committee proposed the re-election of the three first-named gentlemen, and that Gen. Tremeneheere, Gen. Fyche, and Rev. J. W. Festing, Vicar of St. Luke's, Berwick-street, be elected to fill the vacant places.

7. Lord Clinton and Rev. F. V. Thornton having been chosen Representative Members by the Diocese of Exeter, W. L. Lowndes, J. Rev. H. T. Hill by the Diocese of Hereford, M. Hicks-Beach, Bart., and the Archdeacon of Bristol by the Diocese of Gloucester and Earl Beauchamp and the Rev. G. D. B. the Diocese of Worcester, and Hugh Birle M.P., and the Dean of Manchester, Diocese of Manchester, the several were confirmed by the Board.

8. Resolved, that a sum of 200*l.* given by the Society for Pretoria be transferred to the Fund of the Bishop of Bloemfontein, Missionary clergyman in that town.

9. The Secretary laid on the table a Draft amended Standing Orders, which will be discussed at the next Meeting.

10. On the recommendation of the Board Examiners, the Rev. C. P. Scott, M.A., of St. Peter's, Eaton-square, was accepted as Missionary work in China; and Messrs. I. Hadley and Parkinson, three students of Augustine's College, were approved for Mission work.

11. All the persons proposed for Incorporation in October were elected Members of the Society.

12. Twenty-three Members will be proposed for Incorporation at the Meeting in February.

CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

SELECTIONS FROM

PROCEEDINGS OF COMMITTEE.

General Committee, Nov. 10*th*.—Dr. Leitch, Principal of the Government College at Lahore attended the Committee, bringing with him a Native of Kafiristan, from Afghanistan, and gave some account of the people, their language and religion.

The Rev. H. Maundrell, having arrived in England on sick leave, after ten years' absence in Madagascar, was introduced to the Committee and gave interesting information on the progress of the Gospel in that Mission. He referred to favourable terms to the Natives who had been trained by himself, and were now engaged as Catechists in the Mission; but considered that further training would be necessary before they could be admitted into Holy Orders. He expressed his opinion that the work in and around Andover was taking root, and that with God's blessing it would continue to grow if it could enjoy for some time the superintendence of a Missionary. Moreover, he thought that this might be given from the capital, and be combined with the work of revision and the instruction of a preparandi class.

Committee of Correspondence, Nov. 18*th*.—Resolutions were passed upon letters from Bishop Russell and the Rev. J. R. Wolfe, sanctioning proposals for the formation of a training establishment at Fuh-Chau for Native Agents; the appointment of another Missionary at Fuh-Chau, and the occupation at an early date of the city of Wanchau, as soon as a fitting man is found suitable for the post; and encouraging the Missionaries at Fuh-Chau to set before themselves the future occupation of Wanchau, and to report to the Committee any providential leadings in that direction.

A letter was read from the Rev. W. C. Bompas, dated Fort Youcon, July 17*th*, 1873, signifying his willingness to be nominated to the new Bishopric of Athabasca.

THE INCORPORATED SOCIETY FOR PROMOTING THE ENLARGEMENT, BUILDING, AND REPAIRING OF CHURCHES AND CHAPELS.

THE Society held its usual monthly meeting on December 15*th*, the Earl of Romney in the chair. There were also present Archdeacon Harrison, the Revs. Arthur Cazenove, John Evans, Dr. Hessey, and Hon. A. Legge, Messrs. John Boodle, George Cowburn, J. F. France, A. J. C. Lawrie, E. Pepys, William Rivington, E. Thornton, W. E. M. Tomlinson, and the Rev. George Ainslie, M.A., Secretary.

Grants of money were made in aid of the following objects, viz.:—Building new churches at Blackwood, in the parish of Bedwelty, near Cardiff; Darlington, St. James; and Martin, in the parish of Timberland, near Sleaford; rebuilding the church at Colaton Raleigh, near Ottery St. Mary; enlarging or otherwise increasing the accommodation in the churches at Affpiddle, near Dorchester; Buddbrooke, near Warwick; Caversfield, near Bicester; Hibaldstow, near Brigg; Llanfairisgaer, near Carnarvon; and Llanllugan, near Shrewsbury.

Under urgent circumstances the grants formerly made towards reseating and restoring the churches at Llandysul, Cardigan; Mothvey, near Llandovery; and Sandwich St. Mary, were each increased.

Grants were also made from the School-church and Mission-house Fund towards building school or mission churches at Camberwell, St. Luke, Surrey; Girlington St. Philip, in the parish of Bradford; Llandaff-yard; and Bermondsey, St. Saviour, Surrey.

In the multitude of other claims, it is a matter of regret that the Incorporated Church Building Society should be overlooked, and it is earnestly hoped that attention may be directed, and that successfully, to the numerous appeals soon likely to be made to the Committee for aid, and the recent very marked scarcity of donations to its funds.

LAW.

ROLLS COURT.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 15.

(Before the MASTER OF THE ROLLS.)

ATHERTON v. MERRIMAN.

BELLS FOR A NEW CHURCH AT SANDOWN, ISLE OF WIGHT.

By his will, dated in October, 1866, Henry Smyth, late of Sandown, in the Isle of Wight, who died in July, 1867, gave his leasehold premises at Sandown upon trust for sale, with a direction that the purchase-moneys arising from such sale should sink into and form part of his residuary personal estate, and be applicable to the purchase of six good church bells, and the surplus, if any, towards a belfry or tower of any new church which should thereafter be erected at Sandown, and if any surplus should remain, the same should be paid as the contribution of his executors towards the building of such new church, but in any case not to exceed 2000*l*. Besides the above there were other legacies for charitable purposes.

Mr. Elphinstone appeared for the executors, Sir Richard Baggalay, Q.C., and Mr. Speed, and Mr. Southgate, Q.C., and Mr. G. W. Collins for the next of kin; and Mr. Hemming for the Attorney-General.

The case having been argued, the Master of the Rolls said he felt himself bound by the authorities to hold that the trust to provide a home for the widows and families of military and naval officers was void under the Mortmain Act as involving the acquisition of land. The other objects of the memorandum must also fail, for, on a fair reading of the memorandum, they were to be provided out of the surplus after providing the home, and that surplus could not be ascertained owing to the failure of the principal object. The gift of the proceeds of sale of the leasehold for buying bells and building a belfry for a church at Sandown was good under the 43rd Geo. III. c. 108, to the extent of 500*l*., and that sum must be carried to a separate account, with liberty to apply, in case such a church should ever be built.

CONSISTORY COURT.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 15.

THE BALDACCHINO CASE.—ST. BARNABAS, PIMLICO.

(See Ecclesiastical Gazette, Nov. 11, 1873, p. 64.)

Dr. Tristram, the Chancellor of the diocese of London, held a Consistorial Court at the Chapter House, St. Paul's Churchyard, to give his decision on the application of the vicar (the Rev. G. C. White) and the churchwardens for a faculty or licence to erect a baldacchino over the communion-table of St. Barnabas Church, Pimlico, as an adornment. Mr. Bowron, and other parishioners, had entered a protest, and the matter had been taken up by the Church Association.

Two points were brought before the Chancellor for his consideration. (1) Whether such an erection was lawful; and (2) whether, if lawful, when opposed as repugnant to the religious convictions of a portion of the parishioners, it should be allowed. It was urged that a reredos was proposed at a vestry meeting, and not a baldacchino, which was a Roman Catholic canopy over the holy table, and was a movable addition, and not a necessary adjunct, to the religious service. Other churches were mentioned where a baldacchino had been erected, and it was said to be a mere pretence to allege that it had any tendency to Popery. Its erection was desired by many of the parishioners, who were willing to bear the expense, and viewed it as essential to the adornment of the east end of the edifice.

The Chancellor, in giving his judgment, mentioned the two points as above stated. He said there had been plans submitted for the baldacchino which was proposed. It rested with the Court to grant or refuse a faculty, with an appeal to the Archdeacon, and also to the Judicial Committee. He would consider the two questions—whether the erection of such an ornament as a baldacchino was lawful, and whether it should be erected if opposed to the religious convictions of the inhabitants. Dr. Tristram at some length traced the historical nature of a baldacchino, the earliest of which was erected in St. Peter's at Rome. Altar canopies had been erected in churches, and it was clear that canopies were held over the sovereigns of this country at their coronation. Canopies were held over popes, cardinals, and bishops of the Roman Catholic Church. Having disposed of the historical character of the baldacchino, he went on to consider whether such an ornament as a baldacchino was lawful in the Church of England. He referred to the decisions of the Judicial Committee as to "ornaments," and said it mattered not whether the material was of one substance or another. The question was whether such an ornament was sanctioned by the first Prayer Book of Edward VI. On the part of the vicar and churchwardens it had been urged that the erection of a baldacchino in the church of St. Barnabas would add greater dignity and honour to the holy table. "After much consideration," the Chancellor said, "I have come to the conclusion that the baldacchino, to authorize the erection of which the faculty is prayed, is an ornament of the Church within the meaning of the Rubrics, and as it is not prescribed by the Rubrics or can be regarded as in any way necessary or subsidiary to the performances of the services of the Church, I decline to order the faculty to issue. It is unnecessary for the Court, having regard to the ground on which it has deemed this application to be inadmissible, to consider the appeal to its discretion. I am of opinion that Mr. Bowron is entitled to costs, and I condemn the petitioners in costs, excepting in the cost of those affidavits filed by Mr. Bowron, and which do not bear upon the legal question."

Dr. Stephens, observing that the judgment was replete with learning, and was of much importance to his clients and to the public, applied to the Chancellor to be furnished with an official copy of it.

The Chancellor said he should gladly comply with the request.

THE REREDOS IN EXETER CATHEDRAL.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 7.

The Bishop of Exeter held a Visitation Court in the Chapter House this day, to adjudicate upon the petition presented by the Ven. Archdeacon Phillpotts, the Chancellor of the Diocese, against the Dean and Chapter, for erecting in the choir of the Cathedral a Reredos on which are certain sculptured figures, which are alleged to be illegal.

Sir Henry Keating, one of the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas, acted as Assessor for the Bishop. Mr. W. F. Phillpotts was counsel for the petitioners; and Dr. Deane, Q.C., with Mr. W. Phillimore, appeared for the Dean and Chapter.

The citation having been read,

Dr. Deane objected to the jurisdiction of the Bishop, and suggested that counsel should argue that point first, and that if the learned assessor had any doubt on the matter, the case should not be adjourned, but argued on its merits without prejudice to the Dean and Chapter.

This course having been assented to,

Dr. Deane proceeded to submit the grounds of his objection to the Bishop's jurisdiction. He objected to it, first, because the alleged offences into which they were to inquire were matters not appertaining to individuals, but respecting the conduct of the Dean and Chapter in dealing with the fabric of the Cathedral Church. The Bishop's jurisdiction was one as qua Visitor, and not as qua Ordinary. When the Bishop visited his diocese he had jurisdiction over the fabric of the parish churches, and he still had jurisdiction when he did not visit. But over the fabric of the cathedral, neither when in visitation nor when not in visitation, had his Lordship any jurisdiction whatever. A second objection to the jurisdiction was that the citation had issued to the Dean and the five residentiary Canons. The visitation professed to be a visitation of the Dean and Chapter; but the Prebendaries were also members of the Chapter. This was an objection which, it might be said, could be cured at the cost of postponing the inquiry. But he took the objection here, reserving to himself the right to use it hereafter. The learned counsel supported his objection to the Bishop's jurisdiction in a long and able argument, commenting also on the prayer of the petition that if the images were found to be contrary to the Laws Ecclesiastical, the Bishop would exercise his power as Visitor of the Cathedral, and order their removal and the substitution of the Ten Commandments in their stead.

Mr. Phillimore followed with an able argument, and

Mr. Phillpotts, in reply, contended that the statement of the Dean and Chapter, quoted in the Blue Book, that it had not been the practice in modern times for Bishops to visit the Cathedrals, amounted to an admission that the Bishop had the right if he chose to exercise it. He maintained the Bishop had the general powers of Visitor of his see, that the powers now claimed by the Bishops fell within the powers of the Visitor, according to General Law, and that these powers were shown to belong to the Bishop of Exeter by the special enactments to which the Chapter had submitted.

Dr. Deane having replied,

Mr. Justice Keating said he was of opinion that the Bishop had jurisdiction, and he should advise his Lordship to proceed with his Visitation.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 8.

The inquiry was resumed; and at the opening of the Court,

Mr. Justice Keating said he thought it right to state briefly the grounds which induced him to advise the Bishop that he had authority for jurisdiction in this matter, and he should therefore proceed with the inquiry. He did not understand that it was seriously disputed that the Bishop had a right to visit the cathedral in some capacity. No doubt it was suggested that the cathedral was a "peculiar" within the jurisdiction of the Dean, but he did not think that either according to law or on the evidence there was any foundation for saying that at any time this was the case. It would have been a strange thing if it had been, for it appeared that the deanery was founded by Bishop Brewer in 1285, and the Dean was to be appointed by the Chapter, subject to the previous licence of the Bishop, and subject to his confirmation. The mode of election practised then was continued down to the passing of a recent Act of Parliament. It was natural that the Bishop should have reserved this power, and it would have been a strange state of things if the Dean so appointed should have had such control over the cathedral as to practically exclude the Bishop from it. But there was no ground for supposing that such a state of things existed, or that any such right had ever been claimed on the part of the Dean. It had been contended that the only one who could visit the fabric was the Archbishop, but there was no proof of this. On the other hand, there were documentary proofs down to 1679 that the Bishop of the diocese personally visited the cathedral in reference to the fabric. At first sight it might seem strange that subsequent visitations, if any, were not recorded; but it must be remembered that from 1709 down to the death of the last Bishop a canonry was held with the bishopric. The Bishop was therefore one of the Chapter, and knew all that was going on as to repairs in the cathedral, so that there was no necessity for his holding a formal visitation. From the answers of the Chapter to the Royal Commission in 1854 it was evident they did not entertain any doubt as to the right of the Bishop to visit the Cathedral. He mentioned that every opportunity would be given to the respondents to appeal if they thought fit.

The answers of the Chapter to the articles were then put in. They admitted the erection of the reredos, but while acknowledging that there were certain historical scenes sculptured thereon, they did not admit that they were images, and pleaded that there had been no infringement of the Laws Ecclesiastical. The document was signed by the Dean and Canons under protest, and reserving their right to appeal.

Mr. Phillpotts then argued the case on the part of the petitioner; and Dr. Deane replied on behalf of the Dean and Chapter.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 9.

Mr. Phillimore continued the argument on behalf of the Dean and Chapter, addressing himself to the article inquiring whether the reredos was established by legal authority. Alluding to the prayer that the Ten Commandments might be put up instead of the reredos, he wished to say as distinctly as he possibly could, that the Dean and Chapter did intend to put up the Ten Commandments, but they did not believe that there was any reason why they should be called on to put them up in the reredos, and for this reason, that if the advertisements of Elizabeth were to be taken as law, the reredos was not the proper place for them, as it was not the "east wall."

Mr. Phillpotts having replied, Mr. Justice Keating said the question would require most careful consideration before he could advise the Bishop, and some adjournment must take place, owing to his judicial duties. He did not think he could form a judgment before the first day of Easter Term, April 8.

The case was then adjourned, Mr. Justice Keating stating that he would give every spare moment to the matter.

THE LONDON MISSION OF 1874.

The following arrangements are suggested, where local circumstances permit, for the special simultaneous mission to be held in the metropolis, in accordance with the recommendation of the Bishops of London, Winchester and Rochester, to begin on Sunday, the 8th of February, ten days before Ash Wednesday:—

1. Celebration of Holy Communion with or without brief Address or Meditation.

2. Short Mid-day Services with Address or Instruction.
3. Short Afternoon Services with Address or Instruction.
4. Occasional Devotional Meetings.
5. Conferences of Clergy and Churchworkers.
6. Conferences of Clergy and Mission Preachers.
7. Evening Mission Services with Sermon.
8. After Meetings either in Church or a neighbouring School-room.
9. Drawing-room Meetings with Addresses.
10. Special Services for—
  - (1) Children. (2) Servants. (3) Parents.
  - (4) Men only. (5) Workhouses. (6) Prisons.
11. Short Addresses for—
  1. Day Middle Class Schools; Boarding Schools; and Sunday Schools.
  2. Teachers and Pupil Teachers in Elementary Schools.
  3. Hotel Servants.
  4. Railway Servants.
  5. Work-people at houses of business; and Shops.
  6. Labourers and Employés in Dockyards; Ship Building Yards; Breweries; Printing Offices; Factories; and Gas Works.
  7. Cabmen.
  8. Police.
  9. Soldiers in Barracks.
12. Saturday Evening Meetings for Working Men only.
13. Special Efforts for Fallen Women.
14. Ten Minutes Addresses in the Open Air, in crowded Courts and Alleys, and other suitable places, with Special Services, to which invitation can be given, in some place close by.
15. Lay Visitation in Public Houses; and (permission previously obtained) conversation on the subject of the Mission in Tap-Rooms.
16. Special Visitation from house to house, some days before the Mission with tracts and other papers explaining the work and detailing the arrangements.
17. Visitation from house to house in the poorer districts of a parish, every weekday evening shortly before Service, to ask the people to come, and, if possible to accompany them, and sit with them, and induce them to stay for the after meeting.
18. Opportunities for Individual Conference and Prayer between the Mission Preacher or the Parochial Clergy and anxious inquirers, at a place and at hours announced beforehand.

N.B.—These suggestions have been drawn up not as exhaustive, but as indicative of at least some methods likely to be useful during the coming Mission; in the humble hope that the Lord of Souls will be pleased to use them to the glory of His Saving Name.

MISSION SERVICE.

HYMN.

Then the Minister shall say one or more of these sentences of the Scriptures.

There is joy in the presence of God over one sinner that repenteth. St. Luke xv. 5.

Turn us, O God, our Saviour, and let Thine anger cease from us. Psalm lxxiv. 4.

He that covereth his sins shall not prosper, but whose confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy. Prov. xxviii. 13.

I will acknowledge my sin unto Thee, and my unrighteousness have I not hid. Prov. xxxii. 5, 6.

I said I will confess my sin unto the Lord, and so Thou forgavest the wickedness of my sin. Prov. xxxii. 6.

God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto Himself. 2 Cor. v. 19.

Let us pray.

O Lord, raise up, we pray Thee, Thy power, and come among us, and with great might succour us; that whereas, through our sins and wickedness, we are sore let and hindered in running the race that is set before us, Thy bountiful grace and mercy may speedily help and deliver us; through the satisfaction of Thy Son our Lord, to whom with Thee and the Holy Ghost be honour and glory, world without end. Amen.

O God, whose nature and property is ever to have mercy and to forgive, receive our humble petitions; and though we be tied and bound with the chain of our sins, yet let the pitifulness of Thy great mercy loose us; for the honour of Jesus Christ, our Mediator and Advocate. Amen.

O God, forasmuch as without Thee we are not able to please Thee; mercifully grant, that Thy Holy Spirit may in all things direct and rule our hearts, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Then shall the Minister say,

Remember not, Lord, our offences, nor the offences of our forefathers, neither take Thou vengeance of our sins.

PSALMS.

One or more of the following may be used.

Psalm xxxii. Beati quorum.

Blessed is he whose unrighteousness is forgiven: and whose sin is covered.

Blessed is the man unto whom the Lord imputeth no sin: and in whose spirit there is no guile.

For while I held my tongue: my bones consumed away through my daily complaining.

For Thy hand is heavy upon me day and night: and my moisture is like the drought in summer.

I will acknowledge my sin unto Thee: and mine unrighteousness have I not hid.

I said, I will confess my sins unto the Lord: and so Thou forgavest the wickedness of my sin.

For this shall every one that is godly make his prayer unto Thee, in a time when Thou mayest be found: but in the great water-floods they shall not come nigh him.

Thou art a place to hide me in, Thou shalt preserve me from trouble: Thou shalt compass me about with songs of deliverance.

I will inform thee, and teach thee in the way wherein thou shalt go: and I will guide thee with Mine eye.

Be ye not like to horse and mule, which have no understanding: whose mouths must be held with bit and bridle, lest they fall upon thee.

Great plagues remain for the ungodly: but whose putteth his trust in the Lord, mercy embraceth him on every side.

Be glad, O ye righteous, and rejoice in the Lord: and be joyful, all ye that are true of heart.

Psalm li., Misereere mei, Deus.

Have mercy upon me, O God, after Thy great goodness: according to the multitude of Thy mercies do away mine offences.

Wash me thoroughly from my wickedness: and cleanse me from my sin.

For I acknowledge my faults: and my sin is ever before me.

Against Thee only have I sinned, and done this evil in Thy sight: that Thou mightest be justified in Thy saying, and clear when Thou art judged.

Behold, I was shapen in wickedness: and in sin hath my mother conceived me.

But lo, Thou requirest truth in the inward parts: and shalt make me to understand wisdom secretly.

Thou shalt purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean: Thou shalt wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.

Thou shalt make me hear of joy and gladness: that the bones which Thou hast broken may rejoice.

Turn Thy face from my sins: and put out all my misdeeds.

Make me a clean heart, O God: and renew a right spirit within me.

Cast me not away from Thy presence: and take not Thy Holy Spirit from me.

O give me the comfort of Thy help again: and establish me with Thy free Spirit.

Then shall I teach Thy ways unto the wicked: and sinners shall be converted unto Thee.

Deliver me from blood-guiltiness, O God, Thou that art the God of my health: and my tongue shall sing of Thy righteousness.

Thou shalt open my lips, O Lord: and my mouth shall show Thy praise.

For Thou desirest no sacrifice, else would I give it Thee: but Thou delightest not in burnt-offerings.

The sacrifice of God is a troubled spirit: a broken and contrite heart, O God, shalt Thou not despise.

O be favourable and gracious unto Sion: build Thou the walls of Jerusalem.

Then shalt Thou be pleased with the sacrifice of righteousness, with the burnt-offerings and oblations; then shall they offer young bullocks upon Thine altar.

Psalm cxxx., De profundis.

Out of the deep have I called unto Thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice.

O let Thine ears consider well: the voice of my complaint.

If Thou, Lord, wilt be extreme to mark what is done amiss: O Lord, who may abide it?

For there is mercy with Thee: therefore shalt Thou be feared.

I look for the Lord; my soul doth wait for Him: in His word is my trust.

My soul fleeth unto the Lord: before the morning watch, I say, before the morning watch.

O Israel, trust in the Lord, for with the Lord there is mercy: and with Him is plenteous redemption.

And He shall redeem Israel: from all his sins.

LESSONS

To be chosen at the discretion of the Minister, or one or more of the following:—

2 Sam. xii. to v. 15, St. Luke xv. v. 3 to v. 8.

Job xlii. to v. 7. or St. John vi. v. 35 to v. 41.

Jonah iii. or Heb. xii. to v. 5.

or Rev. iii. 14 to end.

And after that, these Prayers following, all devoutly kneeling, the Minister first pronouncing, with a loud voice,

The Lord be with you.

Answer. And with thy spirit.

Minister. Let us pray.

Lord, have mercy upon us.

Christ, have mercy upon us.

Lord, have mercy upon us.

Our Father, which art in heaven, Hallowed be Thy Name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, As it is in Heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, As we forgive them that trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation; But deliver us from evil. Amen.

Then the Priest, standing up, shall say,

O Lord, deal not with us after our sins.

Answer. Neither reward us according to our iniquities.

Priest. O Lord, save Thy servants.

Answer. Who put their trust in Thee.

Priest. Be merciful to us sinners, for Thy Name's sake.

Answer. Heal our souls, for we have sinned against Thee.

Priest. Turn Thee again, O Lord, at the last.

Answer. And be gracious unto Thy servants.

Priest. O Lord, let Thy mercy be showed upon us.

Answer. As we do put our trust in Thee.

Priest. O Lord, arise, help us.

Answer. And deliver us, for Thy mercy's sake.

Priest. Turn us again, Thou Lord God of Hosts.

Answer. Show the light of Thy countenance, and we shall be whole.

Priest. O Lord, hear our prayer.

Answer. And let our cry come unto Thee.

Let us pray.

Almighty and Everlasting God, Who hatest nothing that Thou hast made, and dost forgive the sins of all them that are penitent; Create and make in us new and contrite hearts, that we, worthily lamenting our sins, and acknowledging our wretchedness, may obtain of Thee, the God of all mercy, perfect remission and forgiveness; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

HYMN.

SERMON.

COLLECTS.

For use at the discretion of the Minister.

O Most Mighty God, and Merciful Father, Who hast compassion upon all men, and hatest nothing that Thou hast made; Who wouldst not the death of a sinner, but that he should rather turn from his sin, and be saved; Mercifully forgive us our trespasses; receive and comfort us, who are grieved and wearied with the burden of our sins. Thy property is always to have mercy; to Thee only it appertaineth to forgive sins. Spare us, therefore, good Lord, spare Thy people, whom Thou hast redeemed; enter not into judgment with Thy servants, who are vile earth, and miserable sinners; but so turn Thine anger from us, who meekly acknowledge our vileness, and truly repent us of our faults, and so make haste to help us in this world, that we may ever live with Thee in the world to come; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

O Saviour of the world, Who by Thy Cross and precious Blood hast redeemed us, Save us and help us, we humbly beseech Thee, O Lord.

O Lord Jesus Christ, who at Thy first coming didst send Thy messenger to prepare Thy way before Thee, Grant that the ministers and stewards of Thy mysteries may likewise so prepare and make ready Thy way, by turning the hearts of the disobedient to the wisdom of the just, that at Thy second coming to judge the world we may be found an acceptable people in Thy sight, who livest and reignest with the Father and the Holy Spirit, ever one God, world without end. Amen.

Almighty God, give us grace that we may cast away the works of darkness, and put upon us the armour of light, now in the time of this mortal life, in which Thy Son Jesus Christ came to visit us in great humility: that in the last day, when He shall come again in His glorious Majesty to judge both the quick and the dead, we may rise to the life immortal, through Him who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, now and ever. Amen.

Stir up, we beseech Thee, O Lord, the wills of Thy faithful people; that they, plenteously bringing forth the fruit of good works, may of Thee be plenteously rewarded; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

God, who as at this time didst teach the hearts of Thy faithful people, by the sending to them the light of Thy Holy Spirit; Grant us by the same Spirit to have a right judgment in all things; and evermore to rejoice in His holy comfort; through the merits of Christ Jesus our Saviour, who liveth and reigneth with Thee, in the unity of the same Spirit, one God, world without end. Amen.

O God, who knowest us to be set in the midst of so many and great dangers, that by reason of the frailty of our nature we cannot always stand upright; grant to us such strength and protection, as may support us in all dangers, and carry us through all temptations; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Almighty and everlasting God, mercifully look upon our infirmities, and in all our dangers and necessities stretch forth Thy right hand to help and defend us; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

O Lord, we beseech Thee mercifully to receive the prayers of Thy people which call upon Thee; and grant that they may both perceive and know what things they ought to do, and also may have grace and power faithfully to fulfil the same; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Grant, we beseech Thee, Almighty God, that we, who for our evil deeds do worthily deserve to be punished, by the comfort of Thy grace may mercifully be relieved; through our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Amen.

Grant, we beseech Thee, merciful Lord, to Thy faithful people pardon and peace, that they may be cleansed from all their sins, and serve Thee with a quiet mind; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

We humbly beseech Thee, O Father, mercifully to look upon our infirmities; and for the glory of Thy Name turn from us all those evils that we most righteously have deserved; and grant that in all our troubles we may put our whole trust and confidence in Thy mercy, and evermore serve Thee in holiness and pureness of living, to Thy honour and glory; through our only Mediator and Advocate, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Lord of all power and might, Who art the author and giver of all good things; Graft in our hearts the love of Thy Name, increase in us true religion, nourish us with all goodness, and of Thy great mercy keep us in the same; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

O God, Who hast prepared for them that love Thee such good things as pass man's understanding; Pour into our hearts such love towards Thee, that we, loving Thee above all things, may obtain Thy promises, which exceed all that we can desire; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

O God, Who declarest Thy Almighty power most chiefly in showing mercy and pity; Mercifully grant unto us such a measure of Thy grace, that we, running the way of Thy commandments, may obtain Thy gracious promises, and be made partakers of Thy heavenly treasure; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

CORPORATION OF THE SONS OF THE CLERGY.

The Annual General Court of Governors of this Corporation was held in November, at their house, 2, Bloomsbury-place, Lord Chelmsford, Vice-President, in the chair, when the following noblemen and gentlemen were unanimously elected Life Governors:—The Marquis of Bath, the Bishops of Exeter and Salisbury, the Deans of Hereford and Peterborough, the Speaker of the House of Commons, the Right Hon. Peter Erle, Q.C., Mr. Justice Brett, Hon. and Rev. E. J. Moore, Sir James Paget, Sir James J. Chalk, Sir Frederick Perkins, Archdeacon Stanton, Revs. Dr. Beyner, Irons, and Robins, Dr. Deane, Q.C., Revs. Charles J. Martyn, John Back, R. G. Baker, J. W. Campbell, T. Cornthwaite, and C. S. Roysds; and Messrs. E. Hankinson, Cuthbert E. Peak, George E. Street, R.A., H. E. Bicknell, C. Chatfield, Charles Heberden, Richard Gosling, Barnard Muller, John Rivington, Henry Rogers, William Twopeny, and Octavius Wigram.

The Court then proceeded to the election of the year ensuing of a President, Vice-President, three Treasurers, and forty-two Assistants, forming the Board of Management. The Archbishop of Canterbury and Lord Chelmsford were unanimously re-elected President and Vice-President, and the Rev. Dr. Vivian, Mr. Powhall, and Sir

Thomas Tilson, Treasurers. Mr. Baker, the Registrar, having reported four vacancies by death during the past year, the late Bishop of Winchester, Lord Chief Justice Bovill, Mr. Baron Channell, and Mr. J. W. Thrupp, the Court unanimously elected, to fill such vacancies, the Bishop of Hereford, Mr. Justice Brett, Sir Richard Bagdall, and Mr. Du Pre Porcher.

The other thirty-eight Assistants were severally re-elected.

Mr. Baker stated that during the past year 1396 persons, applying from various places in England and Wales, and being clergymen, clergymen's widows, aged single daughters and children (to whose merits and necessities ample testimony had been adduced), were assisted—the widows and daughters by pensions and the clergymen by grants towards their general expenses, and the children by grants for their education at schools and colleges and to assist them in their early efforts to maintain themselves.

In December the Governors met to distribute CHRISTMAS BENEFACCTIONS for the benefit of poor Curates and other Clergymen, their widows and families, when there were present the Rev. J. W. Vivian, D.D., Mr. Pownall, and Sir Thomas Tilson, Archdeacon Jennings, Rev. Dr. Currey, (Master of the Charterhouse), Rev. W. J. Crichton, George Ainslie, and Daniel Moore; Mr. Alderman Finnis, and Messrs. G. C. Capper, P. Cazenove, Edmund Pepys, G. Du Pre Porcher, and W. Baynes Ranken.

The total sum given away was 2019*l.*, viz., to 93 Clergymen, 144*l.*, to 20 widows and single daughters, 175*l.*, and to 32 orphans and other children for education or outfits, 400*l.*

In May next the Governors will fill up the vacancies which have occurred during the past year in their list of 712 widow and daughter pensioners, and in June will distribute the Midsummer benefactions for clergymen with not less than three children.

In every month the Governors meet to consider urgent cases, and to make grants for the tuition of children, and placing them out in life. The applications for a share of the benefactions this Christmas have been unusually pressing on account of the high price of coal and provisions, and the incomes of the applications being fixed, and, in many cases, painfully insufficient, the Governors were constrained to give all they possessed of present income, and indeed to anticipate somewhat the receipts of the future, in the faith that as other sad cases come to their knowledge means may be found to relieve them.

TITHE COMMUTATION.—SEPTENNIAL AVERAGES.

To the Editor of the "Ecclesiastical Gazette."

SIR,—On reference to the London Gazette of the 6th instant, the average price of corn for the seven years to Christmas, 1873, will be found as follows:—

	s.	d.
Wheat....	7	0½ per Imperial bushel.
Barley....	4	10 do. do.
Oats ....	3	1½ do. do.

For the information of many of your clerical readers I beg to state that each 100*l.* of tithe rent-charge for the year 1874 will amount to 112*l.* 7*s.* 3*d.*, exceeding that of the previous year by about 1½ per cent.

The value of each 100*l.* of tithe rent-charge for the previous seven years was as follows:—

1867 ..	98	13	3	1871 ..	104	15	1
1868 ..	100	13	8	1872 ..	108	4	0½
1869 ..	103	5	8½	1873 ..	110	15	10½
1870 ..	104	1	0½

And the general average value of each 100*l.* of tithe rent-charge for the whole period of thirty-eight years since the passing of the "Tithe Commutation Act" is found to be 101*l.* 16*s.* 5½*d.*

CHARLES McCABE,
Secretary,
University Life Assurance Society,
25, Pall Mall, London.

TITHE AUDIT.

To the Editor of the "Ecclesiastical Gazette."

January 1, 1874.

SIR,—Will you, or any of your correspondents, kindly inform me, if it is an unusual thing for the Tithe Audit to be held on the day on which the rent-charge is legally payable?

Yours obediently,
ENQUIRER.

Mr. M. H. Nevil Story-Maskelyne, M.A., of this college, has been elected an honorary Fellow of the Society. Mr. Maskelyne is Professor of Mineralogy in the University, Keeper of the Mineral Department in the British Museum, and a Fellow of the Royal Society.

CHRIST CHURCH.

The following elections have been made at this college:—To a Clerical Senior Studentship—Mr. Francis Paget, B.A., Junior Student of Christ Church. Mr. Paget gained the Hertford Scholarship in 1871, the Chancellor's prize for Latin verse (subject Sol Pictor) in 1871), and was placed in the First Class by the Classical Moderators in Trinity Term of the same year, and in the First Class by the examiners in the Final School of Literæ Humaniores in the present term. To a Lee's Readership in Physics—Mr. Robert Edward Baynes, B.A., late Scholar of Wadham college. Mr. Baynes was placed in the First Class in Mathematics by the Moderators in Trinity Term, 1870, and in the First Class in Natural Science by the examiners in that school in Michaelmas Term, 1872. The Lee's Reader will be a member of the governing body on the same footing as the other senior students, except that he may marry and hold property beyond the amount of 500*l.* without forfeiting his studentship.

EXETER COLLEGE.

Mr. O'Donoghue, from Manchester Grammar school, has been elected to one of the vacant Stapledon Scholarships at this college; the second one was not filled up. There were six candidates.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE.

Mr. Alexander Leeper, of this college, has been elected to the vacant Casberd Scholarship. Proxime accessit, Mr. James Deane, commoner of the college.

The following letter has been circulated among the authorities of schools:—

"Oxford and Cambridge Schools Examination Board. December, 1873.

"SIR.—We have to inform you that at the request of a large number of masters of schools, a Board has been established by the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge for the purpose of superintending examinations at schools and of granting certificates to candidates who have been examined under its authority.

"The Board will receive application for the appointment of Examiners from the authorities of any school which has a regularly-constituted governing body or prepares a fair proportion of its boys for the Universities, and will make arrangements, in accordance with the accompanying regulations (Part I. Examination of Schools), for the conduct of examinations in the school work.

"The Board will also hold Examinations for Certificates. The papers set to the candidates for certificates may, if the authorities of a school desire, form part of a school examination, and the boys who are candidates may be examined at the school. There will also be examinations at Oxford and Cambridge, and at such other places as the Board may appoint. The certificate which is given to the candidate who has satisfied the requirements of the Board (Part II. Certificates) will specify the subjects in which he has passed, and will also mention any subject in which he has passed with distinction.

"We have the honour to remain, Your obedient servants,

"H. G. LIDDELL, Vice-Chancellor of the University of Oxford.

"H. W. COOKSON, Vice-Chancellor of the University of Cambridge.

"Applications to the Board for the appointment of School Examiners, or for the admission of candidates to the examination for certificates, should be addressed to one of the Secretaries—Mr. Alfred Robinson, New college, Oxford; Mr. J. S. Reid, Christ's college, Cambridge.

Mr. G. C. R. Atwood, of this college, has been nominated to a Scholarship at this college, on the foundation of Sir Wolstan Dixie.

An examination of Students who have not commenced residence will be held at this college on Tuesday, March 26th, 1874, and the three following days, when three Foundation Scholarships of 70*l.* a year will be offered for open competition. These Scholarships are tenable till B.A., and with permission of the Master and Fellows, until M.A. Subjects of Examination:—Classics: Translations from the best Greek and Latin authors, with questions on Grammar; Greek and Latin Composition.

—Mathematics: Euclid, Algebra, Plane Trigonometry, Conic Sections (Geometrical and Analytical).—Natural Science: Botany, Chemistry, Geology, Mineralogy, Zoology, Comparative Anatomy, and Physiology.—It is proposed (should competent candidates present themselves) to award one Scholarship for proficiency in each of the three divisions of the Examination. The Examiners are at liberty to recommend deserving candidates for Exhibitions tenable for one or two years. Students in Natural Science may present themselves for examination in the Mathematical subjects, and are not limited as to age. Students in this department should state what subjects they select in Natural Science, and whether they wish to be examined in Mathematics. Candidates in Classics and Mathematics must be under twenty years of age. All candidates will be expected to show such elementary knowledge of both Classics and Mathematics, as to render it probable that they will satisfy the requirements of the University Previous Examination. The names of candidates must be sent, with baptismal certificate, or a declaration of age, and a certificate of good moral conduct from some M.A. of the University, before Wednesday, March 18th, to the Tutor of Emmanuel college, to whom all inquiries should be addressed. A candidate for a Scholarship at this college in either Classics, Mathematics, or Natural Science, may also be eligible without further examination to a Scholarship at Christ's or Sidney Sussex, in default of properly-qualified candidates at those colleges.

MORAL SCIENCE STUDIES.

The Board of Moral Science Studies have issued a report stating that they have had under consideration the books appointed for the Ordinary Degree Examination in Moral Philosophy and in Political Economy. And they recommend that for the Books required by Grace of the Senate of June 3, 1865, there be substituted the following:—

Moral Philosophy.

Stewart's Active and Moral Powers, Book 2.
Butler's Three Sermons on Human Nature, Whewell's Edition.
Caldewood's Handbook of Moral Philosophy, Parts 1 and 2.
Whewell's Lectures on the History of Moral Philosophy, 1—12.
Mill's Utilitarianism.
Cicero de Finibus, Books 1 and 2.

Political Economy.

Smith's Wealth of Nations (McCulloch's Edition), Books 3 and 4.
Fawcett's Manual of Political Economy.
Mill's Political Economy, Books 1, 2, 3.
Cairns' Character and Method of Political Economy.

The Board also recommend that the rule which restricts one of the papers to one of the specified books be rescinded, the special reason for its introduction having now ceased to exist. And that these changes take effect at the examination to be held in Easter Term, 1874.

QUEEN'S COLLEGE.

There will be an examination at this college on Wednesday, the 25th, and Thursday, the 26th of March, 1874, for four Scholarships, open to all persons under twenty years of age, who shall not have commenced residence in the University. Two of these Scholarships will be of the value of 60*l.* per annum each, and two of the value of 40*l.* per annum each; one-third of which sums will be paid for each term kept by residence. Two of them will be awarded for proficiency in Classics, and the other two for proficiency in Mathematics. The Classical part of the examination will comprise the translation of passages from the best Greek and Latin authors, and composition in those languages. The Mathematical part will be limited to papers in Euclid, Arithmetic, Algebra, Trigonometry, and Conic Sections, treated both analytically and geometrically, with problems arising out of those subjects. Further particulars will be furnished by the Tutor of the college.

JESUS COLLEGE.

There will be an examination on the 19th and 20th of March, at this college, for three Scholarships, tenable until the degree of B.A., the annual value of each of which will be 40*l.* or 50*l.*, according to merit. They will be given for Classical or Mathematical proficiency, as the Examiners may decide, provided they are satisfied with the attainments of the candidates, who will be expected to show such a knowledge of both Classics and Mathematics as is required to pass the Previous Examination. The Classical part of the examination will embrace translations from Greek and Latin authors, with composition in prose and verse; the Mathematical, Euclid, Algebra, Plane Trigonometry, and Conic Sections treated both geometrically and analytically. There will at the same time be an examination for two Scholarships on the Rustat Foundation. Candidates for these Scholarships must be the orphans or sons of clergymen of the Church of England. Ceteris paribus preference will be given to the orphan sons of clergymen. The value of these Scholarships will be the same as that of the others, and the same papers will be set as to Candidates for the other Scholarships. All candidates must be under twenty years of age, and those who are successful will be required to commence residence next October. The examination will begin at nine o'clock a.m., in the college hall. A certificate of good character from a Master of Arts or superior graduate must be sent by each candidate on or before March 17th, to the Tutor of the college, the Rev. Henry A. Morgan.

PRIZE POEMS.

His Grace the Duke of Devonshire, Chancellor of the University, being pleased to give annually a Gold Medal for the encouragement of English Poetry, the Vice-Chancellor gives notice that the Prize will be given this year to such resident Undergraduate as shall compose the best Poem on

"William, the Silent."

The Exercises not to exceed 200 lines in length.
The Right Honourable the Earl of Powis, High Steward of the University, being pleased to give annually a gold medal as a prize for the best Exercise in Latin Hexameter Verse, the Vice-Chancellor gives notice that the subject for the present year is ## Ceres.

N.B.—The Exercises not to exceed 100 lines in length. All undergraduates who shall have resided not less than two terms before the day on which the Exercises may be sent in, or who shall at least be then in the course of their second term of residence, may be candidates for this medal.

Sir William Browne's gold medals are given to such resident Undergraduates as shall compose

- (1) The best Exercise in Greek Verse, the metre being either Hexameter, Elegiac or Lyric;
- (2) The best Latin Ode in imitation of Horace;

- (3) The best Greek Epigram after the model of the Anthologia, and
The best Latin Epigram after the model of Martial.

The subjects for the present year are,

- (1) For Greek Verse,—
"Non jam hostis, sed hospes, Europam Percrearum Rex inest."
- (2) For the Latin Ode,—
"Alumnus praesentissimum Adamum Sedgwick Academia desiderat."
- (3) For the Greek Epigram,—
Σὺν τε δὲ ἐρχομένη καὶ τε πρὸς ὁ τοῦ ἐνόησε.
- (4) For the Latin Epigram,— "Noto mala res optimast."

The Greek Verse is not to exceed 100 lines, nor the Latin Ode thirty stanzas.

The Porson Prize is the interest of 400*l.* Stock, to be annually employed in the purchase of one or more Greek books, to be given to such resident Undergraduate as shall make the best translation of a proposed passage from the works of any standard English Poet in Greek Verse:—

The subject for the present year is,— Fletcher, "The Bloody Brother," Act iv. Scene 1.

"Dar'st thou mention Affection or a heart that ne'er hadst any?"

"And dying, in flatterers' arms, shall fall unmourned."

The metre to be Tragicum Iambicum Trimeterum Acatalecticum. These Exercises are to be accented and accompanied by a literal Latin Prose Version.

All the above Exercises are to be sent in to the Vice-Chancellor privately, on or before March 31st, 1874; each is to have some motto prefixed; and to be accompanied by a paper sealed up, with the same motto on the outside; which paper is to enclose another, folded up, having the candidate's name and college written within. The papers containing the names of those candidates who may not succeed will be destroyed unopened. Any candidate is at liberty to send in his exercise either written (but not in his own hand) or printed or lithographed. No prize will be given to any candidate who has not commenced his residence in the University when the Exercises are delivered.

ECCLESIASTICAL COMMISSIONERS ACT. 36 & 37 VICT. c. 64.

An Act for amending the Ecclesiastical Commissioners Acts, 1840 and 1850, and for other purposes. [5th August, 1873.]

WHEREAS by the Lichfield Chapter Act, 1706, the rectory of Tatenhill, otherwise Tattenhill, in the county of Stafford, in the diocese of Lichfield (of the perpetual advowson whereof her majesty was seized in right of the Duchy of Lancaster) was annexed, as in the said Act stated, to the deanery of the cathedral church of Lichfield, in consideration of the small income arising to the dean of Lichfield out of the revenue of the church at Lichfield, and on condition that the dean of Lichfield and his successors should make such allowance to a curate or curates for the said parish as the bishop should for the time being appoint:

And whereas by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners Act, 1840, all the estate and interest which the holder of any deanery had in any lands or endowments whatsoever annexed to such deanery, and enjoyed by the holder of such deanery separately and in addition to his share of the corporate revenues of the chapter, were, after the next avoidance of such deanery, vested in the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England:

And whereas it is provided by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners Act, 1850, to the effect that to dean of any cathedral or collegiate church appointed after the tenth of April one thousand eight hundred and fifty should hold with his deanery any benefice not situate within the city or town of the cathedral or collegiate church in which he was dean:

And whereas the rectory of Tatenhill is not situate within the city of Lichfield:

And whereas the Ecclesiastical Commissioners are required by an Order in Council, dated the fifteenth day of June one thousand eight hundred and fifty-two, and made in pursuance of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners Act, 1840, and the Ecclesiastical Commissioners Act, 1841, to pay out of their common fund annual sums in order to make up the average annual receipts of the dean of Lichfield from the divisible corporate revenues of the chapter of Lichfield to an income of one thousand pounds:

And whereas it has been decided by the Court of Common Pleas that the above-recited enactments of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners Act, 1840, and the Ecclesiastical Commissioners Act, 1850, do not extend to the rectory of Tatenhill, with its lands and endowments, and it is expedient so to extend the same and to sever the said rectory from the deanery of Lichfield:—

Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

1. Application of 3 & 4 Vict. c. 113, s. 50, and 13 & 14 Vict. c. 94, s. 19, to rectory of Tatenhill, and severance of rectory from deanery of Lichfield.—Upon the avoidance of the deanery of Lichfield which happens next after the passing of this Act, the provisions of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners Act, 1840, and the Ecclesiastical Commissioners Act, 1850, and the enactments amending the same, shall apply to the lands and endowments of the rectory of Tatenhill as if the same were lands and endowments annexed to the deanery of Lichfield within the meaning of section fifty of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners Act, 1840, above recited; and such rectory shall be severed from the deanery of Lichfield, and the perpetual advowson thereof shall be vested in her Majesty, her heirs and successors.

2. Scheme for carrying severance into effect.—The Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England (in this Act referred to as the Commissioners), with the consent in writing of two of the Commissioners of her Majesty's Treasury and of the Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster for the time being on behalf of her Majesty, may from time to time lay before her Majesty in Council schemes for carrying into effect this Act and making the arrangements consequential on the severance of the rectory of Tatenhill from the deanery of Lichfield, and for making out of the lands and endowments of such rectory proper provision for the spiritual duties thereof, and of any new ecclesiastical parish or district formed either before or after the passing of this Act either wholly or partially out of the parish of Tatenhill, and for transferring to the incumbent of such rectory or new ecclesiastical parish any property for the purpose of the endowment thereof, and for making such incidental provisions as may be necessary for carrying into effect any of the above-mentioned objects, so nevertheless that the glebe and tithes of the said rectory shall be applied for the benefit of the said parish of Tatenhill and the ecclesiastical districts formed or to be formed out of such parish.

Such scheme may also, with the consent in writing of the person who is dean of Lichfield at the passing of this Act, direct that the provisions of such scheme, or any of them, and the severance of the rectory from the deanery, shall take effect either wholly or partly at any earlier date than the next avoidance of such deanery, and may provide for the same so taking effect upon the terms and conditions contained in the scheme, and the same shall accordingly take effect as if the deanery had been avoided; but, save as aforesaid, a scheme under this section shall not have any effect until the avoidance of the deanery of Lichfield which happens next after the passing of this Act.

3. Repeal of part of proviso of sect. 51 of Ecclesiastical Commissioners Act, 1840.—Whereas by section fifty-one of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners Act, 1840, certain provisions were made with respect to prebends, dignities, and offices in cathedral churches in England, subject to the following proviso: Provided always, that nothing herein contained shall in any manner apply to or affect any dignity, office, or prebend which is permanently annexed to any bishopric, archdeaconry, professorship, or lectureship, or to any school or the mastership thereof, or the prebends of Burgham, Bursalis, Exceit, and Wyndham in the cathedral church of Chichester; and it is expedient to repeal part of the said proviso: Be it therefore enacted, that so much of the said proviso in section fifty-one of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners Act, 1840, as relates to any dignity, office, or prebend which is permanently annexed to any bishopric shall be repealed as from the avoidance of the same bishopric which happens next after the passing of this Act, or as from any earlier date at which the bishop, by an instrument in writing under his hand, registered in the registry of the diocese of such bishopric, signifies his assent that such repeal shall take effect so far as regards his bishopric: and when such repeal takes effect (in the case of any bishopric) the said dignity, office, or prebend shall be severed from the bishopric, and shall be subject to the provisions of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners Act, 1840, and the Acts amending the same relating to non-residential prebends.

4. Order in Council confirming scheme to be made, &c., under 3 & 4 Vict. c. 113, ss. 84 to 89.—Sections eighty-four to eighty-nine (both inclusive) of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners Act, 1840, (which relate to the making, publishing, and registering of an Order in Council for ratifying a scheme, and to the laying the same before Parliament,) shall apply to any scheme made under this Act, in the same manner as if they were herein enacted.

5. Order to effect transfer without conveyance. 31 & 32 Vict. c. 114, s. 6.—After the date of the publication of an Order in Council ratifying any scheme made in pursuance of this Act, or after any later date at which such scheme is by this Act directed to take effect, and without any further conveyance or act in the law, the property expressed to be thereby transferred shall (so far as the same can be vested by this Act) vest in the transferees and their successors, and (so far as the same cannot be so vested) shall be deemed to be held in trust for the transferees and their successors; subject nevertheless to the rights and liabilities affecting the same to which persons other than the Commissioners or the dean of Lichfield are entitled, except so far as any such persons assent in writing to the scheme.

6. Short Titles of Acts.—The Acts mentioned in the schedule to this Act are in this Act referred to and may be cited by the short titles set opposite their names, and this Act may be cited as the Ecclesiastical Commissioners Act, 1873.

MISCELLANEOUS INTELLIGENCE.

(From the Court Circular.)

Anniversary of the Death of the Prince Consort.—Windsor Castle, December 13.—To-day, being the anniversary of the death of the lamented Prince Consort, her Majesty the Queen, their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales, Prince and Princess Louise of Hesse, Princess Christian of Schleswig-Holstein, Princess Beatrice, the Duke of Edinburgh, Prince

Arthur, and Prince Leopold went to the Mausoleum this morning at eleven o'clock. A special service was performed by the Hon. and Very Reverend the Dean of Windsor, assisted by the Very Reverend the Dean of Westminster. Sir George Elvey, Mus. D., and a portion of the choir of St. George's Chapel were in attendance. Divine service was performed in the private chapel at twelve o'clock. The Rev. H. J. Ellison, Vicar of Windsor, preached the sermon.

THE CONFIRMATION OF H.R.H. THE PRINCESS BEATRICE.

(From the "Court Circular.")

Osborne, January 9th.

The Confirmation of her Royal Highness Princess Beatrice took place yesterday, at Whippingham Church, by his Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury. Precisely at a quarter to twelve o'clock her Majesty the Queen arrived at the church, accompanied by Princess Beatrice, having been preceded by their Royal Highnesses the Prince of Wales, Prince and Princess Christian, Prince Arthur, and Prince Leopold. Her Majesty and their Royal Highnesses having taken their places in the chancel, Princess Beatrice stood at the Communion rail, within which were the Archbishop, the Rev. George Protheroe, and the Rev. Robinson Duckworth. The service commenced with a hymn, "Lord, shall Thy servant come to Thee," after which the Preface was read, and the Archbishop delivered a charge, and then proceeded with the Confirmation Office, at the close of which another hymn, "Thine for ever! God of love," was sung and the blessing pronounced.

Consecration of the Bishop of Ely.—The Rev. Dr. Woodford, the successor of Bishop Harold Browne in the see of Ely, was consecrated in Westminster Abbey, on 14th December (3rd Sunday in Advent), by the Archbishop of Canterbury, assisted by the Bishops of London, Winchester, Lincoln, and Ripon. The sermon was preached by the Archdeacon of Berkshire, who had so long acted with Dr. Woodford as the late Bishop Wilberforce's examining chaplain. His text was taken from St. Paul's charge to Timothy, "Preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all long-suffering and doctrine." There had been a general desire in the diocese that the consecration should have been in Ely Cathedral; but though this could not be carried out, the diocese took its share in the solemn service, the four archdeacons (Ely, Bedford, Huntingdon, and Sudbury) having issued a joint letter to every incumbent, asking them to have special prayers on that day for their new chief pastor.

The Madagascar Bishopric.—With reference to the appointment of a Bishop to head the Mission in Madagascar, the Archbishop of Canterbury has addressed the following letter to the Primus of the Episcopal Church in Scotland:—

"Addington Park, Dec. 31.

"MY DEAR PRIMUS,—Understanding that the Rev. Robert Kestell Cornish, M.A., of Corpus Christi College, Oxford, and Vicar of Zandkey, Devonshire, of whose appointment I approve, has been selected by a committee of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel to head the mission in Madagascar, I beg leave to commend him to yourself and your brethren the Bishops of the Scottish Episcopal Church. I may remind you that in my letter addressed to the committee of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel on the 21st of May, 1873, the circumstances are detailed under which it is deemed impossible that the head of this mission should be consecrated to the episcopal office of a Bishop; as, for example, at the foundation of the American episcopate, in the case of Bishop Webb, for his work in Central Africa. It would be quite in accordance with my wishes, as well as with the wishes of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, if you and your brethren, in pursuance of the resolution passed at a Conference of Bishops of the Scottish Episcopal Church, held in Edinburgh on the 25th July, 1873, were in the same friendly spirit, and under similar conditions, to consecrate Mr. Robert Kestell Cornish before he proceeds on his mission to Madagascar. I may add that the presence of a Bishop seems to be urgently needed in the existing circumstances of the Church in Madagascar, and it is, therefore, desirable that the consecration should take place so soon as the necessary arrangements can be made. I shall be obliged if you will communicate with the Rev. W. T. Bullock, Secretary to the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, in case of any further information being required.

"Believe me to be, ever yours sincerely,
A. C. CANTUAR.

"The Right Rev. the Primus of the Scottish Episcopal Church."

Burials on Sundays.—At a meeting of the City Commissioners of Sewers, held at Guildhall on Tuesday, 16th December, the solicitor (Mr. Baylis) laid before the Court an opinion by Mr. Joseph Brown, Q.C., on the question, whether, by the ecclesiastical law or otherwise, parishioners had an undoubted right, which could be enforced, to be buried in the churchyard of their parish on Sunday; and, if so—looking to the provision of the Act by which the commissioners were constituted the Burial Board for the parishes within the city, and under which they purchased land at Ilford for the purposes of a cemetery—was that right in any respect altered or varied? Mr. Brown said it had never yet been determined whether parishioners had a right to choose to be buried on Sunday, and he could not find that the question had ever been raised; but it had been the custom of all England to bury more on Sundays than on week-days, and he was inclined to think it was the common-law right of the parishioners, and that such right was impliedly recognized by canon 68, made in 1604, which went on the assumption that the parishioners, and not the parson, choose the day for the funeral, and give notice of it. The canon also forbids the delay of the funeral, which, in times of pestilence, might be fatal to the family of the defunct, even if delayed for only one day. Looking to those considerations, and to the fact that the poor were chiefly interested in it, he thought it probable that if the question were brought into court it would be determined that burial on Sundays was a common-law right. He had great doubts as to the power of the Burial Board or of the Secretary of State to make any regulation closing the cemetery on Sundays. He thought it would be looked upon by the Court of Queen's Bench with great jealousy, and as not being a mere act of management, regulation, and control, but as a prohibition of the use of the cemetery on Sundays; nor did it appear to him to be a regulation for the maintenance of public decency, seeing that it stopped funerals altogether on Sunday, instead of regulating them, and allowed all the indecency complained of to go on on week-days. He was disposed to think such a regulation would be beyond the powers of the Secretary of State and the Board. He might add that scenes of drinking and riot, complained of at Sunday funerals, were an abuse older than the time of St. Augustine, and had existed more or less ever since, but that neither the canon law nor the common law ever interdicted Sunday funerals on that account. He did not find that the statute, 15 & 16 Vict., c. 85, gave the right of burial in the cemetery to any but parishioners and inhabitants—i.e. persons inhabiting a house or dying in one of the parishes of the city—and the commissioners were empowered to put a different scale of fees upon the burial of persons not residing in the city or liberties. It was to be implied that the commissioners therefore permitted such outsiders to be buried there if they thought proper, but he considered they might make different regulations as to them from those they did as to parishioners, and probably, therefore, if they saw reasonable ground for so doing, prohibit them from Sunday funerals.

METROPOLIS.

London School Board.—At the first meeting of the newly-elected School Board for London, held on 10th December, Mr. Charles Reed, M.P., was elected Chairman, and Mr. E. H. Currie, Vice-Chairman. At the same meeting a letter was read from Mr. T. J. R. Davison, stating that he was directed by the Duke of Bedford to pay 1000*l.* as a donation by his Grace to the Lawrence Scholarship Fund, the Duke being desirous to mark his sense of the services of Lord Lawrence and of the Board over which his Lordship has presided.

PROVINCIAL.

Diocese of Lincoln.—Training of Candidates for Holy Orders.—The Rev. J. H. Crowfoot, M.A., Rector of Wigginton, formerly Fellow of Jesus College, Oxford, and late Principal of St. Stephen's College, Delhi, has accepted the position of coadjutor to the Chancellor of Lincoln, Dr. Benson, in assisting candidates in their preparation for Holy Orders, or other church work, in the diocese of Lincoln. Mr. Crowfoot is well known for his zealous and able educational work in India as well as for his theological attainments. Gentlemen wishing to avail themselves of this assistance are requested to communicate with the Rev. Dr. Benson, The Chancery, Lincoln.

ECCLESIASTICAL NOTICES.

The Archbishop of Canterbury will hold his next General Ordination on the Second Sunday in Lent.

The Bishop of London's next Ordination will be held on Trinity Sunday. Candidates, when accepted by the Bishop, are to send their papers with their addresses, one month before the day of Ordination, to his Lordship's Secretary, John B. Lee, Esq., 2, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, S.W. The Bishop requires all Candidates for Deacons' Orders to communicate in the first instance with his Lordship, and he will arrange for a personal interview.

The Bishop of Durham purposes holding his next Ordination on Sunday, June 28th. His Lordship requires from all Candidates for Holy Orders sufficient notice of their intention to present themselves for Ordination. Candidates from the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge must produce the Certificate of their having attended a course of Lectures by one of the Divinity Professors; those from Dublin, the Divinity Testimonium, and those from Durham, not being Graduates, the Licence in Theology. All the necessary papers must be sent six weeks before the day of Ordination, to his Lordship's Secretary, John B. Lee, Esq., 3, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, S.W.

The Bishop of Winchester purposes holding his next Ordination on Sunday, March 1st. His Lordship requires from all Candidates for Deacons' Orders three months' notice of their intention to offer themselves for Ordination, and also a personal interview. Candidates from the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge must produce the Certificate of their having attended a course of Lectures by one of the Divinity Professors. Candidates for Priests' Orders are expected to give two months' notice of their intention to the Bishop; and the necessary papers from all the Candidates must be sent at least one month before the day of Ordination to his Lordship's Secretary, John B. Lee, Esq., 2, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, S.W.

The Bishop of St. David's intends to hold a General Ordination on the Second Sunday in Lent.

The Bishop of Llandaff intends to hold his next General Ordination on Sunday, the 1st day of March next.

The Bishop of Norwich purposes to hold an Ordination on Trinity Sunday, on September 20th, and on December 20th. Candidates for Deacons' or for Priests' Orders are requested to inform the Bishop as soon as possible, and not less than three months before the time, of their intention to offer themselves for Ordination. Full instructions will then be forwarded.

The Bishop of Worcester holds an Ordination at each of the four Ember Seasons in every year. He wishes to have three months' notice from all Candidates for Deacons' Orders. Papers to be forwarded to the Bishop's Secretary, Alfred Hooper, Esq., Worcester, one month before the Ordination.

The Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol purposes holding a General Ordination on Sunday, the 1st of March next. Candidates for Holy Orders should lose no time in obtaining the Bishop's permission to present themselves. A list of the requisite papers can be obtained from B. Bonnor, Esq., Bishop's Secretary, Cloisters, to whom they should be sent one month before the day of Ordination.

The Bishop of Chester purposes holding his next Ordination on the Second Sunday in Lent, March 1st. Accepted Candidates for Ordination on that day should forward their papers at once to the Bishop's Secretaries, Messrs. C. J. R. Parry and Gamon, Abbey Square, Chester, from whom all requisite information may be obtained

For particulars respecting the examination, application may be made to the Bishop's Examining Chaplain, the Rev. Chancellor Espin, Wallasey Rectory, Birkenhead.

The Bishop of Rochester purposes to hold an Ordination at each of the four Ember Seasons. Persons desirous of being admitted as Candidates may obtain a paper of instructions upon writing to the Bishop's Secretaries, Messrs. Day and Hassard, 28, Great George-street, Westminster, S.W.

The Bishop of Lichfield will hold his next Ordination on Sunday, March 1st. The Trinity Ordination on Trinity Sunday, May 31st. Candidates for this Ordination should apply to Rev. F. Thatcher, The Palace, Lichfield, early in March. There will be no September Ordination in the Diocese of Lichfield this year.

The Bishop of Hereford purposes holding his next General Ordination on Trinity Sunday. Persons desirous of becoming Candidates are requested to communicate with him three months before that day, and may receive full instructions as to the necessary papers on application to H. C. Beddoe, Esq. (the Bishop's Secretary) Cathedral Close, Hereford.

The Bishop of Peterborough purposes holding his next Ordination on Trinity Sunday, the 31st of May. Every Candidate for Deacons' or Priests' Orders in the diocese should write to the Bishop (at least three months previous to the Ordination), for permission to present himself for examination, stating his age, Academic degree, and his then present residence. In the case of a Candidate for Deacons' Orders this application must be accompanied by a reference to three Clergymen to whom the Bishop may apply for information respecting him. The Bishop will appoint a personal interview, which is absolutely necessary. Candidates, when accepted by his Lordship, may obtain full instructions as to the necessary papers on application to the Diocesan Secretary, H. P. Gates, Esq., Peterborough, to whom they should be sent at least one month previous to the Ordination.

The Bishop of Salisbury purposes to hold an Ordination on Trinity Sunday, May 31st. The several Candidates should forward the usual papers to his Lordship's Secretary, T. Brodrick, Esq., the Close, Salisbury, at least one month before the day of Ordination. Candidates for Deacons' Orders are requested to send their names to the Bishop not later than April 1st.

The Bishop of Carlisle will hold his next General Ordination on Sunday, March 1st, in the Cathedral. The Bishop will in future hold himself at liberty to require from Candidates for Holy Orders a Certificate of having passed the new University Preliminary Examination. Candidates bearing the Certificate will not be examined in the class of subjects comprehended in the University Examination.

The Bishop of Bath and Wells purposes to hold an Ordination on Trinity Sunday next. His Lordship requires from all Candidates for Priests' or Deacons' Orders at least three months notice of their intention to offer themselves for Ordination, and also a personal interview with himself, or one of his Examining Chaplains. It is not necessary that Candidates should be provided with a Title at the time of giving notice. Graduates of Trinity College, Dublin, are required to produce the Divinity Testimonium; Associates of King's College, London, the Theological Certificate; and those who have passed the "Preliminary Examination of Candidates for Holy Orders" the Certificate of success. Full instructions may be obtained from his Lordship's Secretary, Henry Bernard, Esq., Wells, Somerset, to whom all papers must be forwarded at least one month before the day of Ordination.

The Bishop of Oxford intends to hold Ordinations in the Parish Church of Cuddesdon, on Trinity Sunday, the 31st of May, and on Sunday, the 20th of September, also in Christ Church Cathedral, Oxford, on Sunday, the 20th of December. A paper of instructions to Candidates may be obtained by letter to the Bishop's Secretary, John M. Davenport, Esq., Oxford, to whom the requisite documents must be transmitted one month before the day of Ordination. Candidates for Deacons' Orders are required to communicate with the Bishop six months before the Ordination at which they desire to present themselves, and to obtain his consent.

The Bishop of Manchester will hold an Ordination on Sunday, the 1st day of March.

The Bishop of St. Asaph will hold a general Ordination in his Cathedral on Whit Sunday next, the 24th of May. Candidates to send in their papers to the Bishop's Secretary, Diocesan Registry, St. Asaph.

THE BISHOP OF PETERBOROUGH'S ORDINATIONS.

With a view to the better preparation of Candidates for Holy Orders, the following changes have been adopted in the examination of Candidates in the Diocese of Peterborough:—

Ordination of Deacons.

Candidates for the Diaconate will assemble at the Palace on the evening of the Monday in the Ember Week preceding Ordination. The two following days and the morning of the third will be occupied by the usual examination in literary and theological subjects. The remainder of the week will be devoted to such instruction in pastoral work, and to such devotional exercises as it is hoped may give a deeper and more spiritual tone to the days immediately preceding admission to the sacred office of the ministry.

Candidates who shall, within nine months previous to the Ordination, have passed the Cambridge preliminary Theological Examination will be exempt from attendance during the first part of the Bishop's examination; but will be expected to present themselves on the Thursday afternoon for examination by the Bishop himself in doctrine and in general knowledge of Holy Scripture.

Ordination of Priests.

Deacons in the diocese of Peterborough will in future receive, twice in the year of their Diaconate, through the Rural Dean, or some other incumbent in the deanery in which they are licensed, examination papers in the subjects required from Candidates for the Priesthood.

The answers to each of these papers will be written by the Candidate at the house of the Rural Dean or Incumbent appointed by the Bishop for the purpose, and will be transmitted to the Examining Chaplain who shall have issued them.

Those Candidates whose answering of these papers shall be deemed satisfactory will be accepted by the Bishop, subject only to the result of an examination in doctrine by the Bishop himself, which will be held in the afternoon of Thursday in the Ember Week, preceding ordination, on which day they will be expected to present themselves for examination.

The remainder of the week will be devoted to pastoral teaching and devotional exercises, as in the case of Candidates for the Diaconate.

These arrangements will not apply to Deacons ordained before the Christmas Ordination in 1873.

Special Subjects for Priests.

Candidates for Priests' Orders at Christmas, 1874, will be required to pass an examination in

Isaiah 1-39 ..... }
 The Epistle to Galatians ..... } In May, 1874.
 Hooker, Book V..... }
 And also in
 St. John's Gospel ..... }
 Butler's "Analogy," ..... } In November, 1874.
 Part I. .... }

Candidates for Priests' Orders at Trinity, 1875, will be required to pass an examination in

St. John's Gospel ..... }
 Butler, Part I. .... } In November, 1874.

And also in

Isaiah 1-39 ..... }
 Epistle to Galatians ..... } In May, 1875.

Money Grants recommended by the Standing Committee.

Diocese of Christ Church, New Zealand.—The Bishop, under date of 6th October, 1873, forwarded and very earnestly recommended an application from the Rev. B. W. Dudley, Incumbent of Rangiora and Rural Dean, for a grant towards a new church at Fernside, partly in the district of the Cust, and partly in the parish of Rangiora.

The total cost, including necessary fittings, will be at least 300l.; of this sum 217l. 10s. are in hand or promised, having been nearly all raised in the neighbourhood, which is a poor one. The present accommodation will be for seventy persons. The building will be of wood, and the site will be vested in "The Church Property Trustees."

The population consists of about 260 persons, amongst whom are Roman Catholics, Presbyterians, and Wesleyans.

The Church people of the district, speaking generally, have contributed freely, some beyond their means, as Mr. Dudley judges, and from the highest Christian motives.

It was agreed, upon the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 20l. in this case, the sum to be paid so soon as the Bishop shall have certified that the receipt of it will lead to the church being at once opened for Divine Service, and to its being free from any liability for debt.

Portions of the Book of Common Prayer and Hymns in Tukudh.—The Secretary stated that the Foreign Translation Committee and the Tract Committee had, at the request of the Rev. Henry Wright, Hon. Secretary of the Church Missionary Society, produced an edition of 500 copies of this book. The book contains the order of Morning and Evening Prayer, the Services for the Holy Communion, Holy Baptism, Matrimony, and the Burial of the Dead, and thirty Hymns. The translation has been made by the Rev. B. McDonald, C.M.S. Missionary, for use among a large tribe of Indians who live near the Youcon River, on the confines of the Arctic Regions. The Secretary added that the total cost of the 500 copies bound would be 40l. 18s. 6d.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to make a grant of the whole edition, and to place them in the hands of Mr. Wright, with a request that he would forward them to Mr. McDonald, on the understanding that, if any copies were sold, the proceeds of sales should be sent to this Society as a donation.

Book Grants recommended by the Standing Committee.

Special and Ordinary Book Grants were then made, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee.

Nashotah.—The Rev. R. F. Sweet, an American clergyman now in this country, and acting on behalf of the Nashotah Mission Seminary, applied for a grant of some of the Society's publications for the library of the Seminary. A very interesting account of this Seminary has recently been published by the Tract Committee of the Society.

In his application Mr. Sweet specified such books as the Christian Evidence Series and the Bible Atlas.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant books to the value of 10l.

Diocese of Auckland, New Zealand.—The Bishop of Auckland, writing from his diocese on the 25th of last September, applied for a grant of Maori Prayer Books. The Bishop wrote:—"In many parts of the diocese the Maories are very deserving of encouragement, inasmuch as they are exerting themselves to raise endowment funds for the maintenance of Native Ministers. From one very poor district, in the north of this island, I have received more than 100l. in less than a year towards such an Endowment Fund."

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to make a grant of Maori Prayer Books to the value of 25l., and to express a hope that if any of them were sold, the proceeds would be sent as a donation to the General Funds of the Society.

London February Mission.—The Secretary, by desire of the Standing Committee, informed the meeting that the Tract Committee had, after communication with Mr. Thorold and Mr. Berdmore Compton, the Hon. Secretaries of the proposed London Mission, prepared a variety of small tracts and leaflets for distribution in connexion with the Mission; and that the Religious Supplemental Catalogue Committee had also put on the Society's List certain literature which had been recommended to them as suitable for the purposes of the Mission. The Standing Committee had sent specimens of the Society's Publications of this kind, together with a complete list of all the Books and Tracts bearing on the subject, which the Society had on sale, to every Incumbent in the Mission District. They had also, as the time pressed, ventured to invite grants for certain of the Society's own publications from the Incumbents of exceptionally poor parishes, who could not supply the amount of tracts they required without such help.

The Standing Committee had appointed a Sub-Committee of their own body to receive applications for grants of such tracts, and asked the meeting to sanction an outlay of 1000*l.* upon this work. The Standing Committee were anxious to help on the work of the Mission as much as possible, but felt unable in reference to the many other claims upon the Society's funds, to recommend a larger expenditure upon it at the present time. This action of the Standing Committee was approved of, and permission given to spend the sum named.

London February Mission.—The Secretaries of this Mission are about to send a request to the clergy of England generally, asking their prayers and the prayers of their people for God's blessing on the Mission. They are anxious to send a form of prayer which has been issued by the Tract Committee, and for this purpose apply for a grant of 100,000 copies of the prayer.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant these at a cost of about 25*l.*

Notices of Motion by the Standing Committee for the next Meeting.

Diocese of Bathurst.—The Secretary submitted the following letter from the Bishop, dated "Bishop's Court, Bathurst,

New South Wales, Oct. 30th, 1873.

"DEAR SIR,—More than four years ago your Society was good enough to make a grant of 500*l.* towards the erection of churches, &c., in this diocese. I regret to say that the whole is now exhausted, without any diminution of calls for assistance for the above purposes. Your grant has done much to stimulate the good work; about thirty-two parishes will have been helped by it, when the whole has been paid. It has all been appropriated, and has elicited local support to the extent of close upon 7000*l.*

"What one parish has done has stirred up others, and everywhere a demand has sprung up for a church or parsonage, with a room set apart for divine service; but I can render no more assistance, having promised already out of my private resources more than I ought. The income of the see is but 600*l.*, of which upwards of 250*l.* is expended in working it (that is for horses, &c.). I should therefore feel very grateful for a further grant of 500*l.*; it would be invaluable to me at the present time, when I and other Bishops are endeavouring to establish our Church upon a firm basis. What has been done has been fully appreciated, as evidenced by the resolution of the first Synod of this diocese at its first session, and which was forwarded in June. My diocese is about equal in area to that of all the other dioceses in New South Wales together, and involves great physical fatigue to the clergy, some of whom ride 8000 miles a year in the discharge of their parochial duties. They are very zealous in the work of church building, and make urgent appeals to me for a subscription to give encouragement to the people.

"I am, Sir, yours faithfully,

"S. E. BATHURST.

"To the Sec. S. P. C. K."

The Standing Committee gave notice that at the next Monthly General Meeting they would propose a grant of 500*l.* on the same conditions as were imposed in the case of the former grant; viz. that it should be applied only to the erection of additional churches and schools, that none of it should be applied for the building of parsonage-houses, nor paid, except the building in aid of which it was granted would be set free from all liability by means of it.

Bishop Callaway of Independent Kaffraria.—The Standing Committee reported that Bishop Callaway had attended their meeting on the 5th instant. He gave a detailed and very interesting account of the work which lay before him as a Missionary Bishop, sent out by the Episcopal Church in Scotland, to the 600,000 people of Independent Kaffraria, the area of which may be reckoned at between 30,000 and 40,000 square miles, or somewhat more than the whole of Scotland.

He stated that there were at the present time, five European clergy, three native deacons, about thirty native schoolmasters, and eleven schoolmistresses in his diocese; that the present missionary work had been set on foot by the diocese of Grahamstown. That for the support of the Mission (independently of the salary of the Bishop, which was guaranteed by the Scotch Episcopal Church) 2000*l.* annually were forthcoming from S. P. G.

The Bishop specified several works which he hoped to set on foot, viz. :—

1. A Hospital, which would serve the double purpose of a place for curing disease, and a place for the instruction of future Missionaries in elementary medicine and surgery.

2. A College, or place of training of Native Students for Holy Orders. The Bishop said that he had in view from eight to fourteen young converts, who would, he trusted, form hopeful students. He thought that such a building as was required might be erected for 1000*l.* or 1200*l.*

3. A principal Church, to be erected at the place which should eventually be selected as the centre of the missionary operations.

4. A Hospice, or place to which the Missionaries might from time to time retire, when they needed either rest or conference with the Bishop.

5. A Library for the use of the diocese. To this the Bishop said that he purposed presenting his own private collection of books consisting of several thousand volumes.

The Standing Committee said that they had subsequently received a written statement from the Bishop, and that they had determined to recommend the following grants :—

1st. A grant of 400*l.* for the College for the training of Students for Holy Orders.

2ndly. A grant of 350*l.* for the Principal or Mother Church.

3rdly. A grant of books, to the value of 50*l.*, for the Diocesan Library.

The Standing Committee, in accordance with the practice of the Society, gave notice that at the next Monthly General Meeting, to be held on Tuesday, February 3rd, they would propose the grants of money here stated. The grant of books was made at once. The Standing Committee also reported that they hoped to be able still further to assist Bishop Callaway out of the 2500*l.* put at their disposal in April last, for training additional native clergy.

Diocese of Bloemfontein.—The Standing Committee reported that the Rev. P. G. Medd, Rector of Barnes, had applied as Commissary of the Bishop of Bloemfontein for a grant from Canning's Fund towards the passage out to Bloemfontein of the Rev. W. Gaul. Mr. Medd stated that the Archdeacon of Bloemfontein had been in England some months engaged in raising funds, and also in finding suitable persons for the work of the Mission in the Orange Free State, in which Bloemfontein is actually situated, though the diocese includes large tracts—e. g. the Diamond Fields and British Basuto Land—which (forming more than half the diocese) are now a regularly organized portion of British territory, under the name of Grigua-land West.

The Archdeacon has succeeded in securing the services of one deacon, two divinity students, and three, perhaps four, ladies, who will give their services gratis for educational and mission work, to be supported by the mission.

The Bishop is very anxious to have all these helpers sent out as soon as possible, as the services of all are urgently needed.

The girls' school (towards which last year the Society granted 250*l.* to meet 750*l.*) opens this very month, under a lady who went out last year. This lady is anxiously looking for further help, without which the school cannot take its proper position, and secure what the Bishop is so deeply concerned for—a good Christian English education for those who, in default of other places of female education, resort to Roman Catholic convent schools.

The funds of the Mission are so low that they cannot meet the expense of sending out all the party now ready to sail; and Mr. Medd hopes that the Committee will be able to grant 50*l.*, the cost of each person, for the passage of Mr. Gaul.

The Standing Committee informed the Meeting that they had agreed to grant 50*l.* out of Canning's Fund for the passage of Mr. Gaul.

They further recommended a grant of 10*l.* in books for use of the Mission, and this grant was accordingly made.

Reports, &c., from the Standing Committee.

General Examination of Acting Teachers.—The Secretary, by desire of the Standing Committee, submitted the following letter addressed to him by the Archbishop's Examiner, Canon Norris, on this subject, and dated 20th December, 1873 :—

"I have just completed my Examination of the acting teachers. Last year 335 presented themselves; this year 236.

"They are, as you are aware, for the most part the residue of our untrained teachers, and the number must be expected to decrease every year.

"It is a race that is dying out. As last year, so this year, about one-third were men, two-thirds women.

"The standard fixed for the several classes was the same as last year.

	1872.	1873.
"1st class ... ..	13	24
2nd class ... ..	118	88
3rd class ... ..	154	94
Failed ... ..	50	30
	335	236

"Thus it appears that they passed a much better examination this year than last.

"Twenty out of the twenty-eight training colleges kindly allowed them to be examined in their lecture-rooms, the principals undertaking the trouble of it.

"In six other places the Diocesan Inspectors procured a room and undertook it.

"I am now at work on the papers of some 1800 candidates for admission, and hope to have the list out in about three weeks.

"J. P. NORRIS."

Examination of Candidates for admission into Church Training Colleges in Divinity.—On the 10th instant Canon Norris sent in the class list, &c., of this examination.

From comparison with last year it appears that the proportion of those who have been placed in the first class is considerably smaller than last year. Then 77 out of 1642 obtained a first class; this year only 60 out of 1798.

The following is an analysis of the list :—

It must be borne in mind that the result of the examination does not in any way reflect upon the colleges at which the candidates presented themselves. The great majority of candidates were pupil teachers. Those in the first class will, upon admission to a Church training college, be entitled to 3l. each from this Society.

Canon Norris urges in reference to this, that "the one important thing now is to strengthen the hands of the Diocesan Inspectors."

Monthly Reports and Lists of Members present.

The Standing Committee, in reference to a question asked at the last Meeting as to why the list of Members attending the Monthly General Meetings was no longer printed in the Monthly Reports, informed the Meeting that the practice had been changed after a Meeting held at St. James's Hall, on the 2nd of February, 1869. On that occasion it was impossible to give a complete list; and, as a matter of fact, no list was given then, nor has any list been given since.

The Standing Committee added, that they had now determined that on all ordinary occasions the list of Members present should be printed, and that when the numbers were very great, a certain number of names should be printed, and an "&c." added to show that the list did not profess to be complete.

Election of Members of the several Committees.

The Standing Committee informed the Meeting that no names of other candidates, in addition to those nominated by the Standing Committee, for the several Committees of the Society, had been sent in to the Secretaries on or before last Saturday, which was the last day on which, according to the rules, such names could have been received.

Letters of Thanks, &amp;c.

Diocese of Moosonee.—The following interesting letter from the Bishop of Moosonee was submitted in reference to the grant of 150l. made in May last, to meet 350l. for the erection of a suitable building for the reception of native candidates for the ministry.

Moosonee, September, 12th, 1873.

"MY DEAR MR. SWABEY,—I received your kind letter just before leaving England, but was so much pressed by engagements that I could not then answer it, but I do so now with much pleasure.

"I am much obliged to the Committee for the grant of 150l., of which I hope by and by to be able to avail myself; as to the money, I shall have no difficulty, I think; as to time, I don't know; a part of the building will go up this winter, but a large house here is a very serious undertaking, where artisans are not procurable. However, I dare say that application for the money will be made before the five years have expired. Besides this, we have to enlarge our church by adding a chancel to it, and make many other improvements which the new state of things necessitates.

"My journey from England to Moose was most pleasant. I had a young daughter with me, and she too found it most enjoyable. Our fellow-passengers on board the 'Scotia' were very kind and sympathizing, and after a lecture, which they requested me to deliver, presented me with between sixty and seventy pounds for my Mission. At New York I preached in two of the large churches; at Montreal in the cathedral and one of the parish churches; at Toronto, too, in the cathedral and a parish church. After my sermon in the cathedral, a gentleman came into the vestry, and gave me permission to draw on him 30l. a year for five years. We afterwards got on to Collingwood, where I delivered a lecture, and where we took steamer for Michipicoton on Lake Superior; this is a delightful summer trip, and occupies three days. At Michipicoton we took canoe, which in fourteen days brought us to Moose. Since my arrival I have been extremely busy, for, until within the last few days, I had no assistance whatever. The native clergymen of this quarter and our schoolmaster were both away to distant missions; the former having, during the summer, travelled fifteen hundred miles, twice crossed fifty-five portages and twenty-seven lakes. During the whole time of my absence from Moose, three services each Sunday were conducted in our church, two in the Indian language, one in the English, all, with the exception of those on two Sundays, having been conducted by the principal lay members of the congregations. I at once formed confirmation classes for candidates in both languages, and on Sunday last confirmed thirty-six, sixteen at the English Service, twenty at the Indian. At the former all were half-castes with one exception, our medical man, who, brought up in the Presbyterian Church, desired admission into our own.

"I have likewise been much engaged on transnational labour, which, through the whole winter will occupy me several hours daily. I send you a copy of some of our books in both the Cree and Salteux languages, that you may be able to form some judgment of what we have already done, as well as of what remains yet to be done.

"I am, my dear Mr. Swabey,
Yours very faithfully,
JOHN MOOSONEE.

"To the Rev. Henry Swabey, Secretary,
Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge."

China.—The following letter, in reference to a grant of 150l. made by the Society in December, 1871, for the production in China of 1500 copies of the Book of Common Prayer in the Mandarin colloquial dialect, was submitted, and the specimen copy of the book produced:—

"Peking, April 17th, 1873.

"DEAR SIR,—I take the liberty of forwarding, for the inspection of the Committee, a copy of the New Testament translated into Mandarin by a Committee of Peking Missionaries, and a copy of the Book of Common Prayer, which was published mainly by the liberal help afforded by your Committee. The New Testament was translated direct from the Greek, and the translators were two English and two American Missionaries.

"I sent copies of these translations last year, but they were lost on the way to England.

"Believe me yours very truly,
J. S. BURDON.

"To the Rev. Henry Swabey, Secretary,
Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge."

Donation.—The following very gratifying letter was read:—

"Clun Vicarage, Shropshire, December 19th, 1873.

"SIR,—I enclose a cheque for 100l. for that faithful handmaid of the Church, the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge. I paid a life subscription in 1852, little supposing that I should have been spared, by God's mercy, for twenty-one years more. I intended to have left the enclosed sum as a legacy, but it is far greater pleasure to send it at once as a small thank-offering to God, and an acknowledgment of my sense of the great work which he has been pleased to carry on through the instrumentality of your most valuable Society. That His blessing may still rest upon her labours, especially at this present crisis, is the earnest prayer of "Your faithful servant,

CHARLES WARNER."

Grants of Books, &c., recommended by the Standing Committee.

Grants were then made to the amount of 125l. 4s. 2d.

For Schools, Lending Libraries, and Distribution to the amount of 238l. 18s.

For Churches, Chapels, or Licensed Rooms to the amount of 22l. 15s. 2d.

Trust Funds.

Grants of Books to the amount of 47l. 15s. have been made from the various Trust Funds of the Society since the last Meeting.

Announcement of Donations, Legacies, &amp;c.

Donations were announced to the amount of 955l. 6s. 2d.

The following Legacies were announced:—

The Rev. C. Dolben ...	£250 0 0
Captain James King, of Presadded, Angles, duty free ...	200 0 0
Miss M. E. Mesham, of Pontruffyd Hall, Flint, duty free ...	500 0 0
Miss M. A. Wingfield, of Windsor, Berks ...	600 0 0

Thirty-five Members were elected.

Thirty-one Ladies have been admitted Annual Subscribers.

The next Monthly General Meeting will be held on Tuesday, 3rd March, 1874, at two p.m.

Tuesday, February 3, 1874.

Rev. Dr. CURRY in the Chair.

N. Powell, Esq.	Rev. Robt. Morris.
Rev. Canon Harvey.	Rev. J. J. Coxhead.
J. F. Franco, Esq.
Rev. J. W. Buckley.

After Prayers, the Minutes of the last Meeting were read.

Money Grants recommended by the Standing Committee.

Diocese of Colombo, Ceylon.—The Bishop, writing on the 6th of January, 1874, from Malta, to which place he had been obliged to escape for his life in consequence of a bad attack of dysentery, brought on by a journey of sixteen weeks in his diocese, forwarded, and very strongly recommended, an application made by the Rev.

Thomas Felton Falkner, for a grant towards a proposed new church at Kalutara. The total cost of the church, which is to accommodate 200 persons, is about 600*l.*; 400*l.* (of which 265*l.* are in hand) have been promised; but there is little prospect of raising more. The site is vested in four trustees, namely, the district judge of the station, and three of the principal residents, members of the Church of England. Except a small number who are Christians, the population, which consists of about 100,000, are Buddhists. The district is a most important one, and will complete a long chain of church stations. As soon as the church is finished a resident Missionary will be placed there; at present there is service there only once a fortnight.

At Morotawa, on the Colombo side, one large church and several small ones have been, or are being, built by a rich native (Dr. Jozza), and at Panaduré the same people are beginning another. But at Kalutara, with an immense population and the advantage of a good nucleus of Church-people, there are no rich natives. The chief man has given 100*l.*, and will probably give more eventually; but the people on the spot are not able to do all.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 50*l.* in this case. The Society's grant will be paid when the Bishop shall have certified that the receipt of it will lead to the immediate opening of the building for Divine Service, and to its being free from all liability for debt, and secured as the property of the church.

Diocese of Jamaica.—The Bishop of Kingston, Jamaica, forwarded, and very strongly recommended, the following appeal from the Incumbent and Churchwardens of St. Alban's, Santa Cruz Mountains, for a grant towards the enlargement of their church:—

"Santa Cruz Mountains, Jamaica,
"November, 1873.

"Your assistance is earnestly asked to enable us to enlarge the little church of St. Alban's. Built in a district containing a population of over 4000 souls, and capable of holding only 300, many are unwillingly kept from attending Divine Service for want of accommodation. A chancel being promised by a family, in memory of parents beloved and respected, it is proposed to add two side-wings at a cost of about 200*l.*; the church will then seat two-thirds more than at present. For this object the smallest donation will be thankfully received.

"J. EDWIN WOODROW, Incumbent.

"CHAS. E. ISAACS, } Churchwardens."
"HENRY LAWRENCE, }

The Bishop stated that the additional accommodation to be provided would be for 200 people, making 500 instead of 300 sittings; that Mr. Woodrow had only recently taken charge of St. Alban's, the district having been for a long time without any clergyman. The people are described as being most anxious for Church services and pastoral ministrations. There is very little dissent in the large parish of St. Elizabeth's, in which St. Alban's is situated; the majority are Church people, with a few flourishing Moravian stations. Mr. Woodrow has another station, Mount Hermon, under his charge, with a Catechist. The church at present is so crowded that Mr. Woodrow says, "Those who are actually members are sitting eight in a seat nine feet long."

It was agreed, upon the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to make a grant of 20*l.*, on the usual conditions.

Diocese of Algoma.—The following statement was submitted by the Standing Committee. The establishment of the Missionary See of Algoma has been long contemplated by the Canadian Bishops, and the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel some time ago offered from a special fund 1000*l.* towards an endowment, provided 4000*l.* were raised in Canada to meet that sum within a limited time.

The Bishops of the five Canadian Sees, in view of the pressing necessity of the case, without abandoning the idea of raising an endowment fund, determined at once to consecrate and provide the necessary salary of 500*l.* sterling for a Bishop. The present Bishop was elected in September last, and consecrated in the following October; he has worked in the diocese of Huron for nearly thirty years.

Immediately upon being consecrated he visited his diocese, which extends for about 800 miles along the northern shores of Lakes Huron and Superior, with a depth of about 100 miles.

The estimated population is about 12,000, about one-quarter of whom are Indians, and about one-quarter or one-third of the Indians are still Pagans. The Christian Indians are about equally divided between the Churches of England and Rome.

There are now seven clergy in the new diocese, which formerly formed part of the diocese of Toronto, but it is uncertain whether they will all remain.

The great mineral wealth of the district is already attracting a large number of emigrants, and far larger numbers are expected.

The Bishop's present plan is to build a number, probably twenty-four to begin with, of school-chapels with residences, at a cost of about 60*l.* to 80*l.* each, and he hopes to get men to reside qualified to act as schoolmasters during the week, and to conduct services as Catechists on Sundays.

The Bishop purposes himself, with as many ordained Missionaries as he can secure and afford, to itinerate and supply regular services at stated intervals in these school-chapels.

There is no security for the salaries of any of the clergy except that of the Bishop himself. The present seven clergy are helped partly by a fund in the diocese of Toronto, partly by Missionary Societies in this country.

The Bishop is most anxious to occupy the ground as soon as possible, since the Government allowed 20*l.* sterling for the Missionary efforts of the first Protestant body that organizes Missionary work.

The Standing Committee recommended a grant of 250*l.*, for the purpose of building schools or school-chapels, on condition that not more than 25*l.* of the Society's grant be expended upon any one building.

The grant was made on this condition.

Book Grants recommended by the Standing Committee.

The Special and Ordinary Book Grants were then made on the recommendation of the Standing Committee.

Diocese of Algoma.—The Standing Committee recommended that books, consisting of Bibles, New Testaments, Prayer Books, and Tracts, to the value of 25*l.*, should be put at the disposal of the Bishop, for use in his diocese.

This grant was made.

Tracts for Ash-Wednesday, Lent, Easter, &c.—The meeting agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, that grants of such tracts should be offered to the clergy and members of the Society by public advertisement, as in previous years.

Cuba.—The Standing Committee stated that they had received a letter from the Bishop of London, who forwarded a communication which he had received from Bishop Tozer, dated 7, East Twenty-seventh-street, New York, 5th January, 1874.

Bishop Tozer drew attention to the great spiritual destitution of all members of the English Church and of the American Episcopal Church, which existed in Cuba. He also gave an account of the efforts which had recently been made by the American Church under the auspices of the aged Bishop of Maryland, in some degree to meet and remedy this state of things. An American clergyman has been labouring in Cuba for the last two years, and has gathered more than one congregation. The dead are now buried, marriages are solemnized, and other ordinances of the Church, which had hitherto been entirely neglected, are observed. Bishop Tozer suggested, and the Bishop of London supported the suggestion, that a small grant of Spanish and other books should be made, and that a letter of sympathy should be addressed to the Bishop of New York.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to make a grant of books to the value of 10*l.*, and that a letter of hearty sympathy should be addressed to the Bishop of New York.

London Diocesan Board of Education.—The Rev. G. P. Ottey, Secretary of this Board, applied for a grant of S.P.C.K. books to the value of 20*l.*, to meet an equal outlay in books, the whole of which are to be given as prizes to pupil teachers for religious knowledge, after a central or simultaneous examination.

This grant was made on the recommendation of the Standing Committee.

Chichester Diocesan Association.—The Rev. H. Foster applied, on behalf of this Association, for a grant of S.P.C.K. books to the value of 10*l.*, to meet an equal outlay in books on the part of the Association; the whole of the books to be given to pupil-teachers as prizes for religious knowledge, after a simultaneous examination.

This grant was recommended by the Standing Committee and made.

Lincoln Diocesan Board of Education.—In reference to a grant of S.P.C.K. books to the value of 15*l.*, to meet an equal expenditure on books for prizes in religious knowledge for the children in national schools, which was made by the Society in October last, the Standing Committee stated that Mr. Garfit, the Secretary of the Diocesan Board, had explained that he had found to his dismay that, strictly speaking, the grant had been forfeited by reason of the examination not having taken place, and the prizes not having been awarded before the end of 1873. Mr. Garfit admitted that the error was his own, but urged that, in consequence of the arrangements of the Diocesan Board having been made in dependence upon receiving this grant, it should be treated as an exceptional case, and allowed to stand. The Standing Committee recommended that this should be done, and the Meeting sanctioned the continuance of the grant.

Publications of the Special Committee for Ecclesiastical and Social Subjects.—The Rev. Dr. Alfred T. Lee, Secretary of the Church Defence Institution, applied for a grant of 250 copies of Professor Brewer's Book on Establishments, and of 500 copies of Mr. Hamilton's Papers on Tithes. The works to be distributed through the branches of the Institution, which number 450.

This grant was made, at a cost of 33*l.* 5*s.*, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee.

Port of Hayti, St. Domingo.—The Rev. F. J. C. Moran, Secretary of the Colonial and Continental Church Society, applied for a small grant of French and English Prayer Books, and of some other French Books, for the use of a little English community, joined by some French-speaking natives, at the Port of Hayti, in St. Domingo. These people meet twice each Sunday, and conduct, so far as they can by means of Lay Readers, Divine Service according to the Church of England Prayer Book.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant Books to the value of 5*l.* in this case.

Grants recommended by the Standing Committee, of which Notice was given at the last Meeting.

Independent Kaffraria.—In accordance with notice given at the last Meeting, and for the reasons which were stated at length in the last Monthly Report, the Standing Committee proposed that a grant of 400*l.* be placed at the disposal of Bishop Callaway, to assist him to build, at an estimated cost of 1000*l.* or 1200*l.*, a College or Place of Training for Native Students for Holy Orders; also that a grant of 350*l.* be made for the erection of a Principal or Mother Church at some place yet to be determined upon as the centre of Missionary operations.

Both these grants were made on the usual conditions, namely, that they should be applied for within five years, and paid when the Bishop should have certified that the receipt of the sums would lead to the completion of the works for which they are severally voted, and to their being free from all liability for debt, and further that they are secured as the property of the Church for ever.

Diocese of Bathurst.—In accordance with notice given at the last Meeting, and for reasons which were stated at length in the last Monthly Report, the Standing Committee proposed that a grant of 500*l.* be placed at the disposal of the Bishop of Bathurst on the following conditions, namely, that it should be applied only to the erection of additional Churches and Schools, that none of it should be applied for the building of parsonage-houses, nor paid unless the building in aid of which it is granted would be free from all liability for debt thereby, and is secured as the property of the Church.

The grant was then made.

Election of Vice-Presidents and of the Members of the several Committees, &c.

Vice-Presidents.—The Standing Committee, in accordance with notice given in December, recommended that the Very Rev. B. M. Cowie, Dean of Manchester, be elected one of the Vice-Presidents of the Society.

The Dean was elected.

Standing Committee.—The Standing Committee, in accordance with Rule XXVII., submitted the names of Dr. Currey, Mr. Hodson, Mr. Moorhouse, and Mr. Rivington (who retired by seniority), for re-election as Members of the Standing Committee. They also submitted the names of T. A. Barker, Esq., M.D., Major-General Sir R. Wilbraham, and Rev. W. Cooke, Hon. Canon of Chester, as candidates whom they recommended to fill the vacancies caused by the retirement of the Dean of Manchester and Mr. Few, and by the election of Mr. Powell as one of the Treasurers.

These seven gentlemen were elected, Mr. Cooke taking the place of Mr. Powell, the other six gentlemen being placed alphabetically at the bottom of the list.

Hence the order of the Standing Committee for the ensuing year is as follows:—

Rev. Dr. J. A. Hessey.	Sir Edwin Pearson.
John Edwards, Esq.	Rev. J. W. Buckley.
R. B. Wade, Esq.	Rev. W. Cadman.
Rev. E. Capel Cure.	Rev. J. D. Hales.
J. F. France, Esq.	Rev. P. G. Medd.
Major-General Sir H.	Rev. Canon Miller.
Charles B. Daubeney,	Rev. Canon Nisbett.
K.C.B.	T. A. Barker, Esq., M.D.
Rev. W. Cooke.	Rev. Dr. Currey.
Rev. Samuel Smith.	Rev. George H. Hodson.
H. S. King, Esq.	Rev. J. Moorhouse.
Rev. H. I. Cummins.	Wm. Rivington, Esq.
The Very Rev. the Dean	Major-Gen. Sir R. Wil-
of St. Paul's.	braham.

Tract Committee.—In conformity with Rule XXX., the Standing Committee proposed the names of the following seven Members of the Society to form the Tract Committee for the ensuing year, viz:—

Rev. W. H. Burrows.	Rev. C. W. Edmond-
Rev. Berdmore Comp-	stone.
ton.	Rev. Dr. Francis Hessey.
Rev. Dr. Currey.	Rev. G. H. Hodson.
	Rev. Canon Thorold.

These are the same gentlemen as those who constituted the Tract Committee during the last year, with the exception of Canon Thorold, who was proposed in the place of the Rev. R. E. Copleston, who retired.

These gentlemen were all elected.

Committee of General Literature and Education.—Similarly, in conformity with Rule XXXV., the following gentlemen were proposed by the Standing Committee as the Committee of General Literature and Education for the ensuing year:—

T. A. Barker, Esq., M.D.	Rev. A. Johnson.
Thomas Bell, Esq.	Rev. H. Le Bas.
Rev. W. Campbell.	Rev. A. Povah.
Rev. W. Cooke.	Rev. Canon Tinling.
Rev. Brownlow Mait-	Thomas Turner, Esq.
land.	J. E. White, Esq.
Rev. C. J. D'Oyly.

These are the same gentlemen as those who formed the Committee last year, with the exception of Mr. Maitland, who was proposed in the place of the Dean of Manchester, who retired.

These gentlemen were all elected.

Supplemental Religious Catalogue Committee.—In accordance with Rule XXXIX., the Standing Committee proposed that the following five members of the Society should form the Supplemental Religious Catalogue Committee:—

Ven. Archdeacon Bick-	Rev. Lewis Hensley.
erath.	Rev. W. Walsham How.
Ven. Archdeacon Grant.	Rev. N. J. Ridley.

These are the same gentlemen as those who constituted the Supplemental Religious Catalogue Committee during the last year.

These gentlemen were all elected.

Chairmen.—The Standing Committee, in conformity with Rule VI., recommended that Dr. Currey, Dr. Hessey, and Major-Gen. Daubeney, should be elected as Chairmen, one of whom should preside at the General Meetings of the Society in absence of the President, the Archbishop of York, the Bishop of the Diocese, or any of the Bishops of the Provinces of Canterbury and York, or in case of their not accepting the chair.

These gentlemen were the same as those elected last year with the exception of Major-Gen. Daubeney, who was proposed in the place of Canon Miller, who was no longer able to act.

These gentlemen were all elected.

Reports and Notices from the Standing Committee.

Additional Students for Holy Orders Abroad.—The following motion on this subject was carried on 1st April, 1873:—

"The Society feels the great importance of raising a Native Ministry in the Colonies and in India, and with a view of giving forcible expression to that feeling, and so urging the Church in the Colonies and in India to exert itself to the utmost for the attainment of this object, the Society is prepared to place the sum of 2500*l.* at the disposal of the Standing Committee, to provide for the training of additional native clergy in the Colonies and in India, in the hope that the aid thus afforded by way of Scholarships to Theological Students will be met by at least an equal sum in every case in the Colonies themselves."

The Standing Committee stated that they felt unable by the terms of the above resolution to appropriate any part of the 2500*l.* for the training of native students for holy orders in missionary districts which were neither in any of the Colonies nor in India, but in parts beyond her Majesty's dominions, as, for example, Independent Kaffraria and Madagascar.

The Standing Committee gave notice that, at the next General Meeting, they would propose an extension of the terms of the resolution so as to enable them to meet such cases as those specified above.

Diocese of Nelson.—The Standing Committee informed the Meeting that the Bishop of Nelson had, just before he left England for New Zealand, applied for grants from Canning's Fund, towards the passage out of two clergymen, whom he had obtained during his stay in England, for the charge of two missionary districts in his diocese.

The Standing Committee added that they had set apart two sums of 50*l.* each, for the passage of the Rev. Charles Moon, and the Rev. T. S. Hutchinson respectively, and that the grants would be paid through B. A. Heywood, Esq., of 23, Red Lion-square, the Bishop's Lay Commissary in England.

Committee on Social and Ecclesiastical Subjects.—In reference to a question asked at the last Meeting respecting the work of this Committee, the Editorial Secretary explained that the Report which was inquired for was really made in October last, and printed on page 33 of the last Annual Report.

Additional Students in Church Training Colleges.—The Standing Committee reported that they had granted to the Norwich Diocesan Training Institution the sum of 82*l.* 10*s.*, the balance of 5000*l.* placed at their disposal in July, 1872, to enable them to assist in increasing the number of students in Church Training Colleges at home as speedily as possible, or in any other way to increase the number of efficiently trained teachers for elementary schools.

The Norwich Institution had originally had the sum of 300*l.* apportioned to it on condition of receiving 20 additional female students in January, 1873; but had only been paid 165*l.*, being able to take in, at the specified time, only 11 additional students. Now, however, accommodation had been provided for the full number of 20 additional students, and the Standing Committee had therefore gladly given to the Committee of the Norwich Institution all that remained of the Fund.

The following Tables show exactly the results of the Society's grant of 5000*l.* voted in July, 1872:—

Notice of Motion for Next Meeting.

The Rev. C. Miller, Vicar of Harlow, gave notice of his intention to propose at the next Meeting of the S.P.C.K., the adoption of the following Resolution:—

"That since the Offertory embodies in itself an essential part of Christian Knowledge, and is the method prescribed by the Church for raising money for pious purposes, this Society by its very title and professed principles is called upon as a general rule to confine its grants of money to those places where the Offertory is regularly used or proposed to be so used."

Letters of Thanks, &c.

Diocese of Bloemfontein.—The Secretary laid before the Meeting a letter, dated Bishop's Lodge, Bloemfontein, 4th December, 1873, which he had received from the Bishop. The first part of the Bishop's letter referred to a grant of 100*l.* made in October, 1873, for providing accommodation for boarders in the boys' school, on condition of a master's residence being built, and also sufficient money being raised to furnish, together with the Society's grant, the accommodation required for the pupils. The estimated cost of the master's house or cottage was, in July, 1873, stated to be 600*l.*, and of the accommodation for boarders 400*l.*

It appeared from the Bishop's letter that it is now proposed to raise twice these two sums, or 2000*l.*, and that much help will be required before the Society's grant can be claimed.

The second part of the Bishop's letter referred to a grant of 250*l.* made by the Society in November, 1872, to be paid when 750*l.* were in hand to meet it. This grant has been paid since the receipt of the Bishop's letter, the Bishop's Commissary having certified that the required sum had been raised, and that the school was probably already in use, as it was to be opened on the 23rd of January, 1874.

Diocese of Calcutta.—The Bishop, writing from his diocese on St. Stephen's Day, 1873, said, in reference to the grant of 6000*l.* placed at his disposal, in 1872, for educational purposes:—

"I send a letter from Mr. Tribe, the Secretary of the Nynee Tal Diocesan school and chaplain of that place, which I think you ought to see.

"I trust all your kind donations have, as far as yet used, been of similar utility in my diocese."

The following is a copy of Mr. Tribe's letter:—

"Nynee Tal, 10th December, 1873.
"MY LORD,—I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your Lordship's letter, dated December the 7th, in which you inform me of the munificent grant of 500*l.* made by the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge to the Nynee Tal Diocesan schools, on condition that an equal sum be raised by private subscription independent of any public grant.

"A second appeal to the public for assistance has already been made, and over Rs. 5000 have been collected. The Committee have also applied to the Government N. W. P. for a grant to meet the S.P.C.K.'s donation, and his Honour the Lieutenant-Governor has been pleased to sanction a grant of Rs. 5000 to be provided for in the Budget of 1874-5.

"I may add that it is almost entirely owing to the first liberal donation made by the S.P.C.K. to these schools in their infancy that their development during the last two years has been so rapid.

"I shall have the pleasure of forwarding to the Secretary of the S.P.C.K. a copy of his Honour the Lieutenant-Governor's speech at the last distribution of prizes, which will show how successfully these schools are carrying on their work.

"I have the honour to remain,

"Your Lordship's most obedient servant,

"W. H. TRIBE,"

"Hon. Sec. Nynee Tal Diocesan Schools."

Grants of Books, &c., recommended by the Standing Committee.

Grants were then made.

For Schools, Lending Libraries, and Distribution, to the amount of 152*l.* 12*s.* 11*d.*

For Churches, Chapels, or Licensed Rooms, to the amount of 6*l.* 19*s.* 4*d.*

Trust Funds.

Grants of Books have been made from the various Trust Funds of the Society since the last Meeting to the amount of 12*l.* 4*s.*

Announcement of Donations, Legacies, &c.

Donations were announced to the amount of 242*l.* 4*s.* 7*d.*

The following Legacies were announced:—

Edmund Arbuthnot, of Newtown House, Southampton, Esquire, 500*l.* (3 per cent. Consols).

James Pike, of 404, New Cross-road, Kent, Esquire (duty free)... .. £50 0 0

Sixty-seven Members were elected.

Eighteen Ladies have been admitted Annual Subscribers.

SOCIETY FOR THE PROPAGATION OF THE GOSPEL IN FOREIGN PARTS.

The monthly meeting was held on Friday, January 16th, 1874, at 20, Duke-street, Westminster, Bishop Piers Claughton in the chair.

1. Read Minutes of last meeting.

2. The Secretary reported on behalf of the Standing Committee, that having examined into the circumstances relative to the Minute of December 11, on Codrington college, which was read at the meeting in the Society on December 19, they are of opinion that the Minute of question accurately represents the resolution which they came to upon the subject, and that the Secretary was correct in so stating.

3. The Secretary gave notice on behalf of the Standing Committee that at the next meeting the following gentlemen would be proposed for election as members of the Standing Committee, viz.:—T. Charrington, Esq., Rev. G. P. Pownall, Rev. G. H. Wilkinson, Gen. C. W. Tremenhare, C.B., Gen. Fytche, and Rev. J. W. Festing.

4. The Ven. Archdeacon McLean made a statement of the condition and needs of the proposed Diocese of Saskatchewan.

5. The Bishop of Algoma, who had recently arrived in this country, was introduced to the Board, and gave an account of his new diocese.

6. Read letter of the Bishop of Madras, December 12, on the present state of the negotiation for the increase of the Indian Episcopate, referring to his proposal for the consecration of two Coadjutor Bishops to reside in Tinnevely (see Mission Field, November 1, 1873, page 351), and requesting the Society to consider that proposal suspended for the present.

7. The consideration of the proposed amendments in the Standing Orders was adjourned to the next meeting.

8. The Secretary stated that the Rev. E. J. Selwyn and C. R. C. Petley, Esq., had been elected by the incorporated members in the diocese of Canterbury as their representatives, and the election was confirmed.

9. The Secretary gave notice that at the next meeting the Standing Committee would propose to substitute in Bye-Law IXa. for "annually," the word "triennially."

10. The Rev. T. Darling gave notice of his intention to move at the next meeting:—

"That when any member at a monthly meeting of the Society, gives notice of his intention to ask a certain question at the next monthly meeting, such question shall appear as part of the proceedings of the said meeting, unless the Board do otherwise determine."

11. All the persons proposed for incorporation in November were elected members of the Society.

12. Eighty-two members will be proposed for incorporation at the meeting in March.

CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

SELECTIONS FROM

PROCEEDINGS OF COMMITTEE.

Committee of Correspondence, December 16th.—

The Rev. J. Johnson was introduced to take leave of the Committee, and conversation was held with him on various matters connected with the Sierra Leone Mission. He was then addressed by the Rev. Messrs. Fenn, Wright, and Auriol, to which Mr. Johnson having replied, expressing his affectionate attachment to the Committee for what they had done for Africa, and for the kindness he had himself received from them, and having expressed his wish to fall in with the views and feelings of the Committee with regard to the future of the Mission, and of the Native Church in Sierra Leone, was then commended in prayer to the favour and protection of Almighty God, by the Rev. J. B. Whiting.

Committee of Correspondence, December 23rd.—

A letter was read from the Bishop of Wellington, dated Wanganui, New Zealand, October 18th, 1873, reporting the death of the Rev. R. Taylor, on the 10th of October. The Committee received with much regret the announcement of the death of their valued Missionary, who had laboured in the service of the Society for thirty-eight years.

A letter was read from Bishop Horden, dated Moose Factory, September 9th, 1873, urging the importance of the erection of an institution for the training of young men intended for the ministry, and for the position of schoolmasters, which would include a residence for an assistant clergyman. A grant of 250*l.* was made by the Committee to Bishop Horden, for the erection at Moose of the proposed Training Institution.

THE INCORPORATED SOCIETY FOR PROMOTING THE ENLARGEMENT, BUILDING, AND REPAIRING OF CHURCHES AND CHAPELS.

THE Society held its usual monthly meeting on Monday, January 19th, at 7, Whitehall, the Earl of Romney in the chair; there were also present Archdeacon Harrison, the Revs. John Evans, S. W. Lloyd, and C. F. Norman, Messrs. John Boodle, G. Cowburn, J. F. France, E. Pepys, Arthur Powell, W. Rivington, W. E. M. Tomlinson, and Rev. George Ainslie, M.A., Secretary.

Grants of money were made in aid of the following objects:—namely, rebuilding the churches at Alton Pancras, near Dorchester; Saltfleet by St. Peter, Lincoln; and Upton, near Gainsborough; re-seating and restoring the churches at Great Canfield, near Dunmow, Essex; St. Tudy, near Bodmin, West Wittering, near Chichester, and Waghen, near Beverley.

Grants were also made from the School-church and Mission-house Fund towards building school or mission churches at Lower Brixham, Devon; Oulton, in the parish of Wigton, Cumberland; and Streethouse, in the parish of Normanton, York.

Funds are still much needed, especially towards replenishing the Special Fund for School-churches and Mission-houses, for which applications are becoming more and more numerous and urgent every month.

THE FRIEND OF THE CLERGY CORPORATION.

THE Anniversary Festival was held on Wednesday last, at Willis's Rooms, St. James's, the Bishop of Rochester in the chair.

The number of pensioners, widows and unmarried daughters of Clergymen, was stated to be 101, the annual expenditure about 5000*l.*, of which only about 2000*l.* is secured.

Since the Foundation of the Charity in 1849, 172 pensioners have received 62,500*l.*, and temporary assistance has been granted to Clergymen and their families to the amount of nearly 12,000*l.*

The Right Rev. Chairman made an earnest appeal to the Clergy and Laity for additional contributions to enable the Committee to meet the pressing claims upon the Funds.

LAW.

COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH.

MONDAY, JANUARY 19.

(Sittings in Banco, before Justices BLACKBURN, QUAIN, and ARCHIBALD.)

DYKES AND PEAKE v. THE BISHOP OF DURHAM.

Dr. STEVENS, Q.C., moved on behalf of the Rev. Dr. Dykes, Vicar of Oswald, in the city of Durham, and the Rev. George Eden Frederick Peake, of Taunton, Somerset, clerk in holy orders, for a rule nisi to show cause why a writ of mandamus should not issue, directed to the Lord Bishop of Durham, commanding him to do and perform all those things which by law, &c., &c., which were refused to be done by him, in order that the said George Eden Frederick Peake be licensed to perform the office of curate for the parish of St. Oswald aforesaid.

Mr. Justice Blackburn in limine thought that this was really a matter for the Bishop of the diocese, and not for that Court.

Dr. Stevens said he would be able to show their Lordships from the documents upon which he grounded his present application, and from legal and ecclesiastical authorities which he would cite in support of it, that their Lordships had jurisdiction to deal with the case, and that it was not in the discretion of the Bishop to refuse granting the licence. Dr. Dykes, being anxious to appoint Mr. Peake to the stipendiary curacy of his parish of St. Oswald, applied to the Bishop for the usual licence, but his Lordship replied in a letter, dated July 4th, 1873, in which, after referring to the great injury done to the Protestant Church of England by the introduction of such Catholic usages and practices as wearing of coloured stoles, burning of incense, turning the back to the congregation at the Eucharistic celebration, &c., he expressly required a written pledge from every incumbent and curate whom he should licence, to refrain from those practices. The applicant and his curate declined to give such a promise, and hence this proceeding.

Dr. Stevens argued at length that the Bishop had no authority, by the canonical or statute law, to require his clerical subordinates to subscribe such a declaration.

The opinion of the Court, however, appeared to be that the Bishop had discretion to exercise such authority in his own diocese; but leave was given to the learned counsel to consult further authorities on the subject, and renew his application on a future day.

Dr. Stevens said he should do so.

CONSISTORIAL COURT OF LONDON.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 2.

(Before Dr. TRISTRAM, Chancellor.)

Application was made, on behalf of the Rev. Dr. Evans, Rector of St. Mary-le-Strand, for a citation against Mr. Dodson, one of the Churchwardens, for removing two offering boxes from the church. The money in the boxes had been sent to Dr. Evans, but the boxes were retained by Mr. Dodson.

The Chancellor held that the Rector was entitled to a citation; and the whole case would then be brought before the Court.

CONSISTORY COURT OF CARLISLE.

BLAKE v. THE CHURCHWARDENS OF WETHERALL.

This was a case involving the legality of Christmas decorations. Mr. C. B. Hodgson, Proctor for the defendants, took exception to the citation, which, he contended, disclosed no offence whatever of which the Court could take cognizance. He further objected against the office of Judge being promoted by the plaintiff in a case where both parties were pari delicto.

The Chancellor overruled the objections and ordered the libel to be filed at the next Court.

THE LONDON MISSION OF 1874.

WITH reference to the Mission which is being held in the Metropolis during this present week, and the arrangements for which are given in our last number (pp. 86, 87), the Archbishop of Canterbury has addressed the following letter to the clergy of his province:—

"MY REVEREND BRETHREN,—The Bishop of London, and the two other prelates who preside over the Metropolis, have sanctioned the appointment of next week for unusual efforts to rouse the careless and strengthen the wavering, through special services of prayer and preaching in London. It is our bounden duty to seek the blessing of Almighty God on these endeavours. The population of the district sought thus to be reached amounts to some three million of souls. The Metropolis, in which this multitude dwells, is the heart of our empire. I commend all who are engaged in these efforts to your hearty prayers. Ask of God to guide them aright in the difficult work they have undertaken, and pray that they may be the honoured instruments of spreading the pure Gospel of Christ, as taught by our Reformed Church, amongst all whom they can influence, that thus God the Holy Ghost may make London, year by year, more truly what it ought to be, as the Christian centre of a Christian nation.

"I am, &c.,

"A. C. CANTUAR."

The following answer has been returned by the Bishops of London, Winchester, and Rochester, to a Memorial signed by nearly 600 householders of the metropolis, and including the names of Lords Exeter, Harrowby, Darnley, Sandon, Lawrence, and Cadogan:—

"London House, St. James's-square, S.W.
"February 6.

"GENTLEMEN,—We desire to acknowledge through you the receipt of a Memorial against the approaching Mission being used for the purpose of introducing and propagating the Confessionalist system, which merits our respectful consideration, as well from the importance of the subject as from the number and character of its signatures.

"The Memorial has reached us late on Thursday. The Mission begins on Saturday. The preparations in most, probably in all, of the parishes which take part in it have long been completed. We have no information as to the 'certain quarters' referred to, 'in which there is an avowed intention of using the proposed Mission in London for the purpose of introducing the Confessional system'; nor are we cognizant in general of the names of the Clergy who are to assist the various incumbents during the Mission Week. It would therefore be very difficult, if not impossible, at this late stage of the arrangements to take any effective action.

"We have every hope that it is equally unnecessary.

"When, at the request of Clergymen representing every school of thought, we decided to sanction and recommend a 'Mission,' it was with the expectation and wish that its area would be as broad as the Church itself. It was to be a united effort of prayer and labour directed against vice, ungodliness, and unreality; and in the strain of such an effort all differences may well unite. We did not think it necessary, therefore, to lay down special rules for the conduct of the Mission, nor to restrain the liberty necessary to make it suit the different characters and needs of various parishes, only reminding the Clergy that the services conducted in church or chapel are by law confined, except as to hymns and anthems, to the words of Holy Scripture and the Book of Common Prayer.

"For the rest, we trusted to the loyalty and right feeling of the Clergy to confine their choice of the means which they employ within the limits set by the rules, and in accordance with the mind of our Church. We were, of course, aware that wherever the conscience is awakened, and sinners are asking what they must do to be saved, recourse will often be had to clergymen privately for their comfort and counsel, and that, if God grants His blessing, confession in this sense may be, and we hope will be, frequently the result of the Mission; but such confession as this—the legitimate and natural outpouring of a heart touched by a sense of sin and desirous of restoration—has little in common with, and is not likely, we believe, to lead to the practice of habitual and 'sacramental confession' taught as the remedy for post-baptismal sin in the rule of a holy life.

"We think it not improbable that there are clergymen who, having unhappily adopted the belief that the 'Confessional System' is approved by our Church, and expedient for the spiritual education of its members, might be well pleased to extend its use by the occasion of this Mission; and we are aware that there are others who desire to take the same opportunity of supplying what they consider a serious defect in our Church system by introducing lay and Non-conformist Preachers into their pulpits. But both parties know perfectly well that the Bishops disapprove of either effort; that they would never have sanctioned the Mission but in the frank confidence that neither would be attempted; and that the attempt in either case would be an unfair and unworthy advantage, impossible to be taken by truthful and religious men while engaged in a great work which, without God's blessing, must be the idlest waste of time and toil.

"We therefore prefer now, as we did before, to confide in the loyalty and good faith of the Clergy engaged in the Mission, instead of resorting to interference which, while it would certainly impede the work, would fail probably in reaching, if they exist, the dangers which the memorial deprecates.

"J. LONDON.

TITHE AUDIT.

To the Editor of the "Ecclesiastical Gazette."

SIR,—The question raised in your last issue is of great importance to hundreds of the clergy. Uncertainty and delay in the receipt of income, when due, severely try the smaller incomes in the present advancing state of prices for the necessities of life. Payment of tithe the rent-charge should obtain on the day on which legally payable. In three parishes near me this is effected on the 10th, 12th, and 15th respectively of the month on the 1st of which the rent-charge is due. In a fourth parish (of larger income!) it is left uncollected for six or seven weeks irregularly, to the decided detriment of the Incumbents of parishes with smaller incomes adjoining. A uniform principle of obtaining the payment on the day on which it is legally payable would import no difficulty into the case, is demanded by the commercial relations of the day, and would be an effective boon from clergy to clergy. "Look not every man on his own things (only), but also on the things of others."

Yours, sir, respectfully,

G.

To the Editor of the "Ecclesiastical Gazette."

SIR,—As mine is by no means a singular case, you will perhaps allow me to ask in your columns for information which Incumbents in many parts of England may be glad to obtain.

Can any of your readers say authoritatively whether or not I am entitled to be a voter at the county elections, as Incumbent of a new parish, formed (in 1846) under Sir R. Peel's Act?

There are no pew-rents, but the benefice is endowed by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners with 150*l.* per annum.

The church stands in about an acre of consecrated ground, and the parsonage (rated at 45*l.*) is built upon about half an acre of glebe.

I am told that I may claim a vote either for the borough or the county elections, but should be glad to learn what (if any) decisions on such a case have been made. J. F.

UNIVERSITY AND CLERICAL INTELLIGENCE.

Oxford.

In a Convocation holden on Wednesday, January 14, the following gentleman was nominated by the Senior Proctor Master of the Schools for the ensuing year:—the Rev. Charles Danvers Crossman, M.A., Worcester coll.

In a Congregation held on the same day the following degrees were conferred:—

Masters of Arts.—Thomas G. Cree, University coll.; John Hepburne Merriott, Merton coll.; William Edward Emmett, and George Deans Dundas Watt, Queen's coll.; Desmond H. W. Sampson, Magdalen coll.; John Mortland, Queen's coll. (in absence).

QUEEN'S COLLEGE.

An Examination will begin on Tuesday, April 14, for the purpose of filling up—(1) Four open Scholarships, of the annual value of 90*l*. each, and tenable for five years. (2) An Eglesfield Exhibition, value 8*l*., tenable for four years. Candidates for this exhibition and the scholarships must not have attained the age of twenty years. (3) Three Hastings Exhibitions of 90*l*. a year, tenable for five years. (4) A Holme Exhibition of the annual value of 45*l*., tenable for five years. One of the open scholarships will be awarded for mathematics, and one for natural science in case competent candidates offer themselves. Candidates offering in natural science should be proficient in either physics, chemistry, or physiology, and possess some acquaintance with a second physical science. Candidates are to call on the Provost on Monday, April 13.

JESUS COLLEGE.

There will be an election to a Fellowship in this college on Tuesday, March 17.

The Fellowship is to be filled up by the election of a Native of Wales or Monmouthshire.

Candidates must have passed the examinations required by the University for the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

The Examination will be Classical; and will commence on Wednesday, March 11.

Candidates are requested to call upon the Principal on the morning of Tuesday, March 10, and to bring with them sufficient proof of their eligibility, certificates of their age, and testimonials of their past good conduct.

The attention of Candidates is called to the following extract from the Commissioners' Ordinance, § 28:—
"It shall always hereafter be lawful for four Fellows of the college . . . to retain their Fellowships without taking Holy Orders. As often as the number of Lay Fellows, being Masters of Arts or of sufficient standing to take that degree, shall be reduced below four, the option of holding a Lay Fellowship shall devolve on the Fellows, who have not attained that standing successively, according to seniority from the date of election. . . . Subject to these provisions, every Fellow shall be required to take Deacons' Orders before the expiration of one year after he shall be of sufficient standing to take the Degree of Master of Arts, . . . and to take Priests' Orders within two years after having taken Deacons' Orders."

The number of Lay Fellows is at present full.

CORPUS CHRISTI COLLEGE.

The following gentlemen have been elected to the vacant scholarships in this college:—Classical Scholarships—F. T. Dalton, Highgate school; E. R. Haight, Leeds Grammar school; J. H. W. Lee, Marlborough college; C. M. Powell, Uppingham school. Mathematical Scholarship—A. R. Walkley, Balliol college.

MAGDALEN HALL.

A scheme has been drawn up of a Bill for the incorporation of Magdalen hall as a college under the designation of the principal and scholars of Hertford college, and for transferring the endowments at present held in trust for the hall by the University to the new college. The Bill does not propose the foundation of Fellowships, or any modification of the present system of government of the hall. Magdalen hall was transferred to its present site by an Act of Parliament obtained in 1818, under the principality of the late Dr. Macbride. It was originally erected by Bishop Waynflete in the neighbourhood of Magdalen college for students previous to admission into his society. Hertford college, of which it is now proposed to revive the title, was originally Hert hall (Aula Corvina); in 1740 its Principal, Dr. Newton, obtained with some difficulty its incorporation as a college, consisting of a Principal and four Fellows, for which latter he provided a small endowment, insufficient, however, to procure a succession of Fellows; and in 1805, there being no Principal and but one Fellow, the college was dissolved, and what remained of the endowments was in part appropriated to the foundation of the Hertford Latin Scholarship, in part granted to the use of Magdalen hall, upon the death of the surviving Fellow. The Hertford Scholarship was accordingly established in 1834.

NEW COLLEGE.

Mr. E. D. Anderson-Morhead, B.A., of this college, has been elected Winchester Fellow, out of seven candidates who were required to have been educated during two years at least at Winchester school, or have been for at least twelve Terms members of New college.

The following have been elected to Open Scholarships:—A. Cuttle, from Sherborne school, and E. F. Horton, from Shrewsbury school. The Scholarships are of the annual value of 100*l*., and are tenable for five years. There were ten candidates.

WADHAM COLLEGE.

Two of the Exhibitions founded at this college by Dr. Hody, for the encouragement of the study of the Greek language, are now vacant. They are of the annual value of 50*l*. each, and are tenable for four years upon condition of residence and of a terminal examination by the Regius Professor of Greek. The Exhibitions are open to all Members of the University of less than two years standing.

In a Congregation held on Thursday, February 5th, the following degrees were conferred:—
Bachelor of Civil Law.—Frederick W. Stone, Brasenose coll.

Master of Arts.—Edward V. Hodge, Balliol coll.; Frederick W. Stone, Edward G. C. Parr, Thomas J. Rider, and Anthony Batho, Brasenose coll.; John E. Linklater, Christ Church; William Gardiner, Charles Noel-Hill, and Edward Durnford, Exeter coll.; Charles L. Dundas, Jesus coll.; Francis Ritchie, Lincoln coll.; Hugh Fraser Thornber, Queen's coll.; William Crofton Green, and William S. Glanville, Wadham coll.; Charles J. Thompson, Magdalen hall.

Bachelors of Arts.—Robert Henry Benson, Frederick James N. Pearson, Arthur L. Smith, and Arthur Higgs, Balliol coll.; Joseph Darlington, and Thomas S. Dyball, Brasenose coll.; William Garnett, Vincent W. Lucas, Hon. Algernon R. Parker, James Brooke Little, James Henry Davies, and William C. Rives, Christ Church; William A. B. Coolidge, George Edward Smith, Edward John Elgood, and Samuel Wood, Exeter coll.; James Williams, Lincoln coll.; A. D. B. Hill, Magdalen coll.; John Maude, and Francis W. Blackburne, Merton coll.; Charles R. H. Hill, Henry S. Hoare, George R. Scott, and Arthur F. Leach, New coll.; Rex M. Fowler, William B. Clark, William Bleden Croft, George W. Newman, Pembroke coll.; Robert Henry Streeten, Charles William Tuckwell, and Henry W. Griffith, Queen's coll.; Edward G. Alexander Holmes, and Henry B. Ottley, St. John's coll.; Joseph R. Diggle, Wadham coll.; Richard Massey, St. Alban hall.

The next degree day will be on Thursday, March 5.

MISCELLANEOUS INTELLIGENCE.

Bishopric of Gibraltar.—On Sunday, 1st February, Septuagesima, the Rev. Charles Waldegrave Sandford, D.D., was consecrated Bishop of Gibraltar, in the place of the Hon. and Right Rev. C. A. Harris, resigned, in the Cathedral of Christ Church Oxford.

The Archbishop of Canterbury officiated, assisted by the Bishops of London, Chester, Carlisle, Exeter, Oxford, and the Bishop-Suffragan of Dover. The sermon was preached by the Dean of Christ Church, who observed, in the course of his sermon, that no ceremony so august as the present had been performed in the Cathedral since the time when, 700 years ago, the Archbishop who succeeded Becket in the see of Canterbury, attended by his Suffragans of Winchester, Ely, Norwich, and St. David's, was ordered by Henry II. to witness the translation of the relics of St. Frideswide to the Shrine newly erected for their reception.

METROPOLIS.

Ilford Cemetery. Burials on Sundays.—The Commissioners of Sewers have passed the following resolution:—

"That it is not expedient to alter the present regulations in respect of the Sunday interments of parishioners or inhabitants of the City of London, as defined by the Act of Parliament 20 & 21 Vict., cap. 35, sec. 3; but that with regard to the interment of others on Sundays, a charge of five shillings extra be made."

PROVINCIAL.

Chester Diocesan Finance Association.—The Bishop of Chester presided at the inaugural meeting of this association at Liverpool. The objects of the association are to assist members of the Church of England in providing for the maintenance of the Church within the diocese by supporting the building fund and the education system, to augment benefices, and relieve the widows and orphans of clergymen of the diocese. The speakers included Colonel Egerton Leigh, M.P., Lord de Tabley, Hon. Wilbraham Egerton, M.P., the Dean of Chester, and other gentlemen. Resolutions supporting the association as an eminently useful one were unanimously adopted, and the meeting was largely attended.

MR. PULVERMACHER'S INVENTIONS.

THE Lancet, of January 3rd, contains an address by Mr. Pulvermacher to the Medical Profession, but as we deem the subject as well as the article to be equally important to the general public, we insert it here for the benefit of all our numerous readers. We have seen nothing hitherto which among scientific and professional men has stamped Mr. Pulvermacher's labours in behalf of the suffering part of mankind with more significant importance:—

"TO THE MEDICAL PROFESSION OF GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND."

"GENTLEMEN.—It is now twenty-five years since the late Professor DR. VON OPPELZER, of Vienna, approving of my original Electric Chain, urged me to perfect this invention, and render it fit for the Medical Profession. "In following this advice, I sacrificed various other Electrical Inventions for industrial purposes in which I was then engaged, such as Motive Power, Telegraphy, &c.; and having the same opinion as the learned Professor, that the continuous Voltaic current, rather than the intermittent current, would eventually prove to be the healing Electrical power—which opinion has been corroborated by many other Medical authorities, including DR. MAGENDIE, of Paris, DR. GOLDING BIRD, of London, and DR. REMAK, of Berlin.—I devoted myself entirely to the perfecting of my Appliances for Curative Electricity."

"Since that period the use of the Continuous Current has become more and more general among scientific Medical Electricians, and there are now many standard works elucidating the subject, consequently I have always striven to keep pace with the scientific progress by incessantly improving my Voltaic Appliances."

"My opinion, in which I have never wavered, is, that sooner or later, the Profession as a body must avail themselves of these Inventions, which are now adapted to the requirements of all who practise the Medical Art."

"Simplicity of construction, facility of manipulation, cheapness, great portability, and, above all, painless application, were my desiderata, and the realization of this has already consumed a fortune and the energies of a lifetime."

"Without pretending, however, that I have arrived at the acme of contemplated perfection, I feel that I have progressed so far that, for all practical purposes, my object is accomplished."

"A single experiment with my most recently patented inventions and improvements must prove to any Professional man the value of my Chain Bands and Batteries. But although these inventions were originally destined for the Medical Profession, yet they could never have been brought to their present perfection had I not addressed myself by advertisements to the general public; but I have been always anxious that such bona fide Curative Appliances should be used by the advice and under the superintendence of the Medical Practitioner rather than indiscriminately by the public in general. My great desire, therefore, is to induce Medical gentlemen to judge for themselves, and those who will sufficiently initiate themselves in the elementary scientific knowledge of Electricity cannot fail to be convinced of its value as a curative; and I shall be always ready and willing to give every information on the subject, beyond that which they can find in my Medical Pamphlet (sent post free on application), and also to show experiments illustrative of the Electrical power of my various Appliances; and I feel assured that Practitioners throughout the country will eventually introduce into their general practice the curative properties of Electricity, and be impelled to join their testimony to that of the illustrious Professors and Physicians (a few extracts of which are referred to below) who have already recognized the value of these Appliances for remedial purposes.—I am, Gentlemen, yours truly,

"J. L. PULVERMACHER."

"194, Regent-street."

Professor J. Oppolzer, chief physician of the Imperial Hospital at Vienna, and Physician to his Imperial Majesty the Emperor of Austria:—"I hereby certify that Pulvermacher's Galvanic Chain may be employed with great success in cases where electricity is applicable, rheumatism, &c."

Sir Charles Locock, Bart.:—"They are very effective in neuralgia and rheumatic affections, and I have prescribed them largely in my practice for other similar maladies, paralysis, &c."

Dr. J. Pereira, F.R.S., F.L.S., in his "Materia Medica," page 53, 1854, Fourth Edition:—"The application of the Voltaic circuit has been largely prescribed, and has become a popular remedy in the form of Pulvermacher's Galvanic Chains. They should be worn so as to encircle the part affected, in cases of rheumatism, paralysis, &c. They are regarded by practitioners as a valuable and convenient means of applying the continuous Voltaic current."

Dr. Tanner, The Practice of Medicine, Fifth Edition, page 314:—"As regards the remedies for paralysis agitaus, I can say a cure has been effected by the employment of the continuous Galvanic Current, such as may be derived from a Pulvermacher's Chain Battery of 120 links." And at page 349, with regard to neuralgia:—"When there is no disease of the nervous centres, and where the affected nerve is not irritated by inflammation, or by the pressure of some morbid growth, the use of a continuous current of galvanic electricity (such as can be obtained from one of Pulvermacher's Chains) may diminish the morbid exaltation of sensibility, and so lead to a cure."

Dr. J. Russell Reynolds, F.R.C.P., Physician to University College Hospital.—Extract from Lancet, December 3rd, 1859, page 558, describes a remarkable cure of paralysis of the right arm effected by Pulvermacher's Chain:—"Restoration of temperature in the affected arm and perfect cure of the patient, empowering him to write in a quick, legible hand. No medicine of any kind was given."

The Lancet, No. 1, vol. 2, 1856:—"This ingenious apparatus of Mr. Pulvermacher has now stood the test for some years. . . . It may be used by the medical attendant, or by the patient himself, . . . and the operator can now diffuse the galvanic influence over an extensive surface, or concentrate it on a single point. In these days of medico-galvanic quackery it is a relief to observe the very plain and straightforward manner in which Mr. Pulvermacher's apparatus is recommended to the profession."

Sir George Duncan Gibb, Bart., M.D., Physician to Westminster Hospital, writes, in his "Treatise on Diseases of the Throat:—"In many cases where the voice has been restored by galvanism, applied in the manner directed, it becomes fleeting and uncertain, from impaired nervous power. This can be obviated by wearing one of Pulvermacher's Galvanic Necklaces round one half of the neck, which keeps up a mild, continuous stream of electricity, which is extremely beneficial, and renders the voice permanent. A few instances will suffice to illustrate the treatment." (Here the author describes several successful cases in support of this.)

Dr. G. Handfield Jones, F.R.C.P., F.R.S., Physician to St. Mary's Hospital, On Functional and Nervous Disorders, 1864, page 264:—"After five applications of a 120-link Pulvermacher's Chain, each lasting an hour, by continuing the same treatment every other day the power of the arm was almost quite restored in a month."

T. W. Nunn, Esq., Surgeon to Middlesex Hospital, states:—"Your invention is the most convenient one I am acquainted with for the purpose of Applying the Galvanic Current, and I consider you are entitled to favourable testimony in respect of it."

Dr. C. B. Radcliffe, F.R.C.P., Epileptic and other Convulsive Affections of the nervous System, 1861, third edition, page 180:—"I am also inclined to think that the new Electric Band of Pulvermacher may be an important help towards recovery in the case of some epileptics."

The following testimonial, signed by the Chiefs of the Medical Profession in the Metropolis, such as Sir C. Locock, M.D., Bart.; Sir J. R. Martin, Bart., C.B., F.R.C.S., F.R.S.; Sir Henry Holland, Bart., F.R.S.; Sir Wm. Ferguson, Bart., F.R.S.; &c., &c., &c.:—

"We, the undersigned, have much pleasure in testifying that J. L. Pulvermacher's recent improvements in his Voltaic Batteries and Galvanic Appliances for Medical Purposes are of great importance to Scientific Medicine, and that he is entitled to the consideration and support of every one disposed to further the advancement of real and useful progress."

To secure insertion in the next Number, Advertisements should be sent on or before Friday, April 10.

We cannot notice anonymous communications. The names and addresses of correspondents must be given, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

THE Publisher begs to caution Subscribers and others against sending coin or stamps through the Post. By the Postal regulations, all letters containing coin, posted without registration, are charged on delivery with a fee of 8d., in addition to the ordinary postage.

CLERGY CHARITIES.

A NEW Edition of this work, corrected in accordance with the information so obligingly furnished by the Archdeacons, Treasurers, Secretaries, &c., is now ready.

CLERGY LIST, 1874.

THE CLERGY LIST for 1874 is now published, and may be obtained by order of any Bookseller.

ECCLESIASTICAL NOTICES.

The Archbishop of York purposes holding a General Ordination on Saturday, the 25th July, next (St. James's Day). Candidates for Deacons' Orders should lose no time in obtaining permission from the Archbishop to offer themselves. Candidates from the University of Cambridge are required to produce a Certificate of having passed the Voluntary Theological Examination; those from Oxford, the Certificate of having attended the Divinity Lectures; those from Dublin, the Divinity Testimonium; and those from Durham, the Licence in Theology. All the necessary papers must be sent one month before the day of Ordination, to the Archbishop's Secretary, T. S. Noble, Esq., Lendal, York.

The Bishop of London's next Ordination will be held on Trinity Sunday. Candidates, when accepted by the Bishop, are to send their papers with their addresses, one month before the day of Ordination, to his Lordship's Secretary, John B. Lee, Esq., 2, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, S.W. The Bishop requires all Candidates for Deacons' Orders to communicate in the first instance with his Lordship, and he will arrange for a personal interview.

The Bishop of Durham purposes holding his next Ordination on Sunday, June 28th. His Lordship requires from all Candidates for Holy Orders sufficient notice of their intention to present themselves for Ordination. Candidates from the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge must produce the Certificate of their having attended a course of Lectures by one of the Divinity Professors; those from Dublin, the Divinity Testimonium, and those from Durham, not being Graduates, the Licence in Theology. All the necessary papers must be sent six weeks before the day of Ordination, to his Lordship's Secretary, John B. Lee, Esq., 3, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, S.W.

The Bishop of Norwich purposes to hold an Ordination on Trinity Sunday, on September 20th, and on December 20th. Candidates for Deacons' or for Priests' Orders are requested to inform the Bishop as soon as possible, and not less than three months before the time, of their intention to offer themselves for Ordination. Full instructions will then be forwarded.

The Bishop of Worcester holds an Ordination at each of the four Ember Seasons in every year. He wishes to have three months' notice from all Candidates for Deacons' Orders. Papers to be forwarded to the Bishop's Secretary, Alfred Hooper, Esq., Worcester, one month before the Ordination.

The Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol will hold a General Ordination on Trinity Sunday next. His Lordship requires from all Candidates three months' notice of their intention to present themselves for Holy Orders. Candidates from the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge must produce the Certificate of their having attended a course of Lectures by one of the Divinity Professors; those from Dublin, the Divinity Testimonium; and Associates of King's College, London, the Theological Certificate. A list of the requisite papers can be obtained from B. Bonnor, Esq., Gloucester, to whom they should be sent one month before the day of Ordination.

The Bishop of Rochester purposes to hold an Ordination at each of the four Ember Seasons. Persons desirous of being admitted as Candidates may obtain a paper of instructions upon writing to the Bishop's Secretaries, Messrs. Day and Hasard, 28, Great George-street, Westminster, S.W.

The Bishop of Lichfield purposes to hold his next Ordination on Trinity Sunday, 31st May. Candidates should apply at once to the Rev. F. Thatcher, The Palace, Lichfield. There will be no Ordination in this Diocese in September next.

The Bishop of Hereford purposes holding his next General Ordination on Trinity Sunday. Persons desirous of becoming Candidates are requested to communicate with him three months before that day, and may receive full instructions as to the necessary papers on application to H. C. Beddoe, Esq. (the Bishop's Secretary) Cathedral Close, Hereford.

The Bishop of Peterborough purposes holding his next Ordination on Trinity Sunday, the 31st of May. Every Candidate for Deacons' or Priests' Orders in the diocese should write to the Bishop (at least three months previous to the Ordination), for permission to present himself for examination, stating his age, Academic degree, and his then present residence. In the case of a Candidate for Deacons' Orders this application must be accompanied by a reference to three Clergymen to whom the Bishop may apply for information respecting him. The Bishop will appoint a personal interview, which is absolutely necessary. Candidates, when accepted by his Lordship, may obtain full instructions as to the necessary papers on application to the Diocesan Secretary, H. P. Gates, Esq., Peterborough, to whom they should be sent at least one month previous to the Ordination.

The Bishop of Salisbury purposes to hold an Ordination on Trinity Sunday, May 31st. The several Candidates should forward the usual papers to his Lordship's Secretary, T. Brodrick, Esq., the Close, Salisbury, at least one month before the day of Ordination. Candidates for Deacons' Orders are requested to send their names to the Bishop not later than April 1st.

The Bishop of Bath and Wells purposes to hold an Ordination on Trinity Sunday next. His Lordship requires from all Candidates for Priests' or Deacons' Orders at least three months' notice of their intention to offer themselves for Ordination, and also a personal interview with himself, or one of his Examining Chaplains. It is not necessary that Candidates should be provided with a Title at the time of giving notice. Graduates of Trinity College, Dublin, are required to produce the Divinity Testimonium; Associates of King's College, London, the Theological Certificate; and those who have passed the "Preliminary Examination of Candidates for Holy Orders" the Certificate of success. Full instructions may be obtained from his Lordship's Secretary, Henry Bernard, Esq., Wells, Somerset, to whom all papers must be forwarded at least one month before the day of Ordination.

The Bishop of Oxford intends to hold Ordinations in the Parish Church of Cuddesdon, on Trinity Sunday, the 31st of May, and on Sunday, the 20th of September, also in Christ Church Cathedral, Oxford, on Sunday, the 20th of December. A paper of instructions to Candidates may be obtained by letter to the Bishop's Secretary, John M. Davenport, Esq., Oxford, to whom the requisite documents must be transmitted one month before the day of Ordination. Candidates for Deacons' Orders are required to communicate with the Bishop six months before the Ordination at which they desire to present themselves, and to obtain his consent.

The Bishop of St. Asaph will hold a general Ordination in his Cathedral on Whit Sunday next, the 24th of May. Candidates to send in their papers to the Bishop's Secretary, Diocesan Registry, St. Asaph.

Money Grants recommended by the Standing Committee.

Zanzibar, Church at.—The Standing Committee informed the meeting that in November last the Dean of Manchester had suggested that the Society should make a grant to a church which was about to be erected at Zanzibar, on the site of the old Slave Market. At that time they had put themselves into communication with the Rev. W. Forbes Capel, Hon. Secretary of the Central African Mission, and that gentleman, having supplied all the information he could, suggested that he should communicate with Dr. Steere in Zanzibar, from whom he could get an answer by the end of February. The Standing Committee now submitted the following letter, dated the 16th February, from Mr. Forbes Capel:—

“Central African Mission, Cranleigh, Guildford,
“February 16th, 1874.

“DEAR SIR,—In answer to my inquiries respecting the church at Zanzibar, Dr. Steere sends the following information:—‘The church would of course be available for the European residents, though not for them primarily. There are about thirty, the number being sometimes greatly increased when ships are in the harbour. The native congregation now meeting in the temporary church exceeds its accommodation. Last Friday there were probably 150 townspeople in the chapel and others outside.

“The conveyance is made to me in trust for the Universities Mission, by which we understand the Bishop and Clergy actually serving in Africa.

“The town is far the largest between Capetown and Alexandria, and a great centre of commerce; the population is very mixed. There are a great number of Mohammedan and semi-Mohammedan sects, and African and Indian heathens. Persons of all classes express themselves as eager to hear and to learn.

“The only available material is the native stone, which is worked with mortar into a sort of concrete. It is necessary that the walls should be massive, and the only wide roof which can be erected by native workmen will be a vaulted one. Framed wooden roofs are unknown here, and there is no covering to be had proper for them.

“The plan laid out is 96 by 42 feet externally, with an apse not included in this measurement. Internal width 36 feet, reduced by piers to 26 feet clear vaulting space, to be roofed with a barrel vault with five strengthening ribs. It is impossible to get a very accurate estimate made here, but it is hoped to finish it well for 3000l.

“In connexion with the church it is intended to establish day schools for the town-people, who are very anxious to have their children taught, many adults also offering to pay very liberally for instruction; and besides the school, a dispensary, of which the Consulate Surgeon is willing to take the management.

“The first stone of the church was laid on Christmas Day by Captain Prideaux, the Acting Consul-General.

“I may add also that the conveyance is similar to that of our school at Kinngani, some two miles from Zanzibar, towards the building of which your Society gave Bishop Tozer 300l., and our hold, politically, on Zanzibar is certainly stronger now than it was then; the Consulate staff having been enlarged since Sir Bartle Frere's visit.

“I am, dear sir, your obedient servant,

“W. FORBES CAPEL.”

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 150l. for the proposed new church at Zanzibar, the Society's grant to be paid when the Bishop, or the highest ecclesiastical authority connected with the Mission, shall have certified that the receipt of it will lead to the building being at once opened for Divine Service, and to its being absolutely free from all liability for debt.

China, Church at Shaou-Hing.—The Standing Committee laid before the meeting the following letters, which had been received from the Rev.

Robert Palmer, Missionary of the C.M.S. at Shaou-Hing, but now in this country:—

“20, Chichester-road, Westbourne-square, W.,
“February 13th, 1874.

“DEAR SIR,—I should feel greatly indebted and very thankful if the Committee of the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge would give me some help towards erecting a church in Shaou-Hing, China.

“Shaou-Hing is a very large Chinese city in the interior, about two days and two nights' journey from the port of Ningpo. Within its wall it contains a population of about 500,000, while outside and in the surrounding plain there is an estimated population of 2,000,000. The city is of the second class, and is one of much importance and great influence,—first, from its size and the position in which it lies, namely, between the port and Hangchow, the capital of the Province; and, secondly, from the fact of its supplying the majority of the lawyers of the country; for it has been said that there is scarcely a Yamen in the empire which has not its representative from Shaou-Hing. This city was opened by the Church Missionary Society as a Mission-station in 1870, and has been occupied by two Missionaries, one of whom is myself. Our work there hitherto has been in great part preparatory, much time being taken up in negotiating for land and in building Mission-houses; still we have not been without tokens of the Divine blessing. In order to carry on and complete our building operations, we have had to draw rather largely on the funds of the Church Missionary Society, and though I have no doubt the Society will give me a grant towards building this church when I apply for it, yet I am anxious, while in England, to raise a sufficient sum myself, not only with the view of lightening the work of the Church Missionary Society, but also that the blessing which the erection of a church must bring with it may come sooner to this people by many years than it will do if the whole of the work be left to the Society to accomplish.

“The object of the church when built will be twofold: firstly, for preaching the Gospel to the heathen; and secondly, for conducting our Sunday and other services for the native Christians. At present we have no church in Shaou-Hing, nor any suitable building for this double purpose, and now that we are engaged in direct missionary work, we greatly feel the want of such a building. I might mention we are quite unable to raise any local funds. The only Europeans living in this city (the wall of which is fifteen miles in circumference) are myself and colleague, and a Missionary of another denomination and our families, at distances from four to two miles, and the amount raised from the native Christians is very small. Again, Europeans at the open ports have many cases of local interest upon which they bestow their donations, and both at home and abroad it is most difficult to obtain help for a place that is scarcely known by name to any one. I estimate the cost of building and purchase of land will be at the least computation 700l., and I shall be most grateful to your Society for any help it may please to give me. A church in a large city like Shaou-Hing must, under God, become an inestimable blessing to hundreds who at this moment are in ‘gross darkness, having no hope, and without God in the world.’

“I am, dear sir, yours truly,

“ROBERT PALMER.”

“Rev. H. Swabey.”

“20, Chichester-road, Westbourne-square,
“February 17th, 1874.

“DEAR SIR,—In reply to the questions contained in your letter of the 14th instant, I beg to say,—

“1. On my return to China, myself and colleague will seek for a suitable building site, which, when obtained, will be purchased from the proprietor in one of the following ways:—either by lease in perpetuity, or by lease for a given number of years. This is a thoroughly bond fide Chinese transaction, and answers very nearly to our system of mortgage. Should the land be secured by a mortgage for a term of years, care is always taken to have inserted in the deed that when the time of redemption expires, the mortgager must pay to the mortgagee not only the original cost of the mortgage, but also a sum of money which will cover the outlay which the mortgagee may have been put to in the erection of houses, &c., on the land. However, in practice, whether land is let to a foreigner in perpetuity or for a time is one and the same thing, for it is well understood he is making a freehold purchase, and these terms are used because by Chinese law no foreigner can buy land in China, as the land belongs to the Emperor. The site, when thus purchased, becomes to all intents and purposes the property of the purchaser, a small annual land-tax having to be paid by him to the Imperial Treasury in the name of the original proprietor.

“2. That the Church will ever remain in use for Church purposes is secured thus:—After we have built the church, we hand over to the Church Missionary Society the deed and all other documents connected therewith; and, after our removal by sickness or death, the Church Missionary Society supply men to carry on the work. While, therefore, the Church Missionary Society remains there will be good security that the building will be used only for Church purposes.

“3. Shaou-Hing was opened as a Mission-station by the desire of the present Bishop of North China (Bishop Russell), and he (D.V.) will open the church for Divine Service, and, being in his diocese, it will be under his supervision. I may add that Bishop Russell regards Shaou-Hing as one of the most promising fields of labour yet opened in the province of Chekiang. He resides at Ningpo, the port of the province.

“4. In my former letter I think I stated that the work in this city was only begun in 1870, so that hitherto the work has in great part been preparatory. The number of Christians (communicants) on the books is, I think, six; but this number does not constitute the whole of the worshippers who come together on Sunday. We have an average attendance of between twenty and thirty persons who, to some extent, understand our Liturgy, and who use their prayer-books, besides many others who come in to see and hear.

“5. We are constantly visited by men and women inquiring after the truth, and in many cases we believe there is a sincere desire to find the truth. At present we only have a room for preaching the gospel to the heathen, and whenever I have been to preach there the place has been too small for us, hundreds of men and women crowding in to hear, scarcely allowing me room to move. I am ready to confess that large crowds frequently assemble, not so much to hear the Word itself as to see a foreigner, and more, to hear him speak their language. Still many cases have come to my own knowledge where men have listened from curiosity and have heard some truth which has caused them to look more closely into the religion of Jesus Christ. It is generally most difficult to say in China when a man is a real inquirer, and it is only by lengthened acquaintance that you are able to discover whether a man's motive in coming to see you is sincere or not. I am thankful to be able to write that wherever I have been teaching or preaching I have met with no direct opposition, but, on the contrary, have met with quiet and attentive audiences. This applies not only to those within the city wall, but to those also in the different and many villages and hamlets in the plain of Shaou-Hing.

“I am, dear sir, yours truly,

“ROBERT PALMER.”

“Rev. H. Swabey.”

It was agreed, upon the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 100l. for the erection of this church; the Society's grant to be paid on conditions similar to those named in the last case.

Diocese of Bloemfontein.—Archdeacon Croghan, writing from 27, Aldridge-road Villas, Westbourne Park, W., made the following statement respecting the need which was now felt in the Diocese of Bloemfontein for help in the work of producing translations of the Bible and Prayer Book.

"A necessity is now beginning to be felt to provide accurate translations of the Holy Scriptures and Prayer Book in the native languages. The missionaries in our diocese have to deal with three branches of the great Bechuana family—the Barolong, Basulos, and Battaplin, who all speak dialects of Sechuana nearly allied and intelligible to each other. This language extends over the greater part of the interior of South Africa, and translations in it would be available over an immense extent of missionary country. An attempt was made some years ago to translate the whole Bible by a missionary not connected with the Church, but the attempt seems to have been made without sufficient acquaintance with the language, as the missionaries do not find the book at all intelligible to the natives, and in some places the meaning which seems to be conveyed appears not to represent the sense of Holy Writ. Under those circumstances they have felt constrained to undertake the task themselves, and have been working for some years translating the portions needed for actual use from week to week, and repeatedly correcting them in every way within their reach. In this way a considerable amount of material has been already prepared, comprising much of those parts of the Bible which are most needed for teaching the fundamental truths of religion, and building up the converts in their faith.

"The Missionaries have also translated the Communion Service and Litany, some of the Psalms, the Canticles, and a considerable number of hymns, prayers for private use, a phrase book, a collection of native proverbs; and they are engaged at the same time in formulating the grammar of the language.

"One of the Missionaries, Mr. Crisp, ordained for Thaba' Nehn, is a skilful printer, and we have a small press, which has issued copies of the above translations to meet the requirements of our native converts, &c. Our books are very much valued, and though it is too much to expect more than an approximation to absolute accuracy, the translations have been made with such patient and conscientious care, and so constantly revised, that we have good ground to hope that they are fairly correct. A work of this kind is the growth of years, and cannot be hurried. It would most materially aid this work if the Society would make a grant in aid of it, to be administered by the Bishop. The Missionaries themselves translate and print; but the expense of type, paper, &c., is very great, and the Mission is a very poor one: 250*l.* would be well spent on this work alone, but we cannot spare even 1*l.* from our scanty resources, and with great self-denial the Missionaries are able to do a little where much might be done to spread abroad the Word of God. By the sale of copies to the natives, and what one of them, writing to me, calls the 'scrappings of their stipends,' they do contrive to do something, the average incomes of those Missionaries being less than 100*l.* a year. If the Society could make a grant of the amount above mentioned, to be drawn for according to the necessities of the work, we should feel it not only a great help, but a great stimulus."

It was agreed, upon the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to make a grant of 250*l.* for the purposes named in Archdeacon Croghan's letter; the Society's grant to be paid in instalments, as the Bishop shall certify that expenses have been incurred in the work of printing the Bible and Book of Common Prayer in the Sechuana language.

Indian Fund.—The Standing Committee informed the Meeting that there has always been a separate fund at Messrs. Hoares', for the special benefit of India. In former times it was designated the "East India Mission" Account. Special subscriptions were received on that account, and grants were made from time to time from the general funds to supplement these subscriptions and two small trust accounts, producing 110*l.* 7*s.* 11*d.* per annum. The last grant from the general fund was one of 10,000*l.*, in February, 1858, paid in sums of 2000*l.* per annum for five years. In July, 1872, the Standing Committee agreed to continue for a period of three years payments of 150*l.* per annum each, from the Indian Fund, towards the two objects of Native Female Boarding Schools and three Missionary Seminaries, in the diocese of Madras. Annual payments to these objects, to the same and to larger amounts, had before this date been made for many years through the Madras District Committee. Bills have been drawn by the Rev. C. E. Kennet, for the two sums of 150*l.* for the year ending June, 1874. The second of these bills becomes due on the 30th March, and after payment of the first bill on the 6th instant, there will only remain to the credit of the fund at Messrs. Hoares, the sum of 67*l.* 14*s.* 11*d.* The subscriptions to the fund amounted last year to only 2*l.* 2*s.* The Trust funds of 110*l.* 7*s.* 11*d.* have been paid to Messrs. Hoares, to meet the first bill due on the 6th. There is a grant of 100*l.* towards a church at Raghapuram, Madras, voted from the Indian Fund in July, 1871, still unpaid.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to vote the sum of 182*l.* 5*s.* 1*d.* (which, with the sum now at Messrs. Hoares, would be sufficient to meet all the liabilities on account of the Indian Fund), and to transfer that amount to the Society's account at Messrs. Hoares.

Book Grants recommended by the Standing Committee.

Book Grants, Special and Ordinary, were then agreed to.

Worcester Diocesan Board of Education.—The Rev. E. J. Houghton, Diocesan Inspector, applied for a grant of S.P.C.K. Books for Prizes to Pupil Teachers, after a central or simultaneous examination in religious knowledge, to the value of 10*l.*, to meet an equal outlay in books for a similar purpose on the part of the Worcester Board.

This grant was made on the recommendation of the Standing Committee.

Diocese of Winchester.—The Rev. J. E. Parsons, Diocesan Inspector in the Archdeaconries of Winchester and the Isle of Wight, applied for a grant of S.P.C.K. books to the value of 15*l.*, to meet an equal outlay in books on the part of the Hants Diocesan Church Associations; the whole of the books to be given to Pupil Teachers, for prizes for religious knowledge after a central or simultaneous examination.

This grant was made on the recommendation of the Standing Committee.

Reports and Notices from the Standing Committee.

Additional Students for Holy Orders Abroad.—In accordance with notice given at the last Meeting the Standing Committee moved that the resolution, passed on the 1st of April, 1873, in reference to Students for Holy Orders abroad, should be so far modified as not to restrain the grants from being made for the training of Students in Missionary Districts which are neither in any of the Colonies nor in India, but in parts beyond her Majesty's dominions, as, for example, Independent Kaffraria and Madagascar.

It was agreed that the resolution should be amended in the following terms:—

"The Society feels the great importance of raising a Native Ministry in the Colonies, in India, and in other fields of Missionary enterprise, as, for example, Independent Kaffraria and Madagascar, and with a view of giving forcible expression to that feeling, and so urging the Church abroad to exert itself to the utmost for the attainment of this object, the Society is prepared to place the sum of 2500*l.* at the disposal of the Standing Committee, to provide for the training of additional Native Clergy in the places indicated, in the hope that the aid thus afforded by way of Scholarships to Theological Students will be met by at least an equal sum in every case in the Colonies themselves."

Auditors, Election of.—The Standing Committee stated that, in accordance with Rule XLIV., it was the duty of the General Meeting now to appoint Auditors who shall examine the Society's Accounts and make a report thereon to the General Meeting in June next; that last year Mr. Boodle, Mr. Cameron, Mr. Hithouse, Mr. Jeffreys, and Mr. Francis Russell had been appointed.

It was agreed to appoint these gentlemen again.

Finance Committee.—In accordance with Rule XXVII., § 6, the Standing Committee reported that they had, at their first meeting after the February General Meeting, appointed the following five members of their body, viz. Mr. E. Capel Cure, Mr. Cummins, Mr. Evans, Dr. Miller, and Mr. Wade, to form, together with the Treasurers, the Finance Committee for the ensuing twelve months; that these gentlemen were the same as those who served last year with the exception of Mr. Evans, who has been appointed in place of Mr. Powell, who had since last year been elected a Treasurer.

London February Mission.—The Standing Committee reported that the total number of tracts and leaflets issued by the Society in connexion with this Mission (not including the Society's Mission Hymns, or the publications of other publishers, which were put on the Supplemental Religious Catalogue), amounted in number to 1,641,400 copies; that the total cost of these, at Members' prices, was 728*l.* 6*s.* 10*d.*, of which sum 229*l.* 1*s.* 8*d.* would be charged against the sum of 1000*l.* which was set apart in January last for the purpose of paying for grants of these tracts, &c. The Committee added that this grant account was now closed.

Notices of Motion for the next Meeting by the Standing Committee.

Diocese of Madagascar.—The Standing Committee informed the Meeting that the Right Reverend R. K. Kestell Cornish, the Bishop of Madagascar, had attended their Meeting yesterday, and had made a statement of the work which, so far as he could ascertain before he had been in his diocese, was most essential to be carried on at once in Madagascar with the view of promoting the work of the Church in that island.

The following tabulated statement was handed in by the Bishop:—

Work that must be done immediately for the Mission in Madagascar.

Coast Mission:—		£
A. Tamatava (Chief Coast Station).
1. A good substantial Brick Church ...	1800

8. Small Printing Press, say complete with Type	150
Total	£10,050

Maps, a number of Mr. Kersler's books, and School Material are also wanted. As the Mission extends to the Antichanka country more money will be wanted. All the above are present needs.

The Standing Committee further informed the Meeting that in May, 1869, the following resolution had been passed by this Society:—

"That the sum of 1000*l.* be placed at the head of the subscription-list, as a donation from S.P.C.K., in aid of the endowment of a Bishopric at Madagascar, such sum to be paid to the Trustees of the 'Mission to Madagascar' Committee, of which the Archbishop of Canterbury is Chairman, when 9000*l.* shall have been actually raised from other sources."

The Standing Committee added that by the rules of the Society, this grant would be written off before the Audit of the accounts ending 31st March, 1875, as having lapsed.

The Standing Committee now gave notice that at the next Monthly General Meeting to be held on Tuesday, the 14th of April, they would propose:—

"That the grant of 1000*l.* promised in 1869 for the endowment of the Bishopric of Madagascar, which will lapse in March, 1875, be renewed for a further period of three years from that time, on the same conditions as before.

"That a grant of 1000*l.*, to meet 4000*l.*, be made to the Bishop of Madagascar, for the general purposes of his See, the grant to be apportioned by the Standing Committee, when the Bishop on arriving in his See shall have formed his plans, and communicated them to the Committee; and that a second grant of 1000*l.* be made under similar conditions, to meet a second sum of 4000*l.*

"And further, that Books to the value of 50*l.* be placed at the disposal of the Bishop."

Diocese of Athabasca or Mackenzie.—The Standing Committee informed the Meeting, that the Rev. W. Carpenter Bompas, Bishop-designate of Athabasca or Mackenzie, Missionary of the Church Missionary Society, for the endowment of whose See the Society had in June last, on the application of the Bishop of Rupert's Land, made a grant of 500*l.*, to meet 4500*l.*, had recently arrived in England with a view to his consecration.

Mr. Bompas had made a very interesting statement to the Standing Committee, and had at their request reduced that statement to writing, in a letter to the Secretary, as follows:—

"15, Stanley Gardens, Kensington Park, London, W., 23rd February, 1874.

"DEAR SIR,—Your Society is aware of the proposal that has been made by the Bishop of Rupert's Land, with the sanction of the Archbishop of Canterbury, to erect the northern part of his diocese into a separate Bishopric.

"The new diocese thus to be created will comprise all that portion of the North-West territories of Canada in which the rivers flow northward into the Arctic Sea. To traverse the district from end to end, following the course of the river (the only practicable route), is a distance of about 3000 miles. The estimated population is about 8000, consisting of Indians and Esquimaux, with a small party (perhaps 150) of Europeans or their descendants engaged in the fur trade.

"The Indians all profess Christianity, being under the instruction either of the English missionaries or of French priests. The Esquimaux are still heathen, but willing to receive instruction. The Tukuth tribe of Indians in the Rocky mountains have made the best advances in religion, and are in a very hopeful and encouraging religious state.

"The only Protestant religious effort made in the intended diocese has been the Mission commenced about fifteen years ago by the Church Missionary Society. The staff of missionaries has since then increased from one to three, with four junior lay assistants. Only one church has yet been erected.

"The assistance of your Society is urgently solicited for the erection of six additional School Churches in this destitute district, to be erected at distances of about 300 miles apart, the one from the other. The expense of the building, including fittings, cannot be less than 100*l.* each.

"The Church Missionary Society is the only body who have hitherto provided any funds for this Mission; and as they have undertaken the expense of the Bishopric, as well as the stipends of the Missionaries, and it must rest with them also to provide mission-houses, it is earnestly hoped that your Committee will be disposed to come to the aid of the Church Missionary Society in the matter of building the churches and schools.

"It is also wished to make application to your Society for a grant of books. There is probably no part of the world where the isolation of the inhabitants renders them so dependent on the possession of some healthy literature for sustaining Christian knowledge and religious feeling among them.

"A grant of Bibles, Prayer Books, Tracts, School Books, and Books for Lending Libraries at each of the six stations where school churches are proposed to be erected, would be invaluable, and a grant of Service Books would also be highly acceptable.

"The manuscript of a Primer in seven different dialects of the proposed diocese has been submitted to you, to print 150 copies of which the help of your Society is also asked; and the reprinting of works already published by your Society or others in the Cree, Sioux, and Saulteaux languages would be a great boon, not only in the proposed diocese of Mackenzie, but also in the adjoining intended diocese of the Saskatchewan.

"I am, my dear sir, yours very faithfully,
"W. CARPENTER BOMPAS.

"The Rev. Henry Swabey."

Schedule of places at which School Churches are proposed to be erected, and for which a grant of books and the printing of translations are requested:—

Distance in miles.	Language.
1. Rampart House on Porcupine River, west of the Rocky Mountains	Tukuth.
300 2. Fort M'Pherson on Peel's River, near the mouth of Mackenzie River	Esquimaux.
800 3. Fort Norman on Mackenzie River, near Great Bear Lake	Dog Rib.
1400 4. Big Island on the border of Great Slave Lake	Tene.
1800 5. Fort Chipewyan on Athabasca Lake	Chipewyan.
2100 6. Fort Vermillion on Peace River	Beaver Indian and Cree.

The Standing Committee gave notice that at the next Monthly General Meeting, to be held on Tuesday, 14th April, they would propose that a sum of 500*l.* be placed at the disposal of the Bishop, on condition of his providing not less than six chapel schools such as he describes; that they would also propose a grant of S.P.C.K. books to the value of 50*l.*, and a further grant of 150 copies of each of the seven primers in the languages of the native races, to be produced at an estimated cost of about 66*l.*

Motion of which Notice was given at the last Meeting.

The Rev. C. Miller, Vicar of Harlow, in accordance with a notice given at the last Meeting, moved:—

"That since the Offertory embodies in itself an essential part of Christian Knowledge, and is the method prescribed by the Church for raising money for pious purposes, this Society by its very title and professed principles is called upon as a general rule, to confine its grants of money to those places where the Offertory is regularly used, or proposed to be so used."

The motion was not seconded, and therefore fell to the ground.

Letters of Thanks, &c.

Diocese of Adelaide.—The following very satisfactory letter, addressed to the Secretary by the Bishop of Adelaide, was submitted:—

"Bishops Court, December, 27th, 1873.

"MY DEAR SIR,—In reply to your communication of October 28th, informing me of the grant of 25*l.* to three churches at Virginia, Rhynie, and Coromandel Valley; also grants of 30*l.* for three years to three Theological Students (provided they go on satisfactorily), viz. Messrs. Spicer, Russell, and Whittington, I cannot too strongly express my thankfulness for this timely aid from the Venerable Society. These Theological Exhibitions are of the deepest interest to me; as if, under God's blessing, I shall succeed in planting satisfactorily the germ of a Ministry indigenous to the colony, and bound up with its spiritual and material interests, I shall feel that the work to which I was sent, of planting in South Australia an offshoot of the Church of England, will have been accomplished. I do not in the least undervalue the high cultivation of the higher clergy of England. It will be wanted for many a long year to maintain the tone of the colonial ministry, but the working clergy must in the main be indigenous, 'autochthonous.' I have yet to add my thanks for the grant of six sets of service books; and last of all, for the grant of 100*l.* towards a church at Palmerston, North Territory. The condition attached, that not less than 750*l.* should be spent on the said church (whether inclusive or exclusive of the grant is not stated), will I fear much retard the erection; even here it is difficult to get reliable information, but I am now able to say that the population in Palmerston is (say) about 200; that the bulk of the people are spread over the gold reefs and claims 150 miles away up the country; that during the tropical rainy season, from December to April, the flats between the ranges are impassable for horse or drays; that the population in Palmerston is by no means settled, coming and going. The residents are mostly officials with moderate stipends, and frequently 'famine' prices, or exorbitant demands for ordinary luxuries. I fear, then, there are no resources in this territory equal to such a subscription. The gold prospects are, I believe, good, but exaggeration, speculation, gambling, and losses have thus far been the characteristics of the gold fever at Yam Creek Diggings. However, I shall try to get what help is to be [got] from the 'colluvies omnium gentium et superstitionum,' there gathered. I hope to send up a clergyman early next year 'to set in order things that are wanting.' The two institutions in which some twenty years ago the Society took a warm interest, viz., the Collegiate School and the Cathedral, are both progressing satisfactorily. The former, indeed, is in an admirable state of efficiency, both in the personnel of the masters and the material of building, chapel, grounds, and endowment. The Rev. Henry Sharp has just joined it with Rugby training and experiences; and the chapel, on which about 1000*l.* has lately been expended, with its memorial stained glass windows and beautiful apse, recalls some of our smaller university structures. The portion of the Cathedral now erecting includes the sanctuary, choir, transept, and first bay of the nave. The design, by Butterfield, is beautiful, and the workmanship, as well as stone, are all that could be desired. This portion will cost about 13,000*l.* I mention this because the Society will see that its gift of 1000*l.* has fructified. By next St. Peter's Day we hope that it will be roofed and paid for; time must do the rest. The colony is steadily prosperous and progressive. At the commencement of 1874 I see the list of clergy numbers forty-one, all maintained on the voluntary principle, ecclesiastical or educational, without extraneous help from the State or the Mother Country. Disendowed (i. e. by the State) and disestablished, the Church still holds its own, and if blessed, through the Society's liberality, with a good native-born and well-trained clergy, may be powerful for good amid the multiplied forms of Protestant Nonconformity, which, from its origin, have abounded in this colony. With the best wishes of the season (Christmas, though our Midsummer),

"I remain, yours very truly,

"A. ADELAIDE.

"Rev. H. Swabey.

"P.S. The name of my Registrar is Frederick Wicksteed, Esq., Church Office, Leigh-street, Adelaide."

Nashotah.—The Secretary submitted the following letter from the Rev. A. D. Cole, D.D., Treasurer of Nashotah House, in reference to the grant of books, to the value of 10*l.*, made in January last, for the Library of the Nashotah Theological Seminary:—

"Nashotah, Wis., Feb. 10th, 1874.

"MY DEAR MR. SWABEY,—In behalf of myself and my brethren of the faculty, I beg leave to present our hearty thanks to the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, for their generous grant of books, to the value of 10*l.*, for the library of Nashotah House. Our obligations to the Society are many, for publishing the brief history of this mission. This most useful grant adds to our debt of gratitude. Be assured that we prize very highly these tokens of interest in Nashotah. They add increased earnestness to our prayers for our Mother Church, and all her institutions for extending the knowledge of the truth. We desire also to add our hearty thanks for the volumes of S. Chrysostom, so kindly given with the other books.

"Wishing you and your Venerable Society continued prosperity,

"I remain your ever grateful servant,

"A. D. COLE."

Visitation of Emigrants.—The Quarterly Report of the Rev. James Lawrence, the Society's Visitor of Emigrants leaving the Port of Liverpool, was submitted. Mr. Lawrence once more expressed his readiness to help Clergy who had parishioners going out as emigrants, to find suitable accommodation for them after their arrival in Liverpool, and before going on board ship.

The total number of vessels visited were . . . 34

" " Emigrants carried . . . 2776

Grants of Books, &c., recommended by the Standing Committee.

Grants were then made to the amount of 106*l.* 15*s.* 4*d.*

For Schools, Lending Libraries, and Distribution, to the amount of 136*l.* 5*s.*

For Churches, Chapels, or Licensed Rooms, to the amount of 46*l.* 14*s.* 11*d.*

PARLIAMENTARY INTELLIGENCE.

HOUSE OF LORDS.

OPENING OF THE NEW PARLIAMENT.

THURSDAY, MARCH 5.

The first Session of the ninth Parliament of Queen Victoria was opened this day, her Majesty being represented by Commissioners, consisting of the LORD CHANCELLOR, the DUKE of RICHMOND, EARL BEAUCHAMP, the MARQUIS of HERTFORD, and the EARL of BRADFORD.

The Commons having been summoned, and the Royal Commission having been read, the LORD CHANCELLOR said he had her Majesty's command to let them know that as soon as the members of both Houses should have been sworn the causes for calling this Parliament would be declared, and that it being necessary that a Speaker should be first chosen, it was her pleasure that they should proceed to the choice of some proper person to fill that position, and present him to their Lordships for her Majesty's approbation.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER.

THURSDAY, MARCH 5.

On the motion of Mr. CHAPLIN, seconded by Lord G. CAVENDISH, the Right Hon. HENRY BRAND, the Speaker of the late House, was unanimously re-elected Speaker.

FRIDAY, MARCH 6.

The SPEAKER-ELECT presented himself in the House of Lords to the Lords Commissioners, who, on behalf of her Majesty, confirmed the choice of the House of Commons.

In both Houses the only business transacted was the swearing-in of the Members.

THE NEW CONVOCATION.

THE Prelates and Clergy of the Province of Canterbury assembled on March 6th, at 10.45, in the Chapter House of St. Paul's Cathedral, whence they went in procession in their robes to the choir, where the Latin Litany was said by the junior bishop, the Bishop of Ely, whose excellent pronunciation of Latin was the theme of general observation. The anthem was "Rogate quæ ad peccem sunt Hierusalem," after which the Dean of Ely preached a Latin sermon from Malachi iii. 16. He enlarged on the value of mutual conference, and applied the text to the circumstances under which the faithful were met together at the opening of a new Parliament and a new Convocation. He referred to the loss the Convocation had sustained since it was last summoned, especially to that of Dean Jeremie, who had presided on the last occasion, and the late Bishop of Winchester (Dr. Wilberforce), to whose memory the rev. dean paid well-deserved praise. He congratulated the Convocation on the accession of new members. Thence he proceeded to speak of the work the Convocation had had confided to it since it had become law. He then referred to the proposals for the reformation of Convocation, one by amending the representation of the Clergy only, another by introducing the lay element into it. He pointed out that most of the legislation to which the Convocation addressed itself concerned the laity equally with the Clergy, and considered that it was just and necessary for efficient action that the laity should be represented in it. But when it came to the practical difficulties which any reform would entail, he confessed to some misgiving. He instanced the enlarged accommodation that would be required, the number of officers who must be attached to a body of such increased numbers, and the multiplication of expenses. For those difficulties he hoped they would find a solution, but he was more apprehensive of the action of a powerful body of combined Clergy and laity, who would not be content without much more freedom of action, and who would, as he apprehended, seek to assert an imperium in imperio which he solemnly declared would be the end of Convocation.

The "Gloria in Excelsis" was then sung in Latin, after which the Bishop of London, the acting President, gave the benediction in the same language.

The members of Convocation then returned to the Chapter House, where the Queen's mandate having been read, the Lower House was directed to proceed to the North Chapel of St. Paul's, to choose their Prolocutor.

The Dean of St. Paul's presided. The re-election of the Venerable Edward Bickersteth, D.D., Archdeacon of Buckingham, was moved by the Dean of Ely and seconded by Lord Alwyne Compton.

The Prolocutor, in returning thanks, said that he believed it had never happened to any individual to be elected, as he had been, four times as Prolocutor. Had he consulted his own convenience, he would gladly have yielded the chair to some worthy person; but he could only testify his gratitude to the House by accepting the offer. The Prolocutor then reviewed the work of the last Convocation, and, after alluding to the debate on Diocesan Synods, said,—

"Mr. Dean, we further considered, in a very interesting debate, the importance of intercommunion with the Orthodox Churches of the East. I hope that these discussions prepared the way for some mode of action which may tend towards the union of the Universal Church. I think it is particularly satisfactory to remember that these discussions had taken place just before that auspicious event which we look upon with so much satisfaction—the alliance of one of our Royal Princes with a Princess of the illustrious house of Russia. We cannot but hope and trust that that union may lead towards the consummation of that which we so devoutly desire. We have had anxious discussions in the late Convocation. I cannot forget that most interesting and important discussion, conducted with very great ability, upon the subject of the so-called Ecumenical Council, and I feel deeply thankful, for one, that the Church of England has asserted her position as a true branch of the great Church Catholic, and has solemnly repudiated the action of the Vatican Council, condemning both the mode in which it was called together and the conclusions at which it arrived. We have also had a very important discussion, conducted, if I may venture to say so, with some ability, and, in the main, very great moderation, upon the question of the use of the Athanasian Creed. The result of that discussion has been to show that an overwhelming majority of the Clergy are prepared to stand by the Creed, and to retain the use of it as it has been used since the time of the Reformation. We have added an important synodical declaration to relieve the consciences of those who might feel themselves aggrieved by some of the expressions in that Creed; and I trust the effect of the declaration may be to relieve such consciences, and that the controversy is set at rest, at all events for our generation. We have done more than this—we have had the very important task placed before us—I may call it the gigantic task—of conducting the revision of the authorized version of the Holy Scripture, and can truly say that there is no work on which I ever entered with a greater feeling of anxiety, a deeper sense of responsibility, than I entered upon this work, and trust that, unless some political crisis, which we trust may not occur, should bring this Convocation to an untimely end before the conclusion of it, we may be able to present the fruit of our labours to it, and that the version upon which we are now engaged—which, after all, will be exposed to the keen criticism of all the scholars and Biblical English-speaking critics throughout the world—may be found worthy to take its place by the side of our incomparable authorized version, perhaps in the course of another generation, or even to supersede it." Having referred to the new Lectionary and the revision of the Rubrics, he said that he hoped the Reports of the Committees might be recovered for their consideration by the Archbishop. Having mentioned the Third Service, which waits for the approval of Convocation, the Report upon Cathedral Chapters, and the Report upon Lay Co-operation, he urged the need of united action as to the increase of the home Episcopate. "When I say an increase of our home Episcopate, I am not speaking of the multiplication of Suffragan Bishops—they are merely a means to our end; and I am satisfied that we shall never be able to place the national Church in her right position in this country until we have addressed ourselves to the great task of a subdivision of some of our existing dioceses. I do trust, under the present favourable circumstances, there may be some action taken on that account. I believe that there is a Bill prepared and ready to be laid on the table of the House of Lords, a permissive Bill, enabling her Majesty by an Order in Council, whenever the opportunity shall arise, to effect as once a subdivision of some of our large dioceses. Considerable dissatisfaction has been expressed at the fact that there has been no action taken with regard to an increase of the representation of the parochial Clergy in Convocation. I believe the feeling exists to a considerable degree. I am not one of those who think that this Convocation, as it at present exists, is a bad representation of the Church of England, and I do not think it is a wise thing that we should find fault with the instrument with which we have to deal. Let us make the best of the instrument. There may be difficulties of which I am not aware with regard to the increase of the representation of the parochial Clergy; meanwhile we are doing our duty by making the present Convocation as effectual as we possibly can. I would venture to say, in reference to the desire expressed for an increase of the home Episcopate by the subdivision of dioceses, that if the great object be accomplished—and I am not speaking of a tumultuous and excessive multiplication of the Episcopate; I am asking for a moderate extension of it—I believe some of the anomalies of the representation which at present exist would be swept away. Take the diocese of Rochester. Supposing it should please God in His providence that the way might be opened for the election of a bishopric of St. Alban's, my rev. brethren would see many of the anomalies which exist in the representation of proctors in the diocese at once pass away. Take, again, the diocese of Lichfield. Supposing that was subdivided into three bishoprics according to the counties of that diocese, my rev. brethren will see at once there would be an increase of proctors of the parochial Clergy, and those anomalies would be swept away. I merely mention this in passing to show that there are other advantages beyond those which would arise from the multiplication of the whole Episcopate which might tend to allay some of the discontent with regard to the present representation of the Parochial Clergy.

The Dean of Ely and Lord Alwyne Compton were appointed to present the Prolocutor-elect to his Grace the President.

A vote of thanks to the Dean of St. Paul's for presiding brought the proceedings to a conclusion. The Convocation meets for the dispatch of business on the 14th of April.

The Convocation of York met on March 6th, likewise pro forma, attended Divine service in the minster, and after the Queen's writ had been read, adjourned till Tuesday, March 10th, when it sits for the dispatch of business.

CHURCH SCHOOLS AND THE REVISED CODE.

A DEPUTATION of the managers and teachers of Church schools waited upon the Lord President and Vice-President of the Council (the Duke of Richmond and Lord Sandon), for the purpose of submitting various considerations as to the present system of Government inspection and the working of the Revised Code. The deputation was introduced by Mr. J. G. Talbot, M.P., and consisted of the following gentlemen:—The Rev. Canon Gregory, the Rev. Canon Cromwell, Rev. C. Stevens, Rev. J. Goldney, Rev. Evan Daniel, Rev. J. W. Festing, Rev. J. Duncan (Hon. Sec.); Messrs. Monday, Davies, Gosney, Grove, Morgan, T. Smith, Lawson, W. A. Smith, Hillard, Sneath, Todor, Salter, and Dewhurst (Hon. Sec.).—The Rev. Canon Gregory, in stating the objects of the deputation, said that the effect of the Revised Code had been to lower the character of the education given in the primary schools, greater attention being paid by the master to the dunces, and the advanced boys being considerably neglected. A great objection was that the present system was purely mechanical, the higher development of intellect being in no way encouraged. He therefore suggested that the principle of the Scotch code should be followed, which gave payments for subjects which the English code did not recognize. The danger of the loss intelligent boys being neglected might be obviated by a system of mulcting the school if a certain proportion of the children fell below a certain standard. The age clause also, in his opinion, was a very unjust one. There was no encouragement for extra subjects, which he thought ought to be encouraged and paid for as extras. Needlework was in his opinion a most essential part of a girl's education, and an extra payment should be made for that.—The Rev. Canon Cromwell said that the result of the system of individual examination of the children had been to produce an extremely mechanical form of education. He quoted the opinions of several of the inspectors as to the effect of the new code, and the result it produced of merely mechanical teaching. If the standards were to be maintained, though he thought that undesirable, a higher rate of payment should be made for the higher standards.—Mr. E. Smith observed that the alterations advocated by the teachers were mainly as to the upper classes of the schools. The system of the examination by standards necessitated a minimum acquirement, but there was no incentive to a maximum. Another objection was that a certain uniform progress was required of every child, irrespective of its abilities, to the great injury of slow and backward pupils.—After some further remarks from Messrs. Grove, Goldney, Birley, and Stevens, the Lord President said it would be obvious that he and his noble friend having so recently occupied their present position, it was impossible to give any opinion as to the various topics which had been so ably brought before them. The discussion seemed to have gone to the very root of the Revised Code, and to have opened up a larger subject than could be dealt with in the time at their disposal. The subject should receive the best consideration of his department.—After a few words from the Vice-President to the same effect, the deputation withdrew.

UNIVERSITY AND CLERICAL INTELLIGENCE.

Oxford.

The Examiners have notified to the Vice-Chancellor that they have elected to the vacant Hertford Scholarship Mr. Alfred Milner, Scholar of Brasenose college; proxime accessit, Mr. H. F. G. Bramwell, junior student of Christ Church; honourably mentioned, Mr. A. R. Cluer, Exhibitioner of Balliol college, and W. Heslop, Scholar of Balliol college.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE.

The following gentlemen have been elected to the vacant Scholarships at this college:—Mr. W. P. James, of Uppingham school; Mr. Hubert Pearson, late of Harrow school. Proxime accesserunt—Mr. R. N. Arkle, Exhibitioner, and Mr. C. G. Steel, Commoner of the college.

ST. MARY HALL.

The Boden Sanskrit Scholarship has been awarded by the Examiners to Mr. Brajendranath Dé, Commoner of this hall. The Scholarship is of the annual value of £60, and is tenable for four years.

BRASENOSÉ COLLEGE.

Mr. Gerard Baldwin-Brown, Scholar of Oriel college, has been elected to a Fellowship in this college. Mr. Baldwin-Brown was placed in the Second Class by the Moderators in Literæ Græcæ et Latine in Michaelmas Term, 1871, and in the First Class by the Examiners in the Final School of Literæ Humaniores in Michaelmas Term, 1873. There were fourteen candidates.

WADHAM COLLEGE.

Mr. Wright, of Kettle college, has been elected to an Exhibition founded by Dr. Hody in Wadham college "for the study of the Greek language." The Exhibition is tenable for four years, on condition of residence and of a terminal examination by the Regius Professor of Greek, and is of the annual value of £60.

ORIEL COLLEGE.

There will be an election to a Fellowship in this college on Friday, April 10. No person is ineligible by reason of his being in holy orders; but no person will be eligible who shall not have taken the degree of Bachelor of Arts in some University of Great Britain or Ireland, or who shall have attained the age of twenty-six years. There will be a general examination in classical scholarship, philosophy, and history. Any person who may wish to be further examined in any special branch of the above subjects, or in any other subject recognized in the schools of the University, is requested to state his wishes to the Provost at the time when he offers himself as a candidate. The examination will begin on Monday, April 6.

There will also be an election in this college on Saturday, April 25, to the following Scholarships, and Exhibitions:—1. Two Scholarships, tenable for five years, unless a scholar shall, after his election, accept any appointment interfering with the full course of academical studies. 2. One Adam de Brome Exhibition, tenable till the end of the twentieth term from matriculation, unless the exhibitor shall, after his election, accept any appointment interfering with the full course of academical studies. The above-mentioned Scholarships and Exhibition are of the value, during residence, of £60 per annum. 3. One Ireland Exhibition, open to members of Oriel college who have not exceeded the tenth term from their matriculation. This Exhibition is of the value of £80 per annum, and is tenable to the end of the sixteenth term from matriculation.

PEMBROKE COLLEGE.

A Classical Examination will be held in this college, commencing on Friday, March 27, for the purpose of filling up three Open Scholarships—one worth £80, and two worth £72 each per annum. All are tenable for five years from matriculation.

MAGDALEN HALL.

On the 13th of March there will be an election to a Scholarship on the Lusby Foundation—present value £50 per annum—and to a Scholarship on the Meake Foundation—present value £40 per annum—in this hall.

The following analysis of the members of the University is taken from the new Calendar just published. There is an increase of nineteen undergraduates on last year, 124 members of Convocation, and 228 members on the books. The following are the present figures:—

SMITH'S PRIZES.

These prizes, given annually to the two commencing Bachelors of Arts, the best proficients in Mathematics and Natural Philosophy, have been adjudged as follows:—

First prize: Walker William Rouse Ball, B.A., Second Wrangler.

Second prize: George Stuart, B.A., Emmanuel college, who was bracketed as Fifth Wrangler.

Since the first award of the prizes, in 1769, up to the present time, there have only been four instances in which the Senior Wrangler of the year has not been awarded the first or second premium. These occasions were in the years 1779, 1830, 1856, and 1867.

Mr. Stuart, we understand, held an exhibition from the Goldsmith's Company.

THE HULSEAN LECTURER.

The Rev. George Martin Sraffen, M.A. [B.A., 1866], of Christ's college, has been elected Hulsean Lecturer for 1874.

THE HULSEAN PRIZE.

The Hulsean Prize has been adjudged to—W. Cunningham, B.A., Trinity college.

The subject of the Essay is "The Epistle of Barnabas: an estimate of its historical and theological value, including an investigation of its date and authorship." The adjudicators of the prize report that the Essay bearing the motto—

"Τίς δὲ ὁ γράψας τὴν ἐπιστολὴν τὸ μὲν ἀληθὲς θεὸς ὀνείδρει," possessed great merit.

DOWNING COLLEGE.

Mr. Charles Crawley, B.A., has been elected a non-resident Fellow of this college. Mr. Crawley was formerly a Scholar, and graduated in the Classical Tripos of 1870, being bracketed 10th in the first class.

An examination for three Minor Scholarships will be held in this college, on Tuesday, the 14th of April next, and the three following days, and will begin at nine a.m. The examination will be chiefly in Classics and Elementary Mathematics, but some weight will be given to proficiency in French and German. Two additional papers of an elementary character will be set, one on Moral Philosophy, in connexion with the principles of Jurisprudence, and on International Law; the other on the following Natural Sciences in connexion with Medicine, viz. Chemistry, including Analysis, Comparative Anatomy, and Physiology. In awarding these Scholarships, considerable importance will be attached to any special proficiency in the legal or in the medical subjects. Persons who have not been entered at any college in the University, or who have not resided one entire term in any such college, are eligible to these Minor Scholarships, which will be of the value of 60*l.* per annum, and tenable for two years, or until their holders are elected to Foundation Scholarships. No one elected Minor Scholar will receive any emolument until he has commenced residence as a student of the college. Satisfactory testimonials as to their moral character must be sent to the Master by all candidates on or before Thursday, the 9th of April. Further information will, if required, be given by John Perkins, Esq., tutor of the college.

COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIPS AND EXHIBITIONS.

On Tuesday, March 24, and the three following days, an examination in common will be held at the under-mentioned colleges, for twelve Scholarships and Exhibitions, viz.:

At St. Peter's college, one Scholarship of 70*l.* and three of 60*l.*

At Pembroke college, one of 70*l.*, one of 60*l.*, and one of 40*l.*

At Magdalene college, one Scholarship of 70*l.*, one of 60*l.*, and one of 50*l.*

Further particulars in the case of the respective colleges may be obtained on application to the Rev. J. Porter, tutor of St. Peter's college; the Rev. C. E. Scarie, tutor of Pembroke college; the Rev. H. Latham, tutor of Trinity hall; and Mr. F. Patrick, tutor of Magdalene college.

THE CRAVEN SCHOLARSHIP.

The Craven Scholarship has been adjudged to Henry Wace, Scholar of St. John's college.

THE BATTLE SCHOLARSHIP.

The Battle Scholarship has been adjudged to Arthur George Peskett, Scholar of Magdalene college.

THE CHANCELLOR'S MEDAL FOR LEGAL STUDIES.

The Chancellor's Medal for Legal Studies has been awarded to Mr. E. H. S. Nugent, B.A., Trinity college. The Examiners consider that the papers of Mr. T. S. Little, of Trinity college, are worthy of commendation. Mr. Nugent was Senior in the Law Tripos of 1870, and obtained the Senior Whewell Scholarship in International Law in 1871.

METROPOLIS.

THE Speaker has appointed the Hon. and Rev. Francis Byng, Chaplain in Ordinary to the Queen, and Vicar of St. Peter's, South Kensington, to be his Chaplain.

School Board of London.—4th March. The Educational Wants of London.—The debate on Canon Gregory's motion was resumed and concluded. The motion was:—

"That the statistics of the London School Board contained in the Report of March, 1872, on which have been based the estimates of primary school accommodation required for the Metropolis, having been challenged, and it having been asserted that some of the sites selected for the New Board Schools are very close to existing Voluntary Schools, by which such Voluntary Schools must necessarily be injured; and it having been further asserted that, considering the existing supply of school accommodation, the proposed New Board Schools will furnish an undue provision for boys, and a very disproportionate provision for infants, a Committee be appointed to examine into each of these allegations, and to report to the Board thereon."

To this an amendment had been moved by Mr. Gover:—

"That the motion be not now put."

Upon a division the numbers were:—

For the Amendment	24
Against	21

The amendment having thus been carried, Canon Gregory's motion was not put.

ECCLESIASTICAL NOTICES.

The Archbishop of Canterbury will hold his next General Ordination on the 20th September. All Candidates for Deacons' Orders must give his Grace immediate notice of their intention to present themselves for Ordination, when they will receive instructions respecting the examination and all other needful information. All the necessary papers must be sent, one month before the day of Ordination, to the Archbishop's Secretary, John B. Lee, Esq., 2, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, S.W., from whom the Candidates will receive due notice of the time and place of examination. As a general rule, his Grace expects five months' notice before the day of Ordination.

The Archbishop of York purposes holding a General Ordination on Saturday, the 25th July, next (St. James's Day). Candidates for Deacons' Orders should lose no time in obtaining permission from the Archbishop to offer themselves. Candidates from the University of Cambridge are required to produce a Certificate of having passed the Voluntary Theological Examination; those from Oxford, the Certificate of having attended the Divinity Lectures; those from Dublin, the Divinity Testimonium; and those from Durham, the Licence in Theology. All the necessary papers must be sent, one month before the day of Ordination, to the Archbishop's Secretary, T. S. Noble, Esq., Lendal, York.

The Bishop of London's next Ordination will be held on Trinity Sunday. Candidates, when accepted by the Bishop, are to send their papers with their addresses, one month before the day of Ordination, to his Lordship's Secretary, John B. Lee, Esq., 2, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, S.W. The Bishop requires all Candidates for Deacons' Orders to communicate in the first instance with his Lordship, and he will arrange for a personal interview.

The Bishop of Durham purposes holding his next Ordination on Sunday, June 28th. His Lordship requires from all Candidates for Holy Orders sufficient notice of their intention to present themselves for Ordination. Candidates from the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge must produce the Certificate of their having attended a course of Lectures by one of the Divinity Professors; those from Dublin, the Divinity Testimonium, and those from Durham, not being Graduates, the Licence in Theology. All the necessary papers must be sent six weeks before the day of Ordination, to his Lordship's Secretary, John B. Lee, Esq., 2, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, S.W.

The Bishop of Winchester purposes holding his next Ordination on Trinity Sunday. His Lordship requires from all Candidates for Deacons' Orders three months' notice of their intention to offer themselves for Ordination, and also a personal interview. Candidates from the University of Oxford or Cambridge must produce the Certificate of their having attended a course of Lectures by one of the Divinity Professors. Candidates for Priests' Orders are expected to give two months' notice of their intention to the Bishop, and the necessary papers from all Candidates must be sent, at least one month before the day of Ordination, to his Lordship's Secretary, John B. Lee, Esq., 2, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, S.W.

The Bishop of St. David's intends to hold a General Ordination on Sunday, the 20th day of September, 1874. Candidates for Orders are requested to forward to John Thirlwall, Esq., Diocesan Registry, Abergwilly, R. S. O., South Wales, their Ordination papers one month before that date.

The Bishop of Ripon intends to hold an Ordination on Sunday, the 20th September next. Candidates for Deacons' Orders must give three months' notice to the Bishop of their desire to offer themselves for Ordination, and Candidates for Priests' Orders are expected to give two months' notice. Candidates from Oxford are required to produce a Certificate of having attended a course of Lectures by one of the Divinity Professors. Candidates from Cambridge must have attended the Lectures of the Regius Professor of Divinity. Those from the University of Dublin must have the Divinity Testimonium; and those from Durham, not being Graduates, the Licence in Theology. The necessary papers must be forwarded to the Bishop's Secretary in London, J. B. Lee, Esq., 2, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, S.W., at least one month before the day of Ordination.

The Bishop of Norwich purposes to hold an Ordination on Trinity Sunday, on September 20th, and on December 20th. Candidates for Deacons' or for Priests' Orders are requested to inform the Bishop as soon as possible, and not less than three months before the time, of their intention to offer themselves for Ordination. Full instructions will then be forwarded.

The Bishop of Worcester holds an Ordination at each of the four Ember Seasons in every year. He wishes to have three months' notice from all Candidates for Deacons' Orders. Papers to be forwarded to the Bishop's Secretary, Alfred Hooper, Esq., Worcester, one month before the Ordination.

The Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol will hold a General Ordination on Trinity Sunday next. His Lordship requires from all Candidates three months' notice of their intention to present themselves for Holy Orders. Candidates from the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge must produce the Certificate of their having attended a course of Lectures by one of the Divinity Professors; those from Dublin, the Divinity Testimonium; and Associates of King's College, London, the Theological Certificate. A list of the requisite papers can be obtained from the Bishop's Secretary, B. Bonnor, Esq., Gloucester, to whom they should be sent one month before the day of Ordination.

The Bishop of Chester purposes holding his next Ordination on Trinity Sunday, May 31st. Candidates for Ordination on that day should at once place themselves in communication with the Bishop, or his Examining Chaplain, the Rev. Chancellor Espin, Wallasey Rectory, Cheshire, to whom application may be made for particulars respecting the examination. The necessary papers of accepted Candidates must be sent in complete not later than Tuesday, the 28th April next (and particular attention is requested to the fact that after that date no papers can under any circumstances be received), to the Bishop's Secretaries, Messrs. O. J. B. Parry and Gamon, Abbey-square, Chester, from whom the requisite information respecting them and other legal points may be obtained. Graduates of Oxford must have attended the Public Lectures of the Regius Professor of Divinity, and at least one other course of Divinity Lectures; those of Cambridge must have passed the Special Theological Examination for the B.A. Degree; those of Dublin and Durham must produce the Divinity Testimonium of their University. Students of Theological Colleges must have completed the full course of two years, and produce the Certificate of their college.

The Bishop of Rochester purposes to hold an Ordination at each of the four Ember Seasons. Persons desirous of being admitted as Candidates may obtain a paper of instructions upon writing to the Bishop's Secretaries, Messrs. Day and Hassard, 28, Great George-street, Westminster, S.W.

The Bishop of Lichfield purposes to hold his next Ordination on Trinity Sunday, 31st May. Candidates should apply at once to the Rev. F. Thatcher, The Palace, Lichfield. There will be no Ordination in this Diocese in September next.

The Bishop of Hereford purposes holding his next General Ordination on Trinity Sunday. Persons desirous of becoming Candidates are requested to communicate with him three months before that day, and may receive full instructions as to the necessary papers on application to H. O. Beddoe, Esq. (the Bishop's Secretary) Cathedral Close, Hereford.

The Bishop of Peterborough purposes holding his next Ordination on Trinity Sunday, the 31st of May. Every Candidate for Deacons' or Priests' Orders in the diocese should write to the Bishop (at least three months previous to the Ordination), for permission to present himself for examination, stating his age, Academic degree, and his then present residence. In the case of a Candidate for Deacons' Orders this application must be accompanied by a reference to three Clergymen to whom the Bishop may apply for information respecting him. The Bishop will appoint a personal interview, which is absolutely necessary. Candidates, when accepted by his Lordship, may obtain full instructions as to the necessary papers on application to the Diocesan Secretary, H. P. Gates, Esq., Peterborough, to whom they should be sent at least one month previous to the Ordination.

The Bishop of Salisbury purposes to hold an Ordination on Trinity Sunday, May 31st.

The Bishop of Bath and Wells purposes to hold an Ordination on Trinity Sunday next. His Lordship requires from all Candidates for Priests' or Deacons' Orders at least three months notice of their intention to offer themselves for Ordination, and also a personal interview with himself, or one of his Examining Chaplains. It is not necessary that Candidates should be provided with a Title at the time of giving notice. Graduates of Trinity College, Dublin, are required to produce the Divinity Testimonium; Associates of King's College, London, the Theological Certificate; and those who have passed the "Preliminary Examination of Candidates for Holy Orders" the Certificate of success. Full instructions may be obtained from his Lordship's Secretary, Henry Bernard, Esq., Wells, Somerset, to whom all papers must be forwarded at least one month before the day of Ordination.

The Bishop of Oxford intends to hold Ordinations in the Parish Church of Cuddesdon, on Trinity Sunday, the 31st of May, and on Sunday, the 20th of September, also in Christ Church Cathedral, Oxford, on Sunday, the 20th of December. A paper of instructions to Candidates may be obtained by letter to the Bishop's Secretary, John M. Davenport, Esq., Oxford, to whom the requisite documents must be transmitted one month before the day of Ordination. Candidates for Deacons' Orders are required to communicate with the Bishop six months before the Ordination at which they desire to present themselves, and to obtain his consent.

The Bishop of St. Asaph will hold a General Ordination in his Cathedral on Trinity Sunday next (and not on Whit Sunday, as previously advertised). Candidates to send in their papers to the Bishop's Secretary, Diocesan Registry, St. Asaph.

8. Resolved, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, and on the application of the West Indian Bishops assembled at Guiana in October last:—"That five Scholarships (one for each of the West Indian dioceses, except Barbados), each of the annual value of £21, be established at Codrington College, Barbados, either by S.P.C.K. or by this Society; that in the event of a Scholarship of £21, to be paid by S.P.C.K. being held by a student, his allowance from S.P.G. be 17l.; that admission to the Scholarship depend on the student passing a local examination in the diocese whence he comes, the first year in college to be a time of probation; and on passing an examination at the end of that time the Scholarship to last for two years more, dependent on the scholar passing the college terminal examination."

Agreed, that any Bishop is at liberty, if he prefer it, to substitute two Exhibitioners at the Mission House for one Scholar at Codrington College.

4. The Secretary stated that the Rev. A. R. Symonds had tendered to the Bishop of Madras his resignation of the office of Secretary to the Madras Diocesan Committee, to which he was appointed in 1846; and it was resolved—"That in recording the resignation of the Rev. A. R. Symonds, the Society takes occasion to express its deep sense of his services towards the evangelization of India. In 1846, when Mr. Symonds became Secretary in Madras, the Society numbered in that diocese about 17,000 baptized natives, of whom 3000 were communicants, with 20 Missionaries, including 2 native clergymen. There are now 24,000 baptized natives and 6000 communicants, with 46 Missionaries, of whom 27 are native clergymen. The children at school have increased in the same period from 6000 to 9000. Perhaps among the chief results of Mr. Symonds' administration, which could not be stated numerically, may be mentioned the establishment of Seminaries for training native clergy, and the greatly improved quality of education given in the various schools. It cannot be forgotten that the Society has frequently had occasion to express its satisfaction with the exemplary accuracy and fulness of his financial statements. Throughout the long period of twenty-seven years Mr. Symonds' relations, both with the Society and the Missionaries, have uniformly been of the most confidential and cordial character. In parting with Mr. Symonds as Secretary, the Society expects still to avail itself of his friendly services as an experienced counsellor; and hopes that the talents which, through God's blessing, have been so useful to the Missionary cause, will still be employed, at least partially, in its advancement."

Resolved further, that so long as Mr. Symonds' ecclesiastical income amounts to less than 300l. per annum, exclusive of a house, he be allowed a pension which shall make up his income, exclusive of house, to 300l. per annum.

5. Resolved that the stipend of the Missionaries about to proceed to China be fixed at the same rate as that of the Missionaries to Japan, and that a sum be allowed for the preliminary expenses of the Missionaries until their departure, and that the Secretary be authorized to provide for their passage and outfit on the same scale as in the case of the Missionaries to Japan.

6. Resolved that the sum of 550l., the estimated cost of the Quinquennial repairs of Bishop's college, be allowed for that purpose.

7. The Secretary stated that there was too much reason to fear that the Rev. H. J. Allardice, with his wife and children, had been lost in the steamer "Queen Elizabeth," on his return from India; also that since the last meeting a Vice-President (Bishop Harris), and a Diocesan Representative (W. P. Lindsay, Esq.), had been removed by death. The Secretary was instructed to communicate with Mr. Allardice's family, and to assure them of the Society's sympathy in their sorrow.

8. On the recommendation of the Board of Examiners, the Rev. F. A. Gregory, B.A., curate of Cheam, was accepted for work in Madagascar; Mr. James Coles, of the Warminster Mission House, for work as a Lay Helper in Madagascar; and the Rev. T. E. Ash, of Hoxton, was also accepted for Missionary work.

9. Resolved to refer to the Standing Committee the question of establishing an Orphanage or Orphanages in the diocese of Calcutta.

10. All the persons proposed in January were elected Members of the Corporation.

11. Seventeen persons were proposed for Incorporation in May.

SELECTIONS FROM PROCEEDINGS OF COMMITTEE.

General Committee, February 9th.—Mr. Shand, a gentleman in the employ of the Japanese Government, in the Treasury Department, was introduced to the Committee, and gave information of much interest on the prospects of Christianity in that country. He had hopes that beneficial results would follow from the visit of the Japanese Embassy to this country. He was of opinion that the Government were not likely to interfere with those who desired to become Christians; nor did he think that the people generally were at all bigoted against Christianity. They recognized the distinction between Protestant and Roman Catholic Christians. He thought that the reasonable refusal of the European and American Governments to surrender the privilege of ex-territorial jurisdiction would probably delay the opening up of the country to foreigners. At present they could not go beyond a certain radius from the open ports without being apprehended and brought back unless provided with a Government pass.

Committee of Correspondence, February 17th.—The Secretaries having presented and read an appeal to the Universities for graduates who had paid special attention to philosophy and English literature, and who would be willing to labour in Madras or South India among the educated English-speaking portion of the Native population, the Committee approved of the same, and directed that measures be taken for its general circulation.

The Secretaries having stated that the Rev. W. C. Bompas had just arrived from Red River for the purpose of conferring with the Committee on the arrangements that were required for the Mackenzie District, and, in the event of such a course being determined on, of being consecrated Bishop of the new Diocese of Athabasca, for which his name had been accepted by the Archbishop of Canterbury, Mr. Bompas was then introduced to the Committee. He gave an interesting account of his sojourn among the Tukudh Indians on the Youcon River during the winter of 1872. He stated that nothing could exceed the heartiness with which he was received, and that not for his own sake, for to most of them he was unknown, but as the bearer of the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. No sooner did he arrive at one camp than he received messages of invitation from those beyond. He stated that he had paid a visit to the Esquimaux at the mouth of the Mackenzie River, the finest race of men physically he had ever come in contact with; that they were ever ready to be instructed, and he hoped that the plan for sending to them Christian teachers from their countrymen in Greenland might be carried out. Mr. Bompas thought that the number of Indians in the district to be comprised in the Athabasca (or Mackenzie) Diocese was about 8000.

Committee of Correspondence, March 3rd.—The Rev. P. K. and Mrs. Fyson, being about to proceed to Japan, were introduced to the Committee, and the instructions of the Committee were delivered to them by the Hon. Clerical Secretary, which, having been replied to by Mr. Fyson, they were addressed, and then commended in prayer to the favour and protection of Almighty God, by the Rev. E. Auriol.

THE INCORPORATED SOCIETY FOR PROMOTING THE ENLARGEMENT, BUILDING, AND REPAIRING OF CHURCHES AND CHAPELS.

The Society held its usual monthly meeting on Monday, March 16, at the Society's House, 7, Whitehall, S.W., Archdeacon Harrison in the chair. There were also present the Revs. Arthur Casenove, John Evans, and C. F. Norman; Messrs. John Boodle, G. Cowburn, J. F. France, A. J. C. Lawrie, A. Powell, W. Rivington, W. E. M. Tomlinson, and the Rev. George Ainslie, M.A., Secretary.

Grants of money were made in aid of the following objects, viz.:—Building new churches at Gloucester, St. James; North Holmwood, in the parish of Dorking, Surrey; and Stillington, near Stockton-on-Tees; rebuilding the church at Atherstone-on-Stour, near Stratford-on-Avon; enlarging or otherwise increasing the accommodation in the churches at Chartham, near Canterbury; West Clandon, near Guildford; Darnall, near Sheffield; Temple Ewell, near Dover; Waltham Cross, Herts; Wingham, Kent; and Broxted, near Dunmow.

The Society likewise accepted the trust of a sum of money as a repair fund for St. Paul's Church, Burton-on-Trent.

This meeting was the last in the Society's financial year, and grants amounting to 10,565l. have been made in it towards the erection of thirty-one new churches, twenty-five of which are entirely free and unappropriated, the rebuilding of eighteen, and the enlarging or otherwise increasing the accommodation in seventy-nine existing churches. The committee have also granted 855l. towards building twenty-four school or mission churches, but in every case there has been much regret felt at the smallness of the sum voted, through the inadequacy of the funds at the Society's disposal.

LAW.

ARCHES COURT.

THURSDAY, MARCH 12.

(Before Sir R. PHILLIMORE.)

WALSH v. THE BISHOP OF LINCOLN.

Mr. B. SHAW applied, on the part of the Rev. Mr. Walsh, of Great Tey, Essex, for a monition to be issued against the Bishop of Lincoln, for refusing to institute him to the rectory of Great Coates, to which he, being duly qualified, had presented himself. The learned counsel read an affidavit of Mr. Walsh, setting forth that he was a master of arts and in priests' orders. In November last, being then entitled to present or nominate a duly-qualified spiritual person to be rector of Great Coates, in the county and diocese of Lincoln, he presented himself, and prayed the bishop to admit, institute, and induct him thereto.

Sir R. Phillimore said the application was a double querela, and the precedent in the case of "Gorham v. the Bishop of Exeter," he thought, should be followed in the present case. He suggested some alteration in the proceedings.

Mr. Shaw observed that there were two affidavits in the case mentioned.—After some discussion, he adopted the suggestion of the learned judge.

Sir R. Phillimore was of opinion that to prevent any miscarriage of justice in the case, it was important that it should appear that Mr. Walsh had an undoubted right to present himself to the rectory.

Some amendments were directed to be made to the monition to be issued, and the learned counsel said he should submit to the Court that Mr. Walsh had virtually been admitted to the rectory.

The Dean of Arches ordered a monition to be issued, and served on the Bishop of Lincoln.

CONSISTORY COURT OF LONDON.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 25.

(Before Dr. TRISTRAM, Chancellor of the Diocese.)

THE VICAR AND CHURCHWARDENS OF TOTTENHAM v. VENN AND FOX.

The Chancellor pronounced judgment to-day in this case, which was discussed in February, on an application for a faculty or licence to make certain alterations in the ancient church of Tottenham, which had a picturesque, ivy-clad tower, but no chancel. The expenses would amount to about 4500l., which could be provided for by contributions, and upwards of 2000l. had been already subscribed. The faculty was opposed by Mr. Venn and Mr. Fox, with other parishioners, and a vestry meeting had voted against the proposed alterations. The learned Judge went into the facts of the case, and considered that, for the comfort and convenience of the parishioners who were in the habit of attending the church, some of the proposed alterations and additions should be made. But as to the extension of the east end, it would be necessary, before the faculty issued, that an order should be obtained from the Ecclesiastical Commissioners and two justices that the public paths should be diverted, and as the defendants had appeared for the benefit of the public, he should allow the defendants their costs. Mr. Phillimore objected to the vicar and churchwardens being condemned in costs, as they had succeeded. Dr. Middleton protested against any interference after the Court had given judgment. The Chancellor said he would give orders as to the costs to be allowed to the defendants.

CONSISTORY COURT OF CARLISLE.

BLAKE v. THE CHURCHWARDENS OF WETHERAL.

(See "Ecclesiastical Gazette," March 10, p. 119.)

The case of the office of judge promoted by the Rev. W. Blake, Rector of Wetheral, against Mr. George Hoadley and Mr. Isaac Howe, churchwardens of that parish, has been again before the Carlisle Consistory Court, when Mr. C. B. C. Hodgson, proctor for the defendants, filed responsive allegations. In reply to the allegation that on the 27th December the defendants had removed vases containing flowers, and wooden frames decorated with evergreens, from the chancel of the church, defendants now replied that the Rev. W. Blake had repeatedly given great offence to the parishioners by matters and things which he had from time to time introduced into the church as ornaments, decorations, and furniture, without legal authority, and that on the evening of Christmas Day, 1872, as many as fourteen candles were illegally kept lighted on or around the Communion-table by his directions, while close to it beams of timber had been introduced covered with flowers and evergreens, and a great number of pots of flowers had been placed on the floor, and many of these floral decorations remained till the Trinity Sunday following. These decorations and other practices had caused many members of the church to cease from attending the church, and they now resorted to a Methodist chapel, declaring themselves unable to attend the parish church with comfort and profit until the services were conducted in a manner more like that to which they had been accustomed. The defendants having considered these differences, had given Mr. Blake notice before last Christmas that they would not suffer the introduction of unlawful ornaments into the church. Mr. Blake made no reply, and when, on the 23rd of December, the curate was taking to the church materials for decoration, the defendants proceeded to the church and peaceably interfered to prevent those things being introduced. The curate then desisted, but the ornaments were subsequently introduced, and the defendants in removing them had, they now alleged, acted in the conscientious exercise of their discretion, and with a view to the best interests of religion and of the peace and harmony of the parish, and for the preservation of the ritual of the Church from unauthorized additions. This they had done gently, reverently, and decorously, leaving untouched all evergreen decorations of an unexceptionable and usual kind. The defendants concluded by stating that no faculty had ever been obtained for the introduction of any of those decorations, and that the defendants had never in any way consented thereto, although they, as churchwardens, were lawfully the guardians and keepers of the church, and were to look to and take care of the ornaments thereof, and nothing was to be done in the church without their knowledge and consent; wherefore they pleaded that they had peaceably removed the said frameworks, decorations, and vases in the exercise of their lawful authority. The case was further adjourned for a month.

COMMISSARY COURT OF CANTERBURY.

FRIDAY, MARCH 27.

(Before Dr. TRISTRAM, Commissary-General.)

MOODY v. THE REV. C. RANDOLPH.

This was an application by Mr. F. W. Moody, of the South Kensington Museum, for a faculty or licence to erect a tablet on the east end of the chancel of Chartham Church, near Canterbury, to the memory of his father, the Rev. H. Moody, who was rector of the parish for more than fifty years. The case was presented to the Court by Messrs. Brooks, Tanner, and Jenkins, in support of the application; and by Messrs. Keen and Rogers, who opposed for Mr. Randolph, the present rector. Mr. Walter Phillimore was counsel for Mr. Moody; and Dr. Deane, Q.C., with whom was Dr. Swabey, opposed the application. The discussion occupied several hours. Two questions were raised, whether a rector had a right to place his veto against the proposed erection, and whether it would be a "monstrous disfigurement" to the church. It was a very old edifice, and on one side of the chancel was a tablet, erected nearly 300 years ago, to a former rector, Mr. Bungay. The window at the east end was beautiful, but the rest of the church, Mr. Moody said, in his opinion, was a "barn." The late rector, Mr. Moody, wished a tablet to be erected at the chancel, and his son, the applicant, asked for permission to carry out his wish, but the present rector opposed. A vestry meeting held was against the proposal; but, out of a population of 1250, 445 signatures were obtained to 203 post cards. The present rector was willing that the tablet should be placed in any other portion of the church.—

During the discussion it was stated that the archbishop had seen a plan of the proposed monument and had objected to it.

In the course of the case Dr. Tristram suggested that the parties should agree to some other portion of the church to place the memorial; but, on the part of Mr. Moody, it was stated that he was anxious to carry out the wish of his father.

Dr. Tristram, on the conclusion of the case, said it had been ably argued on both sides, and the learned counsel had greatly assisted him. He would take time to consider his judgment.

OXFORD CIRCUIT.

STAFFORD. MONDAY, MARCH 16.

CIVIL COURT.

(Before LORD COLERIDGE and a Special Jury.)

MARRIAGE BY BANNIS IN THE REPUTED NAMES OF THE PARTIES A VALID MARRIAGE.

CLEAVER v. SMITH.

This was an action of ejectment, in which a point was raised as to the necessity of the right name being used in publication of banns of marriage.

Early in this century an illegitimate son was born to John Ferns and Hannah Smith, previous to their marriage, and the son was brought up by the name of John Ferns. Subsequently he married, after a period of intimacy, Sarah Warner, in his name of John Ferns; and shortly after the marriage Robert Ferns was born. Subsequently, however, John Ferns discovered that he was himself illegitimate, and accordingly took the name of Smith, and, at the urgent entreaty of his wife, was re-married in the name of Smith; after which issue was born, of whom the eldest was the defendant. The case depended upon whether Robert was a legitimate son, or whether the heir of the realty left by John Ferns was the defendant David.

Lord Coleridge observed that marriage by banns in the reputed name of the parties was a valid marriage, and the defendant's counsel then consented to a verdict being given for the plaintiff.

HOUSE OF LORDS.

THURSDAY, MARCH 19.

PARLIAMENT re-assembled this day for the despatch of business; and the Royal Speech, intimating the various matters which would require the attention of the Imperial Legislature in the present Session, was read by the LORD CHANCELLOR, the other Commissioners being the MARQUIS OF HERTFORD, the EARL OF BRADFORD, EARL BEAUCHAMP, and VISCOUNT SKELMERSDALE.

The usual motion that an Address be agreed to in answer to the Queen's Speech was moved by the MARQUIS OF LOTHIAN and seconded by the EARL OF CADOGAN.

In the

HOUSE OF COMMONS

the address was moved by SIR W. S. MAXWELL and seconded by Mr. CALLENDER.

HOUSE OF LORDS.

FRIDAY, MARCH 20.

The BISHOP of PETERBOROUGH gave notice of his intention to move for the appointment of a Select Committee to inquire into the Laws relating to Patronage, Simony, and Exchange of Benefices in the Church of England.

THE LAWS RELATING TO DIVINE SERVICE.

The ARCHBISHOP of CANTERBURY has given notice of his intention, on the 20th April, to call the attention of the House to the present state of the laws regulating Divine Service in the Church.

HOUSE OF COMMONS. INCREASE OF THE EPISCOPATE.

MONDAY, MARCH 30.

Mr. MONK moved for leave to bring in a Bill to provide for the appointment and consecration of Archbishops and Bishops in England and Wales.

Mr. CROSS said he did not rise to object to the introduction of the Bill, but as it touched a question of very great importance, which, if handled at all, must be handled with great delicacy, he hoped the honourable gentleman would not press the second reading for a considerable time, in order that it might be thoroughly discussed in the country before the House was asked to give an opinion on it.

Leave was then granted, and the Bill was subsequently brought in and read a first time.

CONVOCATION OF THE PROVINCE OF YORK.

ON Tuesday, March 10, the newly-elected members of Convocation of the Northern Province met for the despatch of business at York Minster. The Archbishop of York, the Bishops of Chester, Ripon, and Manchester were the prelates present. Among the members of the Lower House attending were the Dean of York, the Dean of Manchester, the Dean of Durham, the Dean of Carlisle, and the Dean of Chester.

Dr. Duncombe (the Dean of York) was elected the Prolocutor of the Lower House, on the motion of the Ven. Archdeacon Jones, seconded by Dean Clouse, and supported by the Hon. and Rev. Francis Grey (Lindisfarne).

On the members of the Upper and Lower Houses joining for the transaction of business, petitions were presented to the President protesting against the return of certain proctors to Convocation. These petitions were referred to the Committee of Privileges and the Vicar-General.

The Dean of York (Prolocutor) moved that an address be presented to the Crown on the subject of intemperance. He thought that the Northern Province of Convocation had not given to this deplorable subject the attention which they ought to have done. He did not think that legislation was capable of destroying these evils, but it could do something, and he advocated that her Majesty should be prayed to ask Parliament to give the fullest power to the magistrates, to take away licensing authority from the magistrates, and limit in a definite manner the hours of sale.

The Dean of Carlisle, as one of the oldest friends of the Temperance cause, seconded the motion.

After the Rev. Canon Cundill had spoken on the subject,

The Bishop of Manchester addressed the House. He believed that, in spite of the enormously increased wages now earned by the working classes, there was a decrease of intemperance. (No, no.) They might say "No, no," but he believed it was proved by the fact that crime was diminishing. He supported the address.

Archdeacons Hamilton and Prest also supported the motion, the latter rejoicing that Convocation was showing, by taking up this question thus early in its sitting, that the Church of England was not allied with the beer-barrel.

The President (Archbishop of York) said the motion met with his entire concurrence, and his hope was that it would be adopted.

The Convocation of this Province on Wednesday, March 11, rejected a resolution for the admission of the laity into Convocation, and adopted an amendment which, whilst recognizing the value of lay co-operation, declared that the fundamental change proposed was not a desirable one. An animated discussion followed upon a report from the Committee on Educational Endowments, in which the committee pointed out the utter failure of the commissioners to receive aid, sympathy, or co-operation from trustees or the community at large. Convocation was prorogued till the 8th of April.

TITHE RENT-CHARGE.

To the Editor of the "Ecclesiastical Gazette."

SIR,—I take the liberty to address you on a matter of some consequence to the Clergy. Frequent claims have been made of late to assess the tithe rent-charge to the land-tax. The fact, I believe, is that in those cases where the tithe has not been assessed for a long time, the land-tax on it has been actually redeemed. This would probably be a long time ago (in my own case it was redeemed in 1801), and since then in most parishes there would have been several Incumbents, so that the memory of the matter naturally dies out. Then some one thinks that the tithe rent-charge has been forgotten to be included in the assessment, and the present Incumbent knows nothing about the matter, and so in his ignorance, pays over again. This is a grievous wrong, and I should counsel no clergyman to pay land-tax where a recent claim has been set up to include the tithe in the assessment, until he has made the very fullest inquiry whether it has really been redeemed or not; the information to be had on the subject at the local offices is sometimes defective and imperfect.

I am, yours obediently,

A COUNTRY CLERGYMAN.

TITHE AUDIT.

To the Editor of the "Ecclesiastical Gazette."

SIR,—Your correspondent "G." says, "A uniform principle of obtaining the payment on the days on which it is legally payable would import no difficulty into the case, is demanded by the commercial relations of the day, and would be an effective boon from clergy to clergy."

No one can, of course, object to receive his tithe rent-charge on the earliest day possible; but how is he to be gratified? I collect my own dues, and am in the habit of fixing a day for payment within three weeks after each half-yearly payment becomes due.

But the money is not always paid by all those from whom it is due so punctually. Often I am compelled to write at intervals of a month or so, some three or four times, before I can obtain my object, and have even occasionally to threaten legal proceedings before I can obtain my money.

What course would "G." suggest as a remedy? To employ a lawyer to enforce payment is an expense; and it is unpleasant for a clergyman to resort to legal proceedings, especially with parishioners.

I am, sir,

Your obedient servant,
A RECTOR.

UNIVERSITY AND CLERICAL INTELLIGENCE.

Oxford.

BALLIOL COLLEGE.

THE Master and Fellows of this college propose to offer two Exhibitions to be competed for at the Oxford Local Examinations in the present year. These Exhibitions will be of the annual value of 40*l.*, and will be tenable during residence for four years. They will be offered to those among the senior candidates who shall obtain the highest places in the first division of the general list, provided that they are also placed in the first division of the section "Languages." The Exhibitions will be expected to produce testimonials of good conduct. They will commence residence not later than October, 1875, and will be required to pass the first of their University examinations (Responsions) within six months. The Exhibitions will have the option of residing within or without the college walls. In the former case they will be subject to the usual college charges. In the latter case they will pay annually to the college 25*l.* for tuition, and 1*l.* 8*s.* for University and College dues, but will be subject to no other charges and will be able to regulate the expense of their own living.

WORCESTER COLLEGE.

The Provost and Fellows of this college propose to offer one Exhibition to be competed for at this year at the Oxford Local Examinations, of the annual value of 70*l.*, and tenable during residence for four years. It will be offered to those senior candidates successively who shall obtain the highest places in the first division of the General List, provided they are placed in the first division of one at least of the four first sections of the Exmination. Testimonials of character will be expected. The Exhibitor will be required to pass the first University examination (Responsions) not later than the second term of residence. The following will be the annual charges: Furnished lodgings and service, 15*l.*; tuition, 21*l.*; college dues, 15*l.*; University dues, 1*l.*

NEW COLLEGE.

There will be offered at the Matriculation Examination at this college, beginning on Wednesday, the 21st of May, three Exhibitions, tenable for three years, two of the annual value of 50*l.* each, and one of the annual value of 30*l.* These Exhibitions are open to all persons who have not already been matriculated at another college.

The Local Examinations will be held this year at Oxford, and also at the following places:—London, Bath, Birmingham, Brighton, Cheltenham, Finchley, Hastings and St. Leonard's, Leeds, Leicester, Lincoln, Liverpool, Manchester, Nottingham, Ramsgate, Rochester, Southampton, Southwark, Streatham-hill, Swansea, Taunton, Truro, Watford, West Buckland, Windermere, Windsor, and Wrexham. They will commence in each place on Monday, the 1st of June.

In a Congregation held on Saturday, March 28 (being the last day of Hilary Term), the following degrees were conferred:—

Bachelor of Divinity.—Henry Robert Huckin, St. John's coll.

Masters of Arts.—Harvey E. Taverner, Brasenose coll.; John T. Dodd, Christ Church; Thomas A. Holcroft, and Edward A. Amyatt-Burney, Exeter coll.; Samuel S. O. Morris, Jesus coll.; Herbert K. Cook, Trinity coll.

Bachelors of Arts.—Andrew Cecil Bradley, Balliol coll.; Alfred John Begbie, Trinity coll.; Arthur Sumner Walpole, Worcester coll.

The Vinerian Scholarship has been awarded to Mr. L. B. Sebastian of Exeter college.

QUEEN'S COLLEGE.

Mr. W. Edwards, B.A., Scholar of this college, has been elected to the vacant Fellowship at Jesus college. Mr. Edwards was placed in the first class by the Mathematical Moderators in 1871, and by the Classical Moderators in 1872. He also obtained a first class in the Final Mathematical Term, 1873.

HALL AND HALL-HOUGHTON PRIZES.

The Examiners have awarded the Prizes as follows:—Senior Greek Testament Prize.—G. H. Gwilliam, Jesus coll. Junior Greek Testament Prize.—F. H. Woods, Jesus coll. Senior Septuagint Prize.—No candidate. Junior Septuagint Prize.—No candidate. Syriac Prize.—G. H. Gwilliam, Jesus coll. Proxime accessit.—J. A. Paterson, Pembroke coll. The Examiners also recommend for a Prize of books or money.—A. E. T. Gray, Brasenose coll.; A. J. Miller, Exeter coll.; T. Walker, Queen's coll. Candidates for the Junior Greek Testament Prize; and Mr. J. A. Paterson, Pembroke coll., Candidate for the Syriac Prize.

BALLIOL COLLEGE.

The Jenkyns Scholarship at this college has been adjudged to Mr. H. H. Asquith, scholar of the college. A prize of 50*l.* was also given to Mr. W. W. Waddell, Snell Exhibitioner, who distinguished himself in the examination.

The electors to the Vinerian Readership in English and Civil Law, vacated by Mr. Dwyer, have elected Mr. Holland, late Fellow of Exeter college. The Reader is appointed for three years. Mr. Holland is known as Editor of Justitia and other law books.

The following report has been addressed to the electors to the Radcliffe Travelling Fellowship. House of Lords, March 20, 1874. Present, the Lord High Chancellor, the Marquis of Salisbury, the Lord Bishop of London:—

"My Lord Archbishop.—We have to report to your Grace and the Radcliffe Electors, that the candidates, considered as a body, are of unusual excellence. We recommend to the electors for appointment Mr. Samuel Hatch West, of Christ Church. With respect to two other candidates—Mr. Childs, of Merton college, and Mr. Moulton, Pembroke college—we consider that their work gives them claims but little inferior to those of Mr. West. Between these two gentlemen it would, perhaps, be difficult to decide whether of the two should be reckoned the second. We feel bound to say to you that, looking at the actual quality of the work done, we think it a grave misfortune that we have no power to recommend both these gentlemen for additional Fellowships, or for some mark of your approval. Moreover, we may not transgress the due bounds of our relation to you if we say that, viewing the actual merit of such persons, and the great advance which their work gives proof of in the scientific education of Oxford, we regret that there is no fund available whence some recognition could be given to persons who, as in this instance, have furnished proof of much industry, ability, and scientific attainment. We think that great good would accrue to the public if grants could, under proper regulations, be given to candidates in an examination of this character, who, although unsuccessful in gaining the first place, have, nevertheless, shown themselves to be men of eminent merit and promise.

"We have the honour to be, my Lord Archbishop, my Lords and Gentlemen, your obedient servants,

"HENRY W. ACLAND, } Examiners for the "G. ROLLSTON, } Radcliffe Travelling
"A. G. VERNON HARCOURT, } Fellowship."

The Examiners have elected to the Denyer and Johnson Scholarships:—Mr. Gamaliel Milner, B.A., of Christ Church; Rev. Francis K. Y. Aglionby, B.A., of Queen's college; Rev. George H. Gwilliam, B.A., of Jesus college. Proxime accessit.—Francis H. Woods, B.A., Scholar of Jesus college.

Mr. Nutt, M.A., Fellow of All Souls and sub-librarian of the Bodleian, has been elected by the Hebdomadal Council to the office of Grinfield Lecturer on the Septuagint in the room of Professor Plumptre.

BRASENOS COLLEGE.

There will be an election at this college in the ensuing Easter Term to at least three Open Scholarships of the value of 80*l.* a year, one of which will be awarded for proficiency in Mathematics, subject to a pass examination in classics. These scholarships are tenable for five years, during residence and good conduct, unless a Scholar shall after his election have accepted any appointment interfering with the full course of academical studies. The examination will begin on Tuesday, the 21st of April.

MERTON COLLEGE.

An election will be made at this college on Saturday, the 25th of April, to two classical postmasterships, of the value of 80*l.* a year, tenable during residence for five years from the day of election, provided that the holder does not accept any appointment which prevents him from pursuing the full course of academical study. The examination will commence on Tuesday, the 21st of April, at ten a.m.

In a Congregation held on Wednesday, April 8, the following degrees were conferred:—

Doctor of Divinity.—William Baker, St. John's coll.

Masters of Arts.—Ralph Walker, and Charles William Buller, All Souls' coll.; George B. Durrant Oriel coll.; Robert W. John Smart, Queen's coll.

Bachelor of Divinity.—Edmund S. Foulkes (name replaced), Jesus coll.

The next degree day will be on Thursday, April 23.

PEMBROKE COLLEGE.

The following gentlemen have been elected to Open Classical Scholarships at this college:—Mr. Tanner, from Harrow; Mr. Podmore and Mr. Milford, from Haileybury. There were eighteen candidates. One of the Scholarships is worth 80*l.* per annum, and two worth 72*l.* each per annum. All are tenable for five years from matriculation.

BRASENOS COLLEGE.

There will be an examination on Tuesday, April 21, for at least three Open Scholarships, each of the annual value of 80*l.*, and tenable for five years, one of which will be given for proficiency in mathematics.

MERTON COLLEGE.

There will be an examination on Tuesday, April 21, for two Classical Postmasterships, each of the annual value of 80*l.*, and tenable for five years.

ORIEL COLLEGE.

There will be an examination on Tuesday, April 21, for—1. Two Scholarships of the annual value of 80*l.* each, and tenable for five years. 2. One Adam de Brome Exhibition, of the annual value of 80*l.*, and tenable to the end of twentieth term from matriculation. 3. #### LOCAL EXAMINATIONS.

The sixteenth Annual Report of the Local Examination Syndicate has been issued. It shows that the total number of candidates had increased from 2077 (boys and girls) in 1869, to 3550 in 1873. There is a general falling-off in the per-centage of junior boys who passed last December compared with 1869, the number examined being one-third more than in the latter year. The junior girls (whose number was nearly trebled in the five years) about maintain their per-centage. The senior boys show a decided improvement, and the senior girls have increased their per-centage of passes from 37.4 in 1869, to 68.8 in 1872, the failures being 62.6 in 1869 and only 31.2 in December last.

The Examiners state that among the juniors in the preliminary subjects, the papers in English grammar showed considerable attention had been paid to it. While the general per-centage of failures remain nearly the same as last year, the per-centage of failures among the girls has diminished from 11 to 7 per cent. The Examiners were, on the whole, pleased with the work done by the boys in arithmetic, and the girls have improved. The Examiners were of opinion that the standard for passing should be raised. In the seniors very considerable knowledge was shown in grammar by most of the candidates, and the number of failures was small. In arithmetic much of the work from both boys and girls was satisfactory, showing sound knowledge of principles and accuracy in results; but many of the candidates showed almost complete ignorance of arithmetic. The high per-centage of failures was higher among the girls than the boys, the latter of whom showed the greater proficiency. In religious knowledge the Examiners reported among the juniors great confusion in the Old Testament papers, and great ignorance of the order of events in the Gospel narrative. Among the seniors the style of the papers on Scripture was much superior to the matter in many cases, the answers, though in the main right, being inexact, and in more altogether wrong. The questions to the "Book of Common Prayer" and Paley's "Horæ Pauline" were on the whole satisfactorily answered. In English, the juniors' papers on Shakespeare's "Richard II." the work of the girls was much better than the boys in general. A good many of the candidates answered the questions in history in a very intelligent manner, the girls especially. The answers in geography were on the whole creditable. Among the seniors, the papers on "Richard II." and Milton's "Comus" were, as a whole, by no means satisfactory. Of the answers in history, a large number were good, a few extremely good. The geography papers were, on the whole, decidedly creditable, though there were frequent instances of random answering in otherwise excellent papers. The Examiner in "Political" Economy was disappointed with the way in which his paper was done by the great majority who took up the subject. The Examiner in English Composition found that most of the candidates wrote simply and intelligibly, without much pretension to style, but with tolerable freedom from grammatical errors, the matter of the essays being generally less satisfactory than the language. In Latin the average work of the juniors seemed decidedly better, and the number of thoroughly bad candidates less than in other years. An increased attention to the accidence was observed. Among the seniors the examiners complained of want of attention and thought in the translations, the great fault being inaccuracy. In Greek, the juniors acquitted themselves on the whole in a manner that might be called satisfactory, taking all circumstances into consideration. A somewhat larger number of seniors failed in that subject than in last year; on the other hand, the number of those who gained distinction was larger. In French the answers of the juniors showed no general improvement on those of last year, but, if anything, a falling off. The girls, on the whole, were much better than the boys. The grammar was, with very few exceptions, exceedingly bad. Among the seniors there was a falling off from previous years. In German the junior showed a creditable amount of knowledge, but the seniors were rather unsatisfactory, although a few showed careful study. In mathematics the papers were on the whole satisfactory. In chemistry and heat the papers were not generally successful, though the practical work was fairly done. In physics a little range of knowledge was shown. In geology the work was on the whole a little better than last year. In zoology considerable knowledge has been shown by a very few. In botany the seniors may be said to have done well, though there was a great deficiency in both seniors and juniors in the answers to questions requiring thought. In drawing the juniors were not very successful, the seniors showing a decline in the average of success. In music the work did not improve.

The higher Local Examinations held by this University, hitherto open to women only, but now to all persons above eighteen years and a half, will commence on Monday, June 15th, at Birmingham, Cambridge, Cheltenham, Leeds, Liverpool, London, Manchester, Norwich, Plymouth, and Rugby.

METROPOLIS.

LONDON SCHOOL BOARD.

The Sunday Use of Board Schools.—At the meeting of the London School Board on Wednesday, 11th March, there was a long discussion on a report from the School Management Committee:—"That it is important to utilize the Board Schools at certain hours of the week-day evenings."

To this an amendment was proposed:—"That the words—'And of Sundays' be added."

On a division, the amendment was carried by twenty-two to nineteen.

The following motion was also carried:—

"That each application to hire a school, or part of a school, be considered by the School Management Committee, and, if approved, that it be reported to the Board, together with the rent proposed to be charged; that the rent in each case be payable in advance; and that the schools be not let for political purposes, nor on Sundays for any other than Sunday-school purposes."

Bible Instruction.—At a meeting of the London School Board on the 25th ult., it was agreed:—

"That the following article be substituted for Article 11 of the code of regulations for the guidance of teachers:—"A syllabus of subjects of Bible instruction for one month in advance, together with a record of the Bible lessons given during the previous month, must be prepared by the teacher, and forwarded to the clerk of the Board at the beginning of each month."

The Church Defence Institution.—At a meeting of the Committee, held at the offices, 25, Parliament-street, on 17th March, the Earl of Dartmouth in the chair, the election of the Hon. Wilbraham Egerton, M.P., as chairman, in succession to Mr. Raikes, M.P., resigned, was proposed by Mr. Cubitt, M.P., seconded by Mr. W. W. Heygate, M.P., and carried unanimously. A vote of thanks to Mr. Raikes for the admirable manner in which, during the last seven years, he has discharged the onerous duties of chairman, was moved by Lord Dartmouth, seconded by the Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol, and carried by acclamation. On the motion of Sir J. H. Kennaway, M.P., Mr. Raikes was elected a vice-president of the institution.

Consular Chaplains.—An influential deputation waited upon Lord Derby at the Foreign Office, on 17th March for the purpose of protesting against the circular of Lord Granville, dated July 31, 1873, which would have the effect of withdrawing allowances to British consular chaplains under the act of George the Fourth, and to request the present Foreign Secretary's favourable intervention in the matter. The deputation consisted, amongst other gentlemen, of Sir H. Drummond Wolf, M.P.; Sir J. Kennaway, M.P.; the Right Hon. S. H. Walpole, M.P.; Mr. J. Laird, M.P.; Sir Charles Russell, M.P.; Mr. Beresford Hope, M.P.; Mr. Wilbraham Egerton, M.P., &c., &c.

The Earl of Derby said the questions submitted to him might be divided threefold. Firstly, as raised the question of the legality or non-legality of the course taken. Secondly, there was the question of public policy involved in the continuance or non-continuance of those chaplains' grants. And, thirdly, the question was raised on which his friend Mr. Walpole more especially touched, which was, whether, admitting the policy of disallowing the grants, sufficient regard had been paid to the rights or reasonable expectations of those employed. He advised the deputation to consider whether they had a legal case. On the question of public policy he did not think that such grants, if coming before Parliament for the first time, would have much chance of being voted. He made a reservation, however, in favour of chaplains for the naval and military service abroad.

Consecration of a Suffragan to the See of Winchester, and of the recently-appointed Bishop of Victoria (China).—On Sunday, 15th March, the Ven. J. S. Utterson, Archdeacon of Surrey, and Rev. J. S. Burdon, D.D., were consecrated at Lambeth Church, the former as Bishop of Guildford, Suffragan to the See of Winchester, the latter as Bishop of Victoria (China). The Bishop of London officiated, acting under a commission for the Archbishop of Canterbury, and assisted by the Bishops of Winchester and Rochester, and by Bishops Ryan and Alford. Archdeacon Utterson was presented to the Bishop of London by the Bishop of Winchester and Bishop Ryan, and Dr. Burdon by the Bishop of Rochester and Bishop Alford, his predecessor in the See of Victoria, all the Bishops taking part in the consecration. The sermon was preached by Bishop Ryan (late of Mauritius) from 2 Chron. xiv. 11, "Help us, O Lord our God; for we rest on Thee, and in Thy name we go against this multitude." The offertory (17*l.*) was given to the Church of England Scripture Readers' Society.

PROVINCIAL.

Consecration of the Chapel of Charterhouse, Godalming.—On the 25th ult. ("The Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary") the Bishop of Winchester consecrated the new chapel for Charterhouse School, at Godalming, erected from designs by Mr. Philip Hardwicke. A large number of the clergy of the neighbourhood and of old Carthusians from different parts of the country were present at the consecration; and an appropriate sermon was preached by Dr. Haig Brown, the Head Master, from the text, "All my fresh springs shall be in Thee." The chapel is in the decorated style of architecture, consisting of a nave and sacristy, with a south aisle, and will seat about 400 worshippers. Most of the windows are filled with painted glass, the east one representing the Crucifixion, being the gift of the Queen as one of the Governors. Other windows have been presented by the Duke of Buccleuch, Lord Dalhousie, by Dr. Currey, and old and present pupils.

SCOTLAND.

Diocese of Argyll and the Isles.—On Wednesday, the 25th ult. (the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary), the Rev. G. R. Mackarness, D.D., Vicar of Ilam, Staffordshire, was consecrated Bishop of Argyll and the Isles by the Bishop of Brechin, acting for the Primus of the Episcopal Church of Scotland, assisted by the Bishop of Oxford and the Bishops of Glasgow and Edinburgh. The sermon was preached by the Dean of York.

SOCIETY FOR PROMOTING CHRISTIAN KNOWLEDGE.

67, Lincoln's Inn Fields.

Tuesday, April 14, 1874.

Dr. HESSEY in the Chair.

IMMEDIATELY after Prayers, Dr. Hessey, being unable to stay, vacated the chair, which was taken by Sir Charles Daubeny.

The Minutes of the last Meeting were then read.

Money Grants recommended by the Standing Committee.

Diocese of Tasmania.—The Standing Committee informed the Meeting that in October, 1873, the following statement forwarded by the Bishop was before them respecting the Furneaux Mission:—"Through various circumstances the visits to these islands (which lie between Australia and Tasmania) have hitherto only been at irregular and distant intervals, but arrangements are in progress by which, until greater facilities may offer, two visits in the least in each year may be made to the Islanders. To this end diligent efforts are being made to provide a suitable vessel of about twenty tons, builder's measurement, the cost of which will probably come little short of 250*l*.

"The difficulty of raising this amount, over and above the ordinary charges upon parishes in Tasmania, for the support of religious ministrations in them respectively, renders it necessary to seek help from whatever source it may be derivable."

The Bishop added, "These poor islanders live nearer to Victoria than Tasmania, but belong to my diocese and to this colony. They are an exceedingly interesting people, the offspring of sailors and others, who had married aboriginal women: they are beyond the reach of any religious ministrations except those furnished by occasional, now to become periodical, fixed, and more frequent visits of our clergy. The navigation of these islands is very difficult and dangerous."

The Committee added, that in October last they had felt that they must have more information before they could recommend a grant in a somewhat unusual case, and particularly as it did not appear why it was necessary to incur the expense of procuring a special vessel, if only two voyages were likely to be made in the year.

The Bishop of Tasmania now, in a letter dated Hobart Town, 30th December, 1873, supplied the following further particulars:—

"We have tried every scheme. The navigation of the straits (Bass's Straits) is extremely dangerous. We built a vessel which proved of too large draught, in which the ex-archdeacon Reibey paid sundry visits to the islands at the great hazard of his life. It was all but wrecked upon the shallow beach of one of them. The vessel was claimed by Mr. Reibey as his own, the mission having been undertaken at his own venture and expense.

"We have also tried to accomplish the task by whale-boats, which, although the best for landing, are unfit for delayed passages with baffling winds. At the proper season of the year they are often not to be had, and when they are, only at extravagant prices. The visits, though repeated once or twice a year, extend over some weeks, from the difficulty of passing from one place to another in consequence of strong winds and rapid currents.

"The vessel which is now projected is being built in special reference to the peculiar navigation of these islands, with the experience of the past to guide us.

"The last of the aborigines of Tasmania has just passed away, and one half-caste only remains in Tasmania Proper: they abound, however, in these islands between Australia and Tasmania, which we are trying to reach."

In was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 50*l.*; and that the Society's grant should be paid when it would lead to the completion of the vessel, and to its being free from all liability for debt.

Diocese of Melbourne.—The Rev. Wm. Chalmers, writing from the Parsonage, Kyneton, Victoria, Australia, made application for a grant for a church at a village called Lauriston.

The application was forwarded and recommended by the Bishop of Melbourne. The Secretary explained that this application would have been before the Society some months ago if a letter had not miscarried.

The Standing Committee recommended a grant of 25*l.*, to be paid when that sum would lead to the completion of the building, and to its being free from all liability for debt.

Diocese of Waiapu, New Zealand.—The Bishop of Waiapu, writing from his diocese on the 17th January, 1874, said,—

"I am thankful now to be able to report that an effort is being made in the direction of church building. Four are now in hand, and the promised aid of the Society has contributed much to encourage those who were able to help forward the work."

The first application was for a new church at Taradale in the Parish of Moane. The population consists principally of small farmers, mechanics and labourers. It is proposed to build a church of Kauri timber, upon a site which has been given, and will be invested in Trustees appointed by the Diocesan Synod.

The church will accommodate 250 persons, and will cost 400*l.*, of which 300*l.* are in hand.

The second case was that of a church now erecting in the Parish of Havelock.

There are one or two persons in good circumstances, the majority are not so, being small farmers, shopkeepers and labourers; the larger portion belong to the Church of England.

The church will accommodate 250 persons; the site has been given, and will be invested in Trustees to be appointed by the Diocesan Synod. The estimated cost is 500*l.*, of which 400*l.* have been subscribed.

The third case was that of a timber church now erecting in Tauranga to accommodate 350 persons, at a cost of 500*l.*, of which 400*l.* have been subscribed.

There are no wealthy persons in the district. The population consists of a few holding office under Government, small farmers, mechanics and labourers.

The larger portion are members of the Church of England.

The township has been recently formed, and there have been many difficulties.

The site has been purchased, and will be invested in Trustees to be appointed by the Diocesan Synod.

The fourth application was for a timber church at Poverty Bay, Tauranga. The population, most of whom are storekeepers and mechanics, is 500, and on the increase; there are a few sheep farmers living up the country. Accommodation will be provided for 300 persons.

The estimated cost is 400*l.*, of which 300*l.* have been raised. The township has only been recently formed.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to place the sum of 130*l.* at the disposal of the Bishop for the completion of the four churches; the grant to each church to be apportioned at the discretion of the Bishop; provided only the erection of the four be secured and their freedom from debt.

Diocese of Christ Church, New Zealand.—The Bishop of Christ Church, writing from his diocese on the 7th January, 1874, forwarded and strongly recommended an application from the Rev. J. Harris Wills, Curate in Charge of the parochial district of Ashburton, for a grant towards a proposed new church in that district.

It is proposed to build, at a total estimated cost of 1500*l.*, a church which, when finished, will accommodate 400 persons. In the first instance, however, it is intended to lay out 350*l.* or 400*l.* for the accommodation of 150 persons. The material is to be concrete, with stone facings. There is a population of about 250 persons in the village of Ashburton, and many others outside. The site is vested in the "Church Property Trustees," of which body the Bishop is chairman.

The people of the village are not rich, many of them being tradesmen with large families. The small farmers in the neighbourhood are not well off, many being very poor. There are rich sheep-farmers in the district, but none of them live near the village. 30*l.* have been raised, and 100*l.* promised on the spot.

The Government schoolroom is the only place where any religious service can be held, and the Church has at present to take turns with the Dissenters in the use of the building. The district is the largest in the diocese of Christ Church, so that the curate has spent the greater portion of his time in taking long journeys to conduct services at various points; he has now eight Lay-readers to assist him. There is at present no church in the whole of the district. The people are now building a parsonage-house, and have subscribed more than half the necessary funds.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 20*l.* for the present undertaking; the Society's grant to be paid so soon as it would lead to the building being at once ready for Divine Service, and to its being free from all liability for debt.

Diocese of Dunedin.—The Bishop of Dunedin forwarded and heartily supported the application of the Rev. Joshua Jones, Incumbent of Clyde and Cromwell, for a grant towards a proposed new church at Cromwell.

The population of the town itself is nearly 400, and the surrounding district is populous.

It is intended to build a church (of stone if possible, if not of wood) to accommodate from 80 to 100 worshippers. The site is vested, according to Diocesan Synod regulations, in local trustees acting under the Diocesan Board of Trustees. The estimated cost is from 250*l.* to 300*l.* Of this amount about 140*l.* are in hand, 70*l.* having been raised in the district, where the collection is still going on.

There is no actual poverty in the district, but the majority of the men are miners, making no more than fair wages; there are very few wealthy inhabitants, as fortunate miners generally take away their wealth to enjoy it elsewhere. The majority of people are Presbyterians, Churchmen are next in numbers, many are indifferent.

The town of Cromwell forms an important centre. No place of worship, except for the Roman Catholics, exists. The Services of the Church have to be carried on in borrowed buildings; the expense of these Services and of providing the clergyman's stipend falls heavily upon the Church members.

The Bishop has recently sent a Deacon to Cromwell as a preparatory step to its erection into a distinct parish.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 20*l.*, to be paid when the receipt of this sum would lead to the immediate completion of the building and to its being free from all liability for debt.

Diocese of Calcutta.—The Bishop of Calcutta, writing from his Diocese on the 12th of February, 1874, forwarded and earnestly recommended an application forwarded by the Rev. H. J. Harrison for a grant towards a new church at Jhanjra. The following is an extract from the appeal:—

"It is believed that comparatively few persons in Calcutta are aware how large a body of Native Christians is to be found in the immediate neighbourhood of the capital. These Christians have been converted by the agency of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel. They are scattered over a considerable district in the south of Calcutta, and number 5000 souls in communion with the Church of England. Of these, 2000 are attached to what is generally called the Tallygunge Mission, from the place at which the Missionaries reside, but the central point is Jhanjra, some few miles further to the south, where the church was built, and the largest number of Christians are to be found. This church was almost destroyed by the cyclone of 1864, and the ruin was completed by the cyclone of 1867. Since that time it has been the desire of the Superintending Missionary, the Rev. C. E. Driberg, to rebuild the church. On the great festivals 800 or 900 communicants assemble, and at present the only shelter for them is a temporary shed of mat, which will hold only a small portion of the congregation. There can be little doubt that, but for failing strength and the pressure of other duties, Mr. Driberg would, ere he died, have succeeded in erecting a suitable church. But after labouring for thirty-five years in these swamps he was carried off last October by malarious fever, which had taken complete hold of his system."

Mr. Driberg had contemplated building a church to accommodate 1000, at a cost of Rs. 25,000; he had himself collected Rs. 1050, and the Bishop has contributed Rs. 1500. In consequence of the death first of Mr. Driberg, which was soon followed by that of Archdeacon Pratt, and then again by the death of Lord Mayo, the work has been unavoidably delayed; and now the Bishop states that the Famine in Bengal makes it very difficult to raise money in answer to any private appeal. The place has been reduced, and it is now proposed to build for 600 persons at a cost of Rs. 16,000.

It was agreed, upon the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 100*l.* for the completion of this church, on the usual conditions.

Diocese of Algoma.—The Bishop of Algoma applied, on behalf of the Rev. Edward Wilson, who for some years has been labouring as a missionary to the North American Indians in Canada, for a grant to enable him to get 500 copies of "A Manual for Missionaries and others employed among the Ojibway Indians, in three parts:—1. The Grammar; 2. Dialogues and Exercises; 3. The Dictionary."

Mr. Wilson supplied an estimate from Messrs. Rowell and Hutchinson, of Toronto, who had previously done work for the Society. Messrs. Rowell and Hutchinson agreed to supply 500 copies complete for 420 dollars, or about 84*l.*, and subsequent supplies of 250 copies for 58½ dollars.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to place 84*l.*, or the exact sum found to be necessary, at the disposal of the Standing Committee, for the purpose specified.

Bishop Wilkinson, Zululand.—Bishop Wilkinson, who had for some months been in correspondence with the Society, urging the need he had of help for the production of some elementary literature in the vernacular for his converts, applied for a grant of 40*l.*, which would, he said, enable him to get 300 copies of "the Peep of Day Series," in Zulu. The translation had been already made, and the books would be printed in Zululand.

A grant of 40*l.* was put at the disposal of the Bishop for this purpose, upon the recommendation of the Standing Committee; upon the understanding that the Bishop would submit the translation in manuscript to competent native Zulu scholars.

Bishop Macrorie, Maritzburg.—Bishop Macrorie, writing on the 16th of February, 1874, made application for a grant for a school-chapel for the use of the Native population at Durban. Mr. D. E. Robinson, a Catechist, has been working amongst these people for two years with considerable success, though under very difficult circumstances—the existing school-room being a poor wooden shed with a sand floor and an iron roof, only about 18 feet by 10, entered from the parsonage back yard; the only wonder is that he has been able, in so hot a climate, to attract the natives to such poor quarters.

A good site has been purchased, and it is estimated that a suitable building could be erected for 200*l.* or 250*l.* The land is vested in the Diocesan Trustees.

The Bishop expects to be able to raise a little money amongst Churchmen at Maritzburg and Durban, but cannot look for anything from the natives at present—this being the first work ever attempted by the Church for the natives at Durban.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 100*l.* for the completion of this church, on the usual conditions.

Diocese of Trinidad.—The Right Rev. R. Rawle, Bishop of the Church of England in Trinidad, forwarded and heartily recommended an application from the Rev. J. G. Knight, for aid towards the completion of St. Peter's, a wooden church in course of erection in the Gasparillo village. The church is 60 feet long, including the chancel, and 33 feet broad, including a northern aisle; it is so constructed as to admit of the addition of a southern aisle. The total cost, including the purchase of the site, furniture, and fittings, is estimated at 500*l.*, of which about 325*l.* have been collected.

The Government give no aid for building purposes, all the neighbouring proprietors have contributed, and the people themselves have given and are still giving according to their means.

The Bishop says the people are poor, and it is beyond hope to raise another 150*l.* amongst them.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to make a grant of 50*l.* in his case, to be paid so soon as the Bishop shall have certified that the receipt of that amount will lead to the immediate completion of the building and to its being free from all liability or debt, and secured as the property of the church for ever.

Visitation of Emigrants at Plymouth.—The Standing Committee informed the Meeting that they had received an application, signed by the Rev. O. E. Turner, as Secretary of the Plymouth District Committee, for a renewal of the grant made this time last year to the Rev. F. Barnes, for visiting emigrants leaving the port of Plymouth.

Mr. Turner stated, "Emigration from this port has been much on the increase, and seems likely to continue in the same direction."

The Committee stated that the grant for 1873, 1874 will not expire till July, 1874, but that when the grant was last made they had requested that, if a renewal were applied for, the application might be before them in good time.

Mr. Barnes himself reported as follows:—During the past year ending Easter, 1874, we have had 19 ships, 34 services have been held,

Holy Communion has been administered to 74, and 18 children have been baptized; one couple have been married. When the emigrants are here on Sunday, which has happened seven times during the year, they are always taken to church." Mr. Barnes also applied for a further supply of Tracts, of which he was in great need.

It was agreed, upon the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to renew the grant of 25*l.* for one year, and to grant Tracts to the value of 5*l.*

Mauritius and Malagasy Prayer Book.—The Standing Committee informed the Meeting that, during the lifetime of the late Bishop Huxtable, of Mauritius, Mr. Ohiswell and Mr. Maundrell, two Missionaries in Madagascar, in the service of S. P. G. and O. M. S. respectively, had been encouraged to make translations of portions of the Book of Common Prayer into the Malagasy language. After Bishop Huxtable's death, Mr. Maundrell, being under the impression that this Society would certainly pay the cost, proceeded to print small numbers of his portion of the Prayer Book, which consisted mainly of what are commonly called the occasional services, and had incurred a liability amounting to 40*l.* The present Bishop of Mauritius had paid this sum, trusting to receive it back from the Society. The Standing Committee, though the whole transaction had been irregular, felt that the cost of this tentative edition should not fall upon Bishop Royston, who really had nothing to do with the expense having been incurred, nor with the Church's work in Madagascar; they therefore recommended that a grant of 40*l.* should be made, to repay Bishop Royston the sum he had advanced.

This grant was agreed to.

Diocese of Carlisle.—The Bishop of Carlisle, together with the Rev. Canon Durham, applied for a grant in aid of the salary of their Diocesan Inspector of Church schools in religious knowledge.

In 1871, when 3000*l.* were set apart for the inauguration of the work of Diocesan Inspection, the Diocese of Carlisle was unable to avail itself of the Society's offer of help; neither has it had help for this purpose up to the present time.

It appears that there is now a paid Inspector in the Diocese of Carlisle, who receives 300*l.* a year and his travelling expenses, and that he examines both Pupil Teachers and the scholars.

Besides the work of the Inspector, who inspects all the schools willing to receive him, there is an annual paper examination of the elder children and Pupil Teachers, conducted by an unpaid Committee. The Bishop says that in the course of the current year 3000 children will be examined, and more than 150 Pupil Teachers. Prizes, Exhibitions to Training Colleges, and Capitation Grants to Masters and Mistresses depend upon this examination.

The Inspector last year examined about 250 schools, this year the number to be examined is greater; he sends a written report of each school, with hints as to deficiencies, &c., to the Bishop, and this report is subsequently transmitted to the school. The Bishop is well satisfied with the result of this combined system, but urges that it is manifestly somewhat expensive. The withdrawal of the offer of prizes to the school children as distinct from the Pupil Teachers has been a loss to the diocese. The Bishop and Canon Durham agree in asking for a grant towards the Inspector's salary.

The funds, Canon Durham says, do not meet the demands. The subscriptions are but small, 230*l.* The collections made triennially in the diocese by some of the clergy, at the Bishop's request, frequently amount to only a few shillings. The schools are too poor to contribute much.

In consideration of the fact that the Diocese of Carlisle has hitherto received no help of the kind, and that it appears to have very thoroughly organized the work of inspection, it was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to make a grant of 100*l.* for one year.

Book Grants recommended by the Standing Committee.

Book Grants, Special and Ordinary, were then agreed to.

Diocese of Salisbury.—The Rev. Probandary Wilkinson applied for a grant of S.P.C.K. books to the value of 50*l.*, to meet an equal expenditure in books on the part of the Salisbury Diocesan Board of Education; the whole of the books, to the value of 100*l.*, to be given as prizes to pupil-teachers for religious knowledge after central or simultaneous examinations.

This grant was made on the recommendation of the Standing Committee.

Diocese of Hereford.—The Rev. T. Littleton Wheeler applied, on behalf of the Board of Education in the Archdeaconry of Salop, for a grant of S.P.C.K. Books to the value of 10*l.*, to meet an equal outlay in books on the part of the Archidiaconal Board; the whole of the books, to the value of 20*l.*, to be given as prizes for religious knowledge to pupil-teachers after central or simultaneous examinations.

This grant was made on the recommendation of the Standing Committee.

Diocese of Gloucester and Bristol.—The Rev. T. G. Golightly applied for a grant of S.P.C.K. books to the value of 10*l.*, to meet an equal purchase of books on the part of the Diocesan Board of Education; the whole of the books to be given as prizes to pupil-teachers for proficiency in religious knowledge, after a central or simultaneous examination.

This grant was made upon the recommendation of the Standing Committee.

Diocese of Peterborough.—The Rev. Edmund Willes applied, on behalf of the Leicestershire Archidiaconal Board of Education, for a grant of S.P.C.K. books to the value of 10*l.*, to meet an equal expenditure on the part of the Leicestershire Board; the whole of the books to be given as prizes for religious knowledge to pupil-teachers after a central examination.

This grant was made on the recommendation of the Standing Committee.

Diocese of Lincoln.—The Rev. Brough Maltby, Secretary of the Nottinghamshire Committee of this Board, applied for S.P.C.K. books to the value of 20*l.*, to meet an equal expenditure in books on the part of his Committee; the whole of the books to be given to pupil-teachers for prizes in religious knowledge after a central or simultaneous examination.

This grant was made on the recommendation of the Standing Committee.

Diocese of Exeter.—The Rev. Peter Lilly, on behalf of the Rutland Board of Ipplepen, applied for S.P.C.K. books to the value of 5*l.*, to meet an equal outlay in books on the part of the Ipplepen Board; the whole of the books to be given as prizes for religious knowledge to pupil-teachers after a central examination.

This grant was made on the recommendation of the Standing Committee.

Otter Memorial College, Chichester.—Miss Trevor, Lady Principal of this College for training ladies as elementary schoolmistresses, and the Rev. B. Espinasse, chaplain, applied for a grant of maps and books for use in the Model School which had recently been erected in connexion with this college.

A grant of books, &c., to the value of 10*l.*, was made on the recommendation of the Standing Committee.

Diocese of Grahamstown.—The Rev. R. J.

Mullins, Principal of the Kafir Institution, Grahamstown, applied for a grant of 2000 copies of the Kafir Prayer Book, he undertaking to return, as a donation to the Society, the proceeds of sales. Mr. Mullins had already had books on a similar understanding, and had recently returned 50*l.* for sales effected.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant these books as applied for, at a cost of about 66*l.*

Grants recommended by the Standing Committee, of which notice was given at the last Meeting.

Diocese of Athabasca, or Mackenzie.—The Standing Committee, according to notice given at the last Meeting, and for reasons stated at length in the last Monthly Report, proposed that—

(1.) A sum of 500*l.* be placed at the disposal of the Bishop-designate of this diocese on condition of his providing not less than six chapel schools, such as he described in his statement which was printed in the March Monthly Report.

This grant was made.

(2.) The Standing Committee also recommended that S.P.C.K. books, to the value of 50*l.*, should be placed at the disposal of the Bishop; and that 150 copies of each of seven primers in the languages of the native races of the Diocese of Athabasca be produced at an estimated cost of about 66*l.*, and placed at the disposal of the Bishop.

These recommendations were agreed to.

Madagascar.—The motions respecting the missionary bishopric of Madagascar, of which notice was given at the last Meeting were withdrawn, and renewed for the next Meeting in an altered form.

Reports and Notices from the Standing Committee.

Treasurership.—The Standing Committee informed the Meeting that, to their great regret, Mr. W. H. Smith, M.P., one of the Secretaries to the Treasury, who had done most valuable service to the Society as one of the Treasurers since the year 1867, had found it necessary, in consequence of his public duties, to resign his office in connexion with the Society.

The Standing Committee said that they hoped, when the time prescribed by the rules arrived, to have the pleasure of proposing Mr. Smith for election as one of the Vice-Presidents of the Society, and that meanwhile they proposed for the acceptance of the Meeting the following resolution:—

"The members of the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge have heard with great regret that Mr. W. H. Smith, Member for the City of Westminster, and one of the Secretaries to the Treasury, has found that his public duties render it necessary for him to resign his post as one of the Treasurers of the Society.

"They desire to express their sense of the very great services rendered by Mr. Smith during his seven years of office, specially in connexion with the business operations of the Society. They heartily congratulate Mr. Smith on his parliamentary and official career, and sincerely trust that his administrative powers in an enlarged sphere of action may be as valuable to the State as they have already been, on a comparatively small scale, to the Society."

New Treasurer.—The Standing Committee further, in accordance with Rule LI., recommended that Major-General Sir H. Charles B. Daubeney, K.C.B., be elected to the office of Treasurer, rendered vacant by the resignation of Mr. Smith.

The election was unanimously made.

Diocese of Honolulu.—The Standing Committee reported that the Rev. Walter Scott, Commissary to the Bishop of Honolulu, had applied for a grant from Canning's Fund for the passage of the Rev. J. Bridger to Honolulu, where he is to take charge of the Mission Station of Wailuku. The passage of Mr. Bridger and his wife, independently of children, for whom Mr. Bridger will himself pay, amounts to 114*l.*, and the whole of this sum must be defrayed out of the special funds of the Mission, unless S.P.C.K. can help.

The Standing Committee had agreed to give 57*l.* out of Canning's Trust Fund, in this case.

Diocese of Christ Church.—The Standing Committee reported that Mr. B. A. Heywood, of the firm of Messrs. Bridges and Co., 23, Red Lion-square, had applied for a grant of 85*l.* towards the passage of a clergyman, who is to take charge of a Missionary district (i.e. a newly-organized district, though not one with a native population) in the diocese of Christ Church. Mr. Heywood had obtained from friends promises amounting to 80*l.* a year for two years towards a clergyman's stipend. The Bishop promises 60*l.* a year out of his Diocesan Fund, and says that local contributions may bring up the total to 200*l.* or 250*l.* He has placed 45*l.* in the hands of the Rev. H. W. Tucker, his Commissary, towards outfit, &c. Mr. Heywood is anxious to see his way to the remaining 35*l.* required, that so he may the more easily secure a clergyman to be approved by Mr. Tucker.

The Standing Committee had agreed to give the required sum of 35*l.* towards the passage of a clergyman in this case.

Additional Students for Holy Orders Abroad.—

In reference to the sum of 2500*l.* set apart in April last, to enable the Standing Committee to assist in increasing the number of Native Students for Holy Orders in India and the Colonies, the Standing Committee reported, that the following grants had, up to the present time, been made, viz.:—

		£	s.	d.
Oct., 1873.	Frederickton for one Student	75	0	0
"	Newfoundland for two Students	90	0	0
"	Adelaide for two Students	180	0	0
"	Ontario for five Students	300	0	0
"	Sydney for one Student	40	0	0
Nov., 1873.	Adelaide for one Student	80	0	0
"	Auckland for one Student	100	0	0

The Committee added that of these grants, that to Frederickton had lapsed, owing to Mr. Neale, in aid of whose education it was made, having come to St. Augustine's College, Canterbury, for his education, where he had become an S.P.C.K. Exhibitioner. They further stated that of the two grants of 45*l.* each, made for the Diocese of Newfoundland, one had unfortunately lapsed through the death by drowning of Mr. White, in whose favour it was made. A very few pounds will have to be paid on account of this grant, since Mr. White had been at the Bishop's College in Newfoundland a short time.

Thus it appeared that out of the 975*l.* reserved, 120*l.*, or very nearly that sum, would not be claimed; so that out of the 2500*l.*, 855*l.* only was set apart for individual Students, leaving 1645*l.*, or very nearly that amount, still to be appropriated.

Independent Kaffraria.—The Committee added, that since the last Monthly Meeting, when permission was given to extend the application of this fund to places beyond the British Dominion, they had agreed to set apart 360*l.* (being at the rate of 15*l.* per annum for three years), for each of eight Native Students whom Bishop Calaway, of Independent Kaffraria, hoped to secure.

Diocese of Goulburn.—The Standing Committee further reported that they had, at the request of the Bishop of Goulburn, set apart the sum of 50*l.* in aid of the training of Mr. Fletcher H. Long at Moore College for one year.

Madagascar.—In reference to the following notice of motion, which was given by the Standing Committee at the last meeting, viz. they would to-day propose—

"That the grant of 1000*l.*, promised in for the endowment of the Bishopric of Madagascar, which will lapse in March, 1875, be renewed for a further period of three years at that time, on the same conditions as before."

"That a grant of 1000*l.*, to meet 400*l.* made to the Bishop of Madagascar, for general purposes of his see, the grant to be portioned by the Standing Committee, the Bishop on arriving in his See shall form his plans, and communicated them to the Committee; and that a second grant of 400*l.* be made, under similar conditions, to a second sum of 4000*l.*."

"And further, that Books to the value of 50*l.* be placed at the disposal of the Bishop."—the Standing Committee stated that the Bishop had, since he first appeared before them, that he had been over-sanguine when they thought that he should be able to 4000*l.* before he left England in June. The Bishop had met with much encouragement, hoped to leave England with a fairly good staff, but feared that, if the conditions proposed by the Standing Committee were attached to the Society's grant, it would be a long time before he could avail himself of any portion of it.

Under these circumstances, the Standing Committee, feeling it to be very important that the Bishop should not go out empty-handed, withdrew the motions of which they had given notice in March, begged at the present time to give a fresh notice to the effect that, at the next Monthly Meeting to be held on Tuesday, 12th May, they would propose,—

(a) That the grant of 1000*l.* promised for the endowment of a Bishopric in Madagascar, which will lapse in March, 1875, be renewed for a further period of three years from that time, on the same conditions as before, viz. that it shall have been actually raised from other sources.

(b) That a grant of 1000*l.* be put at the disposal of the Right Rev. R. K. Keastell-Cornwall, Missionary Bishop in Madagascar, for the purpose of assisting him to build churches, school-chapels, and a training college for native students in his diocese, and in aid of other purposes strictly in accordance with the ordinary operations of the Society, such purposes to be sanctioned by the Standing Committee; the Bishop to be at liberty to draw upon the Society for the said sum of 1000*l.*, so soon as he has matured his plans for the purposes indicated.

(c) That a further sum of 1000*l.* be granted to the Bishop for like purposes so soon as he has raised a sum of 4000*l.* from independent sources, the whole of this latter sum of 5000*l.* to be spent on such objects as those specified above.

(d) And further, that Books to the value of 50*l.* be placed at the disposal of the Bishop.

Diocese of Victoria, Hong-Kong.—The Standing Committee informed the Meeting that they had a very interesting statement from the Rev. John S. Burdon, Missionary Bishop of Victoria, Hong-Kong. The Bishop is anxious at once to revive St. Paul's College, to make it, according to its original purpose, a place in which to train Native Students for Holy Orders. Towards this College the Society has in former years contributed 2000*l.* The Bishop is to select from six to a dozen native youth, about sixteen years of age, baptized, or ready to be baptized, who should be trained specially for the ministry. The Bishop thinks that Missionary work is far enough advanced now in Hong-Kong Canton to give a reasonable hope of being able to do this.

He has ascertained from Mrs. Smith (widow of Bishop Smith), that in her opinion 250*l.* per annum for each student would be necessary, but that this would not include clothing.

The Bishop says that if S.P.C.K. would

Notices of Motions for the next Meeting by the Standing Committee.

The Rev. Newdigate Poyntz.—The Secretary read a letter from this gentleman, requesting him to give notice of a motion for the next Meeting. In order to conform to the rules of the Society, it was agreed to accept the notice in the following words:—

Mr. Poyntz to move, "That the Standing Committee be requested to consider the propriety of supplying Bibles containing the Apocrypha to members of the Society at the same price as Bibles of a similar size which have not the Apocrypha."

The Rev. H. A. Jeffreys gave notice that at the next Meeting he should move,—

"That on each recommendation of a grant for prizes in any diocese or archdeaconry, a short statement be made to the Society as to the approximate number of Pupil Teachers to be examined in such diocese or archdeaconry and the scale of prizes."

Letter of Thanks.

Diocese of Calcutta.—The following letter was read:—

"Calcutta, Feb. 18th, 1874.

"MY DEAR MR. SWABEY,—Another application has come in for a grant of 500*l.* to the Allahabad Girls' Schools. Rs. 5046 have been contributed by private liberality, and the Government of N.W.P. promises Rs. 10,000 to meet the Rs. 10,000 which, with your donation, the School Committee can offer.

"The conditions, therefore, being more than fulfilled, I shall be glad to receive your consent to the donation. I think the Society will be glad to see that in every case twice the amount of the donation of S.P.C.K. has been obtained through its liberality to this diocese.

"Sums already granted:—

"To Pratt Memorial (in two sums), Rs. 10,000, or 1000*l.*

"To Nynee Tal Schools (in two sums), Rs. 10,000, or 1000*l.*

"Simla Mayo Institute, Rs. 5000, or 500*l.*

"Mussoorie School, Rs. 5000, or 500*l.*

"I may add, that in three of these schools their distinctive Church character has been secured through the conditions attached to the grant. So that in every way I have reason to be thankful for this grant, and to hope that the Society will be pleased with its results.

"I need scarcely point out to you the growing importance of Allahabad, as the seat of Government of the N.W.P. and the union-point of traffic and commerce—as the junction-place of the two great rivers and two great railways of India.

"Yours truly in Christ,

"R. CALCUTTA."

Grants of Books, &c., recommended by the Standing Committee.

Grants of Books were then made, amounting to 170*l.* 0*s.* 8*d.*

For Schools, Lending Libraries, and Distribution, to the value of 199*l.* 10*s.* 10*d.*

Thirty-six Members were elected.

The next Monthly General Meeting will be held on Tuesday, 2nd June, 1874, at two p.m.

Tuesday, May 5, 1874.

Rev. Dr. CURREY in the Chair.

After Prayers the Minutes of the last Meeting were read.

Money Grants recommended by the Standing Committee.

Diocese of Fredericton.—The Bishop, writing from his diocese on the 28th of March, 1874, forwarded and strongly recommended an application from the Rev. Theodore E. Dowling, for a grant towards a new Sunday School Chapel being built at Fairville, a new Mission.

The congregation will consist mostly of "working people" in Lumber mills. Nearly $600.00 = 120*l.*, have been subscribed within the Mission, and it was hoped that the rest of what was required might have been secured without applying to the Society, but, unfortunately, nearly all the mills have "shut down" during the last few months.

The building will be frequently and regularly served, and a Sunday School, Bible Class, Confirmation, and Communion Classes held from time to time. The seats will be free and unappropriated.

It will require at least $1300.00 = 260*l.*, to complete it and the necessary arrangements. Contributions that may be relied on amount to $900.00 = 180*l.*

The Railway Station is now used as a Sunday School, and 95 children, with 11 teachers, attend on Sunday afternoons.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 25*l.* in this case, the Society's grant to be paid when the Bishop shall have certified that the receipt of it will lead to the immediate completion of the building, and to its being free from all liability for debt, and secured as the property of the Church for ever.

Diocese of Christ Church, New Zealand.—The Bishop, writing from his diocese on the 9th of March, forwarded and recommended two applications for grants in aid of new churches:—

1st. For a timber church to be built in the parish of Oxford, at an estimated cost of from 200*l.* to 250*l.*; towards this 65*l.* have been collected in the district, 10*l.* or 15*l.* more have been promised, and more is expected. The church is to accommodate 100 persons, and will be vested in "The Church Property Trustees." The population of the district is about 500; all of them are working people; most of them find employment as bush-men, and the remainder are small farmers; they are chiefly members of the Church of England. Both the Bishop and Mr. Opie, the Curate, speak in high terms of the exertions made by the inhabitants to provide themselves with this place of worship.

It was agreed on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 25*l.* in this case, on the usual terms, as stated in the previous case.

2nd. The second application was for a new timber church to be built at Fernside, in the parish of Rangiora, this without seats, prayer-desk, lectern, communion-rails, &c., will cost 243*l.*, or, altogether, not less than 300*l.*; it will accommodate 70 people; the population is from 250 to 300. The site is vested in "The Church Property Trustees."

The people with few exceptions are poor, being small farmers or labourers; they are principally of the Church of England. The people have exerted themselves very creditably, and some have gone almost beyond their means. The Bishop explains that this church is more costly than that at Oxford, owing to the fact of wood being very plentiful and cheap in the neighbourhood of Oxford, while all materials are more expensive in the neighbourhood of Rangiora.

As in the previous case, a grant of 25*l.* was made on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, and on similar conditions.

Diocese of Colombo.—The Bishop of Colombo, writing from his diocese on the 31st of March, forwarded and recommended an application for a grant towards a new chapel to be built in an outlying part of the district under the charge of the Rev. A. Mendis, Colonial Chaplain and Missionary of S.P.G.

The Bishop describes Mr. Mendis as one of his most active and valuable missionaries, and the portion of his district for which the chapel is to be built as the very poorest.

The chapel is to be called the Egodaboyana Chapel, and is to accommodate seventy-five. It is to be built of durable wood, such as jack, satin, &c., cabook stones and brick for the walls, and tiles for the roof, at an estimated cost of 100*l.*; of this, 36*l.* 4*s.* are in hand, 15*l.* 17*s.* 6*d.* promised, and about 10*l.* more is expected; 10*l.* 7*s.* 6*d.* have been raised on the spot. The population, which consists entirely of native Singhalese, is about 2000. The site is invested in the Bishop. The building has been under contemplation for upwards of ten years, but want of means has hitherto delayed it. In the meantime, two churches and two schools have been built in other parts of the district; now, however, Mr. Mendis says that he must go on with the building, for which he asks as liberal a grant as possible.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 25*l.* on the usual conditions.

Diocese of Orkney.—The Rev. Dr. Flemyng, of St. Cyprian's, Lenzie, near Glasgow, applied, as Commissary of Bishop Suther, who is at present abroad for his health, for a grant at Kirkwall.

The following extracts are from a printed paper forwarded by Dr. Flemyng, and signed by Bishop Suther, as Bishop of Orkney:—

"There are still resident, scattered through the seventy-nine inhabited islands of the Orkney group, several attached members of that ancient Church which, in 'days lang syne,' held so prominent a place both in the earlier Scandinavian, and in the after Scottish periods of our Northern Church history.

"Since the death of Dr. Bruce, however, in the year 1700, the Episcopal See of Orkney has been in abeyance, until it was reconstituted by the Scottish College of Bishops in the year 1864, when (to save its assumption by others) it was united with that of Aberdeen; Caithness being at the same time annexed to those of Moray and Ross.

Although we have been successful in replanting the Church in the more northern part of this diocese—namely, in Shetland—hitherto our efforts in Orkney have not been so fortunate, and our Church members there have been left far too long as 'sheep without a shepherd,' wholly cut off from all opportunities of obtaining for themselves or their families the sacraments and ordinances of the Church.

"Added to this is the fact that several of our old hereditary Episcopalians from fishing villages along our Scottish shores visit these islands periodically during the herring-fishing season; and most severely do they feel the want of their Church's ministrations during their frequently prolonged sojourn there."

In 1873 an "Orkney Diocesan Mission Fund" was established for the special purpose of procuring or erecting at Kirkwall a house for a resident Episcopal clergyman, together with a chapel adjoining; so that within the latter (until more permanent arrangements could be made) "the functions of the Church should be regularly dispensed," while the clergyman should itinerate as a missionary throughout the other islands.

Aided by a grant from the Aberdeen Diocesan Missionary Association and local subscriptions, the Mission of St. Olaf at Kirkwall was commenced last December, when the Rev. D. Maccoll (late curate of St. James, Ratcliffe Cross, London, E.) was licensed as priest in charge.

The Mission has greatly prospered; the temporary chapel is quite inadequate to accommodate the numbers attending the services, Presbyterians as well as Episcopalians: it is necessary to begin a church.

The plans and estimates have been prepared, and 800*l.* are required to erect a plain, substantial, but correct church for 200 persons, and capable of enlargement when needed. 300*l.* have been promised.

The Committee of Management are most anxious to begin in June, if possible, when the Bishop purposes holding a confirmation in Kirkwall, the first since 1693. A liberal grant is earnestly asked for.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 100*l.* in this case, the Society's grant to be paid when the Bishop shall have certified that the receipt of it will lead to the immediate completion of the building; to its being free from all liability for debt; and further, that the building has been secured as the property of the Episcopal Church in Scotland for ever.

Diocese of Jamaica.—The Bishop of Kingston, writing from his diocese on the 8th of April, forwarded an application which had been addressed to him and his Diocesan Council by the Rev. W. H. Whitfield, of St. Faith's. It appeared that Mr. Whitfield's object was to gain additional accommodation for 80 or 100 people in his church by the erection of a gallery at a cost of 100*l.*; that his parishioners, are all either peasants or labouring people; that in 1873, though there were not 300 registered members, they subscribed 217*l.* for Church purposes and have promised 180*l.* or 200*l.* for their clergyman's stipend. They have pledged themselves to raise 40*l.* towards the present proposed outlay, if they can be helped to the remaining 60*l.* The church is now so crowded that those who are anxious to attend are discouraged. On a recent Sunday, that immediately before the day on which Mr. Whitfield wrote, it was necessary to bring in benches from the school and chairs from the vestry, in order to afford seats for the people; and at the celebration of the Holy Communion there were more communicants than at any other celebration during the past decade; and the offertory amounted to 2*l.* 8*s.* 6*d.* Poor labouring people are giving their 2*l.*, 3*l.*, and even 4*l.* a year to support the work of the Church. The Bishop said that he was quite without funds from which to help this work, but hoped that, if the Society would encourage Mr. Whitfield with a grant, the rest would be begged somewhere.

The Standing Committee, regarding the case as an exceptional and a very interesting one, recommended a grant of 10*l.*, to be paid when that would lead to the immediate completion of the proposed enlargement.

Diocese of Athabasca.—The Right Rev. J. C. Bompas, who was consecrated Bishop of this diocese on Sunday last, the 3rd of May, applied for the means necessary to produce the following Books in the Cree language, for the use of his Missionaries and Converts:—

1st. 250 copies of an Elementary Catechism, to cost 2*l.* 8*s.*

2nd. 250 copies of a work on the Grammar of the Cree Language, for the use of Missionaries and others, to cost 36*l.* 5*s.* 6*d.*

3rd. 250 copies of Portions of the Book of Common Prayer, to cost 43*l.* 5*s.*

4th. 250 copies of "Faith and Duty," to cost 8*l.* 12*s.* 6*d.*

The Standing Committee informed the Meeting that Nos. 1 and 2 of these proposed Books are new; that No. 1 had been submitted to the Tract Committee and approved of by them for the purpose; while Nos. 3 and 4 are reprints; but that, unfortunately, the Books have to be set up afresh, since the stereotyped plates were destroyed some years ago by a fire at the printer's.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to sanction the expenditure of the sum necessary (90*l.* 11*s.*) to produce these Books, and to give the Books, when ready, to the Bishop.

Diocese of Moosanee.—Cree Hymns.—The Standing Committee informed the Meeting that formerly the Society had issued a small selection of Hymns in the Cree Language; that when the Bishop of Moosanee was in England last year, he had been told that the stereotyped plates of this Book had been destroyed in a fire at the printer's. The Bishop then expressed his wish to add to and otherwise improve the Book. The Rev. Henry Wright, of the Church Missionary Society, had received the MS., and requested that 2000 copies should be printed, and that 1000 should at once be forwarded to the Bishop of Moosanee. It had been ascertained that the cost of 2000 copies would be about 85*l.*

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 85*l.*, with a view to enable the Bishop of Moosanee to procure 2000 copies of the Hymn Book which he recommended.

Diocese of Bombay.—The Rev. Digby H. Cotes, writing from Bombay on the 28th of March, 1874, and acting as Secretary of the Bombay District Committee of S.P.C.K., applied for a grant of money for the production in India of a Translation of Dr. Maclear's Catechism in the Marathi Language. Mr. Cotes stated that the cost of 1000 copies complete would be 225 rupees, or 22*l.* 10*s.*, and that an additional 1000 copies could be had for a further outlay of only 105 rupees, or 10*l.* 10*s.*

The Standing Committee, finding that the Book had just been put on the Religious Supplemental Catalogue, recommended a grant of 33*l.*, for the production of 2000 copies, on the understanding that the proceeds of the sales of the Book should be returned to the Parent Society as a donation.

This was agreed to.

Book Grants recommended by the Standing Committee.

Book Grants, Special and Ordinary, were agreed to.

Grants recommended by the Standing Committee of which Notice had been given at the last Meeting.

Madagascar.—In accordance with notice given at the last Meeting, and for reasons which are stated at length in the Monthly Reports for March and April, the Standing Committee made the following proposals in reference to the work of the Church in Madagascar:—

(a.) That the grant of 1000*l.* promised in 1869 for the endowment of a Bishopric in Madagascar, which will lapse in March, 1875, be renewed for a further period of three years from that time, on the same conditions as before, viz. that 9000*l.* shall have been actually raised from other sources.

(b.) That a grant of 1000*l.* be put at the disposal of the Right Rev. R. K. Kestell-Cornish, Missionary Bishop in Madagascar, for the purpose of assisting him to build churches, schools, school-chapels, and a training college for native students in his diocese, and in aid of other purposes strictly in accordance with the ordinary operations of the Society, such purposes to be sanctioned by the Standing Committee; the Bishop to be at liberty to draw upon the Society for the said sum of 1000*l.*, so soon as he has matured his plans for the purposes indicated.

(c.) That a further sum of 1000*l.* be granted to the Bishop for like purposes, so soon as he has raised a sum of 4000*l.* from independent sources, the whole of this latter sum of 5000*l.* to be spent on such objects as those specified above.

(d.) And further, that Books to the value of 50*l.* be placed at the disposal of the Bishop.

The proposals of the Standing Committee were all agreed to.

Diocese of Victoria, Hong Kong.—The Standing Committee, in accordance with notice given at the last General Meeting, and for reasons set forth at length in the last Monthly Report, proposed that a sum not exceeding 1050*l.* should be put at their disposal, to enable them to provide for the maintenance of six Native Chinese students for Holy Orders, who should be selected by the Bishop of Victoria, and whose names should be submitted to the Standing Committee; it being understood that each Exhibition of 25*l.* should be made only for one year, capable of renewal for seven years, in case the student for whose use it was made should, in the Bishop's judgment, still give promise of becoming at the end of his course an efficient clergyman.

This motion was carried.

Christian Evidence Literature.—In accordance with notice given at the last General Meeting, and for reasons set forth in the last Monthly Report, the Standing Committee proposed that a grant of 1000*l.* be placed at their disposal, to enable them to continue the operations of the Christian Evidence Committee of the Society.

This motion was carried.

Indian Fund and Madras Mission Seminaries, &c.—The Standing Committee, in accordance with notice given at the last Meeting, and for reasons set forth at length in the last Monthly Report, moved that the sum of 1000*l.* should be placed to the credit of the Indian Fund.

This motion was carried.

Reports and Notices from the Standing Committee.

The promotion of Religious Education at home.—The Standing Committee reported that, during the few last weeks, they had been carefully considering how the Society could at the present time best assist the work of Religious Education at home: that they had appointed a Sub-Committee of their own body, who had held conferences and conducted correspondence with a great number of persons on this subject; that the advice of the two Archbishops and many of the Bishops, of the Diocesan Inspectors and many of her Majesty's Inspectors of Schools, and others, had been sought.

The result was that there was a pretty general testimony borne to the fact of there being, at the present time, an opportunity for making further grants for building and enlarging schools with the best possible effect.

The Government is now, in many cases, issuing notices to the managers of Church Schools that they must, within a specified time, effect certain improvements; or else that their Schools will not be passed as efficient public Elementary Schools for the purposes of the Act of Parliament.

Very strong, and almost universal testimony was borne to the vast importance of doing every-ing them to settle down and to cultivate the soil; and the Rev. W. C. Bompas being present, having stated that he had seen Mr. Hines, and that he considered his knowledge of farming would be of much service in the post to which it was proposed to send him—Mr. Hines was accepted as an Agent of the Society, and appointed to Green Lake as a Catechist and Industrial Agent.

The Rev. J. Long, being present, was introduced to the Committee, and gave interesting particulars in reference to his visit to Russia, and of the circulation of the Bible in that country; and also more lately of his visit to America, and of the interest taken in Missionary work in several of the colleges he had visited there.

Committee of Correspondence, March 31st.—The Rev. Alfred Clifford, B.A., Curate of St. Nicholas, Nottingham, having offered himself as a Candidate for Missionary employment; and letters having been read from several clerical friends of the Society, bearing high testimony to Mr. Clifford's Christian character and Missionary qualifications—the Committee thankfully accepted his offer, and appointed him, in the first instance, to Calcutta, to devote himself there to the study of the native language, and to assist in the duties of the Old Church.

The Secretaries having stated that Mr. J. Reader, a student in the Institution, had just completed his course of preparation, and that he appeared to the Visitors to be a suitable man for the post at Touchwood Hills, N.W. America; and the Principal of the Institution having borne testimony to the qualifications of Mr. Reader, the Committee appointed him to occupy the Station on the Touchwood Hills, and to be presented to the Bishop of Rupert's Land for Ordination.

The Rev. P. Ansonge, from the Mauritius, was introduced to the Committee, and gave very interesting particulars of the North Indian Coolies under his charge, and of the spirit of prayer and brotherly love existing among them. He expressed the joy that he had experienced in the work at Mauritius, and his earnest hope that it would please God to enable him shortly to return, and expressed his thankfulness that Mr. Schurr had been appointed to take his place. Mr. Schurr, being present to take leave of the Committee, was then addressed by the Hon. Clerical Secretary, and commended in prayer to the protection and blessing of Almighty God by the Rev. A. Kennion.

THE INCORPORATED SOCIETY FOR PROMOTING THE ENLARGEMENT, BUILDING, AND REPAIRING OF CHURCHES AND CHAPELS.

The Society held its usual monthly meeting on Monday, April 20, at the Society's House, 7, Whitehall, S.W., the Rev. S. W. Lloyd in the chair. There were also present the Revs. E. L. Cutts and John Evans; Messrs. John Boodle, Geo. Cowburn, J. F. France, E. Pepps, A. Powell, William Rivington, E. Thornton, and Rev. George Ainslie, M.A., Secretary.

Grants of money were made in aid of the following objects, viz.:—Building a church at Woolwich (St. Michael and All Angels), Kent; rebuilding the church at Brighton (St. James); Newington (St. Mary), Surrey; and Rogate, near Petersfield, Sussex; enlarging or otherwise increasing the accommodation in the churches at Bulham, near Romford, Essex; Homerton (St. Barnabas), Middlesex; Newnham, Gloucester; and Poplar (St. Matthias), Middlesex. Under urgent circumstances, the grants formerly made towards rebuilding the church at Denbigh (St. Mary), and towards re-seating and restoring the church at Holt, near Wrexham, were each increased.

Grants were also made from the School-children and Mission-house Fund towards building, &c., school or mission churches at Chadwick End, in the parish of Temple Balsall, Warwick; Clethrop, in the parish of Standish, Gloucester; Everton, St. George, Liverpool; Great Grimsby, St. James; Troedyrhiw, in the parish of Pontyrrhun, Glamorgan; and Wolborough, Newton Abbot, Devon. The Society likewise accepted the trust of a sum of money as a repair fund for the church at Knutton, Staffordshire.

A special choral festival service of this Society will be held in the nave of Westminster Abbey on the afternoon of Ascension Day, May 14th.

CHURCH PASTORAL AID SOCIETY.

THE annual meeting of the Church Pastoral Aid Society was held on Thursday, May 7th, at St. James's Hall, the Earl of Shaftesbury in the chair. The report and financial statement, which were read by Mr. Speck, the Hon. Secretary, showed the total receipts of the past year as 58,955*l.* 7*s.* 11*d.*, and the expenditure as 49,656*l.* 5*s.* 10*d.* The total increase in the receipts as compared with last year were 10,555*l.* 10*s.*, and the total receipts since the formation of the Society 1,365,282*l.* During the past year 17 grants had become vacant, and 105 new grants had been made. The existing grants were 577 to Clergymen, and 221 to Lay Assistants. To sustain these, an income of 61,844*l.* was required. The Society provided 772 additional public services on Sunday, 521 on week days, 818 schoolroom and cottage lectures, and 865 Bible classes; and its grants had led to the erection and opening, or keeping open, 318 churches or chapels, and the licensing of 282 rooms for Divine Service. Within the metropolitan circle, a population of 813,327, at a cost of 8185*l.*, were benefited. The total number of grants since the Society's formation was 2023. The receipts included 4000*l.* from the four sons of the late Mr. Wright, of Derby, in memory of their father, who had also been a most liberal supporter of this Society.

The Bishops of St. Asaph, Gloucester and Bristol, Mr. James Bateman, the Rev. W. Lefroy, St. Andrew's, Liverpool; the Rev. R. Billing, Holy Trinity, Islington; the Rev. Latimer Jones, Vicar of Carmarthen; the Rev. Hugh Stowell, Manchester; and the noble chairman addressed the meeting, advocating the claims of the Society to support, and giving an account of its long career of usefulness.

LAW.

JUDICIAL COMMITTEE OF THE PRIVY COUNCIL.

FRIDAY, MAY 1.

(Present the ARCHBISHOP of YORK, Sir J. COLVILLE, Sir B. PEACOCK, Sir M. SMITH, and Sir R. COLLIER.)

REID v. BURCH.

THIS was an appeal on the part of the Rev. John Reid, Vicar of Tregeon, Cornwall, against a judgment given by the Dean of Arches (see Ecclesiastical Gazette, Dec. 9, 1873, pp. 74, 75). The hearing of the appeal extended over four days, and at the conclusion, Sir James Colville announced that their Lordships would take time to consider their judgment.

THE REREDOS IN EXETER CATHEDRAL. (See "Ecclesiastical Gazette," January 12, pp. 85, 86.)

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 15TH.

The Bishop of Exeter delivered his judgment this day. In opening the Court, his Lordship said that Mr. Justice Keating, who had sat as assessor in this case, desired him to express his regret that he was unable to be present that day, as he was detained elsewhere by important duties. He then proceeded to read the learned assessor's judgment, which stated that the visitation was held in consequence of the petition presented to the Bishop of Exeter by the Venerable Chancellor and Archdeacon Phillpotts, praying him to exercise his power as visitor of the Cathedral of Exeter, and to visit the dean and chapter and inquire into the recent erection of a reredos in the choir of the cathedral with certain images thereon, not being on any tomb or painted window, such erection having been made, as alleged, without the bishop's consent, and the images aforesaid so placed being in themselves contrary to the laws ecclesiastical of this realm, and praying that on proof thereof being made clear to the bishop's satisfaction, he would order the removal of the images and the substitution of the Ten Commandments. A citation was accordingly issued to the dean and canons to appear on the 7th January, and answer certain articles annexed to the citation, touching matters in the petition. On the day appointed both parties appeared, though the dean and chapter appeared under protest, alleging that they were not bound to appear, that the bishop was not visitor of the cathedral, and had no jurisdiction in the matters contained in the petition. This question was argued by both sides, but it appeared to him that the evidence established the right of the bishop to visit the cathedral and the fabric thereof, and he therefore advised the bishop to overrule the objection of jurisdiction and proceed with the visitation, and it accordingly proceeded. On the answers of the dean and canons to the allegations of the petition two questions were raised. The first was whether the reredos could be legally erected without the faculty or consent of the bishop; and the second question was, whether the images thereon which were complained of were contrary to the laws ecclesiastical. He had taken time to consider both of these questions, and had given them all the attention in his power.

After an able and exhaustive argument upon each of these points, the learned assessor said he felt bound to advise the bishop that the petitioner had substantially sustained the allegations contained in his petition, that the reredos under the circumstances of its erection, without a faculty, had been erected contrary to the laws ecclesiastical, and that the images upon it were also illegal and contrary to those laws.

The Bishop then said that having now read the opinion of his learned assessor, in which the law and fact of the question before him were so ably and clearly stated, it remained only for him to say that he assented to and adopted that petition, and pronounced judgment in conformity therewith. Accordingly he, as visitor and ordinary, adjudged that the removal of the stone screen, which recently formed the east end of the choir of the cathedral, with the Ten Commandments thereon, and the setting up of a reredos with certain images thereon, in substitution of the said screen, without a faculty or other authority, was contrary to the laws ecclesiastical, and he further adjudged and declared that the images upon such reredos were illegal, and he ordered the reredos and images thereon to be removed, and that either a stone screen without images be erected, or the open ironwork lately erected and now standing on each side of the reredos be continued so as to occupy its place. He further ordered that the Ten Commandments be set up at the east end of the choir, in compliance with the terms of the canon, "where the people may best see and read the same." Having now delivered a formal judgment so as to found a right of appeal if the parties might be so advised, he thought it right to add that he should be quite ready to entertain an application for a faculty to vary the above order, and to make such arrangements as, without involving anything illegal, would contribute to the architectural beauty of the cathedral. The position of the petitioner, as chancellor, would throw no obstacle in the way, as he (the bishop) would himself hear the application. If there was no appeal, and the reredos was not removed, the petitioner might within a reasonable time apply for a monition to enforce the orders, of course giving the usual notice.

In answer to Mr. Phillpotts, the bishop said the monition would be to enforce the order against the respondents, who would have to take it down.

It has been announced that the dean and chapter will appeal against the above decision.

ARCHES COURT.

FRIDAY, APRIL 24.

(Before Sir R. PHILLIMORE.)

THE REV. W. H. RICHARDS v. THE REV. J. G. FINCHER.

Dr. TRISTRAM applied that letters of request signed by the Bishop of Winchester might be accepted by the Court in order that a suit be instituted against the Rev. Mr. Fincher, of Sea View Chapel, Isle of Wight, for officiating in the parish of St. Helen's, of which the Rev. W. H. Richards was vicar.—His Lordship referred to a special note in the letters, that Mr. Fincher had been licensed by the Bishop of Winchester's predecessor, and it was necessary that a decision should be obtained whether he was violating the law. The memorandum was novel, and might affect the question of costs.—Dr. Tristram cited a similar case.—The Dean of Arches said he ought to have remembered it as he was counsel in the cause.—The Court accepted the letters and decreed a citation.

CONSISTORY COURT OF CARLISLE.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 29.

(Before the Worshipful C. J. BURTON, M.A., Chancellor of the Diocese.)

BLAKE v. THE CHURCHWARDENS OF WETHERAL.

Judgment was given in this case, promoted by the Rev. W. Blake, Rector of Wetheral, against Mr. George Hoadley and Mr. Isaac Howe, Churchwardens of the same parish. (See Ecclesiastical Gazette, April 14, p. 127.)

The Chancellor said the real point at issue, and the only point on which he could give judicial decision, was as to the authority claimed and exercised by the churchwardens in this instance. His Worship discussed in detail the general question of the duties of churchwardens, and concluded by deciding that the defendants had acted in violation of the laws ecclesiastical, and must be admonished not so to offend again; that they must restore the vases so illegally removed and carried away; and that they be condemned in the costs of the suit. Judgment for the plaintiff, with costs, accordingly.

COMMISSARY COURT OF CANTERBURY.

LAMBETH PALACE.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 15.

MOODY v. THE REV. C. RANDOLPH.

(See "Ecclesiastical Gazette," April 14, p. 127.)

Dr. Tristram gave judgment in this case, in which an application was made for a faculty or licence to erect a monument to the memory of the late rector of Chartham Church, Kent, who had held the living for more than fifty years. The learned judge refused the application. The rector was willing that the tablet should be placed in any other portion except the chancel, and as the church was about to be restored, any further application would be considered. This application would be refused with costs.

Mr. George W. Brooks, proctor for Mr. Moody, gave notice of appeal to the Arches Court.

YORK.

THURSDAY, April 16.

(Before the Worshipful GRANVILLE EDWARD VERNON HARCOURT, Chancellor of the Diocese.)
ST. MARGARET'S, TOXTETH PARK, LIVERPOOL.

In this case the Rev. Charles Parnell, incumbent and perpetual curate of St. Margaret's, Toxteth Park, Liverpool, was called upon to answer a requisition for offending against the law, constitutions, and canons ecclesiastical, the particular acts being contained in voluminous articles. These charged Mr. Parnell:—

First, that at or immediately before the Communion Service he formed, or caused to be formed, a procession, accompanied by a boy bearing a vessel filled with incense, he himself wearing a long cope or robe, and that the procession so formed went round the church in a ceremonial manner, and that he had sanctioned or permitted other persons to act in like manner.

In article 2 he was charged with using lighted candles on the Communion-table as a matter of ceremony, and when lighted candles were not wanted for light, and also with sanctioning and permitting others to do so.

Thirdly, he was charged with wearing as a matter of ceremony a vestment called a chasuble, and with having sanctioned, or permitted others to do so.

Fourthly, with having when officiating at the Holy Communion worn vestments of divers colours, other besides and instead of those appointed and allowed by law; all these things being done as matters of ceremony and ritual.

A fifth article charged the respondent with mixing water with the sacramental wine, and also with allowing others officiating for him to do so.

He was next charged with, in the reading of consecration, turning his back to the people; also with elevating the paten in a ceremonial way, and the cup.

Further and concluding articles accused the respondent of celebrating solitary communion in the course of public worship.

Dr. Stephens and Mr. Jeune, on behalf of the defendant, took objection to the admission of the articles, on the ground that they were vague, and stated inferences of law instead of matters of fact.

Mr. Shaw then stated that the articles were drawn up from similar articles in the Purchas case. After further argument on the part of the learned counsel, the Chancellor intimated that he was with him, and should admit the articles.

Dr. Stephens asked that he should be granted a case on which to appeal.

The Chancellor expressed a strong opinion that they ought to go into the merits of the case at once; but the regular practice undoubtedly was that an appeal against a decision to admit articles should be decided before the merits of the case were entered upon, and the Court above must first decide as to the admissibility of the articles.

HOUSE OF LORDS.

MONDAY, APRIL 20.

DIVINE SERVICE IN THE CHURCH.

THE Archbishop of CANTERBURY brought under the notice of the House the present state of the laws regulating Divine Service in the Church, and moved the first reading of the Bill for the Better Administration of the Laws respecting the Regulation of Public Worship. He observed that he did not propose to make any change in ecclesiastical law, as if the time had come for some unsettlement of the great changes made at the period of the Reformation, for all he desired was greater facility for administering the law. A number of strange things, which the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council had condemned, continued to be practised, and from a statement which had been placed in his hands it appeared to be thought desirable in certain parishes that, among other innovations, a confessional-box should be introduced into the churches. He was not afraid of the people of this great country ever submitting again to the yoke of Rome, for he thought that as unlikely an event as the restoration of the Heptarchy, or the destruction of the admirable Constitution under which we live; but he believed if the sort of strange practices he alluded to went on, the plain, honest, and straightforward English people would have their confidence in the clergy of the Church of England shaken. It never was intended that it should be in the discretion of any young clergyman going down to a parish to upset everything that existed there before, for it was laid down that in a case of doubt or scruple he should refer to the Ordinary. It might be said that the law could be enforced in the Ecclesiastical Courts; but the delay and expense incident to those Courts constituted serious objections to invoking their intervention. It was, therefore, thought that these matters of controversy might in the first instance be decided by a Bishop in camera, and the expense of employing counsel might be dispensed with; but upon further consideration it appeared to be only fair to allow the incumbent, whose freehold interest might be interfered with, a more formal hearing, and this result seemed only obtainable by the formation of a somewhat novel tribunal, consisting of the Ordinary assisted by three Assessors. As the hearing of the case would be in the neighbourhood where they occur, he expressed a hope that the proceeding, which might be instituted by any parishioner, rural dean, or archdeacon, would be more summary and less expensive than the present process. It was also proposed that there should be an appeal from the Bishop to the Archbishop, who should have the right to send the matter for final decision to the new Court of Appeal. If the Bishop declared that the acts complained of should cease to be performed, he would then issue a monition under his hand and seal, forbidding them to be done in any church in his diocese, and it was proposed that the monition should take effect pendente lite. In conclusion, the Archbishop moved the first reading of the Bill, expressing his belief that the advantage of the proposed course of proceeding would be that there would be an end put to the wearisome complaints which at present reach the Bishops by every post, while the expense occasioned by keeping witnesses waiting in London would be obviated.

The Earl of SHAPPELTON said that there was a necessity for legislation on the subject, as at present the law could not be enforced.

Lord SELBORNE could not conceive that there would be any serious difference of opinion as to the necessity of legislation on the subject to which the Bill referred, as nothing was more certain than that no institution could prosper which had not power to enforce conformity with the law. He therefore thought that the Legislature was bound to take some step in the present condition of things, and he believed that any measure which would enable a clergyman, who conscientiously differed from his Bishop as to the mode of conducting Divine worship, to have the law settled in a summary and inexpensive manner would be beneficial in its operation.

Earl NELSON expressed an opinion that the first step which should be taken to put an end to the existing state of licence in the Church was to obtain a clear declaration of the law from the final Court of Appeal. He hoped that the second reading of the Bill would not be taken, as he heard was intended, on the very day on which Convocation was appointed to meet.

The Bishop of LINCOLN likewise gave expression to a desire that the Bill should not be pressed forward with indecent haste.

The Archbishop of York observed that it might be expected that in fixing the day for the second reading the convenience of all interested in the subject would be consulted. The Bill was a very simple one, its object being to put the law in force when once the law was thoroughly ascertained.

The Duke of RICHMOND observed that there could exist no desire to press forward the measure with intemperate haste, but every one must admit the necessity of endeavouring to put an end to the differences unhappily existing in the Church caused by over-zealous persons who endeavoured to introduce practices and ceremonies repugnant to the great mass of the people of this country.

The Bill was then read a first time.

The following are the principal provisions of the Bill:—

If the archdeacon, rural dean, or "any parishioner"—by which term is implied "a male person of full age who has and for one year next before taking any proceeding under this Act has had his usual place of abode in the parish within which the church is situate . . . or is owner or tenant of lands or tenements in the said parish—shall be of opinion that in such church any alteration in or additions to the fabric, ornaments, or furniture thereof has been made without a faculty from the ordinary authorizing or confirming such alteration or addition, or that any decoration forbidden by law has been introduced into such church, or that the incumbent has used or permitted to be used in such church or burial ground any unlawful ornament of the minister of the church, or that the incumbent has failed to observe the directions contained in the Book of Common Prayer relating to the performance, in such church or burial ground, of the services, rites, and ceremonies ordered by the said book, such archdeacon, rural dean, or parishioner may, if he think fit, represent the same to the Bishop," in a form specified in certain schedules annexed to the Bill. Having received the notification, the Bishop is empowered to take into consideration, and upon submission by the incumbent to issue his monition upon the subject. Failing such submission, the Bishop, assisted by assessors appointed under the Act 3rd and 4th Vict., cap. 86, sec. 11, may proceed to trial, in the formal and regular manner. A special clause provides that the fees of the registrar in cases of this kind shall not exceed three guineas. In the event of the judgment not being held satisfactory, appeal will be on the part of either side to the Archbishop of the province, who may either decide the matter himself, or transmit it to her Majesty in Council, the evidence in either case being strictly limited to that which has been already adduced, except under special circumstances. Whilst such appeals are pending the monition of the Bishop is to be considered valid, and whether appealed against or not, the incumbent is liable to be inhibited should he disregard its terms.

PATRONAGE IN THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND.

The Bishop of PETERBOROUGH moved for a Select Committee to inquire into the Laws relating to patronage, simony, and exchange of benefices in the Church of England. His Lordship commented on the scandal connected with the open traffic of livings, and urged that the powers of the Bishop to prevent the evils arising out of existing practices were very scanty. After describing some of the evils connected with the system of patronage, the Bishop explained that he did not propose to sweep away all patronage, and substitute for it popular election, in the power or wisdom of which he had no faith, but he thought that the evils complained of might be reformed, either by increasing the interest of the Patron in the trust, or by adopting safeguards against the abuse of the trust. He did not desire or think it possible to stop the sale of advowsons at the present time. Their sale was in the nature of a transfer of the trust, and was not morally wrong; but he heartily wished to do away at once with the sale of next presentations, and for this purpose he would enlarge the area of objection to improper appointments, giving the Bishop a power, which he did not at present possess, to object on the ground of personal incapacity resulting from age in the individual presented to a benefice. He would also provide that any persons who knew any cause why the individual presented to a living should not be appointed, and who acquainted the Bishop therewith, should not on that account be exposed to actions for libel; and he would free the Bishop from the hardship of having to pay heavy costs in endeavouring to oppose improper appointments. He did not see why the declaration against simony should not be taken by the patron as well as by the person appointed to the benefice. These were some of the reforms he desired to introduce in the law of patronage, and he was convinced that the best way of preserving patronage was to purify its exercise from abuse.

The LORD CHANCELLOR offered no opposition to the motion for a Select Committee, but expressed his opinion that the scandals complained of could all be traced, not to the bona fide sale of advowsons, but to the sale of next presentations. The existence of patronage in lay-hands had, in his opinion, been productive of great benefit to the Church, and he should object to any proposal which would injuriously affect the exercise of lay patronage.

The motion for the appointment of the Select Committee was then agreed to.

MONDAY, APRIL 27.

PUBLIC WORSHIP REGULATION BILL.

The Archbishop of CANTERBURY, in answer to an appeal from the Duke of MARLBOROUGH—who expressed a desire that the Public Worship Regulation Bill, which stood for consideration on Thursday, should be postponed to a later day, in order that the country generally, as well as the members of Convocation, should have further time for the consideration of its provisions—stated that he had no wish to press forward the measure with undue haste, but he thought that during the next three days the members of Convocation would have ample opportunity for considering the details of the measure, and he thought it desirable that the subject-matter of the Bill should be considered as speedily as possible.

The Marquis of BATH said that the Clergy, who would be bound hand and foot by the measure, had a right to ask for a postponement of the second reading of the Bill.

The LORD CHANCELLOR suggested that, as the Bill stirred the minds of great masses of the people, the second reading might properly be postponed for a few days beyond the time at present fixed for its consideration.

The ARCHBISHOP was willing to adopt this suggestion, and consented to postpone the second reading for a few days. The Bill, he said, was one on which it was right that Parliament should pronounce a distinct opinion.

COLONIAL CHURCH BILL.

In reply to a question of Lord BLACHFORD, the Earl of CARNARVON said that a number of answers had been received in reply to the Circular which had been sent in order to obtain from the Colonies the information desired by the Select Committee on the Colonial Church Bill; but the correspondence upon the subject was not yet completed. It related mainly to the dissolution of church property on the death of a Bishop. Out of nineteen colonies which had forwarded replies, fifteen were content with local Acts and opposed to Imperial legislation, and four only took an opposite view. The general conclusion he had arrived at from a perusal of the papers was that it was wiser for the present to rely on the Colonial Acts and Ordinances than to propose any measure to the Imperial Parliament.

THURSDAY, APRIL 30.

BOUNDARIES OF ARCHDEACONRIES AND RURAL DEANERIES BILL.

The Bishop of EXETER moved the second reading of this Bill, which provided that the provisions of the 6th and 7th Wm. IV., cap. 77, sec. 1, and the 3rd and 4th Vict., cap. 113, sec. 32, should be construed so as to authorize the severance of any portion of an archdeaconry or rural deanery, and the annexation of it to any other archdeaconry or rural deanery. It also authorized the creation of a new rural deanery under certain circumstances. His Lordship explained that the Bill was necessary to remedy certain inconveniences which had been found to arise under the existing state of things.

The Duke of RICHMOND said that the Government had no objection to make to the measure. The Bill was read a second time.

BISHOP OF CALCUTTA (LEAVE OF ABSENCE) BILL.

The Marquis of SALISBURY, in moving the second reading of this Bill, explained that some years ago a Bill was passed which gave greater facilities for certain Bishops obtaining leave of absence from their dioceses. It happened, however, that the Bishop of Calcutta was not included within its operation. The old rules did not allow a Bishop to obtain leave of absence until he had been ten years in his diocese, but then he might be absent for eighteen months. The new rules provided that a Bishop might have leave of absence after being five years in his diocese, but that the absence should then be only for six months. This, it was thought, was a much more satisfactory arrangement. The Bishop of Calcutta asked to be brought within it, and the present Bill would bring about this result.

The Bill was read a second time.

FRIDAY, MAY 1.

ENDOWED SCHOOLS COMMISSION.

In reply to Earl DE LA WAR, the Duke of RICHMOND stated, with regard to the powers of the Endowed Schools Commission, which, in the case of opposed schemes, expire next August, and unopposed schemes in December, that the question of their renewal was under the consideration of the Government.

MONDAY, MAY 4.

THE ENDOWED SCHOOLS COMMISSIONERS.

On the motion of the Bishop of BATH and WELLS, after a discussion in which Lord LYTTLETON, the Duke of RICHMOND, the Earl of DEVON, Lord REDESDALE, Earl FORTESCUE, the Marquis of RIPON, and the Marquis of SALISBURY took part, addresses were agreed to, praying the Queen to refuse her assent to the scheme of the Endowed Schools Commissioners for the management of the Ellsworth charity in Somersetshire, and of a school at Crewkerne, founded by John de Coombe in 1499.

THE BISHOP OF CALCUTTA (LEAVE OF ABSENCE) BILL was passed its final stage.

TUESDAY, MAY 5.

ECCLESIASTICAL REGISTRY.

On the motion of the Earl of SHAFFESBURY, returns were ordered from every Archbishop and Bishop holding a see in England and Wales, of the names, residence, profession or occupation, of every officer employed by him in the transaction of all matters of official business (if a clergyman his preferment), and the fees received by them in 1871, 1872, and 1873, and the nature of the duties performed. Also the amount of visitation and other fees.

THURSDAY, MAY 7.

ENDOWED SCHOOLS.

Earl BEAUCHAMP, Lord Steward, brought down the reply of her Majesty to the address presented to her, praying her Majesty to refuse her assent to the scheme of the Endowed Schools Commissioners, for the management of Timberscombe and Cutcombe School, stating that her Majesty withheld her assent to the scheme in conformity with their Lordships' desire; and also a similar reply in the case of Crewkerne school.

COLONIAL CLERGY BILL.

Lord BLACHFORD moved the second reading of this Bill, which, he said, was substantially the same as the Bill of last session. The Bill proposed to repeal the whole of the 3rd and 4th Vict., c. 33, for making certain provisions and regulations in respect to the exercising the office in England and Ireland by the clergy of the Episcopal Church in Scotland and the United States, and to make further regulations in respect to bishops and clergy of the United Church of England and Ireland. It also proposed to repeal sec. 2 of the 24th Geo. III., c. 35, secs. 2, 3, 4, and 5 of the 59th Geo. III., c. 60, and sec. 4 of the 5th Vict., c. 6, but not so as to render invalid anything lawfully done in conformity with any of them. The colonial clergy were not to officiate without permission from the Archbishop, nor to hold preferment nor act as curates without consent of Archbishop and Bishop, and any person so offending should be liable to a fine of 50*l.*, to be paid to the Governors of Queen Anne's Bounty.

The Earl of CARMARVON congratulated his noble friend in having adopted the wise course of introducing a less ambitious bill this session than that of last year on this subject. The question of the distribution of property, attempted to be dealt with by the Bill of last Session, could be better done by the colonial legislatures than by the Imperial Parliament. The status of the colonial clergy was no doubt of an unsatisfactory and anomalous character. The clergy in the colonies really occupied a variety of positions, and the object of this Bill was to place them all upon one simple and definite footing, a position inferior to that occupied by the Scotch clergy. By the consent of the Bishop of the diocese the clergy might remove to any other part of the United Kingdom, but under this Bill the clergy would require not only the consent of the Bishop, but also that of the Archbishop upon similar occasions. Their position, therefore, would be somewhat inferior to that occupied by the Scotch clergy, but it would be uniform throughout the whole body. So understanding the Bill, he believed that it would be of great advantage that such a measure should pass.

The Bishop of LONDON hoped that their Lordships would read the Bill a second time. Formerly there were hardships inflicted upon the clergy ordained under certain circumstances, but he would defy any Bishop to decide the position occupied by a clergyman ordained abroad. He believed that there were now officiating in England a number of clergymen, ordained abroad, who had no right to perform any ecclesiastical act.

The Earl of KIMBERLEY also hoped that the Session would not be allowed to pass without legislation being carried through in the sense proposed by this Bill. It was most desirable that the position of the colonial clergy should be placed upon an intelligible and rational basis. The Bill of last year proposed to deal with the property of the Church in the colonies, but he was glad to hear that it was now thought better to leave that to be dealt with by the legislatures in the colonies.

The Bill was read a second time.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

THURSDAY, APRIL 16.

CHURCHWARDENS' BILL.

Mr. MONK moved the second reading of this Bill, the intention of which, he explained, was to facilitate the admission of churchwardens to office.

Mr. B. HOPE thought that it was desirable that churchwardens should attend Archdeacons' visitations as frequently as possible, to consult with other officers of the Church on practical matters. He therefore moved that the Bill be read a second time that day six months.

Mr. SALT seconded the amendment, remarking that the proposals embodied in the Bill merely touched the fringe of a difficult question.

Mr. GOLDNEY thought that the Bill would remedy a known grievance.

Mr. MOWBRAY opposed the second reading.

The HOME SECRETARY thought that the best way would be to allow the matter to stand over till it could be dealt with by a more comprehensive measure. He strongly objected to having a series of small measures upon ecclesiastical subjects.

The Bill was negatived.

MONDAY, APRIL 27.

THE IRISH CHURCH SURPLUS.

Replying to a question put by an Hon. Member, in the absence of Mr. E. Davenport,

Mr. DISRAELI stated that there is no unappropriated balance proceeding from the disestablishment of the Irish Church. On the contrary, there is a debt amounting to 9,700,000*l.*, of which 8,400,000*l.* is due to the Commissioners for the reduction of the National debt, and 1,300,000*l.* to the Representative Body of the Irish Church. This will be paid off in seventeen years, and there will then remain terminable annuities of the capital value of 5,000,000*l.*, which will constitute the available surplus.

[The remainder of PARLIAMENTARY INTELLIGENCE is unavoidably postponed.]

CONVOCATION OF THE PROVINCE OF CANTERBURY.

BOTH Houses assembled on Tuesday, April 28, at Westminster, for the despatch of business.

The Archbishop arrived shortly after eleven o'clock. His Grace was accompanied by the Bishops of London, Winchester, Gloucester, Bath and Wells, Peterborough, Oxford, Chichester, Llandaff, Bangor, Lichfield, Hereford, St. Asaph, Rochester, Salisbury, and Ely.

The Latin Litany having been said by the Bishop of Salisbury,

The Prolocutor was presented to the President by the Dean of Ely.

The other formalities having been gone through, their Lordships retired to the Bounty office.

We hope to give a full account of the proceedings, both of the UPPER and of the LOWER HOUSE, in our next Number.

UNIVERSITY AND CLERICAL INTELLIGENCE.

Oxford.

MAGDALEN COLLEGE.

THERE will be an election at this college in June next to not less than four Demyships and one Exhibition. Of the Demyships one at least will be Mathematical, one at least in Natural Science, and the rest classical. The Exhibition will be in Mathematics.

In a Congregation held on Thursday, April 23, the following degrees were conferred:—

Masters of Arts.—E. D. H. Gray, Frederick B. Weatherly, Arthur W. Rücker, and George Edmundson, Brasenose coll.; William Little, Corpus Christi coll.; James R. Illingworth, Jesus coll.; G. W. Collins, Keble coll.; John Morley, Lincoln coll.; William D. Allen, Magdalen coll.; William E. Bolland, Merton coll.; William P. Smith, Arthur S. Foster, and William W. Garrett, New coll.; George T. Oldham, and Lord Balfores, Burleigh, Oriel coll.; John Arthur Jones, Pembroke coll.; Henry A. Redpath, Queen's coll.; William H. Colmore, St. John's coll.; Edwin Wallace, Henry Mooyart, James T. Smith, and Alfred E. Beavan, Worcester coll.; Edmund Walters, Magdalen hall; Isaac S. Leadam, Brasenose coll.

Bachelors of Arts.—Ernest P. Arnold, Richard J. Knowling, and Thomas A. Goodwin, Balliol coll.; John P. Way, Brasenose coll.; Arthur B. Tugwell, and Walter A. Moberly, Christ Church; Robert A. Jones, Corpus Christi coll.; Lloyd W. Griffiths, Jesus coll.

ORIEL COLLEGE.

Mr. John Cook Wilson, B.A., late Scholar of Balliol college, has been elected Fellow of this college. Mr. Wilson obtained a First Class in Mathematics at Moderations in Michaelmas Term, 1869, and a First Class in Classics at Moderations in Trinity Term, 1870; a First Class in the Final Mathematical School in Trinity Term, 1871; and a First Class in the Final Classical School in Michaelmas Term, 1872. He obtained the Chancellor's Prize for a Latin essay in 1873.

BRASENOS COLLEGE.

The following gentlemen have been elected to Scholarships at this college:—To Classical Scholarship—Mr. E. W. Rücker, of Clifton college; Mr. H. May, of Forest school, Walthamstow; Mr. F. G. Rücker, of Uppingham school; Mr. W. B. Taylor, Commoner of Brasenose college. To a Mathematical Scholarship—Mr. E. A. Germaine, of University college, London.

MERTON COLLEGE.

The following gentlemen have been elected to Classical Post-Masterships in this college:—Mr. Henry G. Strachey Codd, of Sherborne school, and Mr. C. Johnson Moore, of Dublin University.

ORIEL COLLEGE.

The following gentlemen have been elected to the vacancies at this college:—To Classical Scholarships—Mr. William Salkeld Brook, of Magdalen college school, and Mr. Harry Vernon Pigot, of New college. To an Adam de Browne Exhibition—Mr. William Herbert Keed, of Lincoln college.

WADHAM COLLEGE.

One of the Exhibitions founded at Wadham college, by Dr. Hody, "for the encouragement of the study of the Hebrew language," has been awarded to Mr. Alfred Thomas Hare, a scholar of this college.

QUEEN'S COLLEGE.

The following elections have been made:—Classical Scholars.—1. Basil Edward Seymour Stocker, Durham School; 2. Martin Inett Preston, Nottingham High School; 3. Bernard Keene Bourdillon, Haileybury School. Proxime accessit.—J. G. Lamb, St. Paul's School. Mathematical Scholar—Henry Blackwell, King William's college, Isle of Man. Natural Science Scholar.—Frank Harris, Manchester School. Eglesfield Exhibitioner—Henry Bernard Hodgson, Shrewsbury School. Hastings Exhibitioners.—1. Francis Michael Wright, Doncaster School; 2. Alfred John Tuckwell, Leeds School; 3. William Pratt, Bradford School. Holme Exhibitioner—George Herbert Dixon, St. Peter's School, York.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE.

An examination will be held at this college on Friday, May 29, and the following days, for the purpose of filling up three open Scholarships, two of the annual value of 80*l.* during residence, and tenable for five and four years respectively, will be adjudged by classical and general work, one of the same value and tenable for five years, will be given for Mathematics. Candidates who are members of the University must not have completed the fourth Term from that of Matriculation inclusive.

Cambridge.

WHEWELL SCHOLARSHIPS FOR INTERNATIONAL LAW. The Vice-Chancellor has given notice that there will be an election of two Scholars of International Law, on Dr. Whewell's Foundation, on Saturday, the 13th of June next.

The examination will be held in the Law school, and will begin on Saturday, the 6th of June, at nine a.m. The subjects of examination will be International Law and Moral and Political Philosophy. One of the two Scholars elected will be entitled to an annual payment of 100*l.*, and the other to an annual payment of 50*l.*, during the four years beginning October 1st, 1874, on condition that they severally keep by residence every University Term of that time, except in so far as they or either of them may have received express permission of non-residence from the Master and Seniors of Trinity college, or may hold a diplomatic or consular appointment under the Crown. The Scholarships are open to any person under twenty-five who shall have produced satisfactory evidence to the Master and Seniors of Trinity college that he is of good moral character; and any person elected to a Scholarship, if not already a member of some college in Cambridge, will be required thereupon to become a member of Trinity college. Any person elected to a Scholarship, and being already a member of some other college in the University of Cambridge, will be entitled, on application, to become a member of Trinity college. Candidates for these Scholarships are required to send in their names to the Vice-Chancellor on or before the 1st of June next, together with certificates of good moral character, to be submitted to the Master and Seniors of Trinity college.

MEDICAL AND SURGICAL DEGREES.

The first and second examinations for the M.B. Degree, and the examination for the Degree of Master in Surgery, will begin on June 11th, at nine a.m. The third examination for the M.B. Degree will be held on June 12th. Candidates intending to offer themselves for examination are requested to send their names and the necessary certificates to the Regius Professor of Physic (Dr. Fares) on or before June 1. A fee of three guineas is payable to the Registry by each candidate for the first M.B. examination.

THE CHANCELLOR'S MEDALS FOR CLASSICAL STUDIES.

The Chancellor's Medals for Classical Studies have been awarded to Walter Leaf, B.A., Trinity college, and Francis Hay Rawlins, B.A., King's college, who are declared equal in merit. Mr. Leaf and Mr. Rawlins were bracketed Senior Classics in the Classical Tripos of this year. The Examiners report that the following candidates, whose names are arranged alphabetically, distinguished themselves in the examination:—J. G. Butcher, Trinity coll.; Freese, St. John's coll.; Lloyd, St. Peter's coll.; Perry, King's coll.; Rendall, Trinity coll.

SIR WILLIAM BROWNE'S MEDALS.

Sir William Browne's Medals have been adjudged as follows:—Greek Ode: E. C. Selwyn, King's college; Latin Ode, not awarded; Greek Epigram: H. S. Salt, King's college; Latin Epigram: E. C. Selwyn, King's coll.

KING'S COLLEGE.

The order of merit in the competitive examination for Scholarships, &c., at this college, is as follows:—1. A. H. Cooke; 2. C. Bryans; 3. E. W. Howson; 4. E. W. Collins; 5. W. D. Grant. A. H. Cooke, C. Bryans, and E. W. Collins, were selected for Eton Scholarships; E. W. Howson, of Haileybury college, for an Open Scholarship. The second Open Scholarship was not awarded. The Price Exhibition (open to all candidates under twenty years of age and to undergraduates of the college in their first and second year) was awarded to W. D. Grant, Pensioner of this college, and formerly of Uppingham school. The Vintner Exhibition for Natural Science was awarded to H. G. Richardson, of the City of London school.

DOWNING COLLEGE.

The following gentlemen have been elected to Minor Scholarships of 60*l.* per annum at this college: A. Hill, for proficiency in Natural Science; F. Marryat, for proficiency in Mathematics; and H. W. Hunting, for proficiency in Classics.

At the Congregation on Thursday, April 23, the following Degrees were conferred:

Masters of Arts.—Tristram Frederick Croft Huddleston, and Alfred Johnson Tuck, King's coll.; Watson Failes, Sir William Hovel Browne Polke, Thomas Musgrave Francis, James Whitbread Lee Glaisier, Charles George Walpole, and Thomas Cradock Watson, Trinity coll.; William Allen, Alfred Henry Forster Binder, John Cooke Flemett, Charles Henry Fynes-Clinton, William Emerton Heitland, George Alexander Marshall, Edward Francis Miller, James Ebenezzer Reeco, George Augustus Starkey, John Sidney Adolphus Vatcher, John George Robert Wheatcroft, Francis Henry Wood, and William Spicer Wood, St. John's coll.; Robert Henry Wix, St. Peter's coll.; Cyril Locke Calliphronas, and John Arthur Pantou, Clare coll.; William Michael Spence, and Arthur Nugent West, Pembroke coll.; George John Romanes, Gonville and Caius coll.; Dennis Jacob Johnson, Barnard, Edward Anthony Beck, Alexander Augustus Berens, and William Blake Odgers, Trinity hall; Henry Collings, Edward Broughton Rouse, Charles Sharp, and Philip William Thomas Warren, Corpus Christi coll.; Adam James Glendenning Nash, Benjamin Charles Pidcock, Edgar Conway Pymont, and Ernest Temperley, Queens' coll.; Ernest Athorp, William Cawner, John Rogers Hutchinson, Ralph Neville, and Francis Augustus Hare (in absence), Emmanuel coll.; Henry Chichele Carlyon, and John O. Whall, Sidney Sussex coll.

Master of Laws.—William Blake Odgers, Trinity hall.

Bachelors of Arts.—Lord Inverurie, Trinity coll.; Henry Robert Field Canham, St. John's coll.

MISCELLANEOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The Church of Ireland Sustentation Fund.—The Archbishop of Canterbury has fixed Tuesday, the 19th of May, at three o'clock, for the annual meeting on behalf of this fund, to be held in the Library of Lambeth Palace. All the friends of the disendowed and disestablished Church of Ireland are invited to attend and support the Archbishop in his generous efforts on behalf of that Church.

Incorporated Church Building Society.—A Special Choral Festival Service of this Society will be held in the nave of Westminster Abbey on the afternoon of Ascension Day (May 14th). The sermon will be preached by the Dean. Application for tickets should be made to the Rev. George Ainslie, M.A., at the Society's Offices, 7, Whitehall, S.W.

Consecration of two Bishops.—On Sunday, May 3, the Archbishop of Canterbury, assisted by the Bishop of London, the Bishop of St. Asaph, and Bishop Anderson, consecrated Dr. J. McLean, Archdeacon of Manitoba, to the new See of Saskatchewan, and the Rev. W. C. Bompas, D.D., to the new See of Athabasca.

The sermon—from 2 Cor. x. 26, "To preach the Gospel in the regions beyond"—was preached by Bishop Anderson, formerly Bishop of Rupert's Land, out of which territory these two new Sees have been formed.

The offertory was divided in equal moieties between the new Bishops.

METROPOLIS.

Sion College.—The 243rd Anniversary of Sion College was held in the College Hall on Tuesday, the 5th of May, when the following appointments were made:—

President.—Rev. W. H. Milman, Rector of St. Augustine and St. Faith. Deans.—Rev. T. P. Dale, Rector of St. Vedast, Foster-lane; and Rev. W. H. Lyell, Rector of St. Dionis Backchurch. Assistants.—Rev. C. O. Collins, Rector of St. Mary Aldermanbury; Rev. W. S. Simpson, D.D., Rector of St. Matthew, Friday-street; Rev. L. B. White, Rector of St. Mary Aldermanbury; and Rev. J. W. Reynolds, Vicar of St. Stephen, Spitalfields.

SCOTLAND.

The annual meeting of the Edinburgh Diocesan Synod of the Scottish Episcopal Church was held on the 22nd ult., the Bishop of Edinburgh presiding. A motion was carried by 11 to 8 of the Clergy, and by 17 to 4 of the lay Synodsmen, expressing regret that no further steps had been taken during the past year to give the laity more power in the councils of the Church, and trusting that the important question of lay co-operation in the legislative action of the Church might, without undue delay, receive such attention from the College of Bishops as should lead to a satisfactory solution. It was agreed to take steps to endeavour to procure such an alteration and amendment of the law of marriage as might legalize in Scotland banns proclaimed in England.

TITHE AUDIT.

To the Editor of the "Ecclesiastical Gazette."

SIR,—My experience in getting in my tithe was very similar to "Rector's." Possibly it may be of service to him. I will briefly give it.

For ten years I was in the habit of appointing a day six weeks after the tithe was legally due for receiving it. Very often three months elapsed before it was paid. I was determined to make a reformation. Accordingly, last autumn I issued notices that henceforth I should receive it on the very day on which it fell legally due. Most of the tithe-payers paid up pretty punctually. One didn't, and, as I heard, wouldn't till the usual six weeks had elapsed. Accordingly I served him with a formal notice (printed forms of which are easily procurable). After an interval he paid his tithe minus the 2s. 6d. which by Act of Parliament he was bound to pay for the notice. Remonstrance was unavailing. I therefore put the matter in an auctioneer's hands, and gave him authority to seize. He seized a sack of beans. The defaulter thereupon paid the 2s. 6d. and expenses. Since that time he has paid pretty punctually.

Tithe is very easy to recover, and there is no need to employ a lawyer, and no expense attached to it. "Rector" has only to serve a notice, which he can do by post. I recommend him to procure the Tithe Acts in one volume, which may be had of Shaw and Sons, Fetter-lane, price 2s. 6d.

Tithe is in fact rent, and should be paid to the tithe-owner with the same punctuality as rent to the land-owner. Tenants dare not treat their landlords as they often treat the tithe-owner, and the sooner they are made to understand that the better.

It is very unpleasant to have to threaten legal proceedings, especially where a parishioner is concerned; but thanks to an Act of Parliament, this disagreeableness is obviated, and the recovery of tithe is rendered the most simple and inexpensive matter conceivable.

A VICAR.

To the Editor of the "Ecclesiastical Gazette."

SIR,—In answer to "A Rector," I beg to say that I collect my own dues—only once a year—I sit at the receipt of customs for about one hour; after which I give the tithe-payers a plain dinner, and then we discuss parish matters, talk of the past, and lay out schemes for the future; this promotes harmony and peace, and the latter as well as the former is worth anything in a parish, and I seldom or ever have a defaulter.

I am, dear Sir, yours sincerely,

B. MANDALE.

TITHE RENT-CHARGE.

To the Editor of the "Ecclesiastical Gazette."

SIR,—"A Country Clergyman," in your last Number, counsels the Clergy not to pay land tax where a recent claim has been set up to include the tithe in the assessment, until the fullest inquiry has been made as to its redemption.

I beg to remind the Clergy, that by the Act 46 Geo. III. c. 133, all Livings were exonerated from land tax in cases where the whole annual value of each Living did not exceed 150*l*. This will account for the exemption of many small Livings from land tax assessment. And I advise the rectors of small Livings to examine carefully into their assessments, and, if necessary, to write to Somerset House respecting them.

D. G.

To the Editor of the "Ecclesiastical Gazette."

SIR,—Will your correspondent, "A Country Clergyman," inform the Clergy what steps to take towards getting information whether the land tax on their tithe has been redeemed or not?
AN INCUMBENT.

To the Editor of the "Ecclesiastical Gazette."

SIR,—It may be useful to those Clergy whose tithe rent-charge has been recently assessed to the land tax, to know, that by the Act of the 53 George III. cap. 123, many Livings were exonerated from the land tax, and that although the tithes belonging to a Living were not assessed at the period of the exoneration of the Living, they subsequently became likewise exonerated from assessment to the land tax, under the provisions of the 38th section of the Act 53 Geo. III. cap. 123. By this Act, the Lords Commissioners under the great seal were authorized to exonerate Livings and Charitable Institutions from the land tax, where the clear annual income does not exceed 150*l*. In my case the Living was exonerated by those Commissioners on the 25th March, 1811. The Surveyor of Taxes gave me much trouble, and I only escaped by information derived from the Registrar, Land Tax Redemption Office, Inland Revenue, Somerset House, W.C.

E. H. D.

The next Monthly General Meeting will be held on Tuesday, 7th July, 1874, at two p.m.

SOCIETY FOR PROMOTING CHRISTIAN KNOWLEDGE.

67, Lincoln's Inn Fields.

Tuesday, June 2, 1874.

Dr. HESSEY in the Chair.

After Prayers the Minutes of the last Meeting were read.

Money Grants recommended by the Standing Committee.

Bishop Macrorie, of Maritzburg.—The Standing Committee informed the Meeting that the Bishop, writing from Maritzburg, in September last, had stated he had at that time recently opened a small wooden church with a thatched roof at Tongati, in the county of Victoria, to accommodate sixty people. This church had been erected at a cost of 150l., through the most praiseworthy exertions of the Rev. E. H. Shears and the inhabitants, on a site given by a resident proprietor. The Bishop was anxious to render the building more durable, and better suited to the climate by covering it with brick. The Standing Committee added that this letter had been before them in November last; but that it was then found necessary to make further inquiries as to the cost of the proposed undertaking, the security of the property for Church purposes, and its freedom from liability for debt.

The Standing Committee reported that Bishop Macrorie had subsequently, in a letter dated Maritzburg, 28th March, 1874, supplied this information. The property is free from debt, and has been transferred to the Diocesan Trustees; the probable cost of the brickwork is estimated at from 35*l.* to 40*l.*; towards this sum, at the time when Mr. Shears, the clergyman of the District, wrote to the Bishop, nothing was in hand. The Bishop explained that the people could not do more than they had done without diminishing their contributions for the support of their clergyman; that, in fact, whatever more was raised on the spot, must come out of Mr. Shears's own pocket.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 20*l.* for this work, and that the Society's grant should be paid so soon as the Bishop should have certified that the receipt of it would lead to the immediate accomplishment of the object he had in view.

Diocese of Bombay.—The Bishop of Bombay, writing from his Diocese on the 15th of April, forwarded and recommended an application from the Rev. G. C. Reynell, on behalf of the Diocesan High School.

Mr. Reynell stated, on behalf of the Committee of the School, to which he is Secretary, that the school was founded in 1866 with a view of giving to Europeans and Eurasians an education up to the Matriculation standard. The religious teaching is that of the Church of England. Boys and girls are received as boarders and day scholars.

The present Head Master was formerly Second Master of Albert College, Framlingham. An English lady has charge of the girls' department, and is assisted by a Certificated Mistress.

The school is in connexion with the Diocesan Board of Education, by whom the building was purchased, and it receives grants from that Board and from the Government.

The fees paid by scholars are as high as can be charged without injury to the attendance. But altogether the income is too small for the efficient working of the school, which languishes in consequence.

It is of great importance that the school should be in a vigorous condition, because it is the only Church of England High School.

There is a Roman Catholic Arts School; there are also two High Schools connected with the Presbyterians.

A collapse of the Diocesan School would leave higher education in other than Church of England hands, and even the present languishing condition of the school is the cause of some Church of England boys being sent elsewhere to study for matriculation.

The application is for a grant of 100*l.* a year for two years, towards maintaining the efficiency of the school. Two years are named as the period for which a grant is asked, because the Diocesan Board of Education have resolved to raise an Endowment Fund for the school, subscriptions to which are to extend over that period.

The Bishop, as President of the School Committee, heartily supports the application, and wrote as follows:—

"In consequence of their priority in the field, and of other circumstances, which give the Roman Catholics and Presbyterians great present advantages in the work of middle-class education, the work of the Diocesan Board is now carried on with great difficulty, and the difficulty will probably continue until a capital sum has been raised.

"It is considered that a period of two years will suffice for raising this sum, and if the Society can aid us during that time, it will do a great service to the cause of Church education."

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 100*l.* a year for two years, for the purposes stated in this application; but to make it distinctly understood that the Committee of the school must not expect a continuance of this grant after the expiration of two years.

Diocese of Rupert's Land.—The Bishop of Rupert's Land, in a letter dated Bishop's Court, Manitoba, Canada, 25th April, 1874, applied for a grant for a new church, to be built at Winnipeg, a rapidly increasing new town in his diocese.

The Bishop says, that about three years ago the population of Winnipeg was only about 800, while it now numbers nearly 4000, and there is a possibility of its being increased to 7000 in the course of the present season. The wooden church originally erected has been already doubled, and is far too small, and is besides in every respect a wretched building.

A great effort is being made to put up a church that will hold at least 700 people. "This is," the Bishop says, "a great necessity for the church, but it is hard to see how it is to be done. Labour and all necessities and material, from the demand and the small population yet here, and the total want of the usual facilities for conveying goods, come to an enormous expense. It is doubtful if $10,000 would go further here at present than $5000 in Ontario or Quebec. There are great difficulties in the way of erecting here yet, worthy brick or stone buildings; there is a want of properly skilled men, as well as of a thorough knowledge of the material. The result is, that the utmost that I think can be done will be the erection of a good wooden church, costing, with fittings, probably $12,000 = 2400*l.* I dare say such a church some twelve or twenty years hence will not satisfy the congregation likely to grow up at Holy Trinity, and so will after all only be a temporary church. But these early years are all important in our present growing condition, and we must work for them if we are to enter on the future in its good time. The Church here is constantly losing ground from our want of accommodation for those who would attend. The building of such a church is a vast effort for the new comers that altogether make up the population. But they are disposed to be very liberal, and it must be remembered that their minister and ordinary church expenses will this year come to little short of $2000 = 400*l.*" The bishop goes on to say, that villages are springing up in every direction which need help for a variety of church purposes, and that the claims upon him and the people of Manitoba are very frequent and pressing. He urges that for the church at Winnipeg the Society should offer $1000 = 200*l.*, to be paid when $5000 have been raised by the people. The bishop will on similar conditions then offer $500 = 100*l.* himself. "Success in this undertaking is," the bishop says, "all important, and the work should be commenced this summer."

The Bishop has 200*l.* voted by the Society in February, 1872, at his disposal for church building, but the whole of this sum, or very nearly all of it, has been virtually promised. The needs for church-building are already very great, but are as nothing to what they must be when the railways are completed, and the fertile district becomes easily accessible to the ordinary emigrant.

It was agreed, upon the recommendation of the Standing Committee, to grant 200*l.* for the erection of this church, and that the Society's grant should be paid when the Bishop should have certified that 1000*l.* had been raised by the people, and that the receipt of the 200*l.* would lead to the immediate opening of the building for Divine Service, and to its being free from all liability for debt and secured as the property of the Church for ever.

Brighton Training College.—The Standing Committee informed the Meeting that the Rev. H. H. Wyatt had applied to know whether there was any probability of a renewal of the grant made by the Society in 1872, of 240*l.* for the training during two years of sixteen additional female students, or of any portion of that amount.

The former grant had enabled the Committee of the College to make temporary provision for educating sixteen additional students, namely, sixty-five instead of forty-nine. Mr. Wyatt wrote as follows:—

"Our Committee feel that, as from candidates for admission and teachers keeps up without falling off, it would be a matter of regret that this training school should be compelled to break up its supplement and to revert to its original forty-nine students. As the house is up, we could do with a grant in aid of one additional student, i. e. 160*l.* for students for another term of two Christmas next."

The Standing Committee informed that, in consideration of the very pressure of providing a sufficient supply of specially-trained teachers for elements they had agreed to recommend a grant to the Brighton Training College, at a reduced rate.

They accordingly recommended the addition of there being sixty-five students next January, a grant of 50*l.* for sixteen of such students be made for 1875, and that a further grant of 50*l.* be made for the year 1876, on condition of being sixty-five students in residence of that year; in all 160*l.*, for the sixteen additional students for two years.

The Committee of the college, in other similar cases, to be given to them that they must not expect any further these grants.

The recommendation of the Standing Committee was agreed to.

Salisbury Diocesan Training School.—The Rev. W. D. Morrice applied, on behalf of the Committee of this School, to know whether the S.P.C.K. was likely to continue grant maintenance of additional Students.

In this case permanent addition has been made to the building, which now furnishes accommodation for eighty-two instead of seventy Students. For the training of the Students for two years, the Society grant for eleven Students admitted in January, 1875, and, secondly, a further sum of 180*l.* for additional Students admitted in January, 1876, in all 300*l.*

The applications for admission are more numerous than ever, and the demand for Teachers far above the power of the Committee to supply. The number that can be admitted next January will depend upon the assistance of the Society.

The Committee of the Training School took, if the Society renewed its grants for a period of two years, to do their part to bring the full number to eighty-two.

It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, and on condition of the number of eighty-two Students being maintained to grant (1st) 50*l.* per annum for two years each of eleven additional Students to be admitted in January, 1875; and (2ndly) 50*l.* per annum for two years for each of nine additional Students to be admitted in January, 1876; in all 200*l.*, for the training of twenty additional Students for two years. The Committee is told that they must not expect a renewal of these grants.

Truro Training College.—In like manner Barham, Esq., M.D., Treasurer of this College, inquired whether the S.P.C.K. would renew grant of 105*l.*, made in 1872, for seven additional Students, who were admitted for two years in January, 1873, and whose course of training expires at Christmas next.

These additional Students have been accommodated in a rented house; and it is now necessary for the Committee of the college to determine whether they will continue to rent the house for another period of two years at Christmas, 1874.

Dr. Barham says:—
"The little off-school from this college, established through the impulse given by S.P.C.K. has fulfilled its intention most satisfactorily, as this year all our room is occupied by Queen's scholars."

It was agreed, on conditions similar to those made in the cases of Brighton and Salisbury, to grant of 5*l.* per annum for two years from January, 1875, for each of seven additional students, in all 70*l.*

Book Grants recommended by the Standing Committee.

Book Grants, Special and Ordinary, were agreed to.

Book Prizes for Students in Training Colleges.

The Standing Committee reported that they had received an application from the Rev. Canon Cronwell, Principal of St. Mark's, for a grant of Books to be given as prizes to those students who should be placed in a first class in an examination in Religious Knowledge, to be conducted under the auspices of the National Society in the ensuing autumn.

The Standing Committee recommended that S.P.C.K. Books should be offered for the purpose named, to Church Training Colleges generally, equal in value to the amount expended in books by the Managing Bodies of such Colleges for the same purpose—the Books purchased by the Managing Bodies not necessarily to consist of those published by the Society.

The Committee further recommended that the managers of Training Colleges should be instructed not to depend upon a renewal of these grants after the present year.

The recommendations of the Standing Committee were agreed to.

Grants recommended by the Standing Committee of which Notice had been given at the last Meeting.

Promotion of Religious Education at Home.—In accordance with notice given at the last Meeting, and for reasons stated at length in the last Monthly Report, the Standing Committee moved—

1st. That a grant of 5000*l.* be placed at their disposal, to enable them to assist in building and enlarging Church Schools throughout the country, so as to bring them up to the standard of efficiency required by the Government.

This resolution was carried, with the addition, in rider, of the words "that it be an instruction to the Standing Committee that every possible precaution shall be taken to ensure that schools so aided shall be continued in connexion with the Church of England."

2nd. The Standing Committee proposed that they should be empowered, out of the sum of 500*l.*, which had been set apart in February, 1873, for promoting the efficiency of Sunday schools, to make grants in aid of renting School and Schools for Sunday-school purposes, and otherwise promoting the efficiency of Sunday schools.

This resolution was carried.

Examination in Religious Knowledge of Students in Training Colleges, &c.—The Standing Committee then, in accordance with notice given at the last Meeting, and for reasons set forth in the last Monthly Report, proposed that—

"The sum of 400*l.* be put at the disposal of the Archbishops of Canterbury and York, in order to enable them to secure the examination religious knowledge of candidates for admission to Church training colleges, and of those teaching teachers who sit for certificates, and also enable the Archbishops to provide for the *vidu*e examination of the students in the several training colleges."

This proposal was adopted.

Prizes to those Admitted to Church Training Colleges and to Pupil Teachers for Religious Knowledge.—In accordance with notice given at the last Meeting, the Standing Committee proposed—

1st. That the Society should offer prizes in money to the value of 5*l.* each, to all those candidates for admission to training colleges who shall be placed in the first class by the Archbishop's Examiner in Religious Knowledge, and who shall be admitted to some Church training college.

This resolution was carried.

The Standing Committee proposed—

2ndly. That S.P.C.K. Books be granted to diocesan and other local boards of education to meet an equal outlay in books (which need not necessarily be those published by the Society) on the part of the boards assisted; the whole of the books to be given as prizes for religious knowledge to pupil teachers or candidates, after central or simultaneous examinations; it being a recommendation that Diocesan Boards should require all pupil teachers, &c., to whom they give prizes, to produce certificates from the clergymen of their respective parishes as to their good, religious, and moral conduct.

This resolution was carried.

Reports and Notices from the Standing Committee, &c.

Report of the Auditors.—In accordance with Rule XLIV., the Auditors' Report upon the accounts for the year ending 31st of March, 1874, was laid before the meeting.

By permission of the Chairman a vote of thanks to the Auditors was proposed. The vote was unanimously carried.

Circulation of the Society's Publications.—The Secretary stated that the circulation of the Society's publications during the year ending 31st March, 1874, as compared with that of the previous year, was as exhibited by the following figures, which had been laid before the Standing Committee by the Superintendent:—

	1873-74.	Issues.	1872-73.
Bibles . . . . .	183,511		192,475
New Testaments . . . . .	60,164		75,509
Common Prayers . . . . .	415,525		442,863
Other bound Books . . . . .	2,674,644		2,805,008
Tracts, &c. . . . .	4,980,137		2,238,552
	8,231,279		5,860,406
	5,980,406
Increase . . . . .	2,370,873

Madras Mission Seminaries and Female Schools.—The Standing Committee informed the Meeting that they had, out of the 1000*l.* which was voted to the Indian Fund on the 5th of May, and for reasons set forth at length in a letter from the Rev. C. Egbert Kennet, which was printed in the April Monthly Report, agreed to set apart 150*l.* a year for three years for both of the objects specified in Mr. Kennet's letter, viz. the Female Schools and the Mission Seminaries—in all 900*l.*

The Standing Committee added that Mr. Kennet was to be given to understand that he must not depend upon a renewal of these grants, which will expire in June, 1877; and that if application for a renewal of them were made, it must be submitted in good time, and before any steps had been taken in dependence upon further help from the S.P.C.K.

Diocese of Antigua and Canning's Fund.—The Standing Committee reported that they had since the last Meeting, at the request of the Rev. Thomas Owen, who acted on behalf of the Bishop of Antigua, made a grant of 5*l.* out of Canning's Fund, for payment of a portion of the passage-money of the Rev. R. de M. Dodsworth, to Antigua.

Diocese of Bloemfontein.—The Standing Committee reported that the Bishop of Bloemfontein, writing from his diocese on the 26th of March, 1874, had made application for assistance out of the Special Fund at the disposal of the Standing Committee, for the training of native students for Holy Orders abroad:—

That the Bishop's application was for the maintenance of Cornelius Lekoke, a young man of about twenty-three years of age, nephew of a chief of part of the Barolong tribe. This young man was baptized on Easter Eve, 1873, has since been confirmed, and is a communicant, and is at the present time at the Kaffir School, Grahamstown, under the care of Mr. Mullins, the Principal; he is being educated at the expense of 10*l.* a year, for four years. This sum is for the present supplied by one of the Missionaries, for the sake of promoting the conversion of Barolong.

There seems to be every prospect of this young man becoming an efficient clergyman; he has already, with the approval of his friends, definitely promised to serve as a Catechist with the Bishop's licence.

The Standing Committee reported that they had granted 10*l.* a year for three years in this case, out of the fund already at their disposal for the purpose.

Diocese of Rupert's Land.—The Standing Committee reported that they had, at the request of the Bishop of Rupert's Land, set apart the sum of 120*l.*, out of the 2500*l.* put at their disposal in April, 1873, for the training in the diocese of Rupert's Land, of a young man, colonial-born, for Holy Orders, for a period of four years. The Bishop undertook that the Society's grant, at the rate of 30*l.* a year, should be met with an equal sum.

Diocese of Saskatchewan.—The Standing Committee informed the Meeting that the newly-consecrated Bishop of this diocese, writing from 15, Dagmar-road, Camberwell, on the 21st of May, 1874, had applied for an alteration of the conditions on which the Society, in May, 1873, voted 1000*l.* for the endowment of his See. The conditions then laid down were, that the Society's grant should be met by a sum of 9000*l.*, to be raised elsewhere, and that it should be payable in two instalments of 500*l.* each, to meet 4500*l.*

The Bishop had represented that the Committee which existed for raising the Endowment Fund, of which Sir Stafford Northcote is chairman, had agreed that it would be desirable that the Bishop should proceed to his diocese, so soon as the sum of 5000*l.* had been collected, the Council of the Colonial Bishops' Fund requiring that this amount should be actually invested before they will pay the sum of 500*l.* which they have granted for the endowment.

In order to enable the Bishop to go out at once, the S.P.G. had agreed to grant 200*l.* a year, for three years, towards the Bishop's income, on the understanding that at the end of that time, if the total sum of 10,000*l.* be not already made up, the Bishop shall himself make a fresh effort to complete the Endowment Fund.

The Bishop now urged that the S.P.C.K. should, under these circumstances, at once pay their whole grant of 1000*l.*, towards making up the 5000*l.* required, before the 500*l.* could be secured from the Colonial Bishops' Fund, the sum to be paid to the S.P.G. as trustees.

The Standing Committee gave notice that, at the next Monthly Meeting they would propose that the conditions on which the Society's grant of 1000*l.* was made in May, 1873, should be modified, so as to admit of the whole grant being paid, so soon as 4500*l.*, independently of the Colonial Bishops' Fund grant of 500*l.*, should have been actually invested in a manner satisfactory to the S.P.G.

Diocese of the Saskatchewan.—The Standing Committee also submitted the following extracts from a letter which they had received from the Bishop of Saskatchewan:—

"I should feel very much indebted to the S.P.C.K. Committee for some aid towards the work of my diocese under the following heads:—

"1. We require four or five small churches or school-chapels; they are needed both where emigrants are settling and where Indians can be officers of the Society. That it be the duty of the returning officers to ascertain whether persons nominated be willing to serve, and to insert the names of such persons, and those only, in the voting papers sent to the Incorporated Members in their several dioceses. That the whole of the documents relating to each such election be classified and filed in the Society's office immediately on its conclusion, and there retained open to the inspection of any Incorporated Members for a period of eighteen months."

The Secretary, on behalf of the Standing Committee, proposed the following Amendment:—

9A.—"That, with a view to give to country members of the Society a more distinct voice in the management of the Society's affairs, and to encourage their interest in Missionary work, Diocesan representatives, not being paid officers of the Society, be appointed, who shall have the privilege of attending and voting at the Standing Committee. That in those dioceses where there exists any representative Church Body, summoned and presided over by the Bishop, and meeting periodically, such Body be invited to select from the Incorporated Members of the Society resident in the diocese, two persons, a clergyman and a layman, to be diocesan representatives. That in those dioceses where no such Body exists, the Incorporated Members be invited to select, by some method to be approved in each case by the Standing Committee, a clergyman and a layman, from their own body, to be (with the concurrence of the Bishop) the representatives of that diocese. That the representatives to be appointed under the foregoing resolutions be elected triennially; such election shall be submitted to the Society for confirmation at the Monthly Meeting next after the completion of such election; that in the event of a vacancy by death or resignation, a new election be held, either within three calendar months where the election is by Incorporated Members, or at the next Meeting of the Diocesan Conference where such Conference is held."

On a division, the amendment was carried.

On being put as a substantive motion, an amendment was moved by T. Turner, Esq., and seconded by Rev. J. W. Buckley, "That the whole discussion of this subject be adjourned to the Meeting in May, 1875," which was carried without a division.

8. Resolved on the recommendation of the Standing Committee, that the Society undertake to hold the Endowment Fund of the Saskatchewan Bishopric Endowment as proposed by the Committee.

9. The Rev. T. Darling inquired whether communications have been received from any of the clergy in the diocese of Melbourne connected with the Society respecting the course which they are to adopt in case they are asked to perform marriages with a deceased wife's sister contrary to the law of the Church of England, and was answered in the negative.

10. Resolved, with regard to the Statutes of the Trust Council of Codrington College, Barbados, that the number "five" which now constitute a quorum be altered to "three, of whom the Bishop, if he be in the island, shall be one."

11. All the members proposed in March were elected into the Incorporation.

12. Sixteen persons were proposed for election at the Meeting in July.

CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

SELECTIONS FROM PROCEEDINGS OF COMMITTEE.

General Committee, April 13th.—The Secretaries referred to the resolution of the Committee of December 9, 1872, deciding that it was not expedient to establish a Mission at the capital of Madagascar, and also to the consecration of a Bishop for Madagascar by the authorities of the Scotch Episcopal Church, and to the intention of the said Bishop to make the capital of Madagascar his central Mission, and to the importance of avoiding any action whereby the Society might seem to countenance an intrusion upon another Society's line of action. Reference having also been made to the providential circumstances that, owing to ill-health on the coast of Madagascar, Mr. and Mrs. Dening had been transferred to the Japan Mission, and that on the same account there would be much risk to Mr. and Mrs. Maundrell, as well as Mrs. Campbell, if they attempted to reside on the coast, the Committee came to the conclusion that they would be acting most consistently with their Church of England character, with the truest loyalty to their invariable principle of non-interference with the work of other Protestant Societies, as well as most in accordance with the providential indications of their duty, by withdrawing from the island.

Committee of Correspondence, April 21st.—The Committee appointed Miss Mary Shoard to the post of teacher in the Female Institution, Sierra Leone, rendered vacant by the death of the late Miss Hlott.

The Rev. W. S. Price and Jacob Wainwright, one of the Nasik boys who had accompanied Dr. Livingstone's remains to England, being in attendance, were introduced to the Committee. The Secretaries referred to the circumstances under which the party had joined Dr. Livingstone in 1872, and gave a short account, as furnished by Wainwright, of the route taken by Dr. Livingstone, the circumstances connected with his death, and the march from Ilala to Zanzibar, a distance of over 2000 miles. Conversation was then held with Jacob Wainwright, and the Committee took the opportunity of expressing their sense of Mr. Price's labours on behalf of the liberated African slaves under his charge at Nasik. The subject of extension of the Society's Mission in East Africa, in the direction of the discoveries made by Dr. Livingstone, was then adverted to; and the Rev. C. New, of the Free Methodists' Mission, who was about to return to East Africa, being present, urged extension in the direction of the country of the Masai, and the occupation of the higher lands round the base of Kilimandjaro. The Committee assured Mr. New of their interest in his work, and their desire to co-operate in every possible way in the object he had in view, and expressed their intention to adhere to the policy of holding Mombas, and of working west and north-west in the direction of the mountain-range of Kilimandjaro—a district which, by the journeys of Krapf and Rebmann, seems to belong more properly to the Church Missionary Society.

The Rev. Narayan Sheshadri, Native Minister of the Free Church of Scotland, was introduced to the Committee, and gave interesting information regarding the Western India Mission-field. He stated that he looked back with thankfulness to the intercourse he had had with European Missionaries of the Church Missionary Society, referring to some still alive, and to others who have rested from their labours, mentioning among the latter the Rev. J. Valentine, who had died of cholera at Bombay in July, 1844, and whom he never saw without feeling that he had been in the presence of one who was a devoted servant of God. He was happy to say that, in India, Protestant ministers of all denominations were able to work harmoniously together; and during the last eight years he had been in constant intercourse with the Rev. Ruttonji Nowroji, a Native Minister of the Church Missionary Society stationed at Aunungabad, which was only forty miles distant from Joulina, the place he occupied as a Mission centre. In connexion with these two centres there were about 1000 Native Christians. It was satisfactory to know that the rising generation were being educated to read the Word of God, and altogether he was able to speak hopefully as regarded the past and the future prospects of Missionary work in India.

The Rev. A. H. Arden, who has laboured in the Telugu Mission in South India since 1864, was introduced to the Committee. Having engaged in both district and school work, he was able to speak of the openings afforded in each for a Missionary to carry out his Master's command to preach the Gospel. He attributed the success which attended Robert Noble in influencing his pupils, and in leading them to decide for Christ, to the fact that he gave up his whole life to his pupils out of school hours as well as in school. He believed that in some places in India the attainment of the object for which Mission schools were established had been impeded through the Missionary in charge having, besides the school, so much else on hand that there was want of concentration. He thought that, unless a Missionary had his heart and soul in educational work, he had better not engage in it at all; and, speaking from his own personal experience, it seemed to him necessary, in view of acquiring a personal influence over pupils, to take an active part in secular teaching as well as in direct religious instruction.

The Rev. W. C. Bompas (Bishop Designate of Athabasca), returning to the North-West America Mission; Mr. J. Hines, Mr. J. Reader, and Mr. A. J. Shaw, proceeding to join the Mission; and Miss Shoard, proceeding to join the Female Institution, Sierra Leone, were introduced to the Committee to take leave, and the Instructions of the Committee were delivered to them by the Hon. Clerical Secretary, which, having been acknowledged by the Missionaries, they were addressed by the Rev. Canon Conway, and then commended in prayer to the favour and protection of Almighty God by the Bishop of Victoria.

LAW.

JUDICIAL COMMITTEE OF THE PRIVY COUNCIL.

TUESDAY, MAY 12.

REID v. BURCH.

JUDGMENT in this case (see Ecclesiastical Gazette, May 12, p. 143) was given this day.

All the circumstances of the case, together with the evidence, having been carefully considered, their Lordships, Sir ROBERT COLLIER said, would humbly advise her Majesty that the finding of the Court of Arches as to the charge of Mary Ann Teague be reversed, but as to the charges of Elizabeth Jane (Mrs. Odgers), and Ellen Marks, that the decision be affirmed, and that the appellant pay the costs of this appeal. The sentence of three years' suspension will now be enforced with costs against him in the two courts.

COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH.

SATURDAY, JUNE 6.

(Sittings in Banco, before Justices BLACKBURN, QUAIN, and ARCHBOLD.)

THE QUEEN v. SANDFORD.

In this case a rule had been obtained on behalf of the defendant, calling upon the claimant, the Rev. J. B. Strother, to show cause why an order made by the justices of Exeter for the payment of 9s. 4d. for dominicals and 7s. 6d. costs should not be quashed. The claimant was the Rector of St. Mary Steps, Exeter, and he claimed the right to dominicals or Easter dues from the householders of the parish. The defendant denied his right to them, and before the magistrates took an objection to their jurisdiction, on the ground that he bona fide disputed the rector's title; but the justices overruled it and made the order. The case resolved itself into a point of custom.

Mr. Lopes, Q.C., and Mr. Sydney Hastings showed cause against the rule; Mr. Field, Q.C., and Mr. Grantham supported the rule.

The Court discharged the rule.

ARCHES COURT.

(Before Sir R. PHILLIMORE, Dean of Arches.)

WEDNESDAY, MAY 13.

COOMBE v. THE REV. JOHN EDWARDS.

This was a suit for Ritualistic practices against the Minister of Prestbury, Gloucester, and the present proceeding was on the admission of the articles of complaint. (See Ecclesiastical Gazette, March 10, p. 119.) Dr. Stephens, Q.C., and Mr. Walter Phillimore were for the defendant, and Dr. Deane, Q.C. (with whom was Mr. B. Shaw), for the plaintiff. On the part of the defendant an application was made that the case should stand over in order to save considerable expense, until an appeal from the Chancery Court of York, "Roughton v. the Rev. C. Parnell," was decided, as similar questions were raised, as to the use of lights, vestments, mixed chalice, &c. That Court had, on the admission of the articles, allowed an appeal to the Judicial Committee. The proctors were the same in both cases—Messrs. Moore and Currey for the plaintiffs, and Mr. Geo. H. Brooks for the defendants. His Lordship allowed the case to stand over for a month, to see whether the appeal in the cited case was proceeded with before the Judicial Committee.

FRIDAY, MAY 22.

WALSH v. THE BISHOP OF LINCOLN.

In this case (see Ecclesiastical Gazette, April 14, p. 127), in which Mr. Walter Phillimore appeared for the Bishop of Lincoln, and Mr. B. Shaw for the Rev. William Walsh, judgment was now given. Mr. Walsh had proceeded against the Bishop in the Court of Chancery, afterwards in the Common Pleas by a writ of quare impedit, and subsequently in the Court of Arches in duplex querela for non-institution. The Bishop applied by Mr. Crosse, his proctor, for Mr. Walsh to elect in which Court, the Common Pleas or the Arches, he would proceed, so as not to harass him by proceedings in the two Courts, and on the question judgment was pronounced.—The Dean of Arches, in giving judgment, reviewed the facts of the case, which were both novel and important. Mr. Walsh had purchased the advowson and different rights. The right of the patron was not in dispute; in both suits the question in substance was the same, namely, whether Mr. Walsh was or was not enabled as presentee to be instituted to the Rectory of Great Coate. He must order Mr. Walsh to make within ten days his election in which Court he would proceed, and if he declined, the suit in this Court would be dismissed.—Mr. Brooks, proctor for Mr. Walsh, obtained leave to appeal to the Judicial Committee.

MARTIN v. MACKONOCHE.

An application was made by Mr. B. Shaw, in this case, to accept letters of request from the Bishop of London to institute a suit against Mr. Mackonochie. The learned counsel said the Bishop had not issued a commission under the Church Discipline Act, but had sent the letters of request to his Lordship. The present suit was different from the former one. The first charge was as to the lighted candles during morning prayers when not necessary for light; 2, after morning prayers, and before the Communion Service, processions of the clergy in unauthorized vestments; 3, elevation of the holy elements in an unauthorized manner; 4, wearing vestments not authorized; 5, when reading the prayer of consecration he stood between the congregation and the holy table with his back to the people; 6, using wafer bread; 7, during the administration of the Holy Communion having the hymn "The Agnus" sung; 8, making the sign of the cross in the administration of the Communion; and 9, kissing the Prayer Book. Some of the charges differed from the charges in the Purchas case, and it was necessary to lay them before the Court for decision.—Sir R. J. Phillimore said he would accept the letters of request from the Bishop of London, and ordered a citation to be issued and served on Mr. Mackonochie.—Order accordingly.

TUESDAY, JUNE 2.

BURCH v. THE REV. JOHN REID.

(See Report of Judicial Committee of Privy Council.)

Dr. Tristram applied to the Court in this case that the sentence of three years' suspension of the Rev. John Reid, the Rector of Tregony, in Cornwall, which sentence had been affirmed by the Judicial Committee, should be published by placing the same on the door of the parish church on Sunday next. Her Majesty had by Order in Council confirmed the finding of the Judicial Committee, and the case had been remitted to this Court. The sentence was given in December, and its publication had been delayed by the appeal, during which time Mr. Reid had held his office.

Sir R. Phillimore granted the application.

MARTIN v. MACKONOCHE.

It was announced, in this case, that a citation ordered by Sir R. Phillimore, as Dean of Arches, to be issued on the letters of request by the Bishop of London, had been served on Mr. Mackonochie, and that no notice of an appearance on his behalf had been given. Should Mr. Mackonochie not appear, the articles alleging nine charges will be filed against him, and evidence adduced on the points raised.

THURSDAY, JUNE 4.

WALSH v. BISHOP OF LINCOLN.

This case came again before the Dean of Arches.

On the application of Mr. Walter Phillimore, on the part of the Bishop, the Dean of Arches had ordered Mr. Walsh to elect in ten days in which court he would proceed—in the Common Pleas or the Arches—as both actions were harassing.

Mr. Crosse, as proctor for the Bishop, as the time had expired and no election had been made, made the present application.

The Court ordered the cause to be dismissed.

CONSISTORY COURT OF LONDON.

THURSDAY, MAY 21.

(Before Dr. TRISTRAM, Chancellor.)

THE REV. DR. EVANS v. DODSON.

This case, which is a proceeding by Dr. Evans, the Rector of St. Mary-le-Strand, against the churchwarden, Mr. Dodson, for an alleged illegal act in taking down two money-boxes in the parish church for offerings, came before the Court on the admission of the responsive allegation. Mr. Brooks, as proctor for the rector, had filed articles; and Mr. Moore, the proctor for the defendant, had lodged a responsive allegation.

Mr. Walter Phillimore appeared for Dr. Evans, and Mr. B. Shaw for Mr. Dodson.

Mr. Dodson had ordered the boxes to be taken down; they were fastened to the wall, and when taken down were broken open and removed to Mr. Dodson's residence, which he had not ordered. The contents were immediately returned. The principal questions in the pleadings were, whether the boxes were the "goods of the church," having been placed there by the rector. The churchwardens believed they interfered with the poor-boxes, and had them removed. It was stated that they had acted with bonâ fides, and in the belief that what they had done was legal.

The Chancellor, after a long discussion, amended the articles, leaving the two points open for the hearing, as to the boxes being the "goods of the church," and as to the bonâ fides of Mr. Dodson.

PARLIAMENTARY INTELLIGENCE.

HOUSE OF LORDS.

FRIDAY, MAY 8.

THE PUBLIC WORSHIP REGULATION BILL.

EARL NELSON inquired whether the Archbishop of Canterbury was prepared to communicate any information with reference to a statement made by him on the introduction of the Public Worship Regulation Bill, to the effect that an altar card had on it several prayers, consisting of invocations to the Virgin Mary and the Twelve Apostles.

The Archbishop of CANTEBURY replied that the statement he made on another's authority was substantially correct, and in confirmation of what he had stated, he read from an altar card which had fallen into his hands, as well as from a book which, as he was told, was the source from which the altar cards were taken, and with great earnestness he denounced the practice of thus introducing the service of the Mass into the Church of England. "We have heard," his Grace said, "a good deal about the desirableness of addressing paternal remonstrances. It certainly does seem to me that those who have been deceived into these practices have been led away by some unwise, and to me unintelligible, desire of uniting Christendom by adopting the worst errors of one branch of the Christian Church from which our Church is separated. But I would most earnestly call upon them, with whatever paternal authority my office vests in me, to think of what they are doing when, in the face of congregations of the Church of England, they venture to use the Service of the Roman Mass, and give no security that, when they are speaking in a low tone to themselves, they are not directly addressing the Blessed Virgin Mary and invoking her prayers on behalf of the worshippers present, who, I believe, if they knew what the minister was saying, would rise and leave the church."

MONDAY, MAY 11.

The Archbishop of CANTEBURY moved the second reading of this Bill.

The Archbishop of YORK seconded the motion, and, in urging the necessity for legislation, endorsed the statement of the Primate that Romish practices were being introduced into the services of the English Church. The promoters of the Bill had no desire to take any proceedings which could be termed penal against a clergyman who acted according to his conscience. What they wished was that in questions relating to public worship the Bishop in his court should be resorted to, instead of leaving the matter to the caprice or discretion of the incumbent. The most reverend prelate concluded his speech by imploring their Lordships, as the guardians and conservators of all constitutional landmarks, to take care that the Constitution did not suffer loss by the manner in which they treated the Bill.

The Earl of SHAFTESBURY assented to the second reading, but pronounced the measure a pernicious one, especially in respect of the constitution of the new court and the proposal that the powers to be vested in the Episcopate should be exercised in secret.

The Bishop of PETERBOROUGH argued that where objectionable practices were introduced into the services of the Church the proper persons to complain were the parishioners, and the proper authority to resort to was the Bishop, from whom they might hope for some redress, whereas at present they were left to the imaginary and futile protection of a costly ecclesiastical suit.

Lord EBURY supported the Bill.

The Duke of MARLBOROUGH opposed it; and suggested that the question could only be satisfactorily dealt with upon the responsibility of Ministers.

Earl NELSON objected that the measure would not receive the support of the clergy, which he regarded as essential to its success.

After some observations from the Earl of HARROWBY, Lord HATHERLEY, and the Marquis of Bath,

Lord SELBORNE, in supporting the principle of the Bill, made some suggestions for improving its machinery, one of which was that no costs should be given on either side.

The Marquis of SALISBURY intimated that Ministers would not offer any resistance to the second reading, as the Bill had come with all the authority of the Episcopal Bench. No one could say it had been introduced without cause. The lawlessness of a small number of clergymen called for legislation, but the difficulty in applying it was great, and no one could help being struck by the fact that the Bill contained no clause relating to auricular confession. Ministers, however, would reserve their opinion upon the details until they had seen the contemplated alterations; but it was necessary to be extremely cautious, lest the compromise on which the Church rested should be disturbed.

The debate was closed with a speech from the PRIMATE, who felt confident that if the Bill passed, the authority of the Bishops would be supported by all the three parties in the Church.

The Bill was then read a second time.

TUESDAY, MAY 12.

THE BOUNDARIES OF ARCHDEACONRIES AND RURAL DEANERIES BILL and the COLONIAL CLERGY BILL passed through Committee.

THE PUBLIC WORSHIP REGULATION BILL passed through Committee pro forma, for the purpose of reprinting the Bill with amendments.

FRIDAY, MAY 15.

THE GELLIGAER SCHOOL.

EARL BEAUCHAMP, Lord Steward, brought down the reply of her Majesty to their Lordships' address, praying her to refuse her assent to the Scheme of the Endowed School Commissioners, with respect to the foundation of Edward Lewis, at Gelligaer, in so far as it imposed the conscience clause.

The reply stated that her Majesty would comply with the request of their Lordships' House.

MONDAY, MAY 18.

PATRONAGE IN THE CHURCH OF SCOTLAND.

The Duke of RICHMOND brought under the notice of their Lordships the state of Church patronage in Scotland, the abolition or modification of which, he said, had excited the attention of the Scottish people for the last three hundred years. At the late general election there was scarcely a constituency in Scotland that had not subjected their candidates to a severe examination on the matter; and he now proposed to introduce a Bill, with the approval of the Duke of Argyll, which provided that the power to elect a minister should be vested in the male communicants of the Church, and that the patron should be entitled to compensation not exceeding one year's stipend of the charge of which he had held the patronage. These being the main features of the measure, the noble duke trusted that, when it became law, it would tend to increase the usefulness and prosperity of the Church of Scotland.

The Earl of AIRLIE, while approving generally of the Bill, would prefer vesting the electoral power in the ratepayers at large, instead of limiting it to communicants.

The Earl of ROSSLYN pronounced this suggestion untenable, and as practical disestablishment.

The Duke of Buccleuch also approved of the Bill, but thought it would be disgraceful for any patron to accept compensation.

After some further discussion, the Duke of RICHMOND replied, and stated that the intention of the Bill was to abolish all patronage, from that of the Crown downwards.

The Bill was then read a first time.

FRIDAY, MAY 22.

A MINISTER OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION.

LORD HAMPTON moved—"That, in the opinion of this House, it is desirable that the Committee of Council on Education should be superseded by the appointment of a Minister of Public Instruction, who should be entrusted with the care and superintendence of all matters relating to national encouragement of science and art and popular education."

The Duke of RICHMOND declined acceding to the proposal, because he regarded it as a great advantage that the Minister of Education should have the opportunity from time to time of consulting the Committee of Council. Every question connected with the public health had now been handed over to the Local Government Board, and the concentrated attention of one Minister was applied to educational matters. At the present moment, therefore, there existed a responsible Minister of Education, and he (the Duke of Richmond) had the honour to fill the office. Carry out the scheme of his noble friend, and the Lord President of the Council, who now took rank in the Cabinet next to the Premier, would subside into a position analogous to that of a high-class veterinary surgeon.

EARL GRANVILLE, expressed his concurrence in these views, and held that no practical inconvenience had arisen from the present arrangement.

LORD COLCHESTER was of opinion that the Minister who represented the Educational Department in the House of Commons ought not to occupy a subordinate position in the Government.

A few words from EARL GREY in opposition to the motion closed the discussion, whereupon the motion was put and negatived.

TUESDAY, JUNE 2.

CHURCH PATRONAGE (SCOTLAND) BILL.

On the motion of the Duke of RICHMOND, this Bill was read a second time.

The Bill was objected to by the Earl of SELKIRK, the Earl of AIRLIE, the Earl of LAUDERDALE, the Earl of CAMPERDOWN, the Earl of DALHOUSIE, and the Earl of SEAFIELD, and supported by the Duke of ARGYLL, LORD NAPIER and ETRICK, and the Duke of RICHMOND.

THURSDAY, JUNE 4.

PUBLIC WORSHIP REGULATION BILL.

The Archbishop of CANTERBURY moved that the House resolve itself into Committee on this Bill.

The Earl of LIMERICK proposed an amendment which, admitting the unsatisfactory state of the ecclesiastical laws, declared exceptional legislation not only undesirable but calculated to promote vexatious litigation. He thought the clergy ought first to have had an opportunity of expressing their views upon the subject in the two houses of Convocation.

The Duke of MARLBOROUGH concurred in this opinion, and mentioned, as his chief objection to the measure, that it dealt with only one class of offences, and whilst directing attention to vestments and ornaments, left the more important question of heretical teaching untouched. Moreover, the noble duke complained that the laity had not been consulted and their views ascertained, and he held that the petitions on the table showed that the popular feeling was opposed to the measure.

The LORD CHANCELLOR showed that if after having read the Bill a second time, the House refused to consider the amendments, of which notice had been given, it would not only be an unusual course, but be regarded as capricious and unreasonable, as well as inconsistent with respect for the most reverend prelate. Reviewing the principal amendments, the Chancellor expressed a preference for that of Lord Shaftesbury, providing that ecclesiastical cases should go before a first-class and permanent judge. It would be wise to consider, also, whether it was not desirable to neutralize certain disputed ground into which litigation should not enter, and whether civil penalties should be imposed for, say, the conscientious omission of the Athanasian Creed.

The Bishop of LINCOLN, though admitting the necessity for legislation, considered that it ought first to have been submitted to the Church Synods.

The Archbishop of CANTERBURY agreed that it was important to have a permanent judge for ecclesiastical cases if the difficulty as to salary could be got over, and he did not think that the amalgamation with his proposals of some of Lord Shaftesbury's amendments would offer an insuperable obstacle to the progress of the Bill. Of the many schemes before the House in the shape of amendments, he felt convinced that his measure would be most acceptable to the clergy. The question was ripe for decision, and it was for their Lordships to say whether they would maintain the principles of the Reformation, or allow the Church to drift from the moorings at which she had ridden safely in many a storm.

The debate was continued by the DUKE OF RUTLAND, EARL NELSON, the MARQUIS OF SALISBURY, LORD SELBORNE, EARL BEAUCHAMP, the MARQUIS OF BATH, and LORD ORANMORE.

The Earl of LIMERICK said he would withdraw his amendment in favour of a resolution proposed by the Duke of Marlborough—"That while recognizing the importance of a revision of the law for the restraint of ecclesiastical offences, the House deemed it inexpedient to proceed further with the Bill at present."

A division was then had on the question of going into Committee on the Bill, and there appeared—

Contents	...	...	...	137
Non-contents	...	...	...	29
Majority	...	...	...	—108

Their Lordships then resolved themselves into Committee on the Bill, when clauses were agreed to providing that the Act shall come into operation on the 1st of January, 1875; that it shall extend to that part of the United Kingdom called England, and to the Channel Islands, and the Isle of Man; that the proceedings taken under the Act shall be deemed to be civil proceedings; and that nothing in it, save as is herein expressly provided, shall affect or repeal any jurisdiction which may now or hereafter be in force for the due administration of ecclesiastical law.

Subsequently the proposal of Lord SHAFTESBURY, for the appointment by the two Archbishops of an ecclesiastical judge at 4000*l.* a year, was, after discussion, carried, upon a division, by a majority of 99, the numbers being—for the proposal, 112; against it, 13.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

FRIDAY, MAY 1.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION.

SIR J. LUBBOCK submitted a resolution declaring the desirability of modifying the code of regulations issued by the Committee of Privy Council in such manner as to give more encouragement to the teaching of history, geography, elementary social economy, and other "extra subjects," in the public elementary schools.

MR. REID seconded the motion, which was opposed by MR. GOLDNEY, who deprecated any premature interference with education, and MR. EVANS bore testimony to the improvement that had taken place in the general condition of the schools.

LORD SANDON hoped the motion would not be pressed to a division, and that the Government would be allowed time to fully consider the question. They should be careful how they raised the standard of instruction, lest the effect was to diminish the number of children who passed in the standards. At the same time he admitted that, as education had been made a "necessary of life," compulsion had been almost universally introduced, and the increase of public expenditure was so large, the parents, the children, and the country at large had a right to look to the Education Department to provide such instruction as would fit the children to grow up into good and useful citizens. Speaking for that department, he attached the greatest importance in getting the child to exercise his thinking faculties, but care must be taken not to "crowd out" religious teaching by the introduction of extra subjects. He asked, then, to be allowed to reserve the decision of the Government until another year.

MR. FORSTER agreed with Sir J. Lubbock that the results of the education system, so far as the higher standards were concerned, were very poor, and that it was matter for regret that so few children passed the fifth and sixth standards. He thought, therefore, that the time had come when the question might, with advantage, be reconsidered in the direction pointed out by the hon. baronet; but he concurred generally with the views enunciated by Lord Sandon, and believed that it would not be advantageous to proceed with undue haste in effecting an alteration.

The motion was then withdrawn.

MONDAY, MAY 4.

THE EDUCATION CODE.

In answer to Mr. DALRYMPLE, Lord SANDON said he should not like to pronounce an opinion as to whether the code had discouraged evening schools, but as the hon. member took great interest in this matter, he might say that the average attendance at these schools—which was 73,300 in the year 1870—had diminished to 45,900 in 1873.

UNIFORMITY ACTS AMENDMENT BILLS.

Mr. HOLT, in Committee of the whole House, moved for leave to bring in Bills:—

I. To amend certain provisions in the Acts of Uniformity in relation to certain Ecclesiastical offences.

II. To amend certain provisions of the Acts of Uniformity in relation to the offences of Clerks in Holy Orders against the said Acts.

With regard to the former Bill, Mr. B. HORN feared that so far from being a pacific measure, it would be found to provide a very sharp and summary proceeding in reference to one class of Ecclesiastical procedure only; and would deprive the Bishop of all power of acting so as to deal properly with the susceptibilities of the parties concerned.

Ultimately leave was given, and the Bills were brought in and read a first time.

TUESDAY, MAY 5.

THE EDUCATION CODE.

Mr. KAY-SHUTTLEWORTH called the attention of the House to the minute of the Committee of Council on Education, substituting the third standard of the Education Code for the fifth standard as the standard to be reached by the children of out-door paupers, and moved:—

"That in the opinion of this House it was undesirable that the guardians of the poor should be relieved from the duty of providing for the education of the children of parents in the receipt of out-door relief under Section 3 of the Elementary Education Act Amendment Act (1873), as soon as those children reached so low a standard as the third standard of the Education Code."

Lord SANDON, in defence of the minute, stated that it affected no more than about 70,000 children, that very many of them were earning from 2s. to 4s. a week, and that it was a serious thing to take them from their parents for a certain number of years. The fact was that almost every school board was at its wits' end in deciding what to do with this class of children. They were let off upon every sort of excuse; they could with difficulty be caught, and when caught and shut up in schools they were virtually starved. Speaking from his own experience as a member of a school board, and judging by the conduct of other school boards, he felt that he should be retarding, instead of advancing, the cause of education if in this matter he did not act with the utmost possible caution.

Mr. FORTESCUE remarked that if the noble lord had been more than four months in office this minute would not have been passed. Every inspector would agree that the third standard alone in an uneducated household would leave the child unable to read; and the whole meaning of the Amendment Act was to give a real and not a sham education.

Mr. C. READ contended that the third standard was amply sufficient, at least for the next eighteen months.

Mr. LOWE denied that the minute would secure a real elementary education, and blamed the Education Department for issuing a minute before Ministers had been in office three weeks, which really reversed the whole policy of the Act of 1873.

The CHANCELLOR of the EXCHEQUER argued that it was unreasonable to ask these children to pass the fifth standard, that the object of the minute was not to reverse a policy or lower the standard, and that the course taken was a wise and prudent one.

After some remarks from Mr. SAMUELSON and Mr. GOLDNEY, and from Mr. KAY-SHUTTLEWORTH in reply,

The House divided, and the numbers were:—

For the motion ...	202
Against it ...	265
Majority against ...	—63

MONDAY, MAY 11.

ROMAN CATHOLIC CHAPLAINS IN INDIA.

In reply to Mr. O'REILLY, Lord G. HAMILTON stated that the Government of India, in 1872, expressed a wish to reserve its opinion on the religious provision for her Majesty's servants professing the Roman Catholic religion in India until they had decided on the principle which was to regulate Church establishments in India. It was the intention of the Secretary of State again to direct the attention of the Government of India to the subject.

ECCLESIASTICAL PATRONAGE (CHURCH OF ENGLAND) BILL.

Sir J. KENNAWAY obtained leave to bring in a Bill relating to Ecclesiastical Patronage in the Church of England.

CONVOCATION OF THE PROVINCE OF CANTERBURY.

UPPER HOUSE.

TUESDAY, APRIL 28.

The Bishop of LONDON moved the following address to her Majesty:—

"We, your Majesty's faithful subjects, the Archbishop and Bishops of the Province of Canterbury, in Convocation assembled, approach your Majesty with the assurance of our loyal and affectionate attachment to your Majesty's throne and person. We rejoice that it has pleased God to continue to your Majesty during the years which have passed since the opening of the last Convocation that measure of domestic happiness which has hitherto comforted your Majesty under the trials of widowhood. Calling to mind the anxiety which stirred the heart of the whole nation two years ago from the danger then threatening the life of his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, we record our thankfulness that God at that time was graciously pleased to hear the prayers and to avert the calamity which for weeks hung upon this country, and that He has since blessed your Majesty in the health and increasing prosperity of the members of the royal family. In particular, we would offer our humble congratulations on the marriage recently contracted between his Royal Highness the Duke of Edinburgh and the only daughter of the Emperor of Russia. We pray that all blessings from above may attend this auspicious union, and that while it is a source of happiness to your Majesty, it may also tend to strengthen the bonds of amity uniting two great Christian nations, the Churches of which, while equally protesting against the usurpation of Rome, remain too widely apart. We rejoice with your Majesty that the war on the Coast of Africa, which, short as it was, brought mourning to many families amongst us, has been happily terminated, and that the vast dominions which own your Majesty's sway are now enjoying perfect peace. And while we look with great anxiety to the famine now afflicting large portions of your Majesty's dominions in India, we feel confidence in the prompt Christian alacrity with which our rulers seem determined to meet this great calamity, and we trust in God's goodness that this cloud may pass without bringing irremediable evils on our Indian fellow-subjects. Your Majesty's dominions extend over the globe, and the Church of England has endeavoured in every quarter of this great empire to spread the truth of Christ and to mitigate the sufferings of humanity, but the sad death of an eminent missionary bishop of our Church reminds us of the atrocities which may be committed even where the name of Christ is not unknown, and where the flag of Britain commands the seas. We rejoice that your Majesty's attention has been directed to those miseries of the slave trade which still decimate so many lands, and we feel sure that vigorous efforts will not be wanting to restrain such horrors as those which caused the murder of Bishop Patteson. But the chief field of our Church's operations is among our own people at home, and we are thankful to believe that, amidst some unhappy differences of opinion which impede their usefulness, our Clergy of this generation are united in more earnest efforts than seems ever before to have been made to reclaim the vicious and instruct the ignorant. In these efforts they are upheld and supported by the sympathy and co-operation of the faithful laity. We cannot indeed but deplore that so much sin, tending to misery, should still be found in all ranks, and especially we are pained that amongst those to whom we look as the very strength of our population, so many families should be ruined by the degradation of a widespread immorality. The returns made to the late Convocation on this subject have shown how terrible is the evil, and how great the efforts required to meet it. To resist this particular form of wickedness, the Church of England has lately made special efforts, in which we are glad to know that we have received your Majesty's countenance. Indeed, we should be ungrateful if we did not acknowledge how, in all efforts to spread that morality of which the Christian faith is the best guardian, we have ever found your Majesty a willing patron. We desire to take this opportunity of thanking your Majesty for the royal letters of business issued to the last Convocation. Under this authority the Convocation was empowered to propose certain alterations in the Act of Uniformity, and we are thankful to believe that the legislation which followed on the recommendations thus made has been the means of better adapting some of the public services of our Church to the wants of the age, and increasing its influence over the people."

The right rev. Prelate said that it would not be necessary for him to add anything to the words of the address, but he would rather call their Lordships' attention to the change which had taken place in their Lordships' House since the opening of the previous Convocation. Either from death or resignation, seven chairs had been vacated. Dr. Hamilton, of Salisbury, gentle and firm, strong in his own convictions, yet tolerant of those of others; Bishop Sumner, who, though still able to assist with his experienced counsel the work of his late diocese, had ceased to be a member of that House; Henry Philpott, whose acute intellect was as remarkable as his kindness of disposition, even towards his most inveterate opponent; Lord Auckland, whose knowledge of men and kindness of heart enabled him so well to act the part of peacemaker; Dr. Gilbert, of Chichester, whose happy union of dignity and courtesy was so well known to their Lordships; Dr. Short, of St. Asaph, a regular attendant in Convocation, into whose quaint sayings such a vast amount of common sense was compressed; but the greatest loss of all was Samuel Wilberforce.

Before moving the address, his Lordship would remind them that it was during the late Convocation that they received permission to legislate, and he regretted that the opportunity had been lost for adopting the suggestions of the Ritual Commissioners. There was great necessity for some legislation. No doubt the Clergy took a professional view of the recent proposal, but unless something was done, he foresaw that the Church would be disintegrated, either by the efforts of those who desired to introduce a pre-Reformation ritual, or by the Puritan reaction which was certain to follow.

The Bishop of WINCHESTER, in seconding the address, said that the words of the Bishop of London came especially home to him, as he was under the late Bishop of Exeter, and succeeded Bishops Sumner and Wilberforce. He believed there was no age in which men of such remarkable minds as Phillpotts, Thirlwall, and Wilberforce had presided over dioceses. Of the latter, he could only say that the work he had done was almost superhuman. He seemed to possess a mind capable of moving in every possible direction.

The Prolocutor, accompanied by several members of the Lower House, was introduced, when the President gave him the address to the Queen, as also the following document with regard to Clergy discipline:—

"I.—Whereas, on the 24th of February, 1869, the Lower House, being commanded by his Grace, the President, to consider the 'best mode of improving the present law of Clergy discipline,' did adopt the following, amongst other resolutions, viz. 'We request his Grace, the President, to direct the appointment of a committee of this House to investigate and to report further on the subject to the Upper House:'

"And whereas, assenting to the request contained in the foregoing resolution, his Grace, the President, directed the appointment of a committee of the Lower House to report on the subject of 'Clergy Discipline,' and, in obedience to such direction, a Committee was, on the 26th of February, 1869, nominated by the Prolocutor, and approved by the Lower House:

"And whereas, on the 14th of June, 1869, the said Committee did, among other matters, report "that measures should be taken for obtaining a repeal of the Clergy Discipline Act, 3 and 4 Vict. c. 86, and for facilitating, expediting, and cheapening proceedings in enforcing 'Clergy discipline:'

"And 'that Bishops and Metropolitans should preside personally in their own courts at times when judgment is pronounced:'

"And 'that Bishops and Metropolitans should preside personally in their own courts during the whole time of trial, when causes concerning doctrine or the rites and ceremonies of the Church are tried:'

"And 'that causes should not be carried from diocesan courts by letters of request to the provincial courts, but only in due course of appeal:'

"And 'that proceedings should be cheapened and expedited in ecclesiastical courts by the adoption of methods such as are above recommended:'

"And whereas, in the body of the said report (p. 6) it is recommended that when the Bishop sits in his own court he should be 'assisted by his official principal or chancellor respectively, and perhaps by assessors:'

"And whereas, the Lower House did, on the 16th June, 1869, adopt the resolutions of the committee, with certain additions, calling the attention of their Lordships particularly to the opinion of the committee, which provides 'that in no case shall any charge be prosecuted without the consent of the Ordinary:'

"The President desires to know whether the Lower House adheres to the particular resolutions above selected, and whether, in view of proposed legislation, the House recommends any particular mode whereby such resolutions can be made effective.

"II.—Whereas, in the Church Discipline Act, 3 and 4 Vict., c. 86, sec. xiv., it is enacted, that in every case in which the nature of the offence charged it shall appear to any Bishop within whose diocese the party accused may hold any preferment that great scandal is likely to arise from the party accused continuing to perform the services of the Church while such charge is under investigation, or that his ministration will be useless while such charge is pending, it shall be lawful for the Bishop to cause a notice to be served on such party at the same time with the service of a copy of the Articles aforesaid, or at any time pending any proceedings before the Bishop or in any Ecclesiastical Court, inhibiting the said party from performing any services of the Church within such diocese from and after the expiration of fourteen days from the service of such notice, and until sentence shall have been given in the said cause: Provided, that it shall be lawful for such party, being the incumbent of a benefice, within fourteen days after the service of the said notice, to nominate to the Bishop any fit person or persons to perform all such services of the Church during the period in which such party shall be so inhibited as aforesaid; and, if the Bishop shall deem the person or persons so nominated fit for the performance of such services, he shall grant his licence to him or them accordingly, or, in case a fit person shall not be nominated, the Bishop shall make such provision for the service of the Church as to him shall seem necessary; and in all such cases it shall be lawful for the Bishop to assign such stipend, not exceeding the stipend required by law for the curacy of the church belonging to the said party, not exceeding a moiety of the net annual income of the benefice, as the said Bishop may think fit, and to provide for the payment of such stipend, if necessary, for sequestration of the living: Provided also, that it shall be lawful for the said Bishop at any time to revoke such inhibition and licence respectively.

"And whereas in matters affecting the ritual of the Church similar difficulties to those usually regarded as contemplated in the above section may arise from practices decided by the Court of the first instance to be contrary to law being continued in parish churches during a long process of appeals, the opinion of the Lower House is desired as to whether any mode suggests itself to them for obviating the above difficulty without unduly interfering with the liberty of the clergy."

His Grace pointed out, in similar terms to those he had used in the House of Lords, the necessity of a change, not in the laws of the Church, which had been settled at the Reformation, but in their administration.

The PROLOCUTOR promised the best attention of the Lower House to the message, and retired.

The Bishop of Peterborough presented the following petition to the House:—

"We, the undersigned, venture respectfully to submit to your venerable House—That a Bill has been introduced into the House of Lords by his Grace the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, entitled the 'Public Worship Regulation Bill,' which not only affects the disciplinary administration of the laws ecclesiastical as regards the beneficed clergy, but also affects the rights of the laity:

"Your petitioners pray that your venerable House will take the important questions raised in that Bill into your serious consideration before further proceedings are taken in Parliament, in order that a matter so gravely affecting the present administration of the law of the Church may be considered by both Houses of Convocation in each province; and that Parliament should not be called upon to legislate before the opinions of the clergy should be ascertained on a matter so vitally affecting their position.

"Marlborough, Bath, Limerick, A. J. B. Beresford Hope, Strathmore, Henry J. Scott, Crawford and Balcarres, Buclench, &c., Nelson, Lothian, Wharfedale, Eliot, Clinton, J. Percival Heywood, Forbes, J. A. Shaw Stewart, Henry H. Gibbs, Devon, John G. Hubbard, George Richmond, W. K. Wait, Powis, William E. Sackville West, Mark Rolle, Glasgow, Richard Wilbraham, Kinnoul, Frederick J. Nicholl, John G. Talbot, Charles L. Wood, Henry Tritton, S. G. Stopford Sackville, Francis Haygarth (Lieut.-Col.), John S. Gilliat, Melville Portal, Edward Howley Palmer, John Giles, William Thomas Makins, William Heathcote, Walter Farquhar, R. Foster, Lanerton, Randolph Robinson (Barrister-at-Law), Benjamin Lancaster, J. F. Streetfield, George Edmund Street, Gerald Ponsonby, Dartmouth, Templetown, Charles H. Mills, W. Butterfield, Kilcoursey, T. Gambier Parry, John Ogle, Alfred Meadows, John Mould, F.R.C.S., W. Bains, Lewis, Majendie, R. Few, Edmund Lechmere."

His Lordship was sure that the document would be received with the respectful consideration due to those who had signed it. He thought it would be impossible to grant all that the petition asked for, as that would delay legislation for something like two years. But he felt sure that the proposed legislation would not be proceeded with until ample time had been allowed for the mind of the Church to be ascertained. He had no doubt that their Lordships would be willing to entertain a proposal for legalizing things indifferent, so that by permitting certain acts they might render harmless what was now illegal, if thereby they might allay irritation. No doubt the constitution of the proposed Court had created some dissatisfaction and alarm, but it was not a special creation of their Lordships; it was already existing in the Church Discipline Act. He reiterated his conviction that their Lordships had every consideration for the second order of the clergy.

The Bishop of LINCOLN seconded the motion.

THE GREEK CHURCH—BOARD OF MISSIONS.

The Bishop of LINCOLN then drew attention to the relations between the Church of England and the Greek Church, and hoped his Grace would make use of the opportunity afforded by the approaching visit of the Czar to increase and strengthen the intercourse between the two Churches.

The Bishop of GLOUCESTER and BASTOL proposed the adoption of the Report of the Committee of the Lower House on the proposed Board of Missions, which he believed would not act to the prejudice of the existing Missionary Societies, either of the Church of England or of other religious bodies.

The Bishop of LICHFIELD seconded the proposition because he was opposed to missions being left to voluntary efforts. It was the great work of the Church, and ought to be conducted by her officially. He believed the action of the proposed Board would only supplement the work of the present voluntary societies.

A discussion ensued, in which the Bishops of LLANDAFF, WINCHESTER, LINCOLN, and SALISBURY took part, the latter Prelate announcing that he was about to hold in his cathedral city a diocesan meeting for the furtherance of missionary work, which was to be quite independent of any existing societies, and he had received promises of help and sympathy from persons of all opinions.

Their Lordships adjourned soon after five.

LOWER HOUSE.

TUESDAY, APRIL 28.

The Prolocutor took the chair, when Mr. Cobb, the Actuary, called over the names of the members, an unusual number replying, including several new ones. Indeed, the Jerusalem Chamber has rarely been seen so full.

The minutes of the last Session at St. Paul's Cathedral having been read and confirmed, the PROLOCUTOR nominated as his assessors the Deans of Westminster, Ely, and Hereford; the Archdeacons of Maidstone and London; the Rev. J. W. Joyce, Canon Randall, and the Rev. J. H. Sumner.

The Archdeacon of TAUNTON gave notice of motion for an Address to the President, praying for a celebration of the Holy Communion in St. Paul's Cathedral. The standing orders of the last Convocation were adopted.

The Dean of ST. PAUL'S presented a similar petition to that mentioned in the Report of the Upper House from certain influential laymen, praying the House to consider carefully the provisions of the Public Worship Bill, which not only affected the rights of the beneficed clergy, but the privileges of the laity.

Notices of Motion were given with regard to the Ecclesiastical Dilapidations Bill, the Diaconate, the sale of advowsons, augmenting of poor benefices and clergy pensions. Canon LEAR gave notice of a Motion adverse to the Bill before Parliament for abolishing the conge d'elivre. Petitions were presented by Prebendary JOYCE from fifty beneficed clergymen in a single deanery of Herefordshire against the provisions of the Dilapidations Bill, which do not distinguish between landlord's and life tenant's repairs; and to a like effect from several other dioceses. No discussion arose, but the schedule of gravamina led to some conversation, when that of Prebendary Jebb's, on clergy discipline, was brought forward. A Resolution was proposed by the Archdeacon of TAUNTON, seconded by Canon JEBB, in favour of the gravamen being discussed with a view of its being made an articulus cleri. As a majority of two-thirds was required for this purpose, the motion was lost, 36 voting for it, and 24 against it. It was then signed by a number of members before being taken to the Upper House.

The Archdeacon of TAUNTON presented two gravamina regarding the refusal of the Bishop of Bath and Wells to ordain his nephew, and of certain Bishops to license curates in churches where ritual prevails. In the latter he was joined by Canon RANDALL, who presented a petition signed by 180 clergy and laity, praying for a removal of the grievance.

The PROLOCUTOR next paid a feeling tribute to the loss the House had sustained by the death of Canon Woodgate, long considered the father of the House, and Prebendary Horner.

THE ADDRESS TO THE QUEEN.—THE GREEK AND ROMAN CHURCHES.

The Prolocutor and his assessors went to the Upper House, and on his return the concurrence of the Lower House was asked to the Address to her Majesty. Prebendary JOYCE moved the omission of the word "licence" in the clause thanking her Majesty for granting letters of business. This, being seconded by Dr. VOGAN, was carried. Canon SELWYN moved the omission of words as to the English and Eastern Churches equally protesting against usurpations of Rome. Prebendary KEMPE, while he would have opposed the introduction of such words, thought it would be a serious matter to refuse now to adopt them. The Rev. W. HARRISON (a new member) feared the words might commit the English Church to approval of errors in the Greek Church. The PROLOCUTOR pointed out that the words only condemned the Papal supremacy. Canon GREGORY hoped the words of the Address would be retained. The House had often expressed sympathy with the Eastern Church, and condemned the errors of Rome. The discussion was continued by the Archdeacon of Maidstone, Dr. GEZ, and on the Prolocutor putting that the words "equally protesting against the usurpations of Rome" be omitted, the Resolution was negatived. Canon SELWYN moved the insertion of the words "united on the fundamental points of Christian doctrine," and equally protesting, &c. The Archdeacon of EXETER, Lord A. COMPTON, and Canon JEBB having made some observations, the House negatived the motion of Canon Selwyn by 55 to 3. On the motion of Canon SELWYN, seconded by the Archdeacon of GLOUCESTER, it was resolved to adopt the Address by adding the words "and clergy."

The message from the President on Clergy Discipline, given in report of the Upper House, was read and ordered to be printed, as also a motion of which Canon GREGORY gave notice.

CONVOCATION FINANCE, &c.

Treasurer GIBBS made a financial statement, showing that nearly 142*l.* was due to the Prolocutor by the late Convocation.

The statement of account having been adopted, Treasurer GIBBS suggested that the Bishops should be asked to contribute 82*l.* towards this debt, and suggested that the assessment on members should be the same as in previous Convocations.

The House agreed to take 200 copies of the "Chronicle of Convocation," as in previous years.

The Archdeacon of GLOUCESTER complained that the speeches were not reported accurately; and the Archdeacon of COLCHESTER observed that the list of members of Convocation was not published with exactness in the first number.

The Dean of LINCOLN said that the great delay in issuing the "Chronicle of Convocation" took away from its value, and suggested that an arrangement should be made with the Guardian, the accuracy of the reports in which he highly eulogized.

Lord A. COMPTON said that the matter had been fully discussed in Committee, and pointed out certain objections to the course proposed.

The resolution was carried.

The whole afternoon was occupied in Committee on the Standing Orders.

UPPER HOUSE.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 29.

The Bishop of CHICHESTER presented a petition from the Rev. E. A. Cardale, Rector of Uckfield, requesting Convocation to appoint a Committee to examine into the claims and doctrines of certain religious bodies which had sprung up of late years, particularly into those of the Irvingites, or Catholic Apostolic Church, and the Plymouth Brethren.

The Bishop of LICHFIELD presented a petition from the West Indian Bishops, who had recently formed a Provincial Synod, in which they prayed that his Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury would summon a second Conference or Synod at Lambeth, and that the relations of the See of Canterbury to the whole Anglican community might be considered.

The Bishop of WINCHESTER seconded the resolution.

The Bishop of OXFORD proposed the following resolutions:—

"1. That a joint committee of both Houses be appointed to prepare a form of prayer to Almighty God on behalf of the missions of the Church, which the Archbishops and Bishops of this province may sanction for use on suitable occasions in their respective dioceses."

"2. That the same committee be directed to take into their consideration the expediency of the appointment of a day of public intercession on behalf of the missions of the Church once in each year, or at such other intervals as may be deemed expedient."

"3. That these resolutions be communicated to the Archbishop of York."

The Bishops of Oxford, Lincoln, Rochester, Chichester, and Llandaff were appointed as a committee.

The Committee on the second Pan-Anglican Synod includes the Bishops of Lichfield, Winchester, London, Gloucester and Bristol, and Peterborough.

LOWER HOUSE.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 29.

The House re-assembled at eleven o'clock.

The Archdeacon of SALOP gave notice of a motion to request his Grace the President to direct the appointment of a committee to consider and report on the desirableness of the extension of the Diaconate.

The Archdeacon of EXETER gave notice that in the event of this House advising legislation on the law affecting Church Worship, he should move the following motions:—"That in cases of alleged departure from the law, clerks be tried by their peers, being clergy of their rural deanery, sitting as assessors with the Bishop and others."

Mr. JONES presented a petition from certain clergy for the amendment of the Dilapidations Act.

The Rev. C. H. CAMPION presented a petition showing that since the Articles and other formu-laries of the Church were framed and settled, various religious bodies had arisen in this country which had set forth novel views upon points which were not then broached, and were not in the contemplation of the framers of the Articles, and praying that the House of Convocation would take measures for the appointment of a Committee to examine into the claims, doctrines, and tenets of certain religious bodies.

Lord ALWYN COMPTON added that if the Committee of Home Reunion had been sitting, he should have moved that the petition be referred to them.

The Archdeacon of SUDBURY presented the following Schedule of gravamina:—

"That whereas the ancient laws of the Church of England by which the services in our parish churches were designed to be regulated are, by the progress of time, by disuse, and by the conflicting decisions of the law courts, become so uncertain in their expression and administration that both clergy and laity are grievously perplexed as to what is and what is not lawful; and whereas it is now proposed to establish a multitude of new Courts for the more speedy enforcement of these uncertain laws; the undersigned humbly submits to the wisdom of the Fathers of the Church that the time is now come for an open and honest recognition of the fact that the ancient laws on this subject are inadequate to the needs of the Church of to-day, and that a new promulgation of ordinances or rubrics is imperatively required in the interests of the clergy and laity alike. Therefore the undersigned humbly prayeth that your right rev. House will take steps to re-edit the laws of the Church which relate to the conduct of Divine service in our churches, not on a narrow basis, for the benefit of any one party, but in the spirit of a wise and charitable concordat between the various schools of thought which exist in the Church, so that by enlarging the boundaries of the law, if need be, and by a clear definition of its limits, the conscience of the clergy may be enlightened and relieved, and the transgressions of the self-willed restrained. By this prayer the undersigned humbly unite in the belief that there will be less danger to the Church of England through a speedy reformation of these laws once for all, under the promised guidance of the Holy Spirit, than by the continuance of those internecine hostilities which are impairing the Church's life."

The Archdeacon of Exeter presented the following Schedule of gravamen:—

"To his Grace the President and the right rev. the Bishops of this Province in Convocation assembled.

"The gravamen or complaint of the undersigned humbly sheweth—

"That a Bill hath been brought into the House of Lords by your Grace, intitled "An Act for the better Administration of the Laws respecting the Regulation of Public Worship;" and that matters touching the said Bill have been referred by your Lordships to the consideration of this House:

"That the said laws respecting public worship, contained for the most part in the Book of Common Prayer, which is part and parcel of the statute law of the realm, prescribe no less the amount of Divine service to be performed in churches, than the manner of performing it:

"That the most ancient and universal of all laws, or of customs having the force of laws, in the Church of God, is that there should be in every Christian congregation, on every Lord's Day, administration of the Holy Communion: and that in the Primitive Church, as appears by the ancient Canons called Apostolic, every Christian was bound be present, and to communicate, under pain of excommunication:

"That the English Church did, at the beginning of her reformation of scandals and abuses, and of the revision of her public offices, declare and enforce, to the best of her power, this primitive and godly custom; straitly requiring, by her rubric, that there should be a Communion every Sunday, and, to ensure the same, that every householder in turn should provide the Elements, and be present to receive the Holy Communion:

"That, though it was found impossible, owing to the desuetude of many hundred years, to restore the custom at once, she has never ceased openly to protest against the violation of the ancient law: providing a Collect, Epistle, and Gospel for every Sunday, and requiring that part, at least, of the Communion Office shall, as an expression of such protest, be used; intending doubtless that, as early and as universally as might be, the ancient custom should be restored.

"That, notwithstanding, this the undoubted mind of the Ancient Church, and of the Church of England, is so far from being carried into effect at the present day, that it appears probable, from recent inquiries, that out of about 13,000 churches, 11,000 are without weekly Communion:

"That, moreover, whereas it is required by law that every clergyman, not being reasonably hindered, shall say daily the Morning and Evening Service in his church, it is probable that from 11,000 to 12,000 parish churches are without such service:

"That it appears from hence, that the most flagrant and grievous departures in the Church, at the present day, from the Primitive model, and from her own manifest intentions and provisions, are not in the way of excess, or of the exact mode of ministering her ordinances, but in the way of defect, and of not ministering them at all. For (it is humbly submitted) it is of far less consequence to the flock of Christ, whom He purchased with His blood, whether they are fed by a pastor looking east, or by one looking south; by a pastor in one kind of clothing or in another; by a pastor who lifts the bread to his breast, or one who lifts it to his eyes—than whether they are fed at all; this being, after all, the thing to be done, though the others cannot be left undone, and no doubt call for regulation:

"That the restoration, therefore, by every means that can be brought to bear upon it, of the weekly celebration and Communion throughout the length and breadth of the Church, is, if not the first, among the first things to be aimed at by such as tender her well-being and efficiency:

"That, accordingly, more than one of your Lordships have on recent occasions pointed to the paramount importance and bounden duty of such restoration—and namely, the Bishops of Ely and Exeter: the former having, in a reported speech, declared his belief that less than weekly Communion, and some measure of week-day service, could not well sustain the spiritual life at any rate of the clergy; and the Bishop of Exeter having said, in a Confirmation Charge, that the departure of Christians from Church on a Sunday, without having received the Holy Communion, was a sight which would fill an Apostle, were he to come among us, with grief and astonishment:

"That, moreover, besides this widely-spread defect of Eucharistic ministrations of any kind, there are, on the other hand, in the practice of many of those who do not err in that particular, many and grievous mutilations of the Office, and other violations of the Church's law on the matter:

"That, on various pretexts, many of the more important and some even of the essential portions of the rite as prescribed by law are in many churches habitually omitted:—sometimes the Epistle and Gospel; very commonly the Litany, the Church's ancient detailed intercession in connexion with her great memorial sacrifice; very commonly, also, the Exhortation to pure and charitable reception, declared by a late saintly writer to be without an equal in any Liturgy. The service is, meanwhile, lengthened to its original length by various additions:

"That, last and chief and most grievous mutilation of all, the due receiving of the Holy Communion is in many ways discouraged and even forbidden, no opportunity for it being in some cases given. So that that for which all the rest exists, viz. the presentation of all to God, in unison with the Sacrifice of Christ, is, except for a few, actually removed from the rite: a mutilation absolutely unknown, as is confessed, to the Primitive Church, and protested against by every word of our own Church's service, as being visibly intended throughout for communicants, and none other:

"That the pretexts for this astounding depuration of the chief rite of the Gospel are one and all utterly devoid, as has been proved many times, of any truth or any countenance from antiquity—being such as these: 1. The necessity, or at least the solemn duty, of receiving fasting; which has been shown, in a late unanswerable pamphlet, to have been no primitive law at all, though it obtained a comparatively early prevalence, and is in itself pleasing and reverential. 2. A supposed rule of the Ancient Church against any persons receiving twice in the same day: for which, however, no earlier date can be alleged than the 12th, or at earliest the 8th century. 3. The necessity, under pain of mortal sin, of confession to a priest as a preparation for reception; acknowledged to be a purely mediæval regulation. 4. The allowableness and fitness of being present, without any idea of reception, to offer adoration to our Blessed Lord as being contained in the Elements; whereas it is certain that neither any ancient Church, nor our own, has provided a single prayer or any words of adoration to be so addressed;—a proof, were there no other, that the Church knows of no such duty:

"That, nevertheless, for the purpose of compelling observance to the laws of the Church,—thus violated on all hands, whether by the entire omission of the rite in 11,000 churches, or by mutilation of it in some hundreds,—there is no adequate power in the hands of your Lordships, the chief rulers of the Church:

"That it were much to be desired, therefore, as a reformatum in the matter, that any Act concerning Church worship should enable your Lordships to enforce compliance with the Church's plain laws and provisions:

"That an Act was passed some years since with the best effect, enabling your Lordships to require (subject to your allowance in the matter, or on reasonable cause shown) two sermons in every church. It is humbly submitted that a similar clause in reference to the matters of this gravamen might with great fitness be introduced into the Bill now before Parliament: it being manifestly of more importance to the Church, and no less easy to enforce, that there should universally be one Communion, than that there should be two sermons.

"PHILIP FREEMAN, Archdeacon of Exeter."

In proceeding to the business of the day, The PROLOCUTOR said he hoped that anything like intemperate language would, as far as possible, be avoided in the course of the coming debate, which was one intimately concerning the position and future welfare of the Church. He wished also to say, that he was most anxious that there should be a distinct and categorical answer to the questions which his Grace had put. In the third place, he ventured to think that it would be most important that this House should affirm distinctly the grave necessity for legislation upon the matters which had been submitted.

Canon GREGORY brought forward the motion of which he had given notice, and moved the resolutions which were placed in his name:—

"His Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury and their Lordships of the Upper House of the Convocation of Canterbury having requested from the Lower House an expression of their adherence to or disagreement from resolutions passed by them in the Sessions of June, 1869, which resolutions are summarized by the Upper House as follows:—

"The said Committee did, among other matters, report 'that measures should be taken for obtaining a repeal of the Clergy Discipline Act, 3 and 4 Vict. c. 86, and for facilitating, expediting, and cheapening proceedings in enforcing Clergy Discipline.'

"And 'that Bishops and Metropolitans should preside personally in their own courts during the whole time of trial when causes concerning doctrine or the rites and ceremonies of the Church are tried.'

"And 'that causes should not be carried from Diocesan Courts by letters of request to the Provincial Courts, but only in due course of appeal.'

"And 'that proceedings should be cheapened and expedited in Ecclesiastical Courts by the adoption of methods such as are above recommended.'

"And whereas in the body of the said Report (p. 6) it is recommended that when the Bishop sits in his own Court he should be 'assisted by his official Principal or Chancellor respectively, and perhaps by assessors':

"And whereas the Lower House did, on the 16th June, 1869, adopt the resolutions of the Committee, with certain additions, calling the attention of their Lordships particularly to the opinion of the Committee, which provides 'that in no one case shall any charge be prosecuted without the consent of the Ordinary':

"And the Upper House having also desired, as under, the opinion of the Lower House as to the application of Section xiv. c. 86, Act 3 and 4 Vict., otherwise termed the Clergy Discipline Act, and dealing with cases of great scandal:

"And whereas in matters affecting the ritual of the Church similar difficulties to those usually regarded as contemplated in the above sections may arise from practices decided by the Court of the first instance to be contrary to law being continued in parish churches during a long process of appeals, the opinion of the Lower House is desired as to whether any mode suggests itself to them for obviating the above difficulty without unduly interfering with the liberty of the clergy:"

"The Lower House of Convocation humbly states that it does adhere to the resolutions passed by the late Lower House in June 1869, for the purposes therein described, but it objects to their application to purposes not contemplated by its report; and the Lower House is further of opinion that to apply such provisions in the manner proposed in the Bill recently introduced by the Archbishop of Canterbury into the House of Lords is open to the following, among other, objections: That by it—

1. The independence of the English Clergy would be destroyed, and they would be reduced to the position of dependence on their Bishops, which characterizes the Roman Catholic Clergy of France.
2. Reprials would be provoked on the part of those who felt aggrieved by proceedings taken under its provisions.
3. A grave scandal would be incurred if new and stringent legislation should take place with respect to the externals of public worship, while nothing is done to facilitate proceedings in case of gross neglect of duty, of immorality, or of a denial of the most essential doctrines of the Christian faith.

"The manner in which the Lower House would wish to see its recommendations carried out would be by applying the modes of procedure therein indicated to the existing Church courts, and so getting rid of the delays and excessive costliness which now render them practically of little service to the Church."

The Archdeacon of GLOUCESTER seconded Canon Gregory's motion in a few words.

The Rev. Prebendary JONES proposed the following amendment:—

"The Lower House of the Convocation of Canterbury, in answer to the two questions submitted to it by his Grace the President, on April 28, 1874, respectfully answers:—

"First—(a.) That the Lower House does adhere to all the resolutions on the subject of 'Clergy Discipline' passed by the late Lower House in the sessions of June, 1869; but that it would object to their partial application for the correction of a particular class of offences; as the resolutions of the late Lower House were intended by it to be applied to the general reformation of all procedure in all cases tried in Ecclesiastical Courts.

"(b.) That the Lower House 'recommends as a particular mode whereby such resolutions can be made effective' the immediate preparation of 'Canonical drafts,' with a view to an application to the Crown for 'assent and licence' to enact them and also with a view to obtain such statutory aid from Parliament as may be found needful.

"Secondly.—That the Lower House, while fully admitting that in cases of moral offences adverse Curial Judgments should take effect during the progress of appeals, yet that the Lower House is not prepared to suggest any method for extending such a principle to other cases."

Dr. JEBB seconded the resolution.

The Rev. Dr. FRASER supported the proposition of Mr. Joyce.

Lord ALWYNE COMPTON gave notice that he should move for the appointment of a Committee of the Lower House to consider the whole subject.

The PROLOCUTOR: I hope, in the interests of the Church of England, which I feel at the present moment is going through an important crisis, that we shall agree to what Lord Alwyne Compton has pointed out to us, for I am satisfied that we cannot arrive at a satisfactory conclusion upon this question except by the appointment of a Committee.

The debate was then adjourned.

UPPER HOUSE.

THURSDAY, APRIL 30.

The business in the Upper House was merely formal.

LOWER HOUSE.

THURSDAY, APRIL 30.

The Lower House resumed their sittings at eleven o'clock.

The Archdeacon of COVENTRY presented a petition from the Rural Deanery of Southam in reference to the reform of Convocation; also a petition from the same body as to the vindication of the discipline of the Church in the matter of an ordained person delivering a sermon or lecture in an ecclesiastical edifice, and referring specially to the lecture that was delivered in Westminster Abbey on December 3rd of last year.

Dr. FRASER presented a petition from the Rural Deanery of Rugeley in reference to the reform of Convocation, and also a Schedule of gravamina, asking that all matters of religion, or which affected the conscience or spiritual rights of the clergy, which were to be made the subjects of legislation in the Imperial Parliament, should begin, as in the case of a Money Bill, in the House of Commons.

The PROLOCUTOR then read over the list of the several Committees that had been appointed.

It was moved by the Dean of WINCHESTER, and seconded by the Archdeacon of SURREY,—

"That this House ask his Grace the President, and their Lordships of the Upper House, to take such steps as seem desirable to draw the attention of the Church to the draft of canons before it is discussed in Convocation, with the view to apply to the Crown for licence to enact such canons."

Canon GREGORY gave notice that he would withdraw the motion which he submitted to the House on Wednesday.

The PROLOCUTOR then intimated that Mr. Prebendary Joyce's amendment would now become the substantive proposition before the House. In case of Prebendary Joyce carrying his two resolutions, it was probable that Lord A. Compton would have the opportunity of moving that which appeared to be so desirable—the appointment of a Committee.

Lord A. COMPTON said that he should move his resolution in any case.

The debate on Ritual was resumed by the Archdeacon of TAUNTON.

Prebendary JOYCE, when called upon for his reply, asked that the debate might be adjourned to the following morning.

The PROLOCUTOR said that it was extremely important that the decision of the House should be taken upon this point as soon as possible; and the sense of the House being taken as to whether they should proceed to a division that evening, it was decided by a large majority so to do.

Prebendary JOYCE having replied, a division was taken, and the numbers being equal, 29 on each side, the Chairman gave his casting vote in favour of the motion.

The House then adjourned.

UPPER HOUSE.

FRIDAY, MAY 1.

Their Lordships met at eleven o'clock.

At six o'clock the Prolocutor and his assessors brought up the answer of the Lower House to his Grace's questions. The proposal for a Committee having been announced, the President inquired how long the Committee would require to deliberate, and was told until some time in June, whereupon the Upper House resolved to consider the matter in private, and the Prolocutor retired. Upon readmission,

His Grace informed the Prolocutor and his assessors that the House of Bishops had taken into consideration the answer of the Lower House, and were prepared to concur with that wish. His Grace then read the following "direction":—

"His Grace the President directs the appointment of the Committee, as requested by the Lower House, and directs the said Committee to report on Thursday next respecting the provision of his proposals on Clergy Discipline, which were referred to in the answer of the Lower House. (Vide Answer No. 2.) His Grace directs the said Committee to continue the consideration of the general questions referred to for a second Report, to be presented at some future meeting of Convocation."

The Bishops desired to have the fullest opinion from the Lower House on the proposals for Clergy Discipline now before them, but preferred that they should not be mixed up with other matters requiring longer time for discussion.

At half-past seven the House was prorogued.

LOWER HOUSE.

FRIDAY, MAY 1.

Dr. FRASER gave notice of a motion to ask the President to appoint a Committee to consider the Old Catholic movement.

The PROLOCUTOR said that the first of Mr. Joyce's propositions having been carried, the second part of his proposition was now before the House.

THE RITUAL DEBATE.

Prebendary JOYCE opened the debate upon the second part of the first of his three resolutions.

After some discussion,

The Dean of WINCHESTER thought it would facilitate matters if Mr. Joyce would postpone his vote on this question until Lord A. Compton's proposition had been laid before the House, and then it would be for him either to bring forward the motion as it had been already brought forward, or propose that it be referred to the Committee which would then be appointed.

After some discussion Prebendary JOYCE gave way, and Lord A. COMPTON moved his resolution, as follows:—

"That this House, recognizing the necessity of speedy legislation in the matters involved in the question proposed to this House by his Grace the President, regrets its inability to accept the provisions of the Bill recently introduced into the House of Lords for the purpose, and now request that his Grace will be pleased to direct the appointment of a Committee of this House to consider the provisions of the said Bill; and, further, to request his Grace will be pleased to summon Convocation at an early date to receive such Report."

The PROLOCUTOR put the resolution of Lord A. Compton to the House, and it was carried unanimously.

Prebendary JOYCE said that the resolution of his rev. and noble friend for the appointment of a Committee having passed the House, he would propose to add to it in place of the House taking any particular course,—

"(a) And also that his Grace will be pleased to direct that it be an instruction of the Committee to inquire whether the particular mode of action for the purposes in question, and especially for facilitating the proceedings in the Ecclesiastical Courts of appeal, would be the proper 'canonical drafts' with a view to application to the Crown for 'assent and licence' to enact them; and (b) further, to inquire into the measure of statutory aid which it may be needful to obtain from Parliament."

The motion was carried by 33 to 18.

LOWER HOUSE.

SATURDAY, MAY 2.

The PROLOCUTOR communicated to the House the decision of the President as to the appointment of a Committee on Clergy Discipline. There was an evident feeling of dissatisfaction at the restriction of time, to which the Archdeacon of Taunton gave utterance in language requiring almost a stronger epithet than vigorous. He moved an amendment refusing to consent to the appointment of the Committee. This, however, the Prolocutor declined to put, and after some discussion he nominated the following Committee of 29:—The Prolocutor; Deans of St. Paul's, Winchester, Rochester, Lincoln, and Ely; Archdeacons of London, Exeter, Berkshire, Gloucester, Isle of Wight, and Surrey; Archdeacon Randall; Canons Gregory, Miller, Jebb, Conway, Harvey, Hopkins and How; Lord A. Compton; Dr. Fraser; Prebendaries Joyce, Perry, Clements, and Sumner; Treasurer Gibbs, and the Rev. W. Harrison.

The House then proceeded to discuss the Report on a Third Service for Sundays.

UPPER HOUSE.

THURSDAY, MAY 7.

The Archbishop of Canterbury opened Convocation on Thursday at eleven o'clock. The House adjourned during pleasure, and on re-assembling at three there were present the Bishops of London, Winchester, Gloucester and Bristol, Bath and Wells, Bangor, and St. Asaph.

The PROLOCUTOR and his assessors brought up the following resolution of the Lower House:—

"That the Report of this Committee be taken up by the Prolocutor to the Upper House, with the respectful request that their Lordships will be pleased to consider the objections and the amendments of the Committee in reference to the Public Worship Regulation Bill."

The PROLOCUTOR brought up a further resolution, requesting that the Report might be communicated to the House of Lords.

LOWER HOUSE.

THURSDAY, MAY 7.

The Prolocutor took the chair at eleven o'clock. The PROLOCUTOR read the Report of the Committee on the question of Clergy Discipline.

[We regret that our space does not admit of our giving the Report at length.]

Lord A. COMPTON moved the resolution given in the Report of the proceedings in the Upper House. This motion was seconded by Canon GREGORY, and after some discussion was adopted.

The Archdeacon of ELY moved, as a rider to the Report, that the House desired further time for consideration of the Bill by the Church at large, especially by the York Convocation.

The Archdeacon of LONDON thought it would be derogatory to the Convocation to wait for opinion out of doors.

The Archdeacon of Dorset thought that the head of the Church should not act without the concurrence of the members. He was sure that no Bill would work unless the mind of the Church had been ascertained; and therefore, on the ground of first principles and on expediency alike, he deprecated hasty legislation.

On a division the Archdeacon of Ely's motion was lost by 21 to 18.

The House was adjourned till Friday at eleven o'clock.

UPPER HOUSE.

FRIDAY, MAY 8.

Their Lordships agreed to an address to be presented to the Emperor of Russia on the occasion of his visit to this country.

The ARCHBISHOP having expressed his approval of the motion proposed to the Lower House by Prebendary Joyce, and transacted some formal business, the House adjourned.

LOWER HOUSE.

FRIDAY, MAY 8.

After the minutes had been read and confirmed,

Prebendary JOYCE moved—

"That his Grace the President be requested to direct the appointment of a Committee of this House, with instructions to prepare a manual of private prayers for members of the Church of England, to be submitted for consideration to the Synod."

The Archdeacon of Ely seconded the resolution. The address to be presented to the Emperor of Russia was agreed to.

The House proceeded to consider the Report of the Committee on First Fruits and Tenths.

The following resolutions were carried:—

"That this House agrees to the recommendation of the Upper House to omit fees and the percentage paid by Bishops from the proposed Bill to be prepared for Parliament; that this House greatly prefers the scheme of taxation they have already sanctioned to that proposed in the Report of the Committee of the Upper House; that this House recommends that the whole excess of income of the Governors of Queen Anne's Bounty, over and above that which has heretofore been applied to the augmentation of small livings, be applied to the provision of retiring pensions for infirm incumbents."

Convocation was prorogued until July 7th.

CONVOCAION OF THE PROVINCE OF YORK.

THE LOWER HOUSE met on Friday, May 23.

PUBLIC WORSHIP REGULATION BILL.

A number of petitions relating to this measure were presented, one in its favour, and the rest against it.

The debate on the Bill was opened by the Dean of MANCHESTER, who moved "That it is not expedient to legislate on the practice in Cathedrals in the present measure."

Canon SHIPMAN moved an amendment to the effect that Cathedrals should not be exempted from the operation of the Bill.

The DEAN's resolution was carried.

The PROLOCUTOR read a series of questions sent down by the Archbishop of York with the view of eliciting the opinion of the Lower House on the principal points in the Bill.

The House was occupied all day in discussing them. The following are the questions, and the answers, which were returned with a preamble expressing the regret of the House that a longer time had not been given for deliberation.

1. In dealing with irregularities, is it desirable that the Bishop should be bound to initiate proceedings himself, or that he should be put in motion by complaint? If the latter, who should have the right or duty of complaining?

1. That in dealing with irregularities, proceedings may be instituted either by the Bishop of his own accord, or put in motion by complaint. In the latter case, by the Archdeacon of the archdeaconry, the Rural Dean of the rural deanery, the patron of the living, being a member of the Church of England, the church or chapel warden,

2. Should the Bishop have a discretion as to giving a formal hearing to a complaint in order to check trifling and venial charges? If so, should the complainant have any (and what?) appeal from the Bishop's discretion?

3. Is it desirable that the form of proceedings should be by way of criminal cause for the past, as under the existing law, or of motions as to the conducting of worship for the future?

4. If the former, is it desirable that the penalties of the Act of Uniformity should be mitigated and offences under the Act be made the subject of a short process before an ordinary criminal court? This is the proposal of one of the Bills now before the House of Commons.

5. If the ecclesiastical procedure should be retained, should the court of first instance consist of the Bishop and his Chancellor?

6. What appeals, if any, should be allowed?

7. When unsettled points of law arise, would it be desirable to allow the court of first instance to state a case for the opinion and decision of the Final Court of Appeal? This is found to work well in other forms of procedure, and would save expense.

8. What should be the penalty for a possible refusal to obey the decisions of the courts?

9. Should a motion from the first court take effect as once unless execution is stayed by the court itself or by the court of appeal? This is according to the analogy of the practice of the Court of Chancery and according to one of the rules of the new Judicature Act.

or three resident parishioners, being communicants of the Church of England, provided that such complaint or complaints shall within three months have made a representation to the like effect to the incumbent without having received the redress to which they have considered themselves entitled.

2. We think that he should, subject to the provisions suggested in section 11 of the proposed Public Worship Regulation Bill.

3. By monitions as to the conducting of worship for the future.

4. The answer to the last question renders this unnecessary.

5. We think that the Judge of the court of first instance should be the Chancellor of the diocese, being a barrister of ten years' standing, or his substitute as described in section 10 of the amended Bill, the words "during pleasure" being omitted.

6. Appeals when demanded should be allowed in all cases, as in section 15, the appellant giving security for the costs of the first suit, according to sub-section 6 of section 12.

7. Yes.

8. This Convocation accepts the provisions of clause 19 in the proposed Bill with respect to penalties.

9. This House is of opinion that the motion should not take effect.

UNIVERSITY AND CLERICAL INTELLIGENCE.

Oxford.

KEBLE COLLEGE.

THERE will be an election in this college on Saturday, June 20, to the following Scholarships and Exhibitions. (1) Two Scholarships, of the value of 80*l.* per annum, tenable for four years; one of these bears the name of the Hoare Scholarship, having been founded in memory of the late Henry Hoare, Esq. (2) One Exhibition, of the value of 40*l.* per annum, for four years, to be increased annually if the holder prove deserving. The competition will be open to all persons not members of the University, and to such members of Keble college and to such students unattached as have not exceeded one year from the term of their matriculation, and to any members of the University. No candidate will be eligible for the Scholarship who has exceeded the age of nineteen years on the day of the election; but this restriction does not apply to the Exhibition. One Scholarship and the Exhibition will be given for classics, the other Scholarship for mathematics or natural science; but in either case, failing candidates of sufficient excellence, the Scholarship or Exhibition may be awarded to a candidate offering the other subject. Those who distinguish themselves in the examination, besides the Scholars and Exhibitioner, will be offered early admission as Commoners, without being required to pass the ordinary matriculation examination. The examination will commence on Tuesday, June 18.

EXETER COLLEGE.

An examination for a Fellowship at this college will be held on Wednesday, the 24th of June. The Fellowship is tenable for eight years from the day of election, but, if the Fellow shall be employed in the work of education in the college at the end of eight years it may continue to be held so long as the Fellow shall be employed; and further, if the Fellow shall have been employed for ten years in such work, it may be held for life, subject only to the statutory causes of avoidance of a Fellowship. The examination will be in subjects recognized in the School of Literæ Humaniores.

EXETER COLLEGE.

An examination for a Fellowship will be held on Wednesday, June 24. The Fellowship is tenable for eight years, but may be continued after under certain conditions.

MERTON COLLEGE.

At the annual election to Mathematical and Physical Postmasterships in college early in October, an election will be made to two Physical Science Postmasterships, each of the value of 80*l.* a year, and tenable for five years from election, provided that the person elected do not accept any appointment interfering with the full course of academical studies.

TITHE RENT-CHARGE.

To the Editor of the "Ecclesiastical Gazette."
SIR,—In the Ecclesiastical Gazette of April 14, "A Country Clergyman" counsels no Clergyman to pay land tax where a recent claim has been set up, until he has made the very fullest inquiry whether it has really been redeemed or not; but he has given no information as to the quarter in which inquiries should be made. Allow me to remedy that omission, and to suggest that they should be made of the Board of Inland Revenue at Somerset House.

I have before me a reply from that Board such an inquiry from my predecessor. In its own time, an attempt was made to charge land tax upon the churchyard; and on that occasion I obtained from that Board a copy of the "Exoneration" of the Living, and a declaration that in their opinion the churchyard was exempted by the exoneration of the glebe.

I remain, sir,
Your obedient servant,
WILLIAM ACTON.

To the Editor of the "Ecclesiastical Gazette."
SIR,—It may save many of your correspondents disappointment with regard to Living under 150*l.* a year being free from Land Tax, to inform them that I, having seen the correspondence in your Gazette, wrote to the Registrars respecting my own Living, which is under 150*l.* and the answer received is that my Living does not appear to have been exonered under the Act of Parliament referred to in your correspondence, and the Registrar of Land Tax adds that the last of these Acts of Parliament was the 57 George III., cap. 100, and that the time within which the relief could be claimed there under expired on the 20th day of July, 1819.

Your obedient servant,
A NORFOLK VICAR.

Consecration of the Bishop of Capetown.—On Sunday, May 17, in Westminster Abbey, the Rev. W. W. Jones, Fellow of St. John's college, Oxford, and Rector of Summertown, was consecrated Bishop of Capetown by the Archbishop of Canterbury, assisted by the Bishops of London and Winchester. The sermon was preached by the Rev. R. E. Copleston, Fellow and Tutor of St. John's, from Joshua i. 5-7; and the offertory (891.) was given to the Bishop for the use of his diocese.

Previously to the consecration the following documents had been drawn up and signed:—

"I, William West Jones, Clerk in Holy Orders, selected to be consecrated Bishop of Capetown, and Metropolitan of the Province of South Africa, do hereby declare that, in taking the oath of due obedience to the Most Reverend Archbishop Campbell, by Divine Providence Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, Primate of all England, Metropolitan, in the form of ordering or consecrating of a bishop, I take the same in the sense which I have expressed to the said Archbishop in a written document submitted by me to his Grace on the 6th day of December, 1873, of which the following is a true copy:—

"By the oath to be taken in the Consecration Service I intend to profess that the Archbishop of Canterbury holds the first place in honour among all the prelates of the Anglican Communion, such as was acknowledged by the Bishops assembled at the Lambeth Conference in 1867. But inasmuch as the see of Capetown is acknowledged to possess metropolitan authority in the Province of South Africa, and inasmuch as it is necessary for me before consecration to declare my consent and adhesion to the constitution and canons of the Church of South Africa, I am not at liberty to recognize in the Archbishop of Canterbury any other jurisdiction over the said metropolitan see of Capetown than that which is already, or shall be hereafter provided for, or implied, in the laws or constitution and canons of the South African Church.—W. W. JONES, H. H. LEE, F. H. DYKE (Registrar), witnesses present, May 17."

And on the part of the Archbishop of Canterbury the following was drawn up and signed by the Archbishop and the assisting Bishops:—

"I, Archibald Campbell, by Divine Providence Archbishop of Canterbury, Primate of All England and Metropolitan, do hereby state to you, W. W. Jones, Clerk in Holy Orders, selected to be consecrated Bishop of Capetown and Metropolitan of the Province of South Africa, that I understand you, in taking the 'oath of due obedience to the Archbishop prescribed in the form of ordaining and consecrating of a bishop,' not to recognize in the Archbishop of Canterbury any jurisdictional power and authority over the see of Capetown inconsistent with the full metropolitan rights of the said see. And I am quite willing that you should take the oath in the form which you have expressed to me in the written document submitted to me on December 6, 1873, and formally signed by you on the day of your consecration.—A. C. CANTUAR, J. LONDON, E. H. WINTON, T. L. ROCHESTER, J. F. OXON, J. E. ELY, H. COTTEBILL (Bishop of Edinburgh), PIERES CLAUGHTON (Bishop), H. W. LEE, F. H. DYKE, witnesses."

ANONYMOUS COMMUNICATIONS DECLINED.

All communications, which are received in strict confidence, must in the first instance be addressed,

Rev. M.A., 12, John Street, Bristol.

THE FOLLOWING ARE EXTRACTS FROM RECENT LETTERS OF CORRESPONDENTS.

June 22, 1874.—"The Sermons are most excellent. I like them very much."

June 24, 1874.—"I shall be most happy to continue to receive 'The Pulpit Series' of Sermons. I consider them thoroughly well suited for any congregation, but more especially the poor in country parishes, beyond whose power of intellect it is, I fear, too often our misfortune to preach."

June 28, 1874.—"I have tried everywhere, but have never found any lithograph Sermons equal to yours; they are earnest, practical discourses, so plain in style that none can fail to understand them, and, what is more, they are all preachable."

Thirteen Sermons for the Quarter which commenced First Sunday in July are now ready.

Specimens on approval post-free. [15]

Rev. M.A., 12, John Street, Bristol.

THE CHURCH PSALTER and HYMN-BOOK, OXFORD EDITION, WITH APPENDIX.

By the late Rev. WILLIAM MERCER, M.A. All the Hymns Revised by Sir JOHN SOSS, Composer to her Majesty's Chapel Royal, and late Organist of St. Paul's Cathedral.

"The CHURCH PSALTER and HYMN-BOOK, with APPENDIX," comprises 591 Hymns, including several of the finest Hymns of the Continent, from the pen of earlier and modern translators, and Sterling Tunes, drawn from the most unexceptionable sources.

The Work may also be had bound up with the Canticles, pointed for Chanting; the Prose Psalter, pointed for Chanting and with Chants; the Daily Service prepared for the use of Cathedrals; and the greater part of the Book of Common Prayer.

The Hymns may be had without the Music, from 3d. upwards.

The Appendix may also be had separately.

Price Lists, with full particulars, will be sent on application.
